WHISTLING IN THE DARK, BROADWAY HIT HERE MONDAY

A.A.U.W. SPONSORS POPULAR BROADWAY MYSTERY COMEDY

The facetious nickname "The Tooth Paste Murder" has been well applied to the comedy, "Whistling in the Dark," which will be presented under the auspices of the American Association of University Women in Shryock Auditorium at 8 o'clock Monday evening.

"Whistling in the Dark" is a hilarious three-act melodrama with crime and humor mingling in an amusing and entertaining plot. The play, written by Lawrence Gross and Charles Carpenter, had a run of 274 performances in New York City, where it was acclaimed as the best mystery play in a generation.

The play concerns itself with a popular writer of crime novels, who inadvertently stumbles into a gangster hideaway. As a result of the combination of liquor and a loose tongue, he becomes involved in a promise to murder, the police commissioner.

His method of double-crossing his gangster hosts and still escaping from his guards provides a thrilling climax to the fast-moving action throughout the play.

The leading role, that of the gangster chief, will be played by Harry Minturn, Broadway feature player. Mr. Minturn has played such parts as Marjorie Anglin and Marjorie Rambeau in recent Broadway hits.

Supporting Cast includes Broadway Favorites

Robert Pollard, brilliant young leading man, plays the part of Wallace Porter, the clever mystery dramatist. Miss Gullynn Hickman, charming leading lady, has the part of Porter's very humorous and quick-witted fiancée. Don Carlos and several other noted Broadway characters will be in the cast.

As a special matinee attraction, the Playhouse League is presenting Miss Lucille Elmore in a musical review. With only an accompaniment, David Hatley, to assist her, she presents a one and a quarter hour of singing, dancing, and playing which has captivated audiences both in the United States and in Canada.

Miss Elmore is a niece of Fred Stone, famous dancer and actor, and was a featured performer in the musical revue, "Stepping Stones."

The matinee performance will begin at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon with an admission charge of 25 cents for students and 40 cents for all others. The evening performance will be 35 cents for students and 50 cents for all others.

Southern Faculty Members to Attend State Science Meet

Three members of the S. I. T. C. faculty will serve as chairman of sectional meetings at the annual session of the Academy of Science, to be held in Bloomington Friday and Saturday. Flemin W. Cox of the Geography department will head the geography group; Dr. Ernie Merwin, Supervisor of Student Teaching, is chairman of the Anthropology section; and Dr. W. M. Bailey, head of the Botany department, will lead the Botany meeting.

Dr. Merwin will also give an address to the anthropology group. Emerson Hall, Rural Supervisor, is scheduled to talk to the geography meeting.

Others of the Southern Faculty attending the Academy gathering will be S. E. Boomer, Miss Annemarie E. Krause, Miss Mary Goddard, Dr. O. B. Young, Dr. T. W. Abbott, and Dr. J. W. Neckers.

Zetetic Play Cast Chosen Last Week Includes 11 Actors

The cast of the Zetetic society's spring play, "Holiday," by Phillip Barry was selected at tryouts in Zetetic hall, Tuesday, April 23. The play will be given Wednesday night, June 5 in the Auditorium.

The cast includes:

Johnny Cassel..... Frank Samuel
Edward Seton..... Edward Mitchell
Ned Seton..... Everett Mitchell
Sison Crain..... Arnold Thomas
Nick Dotter..... Wesley Bovinet
Henry..... Stanley Layman
Ludra Seton..... Anna Lee Moore
Julia Seton..... Martha Howells
Laura Crain..... Marjorie Brown
Susan Potter, Elizabeth Anne West
Della..... Georgina Lockie

Although the cast is composed largely of underclassmen, it includes some of the most experienced trouper on the campus.

Frank Samuel is a freshman who appeared in the "Three Corned Moon" and "Tune In."

Edward Mitchell, a sophomore, has been in "The Importance of Being Earnest," and Everett Mitchell has appeared in "Arms and the Man" and "Three Corned Moon."

