News Hi-Lites In Brief--

NEWS--Plans for HOMECOMING gather momentum... early reports of ticket sales, etc., indicate that crowd will exceed all expectations. WILFRED LAURIER HUSBAND to speak on SWEDEN here Monday morning. Eva Jane Milligan and Frederick Meyer will play leading parts in the Homecoming presentation of George Kaufman's "FIRST LADY" here next Friday night. MORRIS PAUL MOSELEY elected president of sophomore class. UNITED STATES NAVY BAND will play two concerts here Wednesday. Great symbol of S. I. N. U. secretly constructed by the SOUTHERN KNIGHTS, will be unveiled here at the Homecoming SOUTHERN-NORMAL FOOTBALL GAME. record crowd expected to dance to music of JIMMY DORSEY. Dr. Thalman to direct another CHILD GUIDANCE CLINIC here next week. popular rumor on the campus is that the FRESHMEN will set new tradition here next week by wearing the GREEN. organized and Independent houses are out to construct bigger and better HOMECOMING DECORATIONS.

Gracie Differentiates--

Gracie has been talking to quite a number of strange students and has thought nothing of it. Some of them are upperclassmen and some fresh-men and others freshmen. It was not until today that Gracie could differentiate among these. The freshmen say, "What's your name?" The upperclassmen say, "I love you, honey, 'What's your name?"

1938 Homecoming to Be Milestone

Homecoming is but one week off. Predictions have been made by various people that this year's Homecoming would be the best ever. Not only is the program an attractive and rather a novel one, but this year's events and the future outlook for S. I. N. U. should tend to produce among students, faculty and alumni an attitude of determination to make this year's Homecoming an outstanding success.

This fall we will have the most widely known orchestra that we have ever been able to obtain. Jimmy Dorsey and his orchestra is expected to be definitely a drawing card because of his wide acclaim and the recognition given him by other great musicians.

We are dedicating a new stadium. This is another addition to our campus, and it will prove to the alumni and other visiting people that their college is growing. The Homecoming play is an old stand-by in the Homecoming activities, but we have all reasons to believe that it will not break precedent in its entertainment value. If anything, the play this year should be better with many campus stage veterans among the upperclassmen, combined with a new selection from the new comers this fall--the play ought to be the success that it usually is.

Psychologic factors that should promote a wider interest in the Homecoming are several. First, in the Egyptian was President Pulliam's statement that if we could clear $5000, that S. I. N. U. would have a swimming pool constructed on the campus. Everyone realizes that a swimming pool would be a valuable asset, both for the students' benefit, and that the acquiring of such would add to the prestige of the college, and be a step to place S. I. N. U. on a basis with larger colleges. Since the Homecoming committee announced that there would be a 5 percent commission on all ticket sales, the student should realize that he will be helping his college as well as himself in assisting with the sale of tickets.

Then, too, this year the Homecoming Queen will be elected by popular vote of the students. The significance of this new plan is that the Homecoming Queen will be a queen of Southern Illinois and not just a local one. And last of all, but not minor, is the fact that this year we have had a new high in enrollment. S. I. N. U. is growing. We are learning that we need more and larger buildings; and there are individuals working at present trying to make these things possible. Let us show the alumni that their school is one of which they can be proud, and prove to them that it is not only growing in size but in quality. Let us encourage new comers, and interest them in our school. We can do these things by doing our utmost to make this Homecoming a success.

Wilfrid Husband to Speak Here On 'Sweden: Where Human Values Count'

How the Swedlab people have conquered depression and achieved the world's highest standard of living will be described--and portrayed in color motion pictures--by Wilfrid Laurier Husband, lecturer and student of world affairs, when he speaks at Southern Illinois State Normal University on Monday, October 24, at 8:45 a. m. The lecture, "Sweden: Where Human Values Count," will be given in Shroyok Auditorium.

Swartz Will Introduce Traveler and Lecturer

How the Swedlab people have conquered depression and achieved the world's highest standard of living will be described--and portrayed in color motion pictures--by Wilfrid Laurier Husband, lecturer and student of world affairs, when he speaks at Southern Illinois State Normal University on Monday, October 24, at 8:45 a. m. The lecture, "Sweden: Where Human Values Count," will be given in Shroyok Auditorium. Mr. Husband has spent the past two summer in Scandinavian countries. Much of his time in Sweden was devoted to studying unemployment reduction, co-operative achievements, housing, labor relations and other phases of Sweden's economy. Since Sweden has stayed out of war over a century, Mr. Husband's subject is unusually timely. He has taken particular pains to discover the reasons for Sweden's enviable performance.

CHALLENGE TO ACTION AROUSES STUDENT BODY

New School Emblem Shrouded In Deep Mystery

A long-felt need of Southern students toward its satisfaction Monday night, October 17, when campus leaders, prompted by the challenge of Dr. Louis Gellerman met and, among other things, planned for an Emblem for Southern. Dr. Gellerman had spoken to the students during the chapel exercises Monday morning, emphasizing the fact that they could set traditions.

