S.I.T.C. Debaters Adopt By-Laws For New Set-up

The S. I. T. C. debate club voted upon a constitution presented by the committee composed of Joy Vandever, Allan Buchanan, Lois Snider, and Evelyn Miller last Monday night.

The schedule of debates to take place during the remainder of the year includes intra-club, intercollegiate, and interclass contests. Teams are to be selected from each class to take part in the interclass debates, and the elimination tournament will take place on the seventh Monday in the spring term. The sponsors, Miss Julia Joseph and Dr. Charles Tenney, with the president of the club and three members representing each class, will act as judges. The purpose of this organization is to promote forensic activity on its campus.

Shelby Gallien To Head Commerce Club This Term

At the last meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Shelby Gallien was elected president of the organization. His assisting officers are vice-president, Fernely Roberts; secretary-treasurer, Ralph McBride.

The next meeting will be January 10. An interesting program of educational moving pictures and other features will be presented. All students interested in commerce are invited. The program will be given at 7 p. m. in the Socratic hall.

Barbara Jane Scott, who has constructed the Rouen-type apse which will be used in the "Messiah" set Friday.

SCOTT PATTERNS 'MESSIAH' SCENE AFTER ROUEN APSE

ROSE WINDOW TO BE USED IN ORATORIO AGAIN THIS YEAR

As a setting for the music department's presentation of selections from Handel's "Messiah" at the chapel hour on Friday, Barbara Jane Scott, assisted by Elvora Baugardner, has worked out a scene in imitation of the apse of the famous Rouen cathedral in France.

Since the general theme of the setting is the same as that of last year's presentation, several of the outstanding pieces formerly designed and constructed by Karl Bauman and Miss Scott will be used in the present set. Among these is the rose window, copied in detail from the one in the cathedral at Rouen. An all-purposes of the Cimabue Madonna, which stands before the window, will be flanked on either side by high altar candles. Other lighting effects will be secured by floodlights, one of which is to represent a shaft of sunlight streaming through one of the four Gothic windows and giving the effect of daylight. This year the windows are being leaded in an attempt to break up the smooth surface and to give a better suggestion of antiquity.

Miss Scott will be remembered for the settings she has designed for previous dramatic productions on the campus, and more recently for the third act set of "Tune In" which won audience applause.

S. I. T. C. Gridders To Play Five Road Games Next Fall

The S. I. T. C. football schedule for 1935 just announced by Coach William McAndrew, includes four home games and five encounters on foreign grids. The teams to be seen here include the Arkansas Aggies, the Cane Girardeau Teachers, the Northern Illinois Teachers of DeKalb, and Illinois Wesleyan. Trips will be made to Cape for a return contest, to Old Normal, St. Viator, McKendree, and Charleston.

In the opening game, September 28, against the Aggies, the only new opponent on the schedule, the Maroons will move onto the new athletic field. The season's finale will again be against the Wesleyan Titans, on November 23. The complete schedule: September 28, Arkansas Aggies, here; October 4, Cape, here; October 12, Old Normal, here; October 19, St. Viator, here; October 26, DeKalb, here; November 2, McKendree, there; November 8, Cape, there; November 15, Charleston, there; November 19, Illinois Wesleyan, here.

Interfraternity Council Forbids Campus Hazing

The interfraternity council passed a resolution to abolish all initiation activities which take place on the campus, at a meeting held last Wednesday night.

The council also discussed plans for an interfraternity dance which is to be held shortly after Christmas. A committee consisting of Eugene Allen, Donald Cliflin, Robert Turner, and Richard Whittemore was appointed to arrange details.

S.I.T.C. VACATION PERIOD TO OPEN FRIDAY AT NOON

PRESIDENT ANNOUNCES THAT ALL STUDENTS SHALL ATTEND CHAPEL FRIDAY

Instruction at this college will be resumed on Monday, January 7, following the two weeks' Christmas vacation which begins at noon Friday. All afternoon classes are accepting Friday as their off-day this week. Enforcing the provision in the cut system which states that no student shall be absent from classes immediately preceding a vacation period, President H. W. Shryock has announced that all students who are willfully absent from chapel Friday morning shall be suspended indefinitely from college.

