SERIES OF LECTURES ARRANGED FOR LEGIONNAIRES OF GLENN CAMP

TEN DEPARTMENTS TO ASSIST IN SECOND C.C.C. PROJECT

Arrangements for a program of instruction at Glenn Camp F. One, near Vergennes, were completed early last week by members of the college faculty, headed by Dean G. D. Wham. This project differs from the one undertaken last December with the Giant City corps, in that it offers no credit to the men attending it, it involves ten departments instead of three, and it provides for lectures to be given at the camp itself.

Men of the camp, most of them legionnaires from the vicinity of Milwaukee, are evidencing a genuine interest in the courses. It was because of their desire to improve themselves that the program was arranged, and at the two lectures delivered to them last week, they kept Dr. Bailey and Mr. Nolen for more than an hour on each occasion, discussing the subject of the addresses.

Four lectures are scheduled for this week, three in social science and one in earth science. On Monday and Tuesday of this week Dr. Bailey and Mr. Nolen spoke to the group for the second time. Dr. Cramer and Dr. Swartz will make initial appearances at the camp Thursday and Friday.

Below is given a detailed schedule for these lectures. Though they will not proceed according to the arrangement by departments, within the departments they will be given in the

Chi-Delts to Give Student Program in Chapel Friday

The first of the social organizations to sponsor a chapel program, Chi Delta Chi will entertain at the assembly this Friday. Though their program has been only tentatively planned, the Chi Delts have announced that it will include impersonations of several radio stars, among them Joe Penner and Bing Crosby. The program will probably be as follows:

- Introduction William Rushing
- Violin solo William Morawski
- Dramatic criticism Henry Hitt
- Piano solo Floyd Smith or Grover Morgan

Radio impersonations, Gasway Bovinet
Chi Delta Chi song Members of the chapter

The Zetetic society put on a program of considerable merit last Friday. With the central theme that of contrasting the music and literature of the nineteenth century with that of the twentieth century, the entertainment opened with a talk by Hazel Towery on the contributions of Tenyson. Margaret Hill followed her with an illustrated lecture on the Delsartian school of expression. Solos by Harold Bailey, who sang a selection from a Massenet opera, and Iola Whitlock, who gave several popular numbers, effectively contrasted the music of the two centuries.

ANNOUNCEMENT

At the game with Chicago University in Chicago, February 24, a section will be reserved for people attending from Carbondale, especially for those who are affiliated with the college. In order to estimate the room they will need to reserve the Athletic department is asking that those who expect to attend leave a notice at the Egyptian office. During the week before the game, a box will be placed at the door of the office to receive such notices.

Address by Meyer Is For Benefit of Student Loan Fund

The local chapter of the American Association of University Women is presenting its first project of this year in the raising of money for the student loan fund on the evening of Monday, February 12 at eight o'clock with the presentation of Eggert Meyer, lecturer and leader of the German Youth Movement. This fund is used to lend money to at least one girl enrolled in S. I. T. C. and it covers her expenses for one year.

It is particularly fitting that the speaker who is to appear in this project of raising money for the student loan fund is himself vitally interested in the youth of the world. Mr. Meyer has been affiliated with the German Youth Movement since the age of fourteen, and for the past two summers has been a member of the foreign staff of the American People's College instructing Americans traveling in Europe on themes relating to the German Youth Movement. Within the last month he has been awarded a scholarship for work at the University of Chicago.

The subject of Mr Meyer's address to be given in the Zetetic Hall, will be "As German Youth Sees Hitler." Tickets for the event are twenty-five cents, and may be secured from Miss Aileen Carpenter or any member of the A. A. U. W.

Mr. Boomer Speaks At Monthly Meeting Of Science Club

Mr. R. E. Muckleroy will discuss Modern Agriculture at the February meeting of the Science Club. Mr. S. E. Boomer addressed the club last Wednesday morning on the subject, "Recent Advances in Astronomy". Beginning his talk with an explanation of the opening of the gates to the Chicago World's Fair by a ray of light from Arcturus, Mr. Boomer went on to discuss the large telescopes and observatories, and to describe the expansion of the universe. The main part of the address was based on two problems: (1) Material in the interstellar space, and (2) Material in the intergalactic space. Mr. Boomer concluded his talk by mentioning several articles from leading scientific magazines which show the trend of astronomical study of the present day.

Miss Stein Mentioned In Current Bulletin Of National Museum

Miss Hilda A. Stein of the Zoology department has been honored by having her name included in the recently published "Bulletin of the National Museum."

During some explorations in Southern Illinois in November, 1931, Miss

HILDA A. STEIN

Stein discovered several specimens of Ambystoma talpoideum, commonly known as the male salamander. This is the second record of this particular salamander being found in this vicinity. The collections were made on the island at Horseshoe Lake, a state game preserve located about one mile south of Olive Branch and about fifteen miles north of Cairo. Originally Horseshoe Lake was an old oxbow of the Mississippi river, and it is one of the few remaining original cypress swamps in Illinois.

Miss Stein found the salamanders buried an inch or so in the ground under rotten logs. At the same time she came upon another species of salamander, Ambystoma texanum.

Miss Stein's discovery adds not only another finding of the salamander in Illinois, but also establishes a new northern limit for this species. She submitted a paper to the State Academy of Arts and Sciences, and sent specimens to the National Museum, the University of Illinois, and to Lincoln Park.

Junior High School Will Present Play "Rumpelstiltskin"

To finance a banquet in honor of their basketball team, the eighth grade of the Allyn Junior High School will produce Rumpelstiltskin at chapel hour February 14. Admission to the play, which will be given in the Allyn assembly room will be ten cents.

