Congress content with North verdict

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional critics and supporters of Oliver North expressed both relief and satisfaction Wednesday that the former White House aide was not sentenced to prison for his role in the Iran-Contra scandal.

"I think the court tempered justice with mercy in avoiding imposing prison time" on North, a retired Marine officer, said Rep. Henry Hyde, R-Ill.

Hyde, one of North's strongest supporters, and Rep. Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., perhaps his sharpest congressional critic, said federal Judge Gehard Gesell had rendered a decision that balanced North's personal responsibility against his belief he was acting under the authority of superiors.

Hamilton, chairman of the special House committee that investigated the secret sale of arms to Iran and the diversion of profits to the Nicaraguan Contra guerrillas, said North believed he was following the wishes of President Ronald Reagan.

Gesell "put a great weight in his sentencing decision on the fact that Colonel North was not the leader, that he was in fact acting under direct authority or under the cloak of authority, at least he thought he was acting with the president's approval," Hamilton said.

"I guess the message that emerges for me is that higher authorities should be the ones that take responsibility and Colonel North was a scapegoat or a fall guy, as others put it," Hamilton said.

"I don't think the fact that he was a scapegoat or fall guy absolves him of any responsibility in the matter," Hamilton added, "but it certainly goes to the question of mitigation of punishment."

"The many unanswered questions about who was calling the shots in this operation may never be answered," Hyde said.

Gesell gave North a three-year suspended prison sentence, a fine of $150,000, and told him to provide 1,200 hours of community service for his convictions of aiding and

Rea pulls for local prison site

By John Walbley

State Sen. Jim Rea, D-Christopher, is pulling for one of the six communities in the running for the approval of three sites proposed under a $97 million budget to build prisons in Illinois.

The Rend Lake site, in Rea's district, has been named as one of the six areas that are favored by Gov. James R. Thompson's approval. However, Thompson has not indicated any site specifically, according to Rea.

"We are pushing very hard to convince the governor that this (Rend Lake) is a very good spot for a prison," Rea said.

"The governor has said that he would not put a prison where people did not want it," Rea said.

He said the public hearing held by the Department of Corrections showed the overwhelming support the Rend Lake site has.

"At our public hearing, we had 3,000 people attending with no opposition, and we had

Instructors to write minority dictionary

By Micki Delhaute McGowan
Staff Writer

Four professors, including two from SIU-C, soon will begin writing the grammar and dictionary for a minority Chinese group language spoken fluently by only 10 people in the world.

Xiangwu Xu, a sociolinguist from Chanchung, China, said presently it is impossible for the minority group to keep its language because it is not in written form.

The dying language is one of the languages of the Tungusic group.

A group of 1,600 Chinese people from north China are from the minority group with the unwritten language, but only 10 elderly people speak the language.

Alan Kim, an SIU-C professor of Japanese, will be writing the grammar and dictionary with Xu.

"The study would be very valuable in the comparison of Japanese and Korean with other Altaic languages," Kim said. Altaic languages include Mongolian, Manchu and Turkish.

"There is a very strong view that Japanese and Korean are related to this minority Tungusic language," Kim said. He said he is hoping to find that the minority language is the "missing link" between Altaic languages and Japanese and Korean.

Kim said that modernization and the Chinese revolution have accelerated the loss of the original culture of China.

"People should prevent such a loss," Kim said. The maintenance of ethnic languages and cultures is important, he said.

Five regions in China have different languages, in addition to Chinese, Xu said. "The main problem for these areas is how to keep their native minority language," he said.

Gus says he doubts the dictionary will hit the Best Seller list if only 10 people know the language.

National Labor Relations Board stands by union

ST. PAUL, Va. (UPI) — Federal labor officials have upheld the United Mine Workers' claim of unfair labor practices against Pittston Coal Group, the union says.

UMW vice president Cecil Roberts told thousands of rain-soaked supporters at a rally Tuesday that the National Labor Relations Board had upheld the union's claim against the state's largest coal producer.

The UMW's allegations of unfair labor practices prompted union President Richard Trumka to call a strike against Pittston April 5.

The ruling, which came last week, could severely hurt Pittston's attempts to attract nonunion labor to keep its operations going, Roberts said. The company has hired scores of replacements during the strike to work its mines but contends they have been hired on a permanent basis.

"When we get a contract, (they're) finished," Roberts said.

The NLRB decision, based on unfair labor complaints filed by the union more than a year ago, is the most significant step to date toward a resolution of the labor conflict, which has spawned wildcat walkouts among about 32,000 sympathetic UMW miners across Appalachia and the Midwest.

More than 3,500 miners and supporters rallied on a muddy field Monday and heard United Farmworkers Union leader

Cesar Chavez praise their struggle against Pittston as one shared by working people nationwide.

He compared Pittston chairman Paul Douglas to King George III and said, "King Douglas has the arrogance of power, but the mine workers have the power of righteousness."

Arena to get new roof by fall if Board approves

By Lisa Miller
Staff Writer

If the SIU Board of Trustees approves the final specifications, the Arena could have a new roof before the end of the summer.

According to Clarence G. Dougherty, vice president for campus services, the Arena needs the new roof soon.

