Fond memories of the old "Stumble" that stood northwest of the Normal gate. It was here that "Hank," Joe and Brimm were the old hot bottle washers, and vacant periods were spent to advantage. ? ? ? ? How?

S. I. N. U. Represented At Y. M. C. A. Meeting

S. I. N. U. was well represented at the Y. M. C. A. meeting in Chicago Friday and Saturday. The meeting was held for the purpose of getting college Seniors and graduates to consider the state secretaryship as a life's vocation. The delegates from our campus were Bert Casper, Lemen Wells, and Wilford Akin. There were fifty delegates representing colleges from Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Iowa and Minnesota. These men were guests of the Y. M. C. A. college, which is maintained for the purpose of training state secretaries.

Friday morning, the program had for its primary purpose the introduction of the secretaryship as a life's work. In the afternoon, the group left in automobiles for a visit to certain Y. M. C. A.'s social settlements and settlement houses maintained by the Y. M. C. A. In addition, a sight-seeing tour was made through the University of Chicago and Lincoln park. Then the delegates were divided into groups for group discussion and each delegate had a private interview with wo of the faculty members of Y. M. C. A. college. Friday evening, the entire group was a guest of the Y. M. C. A. hotel for dinner. H. C. Beelman, member of the hotel committee, presided and William Francis, president of the Chicago association, was the principal speaker. Saturday morning the time was given to questions and answers. The meeting was adjourned in the Sir George Williams Memorial room. This room is a historic one because it is an exact reproduction of the room in Gen. Williams' home where the first Y. M. C. A. meeting was held in London in 1844. Because of this historic and sacred atmosphere the closing meeting was very impressive.

The trip was very inspiring as well as entertaining and educational.

FRESHMAN FROLIC

Monday evening, the freshmen frolicked and the less favored Sophomores, Jun'ors and Seniors studied for examination.

From 7:30 until 8, there was a program consisting of musical numbers, a reading, and a dance. From eight until ten there was dancing. The program was:

LEAGUE FOR WOMEN ORGANIZED HERE

Under the direction and leadership of Dean Woody, the organization of a women's league for this college is underway. This undertaking has just recently been begun and the most important factors will be completed by the beginning of the next term. The new league of the federation of college women which was organized by the downtown women and the women teachers of the faculty probably was the instigator of a similar movement on the campus.

The Dean and some of the town's women feel that this organization will foster a better disciplinary and a better social life among the students. It will bring them into a friendlier and a more cooperative atmosphere, the officers of the league working under

THE BIG WHAT WAZZIT IN THE NEW GYM

Everything started on time (just fifteen minutes late) with Otis Phillips in charge, to the great pleasure and approval of everyone of the spectators—at least the girls who didn't have to part with a hard earned two-bits from Pop.

The band appealed to the finer sentiments of the crowd as they marched to their places in the old Spanish custom and rendered a beautiful selection. (All the boys were present). Then up from the basement rushed "Cyclone" Dickey, weight 152, and his honorable second, Ned Foley. Close on his heels was "Tornado" Abernathy, w@ight 150, and his towel flapper, Murphy. Both of the bone crushers were eager for the fray and after a last warning from the referee (Adam

THE PROPER SPIRIT

Wake up you that sleep, and hear the glad news. It is a fact that the U. H. S. is now a member of the Egyptian Conference of High Schools. Finch yourself and get alive. Be ready to participate in the coming meets of the year, athletic and intellectual.

Are you making use of every opportunity to develop yourself, either physically or mentally? If you are, here is your chance. Champions of the physical world and geniuses of the intellectual world, ran their first race or made their first speech. If you aspire to greatness in either of these realms of competition, think it over. It is worthwhile. Opportunity comes once to every man, but seldom twice. It will call on you soon. Be prepared to answer. Win new laurels for yourself and your school. I am sure that you are not like the man whom Scott did not wish to find when he said:

"Breathes there the man with soul so dead

Who never to himself has said:
'This is my own, my native land?'"

Have you said, "This is my school," in the same spirit that Scott would have you say it? If you have, you can enter these contests with assurance of bringing home the bacon. How do you feel about it? Let us get ready for the meets.