Rumpelstiltskin, one of the oldest tales in European folk-lore, is the quaint story of a miller who tells the king that his daughter can spin gold out of straw. Rumpelstiltskin, an elf, comes to Margot's aid, performs the miracles, and then after Margot becomes queen demands the young prince for his reward. After various complications are smoothed out, the story ends happily, of course.

- The cast is as follows:
- The Miller Harry Marberry
 - King's Escorts—Billy Cook, Charles Etherton, Gene Crawshaw, James Chandler, John L. Colp.
 - Margot June Crawshaw
 - Courtiers—Cecil Bell, Herbert Deason.
 - Rumpelstiltskin Ralph Norton
 - Chamberlain Scott Gill
 - Usher George Wham
 - Guests of the Court—Mary McMillan, Mary Alice Smith, Nancy Cooper.
 - Maid of Honor Parolee McClelland
 - Countess Patsy Watson
 - Page Tom Easterly

DR. LAWRENCE M. GOULD, GEOLOGIST IS ENGAGED FOR LECTURE HERE

ANNOUNCEMENT

The First Aid Class of the Women's Physical Education department has planned to sponsor a "Weight Week" in the interest of all those girls who wish to gain or lose. The date for this project has been set at February 23. Every girl is invited to inspect the various displays in room 202 at the gymnasium during the week and to attend the chapel hour program which has been arranged for Wednesday, February 21.

I. S. T. A. WILL PRESENT HIM ON EVENING OF MARCH 30

The Southern Division of the Illinois State Teachers' Association is presenting in the Shryock Auditorium on the evening of March 30, Dr. Lawrence M. Gould, geologist and Second in Command of the first Byrd Expedition to Antarctica. Although the Association regrets its inability to present Governor McNutt of Indiana as originally scheduled, it feels very sure that Dr. Gould will prove a most interesting and enjoyable speaker.

College Orchestra Engaged for Both Evenings of Play

The complete Teachers' College orchestra will play at both performances of Noel Coward's Hay Fever, to be presented the evenings of February 22-23 at Shryock Auditorium. Although the music program has not yet been definitely planned, the orchestra will play for some time before the curtain rises at 8 o'clock.

Mr. T. L. Bryant, working with Harry Cutler on the advertising staff of the production, is swinging into the campaign-work this week. Carlton Rashe and Walton Blakey will work on the properties staff in cooperation with Paul McRoy, stage-manager, and Robert Healy, costume-manager. These and other committees of the Y. M. C. A. are now organized, but have not yet started any definite activity.

The members of the cast and the director, Allan Mueller, have taken tickets to sell, and it is expected that the opportunity for students to sell tickets according to the usual plan of one free with every ten sold, will be given before the week is over. Tickets will be placed on sale in the various high schools of Southern Illinois at a price of twenty-five cents, while business places will handle tickets for townspeople at a price of thirty-five cents.

Musical Comedy at Methodist Church Set for Feb. 13-14

With a cast made up principally of S. I. T. C. students, the operetta, Carrie Comes to College, will be presented on the nights of February 13 and 14 at the First Methodist Church. As its title indicates, it is a campus comedy scintillating and fast moving, one college student especially will enjoy. The play is under the direction of Mrs. C. L. Peterson.

- Members of the cast are: James Taggart, Vernon Anderson, Eddie Mitchell, Frances Patterson, Mrs. C. W. Blakey, Dorothea Sowers, Voris Stafford, Kermit Chase, Victor Goings, Ralph Eyre Hamilton, Carleton Rasche, Floyd Ramsey, Goodwin Petersen, Kenneth Spain, Eugene Barger, Ruby Lee Tomlinson, Mary Adilyn Toler, Wendell Carleton.

Larry Gould is a young man of vivid personality and is an exceptionally fine lecturer. The National Geographic Society of Washington says of his appearance before them: "His lecture is one of the outstanding lectures given before the National Geographic Society in many years." In spite of his comparative youth, Larry Gould has been in turn a professor of geology in the University of Michigan and a fine scientist, a seasoned explorer who had charge of the geographical work on the Putnam Expedition to Greenland, and the year following to Baffinland; and then second in command of the first Byrd Expedition to Antarctica.

The title of the lecture will be: "With Byrd to the Bottom of the World," and it will be illustrated with motion pictures and colored slides of the various and exacting experiences which the expedition had.

Press Conference Directed by Mu Tau Pi to be Friday, April 6

The date for the high school press conference which Mu Tau Pi is sponsoring has been set for Friday, April 6. At that time representatives from high schools in this and the five neighboring counties will meet on this campus for general afternoon sessions and departmental conferences, followed by a dinner in the evening.

Letters have been sent out to fifty-two high schools in Perry, Williamson, Union, Randolph, and Jackson counties, inviting them to attend the conference. Attendance is not restricted just to those schools which have newspapers and year-books, although it is expected that most of the delegates will be from schools which support such publications. Rather, the invitation is extended to all who are interested in scholastic journalism.

Although the program has not as yet been definitely planned, members of Mu Tau Pi will manage the conferences, and will be assisted by some outside talent.

POETRY CLUB TO DISCUSS YEATS THIS AFTERNOON

The Poetry Club, meeting in the Association room this afternoon at four o'clock, will discuss the life and works of William B. Yeats. The meeting is open to all students of the college.

Socratic Society Hears Lecture On Art of Make-up

Illustrating his remarks with an actual demonstration, Mr. Robert Dunn Faner talked to members of the Socratic Society last Wednesday evening on the art of make-up. Mr. Faner also made up characters in "Cure for Indifference", a one-act play by Geoffrey Wilkinson, which was presented at the same meeting. Virginia Spiller coached the play, the cast of which follows:

- Mrs. Tilling—Edna Garlick
- Helen Bainbridge—Marian Richards
- Sophie Frayle—Marjorie McConaghie
- North—Virginia Spiller

As a concluding number, Grover Morgan played and sang two songs of his own composition, "Talkin' to the Moon" and "Two on a String."

