I. N. U. The winner, who has been chosen by preferential voting of the whole faculty, will be named on the college radio program, Half Hour on the Campus, next Tuesday at 2:30 on Station WJPF. Gov. Green Reveals Stand On USI Issue, Assembly In Recess

By MORRIS POLAN

With the General Assembly in adjournment until January 26, supporters of the bill to convert S. I. N. U. into the University of Southern Illinois this week continued their activities in behalf of the measure as Governor Dwight H. Green told news services he thought the U.S.I. idea was "entitled to consideration."

In a statement to United Press Tuesday, Green said "the people of the southern part of Illinois have been clamoring for a State University for a long time, and I feel they are entitled to consideration, although I haven't analyzed it." The Governor's statement came on the same day the former Governor of Illinois gave his outright endorsement to establishment of a university for the southern section of the state.

On Monday the U.S.I. bill, having been introduced in the Senate earlier by Senator Crisberry, Murphy, was brought up in the House of Representatives by Rep. William McDonald, also of Murphy's. He had over thirty co-sponsors from Southern Illinois.

Education Committee to Be Named

During adjournment the president of the Senate and the Speaker of the House will complete appointment of various committees including the Education committee whose responsibility it will be to consider the bill and report it out to the Senate and House, respectively.

The bill is reported upon adversely in both houses but will then be ready to hold debate and vote upon it. Three readings of the bill are necessary before it may be voted upon, however, so it will probably be some time before its actual consideration of the floors of the legislative bodies.

Repercussions From the North

Other developments in the U.S.I. campaign have been a second, complete endorsement carried on the editorial page of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and the appearance in the January 10th issue of the Chicago Tribune of an article containing statements from northern sources opposing the creation of a second state university. The latter article contained anti-U.S.I. arguments of G. J. Koerner, former trustee of the University of Illinois, and A. J. Brumbaugh, Dean of Students at Chicago University. (An answer to these arguments may be found on the editorial page of this issue—Ed. Note.)

The various groups are continuing their campaign—the Legionnaires, labor groups, Women's clubs, and other sponsoring organizations, as well as the committees set up at S. I. N. U.

Southern Alumni to Contain Arguments

One of the most effective pieces of propaganda of the whole campaign is expected to be the forthcoming issue of the Southern Almanac which will appear about January 25, and be devoted almost entirely to the "Case for U.S.I." The Almanac will carry introductions by President Pulliam and John Gray Girard, president of the S. I. N. U. Alumni Association. Arguments will be written and under the supervision of the committee in charge of U. S. I. publicity, which is comprised of Drs. Troncy, Harris, and Schneider, all of the English department.

In addition, the "Case for U. S. I." will be illustrated with photographs prepared with the help of Dr. English of the Manual Arts department, and Miss Esther Bramstedt. These photographs will show in striking and impressive fashion the great discrepancy in educational opportunity be-

Rev. McCaw, who will be introduced by President Roscoe Pulliam, will speak to the students on the work carried on by the new interdenominational religious foundation. Former director of the Inter-church Council of the University of Chicago, Rev. McCaw arrived in Carbondale last week to assume his new duties which will include the counseling of individual students, supervising of religious and social activities, and the teaching of elective courses in religion.

The new foundation which is located at 215 Harwood avenue, comes as a result of several years work on the part of the S. I. N. U. Student Christian Council and the Carbondale Ministerial Association.

Gregor Piatigorsky To Be Here Next Thursday Evening

Columbia Concerts, managers of Gregor Piatigorsky, have a standard test for all applicants for office jobs. The applicant is asked whether he knows anything about music. If the answer is "yes", the next question is: "Can you spell Piatigorsky?" If the applicant meets the test, he is engaged.

The Fort Wayne News-Sentinel in speaking of the exhibit pointed out that, "Besides having been called by a jury composed of artistically prominent Charles Burchfield, Charles Hopkins, Kenneth Hayes Miller, and Millard Sheets, this sector of the annual was further honored for travel display by the noted critic, Forbes Watson." It is almost unbelievable that this exhibit was limited to artists who had never before exhibited in a Carnegie International for the display brought to light a number of brilliant names in the art world. One of the names of the exhibit, came 4,812 canvases from 2,600 artists in the United States from which 202 outstanding paintings were chosen to appear in the "Directions in American Painting" exhibit. "Little Gallery" To Feature Special Display

A list of paintings selected for the American Federation of Arts by Forbes Watson, eminent art critic, from the Carnegie Institute's "Directions in American Painting" will make up the next exhibit of the Little Gallery of Southern Illinois Normal University in Carbondale. The display will begin January 17 and including February 15.

This exhibit which has been on an extended tour covering points throughout the United States, including Fort Wayne, San Francisco, Seattle, Salt Lake City, and Iowa City will be held in Carbondale for two after a month's sojourn at S. I. N. U. This is the second in a series of exhibits being presented by the Little Gallery under the direction of Mr. Burnett H. Shryock, head of the college art department.

