University High School Enrollment In 56 Percent Increase

The University High School has an increase of 56% over last year with an enrollment of 132. This is due partly to new courses recently added to the schedule. In addition to the regular staff, Dean Lucy K. Woody and Mrs. Mary L. Barnes will supervise a home economics department, and Miss Gladys Williams will direct an art class. Boys' and girls' athletics will be under the supervision of Mr. Vincent DiGiovanna and Miss Aileen Carpenter. Miss Katherine Cavella will teach a general business course.

With the increased enrollment and the fact that most high school classes are concentrated on the third floor of the new chemistry building, a much better year is expected of this part of S. I. T. C. Activities already have a

Text Book Changes Numerous This Term

Much to the grief of the students, many of the old textbooks in use here have been replaced by new volumes. Some of these books are new editions of the formerly used texts.

These changes were quite necessary because of the recent progress made in the textbook field. Valuable ideas and new thoughts are always being put into new college texts.

The following courses have changed their texts: Commerce 205, Education 208 and 315, French 151 and 201, German 101, Geography 210, History 105, 110 and 111, Political Science 230, and Rhetoric 101.

Some of these books are to be used in the courses that follow in sequence the ones listed.

good start, especially in the boys' athletic department.

Administration Announcements

There follows the official announcements given to the Egyptian by the President's office, and an activity calendar for the week. Hereafter both these items will be a regular Egyptian feature, and will appear in these columns.

EXTENSION COURSES TO BE OFFERED

A number of extension courses will be offered by the college during the coming term. The course in Geography 318 was organized last week by Mr. Fleming W. Cox at two centers, one at Marion, meeting on Thursdays at 4:15 o'clock, and the other at West Frankfort, meeting on Tuesdays at 4:00 o'clock. The classes will meet once a week and will run for twenty-four weeks. Students who complete this course will receive one term credit.

Four other courses will be organized to begin work about October 1. These classes will be offered on the campus. The centers at which they will be given will be determined this week in consultation with the city superintendents and high school principals. The off campus courses will be:

- Eng. 305. Modern American Poetry, by Dr. Charles D. Tenny.
- Eng. 308. The American Novel, by Mr. Robert D. Faber.
- Hist. 375. An Introduction to the Social and Intellectual History of the Western World, by Dr. Sherman B. Hays.
- Miss Bowyer will offer English 217, English Grammar for Teachers, as a Saturday morning class on the campus. Definite announcements of centers at which the courses will be held and dates on which they will begin will be given out next Monday.

ROSCOE PULLIAN, President.

CO-OPERATION WITH C. C. C. CAMPS

An effort is being made at the present time to work out some plan by which a few of the best students now working with educational advisors in the C. C. C. camps can be given an opportunity to do extension work for college credit.

The following statement concerning this work has been given to Camp Educational Advisors:

Arrangements will be made for exceptional high school graduates now in the C. C. C. camps of this region to do college work for credit at Southern Illinois State Normal University, subject to the following conditions:

1. The college can take care of only a limited number of students for the present, a total of not more than thirty. These students will be permitted to do their work under the direction of the Camp Educational Advisor, following outlines of courses that will be furnished by departments of the college.
2. After the student has completed his work on the course, which he may do in any reasonable length of time, arrangements will be made for him to take an examination on the campus, based entirely on the subject matter indicated in the outline. This examination will be given under the direction of the department in which the work was done. If the student gives satisfactory evidence of having done the work, he will be given a term credit in the records of this school.
3. This credit will be entered on the books of the college as an extension credit and the college will assume no responsibility for having it accepted by other colleges, unless the student subsequently registers for residence work. If the student does subsequently register for work in this school, the credit will be placed on the record exactly as if he had made it in residence, and will then presumably be valid for transfer to any other college or university in the North Central Association.
4. No courses will be offered in any laboratory, sciences.
5. Outlines for the courses offered will be provided by the heads of the departments of the college, after it has been indicated what feasible courses are most in demand. Courses will be chosen from among those described in the catalog.

Bobby Swain To Play With St. Louis Band At The Chase Hotel

Bobby Swain, former S. I. T. C. student and musician, returned to St. Louis yesterday after a few days stay in Carbondale to resume his duties in Jimmy Downey's Orchestra, a popular dance band now playing at the Hotel Chase in the Missouri city.

