The bonfire, to be over fifty feet in height, will be fed by wood gathered by the Southern Knights. The pep activities will start off with a cheer in honor of Coach Martin and the football team. Following this will be songs, both new and old, cheers, yells and more songs, all led by Yell Queen Mable Pulkinson and Charles Pardee Jr., Grand Royal Duke of the Southern Knights. At 7:30 all freshmen will be asked to move over to the center of the field where they will join the Homecoming committee members. They will kneel down to the fire, each lighting his little green ribbon. PEP ACTIVITIES WILL SURPASS LAST YEAR'S Homecoming Queen and Maids Will Parade at Noon. This year's annual traditional Homecoming parade and pep rally shows every indication of being even bigger and better than last year. The parade, Friday noon, Oct. 20, in which it is hoped there will be at least 2,000 participants, will feature all of the pep, glee, and glamour representatives of S. N. U. Leading the parade will be a private open car for last year's queen of the Homecoming and this year's football cop captain and Coach Martin. Next will be another car containing this year's queen and her court maids. The identity of the queen will be a secret, to be disclosed at the moment of her triumphal crowning at the Homecoming fair. Following the queen and cop captain will be a truck with which the band made up of Southern's will furnish music for the parade. After these will come all of the cars available with loads of students and faculty for members who wish to join the parade. The more cars the better, in the motto of the day: "Twining and twisting in out of the parade is a disgrace." The members of the Homecoming committee and cheer pepsters will come the students who are not in cars, doing the usual snake dance. A silence zone established.

MRS. ROOSEVELT WRITES OF LOCAL N. Y. A. PROJECT

"My Day," the widely-published column of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, contained the following comments on Carbondale's N. Y. A. projects, which she visited September 21:

Delavan, Ill.—When we reached Carbondale, Ill., I did not expect much time to see the country. However, the National Youth Administration told me there was a small resident project here which I would like to show me, so I sallied forth with two very kind and enthusiastic young men as guides.

The fact that Illinois has risen to fifth place among all-producing states has made a considerable change in the outlook of the people, but it does not seem to have changed greatly the fact that the farming population and mining population in this section are at a very low ebb. One of the counties near Carbondale has the greatest number of people on relief in any one county in the United States.

Most of the young men in the Youth Administration project are boys who never had an opportunity for acquiring any work skill or getting into any job which was more than a temporary day-laborer type of occupation. They are teaching some subsistence farming on this project which, from observation from the train window, I should say is very necessary. How to grow a garden, how to get as much of one's living as possible out of a small acreage, would be very valuable to miners whose work is seasonal, in any case, even when all the mines are open, these boys are also given training in auto-mechanics, electrical wiring, wood-working, and iron work.

They have the advantage of being near a state teachers' college which is co-operating in every way. This college also has a large number of N.Y.A. students and has found them a valuable addition. The town itself has many monuments to WPA work—a paved and widened main street, a fine armory, and several other lasting improvements. The business men's club seems to co-operate in all this work and has donated the land on which the new buildings are situated.

I drove through the college grounds and out to the Crab Orchard Lake project. This is a PWA project and has employed a good many persons. Flood control is evidently a very important project and the possibility of creating power through a series of these projects might mean a good deal to the development of the area. There are, of course, some natural objections. People will lose their land when the lake is filled up, and they do not like the countryside inundated.

C. L. CUSHMAN WILL COME HERE LATE IN OCTOBER

Staff Member of Commission Will Study Local Problems

S. I. N. U. was chosen last spring to be one of fifteen American teachers' colleges included in the survey. Definite steps will be taken on this campus during the latter part of October when C. L. Cushman, staff member of the Commission on Teacher Education, will arrive here to consider problems of the college. Mr. Cushman was formerly Director of Curriculum in the Denver public schools.

Five Southern Illinois Normal University faculty members including President Roscoe Pufflin, Bruce W. Merwin, Helen Elaine Stenson, Paul G. Warren, and Troy L. Stearns attended a meeting of the Commission on Teacher Education in Bennington, Vermont, during August. The purpose of the commission which is sponsored by the American Council on Education, is to make a study of problems in teacher education and to develop cooperative planning toward eliminating undesirable features of teacher training institutions.

Survey Shows College Graduates Happier In Marriage

According to a release from Prentice Hall, Inc., New York, "Education is not a hindrance to happy married life. College graduates adjust themselves in marriage better than those with grammar school and high school educations."

This fact was determined after one of the most thorough statistical surveys of marriage in the United States was made. The survey, which took seven years to complete, was conducted by Dr. Leonard S. Cottrell, Jr. of Cornell and Professor Ernest Watson, Burgess of the University of Chicago.

