32 Men Begin Safety Vigil

Thirty-two male students from Mecca Dorm, 506 E. College, began a regular patrol of the streets in their area last night to protect coeds from possible attack.

The patrols will be maintained from 8 to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday, according to Don Cordes, who is in charge of the program.

"We have two patrols an hour, with two men on each patrol," Cordes said. "They wear Civil Defense armbands and carry flashlights and police whistles."

According to Cordes, the patrols operate in the area bounded by East College, Grand, and Wall Street.

"We will be patrolling the major routes leading to the dormitories and houses where girls live," Cordes said. "We picked the 8 to 10 p.m. because that is the time most girls would be coming home alone from classes or the library."

Cordes emphasized that the patrols are not out to "catch" anyone. "We simply want to provide some measure of safety for the girls who live in our area."

"We feel if we get some authorized patrols out on the streets the girls will feel safer and it might deter anyone from attempting an attack in that area."

Nonviolent Group to Petition Dirksen on Civil Rights Vote

The Student Nonviolent Freedom Committee began Monday to file petitions asking Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., to vote for the upcoming civil rights bill.

Dirksen has said he considers civil rights to be a matter for the states to handle, not the federal government.

Wendell O'Neal, chairman of the freedom committee, said, "We are petitioning Dirksen under the provision of the First Amendment, hoping to gain his support for the civil rights bill, specifical-

'Surprised and Nervous' ROTC Queen Kathy Jones Elated Over Receiving Crown

"He called my name and there I was--queen of the Military Ball," blonde Kathy Jones, obviously elated, commented after her coronation Saturday.

"I was very surprised and nervous," she admitted, but was able to gracefully accept the crown from Pam Powell Mitchell, the retiring queen.

Some 800 persons who attended the annual AFROTC social event watched the coronation ceremony. Attendants to the queen, introduced prior to the coronation, were Judy Foehrer, Nancy Pearce, Andrea Anderson and Marcia Walters. All contestants are members of Angel Flight.

The new Military Ball queen, perhaps because of her small stature (dress size 5) and her height (5'1"), is a member of the SIU Judo Club.

She is a junior majoring in biological science and plans to complete a minor in chemistry.

Referring to the University, the 21-year-old queen said "I like it" and could offer no complaints.

The blue-eyes blonde enjoys swimming and singing and proved her singing ability in the ROTC Revue in Blue Stage Show Friday by joining the Angelaires.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jones of Joliet.

With one title to her credit, Miss Jones feels that is enough for her and doesn't plan to compete for any more campus honors.

Each member of the court was escorted to the throne platform where they bowed to the crowd. Cadet Major William Bradford announced the new queen, who had been elected by ROTC cadets.

Capt. Edward Corich said the coronation "went off smoothly" and the Military Ball "went off great." Another member of the ROTC staff said the annual dance "was just fine."

Ramsey Adds 26 Points To SIU's 7th Straight Win

Revenge is sweet! And Southern's win over Tennessee A&I last night, 71-66, was a sweet victory for the Salukis as they racked up their seventh straight victory at Nashville's Municipal Auditorium.

Joe Ramsey, recovering from a touch of the flu, didn't seem to be bothered by the bug, as SIU's cocaptain poured through 26 points--highest total of his career and highest for any Saluki this year.

Ramsey, who scored only seven points against MacMurray last Friday, netted 16 of the 24 points in the first half, and along with Lloyd Stovall's 14, gave the Salukis

Pickets Continue, Plan Other Action

The Committee to Abolish Compulsory ROTC planned to resume picketing the office of President Delyte W. Morris today and indicated it might take "further direct action other than picketing."

Ed Clark, cochairman of CACR, declined to amplify that statement, explaining that it was still in the planning stage.

Clark said that about 50 persons participated in CACR's all-night vigil in front of the Old Main gate Saturday and Sunday. He said about 15 stayed the night.

The cochairman said the demonstrators seemed to have the support of most persons who passed by, especially from cadets walking their dates to the Military Ball. Clark said the Student Christian Foundation sent the demonstrators some coffee and a heater, and two faculty members dropped coffee off at the gate.

Free Tickets Still Available For Shaw Concert Wednesday

Student tickets are still available for the Robert Shaw Chorale and Orchestra concert Wednesday, according to Robert Faner, professor of English.

Free tickets are available on a first-come basis to students who present their activity cards to the University Center information desk.

The Chorale, sponsored by the Carbondale Community Concert Association, will appear in Shryock Auditorium at 8 p.m.

