CHILD GUIDANCE CLINIC ON CAMPUS

A two-day child guidance clinic on Southern's campus by Dr. Sophie Schroeder, psychiatrist, and Mrs. Edith Morales, psychiatric social worker from the Illinois Institution of Juvenile Research, together with members of the local staff and several students who are doing clinic studies. Robert Ashby and Mrs. Alice Rector, both of Carbondale, are students who participate in the work.

A clinic of this nature is held quarterly by the University and the Illinois Institute for Juvenile Research, but the University Child Guidance Clinic functions throughout the entire year, with the exception of August. The summer clinic will be held on June 26 and 27, and parents and teachers would send in their requests now. Students who are having difficulty with their school studies, and those who are in difficulty with other matters, are admitted. Further information may be secured from Dr. W. A. Thalmann who is Director of Psychological Clinic of Southern Illinois Normal University.

SLIGHT DECREASE IN SPRING TERM ENROLLMENT

Registration for the current term reached 2,434 this week with more students expected through next week, the business office announced this week. More students are registering all the time and the total is expected to reach 2,460. Of this total 1,394 are veterans and 1,049 are regular students. The fall term, 1,482 the fall term and 683 last spring. The total registration 2,434 is slightly less than the winter registration of 2,517 and the fall registration of 2,718 but exceeds last spring's registration of 1,831 students.

Of the registration total 420 are commuters, the dean of women's office announced this week. Of these commuters 365 are boys and the remaining 67 girls. This figure compares with 526 commuters in the winter and 576 in the fall term.

Despite a drop in the number of commuters there are still rooming vacancies in Carbondale for 30 girls and 60 boys. Mrs. Mabel Pulliam, director of the housing service announced the team wishing a room is urged to contact Mrs. Pulliam or the dean of Women's office.

Tenney Awarded Kansas Assistantship

Robert E. Tenney of East St. Louis, a senior in chemistry, has been awarded a graduate assistantship at the University of Kansas for next year. Dr. J. W. Necker, chairman of the chemistry department, has announced.

The position will carry a stipend of $700 and will permit Tenney to retain his G. L. educational benefits. He will teach part time and carry a three-fourths load of graduate courses leading to the master's and doctor's degrees.

TEACHERS URGED TO PUSH STATE SCHOOL-AID BILLS

A one-day session of the Southern Division of the Illinois Education Association was held on Southern's campus Friday, March 28.

Principal speakers for the event were Division President Russell Rendleman of Anna-Jonesboro, Mr. J. Lester Buford of Mt. Vernon, and Mr. William Carruthers of Murphysboro. They stressed the reorganization of county schools and increased appropriations for education.

Guest speaker for the meeting was Dr. Carl S. Winters, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Oak Park, Ill., who spoke on "The Fine Art of Living." "We're in a world of speed—it's not how fast we go, but the direction we're going that counts." "We are a brilliant generation—it's not how much we know, but how we use that vast knowledge that counts." "It's not what happens to us, but what we do about it that matters." "It's not what happens to us, but what we do about it that matters." "It's not what happens to us, but what we do about it that matters."

Mr. T. Leo Dodd, principal of the Eldorado Township High School, reported on a Saline County legislative campaign in support of pending state legislation. Some 3,000 signatures of teachers were obtained to petitions which are ready to be sent to the Southern Illinois senators and to the Governor; 500 letters from individual business houses have been written; and resolutions have been adopted by civic groups, women's clubs, and other organizations.

Mr. Carruthers asserted that the state of Illinois is able to give adequate support to education as it ranks sixth among the states in per capita wealth, and fourth in per capita income, but it ranks only 40th in the amount contributed from the state treasurer to the support of the public schools.

Mr. Buford, discussing progress of reorganization in Illinois, said that 98 of the 102 counties in Illinois have decided to conduct reorganization surveys, and that six of the remaining nine have indicated they would probably decide to conduct such surveys if the general assembly extends the permissive opportunity to them again. Mr. Buford stressed that no phase of education should be overlooked in the reorganization survey—junior college, small high school, elementary school, large city schools, the unit system, and the rural system would all be included.

Vets Must Report Monthly Earnings

Veterans training under the GI bill whose Veterans Administration claim numbers end in two or three must report their earnings to the VA by April 6, according to an announcement made by the Veterans Administration.

Reports are required every four months from the 147,000 ex-servicemen and women in this region who are going to school or taking on-the-job training under the bill. To facilitate operations, students have been divided into four groups, according to claim numbers. Reporting dates for each group are set at 90-day intervals. The first group reported last month.

Veterans are warned that they will be suspended from government educational rolls if they fail to report on time.

Sullivan Resigns; Board To Select Spring Term Editor

With the resignation of Catherine Sullivan as editor of the Egyptian, that position is now vacant and those who wish to apply for the job may do so now, according to an announcement made this week by the University Board of Publications.