Mr. Swain will also join the artist staff of WEW, St. Louis University radio broadcasting station, and will do solo work on various programs this fall and winter. He will play in the WEW staff orchestra and will be on daytime programs broadcast from that station.

Downey's Orchestra may be heard several times a week from station KWIK.

While on this campus Mr. Swain was often heard in solo roles and in dance bands. He was a Kappa Delta Alpha pledge.

MILITARY WORK AMONG HOBBIES OF LATE TEACHER

Excellent Rifle Shot When Member of Cadet Corps At S. I. T. C.

Among the many hobbies of the late W. T. Felts was an interest in firearms and military strategy. This interest was based on the factors of ancestry and training. Coming as he did from a line of pioneers which furnished fighting men for both the Blue and the Grey in the Civil War, he would naturally recall with pride the military exploits of those fighting men. Among the factors was his father who served a term in the now-famous Andersonville Prisoners' Camp as a hostage of war.

Not long ago, Mr. Felts visited the Southern battlefields, and upon his return took great pride and pleasure in recounting his leading to recall the exploits made by townspeople of that day who interpreted the initials, D. C. C., as meaning Dared Cowardly Causes. His memories of the drills and particularly of the sham battles climaxing the year were always interesting. The old cannon barrel now before the main building was another memory of the days of the U. C. C.

After his graduate days Mr. Felts turned his military activities to more peaceful pursuits. He and the late President Shroyck were great friends and often frequented the duck bill' with better than average success. Mr. Felts had that attribute of a true gunner—the ability to see the first of a gun.

This attribute he also carried over into the teaching profession in the form of his ability to bring out the best in any pupil. This perhaps was his truly best characteristic.

TALK BY SENATOR NYE MOVED BACK (Continued from page one) error Sorlie apparently drew the name of Nye out of a clear sky to fill the place.

Clarence Budington Kelland in a recent issue of Cosmopolitan extolled conversation as the most precious of human possessions. It is his right, as he probably is, this generation is losing a valuable legacy.

A few days before school opened this term, Mr. Fells told a student of his impatience to get started, saying that this year would be his best.

The successive generations of students have seen the addition of cars and how the cars proliferated and grew so greatly and faded in their service. The game is true of other relics of a glorious past the chairs in the library, the heating system in Old Main, the death of drinking fountains and adequate rest-rooms.

When a little Carbonade girl was asked what she thought of the unfortunate death of that lovable comedian and homespun philosopher, Will Rogers, she said: "Well, it sure cuts my movie going to half! Momma wouldn't let me see anyone but Will Rogers and Larkie Combs."

Extreme optimists and extreme pessimists would enjoy Jack Conroy's sordid book, "Disinherited." Both types will find their views confirmed. Take-life-as-it-comeses probably will not like it.

Four New Assistants Added To Offices Four additions have been made to the permanent staffs of the business and president's offices. This raises the total number of workers to thirteen.

Ransom Sherretz Recently Married Ransom Sherretz, former editor of the Egyptian, and son of Lee "Pop" Sherretz, the famous night watchman, was married in Hawaii to Miss Lucy Baldwin on August 8.

After a six o'clock wedding the couple left for their honeymoon at a summer home 1,000 feet above sea level. When they returned they found that the wedding gifts had been pouring in. So numerous were the gifts that an extra little car was attached to a train to carry them.

BASEBALL LEAGUE OPENS FALL PLAY WITH 9 ENTRIES

Kappa Delta Alpha To Meet Indians In Today's Game

The KDA baseball team will meet the newly organized Indians this afternoon at 4:15 on the upper athletic field in the first organized fall baseball league in the history of S. I. T. C.

Tomorrow afternoon the Ramblers will play the strong Faculty side which ranked among the topnotchers in the league last spring.

In a meeting last Thursday afternoon of men interested in fall baseball seven teams were formed to comprise the league. The teams and their managers entered are the Swatters, managed by Lavere Massee; KDA, Bob Moore; Monkeys, Mar Morgan; Faculty, Dr. H. C. Kramer; Orioles, James Moore; Indians, Glenn Dawson; and the Ramblers, Earl Lindsay. There will probably be several more teams before the schedule is finished.