"The current roof leaks pretty bad and it's about 25 years old," Dougherty said.

The board gave its official seal of approval last semester to replace the roofing material on the domed roof because of "serious deterioration," Harris Rowe, chairman of the board, said.

Final specifications include the cost of material and maintenance for the construction of the new roof.

The Magrum Roofing Company, Inc. from Mayfield, Ky., may be awarded the contract if the board approves

The estimated cost of the project was $210,000, but the Magrum Roofing Company said the job could be done for $199,366.

However, the Magrum Roofing Company did not make the lowest bid for the contract.

A report released from the board stated that the "low bidder has been disqualified because neither the material to be used nor the method of installation by that bidder met bid specifications."

Neil Spilman, director of University purchasing, said this was not an uncommon occurrence.

"We have certain criteria for each contract," Spilman said. "Sometimes those who make the lowest bids don't use products that meet our standards."

The name of the company and the information about their bid was not released in the report.

Last respects for Gromyko; as somber in death as in life

MOSCOW (UPI) — Andrei Gromyko was given a low-key burial Wednesday after foreign dignitaries and hundreds of Soviet citizens paid their last respects to the former president and long-time foreign minister. Gromyko was laid to rest at Moscow's Novodevichy Cemetery, where former Premier Nikita Khrushchev, former President Nikolai Podgorny and a number of other Soviet leaders are buried.

Soviet tourists injured in Peru bus bombing

LIMA, Peru (UPI) — A bombing believed to have been the work of communist guerrillas destroyed two buses in Lima Wednesday and wounded at least 23 people, including eight Soviet fishermen on a tourist outing, authorities said. Police Director Fernando Reyes Roca said three of the wounded were in critical condition. There were no claims of responsibility for the incident, but Reyes said the bombing was the work of four members of the Shining Path communist guerrilla movement.

Poland's presidential election is postponed

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Parliament postponed Thursday's scheduled presidential elections amid continued uncertainty over whether Polish leader Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski will run for the new office and criticism of his alternate proposal for the job. Marian Orzechowski, chairman of the Communist Party's parliamentary club, said at a news conference Wednesday the two houses of Parliament would not meet jointly to elect the president until after President Bush's visit to Poland.

Candle may have sparked fatal July 4th fire

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — A candle used to light a house where electric service was cut off for non payment of bills may have caused a fire that killed six children on the Fourth of July, authorities said Wednesday. "Non-payment of bills caused electrical service to be cut off to the building. Apparently the candle was being used for lighting," fire Capt. Mike Brown said.

Crimefighter dies chasing off crack smokers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two men caught smoking crack in a Bronx apartment house Wednesday killed the youth who chased them away but were attacked by enraged residents and fled to a police station for safety, authorities said. "This person got involved and lost his life over it," said detective Joseph McGonigle. The crack smokers slammed Michael Taylor, 18, in the chest with an ax, police said. He died at Jacobi Hospital.

Sims' relatives subpoenaed; testimony expected Monday

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (UPI) — A Madison County grand jury has subpoenaed relatives of a mother suspected in the deaths of her two infant daughters three years apart, officials said Wednesday. Madison County authorities said subpoenas were served Tuesday on Paula Sims' husband, Robert, and four other relatives. They are expected to testify Monday.

Group pushes amendment to limit state tax increases

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — An anti-tax increase organization Wednesday kicked off a petition drive to amend the Illinois Constitution to make it harder for the Legislature to increase taxes to raise revenue. The proposed amendment would require three-fifths of the members of the House and Senate to approve bills raising revenue and increasing taxes, and require public hearings before committees could consider revenue increase proposals.

Management of information goal of new endowed center

By Tim Crosby
Staff Writer

The Pontikes Center for Management of Information, scheduled for dedication today at Rehn Hall, will place the University on the cutting edge of management research, Thomas G. Gutteridge, dean of the College of Business Administration, said.

The center, which was made possible by a $1 million endowment from SIU-C business alumnus Kenneth N. Pontikes, will be dedicated to educating students on the process of gathering and using large quantities of information and to researching better ways to manage it.

"It is the first endowed center in the University's history and the first of its kind at any Illinois university," Gutteridge said. "It's also one of the first nationally."

"We are entering a new frontier, and that is how to manage information so as to make effective decisions," Gutteridge continued. "Even here on the campus the different colleges are very separated. This facility will help pull them together."

Arkaigud Ramaprasad, director of the center, said the facility will be open for all departments to use.

"It's a University-wide program, not just for the business college," he said.

Gutteridge said at first the center will focus on industry related research projects, "where the issues are more compelling."

"We would hope that support from industry, in the form of dollars, will follow," he said.

Gutteridge said the interest from the $1 million will be the project's annual budget. It should reach the $50,000 level in about two years, he said.

The first installment of $330,000 was deposited last year by Pontikes. Installments of $330,000 each will be deposited sometime this year and again in 1990, Gutteridge said.

"It looks like a lot of money, but it can be used up very quickly," Gutteridge said, adding that the money should be looked upon as "seed money."

It sort of primes the pump for private donations to come in," he explained. "We can do the original studies and show them the results and ask them to support further research."

