TRACK TEAM MEETS CAPE GIRARDEAU HERE APRIL 10 TO OPEN SEASON

MAROONS WITH MANY OF LAST YEAR'S STARS MISSING WILL DEPEND ON NEWCOMERS

Many track team aspirants have already started their training and the number out for the spring sport is encouraging. With several of the stars from last year's squad missing, several places will have to be filled with new men. It is hard to tell just now the team is going to round out in all the events, but if interest and hard work mean anything, some of the members are bound to get results. At any rate the record made by the team last year is something to try to duplicate and then better, but the boys will have to step if they succeed in the latter.

Capt. Bricker, one of the outstanding performers in the field events, has always been a consistent point winner and promises to repeat. Wright and Howell are letter men in the dashes and will be with the team. Laudor, David, and Schrade will be other favorites in the field events. Akin, a consistent winner of the past in the distance runs, is on hand. Ray who jumps and McMahon who runs in the quarter in style will be in at the mid-spring term in time for the big meets.

The most promising of the large group of new candidates are Crane, who is a runner, and Watson, who is best in the high jump. Several are ambitious to make the team but will have to get up and hustle to come up to the qualification requirements. Conditioning is what most need, and hard work is the only thing that can bring it. If the track was in good shape every evening, the problem would be a lot easier.

The first meet is on the home field with Cape, April 11, and a meet is scheduled for every week following until the season closes with the conference at Peoria.

Members of Phi Delta Kappa Dine at Hall

During the recent meeting of the Southern Illinois Teachers' Association fifteen members of the Phi Delta Kappa, a national honorary fraternity, dined together at Anthony Hall.

The resident faculty members who belong to the fraternity are Drs. Merwin and Thalman, Messrs. Warren, McIntosh and Cox. The other members present are teachers within the territory of the Southern Illinois State Teachers' Association.

President Shryock, State Superintendent Blair, Dr. Judd of the University of Chicago, President Brooks of the University of Missouri, Mr. Cooper, United States Commissioner of Education, Dean Wham, and Mr. Hooper were guests at the dinner. This is the first meeting to be held here. The fraternity hopes it will become an annual affair.

Bert Hiller, Recent Student, Dies Mar. 18

The funeral for one of our most beloved friends and comrades, Bert Hiller, was held at the Rock Hill Church on Thursday, March 20. As a former member of the Southern Illinois Teachers' College football squad Bert was one of their hardest and most faithful workers, as member of the Zetetic Society he was always ready and willing to do his best, as a student he was one of the most conscientious on the campus, as a friend he was ever loyal—"one of the best friends ever had."

Bert died on Tuesday, March 18, following a grave nervous breakdown. He had been failing in health for some time due to overwork.

He was living with his father and mother on a farm southeast of this city. He was twenty years of age. All of his life he earned the love and respect of his friends and neighbors because of his conscientiousness in all things.

Eighth Grade Issues Junior Egyptian

The eighth grade is certainly to be congratulated upon its new journalistic venture, "The Junior Egyptian." This little magazine, covering both the school events and the current events, has, besides interesting reading material, entertaining little sketches by Frank Phillips. Other contributors to the success of this magazine are:

Peggy Hundelon, Editor-in-Chief.
Imogene Curtis, Associate Editor.
Jane Albon, Social Editor.
John Khrysher, Sport Writer.
Friedrick Fraser, Sport Writer.
Pauline Parker, Joke Editor.

FLORENCE YOUNG NOW PLEDGE OF SORORITY

The Delta Sigma Epsilon has recently pledged Miss Florence Young of Dupe, Illinois into its sorority. Beginning about April first is the "Hell Week" or initiation week for the pledges, Miss Mauriene Webb of West Frankfort, Illinois, and Miss Joan Louzeay of Belleville, Illinois, into the National Chapter of Alpha Delta.

President Shryock Notified of Full Class A Standing

At a recent meeting in Atlantic City the American Association of Teachers Colleges voted to Southern Illinois State Normal University an A classification as a Senior Teachers College, with no deficiencies noted. (Signed) CHARLES W. HUNT, Secretary Treasurer, The American Association of Teachers Colleges.

Annual Banquet for Basketball Squad at University Cafe

The Maroon basketball squad attended a banquet at the University Cafe, March 4, as their last engagement of the season. Several of the players brought their lady friends and all enjoyed the food and the program that followed. After the tables had been cleared away many danced for a while.

Dean Wham was a guest and made an appropriate talk. Professors Margraves, Scott, Di Giovanni, and Dr. Boyer were present and responded when called on. Coach McAndrew briefly reviewed the season in which the team completed the scheduled games with only mediocre success but finished with a brand of basketball that won the State Teachers' College tournament for the second time in three years. Coach Lingle also responded.

