Olmsted Named Chairman; New Teachers Appointed

John M. H. Olmsted, professor of mathematics at the University of Minnesota, has been appointed chairman of the mathematics department at SIU.

Olmsted will replace W. C. McDaniel, chairman since 1950, who earlier this year asked to be relieved of the chairmanship to devote full time to teaching.

The author of four books on calculus and geometry, Olmsted received bachelor's and master's degrees at the University of Minnesota and a Ph.D. at Princeton University. He has been a member of the University of Minnesota faculty since 1940. He is an associate editor of the American Mathematical Monthly and a member of the board of governors of the Mathematical Association of America.

On Faculty Since 1939

McDaniel has been on the mathematics department faculty since 1939. He was named acting chairman in 1947 and became full professor and chairman three years later. He received a bachelor's degree from Kansas State University and master's and doctoral degrees at the University of Wisconsin. In 1944-45, he taught at Illinois State Normal University "on loan" from the SIU staff. He has served as many university committees, headed the Illinois section of the Mathematics Association of America, the Illinois Council of Teachers of Mathematics and the SIU chapter of the American Association of University Professors. During 1957, he acted temporarily as Vice President for Business Affairs.

New Teachers

A home economist, a dentist, and a market analyst were among those appointed by the SIU board of trustees recently for teaching positions in the fall.

Anne Margaret Cameron, who has been an associate professor at Carnegie Institute and Ohio State University, will become a professor of home economics education at SIU Sept. 1.

A former Florida dentist and native of Wayne City, Dr. Karl K. Webber, was named associate professor in SIU's Vocational-Technical Institute. He has been an assistant professor at St. Louis University.

Other new associate professors include William C. Ashby, now on the University of Chicago staff, who has been teaching botany, and Charles H. Hinderer, who has been research analyst for Pittsburgh Plate Glass and director of mar-

Weekend Activities Slated

Heading the campus weekend activities this week is a record dance at the Lake-on-the-Campus boathouse tonight from 8 to 11.

The recreational field at the campus lake will be the site for outdoor recreation at 5 p. m., Saturday.

A bike hike is on the agenda for tomorrow afternoon. Bikers will leave the Student Union at 2:30 p. m.

A picnic party is scheduled for Saturday at 8 p. m., in the Student Union.

The opportunity to see scenic Southern Illinois will be offered Sunday afternoon. The tour is being sponsored by the Student Union. Buses will leave Lentz Hall at 1 p. m., and the Student Union at 1:15 p. m.

Recreational games will be conducted at 3 p. m., Sunday, on the recreational field at the campus lake.

A Gel-Acquainted picnic with free food will be at 6 p. m., Sunday. All students are invited to the picnic at the campus lake.

A Lemonade hour is scheduled for Monday at 9:30 a. m. in the Student Union.

Prima Donna Marjorie Lawrence Accepts SIU Music Research Position

Marjorie Lawrence, former prima donna of the Metropolitan and Paris Opera Houses, has accepted a research professorship in music at Southern Illinois University.

The Australian-born dramatic soprano, currently artist-in-residence at Tulane University, will join the music department faculty in September. The rank, established last year and now held by three other faculty members, allows appointees wide latitude for travel, research activity, special teaching, and informal contact with students. The appointment will permit Miss Lawrence to continue her numerous concert and lecture engagements under the management of National Artists, Inc.

Marjorie Lawrence made her operatic debut in 1932 at the Monte Carlo Opera, singing Elizabeth in "Tannhauser." She appeared the same year at the Paris Opera in another Wagnerian role—Ortrud in "Lohegrin"—and was signed for four years.

Her Metropolitan Opera debut in 1935, as Brunhilde in "Die Walkure," was hailed by New York critics, and in subsequent roles she became established as one of the Met's greatest dramatic sopranos along with Kirsten Flagstad, and later, became the first Metropolitan soprano to ride the hot air balloon to ride a horse into the flames of the immolation scene closing "Gotterdammerung."