H. S. GIRLS WIN RETURN GAME FROM FRESHMEN, 4-6

The closest game in the girls' basketball tournament was played Tuesday, March 8, when the high school girls beat the freshmen. At the close of the first quarter the score was 1-0 in favor of the High school. A few minutes of play tied the score, and it stood 2-2 at the end of the half. In the second half Jessie Wiggs, high school running center, sprained her arch, and a sub was run in. The freshmen made two free throws, and at close of the third quarter the score was 4-2 in the freshmen's favor. Just as it looked as if it were the freshmen's game because of their good center play, Jessie Wiggs came back, despite her arch, and broke the tie up. The high school made a field throw and held the freshmen down for the rest of the quarter, winning with score of 6-4.

He: Did you hear the "A Baby Carriage Blues"?

She: No, how does it go?

He: On wheels.

U. H. S. ADMITTED TO CENTRAL EGYPTIAN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

The University High school is now recognized by the high schools of southern Illinois. It is a member of the Central Egyptian Athletic Conference and is eligible to enter the tournament and track and intellectual meets held by this conference. The other members are: Du Quoin, Sesser, Zeigler and Pinckneyville.

For further information about the various meets see the bulletin board outside Mr. Warren's office.

BASKETBALL RESULTS

The University High squad went to Murphysboro Saturday night, March 5. Murphysboro defeated our squad 39 to 17. As has always been the custom, our boys proved to be good losers. This defeat marked the closing game of this year's conference. The boys have undergone quite a bit of strenuous practice in preparation for the tournament. They should give the winner of the Herrin-Johnston City game some thrills.

The conference games for next season have been arranged. We hope the team's playing this season has not been in vain and that next year more victories will be theirs.

H. S. GIRLS DEFEATED BY COLLEGE FRESHMEN, 7-1

Thursday, March 3, the high school girls lost to the college freshmen with a score of 7-1. This was the second game the high school has played in the girls' basketball tournament.

ALBERTA SPARR IMPROVING

Miss Alberta Sparr, a high school girl who was injured when she was struck by an auto, is rapidly improving. She was removed from the hospital to her home at Olney last week. She will, without doubt, be able to return to school next term.

Owen Kerley: Hazel, tell me about "The Man of the Ages."

Hazel Lamphy: I can't. I haven't read it.

Owen Kerley: I am afraid you are going to cause both of us to flunk.

Earl Trobaugh: Did you ever hear the story of your eyes?

May Applegate: No.

Earl: You have too. (two)

Miss Hardin drawing minute nerve cells on the board very large so all could see.

Miss Hardin: Edna, is this drawing correct?

Edna: No, it is too large.

SUSPENSE NO. 13

This time, dear readah, 'tis a taunting tale told by tantalizing Ted, the talented tale-teller:
I fell for her in a book-room,
'Twas a stormy night outside;
Oh, yes, of course, I took her home
That evening from the "libe."

She was blue-eyed, blonde, and rosy—
Rosie, I think, was her name;
She had red lips and everything
That camouflage a dame.

But the best thing of all about her,
Better than all her good looks,
She was plump and warm and filled
my arms—

Yes, filled my arms with books!

GIRLS

There are co-eds bright and snappy.
There are co-eds sad and blue;
There are those who plaster on the lip-stick,

Who apply the paint and powder,
too.

There are those of slender structure
present,

There are those who love to laugh
and jest—

But the one that fills my heart with sunshine,

Helps a guy out before a test.

TERM EXAMINATIONS

Near the end of every term of school a number of students always complain that they are being burdened with unnecessary work just to satisfy the whims of some unmerciful teacher. It is ever thus. And some of them (chiefly those without teaching experience) are radical enough to maintain that neither teachers nor students derive any appreciable good from examinations. Is this your philosophy or do you challenge the soundness of this theory?

Many experiments have been tried, but our leading educators have found that there is no way to measure the results of teaching without some sort of an examination. It helps the student to retain that which has been learned, because whatever is "mastered" for a test will be found usable at some future time. Many oral exercises may be repeated "parrot like," but the written quiz usually provokes serious thought. According to Professor Parker "it tests the conditions and progress of mind in its development." It helps the teacher to test his real teaching power. Whatever the teacher has done, or failed to do, can be readily comprehended by an expert in examination. Of course, the most obvious justification for it is that there is no known substitute which aids the teacher so much in classifying student abilities.

THE PROPER RESPECT FOR THE SPEAKER

The S. I. T. A. will meet here next week, and we shall have in our midst several celebrated speakers. They will speak to large audiences for there are more than a thousand teachers who will attend the meetings. We sincerely hope that they will be interested and courteous enough to the lecturers to give them their undivided attention. It makes no difference whether you can hear the speaker or whether you are particularly interested—this is no reason for your indulging in conversation with your neighbor. There is nothing that shows your breeding quite so much as the attention that you give a speaker. Don't be considered in the common, low class of people who chew gum, talk through a lecture or what is worse still, get up and leave the Auditorium before the lecturer has finished.