That night campus leaders met and discussed the possibilities of getting the emblem, for which the students of their organizations have long expressed a need. Their plan is to have the emblem unveiled and presented to the student body for the first time at the stadium dedication at Homecoming. They mystery shrouds the nature of the emblem chosen.

Make Plans for Students To Carry School Responsibilities Plans were also made for the organization of a new student group to take charge of a variety of activities and carry school responsibility. Selection to this group will be on an honorary basis. Its function will be to serve as a Southern Knights organization such as those which have existed traditionally in other colleges of the United States. Its members would perform, among others, such duties as welcoming visiting speakers and athletic teams, and directing Southern pep activities.

A first meeting has been held, in which plans for organization have been perfected and the following officers appointed: Royal Duke, Harold Carl, Royal Earl, Charles Pardee, Royal Scribe, Donald Bryant.

The following committee chairmen have also been named: Royal Guard of the new school emblem, Charles Mayfield (captain), Royal Knight membership, Fred Meyer and the Royal Earl, who will serve as chairman of the welcoming committee. Vigilantes are yet to be appointed.

ILLINOIS DEBATERS CHOOSE QUESTION FOR YEAR'S WORK

Babitz, Gulley, Bryant, File Debate Monday

The varsity debate question which is to be used this season in the Illinois Intercollegiate Debate League has been selected and is stated, "Resolved: That the United States should cease to use public funds (including credit) for the purpose of stimulating business."

The debate club and the debate club on this campus are each beginning work on this national question. In this connection, there will be a contest of the best student speaker held at debate club meeting. Those who are participating in this first debate are the varsity man of last year's team, who have all returned this year, and are Barto Babitz and Halbert Gulley, affirmative; Donald Bryant and Quentin File, negative.

The subject for argument is very timely since it has a direct bearing upon our present economic setup, and since it involves the future of our economic stability. Any one who is interested in hearing this discussion is invited to attend Oct. 24 at 7:30 p. m. in room 101 Main Building.

CHILD GUIDANCE CLINIC HERE

OCTOBER 26-28 Dr. Thalman Is In Charge of Arrangements

The Southern Illinois State Normal University will hold another of its three-day Child Guidance Clinics on the college campus October 26-28.

The clinic will be opened Wednesday morning with the usual studies by the professional staff and remedial measures suggested.

Detailed cases brought here from all parts of Southern Illinois. The only public session of the clinic will be held Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock in the Little Theatre Auditorium at that time Dr. Chester Reynolds, psychologist of the Illinois Institute for Juvenile Research will lecture on "Behavior Aspects of the School Child's Conduct." Parents and teachers are cordially invited to attend.

Throughout the two-day session of the clinic, there will be seminars for the practice teachers in the college training schools. At these seminars case studies prepared by the students themselves will be discussed by the professional staff, and remedial measures suggested.

The clinic, which is conducted jointly by the college and the Illinois Institute for Juvenile Research located at Chicago, is held on the campus four times a year. The professional staff at the October clinic will consist of Dr. Reynolds; Dr. Andrew W. Brown, psychologist, and Miss Ester Clement, psychiatric social worker.

For the past several years the clinics have been held at S. I. N. U. for the purpose of aiding psychologically maladjusted school children. Before the time of the clinic the child is given a complete physical examination, a social history of his life is prepared by a trained worker in that line, and his parents and teachers cooperate in giving the committee other data that will aid in the study of the case. Following testing and interviews with leading child specialists, suggestions for remedy and correction are made to the parents and teachers of the child.

Dr. Wellington A. Thalman of the S. I. N. U. faculty is in charge of the clinic.

After organizing four years ago, the Dorsey Brothers Trombone band will play here for the Homecoming dance, October 22, has a brilliant musical background. Beside leading one of the outstanding dance orchestras in the nation, he is recognized as one of the greatest living clarinetists and saxophonists.

Dorsey is one of a now well-known musical family. His father was a band leader and music teacher in Pennsylvania. His brother, Tommy, is at present another of the country's leading band leaders. Tommy Dorsey is recognized as an outstanding artist on the trombone.

DORSEY CALLED NUMBER ONE MAN ON TROMBONE

His Famous Orchestra To Swing Homecoming; Here October 2

Jimmy Dorsey, who renewed swing bands will play here for the Homecoming dance, October 22, has a brilliant musical background. Beside leading one of the outstanding dance orchestras in the nation, he is recognized as one of the greatest living clarinetists and saxophonists.

Dorsey is one of a now well-known musical family. His father was a band leader and music teacher in Pennsylvania. His brother, Tommy, is at present another of the country's leading band leaders. Tommy Dorsey is recognized as an outstanding artist on the trombone.

After a short session as a band leader when he was in his teens, Jimmy Dorsey became a clarinet specialist in many famous orchestras. Among them were those of Jean Goldkette, Paul Whiteman, Jacques Hancoc, Lenzie Hayton, Rubinoff, Pradelle Richer, the original California Ramblers, Red Nichols, Gus Haenschen, Victor Young, Rudy Vallee, and Nat Shilkret. The reason there are so many is that Dorsey was radio specialist and did not play on location jobs (hotels, etc.) but on radio programs.