If for some unavoidable cause a student finds it necessary to be absent from the Friday assembly, he must get a special permit from the President himself. President Shryock will hear the requests in his office today.

The schedule for Friday morning is arranged so that all four of the class periods will follow one another without interruption. The "Messiah" program will be presented at the assembly after the fourth class period. Fourth hour classes will be shortened to allow the students to hear the oratorio and still be dismissed at noon.

The first issue of the Egyptian after the holidays will appear on January 16. The staff takes this opportunity to wish the entire college a jolly Christmas and a happy New Year.

Jesse Warren's Speech At Youth Meet Is Printed

Jesse Warren has just received a letter from R. H. Hudelson, assistant dean at the University of Illinois, informing him that the speech which he made at the "Young Peoples' Rural Life Conference at Illinois in May will be published on December 20 for distribution among those who attended the conference. The speech was given in reply to a challenge made by Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace at a student conference in Washington, D. C. in February of this year.

At this conference Secretary Wallace made a speech in which he asked the question of the rural youth of America: "Where does the youth of America want to go?" and "What is the fundamental desire of the next generation?"

In answer to this challenge a young Peoples Rural Life Conference was held at the University of Illinois on May 12. S. I. T. C. sent twenty-five delegates to the conference, and from this group Mr. Warren was asked to make the speech in reply to that of Secretary Wallace. His answer, the Secretary Wallace, by saying that the standards of living on the farm must be raised so that a few of the most competent young people will remain on the farm, and that, "Heretofore America has been training her youth to become the masters of capital and industry. But henceforth, America must train her youth to wake up their souls and care for their cause."

TWO ORGANIZATIONS NOW SCHEDULED FOR CHAPEL PROGRAMS

To date, only two organizations have placed applications in the office of Dean George D. Wham for chapel programs following the Christmas holidays. The Baptist Young People's Union will present the program for Friday, January 11, and Sigma Sigma Sigma has charge of the program for the following Friday, January 18.

INTRAMURAL SCHEDULE OPENS AFTER HOLIDAYS

DEADLINE FOR FILING ENTRIES IS DECEMBER 20; LINGLE IN CHARGE

Play in the ninth annual S. I. T. C. intramural basketball tournament will begin immediately following the Christmas holidays. The deadline for filing entries with Leland Lingle, who handles the program, is Thursday night, December 20.

Competition will begin early in January, probably Thursday, January 10, and will continue through a round robin tournament for each team. As in the past, there will be two leagues, the American and the National, and play will be three nights a week. At the end of the regular schedule, the two league leaders will meet each other for the championship.

Twenty Teams Expected

As the leagues cannot be described until all entries have been received, it is expected that there will be twenty teams in each league. Such an arrangement last season enabled more than 200 men to compete in the cage sport. At least that many will play again this winter.

Each team entry must include a list of ten eligible men, the team name, and name of its manager. Preceding the opening encounter, a meeting of all the squads will be held to determine if entry fees are to be paid. Such fees would be used later in buying awards for the winning team. In the 1934 season, gold basketballs were given.

Last year's play saw the Morgan's Monkeys five, undefeated National league winners, trouncing the twice defeated Road Hogs quintet 32-13 to win the college championship. The Road Hogs had won the American League from a default from the Faculty Cats. The championship game was played as a preliminary to the S. I. T. C. varsity-McKendree contest.

Many 1934 Men Back

Many of the 1934 players are back this year, and will compete again. Many of the freshmen will bolster the playing talent in the leagues.

Leading the team organization this year are the two faculty fives, Gramer's Cats and the Bisons. Other groups to be represented are the Chi Delta Chis, the Kappa Delta Alphas, the Egyptians and the Y. M. C. A. Various other campus organizations will possibly have court squads in the field, and the rooming houses and independent teams will complete the make-up of the two circuits.

Although any regularly filed entry will be accepted, the officials are striving for compact, workable leagues. No team without every intention and possibility of completing its schedule should apply for entry.

Y.M., Y.W. to Give Dance Tonight

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. will hold their second dance tonight in the girls' gymnasium from 7 o'clock to 8:30.

The Thanksgiving band dance was so successful that one a week has been arranged. Those who do not know how to square dance are taught by groups. All students are invited to attend.