INQUIRING REPORTER

Ho! Ho! Spring vacation days will soon be here! Aren't you glad? No more lessons to prepare for nine whole days! Why we'll almost forget how to study in that time. However, this is the time when we should profit, by renewing our strength and energy for the next term. Make the Spring term still better than the last. You, who have worked during this past term, will, of course, appreciate the vacation much more than those who have just got by. But the question now is—"How are you going to spend your vacation so as to be more efficient in your next term's work?"

Question: How are you going to spend your Spring vacation?

Where asked: In the March wind. Recuperating after term exams.—Sylvia Cochran.

Probably, somewhere between Cairo and Marion.—June Carter.

I shall spend my vacation visiting V. C. S. (?) in Chicago.—Opal Douglas.

That remains to be seen.—Margaret Warren.

Trying to think of something more pleasant than the past—(exams.)—Mildred Mobley.

Visiting my sisters in Chicago. — Ruth Conway.

Reviewing my music, in order to make a passing grade in Method Music I. next term.—Wanda Gustin.

EXCHANGE COLUMN

This year, a new system has been inaugurated at Greenville college for the selection of the commencement orators. At the semester registration, ten seniors having highest averages for the four years were required to register for the course in The Oration. This course is a preliminary preparation for their final production.

Dr. Frank McMurry, for many years professor of education at Columbia University, says that the greatest test of a teacher is found in the extent of his friendship with the students and in the extent to which he utilizes that friendship for their benefit. A warm heart, leading to strong friendship, is a bigger thing in teaching than skill in instruction. This does not mean, however, that the instruction may be neglected.

Lincoln College's first year book will bear the name, "The Emancipator." In picking the title the staff wished to find some title that was suggestive of Abraham Lincoln.

Invitations to compete in the first invitational Augustana college girls' basketball tournament were sent to many of the leading girls' quintets in western Illinois and eastern Iowa. Handsome trophies will be awarded to the winners of the tourney.

Prof. Smith: Where and how many places can you send boys that commit crime?

Answer: The reform school, the penal institution and—to Anna.

SENIOR COLLEGE TEAM WINS CLASS BASKET-BALL TOURNAMENT

Defeat the Sophomore Team 36-16 on Wednesday Night at the Gymkahana

In the semi-finals the Sophomores defeated the Forum 27-8, earning the right to meet the Seniors, who downed the Dunbar team, 13-7.

The Senior team was hitting and led all the way through the game. At intervals the Sophs had spurts, but they could not overcome the lead. The score by quarters ran: 10-4, 19-8, 27-14 and 36-16.

Much interest has been taken in this branch of the sports and many boys have been given a chance to play, even though their skill did not rate them as squad material. Such team work as displayed by these games leads to fair play, which is necessary to retain proper school spirit.

The girls also find basketball rather interesting and they are having a two game elimination tournament all their own. Following are some of the scores of the various games and the standings of the teams participating:

Team	W.	L.
Sophomores	4	0
Freshmen	2	2
High School	1	2
Senior College	0	3

Scores of the games thus far played:

- Sophomore 10, Sr. College 1.
- Sophomore 9, High School 4.
- Sophomore 36, Sr. College 6.
- Sophomore 24, Freshmen 10.
- Freshmen 6, High School 1.
- Freshmen 4, High School 6.

Quite proper that this article should come under the girls' basketball tournament. Prof. Scott was being congratulated on his Senior College team during the third quarter when he received an unexpected but beautiful gift right in his arms. It was a girl who had been deposited there through the courtesy of a Sophomore player who had come down the floor in a big rush and could not stop in time to avert a crash. More power, Professor, more power.

If all Senior-College students are taking Advanced Psychology?

If Shakespeare said "One, two three"?

How many people have said, "It's wrong, it's wrong, I tell you, and by Golly it's just not right."

How many Senior College people are taking Junior College subjects?

If Spring has any influence on campus crushes?

How we're going to ride home if we can't sit in our cars?

How many will pass the Chemistry exams?

If more would pass a Campstry exam?

Why we don't fire our present faculty and save $50,000?

How many more Sorority girls "Cupid" is going to steal?

If any dates got "razzed" as they entered the gym Wednesday night?

If Dean Wham paid his two to one bet on the Sophomore basketball game?

If Mr. Shryock collected even money?

If Max Lollar really thought that he could pull two mats off the floor at once?

