A. A. U. P. TO OFFER $25 SCHOLARSHIP TO OUTSTANDING FRESHMAN HERE

Details of Award Will Be Announced Later By Organization

Attempting to initiate a general policy of scholarship awards for S. I. T. C. students by individuals or organizations, the local chapter of the American Association of University Professors announces that it will give a $25 scholarship next spring to the freshman who is considered most promising scholastically.

Details of the award are not yet ready for publication, but are being considered by an A. A. U. P. committee, consisting of Robert D. Fener, chairman, Miss Annemarie E. Krause, and Russell M. Nolan. It is expected that the award will be instituted as an annual donation. This is the first time the organization has ever offered a scholarship here.

The purpose of the scholarship, according to a statement from the professor group, is to raise the scholastic level of the college.

Complete and specific details concerning requirements and qualifications for the $25 fund will be announced shortly after the New Year.

The A. A. U. P. will hold its next meeting to the form of a six o'clock dinner at the Robert Hotel, Monday, January 6. Thereafter during the remainder of the year, all A. A. U. P. monthly dinners will be on the first Monday of each month.

Mrs. S. B. Barnes to Address A. A. U. W. Meeting Jan. 7

The first 1936 meeting of the S. I. T. C. chapter of the A. A. U. W. will be held Tuesday night, January 7, at 7:30 at the Delta Sigma Epsilon house. Mrs. S. B. Barnes will speak on "The Women's International League for Peace." Mrs. Barnes is a member of that organization and has also had extensive lecture experience.

8 WEEKS SUMMER TERM HERE AGAIN NEXT YEAR

According to an announcement in this week's faculty bulletin, Southern will conduct an eight weeks summer session, thus continuing the policy inaugurated here last summer.

President Roscoe Pulliam wrote in the bulletin that he was particularly interested in securing entertainments for the summer term students comparable to the regular lectures and musical activities. These would be financed by the extra money accruing from the added tuition fees.

For the first time in college history, tuition for the summer term will amount to as much per credit as it goes during the other three quarters.

Drive for Anti-War Signatures Gains 200 S. I. T. C. Names

Reported to be the greatest peace movement in history, the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom has initiated a drive to obtain signatures of people opposed to the campaign in being carried on in thirty nations of the world, and will be presented to the governments in those countries in the spring of next year.

The movement has as its purpose the presentation of concrete public opinion to the governments of all nations. The mandate states, "We, the people, are determined to end war. War settles no problems. War brings economic disaster, needless suffering and death to us and our children." The organization is non-political, and works among all types of people in an effort to obtain the signatures of all who agree with this platform.

Prominent people in the United States have already signed, among them being Sherwood Anderson, Louis Brandeis, John Crawford, Countee Cullen, Clarence Darrow, John Dewey, Paul Douglas, Roland Hayes, Joseph Wood Krutch, Robert Morris Lovett, Gerald P. Nye, and Oswald Garrison Villard.

Among the local signers are many persons connected with the college including President Roscoe Pulliam, Dr. Thomas Barton, Wenzel Martrave, Russell M. Nolan, Dr. Sherman B. Barnes, Dr. Richard L. Beyer, Burnet Shryock, Miss Julia Jonah, Miss Frances Barbour, Dr. Vera Pencock, and Miss Florence Wells.

On the campus the organization sponsoring the drive is the Modern Problems club, with Evelyn Miller as chairman of the committee. A number of students have already signified their opposition to war on this mandate. The first day a total of two hundred signatures was secured. For the next few weeks the committee will be ready to receive signatures. Any student, faculty member, or townsman who wishes to help in this worthy cause may see Miss Miller, John W. Stanfield, Virginia Spiller, David Moss, or Leda Pennington and receive materials.

Winter Enrollment Increases to 1433

Five more students registered for the winter term during the past week, making the enrollment now read 1433. The sophomore class gained five members, while two more students registered in the unclassified section.

Class enrollment figures as they now stand:

Sophomore—508.
Junior—295.
Senior—143.
Unclassified—9.
Graduate—8.

Grades for the fall term were issued last week to students who owe the college no debts.

Marjorie Brown, Soon to Enter George Peabody College, For Three Years Prominent In Activities Here

Outstanding in Dramatics, Music, Journalism and Literary Work on Campus

When Marjorie Brown leaves Carbondale within the next few weeks to complete work on her Bachelor's degree at George Peabody College, Nashville, Tennessee, S. I. T. C. will miss one of its most prominent seniors and one of the most active students in school. She has taken part in journalistic, dramatic, and social activities on the campus and has contributed her part musically by playing in the orchestra for three years.

