What's Up With the Staff

Thomas Paine's quotation, "These are the times that try men's souls," may easily be adapted to express the feelings of the new Egyptian editors as we face the new problems and responsibilities which go hand in hand with campus newspaper work.

Right now, we will not give an extensive, hour-long lecture outlining an entire system of reforms, but we thought this would be the best time to take a minute to establish a few general principles which we hope to follow during the next few terms.

As for suggestions, we will spread out the welcome mat for ideas and criticisms from either students or faculty mem-There is a Letters to the Editor box in the crosshalls bers. of Old Main where the Egyptian is distributed. We will reserve the right to select the letters to be published, but before they can be printed they must be signed. However, we will not print the signatures if we are requested not to do so.

WE PLAN TO CONTINUE the "Pin-up of the Week" feature in the Egyptian in each Friday's edition in an attempt to get new names and faces to appear in the columns of the paper. Also, in each Tuesday's edition, we plan to continue the "You Name It" series of pictures to give variety in entertainment features. We will also try to include more humor in the paper. A special April Fool edition is planned which, according to tradition, will be called the Naitpyge.

As to what and how much news we will print, we will determine the worth of a certain news item according to its timeliness and according to how many students it affects. We will try to give accurate and quick coverage of news, but we cannot promise that we will not make mistakes (try as we will to avoid them), for we are not as gifted as the mind reader who "knows all, sees all, and hears all." B.V.B.

Lest You Forget

Since a new page has been turned in the history of the the Egyptian in that the paper has a staff of new faces to manage its affairs, we, the editors, thought it might be a good idea to inform the student body as to exactly when it is that we need material in order for it to appear in a certain issue of the Egyptian.

Many students, organizations, and offices have met with a great deal of confusion concerning deadlines. Many times stories have not appeared in the Egyptian merely because they were not received on time, and because of their time limit Rink. Admission is 45 cents and could not be printed at a later date.

IN AN ATTEMPT to satisfy the curiosity of campus groups and individuals who often wonder how to get something printed in the Egyptian we have listed the deadlines for articles and announcements as follows: for Tuesday's issue of the Egyptian-long articles or feature stories, 4 p.m. Thursday: general news and announcements, 1 p.m. Friday. Friday's issue--organization news, 3 p.m. Tuesday; general news and announcements, 1 p.m. Wednesday.

Society news, that is news from sororities, fraternities, and organized houses, will be printed on Fridays beginning next week. Thus the news should be turned in by 3 p.m. on Tuesdays.

Since we of the Egyptian staff have a legal contract with the printing office, we are limited as to the amount of material we can have set up in type at any one time.

Information to be printed in the Egyptian may be left in the wire baskets designated for that purpose which are located on the counter in the outer Egyptian office. Egyptian office is located on the second floor of the journalism building on the corner of Harwood and Thompson streets.

Of course, in unusual or urgent cases, material may be accepted for print at later dates if it is discussed with the editors ahead of time and special provisions are-made.-B.V.B.