Horticulture Group Attracts 230 At Meeting This Week

Approximately two-hundred thirty people from this section of the state attended the sixty-ninth annual meeting of the Southern Illinois Horticultural Society held on the campus of S. I. N. U. this week. The highlight of the meeting was the banquet on Monday night, at which the guest speaker was Mr. Gilbert Clayton of the Illinois Chalk Stones Company. The topic was "Selling Horticulture Fruits and Vegetables" and he talked about the relation of the chalk stones to the consumer.

Pulliam Speaks on U. S. I.

An earlier feature of the banquet was a short talk by President Roscoe Pulliam, who discussed the case for a University of Southern Illinois to the group. Presiding was S. C. Chandler, consulting entomologist at S. I. N. U. and a member of the Illinois Natural History Survey. During the evening entertainment was furnished by Dr. W. C. Cassell and a committee of members from the college agriculture club. The S. I. N. U. Madrigal Singers also were featured.

Mr. E. Muckelroy, head of the S. I. N. U. agriculture department, opened the program with a welcoming speech. He stated that the meeting were the problems of the local fruit growers; many of the topics related directly to the war situation.

Other Topics Discussed

"Helping the Illinois Fruit Grower Solve the Labor Program" was discussed by Mr. J. C. Bushman of the U. S. Employment Service, Chicago, Illinois, while Merrill J. Ward, field commodity representative on the O.P.A. office at Springfield, spoke on "High Gasoline and Fuel Oil Rationing Affects the Fruit Grower."

A number of specialists in topics concerning horticulture from the University of Illinois spoke on various problems confronting fruit growers in this area, and reported on research problems which have recently been conducted. S. C. Chandler appeared on the program of the meeting several times.

One interesting feature was the fact that a member who attended this sixty-ninth meeting of the Society was present for his fifty-fourth consecutive year.

NEED FOR DAY NURSERY ACUTE IN THIS AREA; PWA TO AID PROJECT

According to a recent committee report, there is an acute need in the Carbondale defense area for a day nursery school to accommodate the children of mothers who are engaged in war work. A committee of townpeople, in collaboration with members of the college faculty, have been working on a plan to establish such a school under the supervision of the college.

An offer has been made by the PWA to fully equip a model nursery for the Carbondale war-worker mothers, provided that S. I. N. U. will sponsor and supervise the nursery school program. This offer by the PWA will hold good only on the condition that the college administration give its approval and support to the plan before Feb. 1. Comparable to Other Defense Areas

The need felt in this defense region has also been of outstanding importance in other defense areas throughout the nation. To alleviate this condition, the federal government passed the Latham Act which provides for financial aid to nursery schools in defense areas. The proposed nursery would relieve financial support under this Act.

In addition to children of war-worker mothers, the nursery will accept the children of mothers who are attending college and whose hus-

Esther Shubert Returns To Head New Department

Miss Esther Shubert, who was a member of the S. I. N. U. Library staff from 1940 to January, 1942, has returned to the college. During her absence she worked as assistant cataloguer at the University of Texas. Her previous experience includes a two year period as an assistant in the Cataloging Department of the University of Illinois. She received her B.Ed. from Eastern Illinois Normal at Charleston, Ill., and an M. I. S. degree were received from the University of Illinois.

Miss Shubert is now the head of the new department of Acquisition and Catalogue. This department is the result of a recent reorganization of the Library. It will handle all gifts, periodicals and the cataloging of the Library.

At present there are six students who act as assistants. One permanent assistant is to be added in the near future.

THIS WORLD OF MUSIC

By BEEHIVEN
The value of recorded music in the camps and stations where the men of our armed forces are training or based for fighting has been discussed in this column on several occasions.

Photographs and recordings are especially useful in outlying posts in this country and overseas, where it is difficult or impossible to bring living professional talent save what happens to be in the ranks.

Miss Augusta Kaplan of New York City recently sent a long letter to Howard Taubman of the New York Times, telling how her brother, Corporal Jack Kaplan, and his buddy, Private Winfred Rusker, mapped out and carried through a scheme to give the men on their post somewhere in the West Indies weekly concerts of recorded music. Miss Kaplan's report is worth passing along not only for itself but for the stimulus it may provide to civilians to make contributions of records.

Corporal Kaplan of New York and Private Rucker of Fort Worth, Tex., have been presenting Sunday concerts at 2 p. m. every week since then. The first program was to obtain enough discs to assure that the programs could be worked out and announced a week or two in advance. The shop in the nearest town had sold most of its supply of good music, and little was coming in. Miss Kaplan requested his family to ship his own collection from New York, and he and Private Rucker pooled some of their cash and ordered other recordings from stores in the United States. They also approached local citizens and officers of the post for donations of their recordings, and were promised complete cooperation.

RESOURCEFUL SOLDIERS.
Being a shrewd soldier, Corporal Kaplan avoided selling his colleagues any such thing as "Music Appreciation Hours." He has arranged for the "Concert Club," also arranged for a "Hot Concert Club," but this folded up after a couple of meetings. Miss Kaplan implies that this corner finds it hard to believe that the boys did not get "flying" records sent to all west of the Rockies for dancing, possibly not for listening. In any case, we assume no responsibility for what seems like a slur on an honorable art form, hot jazz.