In a meeting last Thursday, March 27, the board appointed a temporary editor to publish the Egyptian until such time as a permanent editor could be chosen to fill Miss Sullivan's unexpired term.

The board has announced that those who wish to apply for the position must file a written application with the board on or before April 14. These applications must state all qualifications, experience, and studies in journalism, both in high school and in college, and in addition, any policies that the applicant would wish to follow as editor of the Egyptian. Each applicant must be prepared to appear in person before the Board of Publications at its next meeting.

Ris Sullivan presented her resignation to the board during the last week of the recent winter term, expressing her desire to complete requirements for her degree this summer so that she will be able to begin graduate work next fall.

Miss Sullivan, a senior from Harrisburg, became editor of the Egyptian in March 1946 upon the resignation of Betty Koontz. Under her editorship, the University has undergone many changes, each presenting new problems for the Egyptian. Not the least of these problems have been the increased enrollment of the University and the series of events which culminated in the recent investigation by the State Normal School board.

In 1946, Miss Sullivan and her staff published a weekly Egyptian during the summer of the first summer since 1941.

IGOR GORIN

Noted Baritone Coming For Final Community Concert

Igor Gorin, famous radio, concert, and opera baritone, will appear here at the Shroyck Auditorium next Thursday, April 10, at 8 o'clock in the fourth and last of this year's series of concerts sponsored by the Community Concert Society.

Born in the Ukraine, Gorin, at the age of six, was taken to Vienna, where he received his first musical experience as boy soprano soloist in both Protestant and Catholic churches. He later abandoned music for medicine; but, upon discovering that he was a baritone of high calibre, he turned his attention to the Vienna Conservatory of Music, where he studied for five years.

Gorin's professional apprenticeship to opera followed in the course of three years with a Czechoslovakian opera company with which he sang fifteen leading roles. He then came to New York where he landed a feature spot on the Music Hall Variety program on NBC.

Student Killed In Auto-Train Wreck

Samuel Leo Coffel, a sophomore at Southern, was killed when an automobile which he was riding in crashed into a train engine early Sunday morning, March 16.

Coffel was one of nine people in the car of which all members were killed. He is the son of Hart W. Coffel, of Christopher, who is the chief of police in that community.

WE EXPLAIN, BUT DON'T APOLOGIZE

Since the announcement of the closing of school for Good Friday was made, too late to formulate plans for the publication of the Egyptian in time for distribution on Thursday of last week, it was necessary that the paper's appearance be delayed until today.

Southern's Spring Carnival will be held Saturday afternoon, April 12, from 2-6 p. m. in the Old Science building on the campus.

The carnival is being sponsored by the Student Council working with the following members of campus organizations who compose the steering committee: Jerry Webb, chairman of finance committee; Madelyn Fisher, chairman of special events; Louis Gaskins, chairman of decorations committee; Rodney Kratz, Thelma McCarty, Bill Price, publicity committee; and Esther Pajak and Jean Weygandt, concert members.

Saturday at 12:00 noon there will be a carnival parade with bands, clowns, and animals. The parade will start at the Old Science building on campus and march through down town Carbondale.

Many organized houses and campus organizations are making plans for concessions. The amusements will include spook houses, pinatas, ball games, psychic shows, ball dances, special events, and many other shows. Pop corn, hot dogs, and pink lemonade will add to the carnival air.

Southern's spring carnival is being sponsored by the Student Council for the entertainment of the students of SINU and is a non-profit venture.

MUSEUM PUBLISHES MONTHLY BULLETIN

A monthly bulletin, "Our Museum," is to be issued by the museum staff of Southern Illinois Normal University and dedicated to a more complete understanding of Southern Illinois, according to John W. Allen, curator of history and geology.

The first official edition of the publication has just been published.

A sketch of the old Chester Covered Bridge, drawn by Lorraine Waters, Percy, editor and artist, adorns the cover of the pamphlet. Inside are articles on the Illinois Ozarks, a book by Clarence Bonnell, assistant principal and science instructor at Harrisburg Township High School; Fred Meyers, minor of West Frankfort, who has won national acclaim with his wood carvings; the bird eggs collected by the late George H. Hillebrand, presented to the museum by his son, Virgil Center of Benton; and others.

"Our Museum" is produced by the museum staff consisting of Lorraine Waters, Percy, editor and artist; Doris Morgan, Fairfield, assistant artist; Barbara Bostic, Mt. Vernon, assistant editor; Julius Swanson, Du Quoin, biologist; Russell Fairman, Carbondale, student assistant; and John W. Allen, University curator of history.

Faculty Gets New Botany Professor

Dr. Margaret Kaesler, new assistant professor of botany, has assumed her duties at Southern. She was formerly on the faculty of the University of Illinois and has also done graduate work at New York University.

