S. I. N. U. HOME-COMING WINS

GIRLS OF S. I. N. U. SCORN MODERN BLUEBEARD

Prominent Senior Found to Have Four Wives.

A member of this year's graduating class, who has for the past two years been keeping company with S. I. N. U. girls, has at last been found out. "The truth will out" is true in this case. After months of flirting with the beautiful man of the Senior class it has come to light that he has four wives, all living in distant towns, one is at present residing in New York City, another in a little town on the Fiji islands. The detectives were unable to locate the other two at the time we went to press.

This Blue Beard of modern times, Corem Waller, specializes on robbing the cradle, leading girls to confectioneries and other places of high life.

Many college students were greatly disappointed this morning when they first heard of perhaps the most remarkable thing ever put up for our students to face. A prominent Senior, a member of the Obelisk Staff, one held in high esteem by all who knew him, should so suddenly develop into a wolf in lion's clothing. Many girls realized for the first time this morning what an awful thing it is to have a man with such a silver tongue as Mr. Waller to woo them.

Although Mr. Waller strongly denies all these statements and claims he can prove his innocence, that it is a framed up case on him, we print this on authentic information.

Don't miss next week's paper, as the details will be given.

BAPTIST STUDENTS ENTERTAINED

Last Saturday members of the Faculty who attend the Baptist church entertained the Baptist students at the Baptist Annex. A very delightful evening was spent in music and games. Miss Baldwin was in charge. Light refreshments were served.

FOR FRESHMEN ONLY

One of the classes in Ancient History:

"It took 10,000 men 200 years to build the pyramids, or, —no, I mean it took 200 men 10,000 years to, —no 200 years, 10,000 men. — Oh! 200 pyramids, 10,000 years, etc."

Now isn't that nice! Eh-

Whole City Becomes a Stage Where All Play Their Part.

S. I. N. U. 12---CAPE 7

The Big Home-Coming is now history. It has come and gone, and the predictions of the optimist have been fulfilled, for the Home-Coming of 1922 was as big as the most urgent Boosters had hoped for. The students had done their bit, had made interesting preparations, and then all they could do was to sit back and await the arrival of the guest.

On Thursday a tense atmosphere hung about the school. What would the morrow bring? The few arrived on Thursday night. But Friday, all day, they came in droves, those who could not get away Friday arrived sometime during the night and early morning. By noon the campus, yea, the whole town knew that we of '20 or '14 or '38 were again back to visit our Alma Mater.

The Home-Coming of '22 has passed into S. I. N. U. history as a mark that future school years will have to go some to keep step with. The pace has been set, Home-Coming now means more than a colorless word. Those who were here to enjoy it know what it means. It is an event they will not soon forget.

THE HOME COMING CHAPEL

The Home Coming chapel although short was of interest to all. Alvin Felts, president of the Student Council, was in charge. Music was furnished by the Band and mixed Chorus. This was the initial appearance of the Chorus. The work that it and its instructor, Mrs. Hills, has been doing could readily be seen.

Several of the former students were back and played in the band.

ANTHONY HALL WELCOMES HOMECOMERS

If you were looking for familiar faces of S. I. N. U. students of this year or former years you were very apt to have found them at Anthony Hall. An informal tea took place there Friday from one to three. Everyone was invited. Even those who were not strongly addicted to the use of tea went just the same and saw their classmates and students of former years. Saturday morning Anthony Hall again entertained at an Alumni breakfast. Every graduate, living in Carbondale or out of town, was invited and urged to be present. Breakfast was served from eight to eight-thirty and was free to all alumni.

Anthony Hall was anxious to make her part of Home-Coming a success and I believe everyone who was at either the tea or the breakfast can assure you that they enjoyed the hospitality shown by Anthony Hall.

FREE MOTION PICTURE SHOW

A free motion picture show was held Friday afternoon at 4:30 in the Barth theatre. This was under the auspices of the Penmanship Department of the school.

CLASS CONTESTS

The class contest on the campus green Friday afternoon brought out one of the most interesting crowds and some of the most spectacular features of the Home-Coming. The contests were in the nature of organized class fights. Wilbur Valentina was the leader of the contest. He was assisted by Ralph Warren. The U. Hi Freshmen deserve mention for the pep that they showed.

Rooster Fight

The two deck Rooster Fights caused many comments and some slight injuries. Most of these were to the losing sides however. The Normal Juniors and the University High Freshmen were the winners in the contest.