Newman Club Holds Christmas Party

The Newman club had a Christmas party at its meeting Tuesday evening in the new gymnasium.

Gifts were received by every one. Dancing and card playing constituted the entertainment for the evening. Refreshments consisted of sandwiches and cocoa.

Mrs. Helen Matthes, director of the operetta, "Cross Patch Fairies," which the first six grades of the Allyn Training school will present at Shryock Auditorium tonight.

ALLYN TRAINING SCHOOL PUPILS OFFER OPERETTA

MRS. HELEN MATTHES IS DIRECTOR OF TONIGHT'S PRODUCTION

A group of 100 children from the Allyn Training school will present "Cross Patch Fairies," directed by Mrs. Helen Matthes, this evening in the Shryock auditorium at 7:30. The children who are taking leads are Virginia Reeves, Perry Hyles, Annabelle Scott, Mary Hill, Don Rendleman, John Crawshaw, Naomi Faye Reed, Patricia Curtin, Robert Goodman, and Helen Marberry. ## Dunbar Society Entertains For Members' Parents

The Dunbar society will give a dinner at the A. M. E. church for the parents of the members of the organization tomorrow at 6 o'clock. Later in the evening the club members and their friends will hold a dance in the old gymnasium.

The plans for the affair have all been completed. Every member of the society who attends the dinner must pay fifty cents which will also entitle him to attend the dance. Selma Snow and his Snowflakes will furnish the music.

The purpose of the dinner is to acquaint the community with the social activities of the society.

Patterson Chosen New President of "I" Honor Club

A brief meeting of the "I" club was held in the gymnasium Wednesday for the purpose of electing this year's officers. Charles Patterson was elected to the office of president, held last year by Herbert Bricker. The new vice-president will be Russell Emery; the office of secretary-treasurer, held last year by Louis Bertoni, was given to William Morawski.

The "I" club is composed of varsity athletes who, upon winning their "I" are automatically made members.

MACDOWELL CLUB OFFERS 'MESSIAH' FRIDAY MORNING

TANQUARY, FANER, MOORE, CALHOUN, MARGRAVE ARE SOLOISTS

The MacDowell club under the direction of Mr. David S. McIntosh, head of the music department, will again present its traditional Christmas performance of Handel's famous oratorio "The Messiah" in chapel Friday. A complete orchestration of the oratorio has been secured, and the college orchestra will accompany the chorus which has been rehearsing diligently on this work since the beginning of the winter term. Soloists for the occasion are: Frances Tanquary, soprano; Berdena Faner, contralto; John Moore and W. C. Calhoun, tenors; and Wendell Margrave, baritone.

The complete program of solos and choruses follows:

Little Theatre's First Christmas Play Successful

Kenneth Sawyer Goodman's modern morality Christmas play, "Dust of the Road," was the Little Theatre's chapel presentation Friday morning. Ed Boyke, Glenn Fulkerson, Edward Mitchell, and Robert Boyle comprised the cast. Mr. Boyle served also as student director of the production, under the supervision of Miss Julia Jonah.

The setting, designed by Karl Bauman, was the interior of a typical New England farm house. Mr. Fulkerson as the husband, Miss Boyle as the wife, and Mr. Boyle as the uncle, did fine work as provincial citizens. Edward Mitchell, the tramp, about whose role centered the theme of "Dust of the Road," gave a performance of consistent dramatic intensity.

DEAR SANTA CLAUS—

We've been so modest all year, asking for only half the things we wanted and being content with less than half of those. The entertainment series is nice and the new dimmer unit will be too, we guess. It was great sport to sit down at the football games and Homecoming was also okay. No Santa, it's not that we don't appreciate our benefits and blessings. It's just that we'd like to have them supplemented or sort of added to.

Wouldn't it be grand, for instance, if a new curtain should be found in with the dimmer, if performers in the entertainment course could bring their audiences with them, if we had a student lounge and snow on Christmas day?