The present Chorale is a group of highly trained professional singers, each an individual artist. Shaw does not place his singers in voice groups, but scatters them to give the Chorale its unique blend.

an eight point halftime lead.

The Salukis were a much improved ball club over the last time they met Tennessee A&I, when the Salukis dropped a 93-86 decision to the Tigers. Stovall, who had his hottest night of the year against the Tigers in the first meeting, with 23 points, took a liking to the Tennessee outfit again last night. He played like he owned Bobbie Edmonds of Tennessee, holding the Tiger center scoreless.

Edmonds, who scored all six of his points in the second stanza, did not score a basket until 10:50 remained in the game. Edmonds murdered the Salukis off both boards in the first encounter and scored 23 points. But the Salukis--meaning the Messers. Stovall and Boyd O'Neal, who is improving with every game, put the clamps on Edmonds.

It was hot shooting Bill Bradley (he killed the Salukis last time with 25 points) and Willie Porter who kept the Tigers in the game with 20 and 24 points respectively. The Tigers had an unbalanced scoring attack with Edmonds off as Porter and Bradley accounted for two-thirds of the Tiger scoring output.

The Salukis were never really threatened until the last 11 minutes of the game when cocaptain Paul Henry went out with an ankle sprain. It was not determined how severe the injury was.

The Tigers kept chipping away at the Saluki lead in the second period and came within five points with 5:30 remaining, but baskets by Ramsey and Eldon Bigham put the game away for the Salukis.

The Salukis are idle until Friday night.

Girls: Course Titles Offer Help In Meeting Life's Big Challenges

By Judy Roales
FOR GIRLS ONLY

Girls' futures have been decided by the toss of a coin, a notice from Uncle Sam, or—in the romantic past—a duel.

So a girl just has to be prepared for life; things may happen suddenly. That's why choosing your classes in college is so important.

And this term you can advise yourself. There's no one to talk you into such nonsense courses as Mathematical Physics 513 or Russian 409. Throw out the courses you'll never use. This spring, take down-to-earth courses with a good practical application in the future.

The basic problem is deciding which of four different schedules to follow. Should you continue your studies in education? Or focus more attention on the field of home economics? But then an emphasis on business sounds interesting, and so does a "liberal" arts program.

Let's look at them all and maybe you can decide. The education courses seem most practical right now. They'd be a real help in finishing college. The courses are about the most practical found anywhere:

Higher Education 477, Principles of Higher Staff Management. Could you ever use a course in how to handle the "higher staff," the head of the department, the dean...

Journalism 266B, Machine Composition. Hal! You didn't even know that there were machines that wrote English assignments for you, did you? Where HAVE you been?

Or Higher Education 521S, Continuing Education. If you stay with this field you're well on your way to becoming a professional student, so this sounds very appropriate.

But then someday you just may need some knowledge of the womanly arts in the home. And Southern offers pretty good courses in that field.

Home Economics 356, Experimental Foods, prepares you for all the burnt toast, dry meatloaf and broken eggs of marriage.

And Home and Family 341, Consumer Problems, goes right along with the goods course. It surely must give information on the proper antidotes for poisoning and cures for malnutrition.

Nursing 386, Team Nursing, might be a help too. It isn't exactly a family-oriented course, but...say, do you suppose it's the football or the basketball team?

And what about that yearn to dabble in business? There are even courses that help you combine business and everyday life.

"Those who know" say Marketing 451, Traffic Management, is an easy A. All you have to do is get the instructor a parking place!

Marketing 334, Credits and Collections, sounds almost too familiar. The instructor might be looking for payment on some overdue notices from the local merchants.

If all else fails to interest you, try this sure-fire "liberal" arts schedule for spring term. The wide choice of courses offer knowledge for all phases of the season when "a young man's fancy turns to thought of love."

Recreation 310, Social Recreation, sounds like a good introduction to the warm weather activities.

And Health Education 489, Introduction to Vital Statistics, should supplement the recreation course by telling just how many guys for each girl, who goes where, and how to get 'em when you find 'em.

Geography 440, Independent Study, requires Advanced Standing. But it clearly indicates you're on your own, girl. You're out of the well-chaperoned, group-dating years.

