Rev. McCaw Here; To Act as Christian Foundation Head

By LORRAINE DITZLER
"Religion is living more abundantly," stated Rev. John Emory McCaw, who has just arrived in Carbondale to assume his work as director of the interdenominational Student Christian Foundation being set up at Southern. "In the first place, the church came out of the consciousness of religious people; and any person who has a concern about the down and out—the problems of people—is basically religious."
As director, Rev. McCaw will have a variety of duties, including the counseling of individual students who wish advice regarding religious or personal problems, supervising a program of religious, social, and general activities, teaching courses in religion, and helping to prepare students for voluntary social and religious work.

Purpose of Work
He stressed, in an interview yesterday, that his purpose here is to enable students to come to religion and to help them to regard college as a training in ability to give service to their fellow men throughout life. He plans to fit himself into the life of Southern Illinois by participating in some extra-curricular activities to assist in the education of future students, and especially of the campus here; his experiences in both rural and urban settings, and his work as director of the Inter-church Council of the University of Chicago, which he resigned to come here, have trained him in the ability to adapt to changing circumstances.

Piatigorsky will play on his famous Montagnana cello of the year 1739, which he affectionately calls "The Sleeping Princess."

125 FRESHMEN VOTE FOR STUDENT COUNCIL REPRESENTATIVES

Major Wilson was born and reared in Hurst and was living there when he joined the Army Air Corps at Parks Air College in East St. Louis in March of 1940. While a cadet at Southern, Jack was one of Coach Ling's outstanding pole vaulters and broad jumpers and was on the I. A. C. championship team of 1938. He was also on the Miss Lou Rose Sanders, also of Hurst, now a teacher in the Hurst city school.

The move to convert Southern Illinois Normal University into the University of Southern Illinois reached the legislature yesterday when six enabling bills were introduced in the Senate by Senator R. G. Crisenberry of Murphysboro and twelve co-sponsors.

Supporters of the U. S. I. proposal sought to introduce the measure as early in the new session as possible in order to hasten its consideration. However, it will be some time before the houses settle down to routine business, and therefore the date for beginning of debate on the bill is at present uncertain. According to Dr. Wm. L. Schneider, chairman of the U. S. I. committee at Southern, debate may begin in a month, perhaps later, perhaps earlier.

Many Hursties to Overcome
Meanwhile, the U. S. I. bill must make its way through the legislative mill. It was laid on the Senate secretary's table yesterday but is expected to be referred to the Senate education committee when the committee is named, not expected to be done until later in the month. Senator T. Mac Dowling, R. Macomb, was committee chairman in the last session.

Introduction of the measure yesterday followed a two-day visit to Springfield by President Pulliam and Dr. Schneider in company with two officers of the American Legion, Sherman Goff, Murphysboro, and B. A. Gorman, Puckeyville. Schneider described the two men as "two of the legendaries who have helped greatly to bring the U. S. I. bill favorably to the attention of the people of the state as a whole."

Senator Crisenberry, in introducing the bill said that it climaxed five years of preparation to provide the youth of Southern Illinois with adequate college training.

I. C. BASKETBALL TOURNEY OPENS TONIGHT

REPORTER ON THE RAMPAGE

By BOB EATON

American youth following this war will, in an enlightened manner, be concerned with building not brown but a physically healthy, energetic, and healthy. Athletics are continuing to broaden in this respect. Not so much are we, as a nation on whom rests perhaps the fate of peoples, looking to the day when we are all physically super men; more we hope to develop as well-rounded people, healthy in outlook, in ruling, and in faith.

Health—the work itself connotes much more than six glasses of water, twenty-five push-ups, or deep breathing before an opened window in the morning. Health is living to the fullest capacity for efficiency in thought, first action, second. Health is tolerance for the other man's right to achieve strength in mind and body and to employ that strength as a benefit in place of a detriment to society. Apollo torsoes frequently discover in a fashion most gratifying to the eye, yet in a manner underdeveloped in tolerance and other qualities on which a society of individual opportunity is based. Rippling muscles and ruddy glows alone do not make for healthy living; rather, they are necessary ingredients, induced by healthful living in the strictest sense.