If we were hinting for things (which we aren't) there would be sure to be a football scoreboard in the list—a nice, electric one that you could read, because we can't read the one that isn't there. We'd also like more letters to the editor because there aren't many now. And, oh, yes, the Sphinx says it would like more dope to happen for its column, although it's too Sphinx-like to tell you so itself. Wouldn't maroon colored uniforms be a pretty way to spend the money the band is going to get? Or would it be nicer to get a new game called "Decentralizing class cards"? The old one we play with every registration day is getting a bit wearisome.

Then, Santa, if, when you're through with all your vim and vigor this year, you'd inject a little pep into our student body (our Egyptian staff in particular) and put a few optimists in our ranks, we'd not have to write so many editorials. But that would be asking too much, and besides we'd rather be sentimental in our longings just now and ask for a very merry Christmas and a most happy New Year for all our friends and fellow-students.

THE EGYPTIAN.

THE BASEBALL SITUATION AT S. I. T. C.

Tendency in the athletic department is toward the introduction of varsity baseball here next spring. Which on the surface seems all very well. But, concurrent with the inauguration of the diamond sport, will arise a multitude of complexities to confront Head Coach McAndrew and his staff. Will the new sport receive consideration as a major sport? Can an attractive collegiate schedule be arranged? How can the team expenses be met?

Speaking at the football banquet last week Mac said, concerning the proposed move, "We've been contemplating starting baseball here. But we haven't enough money to support baseball as thoroughly as it should be supported. I know that as soon as we inaugurate baseball that pressure will be brought to bear upon us to make it a major sport. But we don't want to make it such until the athletic receipts warrant it."

This was not in the form of a definite announcement, but only a statement of policy regarding the situation. There has not been, and will not be for some time, a final settlement on the subject.

The situation here is peculiar in itself. Here we are, a college located in one of the best baseball districts of the country, with a majority of the sport-minded students favoring varsity competition—and with no ball club. Furthermore, if we had a team, there is no doubt that it could not operate on its own income. College baseball in this section is not a gate attraction. So a varsity baseball program here would be curtailed by lack of funds.

Again, long trips for an S. I. T. C. ball team are out of the question, for this same reason. Yet few colleges are close enough to Carbondale to assure any sort of a diamond schedule at all. Town teams could rarely be met, as they play Sunday-ball. And there is on hand no baseball equipment for a varsity squad. Either the players would have to furnish most of their own paraphernalia or the athletic fund would have to be tapped.

We see it this way. Let's either get a varsity worthy of the name, with a regular schedule, and with student support such as given the football and basketball squads, or let's drop the idea and concentrate on strong, snappy intramural competition. Not that varsity and intramural ball couldn't get along well together, if each were healthy. But to make a success of either one, whole hearty support must be given it. In any event the hot stove league this winter will surely witness long and heated arguments on this subject.

ON AND ON

By R. B.

It was very strange. Without any preliminaries At all, I found myself Face to face With him. Poor, tearful old Gentleman. I was surprised at his Sudden Appearance, But I spoke respectfully, "Good day, Mr. Claus." He absently raised his Head, His fluffy white beard All wet with Tears. "Oh, hello," He said. I waited for some time, And since nothing Was to be heard I Except loud sniffls, I Continued, "Lovely weather, isn't it?" He looked up again, And his face seemed Old and wrinkled. The cherry-nose I had Known so well In my youth Was faded to a Sofa-pillow pink. "Can I confide in you?" He quavered. "Why certainly," I was anxious to hear His tale of woe. He began without delay. "I can't understand why Folks are so unreasonable." "They don't seem to figure That the depression Would hit me, Too. But it did, and Very, very hard."

Why? My factories were run Last year By two old retainers Who stayed with me Because they were too old To go anywhere else. And this year They died from Starvation." "How sad," I murmured sympathetically. "The system of my wife's Relatives Came to live with Us. And keep Mrs. Claus so Busy That she can't do Anything." He continued, sobbing Louder and louder. "And I've been so busy Distributing C.W.A. Money That I can't do Anything, So we haven't a Toy On hand." "Too, too bad," I whispered Then, To take his mind from his troubles, I remarked brightly, "So you're in the New Deal, too?" "Oh my, yes," he Replied. "I've been with them From the first. And that reminds me; I must go and Watch congress. It's the only amusement I have to take my Mind off my Toys." And he hurried eagerly Away, Wiping the wetness From his fluffy, white Beard.