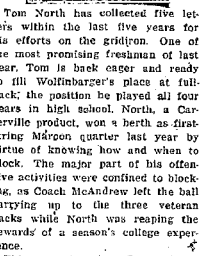

The T. L. Meyer, commissioner of S. I. T. C. spring leagues the past two years, announced that the round-robin schedule would be used again this year and that all the games would start at 4:15 p. m.

Intercollegiate baseball should create quite an interest among baseball fans. This fall due to the fact that many of the stronger teams of last spring's league have entered again and because so much freshman material is at hand.

BULLETIN

Two teams, University High and the Cubs, were added to the league list this week.

GRIDNALITIES

Tom North has collected five letters within the last five years for his efforts on the gridiron. One of the most promising freshmen of last year, Tom is back eager and ready to fill Wolfenbarger's place at fullback; the position he played all four years in high school. North, a Carverville product, won his berth as starting midline quarter last year by virtue of knowing how and when to block. The major part of his offensive activities were confined to blocking, as Coach McAndrew left the ball carrying up to the three veteran backs while North was reaping the rewards of a season's college experience.

This year, however, Tom will do his share of carrying the pigskin, and will probably gain recognition as a plunger of no mean ability. While in high school, his 100 yards sent him crashing through opposing lines all over southern Illinois. He should go a long way in snagging those final two or three of the needed yards.

Warning all opponents stop Howard Polly! Mooreman has re-entered school sport.

Yowzah! ladies and gentlemen, that stellar end and running mate of the Jim Gray has been lured back to the gridiron by the familiar impact of a booted ball, and the desire to churn the turf under rawhide cleats for his fourth year of competition as a Maroon warrior.

With three letters already earned, and eager for a fourth, Polly will be one of the star players of the Carbondale defense. Likewise he will be given first opportunity to handle the main receiving end of that featured Carbondale aerial attack, publicized last year by the Lenth-Gray combination. As it was, Mooreman contributed his share of the yardage via the air. Especially commendable were his stellar performances in the Cape and Old Normal games of last season, where he and Gray alternately snagged Lenth's bulletlike passes to the bewilderment of the opposition.

Mooreman is the second Christopher to be enrolled in the ranks of the first eleven. Constantine team mate Morawski also hails from Christopher.

MAROON GRIDIRON CHANCES DEPEND ON NEW MATERIAL

Ineligibility Adds Its Toll To Graduation Losses

ONE BACKFIELD REGULAR RETURNS

Tom North and Fuzz Hill Probably Will Lead Ball Carriers

From last year's gallery of S. I. T. C. varsity performers one can take the names of Holder, O'Malley, Lenth, Wolfenbarger, Gray, Fegley and Atherton and add them to the honor roll of ex-stars. Three others, Vinson, Prindle and G. Deason encountered eligibility difficulties, while Holliday and Cook did not re-enter college. By the loss of such a wealth of material, this year's gridiron success will be largely dependent on freshmen and pre-patch underclass.

Especially handicapped by this loss is the Southern backfield with only one returning regular, North, for a nucleus around which to build a new quartet. Late "Fuzz" Hill, last year's flashy broken-field runner, will be leading strength for a regular berth as Will Gene Brown and Red McMillan, two other returning lettermen with balloting qualities of no mean ability. Others of this category are veterans Crain, Ghent, and Hickey.

Morris Heiderscheid, who has been shifted from one position another by adding his prowess to the backfield, in the freshman ranks, these are Mondorf, a glibly Christopher, and Keyes, a stellar tackle and halfback from Eldorado as the two with the most promising backfield prospects.

Co-Captain Russ Emery will step up the center hole, with Sammie Hill of Marion, George Land of Sparc, and Tony Favouat of Harrisburg anxious to relieve him. Boren and Treese of Carverville and Carbondale, respectively, are two other contenders.

For the much discussed tackle position left vacant by Bill Prindle, Keyes if he isn't employed in the backfield, Fatherson, ex-pat-patcher, and Jasinsky and Sutton from West Plains will compose the aspirant list. Co-captain Bill Morawski will adequately handle the other tackle job.

Guard Material Plentiful

As far as guards the trouble is not lack of material but the difficulty of pulling out the best men from a large list. Ed Huber, Harrisburg letterman, and John Eaton, Carbondale product, head the list by virtue of experience. Otis Smith, a promising candidate, who was ineligible last year will don the Maroon jersey, while Franklin Scheerer, Henderson, Lincoln and Cade will add their clear marks to the Southern gridiron.