Although paralyzed from the waist down, Miss Lawrence returned to the Metropolitan seven months later and sang a "well come home" duet with Lauritz Melchior. On the "brilliance" of that performance she was engaged to sing Venus in "Tannhauser" in 1942 and, the following year, Isolde in "Tristan and Isolde," after which, Sir Thomas Beecham who conducted declared, "She is the greatest living dramatic soprano."

In 1944, Miss Lawrence returned to sing in the Paris Opera where she received the Legion of Honor from the French Government and a diamond replica of the sword from colleagues in the French National Opera.

"Interrupted Melody," her autobiography written in 1949, was subsequently made into a hit motion picture by MGM. She has made numerous concert appearances in the U. S., Europe, Australia and South America and has recorded for Columbia and RCA Victor. Despite her paralysis she is an active hobbyist—gardening, fishing and horseback riding are her favorites—and she sings many concerts from a standing position on a movable platform as she did in May at SIU's "Music Under the Stars." In his book, "The Metropolitan Opera," Critic Irving Kolodin called her "one of the most important artistic figures on the Metropolitan stage of our time."

Marjorie Lawrence and her husband maintain their 500 acre Harmony Hills Ranch near Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Board Approves Budget And Pay Increases

A proposed budget of $30,603,585 for internal operations was approved June 15, by the SIU Board of Trustees.

More than $1 million of the total will go for merit increases in salaries, bringing to $8 million the amount allocated for salary boosts for the biennium. Previously, increases have been approved only at the beginning of each two-year period.

Of the total internal budget, $15,482,500 will come from several revenue sources, with the remainder being provided by student fees, gifts and other University income.

Although total resident enrollment is expected to reach 12,500 in September, the new budget will provide relatively few additions to the staff because money is not available for this purpose.

The budget approved for the second year of the current biennium is an "increase" of $1,351,366 above the amount approved for 1959-60. Most of the increase is attributed to salaries, auxiliary enterprises and grants, and other restricted funds.

Artists Receive Work, Award

The American Oxford Encyclopedia has contracted with Benjamin Watkins, assistant professor of art at Southern, to write three articles for a forthcoming edition. Watkins, curator of the University Art Galleries, will prepare articles on graphic arts, mobiles and collages.

Ben Whiteside, graduate student in art at Southern, has been awarded a first prize in the first annual Mid-Mississippi Valley Art Exhibition at "Wood River."

The show, sponsored by the Polartys Guild of the Alton-Wood River area, drew 122 entries. Whiteside won his award in the mixed media category and also an oil painting and stone/ware bowl accepted for the show.

Virgil Hancher

State University of Iowa President Virgil Hancher challenged graduates at SIU's 85th June Commencement exercises, June 15, to use their "great possessions" to preserve and improve their heritage and to share them with the world's underdeveloped countries.

He took as his text the Gospel of St. Matthew... in which the right young man "goes away sorrowful, for he had great possessions" after Jesus had advised him to sell what he has and give to the poor.

"You can, of course, choose the self-centered, selfish way of life," Hancher told the 885 graduates. "You can choose to play it cool, to be alert for the fast buck, to keep your hands out for the sake of world order and progress this heritage and its wealth must be shared with less fortunate countries."

Where it is good, preserve it; where it is an error, set it in straight way. Because whatever its right may be, it has done more than any other social system to lift the masses of men above the margin of want and hunger, sickness and disease, cold and ignorance," Hancher said. He said

Summer Term Opens With Courses, Events And Heat

37 Short Courses Offered This Term

A wide range of academic facilities, recreational facilities and plenty of hot weather appear to be in order for the summer session which began Monday and will run through Aug. 12.

Dean Raymond Day, Director of Summer Session, reports that a summer program has been devised, both academically and socially, to give a more profitable and enjoyable summer to students enrolled in the summer term.

Academically, there will be an estimated 37 short courses, workshops for high school students and conferences, in addition to regular studies offered this summer.

