Indiana U. Photography Instructor To Be Featured Guest At Photo Fair

Henry H. Smith, known as an outstanding teacher in photography at Indiana University, will discuss ways of "reading" photographs at the fifth annual Kappa Alpha Mu photo fair Sunday, according to Donald Bell, president of SIU's KAM chapter. The organization is an honorary photojournalism fraternity.

The program will begin at 1:30 p. m. in the new SIU library auditorium. Registration for visitors will be at 1 p. m. in the library foyer when the photo fair exhibit opens.

Smith, assistant professor of fine arts, joined the Indiana University faculty in 1947 to set up a program of undergraduate and graduate courses in creative photography. He has prepared articles for photography and design magazines and for various midwestern newspapers. He studied in Chicago art and design schools and is a graduate of Ohio State University.

Before going to Indiana he worked as a journalist for newspapers and magazines, served as associate editor for Michigan Photography magazine (now Modern Photography), and was in the U. S. air force during World War I.

His abstract photographs have been exhibited in Wisconsin, Delaware and the Museum of Modern Art in New York city. The work of his students has appeared in some of the nation's leading magazines.

In addition to being the featured speaker for the photo fair program, Smith will judge the fair's photographic entries.

Dr. Robert D. Farer, Professor of English, has been chosen to receive the "second annual Egyptian Faculty Service Award."

He succeeds Dr. E. C. Coleman, last year's recipient, who won the first award.

Dr. Farer was chosen from a field of 90 candidates by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity. The judging was based on service to students, popularity with faculty and students and professional standing. The Award will be presented April 19 at the Journalism students' Association banquet.

Dr. Farer first came to Southern in the summer of 1930, and received a 25 year service pin last spring.

During the 26 years with SIU he has had two leaves of absence for study and served in the Army from 1942 to 1945.

The professor, whose special interest is American Literature, was graduated from Allegheny College in Meadville, Penn. He received his Master's Degree in one year from the University of Iowa and later earned his Doctor's from the University of Wisconsin.

His first job was at the University of Oregon at the age of 21 in 1928. After serving on the faculty for two years, he accepted a position in the English Department here at SIU (then a teacher's college).

In his college days, Dr. Farer was very active in social events and after teaching two years at the University of Oregon which he considered a socially active campus, he came to Southern, which, at the time, had two literary societies and Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority as the extent of its social groups.

"I quickly moved into what social circles existed at Southern and sponsored one of the literary societies. Dances were not permitted on campus and I was greatly responsible for the first one which 'broke the ice.'"

To further social activities on campus he helped form Chi Delta Chi, first social fraternity on campus, (Phi Kappa Tau). Late he helped form Kappa Delta Alpha (Theta Xi) and served as faculty sponsor.

With the efforts of these two groups, Dr. Farer and Richard Bever, then Chi Delta sponsor and head of the Histor. Department, Southern's social life took a turn for the better.

On top of all this, Dr. Farer is responsible for the idea of big name bands being brought to campus at 15 coming and is now sponsor of the Sphinx Club, student honor society. He also serves on numerous University councils.

Dr. Farner is single. His parents are still living in Erie, Penn. He resides in Carbondale and is an active member of the Presbyterian Church, singing in the choir and serving on church boards. His favorite pastime is music. He enjoys the classical and the better popular music. He believes that "singers today have degenerated" because they each try to have a rock style. His favorites are Perry Como and Jo Stafford.

Dr. Farner smilingly comments that one claim to fame is that he did write a book. The book, "Walt Whitman and Opera," was published in 1951.

His most interesting observation is noting the changes in SIU. He feels that they are amazing. That might not have been so true if the 1936 Egyptian "Faculty Service Award" winner had not taken a position on the Southern Illinois Normal University staff in 1950.

Beethoven Story To Be Shown At Movie Hour

"From the Beethoven story, will be shown Sunday at the University School Auditorium. It is the second film to be shown in the new Sunday evening series 'Student-Film Society,' by the Audio-Visual Aids Service.

Final Fling' Dance Tonight In Student Union

"Gone With the Wind" will be the theme of the "Final Fling" dance from 8 to midnight tonight in the Men's Gymnasium.

The dance, sponsored by the Social Service, will be free and so will the refreshments. Jeanne Barbour, junior art major, is the chairman.