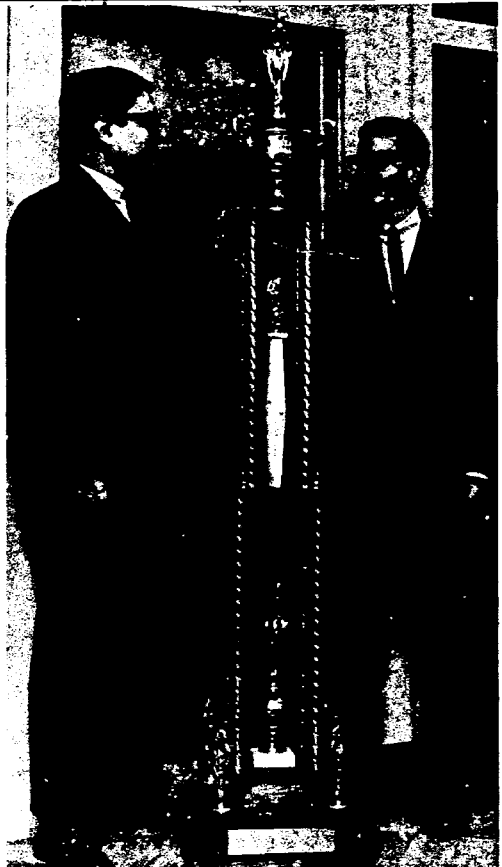

But there's always Government 502, Seminar on Pressure Groups, in case the man in your life turns out to be just a little more than you can handle.

Or even better in that case is Zoology 316, Pests and Their Control.

And, ah yes, English 416, Later Romantics, the midnight on variety.

But hurry, girls. Get to the sectioning center early. These courses fill up fast.

464,000 N.Y. Pupils In Rights Boycott

NEW YORK -- Almost half the city's one million public school pupils stayed away from classes Monday during a civil rights boycott for total integration.

A spokesman for the board of education said absenteeism amounted to 464,362 pupils and 3,537 teachers.

The one-day boycott disrupted the start of a new semester for the nation's largest public school system. Negro and Puerto Rican groups peacefully massed a protest for elimination of school segregation resulting from neighborhood living patterns.

Normally, about 10 per cent of the 1,037,757 pupils are absent on any given day and about 3 per cent of the 43,865 teachers.

The city's 850 schools remained open in the face of the demonstration.

The boycott and picketing dramatized minority group dissatisfaction with the Board of Education's plan for coping with school racial imbalances resulting from living patterns.

Sponsors of the protest declared that the board's intention to start busing children from one neighborhood school to another next fall is not far-reaching enough.

10 Killed in Crash Of Florida Plane

GAINESVILLE, Fla. - Ten persons were killed when a crippled South Central Airlines plane crashed and burned after takeoff from Gainesville Municipal Airport.

Sam Coester, president of the airline, said the dead included nine passengers and the pilot of the twin-engine aircraft.

The Beechcraft plane was Flight 510 which originated in Ocala and was en route to Jacksonville.

Senate Deletes Capital Gains From Tax Cut

WASHINGTON--The Senate voted 56-25 Monday to knock out of the House tax cut bill the reduction in capital gains rates on assets held longer than two years.

The initial roll call test on the $11.6-billion tax cut measure thus resulted in a victory for President Johnson. This was the only major change the administration asked in the House version.

Under the House capital gains provision, profits realized from sale of stock, real estate or other capital assets held two years or more would be taxed up to 40 per cent of the normal income tax rates up to a 21 per cent maximum levy.

It would retain the present rates, 50 per cent of the regular levy up to a 25 per cent ceiling, on gains from sale of assets held from six months to two years. Gains from sale of assets held less than six months are taxed at regular income rates.

Peking Returns Khrushchev's Burial Threats

TOKYO -- Red China has called Premier Khrushchev and Soviet leaders "the greatest spitters of our time" who eventually "will be buried."

Thus Red China Monday resumed the public debate with the Soviet Union by turning against Khrushchev his statement that the Communists would bury capitalism.

Peking Radio broadcast the attack on the Soviet Union which was to appear later in the official Peking People's Daily.

Referring to the Soviet leaders as modern revisionists--those who stray from the teachings of Lenin and Marx--the article said:

"Changes contrary to the expectations of the modern revisionists are taking place. The revisionists are producing their own opposites and will be buried by them. This is an inexorable law."

The new attacks on the Soviet party came soon after the Russinas and others in the Soviet bloc approved French recognition of Peking. The broadcasts dispelled any belief that such Soviet action might mean a lessening of the battle of words between Peking and Moscow.

Million Illinois Autos Still Lack '64 Plates

SPRINGFIELD--More than one million Illinois motorists have yet to purchase 1964 license plates, the secretary of state's office said Monday. Deadline for displaying new plates is midnight Feb. 15.