Tug of War

The Tug-of-War was perhaps the most interesting of the different con-

REVENGE IS SWEET

Normal Wins Shield by Scoring More Points in the Sum Totals of Points Scored in the Two Game Series With Cape.

A crowd of more than two thousand and people witnessed the thrilling sight of Capt. Hamilton carrying the ball over the goal line for the second touchdown, and victory against Cape Girardeau Saturday.

The game started with Ham kicking off to Cape, and was hotly contested throughout, and looked favorable to the Normal followers when in the opening quarter Ham Hale plunged the line for the first touchdown. Capt. Hamilton failed at try for goal.

Then in the third quarter when Cape crossed our goal line with a nicely completed forward pass and kicked goal adding the extra point, things looked mighty blue. And not until the last of the fourth quarter when the final touchdown was made did the people regain their former spirit, and then they were kept on their toes by the desperate endeavors of Cape to take the ball up the field by long forward passes, one of which was completed for a large gain, and the head-long plunging of their fullback. This added to a penalty for Carbondale people crowding the field, brought them to our four yard line, but there the advance stopped; and they were held for downs.

What seemed would be a third touchdown was witnessed in the first of the fourth quarter when by hard plunging, a forward pass and some luck the ball was pushed to Cape's six yard line. But on fourth down and fearing to loose the ball on downs, Mac sent Bevis in to try for drop kick which failed, owing likely, to the fact that the distance had not been judged as short as it really was.

All through the game was shown the great improvement the team has made in the past week. While no one can be especially singled out, Denard Lee made a great showing at quarter, filling the absence of our regular quarter, Hunter. Lee seemed to have the enviable trait of a successful quarter, that of picking the right play at the right time, and holding his backfield men well within his grasp.

STRUT AND FRET

Talking about getting down to work, the Strut and Fret were informed about a week ago that it was to take charge of Friday night's program. Miss Trovillion lifted her eyebrows, meditated a minute and said, "You know our past record?" Right then and there the Strut and Fret got busy. Surely it has meant work. It has meant giving up a few pleasures but the benefits gained certainly surpassed little things like that.

The Strut and Fret did not get started as early this year as the Society would have liked to, but now that it has, "Just watch us."

It is rumored that there certainly is good talent in the Society and the director of the "Follies" might have a personal interview with some members.

Anyone that is interested in Dramatic Art of any kind, please see any member of the Strut and Fret or Miss Trovillion.

S. O. P. H. CLUB INITIATION

It was noticed one day last week that several girls about the campus and in the class rooms were carelessly dressed. It seemed that in dressing these girls had gotten their middles on, the wrong side in front. But, this was part of an initiation and now these girls are loyal members of the S. O. P. H. Club. The initiation was finished up right that night. Every girl entered into the stunts with good spirit, and even though it was hard to carry a large bag, a torch and hold a rope blindfolded, it was lots of fun after all. They all tried the fire escapes and some girls enjoyed them so much they made the second spiral descent. Then after the business meeting the Club enjoyed a dainty luncheon at Stumble Inn.

Y. W. C. A.

The candle-light service which was postponed last week will be held Tuesday afternoon. This week is the Y. W. week of prayer and in recognition of this there will be a short program every afternoon from three-thirty to four o'clock. The discussion each day will be given by a member of the Y. W. and the following is the program for the week:

Monday—World Spiritual Revival—Mabel Chezem.

Tuesday—Africa—Marie Waller.

Wednesday—The Americas—Mac Waller.

Thursday—Europe—Genevieve Crawshaw.

Friday—Student Christian Associations of the World—Ethel Parr.

All members are urged to attend these meetings.

Mrs. Pryor Wilson visited the school a few days last week for Home Coming. Mrs. Wilson, as Miss Holmes, was a member of the faculty up to a few years ago.

CAPE BRINGS 300 ROOTERS

Cape lived up to expectations and arrived here three hundred support. This included their twenty piece band.

Here is how they came. Maybe it will serve as a suggestion to the people of Carbondale. All cars furnished by citizens of the town. The college truck came along and brought the noon and evening meals, the cars stopping just out of town and the visitors partaking thereof. The only expense the students were out was the price of admission to the game.