Miss Brown has been a reporter on the Egyptian staff and served as society editor last year. She was one of the runners-up for this year's editorship of the paper and is a member of Mu Tau Pi, the journalistic fraternity on the campus. Last year she was feature editor of the Obelisk.

She has been an active member of the Zetetic Literary Society since the time she entered college, holding various offices in the organization and taking active part in its programs.

Miss Brown will be missed by every group of which she has been a member, not only because she is a capable worker, but because she has an ability for wit, irony, and sarcasm that enlivens any gathering. S. I. T. C. is losing an outstanding personality and Peabody is to be congratulated on adding Miss Brown's name to its rolls.

She also joined Strut and Fret, the dramatic club, during her freshman year, and when Little Theatre was organized and took the place of that organization, she was one of the charter members. She has taken part in various dramatic productions including the Homecoming plays, "All's Fair" and "Tune In," and the Zetetic plays, "The Swan," and "Arms and the Man." Her portrayal of Catherine Petkoff in George Bernard Shaw's satiric comedy, "Arms and the Man" was probably her outstanding performance.

Miss Knobloch was chosen secretary of the Little Theatre society Tuesday evening to replace Ernaoh Brashear, who recently resigned. Mr. Brashear, however retains his membership in the Little Theatre group.

Erna Knobloch has been an active member of the society since the organization two years ago. She played in the society's annual play, "Three Corned Moon" as well as in the Homecoming plays of 1934 and 1935, "Tune In" and "Here We Are." She is also a member of the qualified committee.

New members of the Little Theatre entertained the older ones at a Christmas party Thursday evening in Strut and Fret Hall. Kate Burkhardt and Frank Thomas were in charge.

The evening was spent in acting out Christmas charades. Glen Pulkinson guessed the most charades and was rewarded with a stocking filled with Christmas toys.

Poetry and Dramatic Clubs of U. High Guests At Party Tonight

A party for the Poetry and Dramatic clubs of the University High School is to be given by Miss Claire Patterson at her home this evening.

The following entertainment will be offered: piano solo by Miss Carol Pughate; readings by Ethel Fern Atwell and Miss Florence Wells; and a solo by Ralph Hamilton.

Raymond Neuhar, Mary Kathleen Hillier, Vernon McCracken, and Claire Patterson are to serve on the reception committee.

Refreshments will be served.

Knobeloch Replaces Brashear As Secretary Of Little Theater

DUNBARS TO GIVE MYSTERY PLAY ON CAMPUS JAN. 30

The Dunbar society will present a mystery play, "Murdered Alva," in Shryock Auditorium on the evening of January 30. The play is being coached by Miss Julia Jonah of the English department.

Robert Jack, president of the society, stated that this will be the first time the society has ever given a play on the campus, and all concerned seem to be very enthusiastic over the project. The cast for the play will be announced later.

The Dunbar society in its 1938 meetings will continue the policy of reviewing books of outstanding negro authors, and studying the biographies of such men as Booker T. Washington, W. E. B. Dubois, Langston Hughes, and James W. Johnson.

Dr. Marie Hinrichs Has Handled Forty Patients In One Morning

College Physician Engaged In Research On Malaria In State

By FRANK SAMUEL

"Forty patients in one morning is a big job," says Dr. Marie Hinrichs, a J. T. C. physician.

"And that was, on an average, the number I handled when I worked in one Chicago clinic."

Dr. Hinrichs's hometown is Chicago, and most of her work is connected with institutions of that city.

Having received her A. B. from Lake Forest, Dr. Hinrichs obtained a Ph. D. from Chicago in 1923, and later, in 1934, her M.D. from Rush Medical College. For two years she worked in a National Research Fellowship organization. In addition to this she has had eight years of research experience, two years having been spent with the General Electric Company in a research of light.

"My inclinations are toward research, as you can see by my former work," Dr. Hinrichs remarked, "and all my spare time is devoted to this. At present we are working here on a malaria project, checking up on college students, trying to find out how to create life and how malaria is most prevalent. Because of the rivers and little deltas, Southern Illinois is a malaria belt in itself."

Dr. Hinrichs has taught three years in public schools and one year at Vassar. Once a reporter misquoted her in saying that she had discovered how to create life and had done so. "I made the front page of the Herald-Examiner, and I had reporters around my door for days," said Dr. Hinrichs, "and ever since then I've had no faith in reporters." This was my cue, so I laughed, thanked her, and bade her goodbye.