BARTON ARTICLE APPEARS IN SCIENCE EDUCATION

"Teaching Rocks in the Lower Grades," is the title of the article appearing in the March issue of the magazine "Science Education," which was written by Dr. Thomas P. Barton, chairman of the geology department at Southern.

Published weekly throughout the school year, excepting holidays, by the students of Southern Illinois Normal University at Carbondale, Illinois. Entered as second class matter in the Carbondale Post-Office, under the Act of March 8, 1919.

Park Your Car Somewhere And Try Commuting

During a three-day period in actual counting of Southern cars, 10,000 cars were uncovered. By 10 a. m. on Monday, March 10, 227 cars were parked all around Southern's campus. At the same hour on Tuesday, 214 cars were counted, while 281 cars were counted on Wednesday. Southern's regularly allotted parking places for the campus are 110.

Does Southern have a parking problem? What can be done to aid the situation?

When guests come to Southern on business visits, does the necessity of parking two blocks from the campus leave a favorable impression with them?

Does Southern have enough land that could easily be converted into parking areas without acquiring more land and with little expense?

According to one of the maintenance men at Southern, the entire area immediately south of the college greenhouse belongs to Southern. This area has been occupied for months by five old and unpowered army busses.

The same statements can be made concerning the ground south of the cafeteria. This area alone could easily accommodate 100 cars.

Would YOU like to drive up for classes, basketball games, football games, and other activities without the portable feeling of easily finding a convenient place to park?

The Southern Parade

WANTED TO BUY: one good second-hand canoe for use in new enterprise—liaison service between Carters and the Main building. Now that March was our snowy month and it seems that April is slated to be our rainy month, when will we be blessed with a better month in May?

SEEN AT THE CAMPUS GATE

It was a bad day for picketing. The rain fell interminably, slanting down from the north on the edge of a cold, raw wind. The students hurrying toward the shelter of the New Gymnasium (now isn't that a pathetic name for one of our buildings which is as low enough to vote?) to register for a new term and a fresh start, eyed the figures pacing back and forth in front of Carters, in the rain, with a little curiosity but without much interest.

THE PICKETS

That last seemed a trifle meaningless since we all know that the last German fled here on the United States long before the Nazis party set upon it. Why go to Germany for an illustration which can be found in Mississippi, or in Georgia, or even in that center of culture, Carbondale, Illinois?

D. P.'s In Southern Illinois

By Lloyd Schafale. The Carbondale Free Press of March 31st, 1947, states that Bob McCarty, President of the Illinois Coal Co., Mine No. 18 near West Frankfort, said that this coal mine had been closed permanently, effective March 31st. As a result, 600 miners will be out of work.

So the Story Goes... CURTIS HISE and CLETIS HISE

GREEN ON SPOT—People throughout the coal mining region of Southern Illinois were shocked last week by the terrible disaster which befell Centralia mine No. 5. The tragedy which took the lives of 11 miners put the little community of Womack, Illinois, on the front pages of practically every newspaper in the nation.

The dead miners have been buried, but the case is not a closed one. There are probably more investigations being held over this mine explosion than over any previous tragedy, and there is probably less chance of the public getting the true facts concerning the cause of the explosion.

From all available evidence it seems as if Governor Dwight H. Green may be entitled to the lion's share of the blame. It has been shown clearly that the state department of mines and minerals, and its director, Robert Medill, who resigned earlier this week, were guilty of negligence in carrying out recommendations of mine inspectors.

The guilt of the state Republican administration is further evidenced by the quick, conscience-clearing action the Governor took in organizing the many investigation committees and one can be assured that Republican Senator C. Wayland Brooks' action in demanding a Senate investigation was not mere coincidence.

But back here in Illinois where the miners know the facts, they are not so concerned and with it perhaps his hopes for the 1948 Republican vice-presidential nomination. A New York commentator did a very good job of summing up Governor Green's actions by quoting a line from Homer, "After the event even a fool is wise."

Draft Ends—Termination of the Selective Service system this week should be considered as an important move toward the direction of peace.

It is true we must keep a large standing army to back our international commitments. But this should be done by making the armed forces attractive enough that volunteers will fill the ranks.

Spring Carnival—The coming spring carnival should prove to be the largest post-war social event here at Southern. Every student and all organizations should get behind any move to improve the social life on our campus.

You Should Have Learned This In Freshman Rhetoric

"Hey, have you got your psychology assignment?" "No, you gotta get it at the library and it takes so long. Besides, I don't know what to put on those little papers. They give you always sends me back. I think I'll go without the lesson."

Checking out a book is easy when the procedure is understood. 1. Go to the card catalogue. It is located on the northeast side of the main room of Wheeler Library.

Now, if a fellow student hasn't had the same idea previously, the book will be in the hands of the student who checked it out.