House Defeats First Attempt To Weaken Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON --Bipartisan efforts in the House turned back the first Southern-led attempt to weaken the civil rights bill Monday.

By a 176-125 standing vote, the House rejected an amendment that would have removed from the bill a proposal aimed at speeding court action in voting rights cases.

The test came on a motion by Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., to remove a provision that would permit the attorney general to request a panel of three federal judges to hear voting cases. They are now heard by the judge in whose district the case is filed.

The trial of strength got going today with the start of consideration of amendments.

Jean Saubert Wins Second Ski Medal

INNSBRUCK, Austria - Plucky Jean Saubert of Lakeview, Ore., added a silver medal to her earlier bronze with a flashing run in the women's giant slalom ski race and young Yank figure skaters got off to a strong start Monday in the United States' brightest day in the ninth Winter Olympic Games.

Miss Saubert, 21-year-old Oregon State coed, broke the monopoly of France's brilliant Alpine sister team by tying Christine Gotschel for second - a fraction of a second behind Christine's sister, Marielle, the gold medalist.

The winning time was 1 minute, 52.24 seconds. Jean and Christine did 1:53.11.

Jean's two medals are the only ones collected so far by the U.S. team. The Soviet Union, on the other hand, is making a team runaway of the Games, with a total of 15 - six gold, five silver and four bronze.

In the start of the men's figure skating competition at the Ice Stadium, Scotty Allen, the 15-year-old schoolboy national champion from Smoke Rise, N.J., shot into fourth place in the first two of five compulsory figures.

Monty Hoyt of Denver, former U.S. champion, was ninth and Tommy Litz of Hershey, Pa., who shines in free skating, was 15th.

Argentine Train Collision Kills 70

ALTAMIRANO, Argentina--The death toll in Argentina's flaming weekend train collision is estimated at 70. Twelve bodies have been recovered.

Railroad officials said a faulty switch may have sent the Firefly Express, jammed with a holiday crowd of 1,030, hurtling into a standing freight train 65 miles southeast of Buenos Aires at dawn Saturday.

Officers said the impact of the crash and fire was so destructive that the exact death count might never be known.

SIU Press Prints First 2nd Edition

The University Press recently announced its first second edition.

The book, "Illinois: Know Your State," has found acceptance throughout the state as an elementary and secondary textbook on the history and constitution of Illinois.

Vernon Sternberg, director of the University Press, said the acceptance was so wide that the authors brought the book up to date with a second edition. The authors are John E. Grinnell, vice president for operations, Mable Lane Bartlett, associate professor at University School, and Jess Turnbow, field representative in extension and education.

Sternberg added that the University Press has had several original books in two or three printings, some even in four printings, but this was the first second edition to roll off the presses at SIU.

Seats Available for 30 More On Group Flight to Europe

About 30 seats are still available on the special SIU flight to Europe this summer for students, faculty and staff who wish to travel independently rather than take part in the SIU-Oxford summer study program.

Some 60 persons have already signed up for the Oxford program and planned tour that will follow it, according to James Benziger, professor of English, and Douglas Rennie, professor of sociology, who are in charge of the program.

A Capital Airlines Super-Constellation will leave St. Louis for Scotland on June 17 with the SIU group and will bring the party back from Paris on Aug. 27. The cost, about $320, cannot be exactly calculated because the total cost of the flight must be divided by the number of seats sold.

Members of the university who would like to use the special SIU plane one-way only should inquire about the possibilities at the SIU-Oxford Program Office, 110 Anthony Hall.

About 14 students and faculty have already signed up for the flight. They are making their own arrangements for traveling during the 10 weeks aboard.

Rennie and Benziger stressed that parents and children of SIU students and faculty are eligible for the special flight if they normally live in the same household. Brothers and sisters, however, do not qualify.

The travel agency which has planned the general SIU tour has mimeographed extensive suggestions on how an individual or a small group may see Europe. These suggestions can be picked up at 110 Anthony Hall. Further inquiries may be made at Holiday Travel Agency in Carbondale, Benziger and Rennie said.

Rennie and Benziger urged interested persons to apply as soon as possible. They said a number of persons have expressed an interest but have not yet signed up. In case of last minute squeeze, priority will be given to the first comers, they added.

SIU Office Plays Key Licensing Role For Psychologists

Unless this year is an exception, some 150 highly-qualified practicing psychologists in the United States and Canada will apply for diplomas from the American Board of Examiners in Professional Psychology, Inc.