Hiller to be Captain of Next Year's Basketball Squad

At their annual banquet the letter men elected Kenneth Hiller as next year's basketball captain. Doc has been a regular for two years and a consistent performer at forward this year. He was selected as forward on the second all star team at the State Teachers' tourney and his all around good play during the season won for him the captaincy of next year's quintet. It appears as if he will have the majority of this year's squad to help him next year as only Lutz and Wilson are seniors.

AG CLUB WELL LAUNCHED ON WORK FOR NEW TERM

Societies Working on Play Choices

The literary societies have started work for the spring entertainments. The proper committees have been appointed and Miss Trovillion is now considering what plays will be presented. Although no decision has been reached, the plays "Dulcy" and "Seven Keys to Baldpate" are now likely to be chosen. Nobody entering the Spring term, unless he is a former student can expect to try-out for the plays.

Selection of the casts will depend mainly upon the work that the candidates have done in the society. The plays are to be held on Wednesday and Thursday nights of graduation week. On Tuesday night of that week there will be a joint meeting of the societies which will resemble those held many years ago. It will consist of orations, musical numbers, short one-act plays, and other features. This is the first time that the societies have been allowed three nights of the graduation week.

Miss Trovillion Reviews Plays

The Strut and Fret had its meeting last week in its new location in the Chemistry building, Thursday evening at 7:15. Violet Lasater opened the program with a review of an article outlining the technique of the modern war drama. An accordion solo by Dean Goetz offered pleasant diversion before Miss Trovillion's clever reviewing of two plays—"Death Takes a Holiday," and "Berkley Square."

FRATERNITY PLEDGES GLEN THOMPSON

William Glen Thompson, a sophomore from Cypress, Illinois, was made a pledge at Sigma Alpha Pi last Monday night. He is the only pledge at the fraternity now. He entered school last fall but was forced to leave during the winter term on account of illness and was not able to return until the beginning of this term.

EFFORT TO REGULATE NUMBER OF OUTSIDE ACTIVITIES TO MEET HIGHER SCHOLARSHIP

The student council representatives have been investigating the grades of students in connection with the amount of extra curricular activities. The President hopes to regulate the number of outside activities to meet a higher degree of scholarship. At the meeting March 19 the following material from authorities on this subject was presented. This is printed for the students to read and discuss. Another students council meeting will be held Wednesday, March 6, for further consideration:

I. Extra-Curricular Activities Defined.

University of Michigan—Public Activities—Public activities include (1) Participation in any oratorical or debating contest, or any dramatic or musical exhibition; (2) Service on student publications; (3) Holding a class or University office; (4) Official connection with any of the so-called college functions such as the Junior Hop, Woman's Banquet, and similar activities. The list is not intended to be exhaustive, but merely to indicate the character and scope of the activities referred to.

II. Rules Governing Eligibility to Extra-Curricular Activities

1. Probation.
a. The prevailing rule: Students placed on probation for any cause may not during the period of their probation, take part in athletics, or in any other extra-curricular activity.—University of Illinois.

b. Conditions of Probation.
University of Illinois—(1) Failing to make a passing grade in a minimum of eleven hours. (2) Failing to pass the entire number of hours when registered in eleven hours or less. (9) Failing below C in more than one third of the work, without at least two hours or A or B.

Van Brown Receives High Appointment

Martin Van Brown, son of Professor W. O. Brown and a graduate of the Southern Illinois Normal University in 1925, has recently been appointed an interne in the Medical Corps of the United States Navy. This honor was obtained as a result of his excellent record in a strenuous six day examination. This examination was open to all graduates of all medical schools in the country and a very limited number was chosen. Mr. Brown is a graduate of the University of Illinois Medical School. This position carries with it a considerable salary and provides much greater opportunities for research and experience than the average interne receives. His many friends here will be glad to hear of his good fortune.

Wheeler Library
Dedicated to Use of
S. I. N. U., 1904

When the Main building was first erected, generous space was reserved for the use of the library. Although this space was increased with the erection of the old Science building, the continued growth of the school in a few years in the enrichment of study and the needs of the library made it necessary to consider the matter of more room. At the suggestion of the president of the board, Judge S. P. Wheeler, it was decided to ask for an appropriation for the erection of a library building. The 43rd General Assembly generously set apart $25,000.00 for this purpose, and on May 15, 1903 Governor Yates approved the bill.

On June 6, 1904 the library was formally dedicated to the use of the Southern Illinois Normal University with Judge Wheeler delivering the principal address. Because of his interest in the institution for so many years and his special interest and help in securing a new home for the library, the building was named in his honor. Through the kindness of Mrs. Wheeler a very excellent likeness of Mr. Wheeler was given to the library.

Until this year the Wheeler Library has been the home of the library and of the literary societies and Christian associations a well. Again the needs of the library demand more space, and all societies and clubs, with some reluctance at leaving their old home but with more pride and enthusiasm over their new, moved into the new Chemistry building. Now as soon as all carpenter work is completed, the entire building will be ready for the use of the library.