Nanda Rangan, an instructor in the finance department, has submitted a proposal together with Ramaprasad for a study on the ways technology has been affecting the banking industry.

"We'd like to get into this area first since very few schools have this type of facility," Rangan said, adding that this would help the University obtain further grants for research.

Rangan said the center will provide an "umbrella effect" that persuades banks to be more forthcoming with information.

Gutteridge said the project, originally given a low profile, has created a "can do" mentality within the University.

"It is creating some excitement now that we're close to beginning," he said. "Business is not the only college that deals with management of information, and now there is a feeling among the deans that we are doing something."

The dedication will take place at 3 p.m. today.

A ribbon cutting ceremony and reception will follow the dedication.

'50s, '60s rock act to play at Turley

Captain Rat and the Blind Rivets, a Champaign-based '50s and '60s rock revival outfit, will be the act featured at this week's Sunset Concert at Turley Park.

This four-piece band plays everything from the Beach Boys to Tommy James. The band, which has been on the road intermittently for over a decade, has achieved widespread regional popularity and has opened for such acts as Jan and Dean and Dion.

The Rivets also cut a novelty single in honor of the Fighting Illini's trip to the Rose Bowl. The song, a parody on the tune, "Little Old Lady From Pasadena," sold 10,000 copies.

Ice cream social to be held

The annual summertime, old-fashioned Ice Cream Social at the Pierre Menard Home State Historic Site has been set for 1 to 4 p.m. on Sunday at the south lawn of the nineteenth-century mansion.

Costumed staff and volunteers of the Menard Home will serve homemade ice cream, cookies and drinks to visitors at no charge. The home's kitchen will have demonstrations of nineteenth-century food preparation. Storyteller

Lee Hendrix from St. Louis will provide entertainment.

The Pierre Menard Home is an example of French Colonial architecture in the central Mississippi River Valley. The mansion was built in the early 1800s for Illinois' first lieutenant governor.

The Pierre Menard Home, administered by the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency, is open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Hill House decision morally necessary

THE CARBONDALE City Council voted 3-2 Monday to approve a special use permit to allow Hill House, a facility used for in-patient treatment of adolescents with drug or alcohol problems, to relocate on Park Street in Carbondale.

The decision, announced at a special meeting, was made in the face of opposition from residents of the area surrounding the proposed site.

MANY RESIDENTS expressed their concerns that the placement of the center in their area will jeopardize their safety and lower the value of their property.

Hill House, established in 1972, is presently in operation on West Mill Street. The center began at two locations on West Cherry and Beveridge streets. In 1982, the City Council approved a special use permit allowing the center to relocate in a single building on West Mill Street.

THE CENTER had been mandated by the state to find an alternative site by July 1, 1990. The center that houses 40 residents would have to be cut to 24 to meet the requirements.

Throughout its history, Hill House has been repeatedly commended by the government of Illinois for its service.

Even the residents at the council meeting who opposed the placement said that they did support Hill House.

HILL HOUSE and similar institutions are placed in residential areas with the intent to provide a community setting to give adolescents the sense of stability they have been denied.

The center deals with drug abuse as a symptom of other problems. A positive community attitude improves the chances for residents to live their lives more securely without the need for chemicals.

Although the concerns of residents in the Park Street area are legitimate, they must be weighed against a greater concern — an adolescent drug and alcohol problem that threatens everyone.

The priorities of the city must reflect a moral obligation to these adolescents by providing adequate rehabilitation services.

FACED WITH dissatisfaction at the meeting's close, Mayor Dillard explained that drug and alcohol problems will only be solved through the cooperation of everyone.

The mayor should be commended for that statement as well as his vote to allow the facility's placement. It was a tough call for the council. We feel it was the right one.

Quotable Quotes

"If the law of the land is execution, then we should execute. Interminable appeals and legal nipping should come to an end some time. If we don't want to execute, then we should change the law." — Pennsylvania Assistant District Attorney Michael Marino said after asking for a quick execution of convicted murderer Arthur Faulkner.

Editorial Policies

Signed articles, including letters, viewpoints and other commentaries, reflect the opinions of their authors only. Unsigned editorials represent a consensus of the Daily Egyptian Board, whose members are the student editor-in-chief, the editorial page editor, the associate editorial page editor, a news staff member, the faculty managing editor and a School of Journalism faculty member.

Letters to the editor must be submitted directly to the editorial page editor, Room 1247, Communications Building. Letters should be typewritten and double spaced. All letters are subject to editing and will be limited to 500 words. Letters fewer than 250 words will be given preference for publication. Students must identify themselves by class and major, faculty members by rank and department, non-academic staff by position and department.

Letters for which verification of authorship cannot be made will not be published.

'Jerkism' increasing in today's society

The elevator door opened and I stepped forward to get off. I found myself face to face with a young man who intended to get on.

Apparently, it hadn't occurred to him that when an elevator door opens, someone might be getting off. If it had, he would have been standing off to the side. Instead, he was blocking my path.

I had two options. One was to step to the side and give him the right of way. But I instantly ruled that out. The right of way was mine and he was in it.