Their applications will be received at SIU, where the board's offices are located and where most decisions regarding awarding of diplomas are made.

The board, better known as the ABEP, is an intraprofessional organization which awards diplomas after extensive examination in recognition of superior competence of practitioners in clinical, counseling and industrial psychology.

Noble H. Kelley, research professor of psychology at SIU and executive officer of the board, said the ABEP has awarded diplomas to more than 1,700 practicing psychologists since its formation in 1947 in Washington, D.C.

Kelley has been the board's executive officer since 1951, when the ABEP offices were moved into facilities provided by Southern. There are 10 trustees on the board.

Frank Paine to Speak On Experimental Films

Frank Paine, supervisor of film production at SIU, will speak on "Experimental Films" at the Faculty Women's Club Newcomers Group meeting slated for 8 p.m. Feb. 6 in the Agriculture Building Seminar Room.

EXCITING THINGS HAPPEN AT FORD MOTOR COMPANY!

Good news for aficionados of medium-cubed V-8's who prefer to remain shiftless!

Four-on-the-floor is fine but not everyone's cup of tea. If you're an automatic devotee, we think you'll be cheered by what Ford Motor Company transmission engineers have designed in the way of exciting goodies to go with our new hotter V-8 mills in the medium-displacement class.

It's a spanking new 3-speed automatic drive that adds more hustle without extra muscle in Comet, Fairlane and Ford models for '64. Among its many virtues: less avoidups... fewer parts... smoother take-offs... up to 35% more go in low... extra braking in downhill work... whisper quiet in Neutral... quarterback-style passing performance!

The men at Ford who design such intricacies as transmissions are not just walking slide rules or talking computers. They're men who get excited about cars and the fun of driving them. They enjoy meeting challenges like "Design a new automatic drive with 4-speed stick-shift performance built right in." Frankly, they are among the most avid car buffs around and it shows in their work!

More proof of the exciting things that happen at Ford Motor Company to bring brighter ideas and better-built cars to the American Road.

Steps Toward Voluntary ROTC

Boosters of voluntary ROTC at Southern might well consider what specific action they should take to hasten the departure of the present compulsory program.

Since voluntary ROTC is a distinct prospect at Southern Illinois University and other universities across the country, it is well to consider what steps may be necessary here.

In January, 1962, students voted 4,300 to 1,000 for voluntary, rather than compulsory ROTC. Soon after, Student Council advocated a new study of the program.

In April, 1962, the Military Policies Committee studied the question. It recommended that the University postpone any changes until federal legislation, establishing a junior and senior voluntary program with scholarship stipends, passed Congress.

The Defense Department itself has proposed to cut the college ROTC program from four years to two, and to make a voluntary program possible.

For SIU to take advantage of such a change, the Military Policies Committee and the SIU Board of Trustees should be provided with full evidence of a campus consensus on compulsory-versus-voluntary ROTC.

The student body already is on record as favoring voluntary ROTC, but if necessary it should be polled again—perhaps at spring elections.

Council should declare itself in favor of the change.

A positive vote from the University Council should be sought to demonstrate faculty thinking on the subject.

Such statements from students and faculty would give the Military Policies committee a sound basis for recommending a voluntary ROTC program here if the two-year program passes Congress.

If Congress fails to pass the bill, such statements would give the Committee ample grounds to recommend serious consideration of a voluntary ROTC program here—even without the incentives of scholarships.

Book Review

He Carries World's Burdens

The Affable Hangman, by Ramon Sender. New York: Las Americas Publishing Co. 318 pp. $4.

Garrotting is a form of execution in which the executioner plays a closely personal role.

An iron and leather collar is placed around the neck of the condemned man. The executioner twists a lever and the collar breaks the victim's neck.

This is the state's form of capital punishment in Spain, the setting for this novel. Ramiro Vallemediano is an "executer of justice," commonly called a hangman, of a most curious sort.

He isn't just another 8-to-5 hangman; he chose the vocation after years of anguished study and searching for his niche in life.

His experiences during the years of odyssey provide some provocative if unusual insights into the author's view of the philosophical base of modern society.

Ramiro is a sensitive, intelligent, self-knowing man. Much of his experience is in the metaphysical realm. He takes counsel of hallucinations, of demons carried by the wind and of bodiless heads appearing in a dream; he communicates with pictures in a museum. But somehow he seems a lonely voice of reason crying in a wilderness.

In the end "he felt like one who renounces the world while taking upon himself the world's responsibilities."

The author, Ramon Sender, left Spain after the civil war. He now lives in Albuquerque, teaching at the University of New Mexico, and writing.