THAT NINE O'CLOCK DATE

Nava Fulkerson

I can hardly wait for that nine o'clock date! I am just thrilled to death. Do you remember how you felt when you just knew that your mother was going to bring you a new dress from town? Well, that is just the way I feel now. Why doesn't that bell ring? If I didn't know my history lesson, the bell would ring this instant.

If Dr. Holt asks us about Kit Carson, I'll bet I write more about Carson than any of the other girls. Carson was one of the heroes in The Covered Wagon. That should be enough information about Kit to let him know I have read all my outside reading.

O, yes, Isaac Hill was even more important than Andrew Jackson. Hill was such a noted man that I will not stop to think about what he did. We all know that Andrew Jackson was President of the United States in 1492. Jackson was rather an old-like fellow. He didn't have pep like William Henry Harrison. Jackson was very fond of hard cider, too. It has been said that if you gave Jackson an all-day sucker and a barrel of homebrew, he would have been content to sit on a toad stool and smoke a five-cent cigar forever.

And there was George the III, who led in the reign of terror. They say his horse was almost buried in those big mud puddles after that awful storm came. It rained and it rained. Poor old George III was almost washed out of his saddle. I reckon he should have been in a covered wagon when he led that army across the Delaware. The Delaware was frozen then. I believe he could have crossed the river without any difficulty at that time. All that George III needed was the advice of one of the modern generation. Poor fellow! His mother's advice was too much for him. No wonder he became insane.

I wonder if that history teacher will ask us about battles in this examination. If he does, I am safe for once. One of the most important battles that was ever staged was the battle of maps. This battle happened just before the Webster-Ashburton Treaty. One of the causes of this famous battle was the Maine-New Brunswick boundary line dispute. The disputed boundary line was where the new Brunswick and the old Brunswick records met. Webster claimed the old record, and Ashburton said that the New Brunswick record belonged to England. Webster and Ashburton quarreled and quarreled, but they couldn't agree. Uncle Sam came along and said, "Hey, there, you fellows, what are you fussing about?" Webster and Ashburton both hung their heads in a shameful way, and then they apologized to their Uncle Sammy. So, you see, Uncle Sam acted as a mediator. Uncle Sam took hold of Webster's and Ashburton's hands, and he led them out to the old wood shed. He told them that they must settle all of their grievances at once, or they would have to take nature's remedy. Ashburton had heard his mother speak of nature's remedy as being that nasty old hickory tea. You know, the English do not like that kind of tea. The result of the dispute was that Ashburton gave Webster seven of the twelve inches on the Maine-New Brunswick record. So, you see we have a compromise as a result of the battle of the maps.

Lets see. Where is Washington's native home? O, yes, Rhode Island was where he lived. And what was the name of the town? Monticello is right. I don't remember his street address. I don't guess anybody will want to write to him, though. I was just about to say Washington lived in old Virginia, but I'll bet that poor old fellow would turn over in his grave if I should say that he lived in that state.

There goes the bell. I just feel as if I am going to make an "A" in that history examination. I am so happy. This is the first time that I have felt as if I knew my history well enough to make a good grade on the test. When Dr. Holt reads my paper, he will not feel that all of his work has been in vain in his nine o'clock history class. I am certain that I shall be better convinced than he when I get my paper back.

Prof. S. (playing golf): "Say caddy, stop laughing. I can't see anything to laugh at."
Caddy: "You are not standing where I am."

Commercial Club
Has Picture Made In Granite City

The S. I. N. U. Chamber of Commerce is a student organization composed of students interested in commerce. The club was organized the beginning of the Fall term, 1929, with the purpose in mind to give the students an opportunity to develop themselves in debating commercial questions, to studying commercial problems, and to afford an opportunity for visiting industrial plants in nearby cities.

During the Fall term the organization met every other week with an interesting program. The members visited the Franklin American Trust Co., The Simmons Hardware Co., and the City Hall, all in St. Louis. Each of these visits gave to the students a knowledge difficult to get from books. In February the club made another trip to St. Louis and vicinity on which occasion it visited the Commonwealth Steel Mills of Granite City, the Bell Telephone Co., and the Lindberg trophy display at Jefferson Memorial in St. Louis. Plans are being laid now for a third trip to be made the seventh week of the spring term.

The accompanying picture was made by the Steel Co. upon the organization's arrival at their large mills.

One of the interesting things at the steel mills was the castings of a large railroad engine in process of construction. These castings cost approximately fifty thousand dollars each. The machines which finish these large castings were also very expensive. A battery of five of these is said to cost more than a million dollars. The club spent one full day in this factory which has thirty-two acres under one roof and is, perhaps, the largest steel castings foundry in the world.