So I took option two, which was to lower my shoulder slightly and walk right into him.

There was a satisfying thump and he lurched backward. As I went by, I caught a glimpse of his face. He was gawking. It was a satisfying moment, since it was victory over Jerkism.

Unless you are a hermit or a jerk yourself, you must know that Jerkism is one of society's major irritants and it has been increasing.

As Dr. I.M. Kookie has explained: "It is a law of nature. The population is getting bigger, so the more people there are, the more jerks there will be."

Basically, jerks are those who seem unaware that other people exist. Or, if they are aware, they just don't care. A jerk considers himself to be the center of the universe. What a jerk lacks in civility, he makes up for in stupidity.

There are major jerks and minor jerks. The minor jerks are the ones we see most often, because there are more of them.

As you may remember, a couple of years ago there was an outbreak of motorists shooting at each other on southern California's expressway system.

Although I have no scientific evidence to support my theory, I'm convinced that many of the shootings were the result of American flag during the 1984 Republican convention in Dallas, as a form of adrebrained protest.

At the time, he was clearly a minor jerk, since his peevish act had little effect on anyone except himself and the cops who went through the bother of arresting him.

But his arrest and conviction wound up in front of the Supreme Court, which upheld his right to burn the flag. And that touched off our national save-the-flag frenzy, which has given Johnson the temporary rank of major jerk.

Because of Johnson, and the Supreme Court decision, others have leaped to the esteemed rank of super jerks.

These would include all the politicians — including President Bush — who are calling for a constitutional amendment to protect the flag from jerks like Johnson.

A constitutional amendment is a serious matter. And as much as I dislike jerks, I doubt if the Founding Fathers ever intended that amendments be used to defend us from them.

Bush knows this. So do most of the other politicians who are playing the super-patriot game. They know they are dealing with the actions of a mere jerk. It's not as if we're walking through America's cities and seeing flag bonfires burning on every corner. I'm sure crime statistics would show that for every flag-burning in this country, we have 10,000 or more rapes, robberies or murders.

Ask yourself: Have you ever seen a flag burned? Do you know anyone who has burned a flag? Of course not. As acts of jerkism go, it is a rarity.

And if Bush doesn't want to wind up looking like President J, I would remind him of the old saying: "The eagle does not hunt flies."

I don't know if Bush is an eagle, but Gregory Lee Johnson barely qualifies as a fly.

Jerkism.

Just about every driver who took a bullet in a windshield or tire said the same thing: "I was just driving along minding my own business when this madman suddenly..."

Don't give me that. I don't believe a word of it. You were cutting someone off, tailgating or holding up traffic in a fast lane by poking along while jabbering at your companion or yakking into your car phone. You were provoking rage.

As abruptly as the shootings began, they ended. Was it increased law enforcement? No. It was fear, a spreading awareness, and jerks saying to themselves: "If I keep driving like a jerk, someone might shoot at me."

Violence can be a positive force.

The minor jerks also include the movie theater babblers. When I go to the movies, I now carry a piece of piano wire in my pocket. Some day, I will have a babbler sitting in front of me. After one polite request for silence is ignored, I'll loop the wire around his or her throat and give it one yank. The world will be a better place for all of us.

Actually, I won't do it, but it's pleasant to think about. As I said earlier, there are minor and major jerks. And a minor jerk recently achieved temporary major jerk status. This would be Gregory Lee Johnson, who burned the abetting the obstruction of Congress, destroying official documents and taking the illegal gift of a $13,800 security system.

But Gesell said justice would not be served by sending North, 45, to jail, a widely welcomed judgment.

"I think most members of Congress, myself included, would not really feel comfortable seeing Colonel North go behind prison bars," Hamilton said.

Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., said virtually no one wanted to see North "trundled off to jail, waving the American flag," and that he should not appeal the sentence.

"He really came out in a very fortunate way," Edwards said.

Rep. Robert Dornan, R-Calif., was prepared to send a letter to President Bush signed by 57 other House members, appealing for a pardon for the decorated Marine. But he said because there was no prison term, Bush should be free to act on his own.

"Wouldn't it be a little peculiar to have President Reagan sitting in comfortable retirement, and President Bush leading the free world, and both gentlemen having called Ollie North an American hero? Doesn't it put them on the spot if the American hero had been given jail time?"

"I believe he was the fall guy," Dornan said.

At the White House, a spokesman said Bush had no comment and that there had been no discussion of a possible pardon.

Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, was pleased North is not going to jail, but said the $150,000 fine is excessive and a presidential pardon is justified.

Kim, Xu and two other researchers will complete research in the United States before leaving for China.

Charles Hammond, a University instructor, will be one of the researchers working with Kim and Xu on the project.

When the group visits China, it will interview the 10 speakers of the minority language they will be studying to obtain the necessary information to write the grammar and dictionary.

Many articles about minority languages are written in Russian, Kim said. The group will have someone translate the articles.

Xu and Kim are writing a proposal for a grant to do the field work in China.

Although Kim admitted the research would serve no practical purpose, he said its significance is evident in other ways.

It may raise the awareness of the importance of language maintenance, particularly in China, Kim said.