The concert has been given at the post theatre. Corporal Kaplan and Private Rucker, who are not proud, have swept the hall each Sunday morning before concert time. They have designed the printed program. They have prepared color effects for the stage. They have arranged for the best of heat and light. They have been their own publicity agents. And Corporal Kaplan has been the commentator at each concert.

The commanding officer has not only attended the concerts, but helped out with a loan of a piano. He has arranged for the Second Piano Concerto. Other officers, army nurses, the chaplain and occasional visitors have sat in on the meetings of the Concert Club. More power to it!

The grapevine is whispering of a

Flynn Goes To Trial On Girls' Charges

Errol Flynn and his attorney, Jerry Giesler (left), were serious as the film actor's trial on statutory charges opened in Los Angeles. But one of his "bearded accusers," Peggy Lauer Satterlee (right), flashed a broad smile and embraced her father, William C. Satterlee, for new cameras.

By LORRAINE DITZLER
Sprinkled among the "sloppy" sweaters, tweed suits, bonnies, and garish socks which make up the traditional garb of Joe Southern were half a dozen or so uniforms of Southern men in service who re-visited the scene of their former activities last week. Among them were Dee Rodd, commissioned ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve, Glen Mallory, warrant officer in the Army, and Dwight Teel, second lieutenant in the Signal Corps.

Mallory, a native of Sesser, has been in service nearly two years, and is now stationed with the Seventh Armored Division at North Camp Polk, Louisiana. As a warrant officer, his official title is "Mister Mallory," although he wears the uniform and receives the salary of a lieutenant. His specialty is administration. He stated that he has been extremely fortunate to still be in the States, as his former outfit is now ready to go overseas, although he prophesied that the armored divisions would have most of the final "mopping up" to do.

Mallory's address is W. O. Glen Mallory, Hq. 31st Armed Regt. 7th Armored Div., North Camp Polk, Louisiana.

U. S. I. COMMITTEE IS NAMED BY STUDENT COUNCIL

A former student Dwight Teel spent several months on the faculty of the rural education department as critic in a practice school. Visiting the campus with him was his wife, Eugenia, also a Southerner, now teaching.

Lloyd Rains gives a summary of his months in the service: "I was sworn into the Army on Saturday, July 11, 1942, following the close of the first semester. I was sent to Scott Field Reception Center and tested for four divisions of the Army... as Dame Fortune would have it, the Air Force was the choice... was at Atlantic City, N. J., for three and one-half weeks... spent in taking tests, classifications, basic drill."

Pvt. Rains describes the next six weeks as a "regular picnic" in a C. A. Control Tower Operators' school in Flushing, New York, with fifty men and no officers in an apartment house, with only school hours to keep and the rest of New York to see, with $21.50 every ten days to live on. The group of fifty was chosen from 40,000 at Atlantic City and all had an IQ of 125 or more.

To quote further: "Saturday night, Oct. 31, we left Grand Central Station, bound for Patterson Field, O. We were assigned to the Second Communications Squadron at that field. We arrived there Nov. 1, and within 30 minutes we had been given a choice as to which field we were to get further training. This field seemed anywhere from the Mississippi east and from Washington, D. C., and Louisville, Ky., north. That is how I arrived back at Scott Field on Nov. 3. Since then I have been working as a student operator in the control tower at the field here. Our job is to regulate all air traffic within three miles of the airport. It is a very interesting type of work and I would not exchange places with any civilian of my age if I could." Rains now qualifies as a regular operator.

The University of Chicago School of Meteorology is represented this week in a letter from Lloyd Mitchell, '42, who mentions Vernon Sneed and Charles Turner (in room 7501 in his class, and later former graduates in meteorology Charles Fardeau, La Vern Gwaltney, and Arnold Sugg. Lloyd's address is A/C Lloyd Mitchell, AAFTD, University of Chicago, International House, Room 765, Chicago, Illinois.

Scarab Deadline Set For February 14; Copy Already Arriving in Preparation

Material is already beginning to come in for the 1943 Scarab, literary magazine published by the Sigma Tau Delta, English fraternity. This year as in past years, the editors expect that the level of material will be high, reflecting students' viewpoints. Material has already been received from several previous contributors, and it is expected that the contest among the human rhetoric classes will uncover new fields of talent.

Three divisions of short stories, essays, and poems will comprise the three divisions. It is believed that the contest for material this year will bring in better material than heretofore. Besides the expected excellence of the material, there is a hope in the English office, conveniently located for this purpose.

OFF THE RECORD:
There are three recordings at hand of Moonlight Becomes You from the film, "The Road to Morocco." It is a conventional waltz tune, but it is interesting to compare the styles of three ensembles. Harry James and his orchestra (Capitola) dress it up in an arrangement fit to kill and play it with the performance of a demagogue. Johnny Sherwood and his orchestra (Capitol) are not quite as crafty in their approach, and their straightforward job is the most satisfactory. Johnny Jones and his orchestra (Decca) play the palest arrangement, and the performance is rather unimpressive. What Johnny Sherwood and his orchestra (Capitol) have done with a lively tune by Johnny Mercer, Harlem Butterfly, James and "I've Heard That Song Before," and that "Live Alone and Dance," which is being around for a while.