The dance will be held to give students a break before studying for finals.

ISA Decides To Tax Delinquent Members For Voting Privileges

It is decided at the Independent Students Association meeting, Monday evening that a tax will be levied against those members who have not attended meetings and who wish to cast their vote at the forthcoming election of officers.

If a member attended the Feb. 26 meeting and not the March 5 meeting, there will be a 25 cent tax to pay before he can vote said Gene Hays president. If, however the member has not attended any meetings this quarter, the fee will be 50 cents.

At the Monday evening meeting, there were 20 members present.

Nation's Youth To Meet Here For Farm Bureau Leadership

Young people from all over the United States will be at SIU for the Farm Bureau's 1956 Leadership School during spring vacation, according to Rex D. Karnes, assistant director of Area Services.

Guest speaker for the three-day event, starting March 18, will be Otto Sadler, president of the Illinois Agricultural Society, who will open the meeting at 9 a. m. at the University School Auditorium March 19.

"The people will have plenty to do during their stay here," said Karnes. "Classes will be conducted all three days."

This training school is especially designed to meet the needs of officers and to committee members of Farm Bureau Young People's groups and to train them in more successful in directing Union activities and local programs. This is also an opportunity for students to become interested in developing activities for young people to send their leaders to observe the Farm Bureau Young People's program in action, according to the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"There will be a banquet on Monday night."

Student Cast Performs 'Dido And Aeneas', 'Down In The Valley'

Phyllis Scherle, Jerry Van Der Ploeg, and Kaye E. A. were the soloists in the vocal ensemble which was composed of 11 students and the instrumental ensemble led by Fred Bertram.

Pat Babn was stage director. Robert Channess, technical director and Nancy Gallespie, accompanist.

Two men fought for the hand of Pam Hindman—one for her love, the other for her hand—Monday night in "Down In The Valley."

This 20th century folk opera will open March 18 at 8 p. m. on the stage of the University School Auditorium. The play was directed by William Taylor; stage and technical director was Robert Channess. The dance group was provided by the Sing and Swing club.

"Down In The Valley," a 20th century American folk opera in dialect. The cast included: Pat Campbell, Virginia Wilks, Gerry Weaver, Jo Anna Hanson, Jean Thomas, and

5 Cadets To Participate In Debate Tourney

Five AFROTC cadets from SIU will take part in a national debate tournament for March 28 and 31 at the University of Pittsburgh.

The five, selected by Dr. Walter H. Marshall, director of debate at Southern, are:

Robert Holton, Ralph Fred, Ted Foster, William Hull and William Holton. All have participated in other debate tournaments.

The teams at Hull and Foster and William Holton and Fred will enter the debate section of the tourney, each team taking part in five rounds of debate. Robert Holton will enter extemporaneous speaking. Foster and Hull will enter oratory, and the Holtons will enter impromptu speaking.

A sweepstakes trophy will be given to the school with the highest number of points for the entire meet. First and second place trophies will be given to the best speaker.

More than 50 AFROTC units are expected to enter the meet.

Southern's debaters, as well as those from St. Louis University, the University of Missouri and Bradley University will be flown to Pittsburgh from Scott Air Force Base.

Major Jack H. Aldridge will be the Air Force representative acting as coach of the debate group during the Pittsburgh meet. Col. Alexander B. MacMillan has been asked to be a judge for the speech events in this tourney.

'What Can Local Chapter Of AAUP Do' Subject Of Dr Moore's Talk

What can the local chapter of the American Association of University Professors do to improve the economic status of the faculty? This was the subject of Dr. W. J. Moore's talk at the AAUP dinner meeting Monday night. Moore, chairman of the philosophy department, said that the answer is for the faculty to have at least a fair degree of participation in administration by working on committees and councils.

Speaking about universities in general Moore said there are certain factors that have to do with the low economic status of the staff. They are: rigidly appropriated by state legislatures, the tendency of administrators to emphasize buildings and ground-improvements at the expense of teacher salaries, and emphasis on administrators rather than faculty and an influx of students causing a higher student-teacher ratio.

An A. A. U. P. has to establish itself on campus as a respected body before it can accomplish very much, Moore said. Then it has to stand on its own feet for what it believes to be best for the profession and for the student.