Research completed in this area also may contribute to linguistic investigation, he said.

20,000 signatures in favor of it."

The last minute addition to the state budget created the $97 million to build the prisons and $15.5 million to build work camps and boot camps.

Boot camps are different from the work camps because of their military-type atmosphere and treatment of inmates.

Thompson has said he will visit a boot camp facility in Michigan before he makes a final determination on the project.

The five other communities are Decatur, Flora, Robinson, Streator and Taylorville, according to legislators.

Two prisons are nearing the final stages of completion in Canton and Mount Sterling.

Rea said if approved the facility in Rend Lake would create jobs for 250 workers during construction and 500 permanent positions when the facility is completed.

"The prison would certainly be an economic boost for the area," he said.

According to Rea, the facility would be a 750 bed, medium security prison with an annual budget of $15 million, $10 million of that being payroll to employees of the prison.

"We know this would be a real asset to the area and the people," he said.

Sen. Ralph Dunn, R-Du Quoin, offered a considerable amount of support for the Rend Lake site.

"Of course, outside of seeing it in my district, that would suit me fine to see it at Rend Lake," Dunn said. "It's a pretty good location," he said. "At least it would be in the area."

Rea said the site is ideal because of the easy access to Interstate 57 and having Rend Lake College near the facility.

He said the prison would be on the Jefferson side of the Jefferson-Franklin county line.

Mount Vernon City Councilman Mark Terry said the Rend Lake Conservancy District, Benton and Mount Vernon, have all expressed their support for the Rend Lake site at the public hearing in Mount Vernon.

Demonstrators hold petition drive to keep abortion legal in Illinois

CHICAGO (UPI) — Pro-abortion demonstrators held a petition drive Wednesday at the State of Illinois Building, urging Gov. James R. Thompson and legislative leaders to keep abortion legal in Illinois.

The effort by the Illinois Pro-Choice Alliance came in the wake of Monday's Supreme Court ruling on the Webster vs. Missouri case, which gives states the right to restrict abortion and funding for them.

Anti-abortion legislators have said they will try to draft a bill further restricting abortion in time for the fall veto session.

"It's a major retreat by the court," said Ann Kuta, director of the alliance, an umbrella organization for about 250 smaller groups. "What that means for us is that we now have to take our message to the state. This is the first step in doing that."

It appeared by late morning that more than 1,000 passers-by had signed the 10-yard-long letter, which will be sent to Thompson, House Speaker Michael Madigan and Senate President Philip Rock. Alliance members also passed out buttons with slogans such as, "Keep Abortion Legal." "People are outraged," Kuta said.

Epic adventure portrays hero as swashbuckling romantic

By Carrie Pomeroy
Staff Writer

"The Adventures of Baron Munchausen," directed by Monty Python alumnus Terry Gilliam, is the kind of epic adventure that Hollywood used to make with a very British twist.

Lovers dance in mid-air, adventurers go to the moon and fall through the center of the earth, and five old men defeat the Turkish army - all in the space of two hours.

Set in a besieged city at the dawn of the Age of Reason, the film tells a story of a swashbuckling hero who defies the laws of gravity and time and escapes the clutches of death.

Baron Munchausen is everything the cold, logical thinkers of the Age of Reason wish to deny. He is romance, magic, and danger all rolled into one dashing package.

As the Baron, veteran British actor John Neville actually plays two roles. He is the old, slightly doddering Baron who states, "I'm tired of the world, and the world is obviously tired of me."

But he also is the Baron in his twinkly-eyed, sword-brandishing prime.

The interplay between the Baron's two identities shows that old heroes never die, they just find someone to believe in them.

Film Review

In the Baron's case it is a little girl, Sally, who believes that he has it in him to save her city which is being sacked by the Turks.

"The Adventures of Baron Munchausen" is full of star-studded cameo appearances.

Rock star Sting appears briefly as a war hero who, in line with the movie's very British black humor, is executed for "demoralizing the troops" with his heroism.

As the god Vulcan, Oliver Reed is a flame-haired, grime-smearing terror.

Robin Williams practically steals the film with his short appearance as the demented King of the Moon.

Monty Python fans will recognize Eric Idle as Berthold, a man who can run so fast he has to wear ankle-weights to keep from zooming off.

As in his earlier films "Time Bandits," and "Brazil," director Gilliam throws almost too much information at his audience, making for a film which requires the viewer to pay close attention. Rewards come in the form of stunning visual images and ingenious wordplay.

Some of the special effects, such as the scene in which the Baron dances with the goddess Venus in mid-air, are incredibly convincing.

In other scenes, the filmmaking is a little too self-conscious, detracting from the impact of the imagery. But despite these occasional slipups, the imagination of the film's creators is admirable.

The screenplay, written by Charles McKewen and Terry Gilliam, is laced with poisonous wit and insight. An exchange between Vulcan, god of the forge and weapons, and Berthold is typical of the film's dialogue.

Vulcan, describing nuclear weapons to a band of eighteenth century adventurers, says, "You don't have to see anybody die...you just sit comfortably...and push the button."

Berthold replies, "Where's the fun in that?"

