Professor Peterson in Europe

During his European trip, Prof. Petersen was called upon by a newspaper reporter who gave him a write up of two and a half columns, an extract of which follows:

What impresses you the most after your long absence from Denmark?

If I were to name one thing that stands out above the many improvements that I found, I would at once point out the abundant harvest. For never have I seen so rich a yield to be so uniform. It explains at a glance, the reason for the general prosperity that is evident in the form of substantial buildings, complete equipment of machinery, electric power installation, wind mills and other conveniences for the reduction of physical work. No, they do not sell grain. On the contrary, they buy skiploads of oilcake from America and much wheat from Russia. The two articles of export and in the qualities excel those produced by other countries are butter and pork. Through co-operative dairies, they convert butter fat into cash. Cows? Never saw the equal. Wonderful milk producers.

Carefully selected stock, fed to capacity, the purpose being to convert the big crops of oats and sugar beet into butter. The skim milk and grain are converted into porkers, a fine white choice pig, exported before too fat. This is the source of the farmers' cash and he does well and is prosperous.

The soil is fertilized and crops are rotated every year. The fields are tilled and maintained in a high state of cultivation. To look over the country with its fine white or red brick buildings with cement shingles, the rich fertile fields and superior dairy cattle, is a sight never to be forgotten. The hard gravel roads found everywhere is a factor that adds to the many charms of the view. The whole picture leaves an impression of an extensive garden, studded with groves and lakes with cities interspersed, varying in Copenhagen, being an exception, has a population of 600,000.

General educational standards? Their schools are of a high type. A teacher must have passed his college requirements and state examina-

Gridders Anxious For Will Mayfield Game

Our football squad is rapidly rounding into form for the struggle with Will Mayfield College here Friday. Practice was hindered somewhat by rain last week and as yet it is a very hard matter to tell just exactly who is who on the S. I. N. U. gridiron. The game Friday will be a real test of football merits and after the game we can tell a lot more about our football team. No heavy scrimmage has yet been held and many of the new men have never been seen in action, a couple of days of light scrimmage practice will probably be held the first of this week which will probably yield slight evidence as to who we will see in action in the Will Mayfield game, but practically all of the men who show any evidence of promise will be given a chance to show their stuff.

The letter men of last year, all tired and tried war horses, will be given first chance to see if they can hit their original stride. This probably means that you will see starting the game Friday, Veach at left end, Floyd at left tackle, Ingram at left guard, Rodgers at right tackle and a real fight is looming for the position at right end between McGlasson, a mighty wing man from Christopher, Bundy, Stanley, Marlin and Doty all look good for this position and will likely see some action Friday. Except Floyd will likely do all the kicking. Other highly promising men in the forward wall who are sure to get a chance are Williams, another of last year's "N" wearers, Spiller, Pebles, Sisney, Kelly, Johnson, Wells, Attebery, Elliot, Carter. "Mac" has never seen these men under fire and no one knows but what a dark horse may pop up in the tussle Friday.

Captain Hook, a real defensive star, will start at full and "Two Ton" Willis, who hits the line just like his name, will heat one half with Lentz favored to receive the call at quarter. The other position at half will be a struggle between Foley, a '24 letterman, who has plenty of speed and is dangerous on end runs. Snidle and Cox are a promising pair of experienced backs. Bridges will also see some action as well as Wiley, Wohl and Johnson. Newton and Rashing, ends, have been shifted to the backfield. Both have plenty of weight

BIG "STAG" PARTY TO BE STAGED TONIGHT

The Y. M. C. A. had its regular meeting last Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in Association Hall. At this meeting, plans were discussed for the rest of the year.

In order to get acquainted and show to the new fellows in school just what kind of a bunch it is that attends Y. M. meetings, the organization has decided to put on a "Men Only" party this evening in the old gymnasium from 6:30 to 8 o'clock.

That nothing might be omitted in showing everyone a "real" time, the committee suggests that all the fellows wear old clothes, overalls, etc. and come prepared to have a lot of fun. You don't need to worry about the cats. They will be there. Don't stay at home because you are a stranger in school. You will be acquainted before you leave the party. A big effort is being put forth to show everybody a real good time. Don't be unfair with yourself by staying at home. Come this time and you will want to attend the Y. M. meetings regular.