According to the survey, married wives that had formerly been school teachers ranked high in adjustment, and professional men made the best husbands. Of the husbands in this category, chemical engineers and ministers rated highest.

Marked Relationships Exist. It was also found that a marked relationship between happiness and bonding of family finances always existed. Another fact toward happiness was the agreement between husband and wife toward friends and the handling of relations. Frequent demonstration of affection by the husband towards the wife also rated high as the sign of "very happy" marriages.

The survey also exploded a number of popular beliefs on courtship and marriage. For instance, it was found that a longer courtship was in favor of better harmony and better adjustment after marriage. The best term of courtship seemed to be between three and five years.

ECONOMICS 205 REORGANIZES LECTURE RECITATION SYSTEM

This fall the 205 economics course was revised to include three recitations and two lectures a week. The lectures given by various members of the staff and including material not found in the text, thus broadening the course and bringing it up to date.

This is the first time any such plan has been used on this campus, and it found to be satisfactory will be continued. Dr. Bradford, Mr. Miles, Dr. Spang, and Dr. Parrish will talk on such subjects as corporation finance, foreign trade, public utilities, agricultural problems in the United States, A. P. of L. and the C. I. O., business cycles and banking systems.

OLD AS THE NILE

By ED HENRY.

Contributions very good. "Wizard of the West" and "No. 1, 3 and 5" are the winners this week. Please take all this as a joke because it is really in style to be in the NILE.

Sounds in the night—a train whistles that I heard that... All I remember about it is that it woke me up... The neighboring scores while the rest of the house tries to sleep... The rooming house grind... The creek of a bed in the wind... A bench, moved by the same wind... The wind force, scattering across the window of my cubicle, making a shrill, rattling sound... I crawl deeper into the mattress and wish that either sleep would or that tomorrow would not come.

Why does Craver go to St. Louis to attend his... because he likes to be in the Forest park... Who is Rodman... that you would stay out of the NILE... wandering and acting so lost? Is it because a certain blonde has left school?

DEROBBY WRIGHT IS SAID TO HAVE HEART HEAD TROUBLE. Cleland has lost his class ring. He got a lunch bell and the ring... "NOSE" HUNSH HAS FAILED TO CONTACT A CERTAIN BROWN EYED BLONDE. BUT KEEP TRYING. MAYBE YOU CAN NOSE HER OUT.

Did Fritz lose his season ticket to Murphy?

"Wizard of the West"

John Powers and Irma Tate... do me old trick in botany. BEHAMBUR JOHN. TUESDAY NIGHT IS BARGAIN NIGHT.

Have you heard about the "Gates" women from Carter's Tuesday night? We wonder why?

Is Betty Lou Murphy going to quit school just for Henne? What men is most he?

What will the girls of 294 W. Grand do this winter when it is too cold to sit on the porch and swing?

Say, Patton, who is that black-eyed little fellow who lives way out on East Charatanka? It's a nice walk, but three tank 's.

Sesame For Collegians

By W. R. RICE.

Are you working your way through college, too? Does it discourage you when you think of all the worthwhile things you could be doing if you didn't have to spend three or four hours a day earning an education? Will it help you drive the shadow away to find that forty-eight per cent of the students enrolled at S. I. N. U. are "working their way through".....

You might also find encouragement in the fact that eight out of thirteen Princeton Rhodes scholars in the last five years were working students.....

When asked whether he looked upon employment as a college asset or a liability, one young student, editor of a college newspaper, replied, "That depends on how you look on college. If what you are here for is academic training, it's a liability. If what you want is an education, it's an asset!".....

According to Jerry Pugh of the Student Employment Service, working in college improves in two ways your chances for getting a job after graduation: (1) Most of the students on our campus are employed in departments which give them training in the fields they desire to follow after leaving school; for example, N. Y. A. students who are employed as assistants in the chemistry laboratory are students majoring in the chemistry department. Thus they have the advantage of actual experience as well as academic training. (2) Students who work are obtaining personality training in terms of adjustments to employer and co-workers. The importance of this training is emphasized by vocational counselors who estimate that three-fourths of the people who lose their jobs lose them, not because they lack technical skills, but because they fail to make personality adjustments.....

If you feel employment is hampering your chances for a brilliant career, you might try a plan which created a sensation on the University of Chicago campus not long ago. It is high, in an article "Phy the Phy" ("Collegian"), which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, states: "Some graduate students have found a way out of their indignance by marrying employable young women and thus 'working their wives through school.' Students in some of the professional schools short on money and not particularly long on conscience married girls with jobs. lived on the wife's pay check until graduation, and then, as soon as it could be arranged with relative decency, were divorced.....