Exchange

A class in journalism has recently been started at the Teachers' College at Charleston and is improving in enrollment rapidly. Credit is given for the work in this course and the material produced is published in the News.

Four hundred and thirteen students are on the list for teaching positions at Normal, Illinois. The placement committee has sent letters to the superintendents and principals of each city in Illinois, showing the distribution of candidates by departments. Ninety-nine of this list will receive their bachelor's degree this year; forty will complete three year course; two hundred seventy-two will graduate from the two-year curriculum.

Approximately 100 students at Normal, Ill., are studying spelling outside of class, according to the instructor of orthography. A regular spelling examination is to be given later on, and a class is to be taught the first half of the Spring term.

The new gymnasium for Carthage College will soon be ready for occupancy. It is a Gothic structure located in such a way it faces the campus.

A real treat was given to the Bradley Tech students one Wednesday in February. They had the privilege of hearing Count Tolstoy, the second son of the famous writer, Leo Tolstoy. Count Tolstoy spoke on "Russia, Before and Since Bolshevism."

ARCHITECTURAL DRAWING CONTEST CLOSES

The architectural drawing contest at the Southern Illinois Teachers' College is over. The winners are: Dean Wiselader, first prize, $12. Hugh Richart, second prize, $8. Earl Shipley, third prize, $5. The interest and enthusiasm developed among the young men was remarkable. Mr. John Y. Stotlar and W. C. Fly donated $15 and $10, respectively, thus making the contest possible. The judge were: Miss Gladys Williams, Mr. W. W. Friedline, and Mr. T. S. Thompson.

DEBATING BY RADIO

Debating by radio has been instituted at Chicago-Kent College of Law. Interscholastic debates are held over station WMAQ on subjects of general interest. Furthermore the debates are judged by radio listeners. This system of debating should be highly commended and it is worthy of imitation. It could be done very easily at this school. The most important debates of the year between the Illinae and the Forum debating clubs will take place in a few weeks. Why not say that the winning teams will be allowed to broadcast the debate over station WEBQ at Harrisburg. This would show the people of Egypt what the students of S. I. N. U. are really doing. It would be a boost to the debating clubs and a treat to the debaters. It would be instructive and interesting to radio listeners and would give the local station an opportunity to improve its programs. We know we have first class debaters at our school but perhaps others do not.

CHEWING GUM!

Blow the bugles, beat the drums, call the people and celebrate! At last we have found a method whereby students may make A's. Now, just notice how simple this new device is. Merely work your brain as hard while studying as you do your jaws while chewing gum, and the A's will tumble down to you as water pours over Niagara Falls. There is no longer any necessity for students to moan and groan over laboratory experiments, Latin exercises, or collateral readings. Just turn this energy which is wasted through moaning and groaning into hard work and watch the results. The American people spend enough energy in chewing gum to turn mountains into mole hills or vice versa. Why not direct this superficial work into new channels and develop the brain. At least work enough to keep out of work!

Nothing is more annoying to an instructor teaching a class than seeing a dozen jaws wag up and down, back and forth, and all the way around; in fact, he often wonders if has a bunch of alligators from the Nile who are snapping at flies instead of a group of supposedly intelligent college students.

SPRING ATHLETICS

Spring is here and along with it comes track and tennis to hold first place in the interest of those who are athletically inclined. The students who are interested in making the school teams in these spring sports will receive every chance to practice and improve their technique.

Owing to the added interest and program of development of the last few years, track is rapidly coming into its rightful place in our athletic program. Last year the team held several stars and decisively outclassed the opposition in the State Teachers' College meet. The better schedule for this season should encourage every candidate to train with a purpose and develop the very best that is in him.

What has been said about track is equally true of tennis. Last year interest was given to improving the facilities for practicing, and this year an excellent schedule has been arranged. Both track and tennis are games in which team work, while necessary, is not predominant. Individual skill and endurance, so important in these sports, must largely be developed on individual initiative. Both require, as do academic studies, real honest-to-goodness work and time in order to make them successful. Let's hope that the best talent in school represents us in these sports.

Many S.I.N.U. Grads Teach in Cook County

There are more than fifty teachers in Cook County who were formerly students at S. I. N. U. This goes to show that our school and committee on placements control more than a small area in Southern Illinois, instead their influence extends over the whole state.

The following Cook County teachers were formerly S. I. N. U. students:

Otto F. Aken, Director of Education, Des Plaines, Ill.
Robert Verbines, Foreman Junior High, Chicago.
Marie Verbines, Des Plaines, Ill.
Ethel Jane Kelly, Evanston, Ill.
Dorothy Boucher, Des Plaines.
Hope Osburn, Morton Grove.
Geo. Wells, Supt. of Schools, Elmwood Park.
Gladys Hubbs, Elmwood Park.
Jay K. White, Des Plaines.
Helen White, Des Plaines.
Adda Trobaugh, Hibbard Junior High, Chicago.
Mary Howe, Des Plaines.
Wiley Simmons.
Pearl Simmons Shank.
Hill Warner, La Grange.
Jessie Shaw, La Grange.
W. H. Etherton, Supt. of Schools, Morton, Grove, Ill.
Clara B. Wheels, Strandberg, Steger.