Don't forget that all the fellows in school are heartily invited to come out. If you can't come, send three in your place because this is one of the big events of the year that you can't afford to "miss out" on.

Don't forget the date and place of meeting. A big surprise is in store for you when you get there.

President H. W. Shryock and Mr. Rolland Bridges, member of the Normal board, attended a board meeting at Chicago Wednesday, September

SIGMA ALPHA PI NEWS

The Fraternity has started off on the new school year with full force. Members and officers are:

Commander—J. Lester Buford, principal of Lincoln school.

Secretary and Treasurer—Clarence Samford, History and Science, Carbondale Community High school.

Steward—Ross Carter, College Sophomore.

John Land, Senior; Ertle Boos, Sophomore; Neal Phelps, Sophomore; Dilla Hall, principal of Junior High, and W. O. Snoddy, professor of science in Carbondale Community High school, are honorary members. Clyde Dearing, who teaches English and History at Carbondale Community High; Ted Ragsdale, rural critic; Frank Armentrout, Senior; Fred Miller, Senior; Paul Anderson, Freshman; R. Roy Goetz, Freshman; Hilbert Gale, Freshman; Myron Robertson, Freshman; L. H. Harris, Freshman; Gerald Trompe, Freshman; Hallie Hunsaker, Freshman. The Fraternity has gone over 100 percent for the Egyptian.

WANTED: TWO CHEER LEADERS

For such persons who are willing to be on hand for all games and pep meetings, who have a great interest in athletics, a good strong voice, the ability to lead and interest others, and in general, a pleasing personality, you owe to your school to hand your names to the Egyptian office. We need two, preferably a boy and a girl, for the positions. If anyone is at all interested, please be loyal to S. I. N. U. and let us have your name.

FAMOUS GOLFER COMING

A number of students who are athletically inclined will be interested in the coming of Joe Kirkwood, world famous golfer, to the Jackson Country club next Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Kirkwood is one of the most famous golfers in the world. He is the holder of several championships and is the best known trick shot artist in the world. He is to play eighteen holes of golf with three of the best players of Southern Illinois at the Jackson club Sunday afternoon, give a lecture on golf and show his full repertoire of trick shots. Among other things are two hundred yard drives off the crystal of a watch or off the forehead of a boy lying on the ground.

The Jackson Country club is at Henry station, half way between Carbondale and Murphysboro on the street car line. Tickets are $1.50 each and students may secure them at the business office from Mr. Miles, who is one of the ardent golfers of the faculty.

SOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Socratic Society of the school held its first regular meeting of the fall term last Friday evening in Socratic hall. A very enjoyable get-together meeting had for its entertainment the following program:

Talk—Lester Buford, one of our old Socrats, who is well known on the campus and in Southern Illinois for his public talks. Mr. Buford always has something interesting to tell us.

Music by the orchestra.

Reading by Catherine Dunn.

Piano solo by Mildred McLain.

This program was followed by the regular business meeting. Some time in the near future the Socratic Society will give a play entitled "The Path Across the Hill," by Lillian Mortimer.

Next week's program will be:

Music—Orchestra.

Trumpbone solo—Rolland Eise.

"Farce" (Play)—Lillian McLean.

Musical Reading—Catherine Dunn.

Music—Orchestra.

Let's all come out, join Socrats and have some fun; 7:00 o'clock Friday night.

TURN IN CONTRIBUTIONS

This means you! Please turn in your contributions weekly. Whether it be jokes, Wee Wunders, Campus Capers, or general news, put it in the Egyptian box just outside the Egyptian office door, on the second floor.

If you will turn in news we can have a paper that is a representative one.

—Editor.

Tourists are returning from abroad, 10,000 in one day. A kick in the eye will make one shut up.

ZETETS HAVE GOOD PROGRAM

The Zetetic Literary Society held its first regular meeting of the year last Friday evening at 7:00.

A good crowd attended and was enthusiastic over the splendid program that was rendered. After the program came the business meeting. Much interesting business came before the house. It was at this meeting that forty names were presented for membership.