Many of the short courses offered began Monday, while others will begin later in the summer. Courses starting Monday include: a School Lunch Workshop, Human Relations in Nursing, a course for hospital accountants, and a course for coaches.

Later Courses scheduled to commence later in the summer are the Seventh Annual Institute for Rehabilitation Personnel, Elementary Education, the Foreign Language Elementary School Workshop, institutes for High School Biology Teachers and for Secondary School Mathematics Teachers, a workshop for restaurant managers, the School of Advanced Cosmetology, and the Illinois Bankers School of Development of Junior Executives.

Many high school students will get their first look at college life through workshops beginning June 30 through Aug. 5. These high school students, 130 in number, will attend college level courses in basic sciences, including: mathematics, physics, physiology, microbiology, chemistry, health, botany, zoology and geography.

Included in the leading conference is the International Conference for Weekly Newspaper Editors slated for July.

The summer accent will be on travel for several departments on campus. Home economics students will travel to Europe to study textiles, under the direction of Dr. Adeline Hoffman. The language department is sponsoring a tour of Mexico. Advanced government students will study at the University of Hamburg, Germany, for the next two weeks. Previous to their studies, the students will spend a week observing German customs.

Entertainment devised to help "beat the heat" will be highlighted by the annual summer operas, tours, and free movies. The "South Pacific," which will be staged Aug. 5-6 in Shroyck Auditorium. The Southern Players will present four three-act plays throughout the summer. The plays, in the air-conditioned campus playhouse, will feature many advanced drama students from universities throughout the nation, as well as SIU students.

The summer season also will provide symphony pool concerts, tours, and free movies. The mainstay of the campus recreational program is the recreational facilities offered at the 40-acre "Lake-on-the-Campus," including canoeing, fishing, and swimming at the beach.

Several programs have been planned for those students unable to spend the full eight weeks on campus. Graduate courses have been planned in sequence over a period of several summers so that students who do not still find the necessary courses for their degree program. A considerable number of freshman level courses have been planned for the constantly increasing freshman enrollment. Courses for students from regular year attendance have been added to the summer session curriculum as more and more students "attend school" the year around.

Several programs have been planned for outstanding students in various fields of science is drawing students from many states. The summer high school workshop program in the fields of journalism, radio and television, drama and art is also attracting students from a large geographical area.

A number of other special features will be planned for the summer. The Office of Student Affairs has planned a great number of social activities for single students as well as for family groups. One of the new facilities being constructed is the "Lake-on-the-Campus."

FORESTRY MEMBERS ATTEND INTERNATIONAL MEETING

Two SIU School of Agriculture faculty members and two U. S. foresters from the Carbondale Forest Research Center at SIU attended an International Symposium on Growth at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., Thursday through Saturday (June 16-18).

Welcome To SIU

Welcome to Southern! To the new students, who are getting a first-hand, starry-eyed look at college life, we wish to extend our most sincere welcome to Southern. To struggling students who are just struggling through another term of school, we say "welcome to the group of strugglers." To the various persons who are attending special courses, institutes and conferences, we express our sincere happiness that you are with us this summer.

That summer is here in full force is very evident. "Old man" sun seems to tempt us to throw down the books and head for a cooling dip. While this is not always possible or advisable, thousands of many activities on campus this summer which everyone should enjoy.

The theatre department is doing numerous productions on campus this season. The play-house is air-conditioned...

which is an incentive for attending the dramatic productions.

Movies, lemonade and coke hours, and pop concerts are also available for relaxation and socialization.

The campus lake is available for students to swim, boat and enjoy other recreational activities.

Numerous entertaining and informative lectures and discussions will be conducted during the summer session. These events offer not only intellectual opportunities, but a chance to get more than just "book learning."

Southern is not a "party" school... but it does offer an excellent program for students and faculty members.

Take advantage of the many opportunities offered for your benefit while at Southern. Southern welcomes you... why not welcome Southern?

Problem Not Licked

Gain Freedom, Lose Home

Ed. Note. The following article was contributed by Tom Sheehan, graduate student of government. It concerns the writer's views on the U. S. immigration program and the effects on young and old from other countries. It is the third of a series.