FOUR SOUTHERN BELLES EXPRESS ENTHUSIASM FOR PROSPECTIVE CURTISS-WRIGHT ENGINEERING COURSE

By CONNIE LAFLOON
In talking with four of the nine girls who came to work, we professed our interest in taking the Curtiss-Wright engineering course, several interesting features came out—the most interesting of which was the fact that all the girls were wholly, heartily interested in the course, that they would be required to take, although these courses to the uninitiated, seem quite difficult. Some of these courses are: applied mechanics, mechanical drafting, production engineering, aerodynamics, and stress analysis, besides "chemistry" and physics.

The girls interviewed were: Marion Davron, 30 Lipe, Mildred Brown, and Marian Minn. Marion Davron, a sophomore from Ileria, is a math major. She has been accepted for the course. The course to her sounds good because she has always been interested in the sort of time, particularly aerodynamics. She said she always wanted to get into the engineering field, and this sounded like a good opportunity. The 40 hours per week did sound rather difficult, but she felt that by doing it she could accomplish something and consequently wouldn't mind it so much.

Baron is Quizzed
Marion Davron, a junior from Granite City, is a music and mathematics major. These fields seem rather unrelated, but as Marion explains it, she has a scientific background. She has not definitely decided yet whether or not she will take the course if she is accepted. It comes down to the question of whether the advantages of going to a large university and becoming an engineer, which she is interested in, compensate for the delay in her education, and whether or not an engineering course would be as desirable as the teaching profession. The latter still course of work—20 hours of class work and 10 hours of directed study.

Others Give Opinions
A 40 major, she has been undecided about taking the course only as she expressed it because of her home responsibilities. She said that she was especially interested in stress analysis, drafting, and design work.

Beaux Arts Ball at Normal

Silhouettes along the wall, indirect lighting, soft blue ceiling, a map overhead, all went to make up the "Winter Wonderland" at the Beaux Arts Ball sponsored by the Art Department last Saturday night at Illinois State Normal University. Hank Messer's orchestra provided the music for dancing. A novel feature of the Ball was the attendant floor show. Alexis Samaras, senior Art major, acted as master of ceremonies.

Lits Have Meeting at "Coffee Shop"

The Lits held their first meeting of the new semester at Wheaton College at the "Coffee Shop." The evening's entertainment was emceed by Wayman Cleveland, president of the Lits. Musical numbers and a hilarious on-stage play provided the entertainment for the evening's program. The Lits is an organization to which all literary societies of the campus send representatives.

between Northern Illinois with its thirty-six accredited four-year institutions of higher learning and Southern Illinois with only one four-year college, and it teaches the college. They will also depict the comparative densities of populations of the two sections as well as nearness of resources. Other points to be brought out through pictographs are the ratio of students to instructors in the two areas and the per capita investment of college property.

Copies of this issue of the Southern Illinois will be mailed not only to all alumni of the college but also to every member of the legislature.

too many of them never come back, and there is a serious depletion of good leadership.

As the secretary of the North Central Association Mr. Eitmbaugh also should familiarize himself with the studies of the 1940 census figures, which show that it is the same proportion of people between the ages of 18 and 24 were attending college in the south as in the rest of the country are actually attending college in the north 72 counties, there would be 4,000 more citizens of Southern Illinois in college. This effectively shows any claim that the upstate educational institutions are adequately meeting the public needs of all of Illinois.

G. PIATIGORSKY HERE THURSDAY

ance and understanding. His record in Schubman's Piano-istic is of similar caliber.

Mr. Piatigorsky's "Ensemble Album," which he has done with Valentin Pavlovsky at the piano—his accompanist incidentally for his recital in Carbondale—consists of 104 records of short pieces, ranging from Saint-Saens's ever-popular "Swan," to Albinus's "Pierrot," to Beethoven's "Habanera" and Debussy's "Reverie" to Prokofiev's "Masques." These are the pieces for which Piatigorsky's audiences clamor at the end of a recital program; the pieces they hum as they leave the concert hall.

Program For Thursday
Piatigorsky's program for his appearance here next Thursday evening includes two compositions written especially for him. The first of these, "Gavotte Satirique" by Isidor Achron, was written by the distinguished Russian-American composer in 1941. The second is "Variations on a Theme by Rossini," as offered by the Czech composer, Bobusler Martin.

Piatigorsky will play also the Beethoven Sonata in A major, Opus 69, which has been the composer's favorite solo sonata. It realized the possibilities of the solo to the utmost. Here he has employed the instrument in all its registers to achieve a stinging quality seldom equalled in other compositions for that instrument.

Kappa Delta Alpha

Kappa Delta Alpha initiated 3 men into active membership last week-end. The three men were Jack Trotter, Leonard Swadlow, and Hugh NeCowan.

Spanish Club Fiesta

The Spanish Club Fiesta held last Friday, January 8, in the Little Theater was the first social function of the Spanish Club this year. A number of the foreign guests cooperated by dressing in costumes imitating either Mexico, Brazil or Spain, and adding color to the room which was decorated in typically Spanish style complete with the traditional "pinatas".