The following program was given:
 Music Zetetic Orchestra
 Dramatic reading . . . Ruth Stalker
 Piano solo Madelyn Scott
 Musical reading Lydia Davis
 Music Zetetic Orchestra
 Talk Clyde Deering

Mr. Deering is one of our former Zetets, who is teaching at the Carbondale Community High school this year. Last year he was very active on the campus, being on the Egyptian staff and the Obelisk staff. He took a principal part in the Zetetic play last spring. His talk was appreciated by everyone.

Be sure to watch the Egyptian for news concerning our play, "Safety First," which is to be given in about two weeks. Come out and join us. We are sure you will have the best times of your college life with good old Zetets.

AGORA

Agora had its first meeting last Monday night. Quite an interest was shown. The quota of the society being twenty-five was half taken up. The president gave a peppy speech on the achievements of the society; its plans and its benefits. The history of the society was related by Charles Neely. Coren Waller also told of old times and what the society meant to him.

Watch the bulletin board for the program. Each Monday night in Socratic hall a debate is given. If you are interested in debating, or wish to make your college life worth while come out and visit us.

WEE WUNDER

Where two certain little Sophomore girls got the Ford Sedan the other day during the seventh hour?

How Mary Tedrow broke the heel off her shoe?

Where all these good-looking little Freshies are coming from?

How long it is going to rain?

How many Anthony Hall rules are broken?

If some of the new girls at the Anthony Hall are still afraid to breathe?

Who will be the next on Cupid's list?

Who has nerve enough to do the "Charleston" on the second floor of the Main Building the third hour?

What are all these hog calling contests about? It is just a minor league for grand opera singers?

It may take a wise man to realize: If you'll just stick to a job long enough, say 20 or 30 years, you'll get the enjoyment. to liking it fine.

ANTHONY HALL GIVES FIRST SOCIAL OF FALL TERM

Thursday evening the old girls, including Sophs, Juniors and Seniors, entertained the new girls who live at the dormitory with a get-acquainted social. After the new girls were introduced and told where "down home" was, a series of games and contests were played. Anthony Hall Ukes were an important part of the entertainment. After the eats were gone Miss Hardin extended a cordial invitation to every one present for a slumber party in their respective rooms. Welcome, new girls, to Anthony Hall.

EPSILON BETA HAVE NINE NEW PLEDGES

Girls pledging Epsilon Beta are: Melba Leach, Evelyn Scott, Elizabeth Melhoush, Lucille Gray, Bernice Keina, Dimple Underwood, Alberta Garrison, Lela Morris, Pat Kell.

FOR GIRLS ONLY!

Read last word first:
Didn't you if boy a be wouldn't you, this read would you knew we.

The Y. W. C. A. gave their annual opening social on Thursday evening. The program included a violin solo—Katy Benbrook, accompanist—Violet Trovillion; reading—Gail Beasley.

A contest was won by Vera Copple. The president invited the guests to the punch tables where they were served with punch and wafers.

S. I. N. U. is the place to go to find the friendships rare. Rhymes and chimes and happy times, and girls from everywhere.

Y. W. C. A. welcomes you girls from everywhere.

We invite every girl to attend our meetings and help to make the religious and spiritual life more ideal. The Y. W. C. A. is your Y. W. C. A.

Have you heard about the Big Sister Movement? Every new girl has been adopted by a little sister by girls who have already attended college here one year or more. If you haven't a big sister, ask the president where to find one.

A DAY IN AN ORCHARD

By E. Osborne

An orchard is a fairy place
To be on days like these,
When all the low-branched trees
Are loaded down with fragrant fruit
And all astir with bees.

Here fruit like shining jewels waits
For fairy king and queen,
Peach, pear, and nectarine,
All flushed with sunlight, honey
sweet,
Crimson and gold and green.

Here, crisp and cool, are apples hung,
Rubies and garnets, all
Strung as for festival;
Awaiting on their crowded boughs
The ripening kiss of fall.

It was for such delights as these
We bore the winter's sting,
The north wind's blustering;
And all the bitter cold and rain
Of early days in spring.

Where is your sting, oh hailstones,
now?
Your fury, winds that blow?
Your bitterness, frost and snow?
And icy sleet that bent the trees—
Where did your sharpness go?