We all have a tendency to look the other way when something unpleasant and persistent is staring us in the face. The refugee problem is a case in point.

The American people have given, and given generously, for so long that many of us tend to become fed up when aid is mentioned for the displaced of the world. After all, wasn't that the problem we licked back in 1948 and 1949?

Not! For 2,500,000 people, Refugee Week has become a lifetime. Although the roads of Europe are no longer clogged with the homeless and the hungry, the tragic fact remains that, year after year, thousands are forced to flee to the West from Communism. While gaining freedom, they lose a place called home.

American assistance and the rapid rise of an industrial hungry Germany have given many a new lease on life, but for those who are sick, aged and uncertain, the future holds a dark and gloomy future. The search, and that which involves a mass of paper work, physical checkups, interviews, language qualifications, security checks, delays and rechecks. Then, with your fingers crossed, you enter a select circle, you

Grassy Beach Not Available

Beach No. 2 at Little Grassy Lake Campus will not be available to faculty members and their families this summer, according to Kenneth R. Miller, director of the lake campus.

The facility is to be utilized this summer for an expanding camping and outdoor education program.

Work is being planned to improve Beach No. 4 (Indian Cove Point) for faculty use during the summer of 1961, according to Miller.

by various international organizations. Here they wait, hope and grow older.

As in the past, much of America's future strength will depend on those whom some people dare to call foreign.

Gus Bode Says

Gus says if it were any warmer he would feel like Dante in the Inferno.

Gus says his three courses aren't too difficult this summer... swimming, boating and pinning.

Gus heard it takes leg-work and not brain-work to get a good grade in some courses.

Gus was ashamed to go to the President's coke party cause he's been going for so many years.

Dickson Gets Senior Trophy

Richard E. Dickson, Makanda (Route 1), was recently awarded the Illinois Agricultural Association trophy as the outstanding senior in the Southern Illinois University School of Agriculture.

Ermertt Keim, Carbondale, I.A.A. district organizations director, made the presentation during the School's Commencement Day reception for 37 graduating students, their parents and guests.

Gerald Krawczyk, Murphysboro, received honorable mention.

The awards program is sponsored by the SIU Agricultural Student Council composed of representatives of various student interest organizations. The outstanding senior is selected by a faculty committee on the basis of scholastic achievement, character, and participation in student activities during four years as an undergraduate student.

Dickson is one of the first four students to graduate from SIU's four-year forestry program. He graduated from Carbondale Community High School in 1956, served three years in the U. S. Marines, and worked two years before beginning his college career.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dickson, Makanda, he is married, and has one small daughter.

In addition to maintaining a high scholastic average, Dickson was a leader in organizing the SIU Forestry Club in 1958 and served as its president for three years.

Bridge Games Resume Play July 1

The weekly duplicate bridge game scheduled for the university cafeteria has been cancelled for this week only.

Play will resume Friday, July 1, with the monthly master point game.

This week's game was cancelled to allow club members to see the Herrin-Benton Club Championship tournament today and tomorrow. The Herrin Bridge Club has extended an invitation to all university and Carbondale players to participate in the two-day tournament. Play starts tonight at 8 p. m. in the Herrin Elks Club.

Ordered Your Obelisk?

Advance sale for the 1961 Obelisk is running slow to date, according to fiscal advisor W. Marion Rice. Only about 150 students have paid their $2 fee as of Wednesday, June 22.

In order for a student to be eligible to purchase the Obelisk, he must attend three of the four terms at Southern and pay an advance fee of $2.

Rice stated that most of the cost of the Obelisk was obtained from the student's admission fee, but starting with the 1960 Obelisk, the students were required to pay an additional fee of $2. Rice said the book was valued at $6.

At present the Obelisk is accepting bids for the 1961 edition, three bids are now under consideration.