The program tonight will be in the nature of a radio review. Famous radio stars will be impersonated. These will include Kate Smith and the four Marx Brothers.

FRENCH LUNCHEON TO BE HELD AT ANTHONY HALL

The first of a series of luncheons for French students will be held at Anthony Hall at 12:05 today. A separate table will be given to people who attend this project of the French Club, in order that conversation may be carried on in French. It is probable that the luncheon will be made weekly affairs, and anyone interested is invited to attend them.

Tri Sigma

About thirty rushees were entertained at a buffet supper preceding the basketball game Thursday evening. Favors were dolls made of gum drops.

Mary Carter was confined to her home last week because of illness.

Marjorie Cagle of Marion visited at the chapter house Thursday and Friday as the guest of Janavee Turner.

AUBREY LAND ARRANGES ENTERTAINMENT FOR C. H. S.

On Thursday of last week the students and faculty of the Carterville High School were entertained with a program arranged by Aubrey Land. The following numbers were given: piano duet by Aubrey Land and Paul McRoy, vocal solo, "On The Road to Mandalay," by John Straub, readings by Veda Taylor, and a vocal solo "Tit-Willow" by Pat Randle.

The Wailing Wall

The "Wailing Wall" offers the student an opportunity to voice through print his opinions of various things concerning college life. The Egyptian carries this column in its pages, but it should be understood by everyone that the Egyptian itself remains in policy entirely independent of the letters which it publishes. These ideas are of the students, not of the newspaper staff. All letters must be signed when they are sent to the Egyptian office, although the signature will be withheld upon special request.

Dear Editor:

Evidently the battle is on and the Socratic Society has fired the first shot.

First, right here and now, we must firmly and strongly banish any notions of our trying to steal our sister organization's talent. We have more than enough gifted people in our own society. It was our idea that an exchange of numbers on the programs of the two societies would more closely knit the two organizations together. After looking over the back files of the Egyptian I fail to find any indication that a Socrat's identity was falsely concealed. We have not announced in bold face type that our number was borrowed from the Socratic Society, but hereafter we will. If Socrats appearing on rival programs were elsewhere described as blighted Zetets, it is not within our knowledge.

Perhaps the two organizations had better meet together and set a price on each other's talent, so that we may advertise in terms of the amount we had to expend to obtain this great privilege. What am I offered for Elizabeth Ann West?

MARJORIE BROWN,
President of Zetetic Society.

Faculty News

Dean G. D. Wham addressed a meeting of the men's brotherhood at the Methodist Church last Wednesday night on the subject, "The Place of the Fine Arts in Present Day Education."

Mrs. Alice Kelsey Wright entertained at a "kid party" Thursday evening honoring Miss Hilda Stein on her "tenth" birthday.

The A.A.U.W. met at the home of Mrs. Joe Baer in Murphysboro last night. Miss Esther Power who is the state program chairman, spoke on the organization, its aims, and accomplishments.

Misses Marian and Betty Dill entertained at a shower for Mrs. Julia Chastaine, Thursday afternoon. On Saturday, January 27, Mrs. Chastaine received many beautiful gifts at a shower given by Miss Alice Thompson, formerly a student of S. I. T. C.

GERMAN BAND TO PLAY FOR LATIN-AMERICAN CLUB

The Latin-American Club will meet tomorrow evening at seven o'clock in the Y.M.C.A. room. Victo Randolph will introduce the topic for discussion, and entertainment will include a German band assembled by Clyde Maddock, and Glen Jones and Edgar Unthank of the Socratic Literary Society in a singing duet.

All people interested are invited to attend the meeting.

The University of Alabama has organized a new fraternity which has been named "Flunk Dammit Flunk" and goes over big with the lesser intellectuals.

LOWELL HICKS SPEAKS TO MEMBERS OF CHEM. SEMINAR

Lowell Hicks spoke before the Chemistry Seminar yesterday afternoon, in the Seminar room, third floor of the New Science Building. His lecture topic was "Modern Revisions of the Periodic Table".

At the next meeting which will be on Tuesday, February 27, Richard Arnold will speak on another current phase of chemistry.

College Gym Squad Gives Exhibitions in Surrounding Towns

Among the men who have recently reported for practice with the college gym squad, Robert McCall, Wilbur Ragland, and James Walden are making strides toward leading positions. The past two weeks have seen several new men attending drills, and many are preparing for the tryouts for permanent places on the team.

In various engagements in Carbondale and surrounding towns the men are maintaining their reputation for excellent performances. They gave their most recent exhibition last Thursday evening before the Chamber of Commerce, and previous to that time they had performed on the campus during the intermission of the basketball game with Evansville College. On January 21, the squad appeared at a benefit show given by the Marion High School Athletic Association. They were particularly well received on this occasion.

Three Hundred See Dr. W. A. Thalman in Exhibition of Magic

A crowd of three hundred people heard Dr. W. A. Thalman's talk and demonstration on "Magic" before the Chamber of Commerce meeting last Thursday night. The tumbling team under the direction of Mr. Vincent di Giovanna, gave a twenty-minute performance as the second feature of the program.

Other numbers of the program included vocal selections by a male quartette composed of Stanley Meyers, Allen Graves, Bluford Sloan, and John Moore; the showing of Byrd's pictures of the South Pole expedition; and one reel of industrial pictures.

BOX IS PROVIDED FOR SNAPSHOT CONTEST ENTRIES

The editor of the Obelisk has placed a box outside the Egyptian office for entries in the snapshot contest. Everyone who intends to participate in the contest is asked to deposit his sets or his individual entry in that box within the next few days, for the contest closes at three o'clock Saturday, February 10.

As was previously announced, cash prizes are being offered for the winning photographs submitted. For a complete list of rules and prizes refer to the issue of the paper January 24.