And this is the answer the fruitful trees
Whispered me, soft and low:

"Merged in the red of the apple
Are the winds that rage and screach,
Imprisoned beyond reach
In the wine-like juice of the berry,
In the ruddy heart of the cherry,
Stored in the crystal flesh of plums
In the mellow breast of the peach.
All the sharpness of winter
Is turned to honey now,
And stored away in the golden fruit
That hangs on the orchard bough."

S. I. N. U. RECOGNIZED IN E. ST. LOUIS PAPER

1,159 STUDENTS ENROLLED
AT "EGYPT" NORMAL

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Sept. 27—With the fall term getting well under way today, the enrollment at Southern Illinois Normal University has reached 1,159 students, a record registration for the institution.

For the first time, the college this year recognized as a Class B institution, accredited by the state university and the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

This was printed when the enrollment had not reached its climax. We now have nearly 1200 students.

GIVE THE BEST

There are loyal hearts, there are spirits brave,
There are souls that are pure and true;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.

Give love, and love to your life will flow,
A strength in your utmost need;
Have faith, and a score of hearts will show
Their faith in your word and deed.

Give truth, and your gift will be paid in kind,
And honor will honor meet;
And a smile that is sweet will surely find
A smile that is just as sweet.

For life is the mirror of king and slave,
'Tis just what we are and do;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.

HICKORY-NUT LODGE

By Charles Van Vleck (age 13),
Palo, Mich.

Old Mr. Squirrel built a home
Within a hickory-tree;
Then said, "The place should have a name,
So folks could call on me."

He sent for Peter Mouse to come
And paint for him a sign;
He said, "I'll call it 'Hickory-Nut,'
That name will suit it fine."

So now, when any woodland folk
Pass by this door, they grin;
For almost everyone who calls
Asks, "Is the kernel in?"

KILLING TIME

"Killing time!" What an odd expression. Time is the point at which we touch eternity. Time is the "stuff" out of which life is made. Time is the measure of the soul's pulsebeat. Time is the tick in eternity's clock. Time is the dimple in the cheek of possibility. Time is the brightest jewel on the bosom of destiny. Kill time and you kill possibility. Kill time and your murder opportunity, kill time and you stab every favoring chance. Yet some students of this very school do not use all of their time profitably—what universal slaughter! Slaughtered Sundays! Murdered Mondays! Torn Tuesdays! Wasted Wednesdays! Tattered Thursdays! Frittered Fridays! Slain Saturdays! Time—time is money, time is power, time is fame, time is the fool's burden and the wise man's treasure. Isn't it time for us to make and keep some new resolutions?

THE LANGUAGE OF FRIENDSHIP

Talk is the language of friendship and walk through the world as a friend, Don't set yourself up as too big to be kind, with nothing whatsoever to lend.

The soft-spoken word is the surest, the speech that is gentle is best, And the arrogant voice of displeasure and pride is nothing but hatred confessed.

Don't snarl at the stranger who greets you; he may be a friend in disguise.

The boy who comes into your office tomorrow to greatness may rise, And he shall remember your manner the day that he called upon you, And know from the tone of your greeting your worth and your character, too.

Talk in the language of friendship, the greatest of men can be kind, Be patient with youth that is trying, complaint is so easy to find.

That men of the big vision scorn it, and men that have come to their best

Give never an arrogant order, but gently and softly request.

Talk in the language of friendship, and walk in the way of a friend, We shall all look for kindness and mercy when the struggle called living shall end. And it's easy to win men to service, and easy their friendship to reach. If only you're kindly of manner and gentle and thoughtful in speech. —Selected.

ARE YOU YOU?

Are you a trailer or are you a trolley
Are you tagged to a leader through wisdom and folly,
Are you somebody's else or you?
Do you vote by the symbol and swallow it straight,
Do you tie your cravat by the calendar's date.
Do you follow a cue?
Are you a writer or that which is worded,
Are you a shepherd or one of the herded,
Which are you, a what or a who?

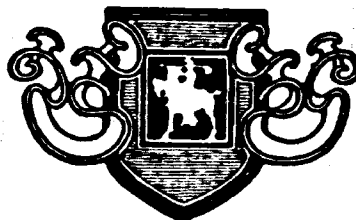

It sounds well to call yourself one of the flock,
But a sheep is a sheep; after all at the block,
You are nothing but mutton or possibly stock,
Would you flavor a stew?
Are you a being and boss of your soul
Or are you a mummy to carry a scroll
Are you somebody else or you?
When at last you come to be heavenily wicked,
Where Peter, the scrutinous stands at his picket,
Are you going to give him a blank for a ticket,
Do you think it will do?
"They say that he fairly worships the ground she walks on."
"That's saying a good deal when you consider what a golf bend she is."