Action on Military Here Waiting on Congress

Why continue compulsory ROTC at SIU when it appears so unpopular, and when a compulsory program is generally considered inferior to a voluntary program?

More and more students ask this question as it becomes evident that compulsory ROTC units soon may be as rare on campuses as high-button shoes.

The attitude of the SIU military policies committee is one of wait-and-see. The Air Force says it will administer whatever program the University wants. As a result, it is not unlikely that voluntary ROTC will come to this campus soon.

Action awaits the fate of a bill now before Congress which would establish a two-year voluntary ROTC program with scholarship stipends.

"As soon as the bill now before Congress is passed, intensive study of the compulsory program at the Carbondale campus will be made by the Military Policies Committee," said I. Clark Davis, committee chairman and dean of student affairs.

"I think it will be enacted," said Col. George H. Blase, commander of the SIU detachment. "It's a compromise bill that would let each school operate as it has, or change to a new voluntary program."

The government's attitude is a hands-off one.

"The Air Force position is that they will support the University administration in whatever program it desires to have," Blase said.

"The Department of Defense took a stand in this matter early in 1960. It announced that a military requirement does not exist for a compulsory basis for ROTC, and the Department of Defense has no basis for favoring such a program.

"The Department of Defense leads the policy entirely up to the educational authorities concerned," he continued, quoting from a Defense Dept. statement.

A version of the bill currently before Congress would provide junior and senior voluntary cadets with $50 monthly—compared with the present $27—and increase summer camp pay. Scholarships to pay tuition, books and educational supplies would be available for better students.

It is a compromise bill which would permit schools to retain their present systems or move to the two-year voluntary program. Because two years of compulsory training would not be required, transfer students from junior college or non-ROTC schools would be eligible for the first time.

ROTC was activated at Southern in September, 1951, including non-voters. 65.9 per cent of the students and 30.3 per cent of the faculty polled that spring had favored establishment of a permanent ROTC unit at the University, according to an Egyptian of the period.

In addition to the campus poll, the faculty council on Jan. 30 had recommended ROTC as the only "sound educational method" of incorporating military training in the SIU program. A faculty vote April 21 approved the program.

Stimulating campus concern was the Korean War, of course. Fall term enrollment had been 3,082, but by mid-January, 1952, 194 students had withdrawn from school to enter the service.

"Students by taking ROTC can continue their college studies and in addition be officers upon entering the service," Egyptian editor-in-chief Bill Hollada pointed out.

In September, 1951, the Egyptian reported 600 students enrolled in Air Science I and 20 in Air Science III. Running the program was a staff of five officers and four airmen, who handled administrative duties.

The first four-year men to complete the program at SIU, 66 in all, were commissioned between September, 1954 and August, 1955.

In 1956-7 the Air Force commissioned 29 cadets. A basic corps of 1,361 men was handled by 14 officers and nine airmen.

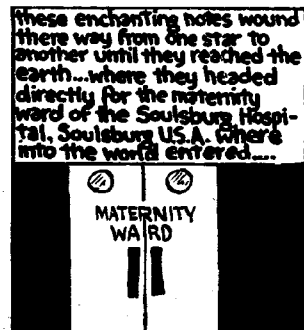

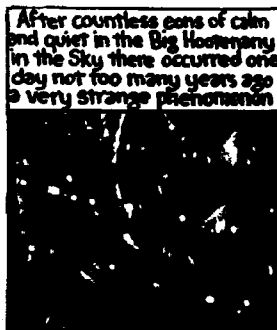

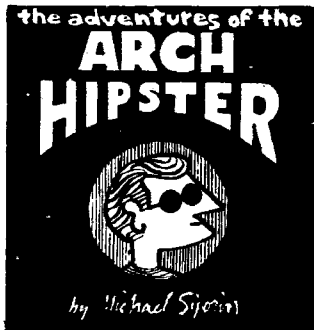

Because of a reduction in the basic requirement, the 1962-3 basic corps of 2,383 men was administered by 12 officers and seven airmen. During the period 34 cadets were commissioned.

The ROTC system originated in 1862 with the Morrill Land Grant Act, which gave individual states federal land. From sale of this land the states were to maintain state colleges, and along with agricultural and mechanical subjects they were to offer courses in military tactics. Most of them made it compulsory.

In recent years doubts have arisen as to whether compulsory participation is necessary. Schools such as Wisconsin and Michigan State Universities, and -- most recently -- the University of Illinois -- have gone to voluntary programs.