CROSS FIRE

By JASPER CROSS

The United States received its annual Christmas present from the allied nations of Europe Saturday in the amount of $230,453. This represented the interest on the war debt of Finland, who seems to be the only foreign country which retains the old Christmas spirit of paying its debts.

It is estimated that the sum represents approximately one cent on each $42 owed to the United States on war debts.

Among the prominent countries which failed to contribute were Great Britain, defaulting to the extent of more than 500 million dollars, and France, who failed to pay her $250,000,000.

The total amount receivable by this country would have been $965,414,177, which represents the interest on the total debt of $22,000,000,000.

The principal argument advanced by the allies for the non-payment of their obligations is that due to the failure of Germany to fulfill her reparation agreements, they are unable in turn to meet their interest payments.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat, in an editorial, advances what is evidently considered a ray of hope in the statement that "so long as the debt situation stands as it is, our European friends won't come borrowing for another war."

State common schools are to be helped in Illinois this year by an added appropriation from the state. The amount of the state taxes received apportioned to the schools was increased from $19,500,000 to $23,000,000 by the new state distributive fund law.

The new plan also provides that the total amount given to a school must be used by that school during that year, thus providing a steady high level of equipment and teaching.

Roger Babson, noted economist, gives one of the most optimistic futures to America that has been given lately. According to Babson, the next two or three years should witness a period of real prosperity.

"Wasn't it about five years ago that 'Prosperity is just around the corner'?"

After having been pushed off the front pages for some time, Japan again breaks in to share the limelight with only one disadvantage for the title of World Enemy Number One.

The latest bid of the Japs for greater world power has been flatly rejected by the international naval conference meeting in London last week. At the conference, Japan asked for equal naval strength with Great Britain and the United States. The vote of the four other great powers, Great Britain, United States, France, and Italy, was unanimously against allowing naval parity. It was understood that Great Britain was the leader in the opposition to the Japanese request.

At the same time come signs of dissection in the far-flung empire of Great Britain. As well as a troubled domestic status, the British government has to contend with native riots in India and Egypt. The latter of these countries has forced Great Britain to consent to the restoration of a constitutional government under

DEBATE CLUB HOLDS XMAS PARTY MONDAY

Follows Appearance Here of Sparta High Debaters

Three activities characterized the meeting of the S. I. T. C. debate club last night, with the first part of the program consisting of a debate between the affirmative and negative teams of the Sparta High school. Immediately following the debate, the members of the club went to Miss Martha Scott's cottage at the Midland Hills Country Club for their Christmas party and a short ceremony in honor of Miss Julia Jonah, who recently resigned as co-sponsor of the club.

The Sparta debaters, coached by Mr. Frank B. Allen, presented their arguments, and the members of the S. I. T. C. club criticized them, considering both argument and presentation. They debated the regular high school question.

The high point of the party at the country club was reached when Miss Evelyn Miller, president of the Debate Society, presented Miss Jonah with a copy of three of Clifford Odets' latest plays: "Awake and Sing," "Waiting for Lefty," and "Till the Day I Die."

The book was given by the entire club as an indication of appreciation for the vast amount of time and work that Miss Jonah has devoted to the organization during the years that she has acted as sponsor.

When Miss Jonah began her work the men and women each had a separate club and the climax of the season was reached in the spring when the clubs debated each other. Since that time the Illinois and Forum has consolidated into the S. I. T. C. Debate club and now have a regular inter-collegiate schedule. This year is the first time that the debate organization has had a fund to finance its trips.

The festivities were closed with a gift exchange in which every person present took part. During the evening quantities of cider, cookies, and marshmallows were consumed.

Harry Deck Talks At Modern Problems Club Meeting

Harry Deck, secretary to Congressman Kent E. Keller, spoke before the Modern Problems club last Thursday night on the personal influence of the politician. Emphasizing the importance of distributing patronage to the constituency in the right manner, Mr. Deck proceeded to outline his work.

Much of the correspondence directed to the congressman is destined for the waste basket before he ever sees it, contrary to popular opinion. Many of the requests are for jobs, but Mr. Deck insisted that politics plays a very small part in determining who gets the available positions. "I have never seen any corruption in politics ... in fact, I have never seen an opportunity where corruption could enter in," the speaker said. The Modern Problems club has admitted the following students into the organization: Rose Paige, Betty W. Jones, Eugene King, Anna Mae Lively, and Marion Ljapacomb. The next meeting of this club will be held January 9.