THE TEACHER

The teacher's is the noblest stunt a mortal can pursue; and yet today we see her hunt for something else to do. She loves her high uplifting trade, and quits it with a sigh, but she can't live on what she's paid, and can't afford to die. For years she studies night and day, to qualify to teach; and we behold her on her way, and say she is a peach. We hand her nosekeys when they're cheap, and call her Buttercup, and say the blessed schoolmarm keep our bulwarks right side up. Without her this enlightened age would sadly be bereft; she guards the priceless heritage our well-known fathers left. We hand her tuff with a spade, but when she makes complaint about the measly wage she's paid, we sweat some blood and faint. We may confers to spendthrift ways, hold miser greed a crime; but when the schoolmarm asks a raise we're tightwads every time. And so she's going from the school to seek some other trade, to carve her way with some new tool, a corkscrew or a spade. She cannot thrive on nosekeys sweet, or flourish on hot air, for she must have a prune to eat, and decent clothes to wear.—Walt Mason.

TRAFFIC RULES

1. Pupils are to pass through the corridors in two lines and keep to the right, thus leaving a space between the lines for teachers and visitors.
2. Pupils must not link arms while passing through corridors. They must be careful that no pen or pencil projects from their books in such a way as to injure others. They are to walk briskly. Quiet talking only should be carried on during the passing of classes.

3. Pupils moving forward should hold up traffic to permit class cutting through line to pass into any room. Do not zig zag traffic by dodging in single numbers.

4. Let your passing always be dignified. Do not try to get ahead of the pupil in front of you. There is no competition in reaching your destination ahead of some one else.

5. In passing through corridors singly, keep to right. Traffic is all to the right.

HAVE YOU EVER NOTICED

When the other fellow acts that way, he is ugly; when you do, it's nerve?

When the other fellow is set in his way, he's obstinate; when you are, it is just firmness?

When the other fellow doesn't like your friend, he's prejudiced; when you don't like his, you are simply showing that you are a good judge of human nature?

When the other fellow tries to treat someone especially well, he's toadying; when you try the same game, you are using a rict?

When the other fellow takes time to do things, he is dead slow; when you do it, you are deliberate?

When the other fellow spends a lot, he is a spendthrift; when you do, you are generous?

When the other fellow picks flaws in things, he's cranky; when you do you are discriminating?

When the other fellow is mild in his manners, he is a mush of concession; when you are, it is being gracious?

When the other fellow gets destructive, it is toughness; with you it is forcefulness?

When the other fellow dresses extra well, he's a dude; when you do, it is simply a duty one owes to society?

When the other fellow runs great risks in business, he's foolhardy; when you do, you are a great financier?

When the other fellow says what he thinks, he's spiteful; when you do, you are frank?

When the other fellow won't get caught in a new scheme, he's backwoodsy; when you won't, you are conservative?—Exchange.

DON'T HATE YOURSELF

Because you have failed—you can try again.

Because another excels you—you can do your best.

Because you lost your head—strive for self mastery.

Because you played the fool—you can still act sensibly about it.

Because you offended a friend—you can play the gentleman.

Because you wasted money—you can earn another chance.

Because you have broken a vow—you can make a new one.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Question asked: What do you think of the Egyptian?

Where asked? In the rain.

What do I think of the Egyptian? Well, first it's my school's paper. That makes it good. Second, it keeps up to the minute in the school activities. I think it's a fine paper.—Neal Phelps.

It is a worthwhile paper and one to be proud of. The student body should support it 100%.—Thillie Horsfield.

I am very proud of our paper, "The Egyptian", and shall do all I can to make it grow.—Ida Castleton.

The Egyptian is one of the greatest assets of S. I. N. U. It is the voice of the campus and one of the dearest possessions of the alumni. No one can afford to be without it.—Paul Randolph.