The supporters of Cape on one side and Carbondale on the other with all the pep and color of each at the highest, the scene was one which the Old Normal has never before witnessed. Here is to better co-operation between the two schools.

Dear Ransom:

Just a note to congratulate you on your paper. This week's copy which I received this morning is in my opinion, the best number you have put out and as good as any I have ever seen put out. Perhaps I enjoyed it especially because of the Home-Coming plans and program in it as I am looking forward to that particular event with a great deal of expectation.

You are right in asking for help from the student body in getting the paper out. Last year after I had tried editing the paper for one week for the Ag Club I resolved that every week I would hand in something for the paper even if it was nothing more than a joke on myself. Of course, I did not always live up to my high resolve but that one week as editor was sufficient to convince me that it took a great deal of some one's time to furnish us with the school paper every week.

Success for you and the paper.

Sincerely,
BELVA YOUNG.

AMONG THE MAGAZINES

Are the students and faculty members of this school getting acquainted with the magazines in Wheeler Library? ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIVE MAGAZINES AND SEVEN NEWSPAPERS are received regularly in the library and are to be found in the north reading room.

In the current issues we find an unusual number of interesting articles.

What do you know of the varied and interesting duties of the United States consuls in foreign countries? An article in the October Pan-American Union by the director of the consular service of the United States explains the functions of our consuls. After reading this article you can readily see the importance and necessity of these government officers.

The November National Geographic contains a fascinating article called "Adventuring down the west coast of Mexico." It is illustrated with forty-five actual photographs.

E. Newton Harvey in the October Scribner's magazine discusses to the delight of the scientifically inclined how the glow worm glows. His article is called "Cold Light."

The theatre of tomorrow is the theme of an interesting discussion in the October Theatre Arts Magazine. Mr. Saylor tells us how the American dramatic spirit is influenced by the old world.

An unusual feature of the October 25th New Republic is the American College supplement containing articles by such educators as President Meiklejohn of Amherst, Professor Stuart P. Sherman of Illinois and President Burton of Michigan.

A GLIB TONGUE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR BRAINS

COMMUNITY SPIRIT

Some years ago, it was said that the world had but two kind of men, workers and shirkers. That they were divided into constructors and de-structors. At the present time we call them boosters and knockers. In this school there are a few things that boosters do and others that are done by knockers. "By their deeds ye may know them." Who are they that praise the school, that applaud the orchestra, and cheer the team? There are persons in the school that sing in chapel, that subscribe to the Egyptian, that take part in the responsive readings, that throw their waste paper in the refuse cans or the waste paper baskets, that are quiet about the buildings during the study hours, that do everything they can to make the school the best place in the world for getting an education, and that speak a good word for the school every where they go. And then there are persons that strew their waste papers everywhere they go, from the writing room on the top floor of the old building, all along the walks across the campus and down the street to their rooms in town. There are persons that never sing or read in chapel; that whisper or talk all thru the devotional exercises. There are persons that say the Normal is a "bum" place and they do not see why any one comes there to learn anything. There are students that if they are sick stay at home and get well as soon as possible, and there are others who when they have colds, sore throats, or other disorders come to school and spread their troubles. There are persons that when they leave the Normal will do so well that other young persons will wish to come to Carbondale to school, and then there are others that so conduct themselves that young persons who see them feel that if they are the kind of persons that are at Carbondale they prefer to go to some other place.

Who are the boosters? Are you a knocker?

test. The attractions to this were greatly increased when it was learned that the Local Fire Department was on the grounds. Their purpose was soon guessed. The side that didn't have the "Pullie" (as the reporter heard it expressed) were to suffer by having a bath at the expense of the city and to the pleasure of the crowd.

The first of the contest were the Seniors and the second year vs. the third and fourth years. The former being victorious they next met the Juniors and the first year. Here they went not only through the water but also down into the mud. Leaving the Juniors and the first years undisputed champions of the day.

BAND CONCERT AND PEP MEETING

Proceeding the Vaudeville a big pep meeting was staged in the Gym. The fact that it is rumored that the Alumni of students will be asked to raise the money to repair the roof speaks for the crowd and the enthusiasm.

Kob and his Band were there in full force giving to us all that they had. Slats, the yell king, was ably assisted by the following yell dukes, Glenn Ayre, Ransom Sherretz, Ralph Warren.

You know after that meeting the Old Pumping Station throbbed so loud that the fireman had to put cotton in his ears. The whole campus knew that something was going to happen.