Kappa Phi Kappa to Give Dinner Dance On Next Saturday

The Kappa Phi Kappa education fraternity and the alumni of that organization will hold an invitational dinner, card party, and dance on the evening of Saturday, February 17, following their pledging on the afternoon of that day. The dinner will be given at the University Cafe, and the dance and card party will be held at one of the gymnasiums, with Oral Harris's orchestra providing the music.

Herbert Bricker and Richard Hambleman are working out definite plans for the affair, under the supervision of Paul McRoy, president of the fraternity.

Nineteen Kappa Phi Kappa members attended a banquet at the Baptist Annex last Thursday evening.

Kappa Delta Alpha

Kappa Delta Alpha held a smoker last Wednesday evening, following which Tex Crowe, of Christopher, was pledged.

The fraternity entertained Miss Hilda A. Stein at dinner last evening.

Coach Mike Nytkos and his St. Louis University basketball team were entertained at the fraternity house Thursday afternoon.

LaVerne Hemmer attended the Fritz Kreisler concert in St. Louis last Thursday evening.

Stanfield Advocates New Discussion Club

"A discussion club on this campus would give the students an idea of the real conditions outside their own narrow sphere" was John Stanfield's concluding remark in a speech he delivered to the members of the Zetetic Society last Wednesday evening. Following him, Donald Payne, relief worker in the county and former student of the college, spoke on the social conditions and service work that is being carried on in Carbondale.

SIGMA PHI MU INITATES SIX ADDITIONAL MEMBERS

Six new members were initiated into Sigma Phi Mu, medical fraternity, last Wednesday evening, January 31, in a formal initiation ceremony which included a dinner at the University Cafe. The new members are Oscar Schnicker, Dahlgren; Nemo Gaines, Everett Miller, Carbondale; Ted Brown, Murphysboro; William Morawski, Christopher; and Hiram Cross, West Frankfort.

Paul Lourier and his band, from Chicago, will syncope for the annual Sophomore formal in DeKalb, Ill.

AMONG NEW BOOKS

George Whitefield, Prophet-Preacher by Edward S. Ninde, New York, The Abingdon Press, 1924.

Among the books new to the college library is a copy of Edward S. Ninde's biography of Whitefield, entitled George Whitefield, Prophet-Preacher. Although the book is not entirely new (it was published in 1924 by the Abingdon Press) it merits a few words. As a life story of Whitefield it is rather good—it has its defects as well as its virtues and the virtues are the weightiest.

The greatest fault is the biased standpoint from which the author views his subject. The result is that the impartial historian would look askance at the work; even the thoughtful reader is likely to be incensed at the prejudiced standpoint. Ninde says everything but that Whitefield is now resting in Paradise—to the free thinker the book is repugnant; the unbiased reader of history is likely to be repelled by the author's letting his religion enter into his work. A historian should never take the opportunity to make a case for religion in a biography.

Of the virtues, there are several—this volume contains the first full biography of Whitefield. All the facts of his life from his turbulent childhood to his death are given in one treatise that is reasonably short and highly readable.

Sitting Bull, Champion of the Sioux, A Biography by Stanley Vestal, Boston, Houghton, Mifflin Company, 1932.

Stanley Vestal's Sitting Bull, Champion of the Sioux, A Biography, published by Houghton, Mifflin Company in 1932 is as the life of Whitefield, the first full biography of one of the most widely known of the Indian figures. The book has a rather full treatment of his early life, a rather revealing period since as a young man he was a leader among the Sioux. The early period has received little treatment heretofore, largely because there are no existing records—his first contacts with white men coming after he was fifty years old. Even accounts during the later periods of his life are based on military reports.

Vestal took a new line of procedure—he systematically questioned all persons who knew Sitting Bull or had witnessed any of his exploits. These accounts he synthesized and made into a life story. Among those who were quizzed, the names of Julius Standing Buffalo and Cecelia One Bull Brown stand out in the memory largely because of their peculiarity.

Although this book directly solves the problems of Dinny, the lovable heroine of Flowering Wilderness, by finding for her a suitable husband, it deals mainly with the sensational affair of Claire, Dinny's older sister, who returns to her home embittered by an unfortunate marriage to a sadist. Claire becomes involved in a scandal and is dragged through the courts.

The Forsytes are again present in this book; it has two of those "family dinner" pictures which Galsworthy does so well. We meet here a Fleur who is older and kinder than she was in the White Monkey—though she is still as beautiful.

One More River forms an almost ideal conclusion to the long Saga of the Forsytes, because it leaves them with their problems solved, and their lives all happily adjusted.

Nebraska University made its formal a "farmer's formal" and the lads and lasses even wore gingham and overalls.

The high winds that blew last week and the lengthening days brought back a flood of memories. Do you remember when you flew kites and were late for supper because of your inability to judge what time of day it was?

Mary Esther Wolf has one of the most distinct and fluent ways of conversing I have ever heard.

Hazel Towery has been holding out on Paul Pry—little did he know of her very polished ability as a speaker and a scholar.

Ruth Tweedy wore a black dress last Friday with much embroidery on it. Her blond hair completed the illusion of some Lady-Aristocrat of old Russia.

Do you remember the allusion to Lady Godiva in last week's column? That remark nearly cost me my health. A fellow came to see me and forcefully informed me he did not go with any girl by that name!

John Straub is a believer in Pry's column. He says it has the effect of a Lonesome Friend's column.

Bob Turner and Peg Hill left the cafe in great haste one day last week. "Chris cannot appreciate art," they said. Bob and Peg had been singing.

Lost: Two perfectly good seats at the St. Louis University game. Finder please advise Kennie Wenzel and Nip Huffman how to prevent future losses of this nature.