Students at S. I. N. U. employ a somewhat different method, which may not be so adventuresome, but more dependable. The increasing number of student co-operatives seems to indicate this enterprise is found to be one successful method in which hardworking undergraduates join together to lick the board and join bill.....

The first cooperative house on the S. I. N. U. campus was Harwood Hall, organized by Dean E. C. Lentz and Fred Hanes in the summer of 1927, and opened for the first time the following fall term.....

Housing co-operatives date back to 1914. But it was not till the 1930-33 period that students look over and began to exploit the idea.

Just a break, just tell me and I'll let C. B. know about it! "Tootsie".

"Chas. D. when are you going to accept that invitation to Harrisburg? You should remember that many such invitations were given before yours!" Better quit and leave 'em in charge. Don't be a splay!"

"No's 1, 3, and 5."

TO ALL STUDENTS:

The Egyptian believes that thrifty students can save money if they will patronize the firms who advertise in the Egyptian. Few students at Southern can afford to refuse recognition of Advertising for what it is—total force in shaping and improving buying habits—in enabling them to get more for their money.

Our students have to know where their money goes. Their limited funds compel them to get a dollar value for every dollar they spend. Egyptian Advertisers have realized this and the merchants pride themselves in their integrity... on their selections... on their ability to serve. Study the ads in this issue. They'll help you to buy more wisely. Thrifty students have always used the Egyptian as their shopping guide.

Sincerely,
BUSINESS MANAGER
THE EGYPTIAN.

Carbondale Decorates For Homecoming

Merchants of Carbondale are cooperating with the college in decorating their store fronts and the streets with maroon and white bunting and banners.

The decorations are being purchased from student salesmen who are working on a commission basis, all profits to go to Southern.

Following is a list of merchants who have thus far cooperated with the school in this matter. A more complete list will appear in next week's edition:
Rogers theatre, Proc Press, Carter's Cafe, James' Cafe, Chery Insurance, Ritz Cafe, Green Mill, Maloney & Arnold, Higgins Jewelry, Double Cola, Glad Plumbing, Taggart & Parker Gift Shop and the Rhodes-Burford furniture store.

Pen Company to Give Radio Free

The Sheaffer Pen Company will give a radio to the S. I. N. U. student who best completes the following sentence in 10 words or less:

"Sheaffer's Fineline pencil is best for classroom work because".....

The radio is a portable G.E. Carryabout which has no aerial, no ground and no plug in. The contest closes before November 1. The prizes to the contest are that each contestant enclose with the sentence a retail store sales slip showing a 10 cent or more purchase of some Sheaffer product—ink, pencils, lead, adhesives, or pens. Entries should be sent to W. A. Sheaffer Pen Co., Fort Madison, Iowa. For further details consult your campus dealer—adv.

Undergraduates Believe We Should Live Alone And Like It

By Wayne Mann

According to an Associated College Press Bulletin, college and university undergraduates seem to be much concerned with the European war. Most students think we can "live alone and like it." The prevalent idea is that all United States will get by sticking its nose into the affairs of other nations is "a bunch of repudiated debts and an invitation to play the sucker again."

Other trends are as follows: All believe that aid should be given refugees, and many student groups are raising funds to financially prove their sympathy with the downtrodden of all nations.

Few support the persecution of minorities, and most bear hearty condemnation on the heads of the totalitarian states.

Democracy is supported enthusiastically, but many believe that steps should be taken to promote its support by groups of all ages.

General accord is expressed with the "Keep America out of any war" idea, and many favor a policy on the part of our officials that would prevent them from making actions or statements that might arouse the ire of foreign nations.

Opinion is also evenly divided on President Roosevelt's rearmament program.

Radio Club Extends Welcome To New Members

The Radio club, which meets every Wednesday evening at 7:30 on the third floor of Parkinson Laboratory, is interested in getting new members and is inviting students to join the group which helps make up the nation's fifty-thousand radio amateurs engaged in one of the most fascinating hobbies of today. An interest in radio is the only requirement for membership. There are no entrance fees or membership dues and it is not necessary for new members to know anything about radio, for the chief purpose of the club is to teach its members something about radio. The instruction gives the necessary preparation for the government examination which must be passed by the student who is to obtain an amateur radio operator's license. One must have this license before he can operate the school's transmitter.

Right now is the best time to join and start the preparation for the license examination. The programs are designed to be instructive and informative as well as entertaining and includes lively discussions about radio in all of its phases.