Ralph Klien, Grave School, Des Plaines, Ill.
Warner Dixon, West Northfield.
H. C. McNeal, Des Plaines.
Eudora McNeal, Des Plaines.
T. U. Brown, Arlington Heights.
John B. Kennedy, Chicago.

Robert Bolerjack, Cicero.
Mildred Eades, Des Plaines.
Edna Robinson.
Lois Keith.
Alice Brown, Berwyn, Ill.
Mildred Irvin, Berwyn, Ill.
The exact location of all these graduates could not be obtained, but we know they teach in Cook County.

Alumni News

Ned Foley, coach at Du Quoin T. H. S., took his team to an invitational tournament at Steelville last week and came home with the trophy for first place. This week they journeyed to Cutler where they competed in another tournament and again they brought home the trophy for first place. Foley is a graduate of S. I. N. U. and has had much success with his team this year.

Oren McClure, coach of the Du Quoin eighth grade team took his team to an invitational tournament at Murphysboro last week and they too came home with the trophy for first place. McClure is also a graduate of S. I. N. U. and has had a very successful year.

JOHNSTON CITY

Miss Virginia Swain, a former S. I. N. U. student surprised all her friends by announcing last week that she had been married since last June. She has resigned her teaching position and has gone to join her husband, Harry Canter, who is working in Chicago.

Miss Alma Forbes, who finished the Junior College course the Winter term, was employed to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. Canter.

The Junior High basketball team coached by Kenneth Job, won second place in the sectional tournament at Herrin last week.

Ray: Rainey.

May: Well, Rain, your patter sure is terrible!

Echoes and Re-echoes From Our Campus

Echoes and Re-echoes from Our Campus firmly believing that Full many a flower is born to blush unseen

And waste its fragrance on the desert air recently set out to prove this theory. Below is only a part of what seems to be conclusive proof of the contention:

Wilbur Wyatt has been chosen one of three judges in a beauty contest in South Africa. Mr. Wyatt's being thus officially chosen to act in this capacity is ample proof of his skill and more, a recognition of a rare ability.

Dave Wilson, recently cited for bravery for courageous activities while participating most valiantly in a Central American uprising, has returned to his studies at the Southern Illinois Teachers' College. We are predicting that soon his picture, like that of that great soldier, General Motors, will be decorating the cover of Saturday Evening Post, Colliers, Liberty.

Edwin Nicksch has recently become the husband of Countess Von Buren of South Australia. More news by private wire to be recorded later.

Glenn Thompson, wishing to give a thorough test to the Biblical story of Peter's walking on the sea, was discovered, at an early hour Monday morning, skipping and dancing on Lake Ridgeway. The story is fully authenticated. Who now will say that college life tends toward making one a disbeliever in the Bible?

Mr. Sherritz discovered Clarence Stevenson at three o'clock Wednesday morning, in the topmost part of the tower of the Science Building, taking the tower's dimensions. When Clarence was accosted, he rubbed his eyes sleepily and asked: "Where am I? . . . Just another victim of sleep walking."

Leta Margrave, who is writing a novel about a dashing young South American pugilist, recently took a trip to Rio De Janeiro for the purpose of authenticating certain data to be used in the climatic chapter of the book.

"Can'st thou never learn that thou must not return at such an hour?"

"And have I not just told thee that Arthur wished me to stay and finish another game of poker with the other knights of the round table? It is not for a lord to dispute his king although his lady has thus commanded. "Nevertheless, if thou can'st not arrive at an earlier hour next time thou shalt find thyself forced to spend by night on the cold stones of the countryside!"

"Verily, my lady, thou wert always thus. But when'er I arrive home from a hard day at the office and thou art still playing bridge with the queen, I shall partake of nourishment at the club!"

My lady smiled out with an elegant nose, and my lord addressed me "Raise the doors vaillet. I just had a tiff with my wife."

"I saw a letter from college that says our Nellie's been stealin'?"

"What?"

"Says she's takin' home economics."

THE SPHINX KNOWS:

Who wrote a check at the book store and started out without giving it to the clerk.

What Anthony Hall girl got a letter with the following expression in it: "You tell — that if she doesn't write to me, I won't let her be in my heaven. And we're going to have Paul Whitman's orchestra playing on a smooth, sandy beach where water is gently lapping, and nobody will ever have to wear anything more than a one-piece bathing suit. No, she can just go on over to St. Peter's heaven and stumble around over gold cobble stones, wearing a pair of heavy wings, trailing a long white robe, and twanging a three-string harp. And whoever cared for harp harp music more than fifteen minutes, anyhow?"