"The Adventures of Baron Munchausen" is a fairy tale for adults told by Gilliam, a master of the weird and wonderful.

Women given opportunity to make music professionally or informally

By Carrie Pomeroy
Staff Writer

"Womyn Loving Music: Music-Loving Womyn," an evening of music produced for and presented by women, will be sponsored by Women's Studies on July 15 at Touch of Nature's Camp 1. Admission is free.

Women's Studies graduate assistant Julia Pachoud said the event is "designed to focus on women in the area who either professionally or informally...like to participate in music-making."

The evening's activities begin with an open jam at 4 p.m.

"You don't need to be good," Pachoud said, "you just need to love music."

A potluck dinner is scheduled for 6 p.m. Drinks, utensils, and plates will be provided.

Performances by several local artists will begin at 7:30 p.m. Included are some rock Kathy Livingston, and Deb Brown, members of the acoustic group For Healing Purposes Only, will perform under the name For Healing Purposes Almost.

Robin Anderson, a folk guitarist, Margaret Howard, a folk instrumentalist, and Cayenne, a country and blues singer and keyboardist, are also scheduled to perform.

For more information about the event, call Women's Studies at 535-5141.

Tour's 195 riders take break

DINARD, France (UPI) — The 195 riders in the 76th Tour de France cycle race enjoyed a rest Wednesday after covering 425 miles of the overall race distance of 2,000 miles in the first four stages.

The riders travelled from northeast France to Brittany, where the Tour resumes Thursday with a 45-mile individual time trial from Dinard to Rennes.

Portugal's Acacio Da Silva relished an extra day's ownership of the coveted race leader's jersey.

"It's very important for me to keep the yellow jersey," he said. "It enables me to ride the timed section wearing it, and to be the last one to go. It's an honor."

Da Silva stayed in the pack in Tuesday's 158-mile fourth stage marked by some 5 miles of cobblestones, from Liege, Belgium, to Wasquehal, France. Dutchman Jelle Nijdam won the stage with a burst in the final half-mile, but with only a five-second margin over some 125 riders.

"My race is already a success," said the Dutchman, who rides for Superconfex. "It was my goal to win a stage, but I didn't know which one I could win. I had the chance when the three leaders were caught four kilometers from the finish."

While Da Silva has held the overall lead since Sunday, many eyes are on fourth-placed Frenchman Laurent Fignon, who is well within striking distance at 2 minutes, 37 seconds of the pace.

Soeren Lilholt of Denmark, riding in his first Tour de France, was a surprising second — 14 seconds behind Da Silva.

Eric Breukink of Holland, winner of Saturday's prologue, is in eighth place, some 3 minutes behind, but was optimistic entering Thursday's stage.

"I'm in great shape," he said. "I'm not tired and I'm very confident about the timed stage, which will let us find out more about what kind of shape the other riders are in."

the 30-year-old New Yorker prevailed.

"I appreciate my wins more now than I used to because I don't know how much longer I will be playing, though I hope it will be for another couple of years," McEnroe said.

McEnroe, Wimbledon champion in 1981, 1983 and 1984, said he had prepared better for the $5.3 million tournament than he did last year when he was eliminated in the second round.

"I came three weeks before the championships and played a lot of matches," he said. "It seems to have paid off."

McEnroe fell behind 3-0 to start the match and trailed 2-0 in the third and fourth sets. But Wilander wilted as the match wore on and McEnroe kept battling back.

Wilander, winner of three Grand Slam titles last year, has never made it past the quarterfinals on the grass at the All England Club and could never quite raise his game enough to get past McEnroe.

Lendl, making his 10th attempt at the only Grand Slam title to have eluded him, served 21 aces against Goldie, who had difficulty moving about the court after aggravating a pulled left hamstring in the opening set.

Goldie, of McLean, Va., and Lendl held their service throughout the first two sets but the 25-year-old American could not keep pace in the final set.

Chamberlin, of Manhattan Beach, Calif., was blitzed by Becker's booming serve to such a degree that late in the second set he gestured to the spot where the German should serve. Becker has not dropped a set in five matches.

"The guy was bombing me, it was 50-50 to get any of his serves back," Chamberlin said.

Mayotte, of Bradenton, Fla., played defending champion Edberg evenly through two sets but lost tiebreaks and then was routed in the final set. A controversial point in the second tiebreak seemed to take the steam out of the American.

With Edberg serving at 11-11, a linesman was slow to call the service out. Umpire John Frame over-ruled him and awarded the point to the Swede.

graduate Scott Jonsson will also run cross country and track. Highly recommended by former SIU cross country all-American Gerry Hinton, Jonsson has an 800 meter best of 1:54.80 and a 1600 meter best of 4:17.5.

"Jonsson is a lot like Schwartz," said Cornell.

Cornell also has signed middle-distance sprinter Bernard Henry, from St. Lucia, West Indies, and long jumper Ioannis Demetriades, from Nicosia, Cyprus. Henry has bests of :48.87 at 400 meters and 1:51.2 at 800 meters. Demetriades has long jumped 23 feet 11 inches and triple jumped 49 feet 2 inches.

"Henry is an untapped talent," said Cornell. "He's run mostly on grass and I'm eager to see what he can do on good tracks."