Another Rare Specimen To Be Found in Museum

This week there is an exhibition in the S. I. T. C. Museum of a live specimen which, according to Fred Cagle, assistant custodian, has never been known to be in this country in any other museum in this part of the state. Although he has been unable to classify it, it appears to be some kind of a tree-frog. It was brought into a Marion grocery store on a load of bananas.

This little bright green specimen, which is a few inches long, has very long legs, equipped with vacuum sacs, with which it can attach itself to leaves. It can also extend its projectively colored eyelids over its brilliant red and black eyes so that they cannot be seen. Mr. Cagle revealed that all this hermitic creature has eaten thus far is cabbage worms.

He also stated that, "There is an advantage in having glass cages for such purposes since people can see just what valuable specimens look like before they die or are killed." This is a unique feature of the S. I. T. C. museum, for through Mr. Cagle's efforts, he has been able to keep specimens alive by providing as nearly as possible natural conditions for them in glass cages.

Wailing Wall
Conducted by Virginia Spiller

Dear Wailing Wall:
It is very seldom that the student body rests an opportunity to read good editorials in the Egyptian. Last week, however, I read one which struck me like a thunderbolt from a clear sky. I am sure that the entire student body was amazed at its rationality. I am speaking about the editorial entitled "For American Olympic Participation."

Yet indeed! The brilliance of the article was such that it must have electrified the scintillations of the heavenly bodies. Its Christian attitude would certainly have put the good Jesus to shame the Lord forgive me if I be irreverent. Its rich nurturment must have made all its readers intellectually hungry. And its novel logic (it is new to me, though sane and infallible) will certainly be an outpost of modern thinking.

Through the whole article with its magnificent splendor, its soothing transcendentalism, and its melodious harmony should be preserved in its entirety under seven golden beams. What I cherished most was the beauty of its keynote—"Sportsmanship."

I used to have a faulty notion of that word. No, I didn't know what sportsmanship meant. Can you beat it? I am just awakening to the fact that perhaps I am getting a college education at all. Sportsmanship? Why, yes, I know what that means now! Let me give you an example: If one of your neighbors should thrust a fork in the back of another neighbor because the latter's dog barked at the former's chickens sportsmanship demands that you invite the former to dinner and let the latter suffer. That's his business you know.

Here's another example: If you were to see a drunken man chasing his wife down the street with a ball-bat and you were a good sport you would smile at his shame and after his pursuit you would attempt to get his mind off domestic troubles. His wife? That's her business.

Here's another example: If you know your neighbor to be a liar, a thief, a murderer, or a maniac and he should ask you to have tea with him (beer and crackers would do), why on all means don't refuse to go. What has his character to do with sportsmanship? And if he should ask you what sort of entertainment you like best, suggest to him dancing to the tune of "Who's afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?"

See there! Isn't that beautiful? Oh, how I wish I were a Tolstoy! I should write some ecstatic Christian verses on the editorial and should sing for it eternal praises.

Respectfully,
JEAN SABA

Dear Wailing Wall:
It's about time someone protested against racketeering that's going on around here. This one doesn't need to be exposed, but merely commented upon.

This morning I took a book I paid $2.75 for at a local bookstore, to that store to trade in on a new book. The most I was offered was $1.25—but in order to take care of "Uncle Henry's" sales tax, the price was conveniently placed at $2.35 and no mention made of the taxation that is said to be ideal. Well, I got a $1.50 allowance on the old book, which will be sold again at $2.35. In all probability, the gross profit being in the neighborhood of 83% if this not unlikely procedure is followed. But not being irritated at the small matter of 83% profits, a "modest" profit being good 100% Americanism, etc., I was somewhat lifted at being charged 56c for a $2.25 book, on which I had $1.50 credit for the old book. Now it seems to me that the 10c sales tax, added to the publisher's price on the book, which I paid in full, was too high. Ten cents on a 15c purchase looks like a tax of over 13%. Instead of the meeker 3c tax that goes to Henry, our Uncle. Students who bought this same book for cash at $2.35 paid a racket fee of over 3 cents. If this procedure is followed on all the books sold over of the Maroons, and until well into the second period, the Swedes kept abreast of Southern. Fulton led a group during the final minutes of the quarter that brought the half time score to 21-8.

Maroons Easily Outscore Olsens

Paced by Edwards, the S. I. T. C. quieted scored ten points in rapid succession, to start the second half before the Swedes counted at all. Campbell scored twice, but the home five then pulled rapidly away again.

The visitors scored several times in the last few minutes, but S. I. T. C. reserves matched these markers. Charles Broadway, giant sophomore center, got into his first game this year. Broadway has been suffering from a charity loan received in football. George Dohanich drew his first starting assignment on a Maroon five, and turned in an excellent floor game.