I think the Egyptian is a good paper for it gives all the students and the school communication with one another.—Gus Patrick.

I think the Egyptian is an excellent paper. Almost too good for Freshmen.—Madelyn Scott.

I think the Egyptian is one of the best papers I ever read. At least, it is too good for any student to miss.—Teddie Crawshart.

Things are simply remarkable until you understand them and then perhaps they are remarkably simple.

Evansville, Ill., Sept. 18, 1926.

Lemen Wells, Editor,

Dear Mr. Wells:

I am granting your two favors you asked of me. I am a member of the Evansville, Ill., High school faculty. Mr. Frank Galbreath is my principal and Miss Esther Briethaupt is our other faculty member. We have one of the best three-year High schools in Southern Illinois.

Enclosed find my order for the Egyptian, for I couldn't get along without it. It is with much regret that I can't be present at the old S. I. N. U. this winter. I hope to be present next July and August. Wishing a successful year, I am yours sincerely,

(MISS) LUELLA WOOLDRIDGE.

Mr. Lemen Wells,

Carbondale, Ill.

Dear Friend:

I received your letter soliciting my subscription to the Egyptian, and have filled out the blank before, but am filling out this one and sending my $1.50 for a year's subscription.

I am teaching the 6th grade here, and have 28 pupils. I like my work fine, but am up here with people who attend I. S. N. U. We have some arguments once in a while, each one thinking his Alma Mater the best. But for my part, I'll take old S. I.

N. U. every time.

Mary Virginia Linder is teaching at Manchester and she and I are planning to attend Home-coming together this fall.

Sincerely yours,

NELLIE MAY CLARK.

Dear Editor:

Let the good work go on. I enjoy reading "The Egyptian." I am serving as county superintendent of Wayne county. With best wishes for the success of the Egyptian. I am Yours truly,

H. E. WHITAKER.

FIRST BAPTIST STUDENTS ENTERTAINED AT GET-ACQUAINTED PARTY

A large crowd of students were entertained Saturday evening at the Baptist annex from 7:00 to 9:00.

The entire building was turned over to students in order that they might have a good time and get acquainted. New and interesting games were played and the two hours seemed like minutes.

Delightful refreshments were served and the "knowledge seekers" went home knowing that they would always have a hearty welcome at the First Baptist church.

EXCHANGES

"The Herald" of Springfield, Ohio, has an exceptionally well-balanced front sheet. Your sport column is attractive also.

Vidette, your column, "The Dust Pan" must have a clever editor, clever contribs. Which?

We rejoice with you, Augustanna College, over your gift of the set of books donated by the Crown Prince of Sweden.

We mourn with you, Bradley Tech.

SENIORS LEAD IN EGYPTIAN CAMPAIGN

In figuring out the percentage of subscriptions in each of the classes of S. I. N. U. the following percentages were found for the classes:

- Seniors—90%.
- Juniors—70%.
- Sophomores—63%.
- Freshmen—50%.
- High school—45%.

These percentages will be published each week. Let's see each class strive to reach 100%. You can help the standing of your class and at the same time know that you are supporting the good old Egyptian by subscribing for it now.

ILLINI

The Illini Debating Club, the only girls' debating club on the campus, met Monday evening for the purpose of organizing. The following are the officers for this term:

- President—Mildred Talbert.
- Vice-President—Velma Deason.
- Secretary-Treasurer—Lydia Davis.
- Critic—Lucinda Huck.

There are only a few old members in the club this year. Consequently the club is open to a number of new students. Any girls interested in debating are cordially invited to hear the debate in the Association Hall on Monday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

The time spent with the Illini is well spent for both practical and recreational benefits. Get all the good that you can while you are here. You will not get all the good unless you join the debating club. Every Monday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

THE GLACIER WORM

Upon the ice of glaciers on high mountains the strange little glacier worm is found. Why it is there, and what it feeds on, scientists have not yet found out. Neither do they know why the miniature black grasshopperlike insect called Boreus likes to leap over the snow in zero weather. There is a poor relation of the daddy-long-legs which has no wings and not very long legs that is another problem. It enjoys the coldest weather, and seeks its mate across the snow with the mercury below zero in the Fahrenheit thermometer.