At Michigan State, the State News reports that voluntary ROTC, in its second year there "Still adequately serves military needs," although the executive order exempting married men from the draft and the adverse publicity received by the program as a whole have made attracting students into the program more difficult.

Southern's 'Georgia Peach'

Iubelt Ranks Frosh Star
With Top Saluki Players

If you're an athlete, and a good one, and if you come from Georgia, you'll inevitably be dubbed the Georgia Peach.

Well, Southern has an athlete. He's a good one too, and he's from Georgia, and Walt Frazier certainly is a "peach" of a basketball player. In fact, he's one of the best prospects in a long while. Although just a freshman, this 6-4 1/2 do-everything basketball player is being compared to the most outstanding Saluki of all, Charlie Vaughn.

"Charlie was a fancier ball-player," said SIU's freshman coach George Iubelt. "He (Vaughn) could shoot from further out, but Walt is a lot easier to work with and just might be a better all around ballplayer."

Frazier hit the high spot of the season last Friday night against the Evansville frosh when he scored 32 points, hitting a phenomenal 12 of 14 attempts.

But statistics don't always tell the true story and the score books don't say that Frazier made almost 20 points on assists and that he played both backcourt and a forward spot, filling in for the ailing Dave Renn.

You'd think he might be cocky, but not so, says Iubelt. "The kids all respect him."

Telephone Company
Interviewing Coeds

Illinois Bell Telephone Co. will have a representative on campus today to interview coeds interested in management careers.

Mary Crawford will conduct the interviews in the Placement Service office in Anthony Hall.

She is interested in talking to women math majors for jobs in the firm's computer programming division. She also wants to interview women liberal arts and general business majors interested in careers in traffic management.

Harmon Signs With Broncos

Denny Harmon, former Saluki defensive backfield stand-out two years ago, has been signed as a free agent by the Denver Broncos of the American Football League.

Harmon, who was drafted by the Chicago Bears of the National Football League last year and later quit to finish his college work played in the Senior Bowl game in 1962.

The 6-1 defensive back was the fifteenth draft choice of the Bears last year and was released before the regular season opened.

Harmon joins former SIU players Amos Bullocks, Houston Antwine, Sam Silas and Carver Shannon in the pro ranks.

the coach says. "He'd rather make the good pass and get the assist than shoot. They (the team) all like to play with him. He's a tremendous feeder. He's just a tremendous kid to work with and just good to be around. He's a leader."

"If he continues to progress and have the type of attitude he has now and if he continues to work hard," Iubelt says, "he's going to be hard to keep off the starting varsity unit next year."

"And if he continues to work as he has," the coach continued, "he's definitely going to be a pro-prospect."

Most coaches don't like to sing the praises of their ball-players-- especially in the freshman year for fear of spoiling them. But Iubelt thinks Frazier can take any kind of criticism.

The coach benched the former Atlanta prep occasionally this year because he "just wasn't playing good." But the coach explained the Frazier didn't suik over it, he just went out the next time and tried to do better.

It seems that the Georgia Peach is doing better every time out.

Frosh Stop Evansville, Illness
Might Put Renn Out for Season

The SIU freshman basketball team racked up its seventh win in nine tries this year by downing Evansville 79-72 Saturday night.

The final margin of only seven points was misleading, as the Salukis were in command most of the way. They held a comfortable 22-point lead with only four minutes remaining.

At this point, Coach George Iubelt sent in his reserves and Evansville began to close the gap. The Aces jelled too late, however, and the Salukis hung on to take the victory.

The game, which was billed as a revenge match between former prep stars Dave Renn and Roger Bechtold of Belleville, and Herb Williams and Ron Johnson of Centralia, had to be played without one of the main characters.

Renn had to sit out the game

because of a pre-game diagnosis of mononucleosis.

Renn has lost 23 pounds since reporting for basketball and as a result has grown weaker and weaker. Doctors think he might have had the disease since the start of the season.

A final diagnosis will be made this week. If it is confirmed that he has the disease, Renn may have to drop out of school for the rest of the term.

The frosh were further handicapped in the game by the loss of Ralph Johnson early in the game. The 6-7 center broke his glasses in a fall and had to leave the game because he didn't have another pair.

Hot-shooting Walt Frazier once again led the frosh in scoring as he tallied 32 points. The 6-4 guard from Atlanta, Ga., was hitting with near perfect accuracy from the field as he ported 12 of 14 attempts. He also connected on eight of 13 attempts from the charity stripe.