What Irvin Yates thinks of love now?

If Lucille Tolau, Helen Womack and Berniece Minter had a good time Sunday night?

If English Prose classes won't be a walking "Dickens" by the time they have mastered two volumes of David Copperfield?

Who constitutes the "slim majority" in Socratic society?

Who left at the first half of the basketball game thinking it was over?

If Hollie Womack and Mary Tedrow have finished figuring up the age of Professor Felts?

Condensed Bunk

—by Cleopatra—

Ye Editor says the only thing worse than "spring poetry" is fall, winter and summer poetry.

This week's candidate for the Floorwalker Fraternity is the brother who thought that "Three Flowers" includes wheat, barley and rye.

Bill's only a mathematician's son—but, oh, what a number!

"Everybody shoves a fat man," complained Stewart to his crony, Ned.

"I'll bite," said the fresh mosquito, as he lit on a fat man's bald head. But he didn't. Next week you'll read why.

Valuable Advice to Appendicitis Sufferers

1. Move around freely, as this gives the appendix much needed exercise.
2. At least three times a day perform the "Right knee-to-the-chest-bend-stretch-point toe-point heel-hard-hard-lower-slowly-drop—Other knee—now-both knees"—act for the kick of it.
3. Eat everything and anything in sight, then if you don't see enough, get up and go after it.
4. Bite all thermometers, chew carefully, and swallow—this creates friction in the appendix.
5. If, perchance, your back should become tired, rise perpendicularly on your head and remain for three minutes. Repeat this several times and your back will straighten out.
6. Never sleep at night, for this will give your family a chance to rest.
7. If the ice-pack is too cold, place it on the floor directly beneath your bed—it will do just as much good there. Caution—be sure to keep ice in it.
8. Add, subtract, multiply, and divide with the bunches of flowers in the ceiling wall paper, so that your skill in Method Arithmetic will not get rusty.
9. Shake well before taking all and any medicines.
10. When people bring you flowers, give them back with a pleasant smile and ask for something to eat.

This advice, of course, is as free as it is helpful to those enjoying appendicitis.

—By I. Know.

Over at the Cafe one noon, two blissful freshmen who had finished their lunch, were in one of the booths. While playing quietly by themselves, three seniors in the next room heard one pipe up in a shrill voice, "Tick-a-lock all around, you can't get in."

Sadly he shook his head, no doubt remembering when he, too, played "house."

It is well known that Loren Spires sent in an inquiry to a famous beauty specialist and received this immediate answer:

Dear Madame:—

Do you think sleep will make a person good-looking?

Yours hopefully,
LOREN SPIRES.

Answer:—

It might, but Rip Van Winkle never won any beauty prizes.

"That's one flat tire," remarked Katherine to Isabelle, pointing to a puncture.

G. O'Sullivan: I want that dog shot at once.

Policeman: I can't shoot him here in this residence district. The bullet might go right through him and hit somebody.

C. O.: But couldn't you shoot him lengthwise?

Summer Hotels and Some Aren't When do we eat?

Yeh, it is a spring chicken all right. I just bit into one of the springs.

Little boy: Are you a college man?

Neil Ellis: No, I'm wearing these clothes to pay off a bet.

TOO BAD ABOUT THESE EXAMS.

Exams are a lot of Bunk. We firmly, solemnly and most decidedly maintain that exams are a lot of bunk. And furthermore—we shall prove it to you by the following reasons:

Firstly—Sistler, after a thorough interview, says so.

Secondly—Everybody admits they are.

Thirdly—Haley Gaddis admits that they (exams) should be extinct because he never can get a date on the nights previous to a heavy quiz.

Fourthly—The papers aren't graded anyway—so why bother?

Fifthly—Exams are simply the teachers' excuse for not talking so much in class. It gives them a few spare moments in which they may read their favorite novels, manicure their finger nails, etc.

Sixthly—Mary Tedrow says they are because while she's writing she can't talk as much (and get away with it).

Seventhly—When exams are announced ahead of time the students can't cut classes.

Eighthly—The teachers know we are ignorant anyway without trying to write examinations.

Ninthly—Mr. Clifton Clift, who is the most superincontradistinguishabilityveness man in school, says they are and—

Tenthly—Fred Miller says, "It's wrong, it's wrong, an'—by golly—it ain't right."

LEAGUE FOR WOMEN

the supervision and along with Dean Woody.

Groups have been selected according to the geographical localities of the rooming houses. The groups are organizing and are electing their officers; some of the houses in which at least ten girls live, are organizing, too, and are electing officers similar to sororities.