For that demanding position of end, Polly Mooreman and Charles Patterson, veterans, are on hand. Art Hest, member of the Community High (Knights) eleven, and Ted Hight of Marion will expend their efforts to rank with this year's lettermen. Heiderscheid may again be employed as an end, while Starick of Johnston City will attempt to keep pace with the holdovers.

There is both quantity and quality to be found in the freshman gridiron recruits. Any number of them, if not of varsity timber this season, will, by proving in a year's college experience, rate first string position in the future. Several of them might possibly rise to star rank this season.

CARDINALS WIND UP 1935 SEASON IN THREE SERIES

With only three National League opponents remaining in 1935, the St. Louis Cardinals move into the home stretch Saturday, opening a two day, three game series against the Cincinnati Reds at Sportsman's Park. The Pittsburgh Pirates will then return to Sportsman's Park for their second visit of the month. They will meet the Cardinals in single games on Monday and Tuesday, September 23 and 24.

The Chicago Cubs will furnish the opposition to the Cardinals in the final series of the playing season. They will open their five-game series on September 25 and will play single games until the end of the season on Sunday, September 29.

For the convenience of out-of-town fans who desire to attend the Cardinal games, a special long distance telephone line has been installed at the Cardinal ticket office. Fans wishing to make the reservations may do so by calling Long Distance 99.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT IN INTRAMURAL PLANS FOR FALL

The intramural tennis season will officially open under the supervision of Vincent DiGiovanna, physical education director, and Dr. C. D. Tenney, tennis coach. A meeting was held Monday morning of all those interested in the sport. There will be both singles and doubles included in an intramural tourney.

Arrangements have been made to separate the players into three groups which will not compete with one another. There will be an "A" group for experienced players, who will compete in a ladder tournament. Also there will be a "B" group for average players and a "C" group for the beginners. These latter group players through an elimination tourney. All these groups will be coached by Dr. Tenney.

Those on the varsity squad, which comes back to college one hundred percent complete, will not compete as squad members this fall.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION NOW REQUIRED AT U. HIGH IN ATHLETIC REVIVAL

The Physical Education and Athletic program has been revived at University High school. Physical education is now required. Robert McCall has been hired to coach high school athletics. He will be assisted by Otto MacIntosh, former S. I. T. C. basketball and football star, and holder of the track record for the 400 ym. All high school athletics will be directly supervised by Vincent DiGiovanna.

SPORTS SLANTS

The long and short of the aged chaplet seats to Freshmen. In addition to supplying the school with a perennial humorist, Ed furnishes the Maroons a conscientious, hard working half-back.

The field first day of practice was littered with aspirants and the practice went off without a hitch, except that given to the pants of some He-man who had trained on the best of coles and Camels. Too many "fags" and too much liquid candy caused many of the transgressors from the ranks of righteousness to regret their erring ways.

Later the locker-room was a vista of what too much hard work did to you. Although the practice was very light many of the boys were "fagged out," while others were only a trifle "tickered." A few of the more tired ones painted the air with lurid apophoretics to persons in charge of the practice. (Allow me to state parenthetically that a football player is never too tired or too winded to cuss). Most of the boys felt lucky to get off an eight and relieved to get to bed the next day, and so made their weary ways homeward.

After that touching bit of Dranner you need some humor. Heiderscheid can't find a pair of football pants large enough for him, and am I ever laughing?

By the time you think twice before you speak, everybody is talking of something else.

Pim Goff, Illinois State Normal University athlete of three years ago, has been signed by Howard Hancock, athletic director at Normal. Goff was one of the outstanding Little Nineteen performers in football, basketball, and baseball. Last year he won ten and lost six games with Duluth of the Northern League. He is the property of the Bloomington Cardinals.

Cape Girardeau seems to be specializing in brother acts. Last year's featured brothers have been reinforced by another pair, Orville and Virgil Popp. Orville is a regular half-back and Virgil is a freshman center on the Cape Indian eleven. The other sets of brothers were Walter and Milburn Meje, backfield stars last year, and Joe and Gene McDonald, basketball regulars for the Capahas.

Over at Cape Girardeau a new crop has been signed. He is C. P. Harris, former infield basketball star, and he will relieve Abe Stuber, who served as head coach of all sports at the Missouri school last year, of the court tutelage, and incidental matters. Stuber remains head grid and track coach.