Youth entering the service now will return man full of the responsibility of reshaping and rebuilding and improving. His lovely physique will assist him little in coping with social and governmental problems, but he must meet the perplexities with a clarity of vision unhampered by disease. Can the athlete who spent the class room for the pleasing glare of exhibition exercise?

SOUTHERN VANQUISHED IN VACATION ENCOUNTERS; CHARLESTON IS NEXT

Southern's fighting Maroons, after defeating Cape Girardeau two nights in succession, met defeat in her last two encounters over the Christmas vacation period.

Western Kentucky was highly superior to Southern and proved that their team is anxious to pick up where their team of last year left off. Hitting the basket consistently, the "mountaineers" began to outdistance their opponents after being held to a 20-16 half-time score. Southern led Kentucky at the free-throw line 10-5, but could muster only 10 field goals as compared to Kentucky's 26.

Millspaugh led Southern in scoring with 14 points.

MURRAY TEACHERS GAME
S. I. N. U. began its basketball campaign for 1943 by dropping a 53-21 game to Murray Teachers of Marion, Mo., Illinois, on January 1. The Murray quintet averaged 6.3 in height and were added by a small court. On defense Murray's height kept Southern shots away from the basket. The half-time score read Murray 32, Southern 20.

Captain John Sebastian dropped five baskets and a similar amount of free throws to lead the Maroons in scoring with 17 points. Pinks, range Murray forward, led his team with 20 markers.

CHARLESTON TONIGHT
Southern travels to Charleston tonight for their first conference game. Eastern Teachers will be their opponent. Northern Teachers of DeKalb will open their conference campaign with Western Teachers of Gatesburg on Saturday night. Old Normal doesn't play their first team game until next week.

Maroon Netsters To Open Conference Play Tonight With Charleston Panthers

By HAL BUTLER

Southern's netsters will journey to Charleston for their first conference test Friday night. The Panthers have a comparatively small team but with speed to burn. Their last two victims were Central Normal and Millikin, who invariably come up with a strong team. This is ample proof that the local quintet faces an up-hill climb in conference competition. The Charleston roster is studded with such stars as Bill Schiek from St. Elmo, the only Eastern starter to exceed six feet, Jim Sullivan from Charleston, Charles Beck from East Lynn, and two outstanding sophomores, Dick Lehn of Allenton, and Charles Vail of Casey, who have clinched the two forward berths.

Southern Lacks Experience
Coach William McAndrew is blessed with an abundance of good material, but which is woefully lacking in inter-collegiate experience. The four returning lettermen on the first five are slowly rounding into form, and the newcomers seem to be getting the feel of things. Southern dropped a decision over the holidays to an unusually strong Murray, Kentucky, quintet. However, this should cast no reflection upon the Maroons as Murray has been annihilating everything in their path.

I. C. Very Strong This Year
Members of the I. C. are all blessed with exceptionally fine teams this year. The Kappa will journey to Maroons to face a seven-man team of lettermen, who must at least two deep in good reserves. Maroons' probable starting five is Capt. Jim Clark, Wataker and Larry Reker. Points, guards, Ray Page, center from Lehigh, Bert Moore, Lake Forest, and Clarence Warren, Allenton. The probable starting five for the Kats are: Capt. George Gibson, Amos Jamerson, Frank Oliveira, Russ Calvey and Harry Heuman. Art Aden, sophomore from Orlan, is making a bid to be the hurt and it would be no surprise to be received the call to open the game. Old Normal won the basketball championship last year for the fourth successive year, and it is highly probable they will do an about face this year. All I. C. quintets are represented by teams which have winning records, or their loss, commencing December 11 ended in victories. Normal, De Kalb and Missouri carried unblemished records into the new year.