The Beginning

During a university publication is the ultimate in campus diversity. The work, and it is work, is rewarding.

It is a jumble of complaints, thanks, accusations, deadlines, story schedules, picture costs, free publicity, misspelled words and just plain blab. But we love it.

It is a host of sugar coated requests. Front page notices, rat parties, the most important event of the year. If you publish our story the Egyptian is an outstanding newspaper. If you don't publish our story the Egyptian is a rag. The students don't read it.

Most everyone is an authority on newspapering. We become aware of the growing plague of "degreeciousness" among certain Phi D's. We believe in the administration. We strongly support

Exit One

It's, do you know that the Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers are singing to be in Shrook Auditorium tonight? Why not come along with us, we're going.

"I'd like to see, but sorry—I've got a paper to put out tonight." This is a stock answer which a student editor has to give time and time again when someone asks him why he is not attending this program, or going to this dance or seeing that big movie.

But now it's all over. The presses will not have to stop because there is always someone to take their place and it is not that time. The long-awaited days of rest and relaxation lie ahead.

It's not an easy job—being a student editor. Night after long night, we have been battling away in a 15 x 4 office to give the students and faculty a campus newspaper. Sometimes the nights were cold in the drafts building, sometimes the nights were hot and humid, sometimes there was news, stories galore, sometimes you had to fill your "time" pages, sometimes you felt like working, sometimes you felt miserable and your sleepers had left bouncing off your desk, but always the paper went out.

However, the job is not with our days and nights. There are our days to build up your desk, and see a note. It says, "Congratulations, a good paper today." You don't forget things like this or the people who, although as busy as work time, still take time to say something nice.

There are the others too and we will also remember them—the professional fault-finders who pour poison into the "expo"

Swimmers End Season At 6-3

Winning their last five meets, SIU swimmers finished the season with a 6-3 record, doubling the score on their final two opponents, Bradley University and Illinois Normal.

Southern, which began swimming as a varsity sport only last year, had an 0-6 record in 1957, and lost the first two meets during the current campaign. They improved rapidly, however, winning six of their last seven meets for the first successful SIU swimming season.

The wins were over Western Illinois, Tennessee Agriculture and Industry, St. Louis University, Missouri School of Mines, Illinois Normal, and Bradley.

Southern preceded the season with a close 45-39 loss to a strong Washington University team which went on to finish the season without a defeat. Other losses were to Beloit College and Loyola of Chicago.

Executive Saluki summer improved his time, some of the times being improved by many seconds as every varsity record except one was set this season.

Coach William Heusser, former Northwestern and Big Ten swimming star, had high praise for the swimmers, pointing out that their hard work and high team spirit had paid off big dividends.

Heusser also has much to look forward to as there is only one senior, Bruce Coleman, on the squad.

Leading point-winner was Captain Bob Montgomery, who specialized in the 200 and 400-yard freestyle events, in the Illinois Normal meet Feb. 25. Montgomery was a double winner along with John Hulter, who captured the 160-yard individual medley and the 200-yard breaststroke. SIU won the meet, 56-28, after winning Bradley the day before, 58-26.

SIU Freshmen Below Standard Physically

What is the physical status of the male freshman at SIU? A series of tests conducted by the Department of Physical Education for Men show that the SIU freshman is below standards of other colleges across the country.

The freshmen are below the minimum standards in functional fitness, substandard in swimming abilities, and have not had enough exposure to a variety of sports and recreational activities.

"Twenty-eight per cent of the freshmen tested received composite scores on the Physical Aptitude Test below the minimum standards of such a similarly validated tests designed for college freshmen," the report states. "The purpose of this test is similar to that of the diagnostic reading test, the English placement test, and the mathematics placement test given to all students. This rate of substandard scores has not been considered excessive however. Except for the lower 20 per cent of this group, the scores of the total number of freshmen seem to fall within national freshmen averages rather closely."

"The Physical Aptitude Test provides a measure of the degree of effectiveness with which men are using the scores of the fundamental elements which underlie physical ability," the report states.

Of the 1146 freshmen who completed swimming tests, 22.6 per cent could not swim 35 feet, the report points out.