The Maroon footballers, after having spent the week in signal drill are ready for scrimmage. These scrimmages are the proof of the football man, and they will largely determine the lineup that will oppose Arkansas A. and M. in the season's opener.

"Grunt-nose" Ed Ghent is back in town and his latest article is selling.

LANTZ RESIGNS AT CHARLESTON; ANGUS NEW HEAD

Charleston, Ill.—Charles P. Lantz, head coach at Eastern Illinois State Teachers College for the past 24 years, has retired from coaching to assume the position of director of physical education, President Robert F. Buzzard announced recently.

Winfield S. Angus, former coach at University High in Urbana, who has been on the physical education staff at Eastern since 1932, will serve as football and track coach. President Buzzard has not announced who will coach basketball.

Over a dozen of all Little Nineteen members, Lantz has been enrolled at Penn State this summer, writing his master's thesis on "The History of the Little Nineteen," a conference in which he was president in 1916, 1917, and from 1922 to 1932.

SEVERAL FORMER S. I. T. C. STUDENTS MARRY DURING SUMMER MONTHS

Eaton Among Those Who Marry In Spring; Weds Eithel Trout

Seven weddings of interest to S. I. T. C. graduates and friends occurred during the summer.

The marriage of Harrison Eaton, of Granite City, to Eithel Trout, of Carbondale, was first to attract local interest. The Reverend S. J. Burgess, pastor of the First Christian Church, read the single rites ceremony in a church wedding on the evening of June 21. Dr. W. M. Bailey gave the bride in marriage. She was attended by Mrs. Freeman Arbetter, matron of honor, and by Helen Hauss and Velma Bailey, bridesmaids. Best man was Freeman Arbetter, and the ushers were William Rushing and Norris Reynolds. The Chi Delta Chi fraternity, of which Mr. Eaton was a member, attended in a group. The couple will reside in Granite City where Mr. Eaton has a teaching position in the grade school.

Paul Jean Brown and Rhoda MacBaker, two prominent graduates of the class of '34, were married in Washington, D. C. June 22. He received his high school and college education in Carbondale and are well known. In college Mrs. Brown took an active part in dramatics, appearing in most of the major collegiate productions. In her senior year she was president of the Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority and a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Association. Previous to her marriage she taught in the Anna High School. Mr. Brown was well known as an athlete, striving in football and track. They are living in Washington, D. C.

Morgan Farmer Marriage in July

Grove's Morgan and Edsie Paner were married July 31 in Carbondale at the First M. E. church parsonage. The Reverend C. L. Peterson, pastor, performing the ceremony. Attendants were Beudena Paner, Frances Locke, Lorraine Ludwig and Robert Morgan. Both the bride and groom attended school here. Mrs. Morgan obtained her degree in 1934. Mr. Morgan has displayed exceptional musical ability and has assisted in writing the musical scores for the last two Homecoming productions. He was a member of the Chi Delta Chi fraternity and also of the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority. The couple will make their home in St. Louis.

Another marriage of two Carbondale people was that of Mary Louise Eithel and Hume Robinson. The wedding was celebrated at the Methodist parsonage in Mount Vernon, Illinois by the pastor, the Reverend W. B. Moffit on Aug. 3. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Vowell attended. They will reside in Carbondale, where Mr. Eithel manages the Lubrite Service Station.

Kathryn Lentz, daughter of E. G. Lentz, faculty member, was married to Paul Peterson, son of Dr. C. L. Peterson, Pastor of the First Methodist Church of Carbondale, August 24 at Beverly Hills, Illinois. Dr. Peterson officiated. The bride was given away by her father, Professor Lentz, and was attended by Ella Mae Halligan, Lewis Peterson, brother of the groom, served as best man. Mrs. Peterson attended S. I. T. C. and received her B. E. degree in 1934. She was a member of Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority. The groom obtained his bachelor of science degree in medicine from the University of Illinois, and he is now a Junior in the College of Medicine in the University of Illinois in Chicago where he is an assistant in pathological research. The couple will live in Chicago.

COLLEAGUES PAY FELTS TRIBUTE

outcome of all education, the civilized personality. Beloved hitherto, he will be venerated now. Howells' phrase, "the white Mr. Longfellow," applies to Mr. Felts. He will be remembered for his utter whiteness of soul.