There will be a meeting of Obelisk staff members and all who want to work on yearbook on Monday at the eighth hour in the Obelisk office. The office is in the basement of the library.

The Egyptian staff will meet in the basement of Wheeler library this afternoon at 3:50. Members of the business and circulation staffs need not attend.

Friday, October 13, at 12:50 p. m. there will be a kickoff rally for the football boys in front of the new gymnasium.

All men interested in trying out for Southern's gym team are asked to report for tryouts Monday, October 16, in the Men's gym after the eighth hour. Coach Joe Di Giovanni urges all candidates to attend this meeting so that regular drills can get under way.

S. I. N. U. Campus Organizations: In order to balance a revised plan of expenditures and at the same time present Southern's organizations in a more forceful style, in keeping with the theme of the forthcoming yearbook, the Obelisk staff respectfully requests that you file in the Egyptian either the name of your organization and the names of your three primary officers or outstanding membership leaders as soon as possible. The three you select will necessarily represent a year's activity regardless of possible tri-annual elections.

The staff will sincerely appreciate your cooperation in making your section of the 1940 Obelisk a success.

New Economics Course Being Taught
A new economics course, "International Trade," is now being offered as a 300 course. Its primary interest lies in the economics of foreign trade. The course is considered particularly interesting at this time because of the complicated situation of the United States and its foreign trade. The course is being taught by Dr. Segal and allows three hours of credit.

S. I. N. U. Student Living in Canada
Madame Brigidette, junior at Southern, is now living in Landis, Saskatchewan, Canada. Mrs. Brigidette will return via California in January to attend the spring term at this college.

Baptist Student Union Enters Banner Year

By EUGENE DAILY.
The Baptist Student Union, together with the Baptist Foundation, is already considering 1939 as a banner year. With over 500 students of Baptist preference on the campus, the union feels that its influence is being felt.

Tremendous strides have been taken in attendance at the meetings this year. The attendance at the noonday prayer meeting in the Little Theatre has seldom fallen below 75. Sunday school classes, the Z. Y. and the Y. W. C. A. show average totals of 50, 75 and 20.

One unique feature of the Baptist Student program is the council meeting held every week with Merrill Aldridge, B. S. U. president, as presiding officer. The council is the movement behind the work.

The Baptist Student Union is not like other campus organizations. It is rather a unified organization. The B. S. U. welcomes all creeds and races to take part in its work.

The Baptist Foundation this year, under the instruction of Dr. Gen. L. Johnson, has over 40 students enrolled in its three Bible classes. The Baptist Foundation believes it has had much to do with the increase in enrollment at S. I. N. U. The favorable publicity given to the school among the churches of Southern Illinois has shown results, for this year there are more than 150 more students of Baptist preference at school than were here last year.

Within the next few years the Foundation plans to build a new $50,000 building, modern and complete in every way in which to hold its Bible classes.

The Baptist Foundation and the Baptist Student Union provide training which rounds out the student's education. Without that emphasis along religious lines, his training can scarcely be considered complete.

I. I. C. Teams Find Football Schedule Ahead This Week-end

This week-end will find all teams active in the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. Although there is only one league game scheduled, all other teams are engaged with tough non-conference foes.

The film library will be entertained by Macomb Teachers, this being the home conference battle and one which will put the Red Birds' test strength to test. Charleston will tussle Milledge in an outside encounter, while Elmhurst clashes with Illinois College, a member of the Illinois College Conference. DeKalb, defending champ in the IAC ranks, will square off against Wheaton and attempt to add spice to their homecoming celebration.

Carthage College will journey to Parsons, Iowa, to an engagement with a powerful, small school eleven. Rureks meets a similar problem at Aurora. Southern, of course, will carry the present campaign out of state to tangle with Arkansas State.

The following films will be on campus from the University of Illinois during week of October 16, 1939:

Date of Thanksgiving Holiday Changed

The newspapers have announced that Governor Horner will follow the lead of President Roosevelt in setting Thanksgiving a week earlier than has been customary hitherto. Therefore, the Thanksgiving holidays will begin Thursday, November 23, instead of a week later at the end of the term, as planned.

The Friday after Thanksgiving will be a holiday as it would have been had the date not been changed. School will be resumed on Monday of the following week. Final examinations will be held on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, November 29 and 30 and December 1.

Registration for the winter term will begin on the following Monday.

Elbert F. Corwin of Reusselto-Polytechnic Institute has invented a new device to aid airplane safety. It determines the "up and down" wind high in the skies.

This year's college and university enrollment in the U. S. is expected to total approximately 1,400,000. The Ohio University football team was undefeated in a home football game from 1927 to 1937.