Who isn't selling his agriculture book until grades are out.

What three girls are good prospects for track. They made it from the Barth theatre to Anthony Hall in exactly thirteen minutes and twenty-two seconds Monday evening.

AND WONDERS:

How many broken legs, fractured skulls, and black eyes were sustained in the mad rush for Miss Bowyers' class, Tuesday, third period.

What history student called for an outside reading book Tuesday. There is a reward for such people — in the next life if not in this. P. S. I hope you enjoy harp music.

PURPOSE OF EDUCATION TO FIT YOUTH FOR LIFE, SAYS ROSS L. FINNEY

"What education needs in the present bewildering transition is to locate the ultimate values of human life," says Professor Ross L. Finney, in the March Journal of the National Education Association. "Education objectives plenty are in sight, but they are all relative to the signs of the times; and it is the times that we are lost in."

"Psychology has gone bankrupt attempting to define human nature," says Professor Finney, insisting that a proper definition of human nature is the first step in determining the ultimate values of life. "Upon the doorstep of the sociologists the psychologists have abandoned their problem, for the problem can be solved only by approaching it from the standpoint of social evolution."

Psychologists have looked for the original nature in what man is by heredity; the sociologists look for it in what the inborn drives of heredity have forced man to become—in the social institutions.

These institutions are the family, the local community, the state, the industries, the church, the school, the press, the standard of living, the customary recreations, and the health preserving activities. These are the human values, the ends of human life, and the object of education is to equip youth for balanced participation in these changing institutions.

"Yes—uncle seems hard of hearing."

"Hard of hearing! Why once he conducted family prayers kneeling on the cat."

CENTENNIAL PROGRAM TO OBSERVE OLD OREGON TRAIL

"The trails of tomorrow are in the air. The Lindberghs of today are the modern equivalents of the trail blazers of a century ago," says the March Journal of the National Education Association, editorially, as it announces the celebration in 1930 of the Covered Wagon Centennial in honor of the first covered wagon train that threaded its way along the old Oregon Trail. "May we not expect during the century ahead a system of airways that will unite the earth as our highways and railroads now unite America? The future of America is in the children, and the children are in the schools," continues the editorial.

Centennial Programs

The commemoration day program will be held in many schools on April 10, a hundred years from the day the first wagon left St. Louis for the Rockies. Throughout the year many schools will find special opportunity to study the significance of the great trek westward over the Oregon Trail. The work of American pathfinders will be emphasized in geography and history. The struggles of the pioneers, great hunters, explorers, fur-traders, scouts, missionaries, the life of the Indians, as well as the labors of the home-building settlers, who brought civilization to the wilderness will be reenacted in pageantry and drama.

Awards for Essays

The Oregon Trail Memorial Association will award the medals in each state for the best essays written by pupils on the subject, "The part my state has played in the opening and building of the West." In the state contest two individual medals will be awarded, one for the best essay written by a boy, another for the best essay written by a girl. The schools from which winning contestants enter will also receive awards.

"The Oregon Trail Memorial Association issues the invitation to the people of the nation and particularly to the boys and girls of our schools to participate in this nationwide historical commemoration," says the announcement.

"Upon this Association, by reason of an act unanimously passed by Congress, rests responsibility for this movement. April 10, 1930, the hundredth anniversary of the starting of the first wagon train, is the opening date of the Centennial, and December 29, 1930, the hundredth anniversary of the birth of Ezra Meeker, the dauntless pioneer who founded the Association, is the official closing day.

"The Covered Wagon Centennial is of vital interest to our nation. The west is the transplanted east, the blended north and south. It was won by heroes and heroines from every state east of the Mississippi. Not only the sons and daughters of those who fought for freedom, but thousands of Americans of a later day played valiant parts in this great ox team migration that has added nearly a score of stars to our flag.

Precious few of these pioneers yet live to tell us their stories. Hundreds of them lie in unmarked graves along the old trails. Others are at rest in the cemeteries in every part of our land. One tender tribute-planned is the making of a roster of these honored dead; another is to search out those who yet live and pay them the honor due."

Dad Knows

Student's father: "My son keeps the most accurate diary I've ever seen."

Second same: "How's that?"
First: "You should see his check stubs."

Good Reasoning

Johnnie reasons that if a number of cattle are called a herd, and if a number of sheep are called a flock, then surely a number of camels must be called a carton.

THIRD FLOOR MECCA
Hazel Towery

Through the still morning air there comes a sound like a fire alarm. A slithering, slurring shamble of slipped feet! "I want that iron next." "OK." "Let me have it after you." "O, gee, I'm sleepy." "Mmm, so'm I."