"Of the same number of students who were given a swimming classification test, 36.3 per cent could not swim 50 yards," the report shows. "These results are considered to be substantial when compared to the swimming abilities of the college freshman population nationally."

SIU swimmers finished the season with a 6-3 record, doubling the score on their final two opponents, Bradley University and Illinois Normal.

Sig Pi's, Tri Sig's Win In Greek Bowl

Leta Nepute with her 608 set the new high three-gate series for the Hellenic League. Leta had games of 286, 208 and 163 for a 608 total. She led the Tri Sig's in their clean sweep of Theta Xi. Bob Gavan had 505 for the losers.

In another high-scoring match, Sigma Pi led by Bill Hunt with 394 and Willy Reese with 343 while warded the Phi Epsilon. Gene Takochi was the leading scorer for the losers with 491. Pi Kappa Sigma by virtue of a 4-point win over Delta Sigma Epsilon, retained possession of first place in the southern half of the league. Helen Ogenoska with 444 led the winners, while Elaine Kelly with 379 was high for the losers. By the final match of the evening, Eta Kappa Epsilon took 3-point over Delta Zeta.

15 Students In AAU Mat Tourney Today

Fifteen SIU students are entering a team in the Western State AAU mat wrestling tournament at the Bismarck Jc. High School in Overland Park, Mo., today and tomorrow.

Heading the team will be eight of the nine SIU matmen who battled their way to the Interstate Conference championship in a six-team mat at Charleston, Ill., last Saturday.

In capturing their first conference championship, the SIU wrestlers almost doubled the score on their nearest opponent as they won five of the nine championships and secured missed winning two more to end Illinois Normal's domination of IAC wrestling.

Leading the Salukis at the AAU meet this week will be SIU wrestling captain Paul Steingrub, who was named outstanding wrestler at the conference meet. He had three pins as he worked his way to the title in the 177-pound class.

Other SIU winners in the league meet were Ray Burfield, 123-pound class; Leo Grahels, 130-pound class; Bob Dinkoff, 191-pound class; and Ed Hayes, heavyweight class.

These five wrestlers have a combined record of 56 wins, 10 losses, and two draws in 11 meets this season. Southern wrestlers have lost only one meet, a dual clash with Indiana University.

Five Salukis Finish Season With 10 Point Average

Five men on the Saluki basketball squad finished the season averaging in the double figures, with Warren Talley leading the way with 13.5 per game. He was also the leading individual scorer, hitting for 312 points.

The other four in the double figures are Joe Johnson, 11.6; Seymour Bryson, 10.8; Larry White, 10.6; and Gus Doss, 10.3. The figures include the NAIA playoff game with Western Illinois.

Talley, Johnson, Bryson, and White all scored over 200 points, while Doss scored 165, but only played in 10 games.

Complete statistics for the Saluki squad:

Intramurals

With the completion of the intramural basketball schedule, the intramural office is now planning the tournaments to be held in volleyball, swimming, softball, washers, track, and shuffleboard.

No definite date has been set for the swimming meet but this meet will take place soon as swimmers are cautioned to watch the date of the meet. The meet will be held in the University School pool.

A total of 70 teams participated in the intramural basketball playoffs this year. The teams had a total of 871 players participating in games. This was an average of approximately 11.5 players per team in the games.

Scoring averages for individual were as follows:

Name	Team	Games	Points	Avg.
Buvan, Roger	Miners	3	90	20.0
Rueher, Harold	Cellar Dwellers	4	172	26.75
Dudaček, Don	House of So. Comert	7	193	26.14

Cartrell, Dale	The Manoe	8	145	20.6
Holmes, Don	Anthony Hall "Angels"	5	101	20.2

Totals do not include league playoff and championship games.

The Campus Cryer

Everyone seems to want to pick an all-star team of some kind. I feel no exception. I would like to offer my selections of all-sport teams, college-wide.

There will no doubt be some disagreement about my selections, but, let us forget this, it is only a personal opinion and should be considered as such.

On the first team, would be Fred Malcher of Illinois Normal and Seymour Bryson of SIU at forward, Ron Nicksal of Western at center, and Jack Brown of Eastern and John Olson of Northern at guard. Brown and Olson are normally forwards but their play over the center that they must be included on any all-conference team I pick.