Cornell said he thinks that Demetriades will be an instant contributor in the conference championships in the long and triple jumps.

One final addition to the 1990 track team has been on campus since January. Ed Williams, from Chicago's Bloom Trail High School, enrolled at SIU as a Proposition 48 casualty, but Cornell said he believes he'll be eligible for the 1990 indoor season. He'll be a sophomore.

"Ed was the number one high school aigh hurdler in the nation two year's ago," said Cornell. "He's run the second-fastest high school time ever and he could really be an impact for our team. Only the late Lee Calhoun (two time Olympic gold medalist) has run faster than Williams' :13.65."

Cornell's team won the outdoor conference title last summer and he said feels the team "should be stronger next year," adding, "we may not necessarily win the conference championship, but we will be competitive."

position vacant. The league's 12 owners met in Miami in January of 1980 and took 23 ballots over 10 days without success. NFL legal counsel Marshall Leahy came within one vote of victory but his opponents would not yield. Rozelle, then-general manager of the Los Angeles Rams, was suggested as a compromise candidate and won on the next ballot.

The new commissioner faces several challenges, including labor discussions, drug testing procedures and declining television ratings. Rozelle's major problems in the job included three rival leagues, two player strikes, television rights payments and battles over the right to move franchises.

Merger with the rival American Football League in 1970 boosted the NFL to 26 teams, twice the number of Rozelle's first season as commissioner.

Rozelle oversaw negotiations that brought the NFL record income and national exposure through television. He and the NFL also battled and lost in court to restrict owners' abilities to move their teams to different cities. The verdict led the way for moves from Oakland to Los Angeles, Baltimore to Indianapolis and St. Louis to Phoenix.

years to build a championship type team."

Talks of building a football team over a long span of time can be seen as heartening to a football program that has seen three different head coaches in three years.

"We are a goal oriented team and staff," Smith said explaining the philosophy he has brought to the team.

"I told them: 'First, we have to be competitive. Second, we have to be the conference champs. Third, we go for it all.'" Smith said with a gleam in his eye.

Rose case postponed for two weeks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — A federal judge deciding who should have jurisdiction in the Pete Rose gambling case postponed Wednesday any further developments for two weeks while he studies the controversy.

U.S. District Judge John Holschuh, who assumed jurisdiction over the tangled dispute late Monday, ordered lawyers for baseball Commissioner A. Bartlett Giamatti to file detailed arguments by July 12, and gave lawyers for the Cincinnati Reds' manager until July 17 to respond.

The case moved to federal court when Giamatti's lawyers filed a notice of removal, taking the case from the jurisdiction of Hamilton County Common Pleas Judge Norbert Nadel in Cincinnati — who had granted Rose a 14-day restraining order against Giamatti June 25.

In their motion, Giamatti's lawyers argued the lawsuit Rose filed against Giamatti should be decided by a federal court, since the two principals in the case — Rose and Giamatti — live in different states.

But Rose's lawyers noted, in a motion filed with Holschuh Wednesday morning, that the Cincinnati Reds also were a defendant and, in any event, Giamatti had implicitly acknowledged the state court's jurisdiction by appearing at a two-day hearing before Nadel June 22-23.

Holschuh said in setting the timetable that Rose's motion to remand the case back to Hamilton County Common Pleas Court "raises substantial legal issues concerning this court's subject matter, jurisdiction over this action.

He said lawyers for Rose, Giamatti and the Cincinnati Reds agreed to continue to adhere to the terms of Nadel's restraining order after it expires Sunday at midnight. Specifically, the commissioner may not take any action against Rose — and the Reds cannot fire him — until at least three days after Holschuh issues a ruling.

Finally!

McEnroe going to Wimbledon semis after 5-year absence

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — John McEnroe scored a four-set victory over Mats Wilander Wednesday to reach his first Wimbledon semifinal since 1984, joining Ivan Lendl, Boris Becker and Stefan Edberg as the final four men remaining.

Fifth seed McEnroe will play second seed Euberg in Friday's semifinals, and No. 1 Lendl and No. 3 Becker will meet in a rematch of last year's semifinal match won by Becker.

McEnroe last reached the Wimbledon semifinals five years ago, when he won his third singles title. He needed three hours and 52 minutes to defeat the fifth-seeded Wilander 7-6 (8-6), 3-6, 6-3, 6-4 Wednesday.

Lendl eliminated hobbled American Dan Goldie 7-6 (10-8), 7-6 (7-4), 6-0, Becker pounded Paul Chamberlin 6-1, 6-2, 6-0 and Edberg edged Tim Mayotte 7-6 (7-2), 7-6 (14-12), 6-3 in nearly two-and-a-half hours.

The women were off Wednesday. In Thursday's semifinals, top seed Steffi Graf plays Chris Evert, and Martina Navratilova plays Caerina Lindqvist.

McEnroe and Wilander traded service breaks throughout the match before

Smith plans aerial attack for season

By Sean Hannigan
Staff Writer

Saluki football coach Bob Smith is not predicting a I-AA championship season just yet, but he is promising a competitive aerial style football team.

