EDITOR AND BUSINESS MANAGER
FOR 1924-25 ARE CHOSEN

Howard Walker and Carl Smith to Have Charge of the Egyptian for the Coming Year. The Staff To Be Named
at a Later Date

At the last meeting of the Board of Directors of the Egyptian Howard Walker '22 and Ed B. '25 was elected as the Editor of the paper for the coming year. While here in school men in all the campus activities and was the Associate Editor of the Egyptian during his Senior year. During the past two years Mr. Walker has been Principal of the High School at Patterson, Illinois.

HOWARD WALKER, Editor.

Carl Smith '24 and Ed B. '25, has been named as the business manager for 1924-25. As Mr. Smith has been in school during the year you all know him as a capable organization man and as a letterman in basketball for the past two seasons.

Both the Editor and the Business Manager were elected to their office by a unanimous vote of the Board of Directors. The remainder of the staff will be chosen and the places allotted to them at a future time.

The members of the present Egyptian Staff wish the ones that they leave in charge of the work the best of luck and hope that they will remember as they go about their task that the school paper is the best means of advertising that any college has. This year the individual members of the staff have put forth their best endeavors to help the Editor to put out a paper to which the S. I. N. U. would be proud. Whether or not they have succeeded remains to be seen. It is certain, however, that they do not regret having done what they could and that they are of an opinion that the efforts put forth have been indeed wisely spent.

THE BOOMERANG

Tuesday, June 17

8:00 o'Clock

The spring plays this year will far surpass all past entertainments in this Normal. From every standpoint these two dramatic productions will be the greatest in the history of the school.

"The Boomerang," to be presented tomorrow night, is one of the highest class dramas on the market. If you have been in love, are in love, or expect to fall soon you will be given good pointers from an experienced hand. In other words you will profit by the mistakes of poor "Bud," and besides that you will secure free advice, professional, from Dr. Sumner, as to just what to do in case you do do what you ought not to do. In short, if you fall in love don't let the adored one know anything about it.

"Bud" Woodridge is the victim of a heartless beauty, Grace Tyler. "Bud" woos her in the old eloquent, self sacrificing manner and loses ground doing so. In fact, he is very nearly a complete nervous breakdown when his physician takes a hand in the situation and gets his mind off the adored one and her careless cruelty by telling the young man that he is a victim of germs. In a month's time the physician agrees to effect a cure, and he does it by placing a beautiful nurse in charge of the foolish swain and playing the girl's jealousy against the nurse as an antidote to bring the girl to time, for she really cares for "Bud." Incidentally, the physician falls in love with the nurse, who turns out to be an heiress. The spectacle of young Woodbridge, the charm act, in which the heartless coquette, Grace, is made to suffer the pangs she had been inflicting on a really worthy young suitor, affords a great amount of genuine comedy. The play is full of the spirit of youth, its scenes are cleverly devised and Mr. Smith and Mr. Mapes have written as charming dialogue as any American authors have yet shown.

Tickets are on sale at Entsminger's down town, and—

Mother: "Marjorie. Did you make a face at me?"

Marjorie Whitesides: "No, Mother, I was only controlling my emotions."

THREE WISE FOOLS PRESENTED BY ZETETIC SOCIETY

S. I. N. U. Auditorium, Tonight,
8:00 P. M.

The triumvirate of the title comprises a judge, a physician and a financier who share a home in Washington Square and live in a rut of methodical habit. Into the almost mechanical precision of their lives there comes a girl, the daughter of a woman they all three loved in earlier years. And from the very moment of her appearance changes, miraculous to behold, begin to take place in the above of the Three Wise Fools.

The Three Wise Fools is a play that you could invite almost any kind of a person to see; and rest perfectly assured that whatever his theatrical tastes might be he would enjoy it. You may rest assured that you'll laugh a hundred times. If you like comedy you'll like this play. It has a number of things to recommend it. Jenn Golden was its producer Austin Strong is its author and 333 performances on Broadway is its record.

THIS YEAR'S OBELISK

The Egyptian pronounces its decision upon this year's Obelisk as being the best ever. It does not say this because it is customary for such a thing to be said. It says it because it is the truth. The management and staff deserve much credit for such a production. They deserve more honor than they are likely to get. Don't you think it is about time for us to set a little higher premium on such work?