The "pinatas" is a water jug decorated to resemble such objects as a cactus plant or a reindeer and filled with gifts or candy. It is suspended from the ceiling and broken with a stick. In Spanish homes, at the end of a party.

Dr. J. Cary Davis, sponsor of the club, enthusiastically led the guests in singing Spanish songs, accompanied by John Niechowitz with his accordion. Mary Frances Allen played a Spanish piano solo and various groups were conducted by Audrey Field. The highlight of the evening was reached when, spurred on by shouts of the crowd, the blindfolded guests broke the "pinatas", scattering candy and gifts below. After informal dancing the party closed with a Conga line.

Courtview Co-op

Last evening Courtview Co-op had Dean and Mrs. E. G. Lentz as guests for dinner. After the meal there was a general informal discussion of problems and activities of the Co-op, with special reference to war-time difficulties and functions of the local inter-cooperative Council.

Next Friday evening, January 22, Courtview Co-op plans to hold its Winter Term House-Party, which this year will be expanded into a special "last-for-the-duration" reunion

NAVY TO TAKE VOLUNTEERS ONLY IN JANUARY

MARINE CORPS AND COAST GUARD ALSO AWAITING COMBINED-CALLS PLAN

Pending establishment of procedure to levy calls for inductees for all branches of the armed forces, which is expected to be perfected about February 1, the Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard will obtain virtually all of their required manpower during January from among Selective Service registrants who are available for induction. Inductees for the army during this period will be selected and forwarded by the local boards in accordance with existing procedure prescribed by Selective Service regulations.

The executive order issued by President Roosevelt on December 1942, halted induction into any of the armed forces of registrants between the ages of 18 and 25 years except under the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended. This limiting of enlistment to men of military age was bracketed, it may be inducted at the discretion of the respective services, made it necessary to provide temporary induction procedure for the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard, which had not been recasting through the live Service Selective Service Act. According to their calls with the Army can be made.

Incidentally, the induction of volunteer Selective Service registrants into the Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard under this temporary arrangement will be in the order of preference. Those who have been recruited otherwise than by enlistments since World War I. During the previous conflict enlistments were stopped in October, 1918, and during that month and the next, up to the armistice on November 11, 1918, approximately 250,000 men were drafted for the Marine Corps and about 1,300 for the Navy.

Instructions sent to local boards by national headquarters (L. B. R. 372) outlining temporary induction procedure for the Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard state that any registrant between the ages of 18 and 25 who wishes to volunteer for induction into one of these services may make application with his local board by completing an application for voluntary induction (form 16B).

Dr. J. Cary Davis, sponsor of the club, enthusiastically led the guests in singing Spanish songs, accompanied by John Niechowitz with his accordion. Mary Frances Allen played a Spanish piano solo and various groups were conducted by Audrey Field. Rumors Flit As Anthony Hallers Fear Evacuation

By DOROTHA TWOMEY

There has been much talk lately about the taking over of Anthony Hall for use by the armed forces. The proposed plan is to bring a group of Army or Navy men here for training at the college and quarters along at the Hall and at various places in town. Whether this will or will not occur, we students do not know.

The girls at Anthony Hall, in general are reluctant to leave the dorm but feel it is their duty to do as they are asked if this plan goes into effect. Opinions range from "I don't want to leave" to enthusiasm for the idea. Many of the girls say they do not know when they could find another place to live, while several have expressed the opinion that it would be nice to live outside, perhaps in an apartment.

Some Suggest Other Possibilities
One of the girls made the suggestion that barracks be erected on the football field if the men are brought here. Another said their coming would be good for the school, and still another that it would be our patriotic duty to do as the other girls are doing and give up our dormitory.

"Other people are doing so much that we should be willing to do what we can," was one verdict.
Another comment was, "I'm going to give up my career to entertain the boys."

A number said that we should be willing to give up our comforts to aid those who are doing so much for us, and one of them even offered to leave her bedspread and frilly curtains for the boys to use.

One bonnie lass admitted that leaving her pretty room was going to be a hardship but that she was willing to make that sacrifice. As one student put it, "If I have to do it for my country, I will do it for my country."

"I've just moved in and hung my curtains up, and I'll be darned if I want to take them down again, it's a third floor girl's lament.
Another moaned, "I've just invested $5.50 in my Anthony Hall pin."

As a rule the Anthony Hall girls agree that they will move if necessary, but they earnestly request the men to take care of the furnishings.

Former Faculty Member Has Position at Texas U.

Dr. Alleen Carpenter, former member of Southern's Women's Physical Education Department, recently accepted a position as associate professor of physical education at the University of Texas. Since leaving here in 1938, Dr. Carpenter has been in charge of the Physical Education work at the Kansas City Teachers' College, Kansas City, Missouri. Dr. Carpenter is becoming very well known through the country through her writing and her frequent participation in national and regional conventions.

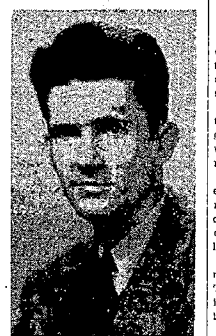

retained in Class I-A but will not again be forwarded for induction into regular combined calls are levied for all branches of the armed forces. A volunteer who is rejected as manifestly disqualified will be placed in Class I-F.