Suggest More Student Entertainment

We believe there is much undiscovered talent on the S.I.N.U. campus. For instance: the Egyptian staff and Writer's Club surely do not include all of the students with writing talent; the band and chorus do not include all musical-talented students.

A suggestion to bring out more musical talent is to have a contest for the best song on the campus. Talent was always welcomed at chapel hour but many students believe they are not talented enough to voluntarily impress a large crowd.

Some people with writing talent also have an interest in the English department, and the best works could have their works judged anonymously. A box could be placed in Old Main where short stories, poems, essays, themes, and other writings could be deposited.

Student Leaders Suggest More Week-end Activities

When a person is looking around for something to do during the winter, he usually finds a list of school functions during "Spring Week." He suggests if we go all-out to make "Spring Carnival" to be held April 12th, an annual affair.

Bill Burns, member of the student council, chairman of the steering committee of the spring carnival, suggested that the steering committee of the spring carnival should check the calendar for social events weekly.

Katherine Alley, a graduating senior from Sparta, former president of Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority, president of Little Theatre, Egyptian Staff writer, member of the Tau Pi, suggests a badge dance, with names of some towns on badges, so each person present can increase his circle of acquaintances.

Bob Eastfower, member of the inter-fraternity council, a returned veteran who attended Southern prior to the war, suggests week end informal parties. These functions could be held in one of the gyms, with punch as refreshments and card tables set up for those who do not dance.

The consensus of opinion of the persons interviewed seems to be that there are too many "Monday to Friday" students at Southern, and that some responsible student organization on the campus should sponsor informal events with plenty of advance publicity.

...Looking Elsewhere...

JUST LOOKED ACROSS the desk at Editor Jim virtually in stitches over his own error. Lucky for our necks, he taught the mistake before press time.

AND THEN THERE WAS the homeless veteran in one of our Eastern colleges who declared that the reason the housing shortage isn't ended is that "all the lumber has gone into round tables for discussing it."

It Doesn't Either Sphinx

Spring seems to have staggered into Southern like a herd of turtles. It doesn't take a survey to show what Southern thinks of Spring. Look at the empty seats in your class-rooms, look (you'll have to squint) at your girl classmate who has had all your friends who are getting married. If it isn't Spring, how can you possibly explain all this?

SHOCKING, WE SAID as we read a sign over a U.S.O. entrance to the effect that there is "Clean and decent smoking here every night except Sunday."

SOMETHING NEW IN hell weeks and a trend in the right direction—Phi Gam pledges at Illinois Wesleyan spent their pre-inauguration probation period in city-wide book drive. Result: 100,000 books were given to the Philippines for the use of college students there.

NEATEST EXPLANATION of the week. At the Illinois Institute of Technology, the paper made one of those mistakes that can happen even to the Egyptians. The article in the Technology News listed a student as president of his class when in reality, his position was vice president.

There are some students who have a talent for thinking of suggestions. Some of these ideas come from good ideas coming up every now and then about such things as school parties, school tours, making the campus more attractive, school publicity, etc., but the majority of these are forgotten soon after they're thought of because some of these students with the ideas feel they can't write the good ideas up to the editor. If a "suggestion" box were set up on the campus, more of these ideas would be heard of. True, many "gripes" would be deposited in the box, but we believe the benefits derived from the good ideas would far outweigh the gripes. Anyway, we think it's a shame a lot of good bartones are only heard during a bathroom door.

Identity Of Animal At Southern Is, Probably Police Dog-Coyote Hybrid

Two weeks ago this campus was saying that they had a grey timber wolf in captivity. Numerous comments were being made as to whether it would be stuffed and placed in the Museum or kept as a mascot. Now the identity of the animal is in doubt.

Dr. Mohr of the Wild Life Survey for this state inspected the animal about a week ago and has the opinion that it is a cross between a German police dog and a coyote. Dr. Lee R. Dice of the University of Michigan has agreed with Mohr, and his decision is true, that the animal is an extremely rare specimen.

Mr. John Allen of Southern's Museum said that it will be kept in captivity for study and experimentation through breeding to verify whether it is an improved dog which it seems to be. Close watch is being kept by many technicians in this field as to the outcome. Mr. Allen says that it will take another year for the cub to reach maturity, and the animal should have pups next spring.

Farmers in the region of the University farm have seen packs of from three to four of these animals at various times. Three are small and are in a wooded area. One farmer surprised the pack in a raid on his chickens and fed a shot-gun at them with no visible results. Other farmers in the region who raise sheep literally been run out of business

Who's Who About Campus

By Bill Price

To graduating seniors, senior week is the final hurdle they have had in sight for four long years. To the college as a whole, senior

Richard Avis, graduating senior from Johnston City, president of the student council, president of the Student Body, member of the Little Theatre organization, and a member of Southern Knights will truly be a loss to the student activities and school organization at Southern.