Nolen Addresses Latin-Americans On Bank Problems

Professor Russell M. Nolen, in a talk to the Latin-American club last evening, traced the history of banking and finance since the outbreak of the World War. Mr. Nolen told the club that the major problem in the history of banking is the consistent failure of banks, owing to our unstable monetary system and inflationary prices. He explained the inflation which characterized the World war, the consequent post-war deflation, and the boom period from 1923-29.

In referring to Hoover's financial policy, Mr. Nolen emphasized the fact that he didn't do the wrong thing, but he didn't do enough to check falling prices. The financial legislation that has been passed since Roosevelt's inauguration has, as Mr. Nolen remarked, "restored confidence in the banks, because the people know that the government is behind it."

In conclusion, Mr. Nolen emphasized the need of preventing further bank failures. "The government, if it wishes to control the situation, should very rightly supervise all banks through the enforcement of the federal reserve system. It is true that in this system the good banks must pay for the poor ones, but it is also true that failures hinder the good banks."

Previous to the talk, a short business meeting was held. It was decided to hold discussions of timely topics at the meetings which will follow the outline prepared by the Intercollegiate Council. A committee was appointed to select the leaders of the discussions.

WITH THE GREEKS

CHI DELTA CHI

Francis Misker, Herrin, and William Prindle, Benton, were formally pledged last week.

A reception committee at the Christmas dance of Chi Delta Chi last Saturday night was an innovation for campus dances. The receiving line which greeted each couple as they arrived was made up of officers of the fraternity and their guests, the dance committee and their guests, and the chaperons.

The decorations, carried out in the fraternity colors of blue and silver, were the traditional lighted Christmas trees and a ceiling of silver icicles. The dance programs were also blue and silver.

The chaperons were Dean and Mrs. G. D. Wham, Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Lelandingle, Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Scott, Miss Julia Jonah, Mr. Charles Neeley, and Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Beyer.

KAPPA DELTA ALPHA

Formal initiation of the following pledges will be held this evening: Carlton Rasche, Carbondale; Glenn Fulkerson and Frank Samuel, Cartersville; Vernon Crane, Brookfield, Missouri; Vernon Reichman, Irvington; and Francis Bowman, Grayville.

Frank Samuel and Stanley Kemp are living in the chapter house this term.

DELTA SIGMA EPSILON

The following pledges were initiated last Sunday morning after the customary probation week: Margaret Cline, June Vick, Lucy Parrish, Sue Crain, Carbondale; Kate Burkhart, Mary Elizabeth Wright, Marion; Susan Friar, Benton; Betty Berry, Ashley; Betty Lee Hewitts, Chicago; Georgina Lockie, Cartersville; Frances Tanquary, Mount Carmel; Mary Eleanor Wright, Lourene Jones, Murphysboro.

Instituting a new custom for pledge classes, the chapter, on the recommendation of a committee of active members, selected Betty Berry the outstanding pledge for the fall term. Miss Berry was awarded a crested cap on the basis of attitude, scholastic average, and activity.

Bovinet Elected Zetetic Leader

Wesley Bovinet will head the Zetetic society for the coming winter term. He has been an active member of the society for three years, has served as secretary, and has carried important parts in "The Swan" and "Arms and the Man," spring play productions.
Other officers are Pauline Fisher, vice-president; Susan Friar, secretary; and George Land, sergeant. Marvin Ballance will continue as business manager.
Three new members were elected to fill vacancies. They are Leslie Perks, Ted Finley, and Stanley Layman.
At the first meeting of the new year on January 10, preparations will be made for a dance for the winter term.

Seventeen Girls Initiated Into W.A.A. Thursday

Seventeen girls became members of the Women's Athletic Association at the annual fall initiation services, Thursday, December 13. The new members are: Fern Black, Vera Brown, Martha Freeman, Dorothy Gwin, Ruth Hawkins, Mabel Highsmith, Lucille Hill, Virginia Lieber, Marion Lipscomb, Marston Lioch, Mary Frances Moore, Norma Seibert, Ruth Simpson, Ruth Stefanoff, Ruth Twesedy, Virginia Whittington and Thelma White.
The initiation ceremony was held in the W. A. A. room of the gymnasium. Lorraine Cox, vice-president, introduced the initiates and presented the membership cards.
Following the meeting, the new members were honored at a dinner at the Vanity Fair Tea Room. Virginia Huesting and Maxine Winters, fall sport managers, arranged the program and decorations in accordance with the main activities of the past hockey and volleyball season. Original songs and toasts provided the entertainment during the evening.
The training school at Carterville closed last Friday afternoon for the Williamson County Teachers Institute.
Applications for student teaching the spring term were made last Thursday and Friday.