On the second team, I would place Glenn Stuart and Dick Kerk of Central Michigan at forwards, Chuck Schramm of Western at center, and Eck Pappadakis of Michigan Normal and John Milhollan at the guard.

My selections are based only on the performances given by these players in contests with the Salukis and at accounts given by those who have observed them closely here.

A year ago, the Campus Cryer made its debut on the sports page of The Egyptian. I must admit that it was designed as nothing more than a space filler and a playground for me. It was rather inconsistent in its appearance on the page, but that can be blamed on the abundance of copy that was necessary to run.

I don't know if I've made any trends, and I've probably made some enemies with my comments.

At any rate, time has run out on the Campus Cryer. With this disagreement, it fades into oblivion.

In this past year, the sports page at SIU has begun to look up and it has been my privilege to help in a small way.

The football team has at last won a respected member on the conference instead of the disrepute of the league; the wrestling team just won the first conference title that SIU has captured since 1927.

The swimming team in their second year of inter-collegiate competition has had a winning season and the fourth varsity sport season was added to the agenda at SIU.

I hope that the situation will continue to improve and that the options will be of assistance.

I know that Bill Eppelheim, my successor, will strive to do his part in the improvement and endeavor to keep the student body interested on the athletic picture at SIU.

This past year has been a period of enlightenment and, I trust, fun. I will assume the duties as the editor-in-chief next quarter, but will attempt to keep in constant contact with the sports scene.

With these meager comments, the Campus Cryer becomes a thing that is of enlightenment and, I trust, fun. Thanks to all for your support.

Spring Sports Clinic Set For March 23

The eighth annual SIU spring sports clinic will be held Friday, March 23, featuring outstanding high school baseball and track coaches from Illinois and Missouri.

Jim Smilgoff, Taft High School, Chicago, will talk on baseball. He is recommended as one of the top standing high school baseball coaches in the state. Paul Hibbs who has had a lot of success at Du Quoin High School, will also speak on baseball.

Track coaches scheduled to speak are Henry Schenmer, University City High School, University City, Mo.; Warren St. James, Summer High School, St. Louis, Mo.; and Sam Stodlar, Herrin, Ill.

Schenmer is considered as one of the best track coaches in the Mississippi Valley, and has turned out some of the country's leading track men in the last 25 years. He is especially adept in forming sprinters and hurdlers.

St. James is known primarily for developing great distance runners. One of his proteges is the former great distance runner for SIU, Richard Gregory.

Rifle Team Takes Match At Kemper

History repeats itself, as the saying goes, and it almost did that very thing last weekend at the annual midwest indoor rifle match at Kemper Military School in Booneville, Mo. For the second year in a row, Southern's AFRO rifle team won the grand championship match.

Out of a possible 800 points on the team scores, Southern had 750. The group scored 1129 out of 1200 shots on the individual scores, making a grand total of 1,879—13 points higher than the second-place winner, the University of Tulsa.

Southern also placed in other events.

James Howe and Dave Richardson placed in the nine and ten shots of the individual "prone" meet. Curtis House was seventh in the individual "kneeling" meet. In the grand aggregate meet with prone, kneeling, and standing positions, Bill Whiting and Curtis House took the four and seven shots, respectively.

Tying for first place in the "Basic" team match, SIU made 750 out of 800 shots. Southern was the first team to shoot in this match. Iowa State College was the last first-place team to shoot. The SIU advanced ROTC team was fourth in their match.

Altogether SIU brought back to campus 26 medals and the grand championship trophy. This is, according to S. Sgt. William F. Stelling, team coach, the most awards that any team took back from the match.

Fifty-one teams from eight states participated in the match.

Four Pistol Match Wins

The rifle team's score of 1,929 on Feb. 4 was good for four wins in the pistol match series. They defeated the University of Tulsa, 1,867; Davis and Elkins College, 1,753; the University of Portland, 1,791; and North Texas State College, 1,888. Total possible score is 2,000.

On March 2 they shot 1,919 against the University of Omaha, the State College of Washington, and Brown University. Results of this match will be posted today.

Today the team will shoot against Michigan College of Mining and Technology and Montana State University.

Leading the pep at Southern Illinois University this year are Mary Edna Jackson, left; Betty Whitemberg; Paul, Jeff, Bury Short, and Francelle Brock.