Richard's popularity among his classmates has been illustrated all through his college career. He was president of his sophomore class. He was captain of Southern's track team in 1946. He was listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" for the year 1946-47. He has lettered in cross country and track.

His most interesting vacation during his college career was spent at the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich., in July and August of 1946. That summer he was a counselor for junior boys (the youngest group sent to this camp). He enjoyed this vacation primarily because of his interest in helping young boys scholastically and recreationally. Dick is 100 percent behind the coming Spring Carnival and hopes that the student council can make it an annual affair at Southern.

He is in the college of education and is majoring in mathematics and mining in physics and sociology.

STUDENT COUNCIL PROBES WAGE LAW

An investigation of the present $35 per hour minimum wage law on campus was launched by Bill Burns, freshman representative at the Tuesday meeting of the student council this week. A committee consisting of Kenneth Hedges, senior, Bill Burns, Madelyn Fisher, freshman, and Bob Winegarner, senior, was appointed to look into the matter, especially the legal aspects.

A committee was also appointed to communicate with Dean Hiskey regarding the student handbook to be published next year. The dean has requested that the student council collaborate in the compilation of this publication. Members of this committee are Walter Clark, freshman, Dick Avis, senior and chairman, Esther Pajack, freshman, and Bob Winegarner, senior.

SENIORS AND GRADUATE STUDENTS

A large number of graduate schools recommend and many require that the results of the Great Year Record Examination be submitted as one of the credentials for admission. These examinations will be given May 5th and 6th. Registrations must be received before noon Thursday, April 10. For particulars contact M. S. Hiskey, Dean of Men.

NOTICE

Lorena Drummond, Native Of Texas, Is Information Service Director

By Bill Welch

Careers are often started by some small incident in a person's life. Such seems to be the case with Miss Lorena Drummond, director of Information Service at Southern. She became interested in writing when she won third place in a short story contest sponsored by the Texas High School Press Conference.

Miss Drummond was born on a farm near Childress, Texas. She entered the University of Texas where she joined the staff of the Daily Texas but, instead of completing her major in journalism, she was awarded a bachelor's degree in English. She later finished her requirements for a major in journalism.

In her third year in school, Miss Drummond accepted a position in the University of Texas publicity office. She was advanced to assistant to the director of publicity. For a year she was a staff writer for the American Statesman, an Austin, Texas, daily.

In 1946, she was appointed acting director of the University of Texas publicity relations office where she was instrumental in changing the name of the office to information service.

Senior Girls Practice Home Management

For six weeks each Home Economics major and minor must live in the Home Management House located at 809 Harwood Avenue. Here the girls live as one family under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Babcock. On a cooperative basis, they do the buying, cooking, entertaining, and other household duties. The girls pool expenses, take turns about performing the various duties.

The girls living at the home are usually seniors, having had three terms of food preparation and one term of nutrition.

The girls living at the house the first six weeks of this term according to Mrs. Lucy K. Woody, chairman of the Home Economics department, are Marilyn Becht and Maywood, Millie Opden of Carbondale, Helen Davis of Johnston City, Jacqueline Harris of Galatia, Jewel Trainer of Wolf Lake, and Laura Baker of Raleigh.

Assess Graduates For Senior Week

Graduating seniors will be assessed $1.00 each to help defray the expenses of Senior Week. This decision was reached at a meeting of the senior class held Tuesday morning, according to Fred Armstrong, president of the senior class.

Jeanne Haroldson, Dave Kenney, and Gordon Hendricks were appointed as a committee to collect the money.

A CAPELLA CHOIR GIVES TWO CONCERTS THIS WEEK

The entire chorus sang "Dear Old Woman" as an encore.

Fulkerson Gives Delta Rho Address

Eight students became members of the honorary mathematics fraternity Delta Rho at the ninth annual Founders' Day Banquet held at the University Cafeteria Wednesday, March 26 at 6:30 p.m.

Ray Fulkerson, gave the Honor Address on the subject "Vector Proof of the Desargues Theorem." Each year the department of mathematics selects a senior to give the Honor Address at the Founders' Day banquet. Mr. Fulkerson used the method of vector analysis, which he studied in training for his commission as Army Air Corps lieutenant in meteorology, to prove the Desargues theorem, basic in projective geometry.

Allison members present for the occasion were Lucy Glascock, Dupon; Dorothy Cox, Carterville; Frances Williams, and John T. Rullett, Sparta; Attie Belle Adams, LeBelle; DuChonville; Everett Deason, Harts. All of these people are mathematics teachers in their respective communities.

Squibblings

By Jean Larson

When we got bored we trip over to the library—not to study, heaven forbid—but for amusement. Perhaps the library seems dull and dusty, but we got a distinct pick-up the day we found Emily post's Etiologies shelved next to Ignorance of Fairy Tales. But the crowning touch was the Happy Marriage which was filled before Peace with Honor, immediately after which came First American Myths.