Rice also announced that 350 students have paid their fee have not picked up the 1960 book. Students may pick up their books anytime between 11:30 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. at the library, Monday through Friday. Students must bring the receipts in order to get the Obelisk.

One hundred fifth students have signed up for the 1960 edition of the Obelisk. Rice said only 110 extra books were ordered, and they will be distributed to the first 110 students on the waiting list.

Industrial Ed. Offers Special Credit Course

"New Developments in Industrial Education," a special course at Southern, represents one of the nation's finest summer programs for graduate students in industrial education, according to Dr. Ralph O. Gallington, chairman.

The program, open to other interested persons during the summer session, will feature six visiting specialists. Information will be provided on recent significant developments, urgent problems and new trends in industrial education and technical fields.

Three of the specialists will spend eight days each at SIU as lecturers. The final eight days of the summer session course will be shared by the other three. Two to eight quarter hours of graduate school credit may be earned by industrial education teachers, school administrators and others in the course. The amount of credit hours received depends on whether they participate in the entire program or attend on part of the session.

Dr. John P. Walsh, director of the trade and industrial education branch in the U. S. Office of Education, started the program last week with a series of discussions on "Administration at the National, State and Local Levels." Walsh will also present the course during this week, in Room 116, Agriculture Building.

Others appearing on the summer program are: M. J. Rubley, supervisor of industrial arts at Tulsa, Okla.; Dr. Thomas A. Kip-paka, head of industrial education at Iowa State College; Dr. Wayne Hughes, director of school and college safety for the National Safety Council, Chicago; E. V. Siu, McDonnell Aircraft Corp. safety supervisor, St. Louis; and Dr. Marshall L. Schmitt, industrial arts specialist in the U. S. Office of Education, Washington.

DIGS THE BROWN'S...
This is what Bill Veck, president of the Chicago White Sox said at Southern's 180 annual all sports banquet, June 9 at the Carbondale Elks Club.

Veck, guest speaker for the athletic get-together, entertained every one present with his amusing tales of the great American pastime. At the same time he slipped in a few jokes with, "I don't believe winning is the most important thing — it's the only thing." This added with, " abide by the rules but test their elasticity," but he wasn't roasting.

In describing last year's White Sox pennant, the first in 40 years, SportsBirt Bill declared, "We dazzled them with our foot work. Louie (Aparico) walk-off, stole second, (Nellie) Fox drove him in, and we were around and waited for three innings."

This is just about what the "Go-go Sox" did: Aparico stole over 50 bases and the team led the league in one-run victories. "The heroes can all see Score (Herb) but can see them therefore the batters somewhat stay loose," so Veck justified the acquisition of Cleveland's Herb Score.

"Remember, sportsmanship cheaper than good ball players," concluded Veck.

ISN'T HE SATISFIED?...
Coach Dick LeFevre, Southern's tennis mentor, just completed a 19-4 season and promptly embarked on a recruiting trip. The trip proved quite successful.

All of LeFevre's prospects are from Hamtramck, Mich., near Detroit. Four boys from there were on campus last week. LeFevre took all four boys to Olney, Ill. to complete in the Fifth Annual Olney Hard Courts Tourney for men.

Most impressive of the Michigan quartet was Francisco "Pancho" Castillo who was forced to forfeit the singles championship match because of cramps. Oddly enough his opponent in the title match was the IAC No. 1 single champ, Don Garver of Eastern Illinois University and Deatur. Castillo was leading in the first set, 5-2, before he had to quit.

Castillo won the high school crown the week before in Michigan. A nationally ranked junior, "Pancho" has one more year in the 18-and-under division.

Teammates John Geremich, Jerry Podasek, and Larry Ohlin also intend to enroll at SIU in the fall. Geremich and Podasek were runners-up in the state high school doubles tourney this year. Ohlin was on the 1959 state champion doubles team.

LeFevre pointed out that because of the 50 entries, a finalist would have to play six singles matches and four doubles matches during the two-day tournament at Olney.