Stanley Layman had a leading part in "All at Sea" given two years ago. Anna Lee Moore, a sophomore, gained honors in "Tune In." Martha Howells is taking part in her first major S. I. T. C. play.

Marjorie Brown, senior, had roles in "Arms and the Man" and "The Swan." Elizabeth Anne West, also a senior, has taken part in "Arms and the Man," "The Swan," and "Three Corned Moon."

Georgina Lockie, a freshman, is making her first appearance on the collegiate stage.

The cast is now working on the first of the three acts of the play.

Seniors to Present Shryock Memorial Plaque to School

The committee appointed by the senior class to investigate the designing and cost of a bronze plaque memorial to the late President H. W. Shryock has announced that the plaque will be here for dedication before the end of the year.

The location of this plaque has as yet been undetermined, but in all probability it will be placed just above the door of the president's office.

The business officer, Edward V. Miles, Jr., in particular, has consented to write various companies for bids on the making of the plaque, and among other places to be investigated is the state penitentiary at Chester where bronze work is done.

The committee appointed to investigate this matter, consisting of Dr. Mary Skowalek, Frances Noel, Carl Kiefer, Robert Reeves, and Lorenz Mayor, is consulting the late president's son, Burnett Shryock, prominent Chicago artist, and T. S. Thompson of Carbondale about the designing of the plaque.

AGRICULTURE STUDENTS ATTEND ANNUAL RURAL YOUTH CONFERENCE

Professor R. E. Muckelroy and twenty-three students from the S. I. T. C. Agricultural Department attended the Rural Youth Conference held at the University of Illinois, Saturday, April 27. The conference was the second annual one sponsored by the Agricultural department of the University of Illinois.

Revivified S.I.T.C. Alumni Will Hold Banquet June 6

The Alumni Association has set Thursday, June 6, as the date for its first banquet. It is to be held in Anthony Hall at 5:30 o'clock. All seniors and alumni of S. I. T. C. are invited to be present.

Election of officers will be the chief business. It will also be decided whether to have the following banquets at Homecoming or Commencement time. The program will consist of short speeches and several musical selections.

The old Alumni committee, of which Frank Bridges, Carbondale, is president held a meeting with Frances Noel, chairman of the new association, last night. They made further plans for the banquet and drew up a list of representatives of the various classes who will inform the members of their respective classes of the banquet arrangements. Mr. Bridges will not be able to attend because he is to enroll in summer school at the University of Iowa.

The class of 1905, which holds class reunions every five years, will probably be well represented. It is planned to have one of their members make one of the addresses.

The banquet will be arranged so that those present will be able to attend the Zetetic play, "Holiday."

Mu Tau Phi Honorary Fraternity Holds Initiation for Ten

Robert Turner, Vernon Crane, Lloyd Doty, Walton Blake, Jasper Cross, Frank Samuel, Pauline Jane Scott, Georgina Lockie, Pauline Fisher, and Ernest Brashers, were formally initiated into Mu Tau Phi, honorary S. I. T. C. journalistic fraternity last Friday evening after serving a probation term of four weeks. Following the initiation held at the home of Frances Noel, president of Mu Tau Phi, the members and sponsors adjourned for refreshments and entertainment.

Alumni members of the fraternity present were Margaret Hill and Aubrey Land.

NOTED EDUCATOR UPHOLDS AMERICAN LITERATURE IN CAMPUS ADDRESS

By Virginia Spiller

Mr. Edgar C. Taylor spoke of the subject of modern literature at a party given by Miss Frances Barbour, Miss Esther Power, and Miss Madeline Smith at Anthony Hall last Saturday night. Mr. Taylor is an Oxford graduate and at present, president of the Taylor Preparatory School for Boys in St. Louis.