VAUDEVILLE

A vaudeville at Normal Auditorium given by the Strut and Fret, an organization for dramatics, featured the opening of the two day home coming program.

Depicting in the first act the famous artist colony of Washington Square, New York City—Bohemia, where reigns temperament, free love the many philosophies of those living in the world of the esthetic, though there are artists who live on earth, an art studio in the act presented in the inside of Greenwich village.

The second act opened with a boxing match, "a la slow movies," each blow and movement distinct and easily followed. The creeping arms and legs of the fighters could be followed.

In the third act, "fate of the feats of feet"—only feet were seen as the curtain was slightly raised. The story of lovers, dancers, spooners, was by the feet.

"All the world loves a lover" was the title of the comedy in the last act.

The Parade

The parade formed at the New Hundley Hotel, marched through the business district and out to the football field. The parade took on the spirit of a festival, scores were dressed in the spirit of gaiety.

Cape's band led the march, followed by their supporters. The school band was next in line, the classes following in order of rank. The different classes wore different kinds of dress, as its special feature. Space forbids mention in detail. This will appear next week.

The Home-Coming Dance

The final and crowning event of all the Home-Coming was the dance at Armory Hall. Many Alumni and visitors availed themselves of this opportunity to again whirl in the midst of the younger set.

The hall was perhaps decorated with the most beautiful decorations that it has ever known. The committee spent much time and effort on this part.

Peg Meyer's orchestra of Cape Girardeau furnished first class music for the dance.

Subscribe for the Egyptian.

WERE THEY?

Isn't it strange how easily some girls may be scared? Last Wednesday night two boys appeared below a window of Anthony Hall and sang softly, "Believe me if all those endearing young charms." Claudine Coulter ran to the door and called to a girl in the hall, "Come here quick. There is the funniest noise just outside my window." The neighbor girl rushed into the room, jerked down the window blind, and the two girls stood, staring breathlessly at each other until the song ended. It didn't occur to either of them that perhaps the boys were serenading the wrong girl.

WILSON-WEAVER

Miss Ruby Weaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Weaver of this city, and Edward Wilson, '22 son of Edward E. Wilson, of Metropolis, were married yesterday at 12 o'clock in Mound City. From there the newly-weds went to Cairo and different points in Kentucky for a short honeymoon. The bride is a graduate of the C. C. H. S. and a very talented and attractive young lady. The groom is a graduate of the S. I. N. U. and is at present teaching in Metropolis. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will make their home in Metropolis.

While here Mr. Wilson was a very popular student, being active in all school interests. He was an active worker in Socratic Society and president of the Agora.

NORMAL GRAD WEDS

Louie Clark, of Murphysboro, was married Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock to Miss Helen Mason of Wheeler, Ill.

Miss Mason was a former student here, graduating in '21.

Mr. Clark attended the S. I. N. U. last year. While attending he was quarterback on the grid squad.

After the wedding the couple departed for Chicago, where they will spend a few days, and will return by way of Champaign and St. Louis, where they will visit. Later they will return to Murphysboro where they will make their home.

FOOTBALL CAPTAIN OF 15 HERE

Russell Smith, son of Prof and Mrs. G. W. Smith, was here for Home-Coming last week. Smith was captain of the football team in 1915. Since that time he has played on the following teams, Navy, University of Illinois, Staleys, and this year he is with the Chicago Bears.

Last year Smith had charge of our Spring Football practice.

We have in all about 806 subscriptions and an exchange list of about 94 papers per week. The Egyptian is having a hard time to finance itself on account of last year's debt. Will the students help us?

Silk, Wool or Cotton—It Fits!

Whether dainty silk knit or soft warm wool, Athena Underwear is trim and shapely. Whatever the style, it has the extra width through bust and hips, the graceful neckline sloping to the front, the fitted seat that always stays closed. Unlike ordinary underwear, Athena follows every curve of the figure closely, yet naturally. It assures, at the same time, perfectly fitting gowns and an unusually delightful feeling of easy freedom. Yet it costs no more!

ATHENA UNDERWEAR
For Women and Children

Ask the saleswoman to try on this pair of Athena drawers in the diagram. Note the seven distinctive Athena features that give the whole garment such unusual shapeliness. Then you will understand why it really fits. Athena may be had in all styles and weights, in knit fabrics.