Harvey Creed—man of the booming laughter—tore out for Belleville last Friday at noon. We all know Creed never shaves while here at school. Can you believe that he went home to attend a very formal dance with his future wife?

Iola Whitlock, the premiere blues singer of S. I. T. C., is a Deacon's daughter. That follows nicely; the Boswell sisters are daughters of a preacher.

Thomas Prosser has no fear of the ordinary fraternity paddler. One "Brother," though, seems to wield a particularly revengeful paddle. Why do you, Brummet?

Barber shops haven't lost their glamor. Last week I sat listening to an old railroader tell tales of Carbondale's early railroad thrillers. Wild engines—wrecks—washouts, and all the courage that these things called forth thrilled the usual group of barbershop loafers.

Francis Belcher wanders about the campus with thoughts of sunny Florida, heavy on his mind. No longer may he be seen each evening at the Dixie Barbecue.

Harold Simpson, can you honestly explain your sudden interest in the field of radio research?

Notice the way Harry Cutler walks. It is but seldom a man betrays his profession in his walk. The rhythm in his step is very apparent—and, he is a drummer.

NO FRESHMAN EDITION

In spite of the strong endorsement the idea of a freshman edition of the Egyptian received in the opinion column last week, we are omitting the event this year. It has been customary, as all upperclassmen know, for the freshmen to write an entire issue of the paper and edit it sometime during the winter term, the objectives being to advertise the freshman class and to encourage talented students to join the regular staff. Our reasons for dropping the practice are logical enough—the freshmen are hardly sufficiently interested in it to do a very thorough job of advertising themselves. Almost every year the responsibility has fallen on the sponsor of the project and on the regular staff. In the second place, everyone on the English faculty is loaded with work this term and is hardly able to assume at this time more responsibility. And finally we have little evidence that the special edition attracts more writers for the paper.

We do want to encourage students, especially freshmen, who are at all interested in writing to compete for positions on the Egyptian staff. Now is a good time to join so that you will be considered in the final reorganization of the staff, midspring term. We invite you to our meetings during chapel hour on Wednesday.

DO GREAT MEN CHANGE?

Within a few days the assembled students of this college will commemorate the birth of one of our nation's most honored and best loved men.

Men become great because of beliefs they hold, the way they apply such beliefs toward the people's aid, and through the benefits that people reap from such a leader's help. Greatness, like a great jutting rock, may be eroded away by the shifting elements of changing opinions and ideas. The great men of one age may become objects of the scorn of another age. Historians can point out such instances.

The truly great have stood for certain fundamental wishes of the masses. The things men strive for age after age, were their beliefs. Their claim for being remembered was their sincere endeavor to help men.

Present day students seem to be more incredulous and skeptical than ever before. Some psychologists attribute their attitude to the disillusionments the past two decades have brought. War, readjustment, depressions, and the nervous unrest of the people—perhaps these are causes of cynicism and sharp questioning of our great men's motives.

There are certain fundamental attributes of greatness that will withstand all shifting ideas even as bed rock may lie secure beneath the countless layers of inferior shale and the shifting of hundreds of capricious cross currents of a stream.

True greatness cannot be wasted by an epidemic of cynicism which greets of man's smallness. Our truly great remain secure today.

WE MOVE

If there is one expression common to these parts that is worse than "I never done it" it is the inevitable "I make a motion." In our opinion, the last phrase indicates illiteracy as much as the first, for there is as little excuse for one as for the other. Through junior and senior high school, teachers and directors have hammered parliamentary law into us through clubs and classes, and here at college we have had the advantage of more parliamentary practice and drill in the numerous societies. Heaven knows we've been reminded not to say "I make a motion" as frequently as we have been told that "I done" is wrong. And yet we continue to make unmistakable nit-wits of ourselves by saying out loud, without the least embarrassment, "I make a motion."

In case you're wondering, the correct form is "I move."

Jo Zerwick doesn't like to be called "Blondie."

Al Homan is mentioned by some as the "funniest" boy in school. Billy Gangle and Joe Scob are also candidates for that title.

Henry Hitt was considered for membership by the Zetetic Society the other night. He's been a pillar of the Socrats, you know.

The coffee and doughnuts served to the English students by the English faculty Wednesday morning were excellent.

Dr. Tenney has the mumps. Doc Lingle is thinking of taking a Sunday School class of the high school girls at the Presbyterian Church.

The band is pretty egotistical—writing its encores on the board before it even knows it's going to be encored.

Sareta Biggs was going to pay Jack Cox a kiss for every basketball score he made, but he only made three scores.

That, Mildred Turner and Bud Logan like each other, but are too bashful to let anybody know it.

Sapient Advice to Silent Sufferers

Dear Sphinx:

Would you please give me some information? I am an attractive little Freshman of the athletic type, and would like so much to have a date with the most important "Big Shot" in the school. Everyone tells me that it would be the funny big Randall Boy who is in all the programs, but he seems so bold for me! If I have a chance with him, dear Sphinx, please tell me how, and if not, won't you please name the ones who rate second or third.

Yours truly
"Patsy"

Dear Patsy:

Dear Patsy, I don't think Pat Randall is your type at all at all. Besides, Pat is the type with whom everything else in the world comes before love. Like the man in the show the other night, he "has a spark of genius" (what it is no one has decided) and women will always be second to it.