American literature was the central topic of the discussion, although European writers and literature were frequently referred to by way of comparison or contrast. Mr. Taylor believes that art suffers in time of prosperity; hence we gain something from the depression.

"I believe in the efficacy of literature," said Mr. Taylor. "It conveys to others better than any other medium what is going on in the world of affairs. In spite of the feeling of hopelessness in the air at present, it may bring about a social change of great value. This is particularly true of literature."

"For the first time," he stated, "we have our own literature, which is American and nothing else. Longfellow and Hawthorne weren't Americans really; they were laboring under European tradition.

Creating New Literature

"We are creating new literature. That which is at our very door is exciting—freightyards, slaughter houses, the trucking of the co-operative—Whitman skirted it but the movement is only now reaching fruition. It was a conscious effort on his part but is quite natural to the others. Not all around us is worthwhile, and so we have

MID-SPRING TERM ENROLLMENT LIST AT 185 MONDAY

LATER RETURNS EXPECTED TO SWELL TOTAL; MANY NEW STUDENTS TEACHERS

Mid-spring term enrollment for this year began Monday, and will continue throughout the week. By the close of the first day the enrollment had reached one hundred eighty-five and it is expected to increase within the next few days. By Monday evening the registration by classes was approximately as follows: 22 freshmen, 65 sophomores, 75 juniors, and 25 seniors. This number swells the college enrollment from 1851, as it stood March 21, to 1836 now. Spring term figures showed a loss of 100 from the winter term; but a gain of 61 over the 1934 spring term. The 1934 mid-spring enrollment was 235 and that of the preceding year, 282. It is too early yet to see if this year's total will surpass the former figures.

The personnel of the mid-spring registration is composed largely of undergraduate teachers whose schools have closed, and rural practice students whose work lasted only the first six weeks. Thus freshman enrollment is small as compared to that of the sophomore and junior figures.

The thirty-four opening classes in twelve departments are offering a wide variety of courses in history, English, education, art, agriculture, geology, French household arts, zoology, chemistry, physics, and astronomy.

Classes meet twice a day and are taught by members of the regular college faculty and by rural application. Students register for two courses to be taken for six weeks with full credit in each.

Of the five teachers colleges in the state, only the Western Illinois State Teachers College at Macomb offers the mid-term courses at the Southern Teachers College does.

State Legislature Committee Visits Southern Campus

A joint commission of three members from the Illinois State Legislature visited the S. I. T. C. campus last Friday as a part of the investigatory program for the direction and maintenance of state-supported institutions.

Upon arriving at the campus Representative Joseph H. Davis, Representative E. E. Sturdy, and Senator T. V. Smith were ushered into chapel, where each addressed the student body.

As Representative Davis expressed it, "We are going to carry back to the legislature your needs and wants, and we're not going to let them forget that the Carbondale State Normal University is the best in this part of the state."

Representative Davis described a joint bill before the legislature pertinent to the management and maintenance of S. I. T. C., which he, with the cooperation of President Shryock and others, had defeated to the interest and benefit of this institution.

Representative Sturdy, who was the next to speak, had little to say other than that he had chafured the committee here and would leave the talking to Representative Davis and Senator Smith.

The last member of the commission to address the students was Senator Smith, of the fifth senatorial district. Grave, forcible, successful, he soon established himself as a fluent and able speaker. He stressed the fact that intellectual workers are not regarded enough, and spoke comprehensively and sincerely on education.

"Education," he said, "is the cultivation of finer human hungers."

Each member of the committee expressed his gratitude for the opportunity to visit and address the student body and each extended his sympathy to the members and friends of the college because of the loss of President Shryock.

Further tribute to the late president was paid by J. D. Dill, local representative on the Normal board.

Rehearsals Begun On Annual Socratic Spring Production

The cast for "A Murder Has Been Arranged," directed by Miss Julia Joach, swung into rehearsal last week.