After maintaining a 700 average of two wins and two losses so far this season, the Maroons, with three returning starters, have the aspirations of their own. Millspaugh has shown a vast improvement over last season and Captain Sebastian along with Ed Moody are both playing their usual good brand of ball. Hunk

QUOTABLE QUOTES

By Associated Collegiate Press

"During this most critical period in our history, national unity is of utmost importance. For the purpose of winning the war and protecting our national interests, it is imperative that congress receive the respect and enjoy the confidence of the public to which it is justly entitled, and of which it is proving itself worthy." Dr. George S. Benson, President, Harding College, calls for a lessening of party criticism of congress.

"Often during these long do-nothing days and nights my mind wanders back to those familiar faces and places which have been stamping my mind by constant association. The college that stands like an anchor in a silent symphony of green, brown, and gold, the men who steer its course, the students who give it life—all a part of my life. It will never be the same, nor will I. This present

GYM TEAM PREPARING FOR MEET WITH INDIANA U. NEXT MONTH

Tentative Dates Set With Other "Big 9" Colleges

Coach Joe DiGiovanna is working his gym team into their best condition in preparation for the meets in the near future. One which is especially looked forward to is the meet with Indiana University which will be held at Carbondale on Feb. 13.

The University of Indiana presents a very good team each year and meets stern competition in the form of Big Nine opponents. Besides Indiana, tentative dates have been set for meets with Iowa Preflight, the University of Minnesota, and possibly the University of Illinois. Transportation difficulties may prevent all of these meets but everything will be done to complete the engagements. Meets with Pennsylvania State, Army, and Navy, originally included in Southern's plans, were definitely cancelled.

Workouts Held During Vacation
Workouts were held throughout the second week of the Christmas holidays and each member participated in his specialty. Four lettermen are back from last year's squad and around them a group of new candidates are being groomed. Captain Linn Duncan and assistant captain, heads the team. Others are Milton Blackwell, all around gymnast, Carroll Cyde on the horse, and Jack Thies, tumbling. Experienced members of last year's team who are counted on heavily this year are Robert Webb on the trapeze.

Jack Rose on the parallel bars, and also tumbling, Wayne Childers, Kip Don Dilow, and Jerry Gates on the pommel, and Peter Maki on the high bar.

A group of freshmen prospects is developing and may prove valuable in this year's squad. Gene Beasley and Gene Beatty are developing into all around gymnasts, and Bill Beck, an all around gymnast along with Don Jenkins on the high bar comprise this group.

Other than the date for the Indiana meet no news can be given as to when other meets will be held and with whom, but a schedule is being worked upon.

BOOKS IN REVIEW

By DELBERT W. HAMILTON

THE BEST OF 1942
After checking over a list of the hundred odd 1942 books that we've read in the past year, we have selected ten which stand out from the rest. Their order of listing is of no importance:

A NEW DICTIONARY OF QUOTATIONS—H. L. Mencken presents a monster collection of quotations that makes Bartlett look like a pocketbook. The new dictionary lacks a good reference index, but as a book for browsing, it's tops. And it has that Mencken flavor.

FORWARD THE NATION—Donald Critchess Peattie, the naturalist-historian, writes a beautiful and skillful story of the Lewis and Clark expedition.

DIALOGUE WITH DEATH—The Spanish prison diary of Arthur Koestler. Powerful and moving. If anyone of the forties is turning out literature with a capital "L", we think it is Koestler.

VAN LOON'S LIVES—The inevitable Hendrik Willem Van Loon invites Erasmus, Shakespeare, Washington, Chopin, Dante, Plato, Jefferson, Voltaire and a score of other great people of history to dinner. Quaint and humorous—it's Van Loon at his best.

THE UNVANQUISHED—Howard Post's humpy portrayal of George Washington. The finest writing on Washington in fiction, and soon to be a play.

MY WORLD—AND WELCOME TO IT—The latest collection of James Thurber humor. Not Thurber at his best, but still better than any other American wit.

LOOK TO THE MOUNTAIN—Temple colonial romance of New Hampshire pioneers. The best novel of the year and the best historical novel in a long, long time. By LeGrand Crockett, Jr.