Volunteers for induction into the Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard are required to provide their own transportation to the nearest recruiting station or substitution of the service for which they volunteer. Travel required thereafter will be at government expense.

Registrants volunteering for induction into the Army ahead of their call by order number will be forwarded to Army induction stations at the earliest opportunity in accordance with existing procedure prescribed by Selective Service regulations.

Occupational Deferment
WASHINGTON (ACP)—Men in good standing who have had a year of almost any sort of engineering course—including sanitary, industrial, radio, transportation, mining and metallurgy—have a basis for requesting occupational deferment, according to a recent amendment to Selective Service's Occupational Deferral, No. 10.
The same goes for men who have more than two years remaining to certain other specialized courses—bacteriology, physics, geophysics, astrology, chemistry, mathematics, meteorology, naval architecture and psychology.
If you're interested, you might check at your local Selective Service Board, which probably has a copy of the amendment.

Reynolds Leaves SINU For U. S. Marine Corps

Bill Reynolds

Bill Reynolds, from Vietnam, outstanding senior, received notice this week to report for duty with the United States Marine Corps. Bill has been a well known figure on campus life since he came here on a scholarship in 1938. At present he is editing the 1943 Obelisk. Always an active participant in college affairs, his voice has been heard many times, either in hearty support of some issue, or in violent criticism of things as they are.

He is a member of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity; Kappa Delta Pi, honorary scholastic fraternity; and has been active on the staffs of both the Egyptian and the Obelisk. One year he was editor of the Scarab, what was then the literary supplement of the Egyptian.

Establishing residence at Harvard Hall as a freshman he has been active in many social activities. Recently he was chosen for the "Who's Who" in American Colleges and Universities.

Cattle Scuttled In Tucker Start

Young Bandmen Had to Clear Stable for Dancing Listeners

Many musicians have been launched on careers by appearing in theaters, concert halls, and dance palaces... but not Tommy Tucker. He started his career in a barn.

The young maestro, who hails from the plains of North Dakota, got his start playing in a stable that was converted into a dance hall at night.

Tommy, who since has played in every leading city and resort in the nation, will appear Monday night over the Blue Network at 9:30, E.W.T. on "The Victory Parade of Spotlight Bands."

The barn playing engagement has never been entirely forgotten by Tommy, who is brutally reminded of it every time he sees a cow. He hates cows.

Cuts Versus Fingernails
When Tommy graduated from the University of North Dakota, he soon found himself at a piano playing with a group of college friends. They were playing at a spot outside of Minot, S. D.

The location was strictly a barn. Each night the band appeared, the boys would go down and herd the cattle out into the fields where they would bawl until the end of the dance.

When it rained... the cows could not go out. So the cows stayed in the barn contentedly chewing their cud while Tommy and his boys chewed their fingernails at home.

TOWN OF SINGERS

Portsmouth, Va., is a town that produces singers for Tommy Tucker's orchestra... by coincidence or otherwise. The first girl singer in the band came from there, and Amy Arnell, who will be featured with the orchestra when it appears Monday night on "The Victory Parade of Spotlight Bands" at 9:30, E.W.T. over the Blue Network, also calls Portsmouth her home town.

MAROONS SMOTHER RED BIRDS 41-30 SOUTHERN LEADS ALL THE WAY

By Hal Butler

Despite pessimistic pre-game forecasts by the Southern backers, the Maroons continued their victory march at the expense of last year's conference champions.

The boys from Old Normal seemed to persist on playing slow, deliberate basketball, but this proved very ineffective against Southern's onslaught. The Maroons opened the game with a passing attack that was nothing short of superb, and used their fast break with success time after time. The officials found it extremely difficult to keep the game under control, and at times it resembled a "free for all."

22-11 At Half

The intermission came with Southern in front by 11 points. Normal didn't break the brand of ball they were playing, but there wasn't a breeze of hope that they could do about it, so the "letter-spirit" brand of ball continued throughout the game.

Normal's First Conference Game

This was the Red Bird's first conference tilt, and they had no intentions of giving up so easily. Shortly after the second half began, Normal pounded in 3 quick baskets, pulling up to within 6 points of the lead, but this slight change was short-lived, as Southern re-opened their offensive.

Millspeugh High

Center Bill Millspeugh led the scoring for the victors with 34 points, closely followed by captain Sebastian who compiled 11. Baratta was a standout in the defensive department and Sheffer, the only substitute used by Southern, certainly had plenty of fight.

Evansville Next Fee

The Maroons will journey to Evansville Saturday night, seeking revenge for the defeat they received by the Aces in their opening game. Evansville has a very good record, and it should be another "hair-raiser."

SINU GYM TEAM GETS BEST RATING FROM A.A.G.U.; RYLANDER HONORED

The Amateur Athletic Gymnastics Union in their annual year-book paid tribute to the Carbondale Teachers' Gym Team of 1941-42.

A photo of last year's squad appears on one of the middle pages of the book with last year's squad members listed. Southern's team was credited as being the best in the country among the smaller colleges and universities. Credit is given to the fine work of Coach DiGiovanna who worked so hard to build his team into a strong unit. Mention is also given to Roy Rylander as one of last year's best gymnasts.