CENTENARY FIVE TO MEET S.I.T.C. ON JANUARY 9

LOUISIANA TEAM HOLDS ASSOCIATION RECORD IN BASKETBALL

According to advanced reports received from Centenary University of Shreveport, Louisiana, the S. I. T. C. cagers will have quite a battle on their hands when they engage the Gentlemen on January 9.

Centenary University won the basketball championship of the Association for three of the past four years, and finished its conference schedule last year without meeting defeat.

The Gentlemen are coached by Curtis Parker, an ex-Arkansas University graduate and basketball player of repute, who has been with the Louisiana school for the past nine years.

Eight Are Football Men Eight of the ten men who will probably make the northern trip are football men. One, Fred Williams, was one of the greatest centers in the South.

Probably the main supports of the team are the two returning lettermen, Clyde Stallcup and Jimmie Serra. Stallcup is a senior who gained national prominence as a player on the Iowa, Louisiana, Glants, high school basketball team which fought its way to a high rank in the national high school basketball tournament in 1931.

Centenarians on Tour The Centenarians are making an extended trip through the Middle West during the last of December and the first half of January. The trip opens with a game with Macomb Teachers, December 31, and closes with the S. I. T. C. game, January 9.

Chris Masters Honors Football Boys at Banquet

Chris Masters honored the 1934 S. I. T. C. football squad with a banquet given at the University cafe last Wednesday evening, December 12.

Co-captain William Morawski acted as toastmaster and introduced the after dinner speakers. Coach William McAndrew gave the principal address, congratulating his men on a successful season.

Southern Wins From Arkansas Basketeers, 87-33

Table with columns: LINEUP, FG, FT, PF, TP. Lists players like Holder, F., McCullung, F., Lucas, F., Casey, F., Fulton, F., Hall, C., Broadway, C., Pulley, C., Emery, G., Veach, G., Lenich, G., Gray, G., Edwards, G., Lingle, G. and their stats.

Rolling up one of the largest scores made at S. I. T. C. in years, the Southern basketball quintet defeated the Arkansas A. and M. College here Thursday night in the Maroon's first non-conference encounter of the season by the score of 87-33.

With Holder, Hall, and Fulton doing nearly half of the scoring, gaining 45 points among them, and nine other players registering, in the scoring column, the Macmen were never in serious danger during the entire game.

Coach McAndrew used the first team for about fifteen minutes of the first stanza, and with Holder and Hall making baskets at ease the Maroon and White five held an advantage of 40-13 at the half.

The game was a rough affair, fifty fouls being called during the contest. Southern had twenty-two and the Arkansas team made twenty-eight. Four visiting players fouled out of the game.

In closing, Coach McAndrew paid tribute to the spirit of willingness and cooperation shown by the squadmen, stating simply and directly, "I appreciate and approve the fine effort you fellows have put forth."

Other speakers were players Lynn Holder, Arlie Wolfenbarger, Mike Lenich, Jim O'Malley, H. E. Atherton, Russell Emery, and Jim Gray. Others who spoke were Louis Bertoni, 1933 co-captain Ralph Davison, former S. I. T. C. athlete and present member of the coaching staff, Dr. J. M. Marberry of Carbondale, Dean G. D. Whann, William Courtney of Marion; Vincent DiGiovanna and Leland Linglet, assistant coaches, Dr. R. L. Beyer, chairman of the athletic board, and Chris Masters, the host.

The athletes all expressed themselves as thoroughly satisfied with the season's play, but the speakers admitted their reluctance to give up the grid sport. All praised the coaches, and emphasized the fact that they had molded a winning team with little or no monotonous drudgery.