Henry Hitt, perhaps, is second to Pat. He is a lot gentler and more understanding. I think you would find him amenable to your tastes. Of course, he is busy, and you might ex-

As Glenn Miller, Night Watchman, Sees the Campus

By JESSE WARREN

It was two o'clock one morning when just outside the Old Science Building I caught a glimpse of a shadowy form. As I stood there, gazing at the moon, which had just shown itself over the loftiest heights of the Main Building, a slowly moving form, a form almost invisible, moved toward me. It stopped. It moved on again apparently without having noticed the presence of a visitor. I could now see the figure distinctly. It was Mr. Glenn Miller, night watchman on our campus from eleven o'clock at night until three in the morning. With bowed head and hands thrust deeply into his pockets, he rounded the north-west corner of the Main Building. I followed, studying the figure before me. We walked on and on—he in front and I following lightly in his footsteps. Twice around the Main Building, to the Library, to the gymnasium, and up the driveway north of Anthony Hall he led me. For a full minute he stood looking at this building. A thought came to my mind, "He has a girl up there somewhere." Then he slowly moved on, still with bowed head and his hands in his pockets. As we came again to the south entrance of the Main Building, I became so interested in my subject that I quite forgot to walk lightly. Evidently I put a foot down too hard, for, whirling with the agility of a tiger, he turned and stood eyeing me as though I were a sheep-killing dog. "Hi, Glenn," I finally managed to say.

He recognized my voice at once and exclaimed, "You are the last person I expected to see here. Let's sit down."

We mounted to the top of the steps and sat down.

"Rather beautiful tonight," I said.

"Yeah," he replied. "It is beautiful tonight with that moon up there shining down on these tall and stately buildings. You know these buildings, especially the tower of the Old Science Building, just seem to stand here silhouetted against a sky with billions of staring faces. It makes a picturesque scene indeed. But then there is a dark side to it all. For instance, sometimes these lights go out, and then—boy oh boy! This is the darkest hole on earth. And lonely?—When the bats fly around the top of this building, they make a noise such as I never heard before. You should hear them shriek! Weird!—well, I just can't express it. Come up some dark night and see pect to work from now until the end of school before you succeeded in finding him free for an evening. But if you begin now, I think that you might find that he could make it to your sorority's spring formal—if the formal does not come before the middle of May.

Of course there are other "Big Shots." Harrison Eaton is no "small noise," but he has a girl. Curt Hill ranks well in some crowds—though I'd be careful there if I were you—he is not always quite sane. And among the freshmen, Robert Boyle is quite prominent. Of course he is still a freshman, but my dear, so are you—and think of the possibilities.

Yours truly,

Chapel Notes

Two light numbers from Henry Hadley's descriptive suite, "Silhouettes", graced the orchestral program of last week, the excerpts being entitled "French and American." The first of these is a slow dance in the olden style such as might have delighted the court of Louis XVI; the second is replete with syncopation and quaint twists of harmony, and is reminiscent in more than one place of the American popular song. Also on the week's program was the third part of Fletcher's rural suite "Woodland Pictures" entitled "Humoresque"—a fast and furious country dance winding up in a brilliant coda.

The band offered another unusually fine program on Tuesday, opening snappily with "Our Director" March and continuing in true concert style with "Saint-Saens's" symphonic poem "Phaeton", depicting the familiar story of Apollo's indomitable son. The clarinets performed their difficult part acceptably and the tonality of the brass was indeed excellent. Sousa's March "Northern Pines" completed the performance.

The MacDowell Club gave its third concert of the year Thursday morning offering a program as varied as it was interesting. The first number was Bach's chorale "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" from the cantata "Sleepers' Wake", which was given a sturdy, vigorous interpretation. The Scottish folk song "Ca' the Yowes" was presented in characteristic style, and the tenor solo was beautifully sung by John Albert Moore. Brown's pleasing lyric "God Touched the Rose" contrasted well with the two preceding numbers, while Brahms' "How Lovely is Thy Dwelling Place" from the "Requiem" with its rich coloring and finely woven contrapuntal passages was a suitable climax to a program well-planned and excellently sung.

for yourself. So far I have not been able to find a spot where those screams cannot reach me. I go to this place and to that place, but all in vain. They penetrate even the remotest places on the campus."

"Do you ever think of giving up your job?"

"No. I wouldn't mind it so much if I had not become accustomed to the campus as it is at day—full of boys and girls. But when I'm here all alone and those bats shriek and scream, cold chills creep over my spine, and the only way I can wear away this feeling is to walk and walk and walk!"

"Don't you ever have any visitors?" I asked.

"Sometimes the Astronomy classes come to the campus to study the stars. I study with them. Too bad that I'm not taking Astronomy. If I were, I'd surely have plenty of time to study the stars—being here four hours every night."

"Can't you find something to study about besides the stars—say, oh, about the girls?"

"Oh, yes! Surely! But I'm not talking about that now."

"What is the most vivid experience that you have had since you became night watchman?"

"That's easy," he said calmly. "Do you remember about the girl committing suicide by stepping in front of a train just east of the campus?"

"Yes."

"Well, I found the girl as I was going home. I guess that's about as vivid experience as one could have."

"No doubt," I replied as I rose to go.

I bade Mr. Miller "au revoir" and started home. When I reached the north gate, I looked back, and there stood our night watchman gazing after me as though I were the last living person he ever expected to see.

SOUTHERN UPSETS ST. LOUIS U. TEAM IN HECTIC CONTEST

BILLIKENS HAVE BEATEN THE BEST TEAMS IN THE MIDDLE WEST

The Carbondale Teachers won a thriller when they defeated the St. Louis University team 39-37 in an exciting game in the Carbondale gym last Thursday evening. Scheduling the contest last Wednesday after the Billiken-Milliken game had been cancelled, the St. Louis five came to Carbondale anticipating another victory. Defeating such teams as Washington University, University of Illinois, Arizona, Arkansas, and Missouri, the St. Louis Billikens have met some of the best teams in the Middle West. Losing two games prior to the Carbondale clash, the Billikens had one of the best records in the history of their college.

Paced by the brilliant work of Bob Cochran who tallied 16 points, the St. Louis aggregation staged a drive in the last half that nearly spelled defeat for the local lads. Trailing at the start of the second half 24-15, the Billikens started a rally that placed them six points in the lead 35-29. However, with five minutes to play, the Southerners got hot and won out 39-37.