We'd like to shake the hand of Associate Justice Frank J. Murphy of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts, who, testifying for Forever Amber, the book that is, can be quoted as saying, "Both my wife and I read Forever Amber in full, and both of us failed to be corrupted or influenced in any way."

And we'd like to shake the hand of the author of the Union by the shoulders. Let us quote a passage from the play and our reasons can be deduced:

Grant: You'll want to know Mr. Drayton—she's going to the House of Representatives next year.

Spike: Good! I always say, a woman's place is in the House.

We want to give honorable mention for that severe shaking to a student who when told by a librarian that Gray's Anatomy was out, cracked "Have you called the doctor?"

Several sidelights came out of the situation that developed when seven Delta Sigma Epsilon "Hell Week" pledges were sent to the fish around their necks for two days. Among the rest of these were that the peculiar odor was something out of Canal No. 5, or perhaps it was F. O. (fish odor). When asked to remove the fish one cooed remarkably "Oh, I couldn't do that, we've been so close, practically bosom buddies."

And we want to comment on the inventory of Little Theatre properties compiled recently in the stagecraft class that listed a cellophane clothes bag as "11 Petty Girl Costumes."

You Can Stop Worrying Now... They Aren't Looking For You

How many cars pass through the intersection at Main and Illinois during the day? From which direction does most of the traffic come? Seeking the answers to these questions, 27 members of Dr. Maurice Mazer's Economics 107 class stationed themselves in hourly watches at this intersection armed only with pencil, pad and perseverance last Wednesday from 7 a. m. until 5 p. m.

Statistically, they found that from these hours, with the exception of the hour from 12 a. m. to 1 p. m., 9,948 vehicles crossed the intersection and that the busiest hour was from 4 to 5 p. m., when 1,328 cars crossed the checking point.

Evidently drivers were taking the advice of Horace Greely about going west, as 2,663 westbound cars were counted, while 2,619 eastward bound "knights of the road" were returning from that direction.

As though they feared that winter was beginning all over again, 2,355 automobiles headed south, while only 2,126 motorists took off for the northland.

This check, according to Dr. Mazer, was part of a regular course assignment, and when the results are officially tabulated, the members of the class will make charts showing the trends of the traffic.

The townspeople were especially curious about this check, and with usual public reaction, they chose to guess what the check was for rather than ask the checker.

While waiting for a bus, the writer heard the following remarks: "This is the last day for drivers to get their new state license, and those people are checking on them." They're probably looking for a stolen car and are checking the out-of-state licenses. "It is a traffic check, and if an electric stop is needed." And one grizzled old veteran said grimly, "They're a-lookin' for somebody."

A suspicious taxi-driver even suspected his boss of stationing the checkers on the corner to see how many times his cabs rounded the corner, or some wag suggested, how many wheels they went around on.

Doris Sims, a student from Murphysboro who helped check the automobiles, said that she stood there on the corner so long, fellow students thought she had missed her bus and offered her a ride to school.

And in case you are wondering which corner to stay away from at what time, avoid south-bound traffic between 4 p. m. and 5 p. m. as 370 cars passed this spot. And in case you are any students wandering around the

Committee Approves Re-naming Bills

Bills are pending in the General Assembly, under the sponsorship of Senator R. G. Crisberry of Murphysboro, to change all laws in which the name of the University now appears, so that instead of reading "Southern Illinois Normal University," they will read "Southern Illinois University."

The proposals were passed favorably by committee action on March 11, and soon will come up for a vote of the General Assembly.

University officials and friends of the University argue that the word "normal" no longer fits this institution, since it means a "two-year teacher-training institution," and Southern, while it still concentrates on teacher-education, now is a full-graduate university with three undergraduate colleges and a graduate school.

Booley Addresses Education Group

Dr. Howard Booley, associate professor of education and director of Wheeler Library, was one of the main speakers at the Illinois Conference on Rural Education, held at Springfield on Mar. 14.

A specialist in school administration, Dr. Booley urged legislative enactment in developing consolidation and improvement in Illinois' administrative units. Dr. Booley cited that at present Illinois has 11,970 administrative units in comparison with the total of 11 other states being 969. He pointed out that large administrative units of 100 or more teachers are more progressive. He also urged that the quality of education be improved.

Baseball Team Meets Arkansas State Tuesday

Varsity baseball is in full swing at Southern for the first time since the early 1920's, as Coach Glen "Abe" Martin puts a green squad through the paces.

The series of games originally scheduled for tomorrow and Saturday at Southern have been cancelled, according to information from Martin. In place of the cancelled games, intra-squad games are being planned in order to give the team some experience and to enable Martin to get a good look at his material.

Athletic Director Glenn "Abe" Martin is in charge of baseball's revival at Southern, which has been hampered by unreasonable snow and wet grounds. The unfavorable practice conditions, which include no regular baseball weather, and the fact that this is the first year varsity baseball has been played in many years, have made Martin's task of organizing and forming the team doubly difficult.