Lamar Tech, winner of the NIAA tourney at Kansas City earlier this month, was described by LeFevre as the greatest team that he has ever seen. The Saluki coach cited this example as proof of Lamar Tech's power — last year's No. 6 man for them was one of the 16 finalists at Forest Hills.

SWIMMERS EVERYWHERE...
Coach Ralph Casey's swimmers are still competing, even in the off season. Bert Rumpel, 25 year old Saluki tankman from Germantown, went home to compete for the berth on the West German Olympic team.

Ray Padovan, co-captain elect for next year, has left the SIU campus for Yale University and United States long course trials. Padovan, nicknamed Southern's Tarzan, has never swam long course. The difference being in time, he swam turns because the pool is 50 yards long as compared the normal 25 yards.

Rumpel is trying to graduate from Southern in three years. A 4.5 student, he is taking seven courses by correspondence this summer to keep pace with his plans.

A big surprise was to learn that this year East and West Germany are combining to send just one team.

Walt Rodgers, co-captain along with Padovan for next year, is going to be a life guard at camp in northern Wisconsin.

Barnett Loses SIGA Playoff, Foulk 3rd

Bill Barnett, sophomore from West Frankfort, lost a sudden death playoff, last Sunday, for a half. It was Barnett who had the advantage on the second extra hole. Both golfers were short at the green in two. Pipes, his ball lay three feet from the green. Barnett approached to within three feet of the cup, placing the pressure on Pipes.

Pipes calmly stroked the 25 foot chip shot into the hole to force the third extra hole. On the final hole, both players had foot pots for four. Barnett missed and Pipes didn't—that ended the match.

A three-over par 40 on the back nine hurt Foulk's chances for the title. Foulk, co-captain elect for next year's SIU golf team, was off the green a half. Barnett only one stroke behind his legate teammate going into the last 18 holes of play, and Pipes trailed Barnett by three shots.

Bill Barnett

great with the Orioles since they are all youngsters. At the recent all-sports banquet (June 6) Bill Veck, president of the Chicago White Sox, told me that he hadn't seen Fred Losee play but all reports were favorable for him as far as advancing in the farm system. Fred was an All-Conference outfielder last year at SIU.

WOOD GETS HONORARY STATE FARMER DEGREE
Dr. Eugene Wood, superintendent of the University farm and vocational agriculture teacher, received the Honorary State Farmer degree from the Illinois Association of Future Farmers of America at its annual convention in Springfield Thursday (June 9).

A native of Pulaski County, Wood has been a member of the SIU faculty since 1949. Before that he taught vocational agriculture in high schools at Newton and Bridgeport. He taught vocational agriculture in the SIU University School until a year ago when he transferred to the SIU School of Agriculture faculty.

Wood received his doctorate in vocational agriculture from the University of Missouri in 1958 and has a bachelor's and master's degree from the University of Illinois.

Netters Third Unofficially In NIAA

Southern's tennis team finished third, unofficially, in the NIAA tournament at Kansas City, June 9-11. The national tourney was held at the Rock Hill Tennis Club. The tournament attracted 71 players from 32 colleges.

Points were not awarded until the quarterfinals; SIU and Oklahoma Baptist won more matches than any other team except Lamar Tech of Beaumont, Texas, winner of the tourney, and runner-up Pan American University of Edinburg, Texas. Yet neither the Salukis or the Baptists scored any points.

Representing Southern were Roy and Bob Sprengelmeyer, George Bonensch, and Dick King. Jerry Budzulek, SIU's No. 2 man this past season, wasn't able to make the trip because graduation preparations.

Roy advanced the farthest to the tourney of any Saluki, finally losing in the fourth round to fifth-seeded Jim Watson of Pan American, 6-2 and 6-0.

In other singles matches, Bob won a first round match from J. Ronaldson of California Western, 7-5 and 6-0. But Bob lost his next match to Jay Dalton of Oklahoma Baptist, 6-3, 4-6, and 6-3.