Led by diminutive Lynn Holder, the Maroons jumped into an early lead which they held throughout the first half. At the end of the first period the score was 24-15.

Coming back strong in the second half, the St. Louis team dropped in seven points before the Maroons could get going. Holder and Gray added a charity toss each and the score was 26-22 in Carbondale's favor. Emery committed a foul and Cochran added a point. Davison, on a pass from Franks, tallied another field goal for the Maroons.

Dirksen, Cochran, and Arnez counted six points, and the St. Louis five took the lead for the first time. On a double foul, Cochran and Holder each made their free throw, and St. Louis still held a one point lead, 30-29.

A field goal by Arenz, and free tosses by Cochran and Flannigan further widened the Bills lead. Hall replaced Bricker at center, and with five minutes to play, the Southerners went wild. Holder tallied one field goal and Davison dropped in two to knot the score at 36-36. With two and a half minutes to play, Eugene Hall dropped in a field goal and a free throw to put the Macmen ahead 39-36.

Then came the exciting moment of the game. Hall fouled Flannigan, and the St. Louis center received two free throws. Dropping the first one through the net, he slung the next one hard against the backboard anticipating a recovery of the ball. The Maroons received the ball out of bounds as the gun ended the game.

Holder garnered ten points to lead the winners in scoring. He was closely followed by Davison and Gray.

Alumni Tie Robots For First Position In Bowling League

By defeating the Cramer Cats three straight games in the College Bowling League last Wednesday night, the Alumni team tied Abbott's Robots for first place honors. However, if tonight the Robots should win all three games from the Cats, they will break the tie and be the undisputed leaders of this second half of play.

John Gilbert lead his team of graduates to victory last Wednesday by bowling 607 for his three games. His score of 216 for one game was one of the best individual scores made this season. Zehr, a new man of the Alumni, distinguished himself by rolling 214 for one game. The Alumni rolled 948 in their second game with the Cats, this being the best game score made by a team in the second half of the league season.

GAMES WITH INDIANS AND ST. VIATOR HERE FOR COMING WEEK

ST. VIATOR ENCOUNTER TO BE PLAYED HERE TOMORROW

Meeting the St. Viator aggregation in a conference game here tomorrow night, and tackling the Cape Girardeau Indians in Cape next Tuesday evening, the Carbondale Teachers will face two very strong teams.

The game with St. Viator will mark the Maroons seventh conference game of the season. The Cape Indians are considered one of the best teams in the Missouri conference.

The Southerners defeated the Indians earlier in the season by a 32-24 score on the local hardwood. The Capeters present a fast, hard-fighting aggregation. They have defeated such teams as Warrensburg Teachers, Kirksville, Arkansas State, and lost a hard fought game to the Sugar Creeks.

The Cape team is centered around Owens, a big center who can hit baskets from any angle of the court. Mastellar, captain and star guard, is considered one of the best defensive men in the state of Missouri. Huber and Jones, who play at the forward positions, have proved to be a menace to any pair of guards in the 'Show-Me' state.

The St. Viator team will be a hard team to conquer. The Irish are noted for the way they defeat the strong teams in the conference. Their 1932-33 machine finished high in the Little Nineteen standings, and everyone knows that they will be out to set the Macmen back a notch.

Coach William McAndrew will have his full strength against these two teams. Holder and Davison, forwards; Captain Bricker, center; Emery and gray, guards, will constitute the starting lineup.

THE SPOTLIGHT By BILLY GANGLE

The Illinois Wesleyan quintette, minus the services of their stellar floor guard, Billy Couray, was nearly submerged by the Normal aggregation. The Bloomington lads rallied in the closing minutes of the game, and emerged with a 42-40 conquest under their hat.

Here's one for the sport fan to dope out. University of Illinois defeated Illinois Wesleyan. St. Louis University trounced U. of I., Washington U. lost to Wesleyan in an overtime game. Then Wesleyan hung one on Carbondale. St. Louis U. smeared Washington, and last Thursday night, Carbondale nosed out St. Louis. (No wonder Sport Editors go crazy!)

Among some of the athletes who motored to Carbondale Thursday night were Dwight Hafeli and Ray Hobbs, two Washington University all-around athletes. It was a shock to them to see the local lads triumph over the good St. Louis quintette.

Mike Nyikos, St. Louis coach, stated that Lynn Holder was the fastest man he ever saw on a basketball floor. (Oh, we knew that.)

"Lulu" alias Russell Emery took a dive into the lap of Dr. Young and Mr. Cox Friday night at the game. Mr. Cox got a big kick out of having a 175 pound college student tossed in his lap.

The Carbondale reserves pinned a 42-30 defeat upon the West Frankfort's Barneys last Tuesday evening. They are following in the foot-steps of their elders.

Reading comparative scores, the local lads should be the best team in four states. St. Louis has defeated the University of Illinois, and the cream of the crop of Missouri, Arizona, and Arkansas.

Five Teams Remain Undeclared in the Intramural League

Last week's play in the intramural basketball games failed to topple any of the five undefeated teams of the season. Three of the teams that are as yet undefeated are in the National League and two are in the American League. The Road Hogs and the Hammers are tied for first place in the American League, and the Eta Beta Pi, Morgan's Monkeys, and the Y. M. C. A. in the National League.

The scoring in last week's play was unusually heavy as shown by the individual scores.

Because of the St. Viator game which is to be played Thursday, the intramural games regularly played at that time will be played tonight.

The schedule for tonight sees one very important game listed. Two undefeated teams, Eta Beta Pi and Y. M. C. A. will clash.