Mrs. Alice K. Wright and Dr. J. R. Purdy of the Mathematics Department:

We have a sense of irreplaceable loss in the passing of Mr. Felts, who has been not only our respected superior, but also a most sympathetic friend and helper.

F. G. Warren, Principal, University High School:

Mr. Felts had a surpassing genius for friendship. He liked to believe the best of everyone. Possessing firm convictions himself, he was always eloquent of the other person's beliefs. His pathos for the underprivileged were especially tender. His teaching was vitalized by his humor and wealth of illustration. His mental alertness, his interest in human affairs, his courtesy and consideration have endeared him forever to the students and teachers of this school.

R. E. Muckelroy, Head of the Agriculture Department:

Mr. Felts was one among the best men I ever knew. He was my friend and neighbor. We could talk together on any subject in perfect confidence, knowing that the other would never repeat what trouble would be caused. He was a man of high ideals, lofty aspirations, and with a courageous spirit. He had strong convictions, yet he was liberal in his view point. Just a few years ago I met Mr. Felts, and our friendship has grown the stronger through the years. He was every day a Christian man.

Professor Emeritus J. M. Pierce:

When I began teaching here in the fall of 1922, Prof. Felts was then one of the leading students in general activities as well as in the regular studies. As a leader among the students, he was always on the side of established authority and proper discipline. A recognition of his standing, he was chosen to have custody of the educational exhibit of the S. I. T. at the Columbian Exposition in Chicago for a part of the summer of 1929.

Many years later, when in the Faculty and preparing for a higher degree, he entered classes in Modern Languages and was as regular and careful as any student in meeting all the requirements.

Whatever honors Prof. Felts received in recognition of his varied activities in school and community were truly deserved by the life he lived among us. All who knew him will miss him.

Professor Emeritus George W. Smith:

I have known Professor Felts as a student, teacher in the public schools, and in the Teachers College, as a good citizen, and as a Christian gentleman. Few men of his age have contributed as much to the moral worth of the community in which he lived. He was a man of courage who could be relied on in an emergency. His ideals were high, and he was ready to make any sacrifice to maintain them. Let us hope we may find some one who can measurably take his place in all the phases of life in which he was so devoted a worker.

W. O. Brown, Superintendent, Rural Training Schools:

I first became acquainted with Prof. Felts in a teachers' institute nearly forty years ago. At that time he appeared quite young for an institute instructor, but he was a good one—full of energy and homely, interesting stories, which always had a point to them and which always pleased the audience.

Later on when I was county superintendent of schools I employed him several times to work in my own institute or to speak at an educational meeting somewhere in the county. Then and since then on many occasions under various conditions I have heard him speak to teachers, parents and pupils. He never failed to interest them and they never tired of listening.

Driving one time with him to a distant county I saw him stop and pick up an old weather-beaten gentleman going on crutches, and whom most drivers would have passed unheeded. This action was characteristic of him. His high intellect never got the upper hand of his conscience. If every poor, unfortunate person to whom he has been kind and helpful were lined up today, it would reach perhaps, mighty close to the Peary Gates. Low or high, poor or rich, stupid or intelligent must all acknowledge his sympathetic attitude in the vicissitudes of life.

It never doubtless occurred, never was envious, never took advantage of friend or foe. I never knew a man more to be trusted, or with a higher sense of honor.

S. E. Boomer, Head of the Physics Department:

When I entered S. I. T. U. Mr. Felts was one of its leading students. I remember well his marked ability in class room and in literary society. He was preparing then for an exceedingly useful life as teacher, citizen, friend, Christian gentleman. In every activity in which he engaged he stood firmly for the best. Another one of God's noblemen has passed on.

Dr. Bruce W. Merwin, Director of Training Schools:

In the passing of Mr. Felts, education in Southern Illinois has received a great blow. His activities at Homecoming and his predictions as to the weather for that day endeared him to hundreds of students. His active interest in the work of the Southern Division of the State Teachers Association did much to guide and control the exceptional trends of this area. Coupled with a sense of what one should do, his kindly, appreciative attitude toward those who sought his help and advice is a distinctive characteristic that symbolizes him to all with whom he came in contact. His place in the teaching ranks will not be easily filled.