King and Domenech received first round byes as did Roy. King dropped Jim Scherer of Midland College of Nebraska, 6-1 and 6-4. Then Dick lost to Ken Lang of Pan American, 6-2 and 6-0.

Domenech battled third-seeded Don Russell of Pan American before losing 6-4 and 6-4. R. Sprengelmeyer defeated Barry Bryan, also of Pan American, 6-1 and 6-1 and also topped Wisconsin State's Harry Irvine in straight sets, 6-0 and 6-2. Then came his fourth round loss.

Both SIU doubles teams, Bob Roy and King-Domenech, won their first matches before losing tough second round matches. King and Domenech lost to No. 1 seed and defending champions from Pan American, Sharp and Russell, 6-4 and 6-4.

The Sprengelmeyers lost to California Western's Ronaldson and McCabe in three sets, 3-6, 6-4, and 6-3.

MRH Trophies Presented
Dowdell 8 & 3 and Bailey 2nd were awarded first place trophies in intramural football and volleyball men's residence hall competition respectively at the MRH annual picnic recently.

Trophies are given annually in the men's residence halls division of intramural sports for football, basketball, baseball and volleyball. Approximately 800 attended the picnic which featured a dinner, boating, swimming, and dancing at the Lake-on-the-Campus.

Orlofsky Named SIU's MVP

The winner of this year's most valuable athlete award at SIU isn't even a letterman, in fact, he wasn't even present when his name was announced.

A gymnast who never competed in a varsity meet claimed Southern's highest athletic honor. Freshman Fred Orlofsky received the Henry Hinkley Memorial Award at the annual All-Sports banquet, June 4. The winner of the MVP award is picked by the varsity athletes by a secret ballot at the annual dinner.

The trophy is presented each year by Sigma Pi Fraternity in memory of a former SIU athlete from West Frankfort who was killed in the Pacific during World War II. Steve Stroup made the presentation this year. Last year's winner was Saluki swimmer Bert Rumpel.

Orlofsky wasn't present when the award was announced, but assistant gym coach, Andy Kockick, went and got Fred. He is a gymnastic coach in Bill Meade's varsity teams finished seventh in the nation last two years.

Orlofsky earned the honor by leading in one of the outstanding AAU meet records in the nation this year (freshman gymnasts are not eligible for varsity competition at SIU). On May 1 he won the National AAU all-around championship at West Point to become one of the 12 men who will compete in July for a berth on the U. S. Olympic gym team.

This season Orlofsky also won all-around titles at the Roy E. Moore Memorial Meet at Sarasota, Fla., the Central AAU, Central States AAU, and the Cleveland Invitational Open. He is also won individual event championships at the Midwest Open in Chicago.

Orlofsky, 22, was National Junior All-Around Champion in 1957 and in December 1958 was a member of the United States squad that competed against the Finnish Olympic team.

Among other awards given at the dinner was the third annual Award for "meritorious service to the youth of Southern Illinois," presented to Bert Dancy, veteran coach and athletic director at Florida High School.

Willie Brown, the Salukis' all-star football guard from Memphis, Tenn. took four awards: the Interstate Conference Scholarship Award as the senior athlete with

Art Galleries Receive Gifts

A painting by American nature abstractionist Milton Avery is being rapidly growing collection of art work in all media.

The acquisition . . . Avery's "Very Dark Mountain" . . . was termed by Galleries Curator Benjamin Watkins "an important one for any American collection."

Announcement of the gift was among several highlights of a progress report to the SIU Foundation recently. Kenneth Miller, executive director of the Foundation, told members that donations and acquisitions of paintings . . . and drawings valued at more than $10,000 have been added to the University collection since the Galleries program started last December.

Most recent gifts in addition to the Avery canvases were $1,000 each from the Martin Oil Co., of Clavton, Mo., to establish a Thomas W. Martin Memorial Fund for SIU art purchases, and an identical $1,000 gift from Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Martin of Chicago.

Mitchell Gallery
Construction is underway on the Mitchell Gallery, to be located in a now-incomplete wing of the Home Economics Building.