In as much as Southern has no regular season, the Maroons will play the rigors of that Sportman's Park, located just north of Murphysboro on State Highway 13, and will practice on the old baseball diamond located north of MacAndrew Stadium.

As yet no definite starting team has been selected because Martin has found it almost impossible to choose from the approximately 100 who have reported for practice. But in spite of the large numbers out for the sport, Martin stated, "There will be no cutting of the roster. It was my plan to explain that it would probably take quite a while to judge the abilities of the various men. However, several names have been tentatively mentioned. They are based on the basis of this who had the best physical condition and had had the most practice. As the season progresses there will probably be many changes.

Those men who are likely to play tomorrow, and their positions

Due to the cancelling of the Northern games, the Maroons will open their diamond schedule with a game against Arkansas State Teachers College at Jonesboro, Arkansas on April 12.

Southern Women Top Cape WAA In Sports Day

Twenty-five members of the Women's Athletic Association at Southern made a good showing in the Sports Day at Cape Girardeau, March 29. The Southern team, which included the Cape Girardeau members in two basketball games, three out of four badminton games, and one out of two table tennis games.

Visiting WAA players, Dr. Dorothy Davies, chairman of the women's physical education department, and Dorothy Moxley, assistant professor of women's physical education, attended a luncheon in their honor, an informal singing, and two swims.

Bad Weather Halts Cindermen

Due to the lack of cooperation of the weather, track coach Leonard P. "Doc" Lingie has not been able to pick the track team which will represent Southern for the coming season. Over 70 men have reported for track this year, but as yet little work has been done. This is especially true in the running department.

Eight lettermen of last season have reported back for practice, leaving lots of room for promising newcomers. The eight returning lettermen are: Captain Charles Beatty of Benton, Glen Hamilton of Pinesville; Quentin Stinson of Eldorado, Jack Hayase of Benton, Gene Davidson of Harrisburg, John Algee of Carbondale, Leonard Moxley of Carbondale, and Carl Birker of Pinesville.

A meet previously scheduled for April 5 has been cancelled and leaves Southern's first encounter scheduled for April 12 with Cape Girardeau. The first home meet will be with Evansville April 19.

PAT'S CHATTER

The women's P. E. Department will be highlighted on Southern's radio hour April 22nd at 2:15. Evelyn Parker, president of the W.A.A., will make the introduction. She will be followed by Barbara Melvin, who will give a brief review of the Co-Rec activities and also Sports Days. Avis Kern will then speak on basketball. Next Imogene Gray will dwell upon some of the main points of hockey. Following this Modern Dance will be described by Opal Ruff.

Last Tuesday saw the beginning of the individual sports tournament which includes both table tennis and bowling. The two managers are Anne Marie Ham and Verna Legg, respectively. Next Monday, practice for the class volleyball tournament will begin. This lasts for two weeks, after which is the tournament. Following this tournament, the organized houses will also hold a contest. It has been suggested that the houses be thinking of their teams. Annabel Sanders will act as manager of this activity.

If weather permits, baseball will soon take its share in the spotlight. But rain or shine, we're sure that there will never be a dull moment in the Women's gym.

Four Lettermen For Netsters

Four returning lettermen have reported for varsity tennis which will soon get under way. A six game schedule plus the conference meet comprise the schedule to be played by the Maroons during the coming season. Joe Pulley of Marion, Roy Leitch of New Athens, John McGuire of Carbondale, and Ed Williams of Galatia are the returning lettermen which have reported for practice. Pulley and Leitch won the Southern Illinois Open Tennis meet last year and placed second and third respectively in the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference meet last year. McGuire placed fourth in the IIAAC meet. Coach Freuburg has several newcomers who have played tennis and who show promise. However, due to the bad weather they have been unable to get much practice, and as yet the squad has not been chosen.

Golf Presented At Southern For First Time

Golf as a varsity sport is being introduced into the regular curriculum here at Southern for the first time in history of Southern sports. Coach Lynn Holder held an informal meeting of golf candidates Monday afternoon and with the golf club came and announced that there will be about 30 men out for varsity competition.

When the locals are entertaining their guest teams, the matches will be held on the Jackson County Country Club greens, Holder has announced.

'T' CLUB MEETS

At an "'T' club meeting Wednesday night, April 2, special awards were given to those active members who will graduate in June. Mr. Freuburg presented the awards, which were pins, to Steve Giacomelli, Dick Ayle, Dick Horn, William Millspough, Sam Milosovich, Lawrence Cafetani, and Roy Leitch.

Last term, Gene Hall and Ted Cain were awarded the pins as they completed requirements for graduation in March.