The standing of the teams on Monday morning was as follows:

Lake Forest Plays First Conference Game This Week

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 7—Lake Forest, the only college in the Little Nineteen conference that has not yet played a league foe, joins the ranks of the 1934 title seekers this week when North Central is met Saturday. The Lake Forest quintet will face conference competition but twice this season, meeting North Central in two games.

The schedule of the week follows: Wednesday: McKendree at Illinois College.*

Thursday: Monmouth at Augustana*; St. Viator at Carbondale Teachers*; Wheaton at Armour Tech.

Friday: DeKalb Teachers at Macomb Teachers*; Illinois Wesleyan at State Normal*; Charleston Teachers at McKendree*; St. Viator at Shurtleff*; Knox at Coe (Cedar Rapids, Ia.)

Saturday: North Central at Lake Forest*; Charleston Teachers at Shurtleff*; Carthage at Monmouth*; Knox at Cornell (Mt. Vernon, Ia.); George Williams U. at Wheaton.

BEARCATS RECEIVE 54 TO 30 DEFEAT IN TILT WITH MAROONS

EMERY, GRAY AND DAVISON SMOTHER RALLY IN SECOND HALF

Driving for the leadership in the Little Nineteen Conference, the Carbondale Teachers walloped the McKendree Bearcats 54-30 last Wednesday evening at Lebanon and won their fourth conference game in five starts.

Taking early command of the contest, the Maroons were never in fear of losing their lead. A second half attack led by "Spike" Wilson, McKendree star forward, was smothered by the clever defensive work of Emery, Gray, and Davison.

Lynn Holder and James Gray led the Southern charges with ten points each. They were closely followed by Russell Emery who tallied four field goals. Wilson and Captain Stroh tallied 19 of the Bearcats thirty counters.

Playing on even terms at the start of the contest, the Maroons soon became accustomed to the small floor and scrambled to a 8-4 lead. Allowing the Waldorfmen two field goals in the next 10 minutes, the Macmen started shooting from every angle of the court. Russell Emery dropped in four two-pointers, Davison tallied three points, and with Holder's two field goals, the Maroons found themselves out in front with a 23-8 lead. Wilson and Moorman tallied two points each, and Fulkerson's two charity tosses closed the half with Carbondale out in front by a 25-14 score.

While Carbondale was tallying three points in the second period, McKendree opened up and staged their brief rally. Tallying six on the performance of Wilson. The Bearcats out the Maroons lead to 28-20. After subduing the uprising, the Maroons took full command of the battle, and were leading the McKendree five 44-27 when Coach McAndrew inserted his second string.

Coach Waldorf sent in his reserves, and the two aggregations went to it. The Maroons played an excellent game in the final minutes. Outscoring the Bearcats eleven points to three, the Southerners held a 54-30 advantage when the game ended.

The box score of the game is as fol-

MACMEN TROUNCE SHURTLEFF, THIRD CONSECUTIVE WIN

SECOND STRING SENT IN FOR FINAL HALF OF THE GAME

Playing their third game in as many days, the Carbondale Teachers triumphed over the Shurtleff Pioneers 31-22 last Friday night in the local gym. Winning their fifth conference game in six starts, the Maroons kept their third place tie in the Little Nineteen Conference.

Coach William McAndrew started his shock troops in the Pioneer battle. With Carbondale holding a 12-10 lead at the start of the second half, the first stringers were inserted into the game and scored 19 points to clinch the contest.

For the first five minutes of the game, the two teams fought on even terms. Veach tallied the first point for the Southerners when he registered a free throw after Broman had fouled him. Playing a careful, close guarding game, the Teachers managed to keep two points ahead of the Altonites throughout the first period.

The first team, upon entering the game, was cold and allowed the Woodsmen to climb within one point of tying the score 14-13. Campbell, Shurtleff forward, then dropped in a long shot to put his team ahead. Holder and Davison added four more points to the Macmen's score. The Maroons finally went on a scoring spree and tallied five points before Campbell could drop in another one of his long shots.

McClintock added two more baskets for Shurtleff, and then Holder dropped in two field goals to run the score to 29-20. Charity tosses by Holder and Davison ended the Southerners scoring. Captain Menzie scored the Pioneers' last basket, and the game ended 31-22.

Holder was the leading scorer for the victors, while Captain Menzie led his team in points garnered.

Wolfenbarger, who has led the American League in individual scoring, still maintains that lead with

Chi Delta Chi

Charles Denham, of Herrin, was formally admitted into the fraternity last Monday at the regular meeting. Mr. Denham was pledged last term.

Miss Esther Power and Miss Julia Jonah were entertained at dinner by the fraternity last Thursday evening.

Among the members who visited at the chapter house during the last week were: Harold Green and Ervin Krause, Christopher; Laverne Bishop and George Huggins, Anna, and Stanley Layman, Centralia.

Y.M.C.A. AND Y.W.C.A. HOLD
JOINT WORSHIP SERVICE

The Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. met together for a worship service last night. Alvin Hale and J. Oliver Carson were in charge of the Y.M.C.A. part of the meeting, while Lois Davidson led the discussion for the Y.W.C.A.

a considerable increase in points. Blackwood, whose sensational rise from nowhere to the top rungs of the scoring ladder in the American League last week was heartily applauded, is still near the top of that ladder. Hale who led the scoring in the National League last week with 32 points is now in fifth place, as the other scorers made heavy gains. Hale's team was idle last week. Supplanting Hale as the highest point man in the National League is North. Of unusual interest is the three-way tie between Parednis, E. Moore, and Springer, teammates, all of whom have 38 points.

Dear Co-eds:
As you well know, you can find me any Saturday fitting shoes at Zwicks. Fitting shoes is a pleasure, especially when one has a complete stock of shoes and when there are so many pretty girls to fit. We always have a complete line of shoes. Added to that, we are getting in New Spring Shoes every day. You know the rest—Why don't you come up some time.