C'dale Subdues Charleston, Ill. Wesleyan Last Week-end

Starting slowly, but gaining momentum as they roll along, the Maroon and White subdued two more strong foes consecutively last Friday and Saturday nights.

Carbondale moved into Charleston with a determination to win, and never gave the Panthers even a slight flicker of hope throughout the entire game. Southern's fast break was superb and the whole team seemed to function like a well-oiled machine. Captain John Sebastian netted 27 points alone, and was taken out of the game before the second half was completed. Southern had a 10-point lead at the intermission, and it was quite evident that the situation was well in hand.

Dick Lehr, Charleston's highly reputed forward from Albion, scored a grand total of four free throws. This magnificent job of guarding was turned in by Ed Moody, diminutive but dynamic guard from Du Quoin.

REPORTER ON THE RAMPAGE

By BOB EATON

Last week I spoke of the intemperance and other undesirable qualities which over-emphasized athletic prowess; this week I would like to give you a moment on a more timely topic related if not evolved from the former.

The closing days of the month will find many in the teenage bracket laying aside books and taking up more serious implements. Among these in this particular age-group you will find the ambitious, the intensely ambitious. Psychologists treat this fierce desire for living as merely one of the symptoms of an adolescent, pre-responsibility period. Nevertheless other aspects can easily be considered especially by one who, by chance, happens to fall into the group in question.

Go back into the service without too much remembrance of secret are students out of widely differing fields; pre-medical, pre-law, pre-engineering, pre-journalism; technical trades, etc. Many are interrupted in the middle of their study; these same look depreciable to the day when the door is breached and their progress forward more discernible. Injustice dominates them naturally; those that are sincere, that is, and for what will they plead on their return?

That they might continue and complete their studies with the least possible interruption or delay; that they might apply their finest efforts and abilities toward the cultivation of theorizing and the commencement of action—the practice of their profession or trade—is all they ask!

It is my contention that those serious minds be permitted to develop; for posterity's dependence upon them is tremendous to a degree comparable only to their individual responsibility to posterity!

It is my contention that no technical training be forced upon them after the war.

It is my contention that they be reinstated at their particular colleges fully accredited in Physical Education, at present deemed compulsory by law!

VIEWING THE Intramurals

By HAROLD SHANAHAN

Monday's Games

Six opening round games were played Monday evening, three in the Evansville and the normal basketball men's gym and three in the women's ball season in the men's gym, the Chi Delta five defeated the Spirits of 76-25; N. E. A.ounced Dunbars 31-14; and the House of 110 quarter overwhelmed the Gym Team 31-5.

The Chi Delta Chi team played much smoother game than did the Spirits and were able to build a comfortable margin throughout the game. Everett Goddard scored points to lead his club's scoring; but was aided by Green, Hays, and Wright. The House of 110 was led the Spirits in scoring with 35 points to tie for the game's scoring honors.

Waldo McDonald and Robert Hood shared scoring honors with the N. E. A. victory over Dunbars. Each scored 19 points to combine for 22 of their team's 31 points. Warren St. James led the Dunbar quintet with 5 tallies.

Winding up the evening's play, the House of 110 were led by George with 9 points. The Gym Team had scored 19 points when Billy Parsons, who dropped in 2 points.

In the women's gym the K.D.A. and the Parkview Lodge game opened festivities with K.D.A. winning 32-21. This game produced more scoring than any of the others and was interesting to watch.

The closest game to be played was the 27-20 Dangers' victory over the House of 110. The Dangers had fought all the way. Bob Fox led the Dangers with 12 points and Carlo Baker paced the Jerks' scoring with 6 points.

Winding up play in the Women's Gym was the Sigma Beta Mu and Chi Delta Chi contest. The Beta Mu, by several football and basketball veterans, showed tremendous power and ability to win their game 24-11. Carlyle Michel scored 7 points for the Beta and Louis Marchel scored 5 for Harwood to lead their team in scoring.

Tuesday's Games

Spirits 20, Moody's Whiz Kids 14. Both teams showed plenty of fight but were lacking in scoring power. Rockwell McCreight again led the Spirits with 8 points. The Whiz Kids' scoring was evenly divided among four players.

K.D.A. 10, Dunbars 13. A low scoring contest marked by inaccurate shooting and wild passing. Ed Falkerson led the K.D.A. squad with 7 points and St. James scored 4 points to lead the losers.

Parkview 37, Gym Team 9. The Parkview quintet showed a great display of scoring power to easily win their first win of the season. Ed Kerr led his team in scoring with 14 points and also led in the night's individual scoring honors. Tom Evans led the Gym Team with 4 points.

Jerks 23, House of 110, 15. Evening up both teams' records with one win and one defeat, the Jerks, paced by Carlo Baker's 21 points, upset the House of 110 five. The Jerks pounced on records repeatedly to build up their lead. Charles Mescher led the House of 110 with 6 points.