Five Speech Students Attend Convention

Five students of speech and Dr. F. Merrill Larson, chairman of the speech department, will attend the national convention of Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary forensic fraternity, at Bowling Green, Ohio, from April 6 to 11. Dr. Larson will serve on the committee on women's extemporaneous speaking.

Students who will attend the convention are Lewis Hamann of Sparta, John Rendleman of Anna, Charles Weber of Cairo, Eileen Gardner of Granite City, and Rosemary Woolard of Energy.

Cagers Drop 44-39 Tilt In Tourney

The defending champion Maroons of Southern went down to a 44-39 defeat at the hands of the undermanned Dakota Wesleyan cagers in Kansas City in the National Association Intercollegiate Basketball tournament last March 10 in their first round play.

In what was an anticlimax to a game that saw the eventual champions, Marshall College of Huntington, West Virginia, best the Wisconsin State Teachers 113 to 80, the Maroons and Wesleyan played a defensive game with Southern leading 22-16 at half-time.

Gene Hall, senior from Galatia, was high point man for the game, collecting 17 points while Bob Colborn, freshman of Florida, had the real basketball fans gasping over his wonderful defensive play against Bruce Crockett, Dakota scoring star, holding him to eight points.

Due to Quentin Stinson's fine rebounding work, the Maroons controlled most of the rebounds during the first half. However, as the second half opened, the Maroons' rebounding ability, and despite desperate substitutions by Coach Lynn Holder, Dakota scored 15 points while the Southerners counted but one in the first nine minutes.

The Maroons' rebounding actually tied the score with about six minutes left to go, but Stinson fouled out, and the Maroon cause died.

In the Marshall-Wisconsin game, Nate Defang, 21-year-old freshman of the Wisconsin five, broke all individual tournament scoring records as he banged the hoops for 57 points, and yet they were all earned through his team's superb execution. The 413 points scored by Marshall also broke the team tournament scoring record.

After beating Wisconsin, Marshall dropped Hamline University, then Eastern Washington, and then Emporia State Teachers to gain the finals in the upper bracket, while in the lower bracket, Minnesota State Teachers were surprising everyone by defeating Loren College, Hayward University, Southeastern Oklahoma, and Arizona State to reach the finals of that bracket.

In the final game, Marshall downed Minnesota to take the crown.

In a post-season benefit game at Eldorado, the Maroons defeated a Southern Illinois Independent All-star team 60-45 as cage athletes signaled for the season.

PI KAPPA SIGMA
COPS HOUSE TROPHY
The Pi Kappa came through when the chips were down last Wednesday night as they dropped the Anthony Hall team 36-30 for the house championship. Not only was the award riding on the outcome, but if the Anthony Hall squad had taken the lead when they would have received permanent possession of the trophy.

..Sport Shots..

By BOB McDOWELL
Since basketball season is over and the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title is safely tucked away in the record books under Southern's name, it would be interesting to look back over the season and find out what really happened.

The Maroons, when they closed the 1946-47 season, expected to have four stars who played first string back for this past season, plus a few second string stalwarts, and many new men, both high school graduates and returning veterans.

However, many things were to happen before the current season opened. The National Intercollegiate championship team was made up of the following men: Don Sheffer, Gene Stollar, Quentin Stinson, Sam Milosovich, and Leo Cabutti. Don Sheffer, a graduating senior, was expected to be last.

Due to Quentin Stinson's fine rebounding work, the Maroons controlled most of the rebounds during the first half. However, as the second half opened, the Maroons' rebounding ability, and despite desperate substitutions by Coach Lynn Holder, Dakota scored 15 points while the Southerners counted but one in the first nine minutes.

Sam Milosovich received a leg injury in the last football game of the season and the basketball season was halfway over before he began practice.

Leo Cabutti received a leg injury early in the cage season and he was out until the latter part of the season.

In the athletic department, Director Glenn "Abe" Martin had been looking for an opportunity to work someone else into the position of cage coach, and with all new men coming along, he decided it was the best time to change.

Therefore, Lynn Holder, former Southern star athlete who had been placed on the staff early in the year, and what if that spot he was in? In the first place, he was faced with following a team that had won the conference crown, for the first time in Southern's history, and the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball championship, also for the first time. He also had to build his team from returned veterans and high school graduates trying to please the Maroon fans, who were not used to seeing their teams lose at home.

For this purpose, Martin and Holder put their heads together and decided that the best plan would be to schedule the toughest teams they could find in order that the Maroons would be ready when playoff time started. For this reason, the Maroons dropped their early season contests against such teams as St. Louis University, Western Kentucky, and Loyola of New Orleans. But all the time they were losing, they were acquiring poise and floor-wisdom. Thus, by the end of the season, the Maroons were running up high scores and could be said to be a good team, although not a great one. We feel that Martin and Holder did a fine job, despite adverse conditions, bringing the second loss crown to Southern and that they deserve great praise for their work.