Reluctantly and by degrees my head emerges from beneath the covers. In a small, quavering voice I ask, "Jessie, is it hot or cold or rainy or what?" From the height of experience gained from having been up all of thirty minutes, Jessie answers with accurate information as to the climatic conditions. "Mmm, guess I'll wear my suit. O, gosh, it has to be pressed, mmm." With that, I sit straight up in bed and open my eyes. The clock comes within my line of vision. It's seven already. About that time one of the girls from across the hall ambles in fully dressed and makes insulting remarks about people who don't get up in time for breakfast. I look at her in what I try to make a withering manner, grunt, "mmm," get out of bed and into my coolie coat, take my suit, and shuffle from the room.

In the corridor I meet girls in various stages of attire, all carrying suits or dresses to or from the ironing board. I reach that Mecca only to find it occupied and spoken for to the third and fourth generation. I decide then that my suit really doesn't need pressing and start back up the hall to my room. Someone yells, "It's almost fifteen after seven." As if by magic, the girls melt from the ironing closet.

Ping! Ping! Pong! Breakfast is on. The upper corridor is deserted—except for me. With diabolical glee, I dance toward the ironing board and give my suit a thorough, leisurely pressing. I have missed another breakfast; but "By persisting in your path, though you forfeit the little, you gain the great."

Only Two Seniors on Squad Which Represented S. I. N. U. at Normal Tourney and Won First Place for Second Time in Three Years

Harry Lutz as well as Captain Wilson is completing his fourth year on the Maroon squad; he has done some fine playing this year when called on. Dutch always had plenty of pep and could always be depended on to give the opposition trouble. He will be missed next year.

Verl Monical missed last year but was on the squad two years ago. His playing at guard was excellent; he was an important member of the championship team. Verl is only a sophomore, so look out for next season. He received honorable mention in the State Normal School all-star selections.

Hal Hall is another old standby who is completing his third season with the team. Porky is a bit small but shows exceptional shooting ability and floor work to overcome this handicap and could mix it with the best of them.

Frank Scott substituted at center and displayed real basketball ability whenever inserted in the line-up. Scotty was a good scorer and hard to beat fighting it up under the basket. If he failed on any play, it was not for lack of trying. This was his third year.

Kenneth Hiller, forward was an important cog in the Maroon machine. "Doc" is a consistent performer and paired with Captain Wilson gave the team a good scoring combination. He never allowed himself to be bothered by the opposition but with a cool head carried out the plan of attack. He was selected on the second all star team at the tourney.

Carl Wright played guard and played it well. "Racchorse" used his speed to advantage in overtaking many an opponent who had given someone the slip. This is his second year on the team, and he has two more coming. He has all the qualities of a good guard and was a member of the second all star tournament team.

Leslie White, the tall center, was one of the important reasons why opponents always had trouble getting the ball started. He used his height to good advantage by consistently scoring on follow-up shots under the basket. He is hard to guard and nearly always got the tip. "Sonny Boy" is the all star center of the Normal schools. He is a sophomore.

Robert Hudgens and Paul Swofford, whose pictures could not be obtained, also made the trip to DeKalb and helped to bring home the trophy. Swofford is a sophomore and Hudgens is the only freshman who was good enough to make the select ten. Both will be back and both have shown exceptional ability.

"Doc" Lingle's track squad is growing constantly in this agreeable weather and the practice will start in earnest soon. A full track schedule has been filled out already with Cape Girardeau, Missouri coming here April 11.

TAKE FIRST FOR SECOND TIME IN THREE YEARS (Continued from First Page)

a slow, careful, accurate passing game and stuck to it. Hiller got away on a fast break for a two-counter; Wilson repeated a couple of times for the same results, and the Maroons were close up. With nine minutes left to play, Scott, who had replaced White at center, dropped in two points and Wilson's two free throws put the Southerners ahead for the first time. They immediately withdrew into the back court to compel Macomb to play the Maroon style of basketball, and that slow, easy, accurate passing enabled the locals to win by two points 31-29.

The Second Game

Saturday morning at ten-thirty the Maroons played Old Normal. They jumped into the lead immediately and never relinquished it. They again played a slow break game and were heaping up their lead when the game ended, 23-17. Although there were 40 points made in the game, there were only nine field goals—six for the Maroons and three for Old Normal—made by the two teams. White starred in this tilt and won his berth on the all star team. He played the whole game and made three of the six Maroon field goals; Lutz, Wright, and Hudgens making the others. Hiller and Wilson, regular forwards, were guarded so well neither scored except on free throws, of which seven were made from the foul line. Both teams connected eleven times via the free throw route.