Lloyd Corzine, a well built Centre, the freshman, was the new star. He shot a fine crop of small, but speedy newcomers. Perfect replaced Carl Pettigrew, who has left the Swedes, in the visitors lineup.

French Luncheon Tomorrow at Delta Sigma Epsilon House

The weekly French luncheon will be held at the Delta Sigma Epsilon house tomorrow noon. This will be the last of these luncheons to be given before the Christmas holidays.

The regular meeting of the French Club, which was to have been held Monday night, was postponed because of the presentation of "The Messiah" the same evening. The next meeting will be held January 13.

1400 students, the proceeds would not be inconsiderable.

It seems so me that it isn't so, this racket of over-charging college students who have to live on $100, $200, or $300 a year.

In a week or two I will describe the plan is vague at our neighboring teachers college in Carbondale. If a similar system were used here, it would be the same that would eliminate two itches—bookstores and sales taxes on books.

In the meantime, if any of you want a real place to buy books, I would suggest you drop a card to the College Book Company, Columbus, Ohio, who publish a catalog of rare bargains in second-hand and new text-books. I just ordered a $4 book for $2.75. I'm tired of getting zipped.

Yours truly,
MELBA MEDHURST

College News

UNIVERSITY OF BUFFALO
Buffalo, N. Y.

University of Buffalo co-eds have decided to go masculine so far as their winter apparel is concerned. A group of co-eds appeared on the campus in ski-pants. The boys protested and issued orders that girls should come decently attired or else. The girls refused to heed the warning and tucked in a couple of skirts. They did not stretch the girls, who still persist in wearing the ski-pants.

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

The Inter-fraternity council of the University of Illinois is conducting an investigation to determine whether or not their dubious honor of wearing the worst fraternity scholarship in the country is correct. The council is to determine whether other schools pad their scholarship records, or if Illinois' position at the foot of the class is right.

Norman Thomas, speaking at the Hill open forum, declared that "Fascism or War lies ahead unless the coming generations develop the capacity to harness machinery to conquer poverty and ignorance." He further declared that "The hope of the future is in a federation of cooperative commonwealths. This is not a new deal; it's a new world."

Paddling during "Hell Week" has been abolished at the University of Illinois. For one week preceding initiation, Greek pledges, will live a life of retirement—no dates, very simple food, no speaking unless spoken to. Besides this, the pledges are required to attend lectures by prominent people on the campus. The plan is to make the "Hell Week" program something of which to be proud, rather than ashamed.

MONMOUTH COLLEGE

Monmouth College faculty is sponsoring an honest campaign on Monmouth Campus. It is to be based on the honor plan in effect at West Point, Princeton, and Washington and Lee Universities, with a few changes to suit the needs of Monmouth College.

McKENDEREE COLLEGE

Three McKendree College seniors made the National College "Who's Who" list. "Who's Who in American Colleges" is a new publication which lists the names and a short biography of the most representative college students in America. The three McKendree students chosen were Kenneth Wilson, Florence Zahnaw, Carl C. Bracy.

Northern Illinois Teachers College

Northern Illinois co-eds give their ideas on the "Perfect Man." One co-ed would have her heart throbbing something like this: "Tall, not particularly handsome—a good dancer—but butterfly—a little bit conceited and a good sport."

Another co-ed could go for a man like this: "Tall and husky, good personality, smart, sly, and have nice ears."

Charleston Teachers' College

Winter enrollment at Charleston has decreased. There are 186 people enrolled in the college. Last year there were 353 students.

A cart no larger than a portable typewriter, but weighing 200 pounds, transports the University of Minnesota's supply of radium. It is covered with lead, copper and chromium.

C. C. C. Educational Advisers Meet

The educational advisers of the surrounding C.C.C. camps and the faculty committee, headed by Russell M. Nolan, held a meeting yesterday and discussed examinations to be given by S. I. T. C. to the campus members of taking college work.

There are about twenty-five boys in the neighboring C. C. C. camps who wish to enter college but lack the necessary amount of credits, and the faculty of S. I. T. C. has consented to help these boys. Faculty members are outlining courses in English, History, Agriculture, and Mathematics, and have given them to the educational advisers of each camp. The adviser teaches his classes in accordance with the outline handed down by S. I. T. C. and when the C. C. C. boys finish their courses of study, they will take an examination given by the college.

Freshman Party Today For Colored Students

There will be a freshmen party for colored students today at 4 o'clock in the old gym. Music will be furnished by Selma Snow.