HOUSE PARTY

Misses Woody, Clark, Shanks, Kelley, Bowyer and Trovillion, all members of the faculty, spent the weekend at a house party near Charleston, Mo. tion successfully before he is allowed to teach.

The school houses are fine brick buildings with the school room in one end, having seating accommodations for 26 to 30 pupils, two at each desk, and furnished with blackboards, books, globes, and music charts, as well as heating, ventilation and lighting, strictly modern. In the same building, the teacher's living quarters which consist of from six to eight rooms, are located.

School attendance is compulsory for ages from 6 to 14, inclusive. The children are divided into two grades relative to time of attendance. Those of ages from 6 to 10 attend school four days in summer and two days in winter, while those of ages from 10 to 14 attend school two days in summer and four days in winter. There are two weeks vacation in summer and also at Christmas time.

The Folk High schools, of which there are over twenty at different locations throughout Denmark, attendance being optional, are well patronized, especially in winter when young people have some spare time. The courses offered are of a practical nature and intended to aid students to progress along special lines.

The people are thorough in what they do. Each is an expert in his line. The farmer employs scientific methods in the treatment of the soil and in the management of his crops, stock, and other affairs.

The skilled mechanic, the tradesmen and the clerk learn by serving apprenticeship to become proficient journeymen. Technical schools are provided for those who aspire to become masters and rigid examinations are conducted there. The candidate demonstrates his ability by executing a piece of prescribed work as his masterpiece.

The sculpture, the paintings and the art metal work that one sees in the art galleries and museums, the realistic tableau representation in wax, glass and porcelain are worth crossing the ocean for.

and speed and are looked upon to develop into a real pair of backs with a little seasoning and experience. From the above list the four horse-men of S. I. N. U. will be selected. Since all students hold athletic cards admitting them to all games free, there should be a real crowd out to see our gridiron warriors smash through the Mayfield aggregation. The band will be out in the new uniforms and help instill the spirit of the greatest of college sports, the pigskin game. All students are requested to be on hands with plenty of pep.

A TOUR OF THE WEST

Miss Marjorie Shank and Miss Alice Kelsey, both prominent members of the S. I. N. U. faculty, enjoyed an extensive tour of the West during their vacation this summer. First they went by train to North Dakota. Here they stopped to visit the "Bad Lands of Medora." This place, though not very popular, was said to be about as interesting a place as one could possibly wish to visit. Here are found the most extensive petrified forests in the world. A tourist must ride on horse back in order to see these (and this is not the most pleasant way of traveling if one is not used to horse-back riding). The next stop which Miss Shank and Miss Kelsey made was Yellowstone Park, in which there are too many interesting things to describe. One thing, in particular, may seem strange to us. After spending several days in the park and on the train, the Hot Springs of Mammoth and Old Faithful were enjoyed. These, of course, have natural heat; and it seemed rather strange, after traveling over cold country, frosty enough so ice would bear your weight, to come upon these natural hot springs. Here, in mid-summer, one can very comfortably wear a winter coat. Last summer there were 150,000 tourists who went through Yellowstone Park.

The next place of interest was Salt Lake. Here, Miss Kelsey was especially interested in taking a swim until she "took a drink" of the salt water. It might be interesting to some to know that the water here is 22% salt.

Next we come to the Royal Gorge, the Arkansas river. The gold mine just out of Colorado Springs next took the eyes of our travelers and they descended into the mine. The surface of the earth here is eight thousand feet and the mine is 1800 feet below the surface. Compare this altitude with the altitude of Pike's Peak (14,109 feet) which was one of the other points of interest.

From here, Miss Shank and Miss Kelsey went to Bear Creek Canyon, where they camped for a while and then started back on a hot trip across Kansas and back home.

Advice to freshmen: Take a course in bookkeeping. Last year there was a loss of three books per student.

FORUM

The Forum Debating Society welcomes all of the college men to any and all of its meetings which are held on Monday night of each week at 7 o'clock in the Zetetic Hall.

All men are born to succeed. To succeed you need vision, you need to be able to think quickly, clearly and accurately. Many times you must argue for your rights.

Now is the time to get this training and the "Forum" is the place to get it. Don't wait until you are through college and have been joined in wedlock, and then try to learn how to argue for it will be too late, for the girls will learn in the Illinois.