The Third Game

In the afternoon Normal had to eliminate Macomb by a 35-25 score to get into the finals against the Carbondale boys. Again the Maroons started in the lead and were never headed. The first half ended 19-9 in favor of Carbondale. With five minutes to go in the last half Normal had pulled up to 23-24. The Maroons were into a defensive state of mind and were not scoring—while Normal "got hot" and were dropping them in from everywhere. Captain Wilson called time out and got the cool gatherers together. When play started, Bob Hudgens evaded his guard at one side of the floor and drove down under the basket to score. A minute later Verl Monical pulled the same feat and was fouled—and made one of the free throws allowed. Capt. Wilson tore down the floor followed by Moose Moore and Caldwell, a little darky guard. Cuss suddenly stopped at the foul line, swung to one side—the pursuers slid past and Capt. Wilson dropped in the last basket of the tournament and his last for the Normal. It is his senior year. A moment later he ended the scoring by making a free throw.

Wilson, Hiller, Scott, White, Monical, Wright, Hudgens, Swofford and Lutz. Carmen Dickey, Coach Lingle and McAndrews made the trip to DeKalb to take part in the third annual Teachers College tournament. Wilson and Lutz, being seniors, played their last games there.

Athletic Business Manager has Flu

Carmen Dickey, business manager for the athletic teams of the Southern Illinois Teachers College during the school year of 1929-30 took a chill as he was returning with the victorious basketballers from the Teachers College tournament at DeKalb. It was 1:30 a. m. when the bus on which he returned from the tournament reached Carbondale. Carmen went to bed at once. He had fever. Today (Monday) he is reported better.

During this whole season Carmen has proved his ability as a business manager for the team, having gone on every trip with the teams, and having taken care of the business pertaining to the athletics of the school in a very creditable manner.

The Maroon tennis aspirants will receive a little more attention this spring term than is usually given a tennis team. The tennis department may be headed by a coach for tennis only. The schedule shows the first date with Cape Girardeau.

Strut and Fret Gives "The Rehearsal"

Strut and Fret held its first meeting in its new hall Friday evening. At this time one of Christopher Morley's one-act plays, "The Rehearsal," was presented. This play depicted a typical rehearsal of a college play, showing a peevish director, an unsatisfied, complaining cast, and a worried property manager. The cast consisted of Louise Boyd as Freda, the peevish director; Bonnie Rayburn, Norah, (whom the others characterized as the prima-donna); Helen Crisp, Christine (an Irish woman); Ruby Kerley, Barbara (an old man brooding over his shame); Ione Raybourne, Sonia (an English lady); and Hazel Towery, worried property manager.

Before the play Miss Hannah Morgan sang two selections, "Little Star" and "The Desert Song." After the play, plans for furnishing the hall for the formal opening were discussed. In the words of Miss Trovillion, "the room is now free of carpenters and tables for the first time." Strut and Fret invites all students to look in on its new quarters. Meetings will now be held every Thursday night instead of bi-weekly as before.

Graduate of '24 Has New Radio System

W. J. Zahnow, a graduate of S. I. N. U. in 1924, is now superintendent of schools in Waterloo, Illinois. Mr. Zahnow was associate editor of the Egyptian and president of the Forum in 1924.

He has devised a radio system for his school which connects all the rooms of the grade schools and high school with his main office. He can talk to any one room or to all the rooms at the same time. This serves as an efficient means of making announcements and talks to the pupils with a minimum amount of time expended. The office is also equipped with a control panel for receiving programs from outside the school. They receive programs in music, history, literature, art, civics, etc., on regular schedules during the school hours.

AG CLUB GAVE VARIED PROGRAM LAST WEEK

At the regular meeting of the Ag Club last Thursday evening the following program was enjoyed: Vocal solo by Miss Lorene Weaver, accompanied by a humorous dance by Misses Marie Mills and Thelma Foree. Reading by John Martinu which was somewhat humorous. A very interesting talk on Rural Life by Miss Jessie Cagle. The students in charge of the various exhibits were extremely efficient and courteous. Most of them remained at their posts all afternoon and did not get an opportunity to see the other exhibits. These students deserve considerable credit for the success of the affair.

CAPTAIN VIRGIL WILSON MEMBER THREE YEARS OF ALL STAR TEAM

Captain Virgil "Cuss" Wilson, leader of the Maroons for the last two seasons, completed his fourth year on the team. He was an outstanding member of the team which won the State Normal School championship two years ago and captain of the quintet that repeated the accomplishment this year. "Cuss" was selected as a member of the all star team each of the last three years. Wilson represents the school not only in tennis, but also is a real all-round student.

An exhibit of etchings and wood block prints, the work of contemporary artists, was held at the Teachers' College at DeKalb, Illinois under the auspices of the Fine Arts Club. This exhibit includes a series of illustrations which are very interesting. Some of the work is in color, but time etchings are black and white. Other exhibits are to be brought to Northern Illinois in the future.—The Northern Illinois, DeKalb, Illinois.