SOUTHERNERS OUT FOR REVENGE IN TOMORROW NIGHT'S ENCOUNTER

With the victory over Normal Wednesday night as an added stimulus, Southern's cage squad will be out for revenge when they meet Evansville again on Saturday night. Evansville defeated Carbondale 44-38 in the Maroons' first contest of the season, but it is believed that this game will see a different story.

Evansville were led by their rangy-center and captain Galloway in their game here December 10. A forward, Chambers, and a guard, Miller, were also very effective that night. The Indiana quintet possesses height and experience and have very accurate shooting eyes.

Have Won 5 Out of 8 Games

Carbondale has been clicking well lately; last few games and have garnered 5 out of 8 contests. Captain Sheffer for N.E.A. Tom McDonald, McPhail, and Hood started hitting for the Maroon quintet and pulled their team up to 10-4 at half time. But the height and rugged determination of Sigma Beta finally led them to a hard earned victory.

Ending Tuesday's evening's round of play was the Chi Delta Chi-Harwood Hall contest.

The score: Chi Deltas 35, Harwood 15. Jack Hays, who displays his tumbling talent so well on the gym team, looked equally potent in stopping in field goals in basketball. He scored 5 baskets and 11 points for a total of 11 points to lead his team. Green, Hedges, and Goddard were also well up in the scoring column for the Deltas. Louis Marchel and Wayne Kallenbach each scored 6 points to pace Harwood Hall.

A Little Forecasting

Two nights of action have been completed and the teams can now be judged as to their chances of victory. The Sigma Beta Mu and Chi Delta Chi quintets appear to be the strongest outfits. The Deltas have Nick Milosovich, Bill Malinsky, Carlyle Michel, Stanton Cook, all of whom played varsity basketball at one time or another. This team possesses speed, experience, and insight with which to defend their lead as co-leaders. The Deltas are the best organized squad in the loop and have the finest ball handling players Bill Green, Jack Hays, Jack Hedgoc, and Everett Goddard are valuable to a winning team for they possess fine shooting eyes and penetrating tips. The Beta and K.D.A. quintets will be a thorn in the side of every opponent they face and may have something to say about who will be the top team at the finish.

Sunday morning in the assembly of the student Sunday school classes at the Walnut Street Church, vocation will be emphasized further.

Ina Ray Hutton Is "Dare-Devil" of Music World

Ina Ray Hutton, a "conservative" by birth, but a dare-devil by her-itage, musically leans the latter direction.

After all, Ina Ray, has the only female "big name" in the orchestra world... and her band is composed entirely of males.

Ina Ray will bring her band to the air lanes Tuesday night when she appears at 9:30, EWT, over the Blue Network on "The Victory Parade of Spotlight Bands."

Born in Chicago, young Miss Hutton picked up her scabbling rhythms from her mother, Marvel Ray, who was a professional pianist. Her dare-devil' heritages comes from her great-grand-uncle, General Pick-ett.

Miss Hutton made her first professional appearance with Gus Edwards. To this day she both sings and dances... part of her early stage training. Strange as it seems, though, she does not play with her hand... but makes a lot of her own arrangements.

She started in the band business with an all-girl orchestra. But they were "easier to look at than they were to listen to," so Ina Ray broke it up.

Still wanting to lead a band, she signed up male musicians.

Incidentally, despite the fact that her blond loveliness attracts the male members on the dance floor, Ina Ray directs her music directly to the female members of the dancing public.

ELECTRICIANS NEEDED!

The commandant of the navy yard at Mare Island, Calif., has issued an urgent request for many skilled electricians whose services are needed immediately for the completion of essential repairs and replacements on battle damaged ships and other naval vessels critically needed in the Pacific fleet.

The Navy Department will pay the cost of transportation and subsistence from Chicago to Vallejo, Calif., for qualified personnel to staff these very vital vacancies.

In addition to electricians, experienced boiler-makers, cooperatives, instrument makers, machinists, sheet metal workers and shipfitters, are required. Wages from $1.10 to $1.20 per hour are paid for a forty-hour work week with overtime of the Extension 589.

BOOKS IN REVIEW

By DELBERT HAMILTON

cluded Farrell's trilogy. The book is admittedly pornographic and about as geographically realistic as anything in print. But it is above all a sincere work, and it has captured a young man, a neighborhood, a city, and a period as few novels have ever done.

Albert Halper, who doesn't leave much for the imagination either, hasn't been bothered by any censorship or controversy. But his writing up to the moment hasn't been quite as impressive as that of James T. Farrell. Or maybe the Farlites just haven't discovered him yet.

The work of Halper and Farrell is not for the squeamish. It is not for those escapists who look to books and movies for a world in which there is just the right touch of tragedy to satisfy their sadism, but ends with that final joyous climax. It is for those who can stand to see life as it is and not as it might be—As William Saroyan says, (and we hate to quote him) life has never fallen into the neat pattern of the short story.

The work of Halper and Farrell is for those who have a faint suspicion that the brave new world is still a long way off.

ALL-AROUND

Sammy Kaye, who will bring his orchestra to "The Victory Parade of Spotlight Bands" Wednesday night at 9:30, EWT, over the Blue Network, is an all-around athlete. While attending Rocky River (Ohio) high school, he excelled on the gridiron, the cinder path and the baseball diamond.