EDITORIAL

"THE END"

The last issue of The Egyptian for the year 1923-24 is now yours. You have before this time, or will in the near future render your verdict as to its success. The Editor has the feeling that it has not been a complete failure, and he wants you to know that whatever degree of success may have been attained the honor is largely due that group of staff members upon whom he has leaned so heavily and from whom such wholesome support has been received.

Those of us who have been officially connected with the Egyptian want to thank the members of the faculty and student body at large for your splendid spirit of co-operation; for all constructive criticism offered; for every nice thing you have said; for the happy privilege of serving you in our way as best we could. And though we have ceased to write for our school paper, we have highly resolved to write it on our hearts that we will always be loyal to the S. I. N. U., that institution whose good name it has been the delight of The Egyptian to champion.

For every reader and every supporter, the Egyptian sincerely wishes a life crowned with success.

For the new Staff we predict a year of varied experiences that you will profit by having and we offer our hands to serve you in any way possible, in any worthy cause you may see fit to uphold.

THE DIPLOMA

There is no magic in a diploma. There is no guarantee of wisdom in a college degree—The lexicographers tell us that a diploma confers a privilege, an honor, or a power.

A privilege is of little significance unless we avail ourselves of it.

An honor is meaningless unless we live it.

A power is futile unless we exercise it.

And to do these things we must have that within us which makes it possible. They are not in the written paper. They are in the holder of it.

Here's One

Higgs: "That college turns out fine men."

Biggs: "When were you graduated?"

Higgs: "I wasn't graduated; they turned me out."

Watchful Waiting

Doctor: "Did you follow my advice and count until you fell asleep?"

Patient: "I counted eighteen thousand."

Doctor: "And then you fell asleep?"

Patient: "No, then it was time to get up."

Ought To Know

"Mother, wasn't that a funny dream I had last night!" said a little boy who was busily engaged with his breakfast cereal.

"Why, I'm sure I don't know," replied his mother, "I haven't the slightest idea what your dream was about."

"Why, mother, of course you know!" said the boy reproachfully. "You were in it."

Don't Fall For This

"Nearly everybody has a well-developed bump of curiosity." And what does it lead to?"

"In this case it leads to turning the page upside down."

WEE WUNDER

Why Ellis Crandle gave Clarence Fegley two bits to sit by a certain girl?

Does three drops of distilled water with three drops of distilled water added to it make a love serum? (It does in THE BOOMERANG).

If you don't agree that it was a pretty good old school after all?

A real dress bought in Paris by Miss Trovillion will be worn by Aline Settlemoir in "The Boomerang?"

If you know that a dog helps to constitute a boomerang? It will June 17.

At the Crack of Dawn

Jim Blair: "I worked at that problem until almost 5:30 this morning."

Earl Purdue: "And did you get the idea then?"

Jim B.: "It began to dawn on me."

AGORA GRADUATES THIRTEEN

Last Monday the Agora Debating Club issued diplomas to thirteen Seniors of that organization.

A short talk on "Looking Backward" was given by Ransom Sherretz, the founder of the Club. The diplomas were presented by Cary Davis to Frank Watson, Ellis Crandle, Chas. Neeley, Marion Taylor, Glen Fishel, Alfred Purdue, Clarence Fegley, Lawrence Harper, Cecil Schroeder, Ivan Dexter, and Carl Smith. Ransom Sherretz and John Hunsaker were given Senior College diplomas.

THE EGYPTIAN SOCIAL

Tuesday evening on the east campus, the last general social affair of the year was held when the "Egyptian" gave an ice cream social. At 6:30 Mr. Jacquish and the band made their appearance and began to send forth inviting strains of music. After a crowd had assembled, the "most popular girl" contest was held. This waxed furiously for a time, with Miss Lydia Davis as the winner. She was presented with a cake as a prize, and was introduced to the audience as the star in "Three Wise Fools" the Zetetic Play.

Nearly everyone had brought his Obelisk to the grounds, so quite a social time was spent in receiving and giving autographs. In spite of those terrible exams a good crowd was present. The Egyptian wishes to thank all who came for their loyalty to the paper and for the support which they have given it.
