Dr. D. W. Morris is New President; Dr. Lay Resigns for Professorship in Texas

Dr. Morris comes to Southern Illinois University from Texas A&M College, Bryan, Texas, where he has been professor of speech and director of the speech and drama faculty for the past 10 years. Although the new president has been in Bryan less than a week, he has met many of the students, faculty members, and other members of the University, as well as a number of citizens of Carbondale, Ill., in informal settings where the immediate impression was given to the University's long-time dean of student activities. By no means a stranger to Illinois, Dr. Morris was in Visalia, Calif., and graduated from high school at Carbondale, Ill., the former Illinois Agricultural College at Carbondale, Ill., majoring in speech and psychology. He is married and has two sons, and he and his family have lived in Carbondale for many years. The University has been a part of his life since he was a child, and he has been a member of the faculty since 1929. He has been in the University's Speech and Drama Department since 1931, and has been dean of student activities since 1938. He is also a member of the Southern Illinois University Association of Teachers of Speech and Drama, and is a life member of the National Association of Teachers of Speech and Drama.