The play is based on the St. James' Theatre legend that a murderer followed by the death of a dumb girl and appearance of the man's ghost would be re-enacted every 95 years. Sir Charles Jasper is giving a dinner on the stage of the theatre for the members of his family, in observance of this weird anniversary. When the clock strikes 11, Sir Charles is to inherit two million pounds. In the case of Sir Charles' death, Maurice Mullins, his only heir, relative is to inherit the fortune. When Maurice Mullins enters, then and there things start to happen.

The casting judges decided that Paul Reeder would take the part of Cavendish which was not filled at the tryouts.

KAPPA PHI KAPPA ENJOYS BANQUET AT GIANT CITY STATE PARK

Last Thursday evening twenty-five members of Kappa Phi Kappa went down to Giant City state park for a picnic. The evening was spent in games and sports. After dinner the crowd joined in telling stories and singing. The following were guests: David McIntosh, David Woodruff, Oscar Schnicker, Harold Davidson and Herman Bretch.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE PRESS DELEGATES HERE THIS WEEK

MANY STATE PUBLICATIONS TO SEND REPRESENTATIVES TO ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Students from many of the twenty-five member colleges of the Illinois College Press Association will attend the thirteenth annual Association conference to be held on the campus Friday and Saturday. The largest delegation will probably be from Charleston, which may send as many as seventeen to the convention.

This is the second time the conference has been held at S. I. T. C., a previous meeting having been held here in 1925.

Frances Noel, retiring editor of the Egyptian and president of the I. C. P. A., has charge of the conference arrangements, while Harrison Eaton, retiring Egyptian business manager, is serving as secretary of the state press group.

Registration will be on the first floor of the Chemistry building from 7:30 until 8:45 o'clock Friday morning. Those who arrive early may register Thursday afternoon from 3:50 until 5 o'clock. A registration fee will be $2.50 for each representative.

Dean G. D. Wham will give the welcome address at the general session Friday morning. A convention committee and a committee on resolutions will be appointed and general announcement of plans for the session will be made.

New Sessions Plans This Year

The special sessions this year are to be handled in a new manner. Formerly there were three special divisions—the general editorial staff, the business staff, and the advisors. This year the editorial staff will be split into four sections, news, features and columns, editorials, and sports. In each of these divisions there will be a discussion leader and a presiding officer. The discussion leaders are from this college while the presiding officers are from the ranks of the visiting journalists.

Vernon Crane, editor of the Egyptian will be discussion leader for the news section and Alexander Summers, editor of Teachers College News at Charleston, will be the presiding officer. Elizabeth Ann West, retiring associate editor of the Egyptian, will be the discussion leader for the features and columns section and Max Bass from Bradley Tech at Peoria will preside. Miss Noel, assisted by Marjorie Brown will lead the discussion for the editorial section. Kenneth Corcoran, editor of the St. Victor paper will be the presiding officer. Jasper Cross, associate editor of the Egyptian, assisted by Marvin Lawson, sports editor, will head

Organizations Will Honor Outstanding Student Members

Following the recent decision of the Student Council to discontinue the awarding of letters for activities and acting upon the suggestion that organizations make their own awards, the Socratic and Zetetic literary societies and the Debate club have decided upon methods for honoring their active members.

The Socratic society is planning to offer two small gold pins to the two Socrats rated the most active during the college year.

The Zetets have elected to place on an honor roll the names of the three presidents, three secretaries, business manager, and any other three active members chosen by the society. The honor roll is to hang in the Zetetic hall.

The award of honorary standing was also adopted by the Debate club to take the place of the former honor roll. As yet the qualifications for the award and the number to be chosen have not been decided.

A DECLARATION OF POLICY

We hope that this paper, the first Egyptian under the new editorial and business administrations, continues to a large extent the principles and services established and maintained by the retiring staff. If we can follow our immediate predecessors in putting out a campus newspaper of sane, fearless policy and of adequate news coverage, we shall feel that we have accomplished much.

