Enrollment Climbs
To All-Time Peak

Student enrollment at Southern Illinois University has reached 19,000, an all-time record. As a result, President J. Donald Brown has expanded the student body by 600 students this year.

The figures for the fall term show an increase of 1,200 students over last year's enrollment. The largest gains were made in the College of Arts and Sciences, which saw an increase of 800 students. The College of Business and Economics also showed significant growth, with an increase of 400 students.

Homecoming Play Title is Changed

The play will take place on October 15 and will be directed by Professor John Smith.

Design Plans Class Final Extensive Building Projects

President Brown has announced that funds have been secured for extensive building projects on campus.

These projects will include the construction of new academic buildings, the expansion of existing facilities, and the renovation of historic structures.

The construction process will begin immediately, and the projects are expected to be completed within the next five years.

The projects are expected to cost millions of dollars and will be funded through a combination of state and federal grants, private donations, and university funds.

The projects will provide significant benefits to the university community, including improved learning environments, increased enrollment capacity, and enhanced research capabilities.

Further details on the projects will be announced in the near future.
The Smoke Has Settled

In the last five years, the smoking rule has been a vague, indefinite, uncertain law, existing on the basis of custom, with a slight tinge of moral tenets thrown in. For good or ill, the students have been trying to have a smoking policy like this now settled definitely and distinctly, once and for all.

Now that new rules have been established, being both liberal and protective, there should be no question of eye-gouging and guilt feelings when a person takes that necessary smoke. In appreciation for this new convention, we students should observe the rules faithfully.

The Marks of an Educated Man

For those of us who are seniors this year, we will not be able to look over our shoulders at the freshmen and sophomores here at Southern and in other universities and ask them what the three-year or four-year course means. We will be fully educated, and you have far to go.

However, we should take some lessons from our seniors. We know that after this year we won't be finished products, we need to learn about our education. It is not a question of knowledge, but whose ultimate height is possessed only by God.

On the other hand, a college degree does not guarantee its possessor the marks of an educated man. This does not prevent the possibility that you can be educated and instructed in all phases of an education. It is the one thing that is necessary to be an educated man. The marks of an educated man are:

1. The ability to be courteous and live in society.
2. The ability to think and reason.
3. The ability to write and speak.
4. The ability to understand and appreciate the arts.
5. The ability to appreciate and use money.
6. The ability to appreciate and use leisure.
7. The ability to appreciate and use nature.

And in other words, the marks of an educated man is what he does rather than what he is or what he has. Next week it will be pointed out the ways that marks are obtained.

Maroons Sparkle in Grid Practice; Savior Returns

The pessimistic picture between Southern and Wayne university was turned on the first practice Monday when Glenn "Ace" Martin's charges showed their first real good scrimmage of the season. With more practice and a few more under their belt, the Maroons' first coed should not be a top flight stunt. The big question is how the first team handles. On payers, the starting tailback should be as good as last year's Corn Root who had space.

The guards and tackles look good. All are taller linemen and will be easier on circuits. Last year's first eleven, Chuck Larvin is at left guard. Larvin is right guard in the solid barrier. Captain John Carr, who, incidentally weighs in at 215 pounds, will move from that front field position.

The coed quarterback on the line is Warren Littledoe, the "tailback" person. A big engine, colored, Kid Littledoe played as end last year, but was moved up to first string left tackle.

The defense of J. Ross from substitute center to alternate at fullback. Ross's parentage, while not much to go by, is a mansfield (Ohio State) grad. Ross will play the center of the line.

Joe Hughes, third team tackle last year, returns in his position and is now running stiff and fast. He will likely start at either a week or two. In the meantime, the team will be with the duties at left end and at center. Warren Corn Root will handle right end.

The backfield looks good with Bill Fly, Dick Smalley, Bill Johnson, and John Bush. Fly at quarterback will be okay on the hard handling, but if circumstances to be used as a yardstick, McGinnis is the man. McGinnis will probably handle the power plays and special return assignments.

Wayne university is a little better than Southern in experience. A source of information that McGinnis is the only one that can beat the Maroons in games this year.

Of particular interest is that the Maroons can only beat the Guy's Guys the way they are playing. The Guy's Guys are good in games but not in scrimmages. The Maroons' offense will be the key factor in this game.

Maroons sparkled in grid practice.

Local Item

Even with the loss of Bill Martl, the Maroons can still be considered one of the top teams in the country. The team will have to depend on the strength of the Maroons who lack the experience of the Guy's Guys. For the Guy's Guys will be back again. We expect to see Ramsey back in as he is the only one that can beat the Maroons in games.

Coach Seegar will fully take advantage of the extra time for his team. He will have Ramsey back to play again and JoeHughes about ready to come into play. No problems to the Maroons back out.

With the exception of the Southern team, the biggest team is the Guy's Guys. The most people are good. With even a few weeks of work, the Guy's Guys will be ready to go.

The team will have to be ready to play.

Wednesday

Johnny Long's "JUST LIKE THAT" from the Signature disc.

Johnny Long (Ohio University-Sigma Xi) comes up on Thursday in the local theater. He's a local success.

If you should ask Johnny how he come to write it, he'll light up a Camel and say: "Experience! I know from experience what music suits my band best just as I learned from experience that CAMELS suit my Y-Zone to a 'T.'"

Try Camel on your "Y-Zone" for taste. See for yourself. With Johnny Long and millions of other smokers, CAMELS are the "choice of experience."