Big Jim Gray furnished the humor for the boys, attributing his stiff neck in the Wesleyan game to a latent attack of the "ole spirit." Mike Lenich cleverly referred to a jibe, poked at him by Tomstmaster Morawski, Morawski himself advocated a larger feminine attendance at the banquet next year.

SPORTS SLATES

S. I. T. C. 87-Arkansas 33-33. Game impressions—No contest. The third worn appearance of the Arkansas boys... Hall and Holder stage a scoring whirlwind in the early minutes... A fair crowd, but little enthusiasm... The high arch shot of the visitors. Hard to block... Gray and his spot on the floor circle... The Laurel-Hardy pair of officials... Visitors can't keep their feet... Holder and Lucas the speed twins... Langley's vicious backward pass... An almost fungeal silence during intermissions in the play... An ambitious six year old very nearly got away with the ball during the half... Speck and his vehement, Frankie Frisch-like protest... Hall literally takes the ball off the scoreboard... Davis, southpaw scoring threat of the visitors, given big hand as he leaves game... Play gets rougher as game progresses... Langley's playful attitude toward referee... Lenich's public yelling lustily for the popular athlete, both before and after his entry into the fray... It took Edwards four shots to make a goal but he stuck it to... Fulton's latest scoring spurge... Humor injected into the situation by the clownish antics of the Staters... The crowd cheering loudly when Mike Lenich dropped in a set-up to make the Maroon count 81... The young Arkansas coach...

Speck and Davis of the Arkansas outfit were listed as definite men last year. Lamb was also rated an outstanding basketeer. Only Davis showed anything Thursday. He gave Hall a battle for a while. The Aggies were runners-up in the Arkansas State collegiate basketball tournament last year. The eighty-seven points rung up by the Macmen in the Aggie encounter was the highest total ever scored by a Maroon squad.

The Arkansas State Travelers played four games in four days in their Illinois invasion. The trip was unsuccessful from the worst point of view, the Black and Red losing to James Millikin, Monday, 46-26; to Loyola of Chicago, Tuesday, 36-29; and to Old Normal, Wednesday, 31-30; before bowing to the Maroons.

For the Arkansas Cavenor and McAllister each made one goal in their three trials, followed by Langley with two out of seven, and Davis with four out of fifteen.

Davis, center, and Speck, forward, were named on the All-Arkansas team last year; while according to press reports Lamb, guard, is one of the best guards in Arkansas.

BULLETIN Coach William McAndrew announces two additions to the S. I. T. C. court schedule. The Maroon basketeers will travel to DeKalb for a game Friday, January 4, to continue their conference campaign. Ten players will be called back for practice January 11 and will make the north trip.

The other contest brings the St. Victor Green Wave to Carbondale Tuesday, February 26. The other contest brings the St. Victor Green Wave to Carbondale Tuesday, February 26.

S. I. T. C. 63-Super-Shells 18. Game impressions—Slim crowd watching a fast ball game... Shells give plenty of competition, despite score... Lots of Veach... After first few minutes, Maroon defense great... Lucas' court length dash and subsequent goal... Lots of deception in S. I. T. C. attack... Oilers stuck in own territory... Veach's spectacular dribble down court with two men trying to cover him... The up and down floor play at start of second half... Shells minus basket eyes... Hall embroiled all the time... Veach shooting from all angles. He either gets a goal or fouled... His crawling dribble... Emery all day in there grabbing ball off backboard... The four-man Shell team at the end of the game... Visitors good sports in contrast to Arkansas Aggies... Oilers' a smooth working, experienced outfit... Tallman, newly center of visitors, looked like a filling station attendant...

During the pre-game warm up, a ball plopped into the lap of a spectator in the south seats. Said guy ups and boots the ball high and far through the rafters. A beautiful kick! But unfortunately it bounced off Mac's head. Then the kicker retired.

Veach was the crack shot for the Maroons in the Oilers game with seven goals in thirteen trials. Lynn Holder was second in accuracy with his six baskets out of fourteen attempts. Veach also made good on five charity tosses out of five trials, while Holder connected with five of his six tries.

Fraser made good on three of his eleven field attempts to lead the Oilers in accuracy. Bill Nicolet, with two out of twelve, was next.