"We will probably be known as a passing team," said Smith, making a major change for a team that rushed nearly three times as much as it passed last season.

Last season saw quarterbacks Fred Gibson and Scott Gabbert split the duties of quarterback nearly in half. Smith claims that all indications judging from what he saw at spring practice are that Gibson will be the man to head the air-Smith attack.

Last season Gibson attempted only 165 passes, completing a respectable 63 for 742 yards. However, unlike former head coach Rick Rhoades who had Gibson running nearly as much (102 attempts) as passing, Smith hopes to score in the air.

"Our goals are to gain yards and score touchdowns. In order to achieve that, we believe we'll probably gain as many yards in the air as we do on the ground," said Smith.

He said he hopes to have a pro look offense-wise. "We will be a team that will use multi-formations, motions and shifts," adding that he is not about to abandon the run.

He claims that a lot of the ability of the team's adjustment will depend on three-year starter Fred Grammer who will anchor the offensive line at center. Smith admits Grammer is a key player, but likes to think of his offensive line, "as a good no name group with a lot of returning left-terms."

The coaching staff is currently breaking down game film and examining the other teams. Smith candidly admits that as a newcomer he does not have a feel for the competition.

On the other side of the coin, Smith hopes the advantage goes to him. "They're not going to know what to expect from us."

One thing the other teams can expect to see is a defense similar to next year with few major shake-ups. "The defense will be similar. We will use a 3-4 defense."

Inside linebackers Kevin Kilgallon and Tyrnne Johnson are two of the leading tacklers last year who are returning to their posts. Killgallon led all Salukis with 155 tackles.

Smith, though very optimistic about his team, pointed out, "We will probably be listed as underdogs going into every game."

For Smith the ultimate goal is to win a division I-AA division crown, but relies on a firm midwestern sense of realism.

"In football, championships are not built over a couple of years. Sometimes a football program takes 6, 7 even 8

Men's track coach fielding a winner

Centralia pair heading list of new recruits

By Greg Scott
Staff Writer

Former Centralia High School stars Nick Schwartz and Neal West, transfers from the University of Alabama, head a class of seven athletes who have signed scholarships with the SIU-C track and field team, according to coach Bill Cornell.

The pair, who graduated from Centralia a year apart, were heavily recruited by Cornell throughout their high school careers. "I went after both of these guys hard, but they elected to go to Alabama," said Cornell. "There's been some coaching changes at Alabama and I think they both wanted to run closer to home. I'm extremely pleased they elected to come to SIU."

Cornell expects West to help out his team in the longer distance events; namely the five and ten kilometer runs. West will also compete in cross country which could help his track talents.

West, who will be a sophomore, was one of the premier distance runners in the midwest as a prepster. He earned all-state honors in cross country twice, and was all-state in track once. As a senior he was eighth in the state cross country meet and sixth in the state 3,200 meter run.

Schwartz competed indoors at Alabama this past season, but red-shirted the cross country and outdoor track seasons. He was the 1988 Illinois state champion at 1600 meters and was picked as the southern Illinois "Trackman of the Year."

"Nick is more of a middle distance runner," said Cornell. "He will run cross country and in the 800 and 1500 meters."

West and Schwartz received their unconditional releases from the Alabama athletic department and will be eligible immediately.

Also set to run in cross country and track is Gerralit Owen from Dyfed, Wales. Owen is the Welsh national junior cross country champion. His 10,000 meter best of 30:11.0 would have won this year's Missouri Valley Conference championship by over a minute.

"Owen is probably going to be my No. 1 man in cross country," said Cornell.

Salem, Ill. native contender for NFL commissioner post

CHICAGO (UPI) — NFL owners gather Thursday to elect a new commissioner, ending Pete Rozelle's reign of 29 1/2 years and beginning a new chapter in American sports history.

Jim Finks, general manager of the New Orleans Saints, is favored to receive the necessary 19 votes to be elected commissioner by the league's 28 club owners. Finks, 61, is reportedly the choice of a search committee comprised of six NFL executives.

Rozelle, 63, announced his resignation last March but has remained on the job while the selection process for his successor continued. The new commissioner is expected to take office in September.

A preliminary list of 50 candidates has been narrowed, with favorites being Finks and Washington attorney Paul Tagliabue, who has represented the NFL in antitrust cases. Another solid contender was Jack Kemp, a former NFL quarterback and New York congressman who is now U.S. secretary of housing and urban development. But Kemp withdrew his name from consideration.

Finks, a native of Salem, Ill., was a defensive back and quarterback for the Pittsburgh Steelers from 1949-1955. He served as an assistant coach at Notre Dame in 1956 and the Canadian Football League's Calgary Stampeders the next season before taking over as general manager of the CFL club in 1957.

Finks held executive positions with the Minnesota Vikings for 10 years starting in 1964, then spent nine years guiding the front office of the Chicago Bears. Finks was president of baseball's Chicago Cubs in 1983 and 1984, presiding over the team's National League East pennant in his final year with the team. He returned to the NFL in 1986 as president and part-owner of the Saints.

NFL owners have not elected a new commissioner since Bert Bell died of a heart attack in 1959 and left the