TACEY CROWELL—A short novel of life in the Southwest, as only Conrad Richter could write it. Brilliant characterization.

THE PRIVATE READER—The miscellaneous reviews and essays of Mark Van Doren makes the best critical work of the year.

GENTLEMAN RANKER—Historical adventure at its best in this rousing tale of Braddock's expedition. John Jennings is the author.

There are many others almost as deserving as these books and, of course, there are several hundred volumes that we didn't get a look at. Of the war books, these are best: Cecil Brown's "Suez to Singapore"; Wallace Deuel's "People Under Hitler"; Antoine de Saint-Exupery's "Flight to Arras"; Marcus Child's "I Write From Washington"; and "The Making of Tomorrow" by Raoul de Roussy de Sales, who died recently. Honorable mention should also go to the following which we like: "Kings and Despotic Men" by Louis Kronenberger; "Orange Seed" by Pearl Buck; "American in Search of a Way" by Walter Morris; "See Here, Private Hargrove"; by Cora Matton Hargrove; "The Destiny of Western Man" by W. T. Stiles; "Young Ames" by Walter D. Eds; "Gentle Annie" by MacKinlay Kantor; "Assignment in Brittany" by Helen MacInnes; and "A Witness Tree" by Robert Frost.

GOT THE RATIONING BLUES. Rola, Britain's "back yard" lion, raised from a cub in a Pinner, Middlesex, family's back yard, seems none too pleased of having been transferred to the London zoo due to rationing problems. Mrs. G. Thompson, who raised Rola, visits him at his new home.

THIS COLLEGIATE WORLD

"Station WCOO is on the air!"
Girls at Western college, Oxford, Ohio, stop their chattering and listen when they hear this call line. Broadcasting "without reason and with uncertain frequency," the new "station" entertains with news flashes, fashion notes, campus gossip, important announcements, advertisements for a formal dance or a lost book.
The broadcasts are part of the regular work of a new course in radio speech offered at Western this year. Broadcasting equipment in the form of a public address system has been set up in Peabody hall with the loudspeaker located in the college dining room. A popular weekly feature is dinner music on Saturday evenings—an all-night program.
The first broadcast came as a surprise to the college. The class installed its equipment and wrote and rehearsed its program without the college community suspecting a thing.

STUDENTS IN ALL FIELDS SOUGHT FOR ON-JOB ENGINEER TRAINING IN FEDERAL CAREER SERVICE

College trained persons are sought for on-the-job training in engineering in the Federal service, the U. S. Civil Service Commission announces. Graduates and senior students majoring in any field are urged to make themselves available for engineering activity which may lead to an attractive career. Women particularly are sought.

Positions are as junior engineer. The entrance salary is $2,000 a year, not including payment for authorized overtime, which under certain conditions may amount to as much as 20% of the yearly salary. For those who have had previous training in engineering, a war training course has been specially planned, covering the fundamentals of junior engineers work in a Federal agency.

Applications may be made to the U. S. Civil Service Commission by graduates or senior students in any field providing they enroll in the special ESJMT course, "Engineering Fundamentals, Junior Engineer-Supplemental". Engineering senior students or graduates may qualify without further training, as may also graduates or senior students in astronomy, chemistry, geology, physics, mathematics, and engineering sciences who can show six semester-hours in strictly engineering subjects. In lieu of these six semester-hours in engineering subjects, the completion of any ESJMT course in geology may be accepted.

Engineering, Science and Management War Training courses are authorized, sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education, offered at about 200 colleges throughout the country.

Graduates or senior students in any field in the engineering field in the Federal service because of the induction of Federal employees into the armed forces and the growth of engineering problems in the conduct of war. Besides offering a certain amount of prestige, the work is performed in Federal agencies throughout the country under conditions that are pleasant and attractive. Opportunity for advancement in engineering in the Federal service is good, depending upon the abilities of the individual.

Senior college students and persons enrolled in ESJMT courses in engineering, who are otherwise qualified to do so, are urged to apply to the college. The class installed its equipment and wrote and rehearsed its program without the college community suspecting a thing.