It follows rather naturally, then, that we should, in declaring our intentions for the coming year, include among the specific projects those causes for which the past Egyptian staff campaigned and which are not yet completed. This would embrace the espousal of an active, cohesive S. I. T. C. alumni association, and the urging for a new curtain in the Auditorium, a new scoreboard for the athletic field, bright new maroon-colored band uniforms, and a satisfactory and convenient system of taking reserve books out of the library for short periods during the day.

Other advancements and ideas first broached by the 1934-35 staff and which we intend to press to a reasonable conclusion include: a system of amplification in Shryock Auditorium, a fairer rule regarding student removal from rooming houses, courteous treatment of guest speakers and entertainers and campus visitors, and the eradication of petty thievery, especially in the gymnasium. Then, too, there are the questions of the entertainment series continuation next season, the culmination of the new stadium, recreation hall, and natatorium building projects, and the maintenance of a healthy balance between intramural and varsity sports. In all these instances, we favor a progressive, expanding policy.

In addition, we would like to present some new suggestions of our own for improvements and advancement. We would like to see the ultimate granting of varsity awards to tennis players, the improvement of the tennis facilities of S. I. T. C., and the inauguration of comfortable chapel ventilation during assembly hour. Also we advocate a comprehensive and diversified all-school entertainment movement, which would provide for weekly dances, card parties, or get-togethers with the entire student body invited and urged to attend. We also favor increased Little Theatre activity, and we pledge this column to wholehearted support of that group or kindred literary and artistic organizations. Furthermore, we suggest that the library force begin a permanent file of prominent newspapers, such as the New York Times, or St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Such a file would soon be invaluable.

Primarily the incoming Egyptian staff wishes to serve the S. I. T. C. students and faculty. We intend to put out a non-partisan news sheet, covering and presenting the news as capably and fairly as possible.

Our chief interest is S. I. T. C., its student body, and its activities. We don't mean to encourage an ingrown college egoism, but rather to aid Southern and her students in accomplishing something worthwhile, as an institution and as individuals.

In our interpretative aspects, we shall strive to accurately represent the trend of student thought and opinion. There will be times when we will attempt to mold student opinion—always for what we sincerely believe to be to the best interests of the students and college. It shall also be our special pleasure to carry such reports of, and comments on, news of national and international scope, as we believe will interest our readers.

Realizing that we are supported mainly by the good will and cooperation of the college administration and student body, we want to repay the obligation by faithful service and friendly aid.

With your cooperation, then, we will sincerely try to justify the above doctrines, to carry out the above declarations, and to fulfill the above pledges.

WELCOME, VISITING JOURNALISTS

Friday, S. I. T. C. will be host to the annual Illinois Collegiate Press Association conference. Many delegates from college news publications of the state of Illinois will visit our campus.

It is our pleasure to act as host to the visitors. We heartily welcome them in behalf of the Egyptian and the college. Our services are extended to the several delegations with the sincere wish that their conference here may be pleasant and instructive.

STALKING THEIR PREY

We are extremely fortunate in securing this photo of Buck Franks and that old Choiserer smoothie on the trail of game in Eldorado week before last. The photograph shows the famous hunters in action with their divining rods leveled and their whole bodies tensed and ready for action. The amirers of these Apollos would probably be pleased to know that the boys did all right and grabbed off a couple of corn-fed fassies answering to the names of Hazel Anderson and Genevieve Lomaster. A good time was had by several and the girls said later that they were simply thrilled to death—by Buck.

The Humane Society of the Carnegie foundation or something should hear of the deeds of valor performed by Juanita Skaggs, Edith Depper, and Frances Block the other morning... these interpet girls, ladies and gentlemen, sallied forth in the frosty dawn clad only in pajamas, with no shoes to protect their dainty feet, and alone and unaided, rescued three calves and a cow from the roaring inferno of MacMillan's burning barn.