The most urgent problem to be settled now is the question of selecting a president of the league. The president must be a girl with executive abilities, a person with a high moral character, and with a standing of a "C" student.

NEW EXCHANGES COME FROM TWELVE NORMALS

Twelve normal school publications have been added to Normal Times' list of speaking acquaintances since our last appearance. The Normal Axis of North Adams, Mass.; The Pine Log of Nacogdoches, La.; the Vista of Edmunds, Okla.; The Eagle of Santa Barbara, Calif.; the Indiana Penn of Indiana, Penna.; Student Opinion of Ellensburg, Wash.; Normal Echoes of Johnson Vt.; the Kent Stater of Kent, Ohio; the Winoma, Minn.; Dee-Enn-Ess of Danbury, Conn., the Front Line of Frostburg, Md.; and the Owl of California, Penna., are on our regular exchange list—for many years, we hope.

All of these are new to us except the Indiana Penn, Dee-Enn-Ess, and the Eagle, all of which lost touch with us at the start of this scholastic year. More than fifty normal schools exchange with us regularly, all of the publications being on file.

THE BIG WHAT WAZZIT

son) to use Hind's cream on retiring, they clashed madly for three fast and furious rounds. The bout was called a draw and both fighters had to be carried out from the shock.

Gruesome and awe inspiring was LaMaster, the great performer with his bone and muscle twisting exhibition. "Heavy" Lollar was also an important cog in the performance with his feats of muscular exertion. Such feats as were given by these superhuman men can only be seen on the "big-time", as Keith Circuit.

The ingenious band boys now well oiled went on another delightful toot till the heavyweight boxers, who were due next on the program, could be found. (They were in the basement engaged in a game of Tiddley-Winks).

In this match Johnson, weight 196, opposed Norris, weight 198, for three real slugging rounds. The male part of the crowd thoroughly enjoyed the giants dust each other around, although some of the fair damsels hid their cosmetic applications in fright. This bout was also declared a draw due to the equal number of cream puffs exchanged.

The Collegiate Quartette next came from behind the bleachers to lighten the atmosphere with: "Let's Talk About My Sweetie", "When the Red Red Robin Comes Bobbin Along", "Then I'll Be Happy," and "The Lost Sheep on the Mountain."

More music had to be found so the celebrated piano and banjo duet, Baker and Murphy, poured forth with "Thinking of You", "I'd Love to Call You My Sweetheart", and "Mary Lou". Cries of "More", could not make them respond, so the final game of the class tournament was called. The Senior College team versus the Sophomore team. The Senior team led all the way through and won easily, 36-18.

At the half S. I. N. U.'s noted pianist, Leon Kirkpatrick, consented to play "Sunday," and "Me Too." Amid the thunderous applause on all sides Leon walked to his seat at the other end of the gym when he had finished, but was forced to return, and at that time it was "Mary Lou" and "Are You Sorry?"

To have equalled the best entertainment we have ever had, one would have to travel far and pay a great sum.

CONFERENCE HONORS GO TO ILLINOIS WESLEYAN

Wesleyan took conference honors by a recent two point victory which followed their overcoming of an eleven point lead which their opponents had run up on them. The Illinois Wesleyan team is considered to be without a doubt the best in the Little Nineteen.

The other teams which made high honors in the conference are listed below:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Illinois Wesleyan	11	2	.846
Lincoln	9	3	.750
No. Central	8	1	.700
St. Viator	5	2	.714
Augustana	7	3	.700
Monmouth	5	3	.620
Wheaton	5	3	.656
Charleston	7	5	.583
Bradley	7	5	.583
Eureka	8	6	.511
Carbondale	3	3	.500
Shurtleff	3	3	.500
Illinois College	4	6	.400
Millikin	5	8	.385
Macomb	5	8	.385
McKendree	3	5	.375
Normal	3	9	.250

It will be noticed that Carbondale tied with Shurtleff with a percentage of .500. Two of the games lost in the conference were lost when the team took a trip up state at the beginning of the season, when the boys were not going at top speed. The other was lost to McKendree on our own floor. It will also be noticed that we played only six conference games, due to the fact that we scheduled games with teams farther south and not with those in the conference. Evansville was the only non-conference team to beat us.

SMALL FARE

A thin man resented the lateral pressure of a fat man on the same seat in a street car. He said: "They ought to charge by weight in these cars."

"If they did, sonny," said the fat man, "you'd have to walk. They couldn't afford to stop for you."
