HEALTH DEPARTMENT DOING EXTENSION WORK IN METROPOLIS

The Department of Physiology and Health Education has been conducting an extension program in Metropolis, Illinois, under the direction of the superintendent of schools of Metropolis, Dr. C. W. Smith, for some time. The content of this course was designed to give subjects, in the field of health education, a course in elementary and high school teachers, and was agreed upon by both the superintendent and the Department of Physiology and Health Education.

The study of the physical examination, including the student's general morning inspection, the sense of taste, nutrition, oral hygiene, unusual children in the school room, and the student's own physical condition, is applied to school situations, community sanitation and water supply, materials and methods of teaching health education at various levels, and appraisal of the school buildings and grounds are subjects which have been included in the course.

At the present time the class is working with reports of individual physical examinations. A group of doctors in the county will be making a weekly examination at the Metropolis courthouse, and an average of three students will be taken each week by three physicians. Members of the County Medical Society take turns in making these examinations, which are paid for by the school board.

Sept. Smith is to be commended for his enthusiasm and interest in this project for getting 100 per cent cooperation between the pupils, teachers, board members and physicians. Mr. Smith is to be commended for the way in which the examination is completed, to evaluate the results of the examination, and correlate the physical findings with the student's achievement, and nutritional and educational status. It is obvious that the results of such a study can be tremendously helpful in making pupil-teacher relationships, especially in the case where it is found that children deviate from the normal. In their own right, the results of the examination will be available for other counties to make similar studies.

DR. LAWSON PLANS DISCUSSION SOCIETY

A meeting will be held Tuesday, February 13, in the Student Lounge of the Old Science Building of Southern Illinois Normal University to organize a round-table discussion society. The meeting has been called to meet the increasing demand for a more complete extracurricular speech program on campus.

The discussion society will meet regularly as any other group. At each meeting a topic will be taken up for open discussion. These topics will not be limited by the text books, debate, Latin, these round tables will be carried over into classes and other student assemblies.

Dr. Douglas Lawson, head of the education department at Southern Illinois Normal University, has agreed to sponsor such a speech activity at the college after an intensive session of planning and debate team. Looking forward to the time when round-table discussion groups will replace debating in all schools, they are rapidly doing, he believes the interest of Southern students expressed in this activity is a sign of a new era in education. The program will carry over to make Southern a pioneer in the modern trend of round-tables.

Each year after Dr. Lawson drew up four points giving the purposes of discussion groups. They are as follows: (1) To constructively discuss and reason out a problem. (2) Subscribing to the principle that to evaluate both sides of an issue is a more intelligent approach to the discovery of truth than is any dogmatic or one-sided approach. (3) Subscribing to the principle that the truth is to be discovered by the use of reason, not by force or authority. (4) Subscribing to the principle that the truth is to be discovered by the use of reason, not by force or authority.

LOCAL VETERANS' BUREAU ENGAGED ACTIVELY IN SERVICE PROGRAM

The Bureau is organized to give necessary assistance to the veteran from the time he first seeks information concerning his privileges and rights under the provisions of the State of Illinois and the Federal Government, to the time after he has completed his training period, when he has received reasonable consideration for employment. When after this, interest in the welfare of the veteran continues.

There are very many important aspects of the veteran's service which focus his attention and these give necessary assistance.

Such assistance includes help in the selection of a profession, the keeping of records and documents, the supervising and administering of funds and contracts, special courses guidance and training, and the representing of the school in its relationships with the State and Federal Government, and the rehabilitation and Education.

Messiah Group In Process Or Rehearsals

The Messiah Chorus, which is planning to present THE MESSIAH during the Easter season, is holding rehearsals under the direction of Professor J. W. Walker every Monday night at 7:30 in the Little Theatre. The chorus has its members from the school and other students on the campus who are interested in singing. THE MESSIAH is a grand vocal work, male voices, tenors and basses are needed, and interested students may participate by attending the rehearsals.

THE MESSIAH was last given on the campus in a Christmas program in 1942. It was also presented in Du Quoin. No out of town performers are scheduled this year because of the lack of transportation. There will be no admission charge, but a free-will offering will be taken.

THE MESSIAH was first given in Dublin, Ireland, in April 1716, for a charity cause. Since that performance, it has become one of the most popular and profitable of all musical works. A complete presentation of THE MESSIAH, which for the last twenty-five years requires two hours and thirty minutes. In the campus program, the chorus will be rehearsed and to rehearse the work.