The fine looking court squad is getting all the play in campus sport chatter these days. According to gossip, the Maroons are slated for an undefeated season. And that's something in basketball. Although they haven't been really tested yet, it looks as though the locals can battle any team in the country on even terms.

Delmar Cox, Millikin center and third scorer in the conference last year, ran wild against the Aggies to score twenty-one points. Adams of Old Normal with nine points was high point man in the Old Normal-Aggie game.

S. I. T. C. Defeats Super-Shell Men By 53-18's Score

Table with columns: LINEUP, FG, FT, PF, TP. Lists players like Holder, F., Schanick, F., Lucas, F., Veach, F., Hall, C., Broadway, C., Emery, G., Casey, G., Gray, G., Edwards, G. and their stats.

Referee—Smith. Umpire—McKane. Playing their second game in two nights, the Southern Teachers made it three victories in a row for the season, when the independent Super-Shell team from Woodriver was defeated Friday, 53-18.

Southern started the game off with a bang, scoring points with ease and ran up a count of 24-13 at the half.

The Maroons had two player-shipping like full moons during the game. Holder in the first half... Veach in the last period... He scored thirteen points, the first stanza and had added three more during the second half. Veach made only one basket during the first period, but added five baskets and five free throws during the second stanza.

For the Super-Shells, Fraser was the most outstanding. He made seven of the visitor's thirteen points.

Three of the Super-Shells fouled out during the closing minutes of play and when the game ended they had only four players on the floor.

MACMEN TANGLE WITH OLSON TEAM HERE TOMORROW

TERRIBLE SWEDE GIANTS HAVE WON 1600 GAMES IN 14 YEARS

When the Southern cagers tangle with the Olson Terrible Swedes tomorrow, they will be facing a quintet no member of which is less than six feet in height. The Swedes have an excellent record during the fourteen years that they have been organized, winning more than sixteen hundred games in that period, against teams in Mexico, Canada, and the United States. Their record for the last year shows 112 games won as against fourteen lost.

Among the teams over which the Swedes boast victories are the state universities of Alabama, Wyoming, Florida, Utah, Nevada, and Montana, and state colleges in California, New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin, and Illinois. They have also played and defeated independent teams in thirty-six of the forty-eight states.

Ol Olson is Coach The Terrible Swedes are headed by Ole Olson, coach and non-playing manager. The 1934-35 official lineup of the Norsemen lists only six men, the extra man being a guard.

The floor leader of the team is Big George Campbell, center, known as America's greatest showman. Campbell is six feet, eight inches in height and is able to do many tricks with a basketball than any other player. The forwards are Sam Wieg of Oklahoma, and Red Langstaff of Iowa, who are six feet, three inches, and six feet one inch, respectively. At the guard positions, the Swedes have Carl Howard of Indiana, Pete Potegrew of Missouri, and Robert Neeley of Arkansas, all of whom are well over the six foot mark.

The Olson Swedes play their next game with Hardin-Simmons university, Friday.

Santa Will Bring Gifts to Socratics

The Socratic society is giving a special Christmas program this week. Santa Claus will be present with gifts for everyone. The program will consist of a reading by Ruth Nast, a Christmas story by Norrid Montgomery, group singing led by Opal Riley, and a piano solo by Kathryn Logan.

The outstanding presentation last week was by the stringed ensemble. The society has had various orchestras in the past but never has one reached the state of perfection which was exhibited in the ensemble's offering of "Caprice Dennois" by Fritz Kreisler and "Noia" by Felix Arndt. This last selection was a xylophone solo by Paul Reader accompanied by the ensemble. The members are: Paul Reader, conductor; Theresa Boyd and Robert Boyle, first violin; Oveda Good and John Eaton, second violin; Frank Smith, viola; Jean Rose Felts, cello; Grace Hall stringed base; Wendell Otey, piano.

A play, "Violet Moves In", directed by John McDonald was also presented. The cast was composed entirely of freshmen. Terry Morgan, is giving a characterization of Violet, as the sweet little fapper, showed evidence of natural acting ability as led Ruth Ella Neal. The other characters were John McDonald as Rickey, Ernest Brahear as Brock, Eleanor Jane Hall as Octavia and Harold Wright as Harold.