Bechtold was second in scoring for the Salukis with 15. Clarence Smith, who did a good job of clearing the boards for the Salukis, was next with 11.

Ron Johnson was the second best scorer as he paced the Aces with 26 points. The little guard was followed in scoring by his high school teammate Williams who added 13.

The next game for Iubelt's yearlings will be Friday night when they face the freshmen from Murray State.

Salukis Outswim Evansville
For 4th Straight Dual Triumph

SIU's undefeated swimming team posted its fourth straight dual meet triumph of the season Saturday with a convincing 57-37 win over Evansville College at Evansville, Ind.

Coach Ralph Casey's squad swept eight of nine first places in individual events and split the two relays to coast to an easy victory over the young Aces.

Southern's Thom McAneney, who wasn't slated to compete in any individual events due to a lineup change, was the meet's only double winner. The Miami Beach, Fla., sophomore, an outstanding performer for Southern all season, took top honors in the 50 and 500-yard freestyle events.

Other individual SIU winners were veteran Jack Schiltz, Dave Winfield, Mike Roberts, Andy Stoodly, Dale Cunningham and Pete Racz. Schiltz, a talented senior from Harvey, retained his undefeated status in individual dual meet competition by racing to a quick victory in the individual medley and Winfield, a surprising sophomore from Little Silver, N.J., capped his fourth consecutive dual meet blue ribbon in the 200-yard butterfly event.

A. C. Edwards, SIU's lone diver, suffered his first dual meet setback of the season as he was defeated by Evansville's Bill Foran.

The results:
400-medley -- Andy Stoodly, Pete Racz, Stoddard Smith, Ray Sickler (S) 3:54.1, 200-freestyle -- Cunningham (M) 1:56.

50-freestyle -- McAneney (S) 23.2.

200-individual medley -- Schiltz (S) 2:05.

Diving -- Foran (E) 235.8, 200-butterfly -- Winfield (S) 2:03.6.

100-freestyle -- Roberts (S) 52.0.

200-backstroke -- Stoodly (S) 2:10.7.

500-freestyle -- McAneney (S) 5:12.6.

200-breaststroke -- Racz (S) 2:26.8.

400-freestyle relay -- Foran, Jensen, Butterworth, Hauser (E) 3:35.3.

Tampa Weather In Carbondale?

The five-day weather forecast predicts a general warming trend for later in the week so it looks as if students may be struck by spring fever once again this weekend.

Students with dreams of surfing and swimming may find those plans slightly premature despite the balmy weather we have been enjoying recently.

Girls in shorts and convertibles cruising about town were common sights over the weekend as students basked in unseasonably warm weather.

Also Carol Hilliard, Sharon Trampe, Bonnie Adams, Joyce Niestemski, Lee Suarez, Sue Nattier, Linda Hoffman, Mary Ann Griot, Sue Roberts, Beverly Sellinger, Judy Toenboehm, Jane Hucklebridge, Marilyn Hamendes, and Evelyn Tatum.

Direction for Urban Sprawl Discussed at SIU Conference

Urban sprawl is an unstoppable development of the times which is much "cussed and discussed" but which can be directed with research, education and proper information, an SIU visiting professor, Jean Gottman, told Southern's two-day Urban Sprawl Conference.

The conference was a scholarly meeting of geographers, planners and others interested in the problem of sprawling urban developments. More than 100 persons participated in the conference, sponsored by the SIU Geography Department, honoring Gottman, director of the Twentieth Century Fund Study of "Megapolis" and University of Paris faculty member teaching at SIU this term.

City growth will keep going on and on, he continued. "A safe assumption is that within 25 years twice as many people as now will be living urban modes of life. The task ahead is to double all existing urban facilities within these 25 years. Only some unforeseeable and still more awesome catastrophe could stop or delay this trend."

Life in a nice one-family detached structure, surrounded by a piece of green and with easy access to the place of work is a common desire among the majority of Americans and people of other countries, Gottman said. The planner's dilemma is the citizen's dream to achieve a mode of life combining all the advantages of a rural setting and urban life and excluding all the shortcomings of both. "At the same time he is reaching for land and heaven, for security and opportunity, comfort and excitement."

This makes for progress and sprawl, Gottman said, but it also leads to disorder and frustration. Urban problems probably could be managed better if many people did not believe bigness in cities is bound to breed ugliness and sin.

Many developments fostered by urban sprawl could be regarded as nice small towns just by being neighborhoods which enjoy some stability in area density and in the type of population, setting themselves off from their surroundings by some rules.