Pat Elliott and Virginia Bradshaw are terribly ashamed of something—it may be each other for all I know.

I guess the president of the freshman class isn't quite the man he's cracked up to be... first he tried to take Vivian Knight away from her steady and struck out. Then just as he was getting some place with Genevieve Douglas (he thought) along comes Eagleback Hemmer, pride and joy of the K. D. A.'s, and cuts him plumb out... tsak, tsak, to say the least!

A dark young man of Italian extraction known as Pete has appeared on the campus and is fast bringing new joy to hearts of several of the town girls... speaking of Men About Town, folks, here we have one.

Katherine Hantington and H. J. Gunn did all right by themselves Wednesday night... at least, they should have—they picked up a cold salesman.

Dicky Baggott is being seen with the gay divorcee—Nada Seright, none other—Baggott says, "Of course, I'm not trying to date her steady or anything, but I think I'm going to be OK."

I've wondered a good deal about what happened to Mad Monk Paradis and his romance with the belle of Agony Hall... I think I know now—I wish I could tell you what they are yelling at each other about, by Old Main about 8:20 Wednesday night.

I dressed MY Thoughts in garb so gay, And sent them out to walk one day... Sent them out with smiling faces Quite far away into all places Where men would see them and admire My earnest Thoughts and MY Desire. —Cassanova.

27 Attend Annual Egyptian Banquet

Twenty-seven members of the Egyptian staff, the sponsors, Dr. R. L. Beyer, Miss Esther Power, and Dr. T. A. Abbott, and guest, Dean G. D. Wham attended the Egyptian banquet at the Kater Inn in Du Quoin last Wednesday evening. The annual affair marked the end of a successful year for the 1934-35 editor, Frances Noel, and business manager, Harrison Eaton, who were presented with gifts from the Egyptian staff. Vernon Crane and Robert Turner were welcomed by the staff as the new 1935-36 editor and business manager.

TEN YEARS AGO AT S. I. T. C.

Carbondale won its first baseball game of the year from Carterville, 1-0, on a single by Hartley in the last half of the ninth.

The Delphic Literary club of Marion high school visited the Zeta and Socratic literary societies here. The Delphic society was sponsored by Mr. Richard Browne, a former Zeta and the son of Professor W. W. Browne.

The spring play was changed from Tarkington's "The Intimate Strangers," to "The Whole Town's Talking," because there were no boys who could take the roles in the play first selected.

The track team worked out on the high school track for its coming meet with Ewing College. This was the first meet in several years. History repeats itself.

This item appeared in the "Wee Wunder" column. What has become of the flag pole?

It, might check on that new wedding ring that Mike Lenich is wearing these days.

Mary Lou and the gals at Anthony Hall are getting an entirely new slant on worldly affairs from a little red book of the said Mary Lou's.

The girls at one of the houses on Normal have an interesting new gadget worked out. It consists of a cow bell and a dangling rope... you should guess what it's for... some landladies, you know, are mean enough to lock doors...

Herman Bretch is carrying a bruised lip that he blames on a baseball, but maybe she just had protruding teeth.

George "Love Lifted Me" Moseley arrived in town last week. He expressed his surprise and disappointment at the fact that there was no welcoming brass band... someone suggested that if Moseley had a hand he could supply his own brass... anyway, this fair-haired lad called Bernadine Chrissner and said, "I'll be calling you suddenly for dates, and when I do, even if you have a date, I want you to go with me." Whataman, eh, hee? So Bernadine snaps back with, "Nuts to you, George, my friend!" Poor little George registers dismay and makes inquiries as follows: "Why Bernadine, that sounds like you don't love me any more..." Says Bernadine, very blithely, "How in the world did you ever guess it?" Hah, hah, hah...

There was the darndest look of contempt on Jean Rose Pelt's face when she clambered out of Stan Layman's High Puss Friday afternoon... and speaking of her face, was it red!

"And the pale petunia sniggered."