Then for a time Jimmy and Tommy formed the Dorsey Brothers Orchestra, which was extremely popular. Their vocalists, oddly enough, were Whit-Croft, now famous in his own right as a band leader.

To the Alumni—
 When we hear the enthusiasm of the students as they sing the new school song, "Hail Alma Mater, Southern to Thee," we are convinced that these students sincerely love their alma mater. We know, too, that the many students who have walked these same paths and whose echoes resounded in these same halls were loyal to their school. But it is human to forget.

We are appealing to you, alumni, to remember your alma mater on Friday and Saturday, October 28 and 29, and return once more to the traditional spots on this campus which we all hold sacred, and help us to make 1938 the HOMECOMING which will be recorded in the history of the school as the greatest event since its inception. When the new stadium is dedicated by Governor Horner, it will mark a triumph of an administration which is destined to make S. I. N. U. a school even greater than it has been in the past.

However, the administration and the students enrolled at Southern now cannot perform the task alone. It will take the earnest cooperation of every person who has ever attended this school, and who is proud to call S. I. N. U. his alma mater. If 1938 is to be a great Homecoming, if Southern is to have the other things in the future necessary to make this a greater institution, it will require the assistance of YOU, the alumni.—Halbert Gulley.

Homecoming Is In The Air—

Whenever one journeys on the campus he hears someone talking about HOMECOMING—that is as it should be! But what is "HOMECOMING"? The dictionary says that HOMECOMING is "a coming home." Educationally speaking, S. I. N. U. is home to thousands of men and women. On Oct. 28 and 29 thousands of these thousands will be "coming home."

Did you ever go home and find that no one was there to welcome you? How did you feel? Or if you never did find that unfortunate experience and should some day, how will you feel?

The least we out-of-town students can do to help make HOMECOMING a success is to stay in Carbondale the week-end of the 29th and help make the alumni, or HOME-COMERS, really feel welcome. This could be done in various ways. Probably the best way would be to personally contact any alumnus you my know from your hometown. Another way would be to attend your club activities which are to be staged during the HOMECOMING period. If you are a member of the Socratic Literary society, attend the Socratic dance; if you are a member of the Commercial club, be at the Commercial club breakfast; if you are a member of the Gym team, don't miss the dinner to be sponsored by that organization, etc. etc. HOME-COMERS are always favorably impressed by the interest and enthusiasm displayed by the student body. Likewise, a disinterested and unenthusiastic student body tends to dampen the HOMECOMING spirit.

Welcome home the HOMECOMING throng by not going home... Stay in Carbondale and help make this year's HOMECOMING—THE HOMECOMING—like Schaefer.

These coveted passes go this week to "J. Getta Roved" and to "Mogul." They may see at the ROGERS any of the attractions for the next week. A program of these features may be found elsewhere in this issue to the regular advertisement of that theatre.

Dear Sphinx:
 Did you see that pany pile of papers on G's front porch? Who said school spirit? Why the students will not even help someone else prepare for a big Homecoming celebration, much less show a little on their own. Shame on me! A comparatively new figure on our campus has been asked to get us to like our school enough to cheer for its athletic teams? And then we don't cooperate?

Carver's would be a strange place without all those decorative (?) political signs, wouldn't it? By the way, did you get one of last week's political cigars? How much does an office cost nowadays?

Homecoming queens, too, should be good politicians some day. They advertise, publicize, dramatize, and hypnotize in order to get votes—and they're getting them! But at least they are in the open—whispering campaigns are not so effective as they once were!

Homecoming queens, too, should be good politicians some day. They advertise, publicize, dramatize, and hypnotize in order to get votes—and they're getting them! But at least they are in the open—whispering campaigns are not so effective as they once were!

Is this Joe College? Hat, pipe, mustache, adobe—and all the accessories.

Communing produces intelligent people! If you don't believe this, just ask one.

Has our football team fallen into the old path of dissipation? Two of its buskett members were seen the other night slipping cokes. And it was after 5 o'clock, too. Tish! Tish! Such vicious parents!

—I Getta Roved.

THE DOPE—
 There evidently must be a scarcity of make-up at S. I. N. U. or else Miss Richards' buds dating a "L. High" soph just too, too Divine! Nice going, Hughes.

—Jealous.

A freshman don't know but don't leave be that know;
 A sophomore don't know but knows he don't know;
 A junior knows but don't know he know;
 A senior knows and knows he knows.

—I know, I don't know.

And then Flibber McGee calls the new hairline "Herc" either because it always winds up on top.

Dear Spanish Athlete:
 I'll play you a little game of bull ringing provided we keep the game "clean." (I didn't think you'd catch it—mean the bull I ring.)

You've mentioned the just time of politics. If I had to take sides in politics, I'd want the inside. But you can't expect a politician to make up his head and then lie in it. He will more likely make up his bunk and then lie in it. Did you ever hear a politician say "The main reason is the road?"

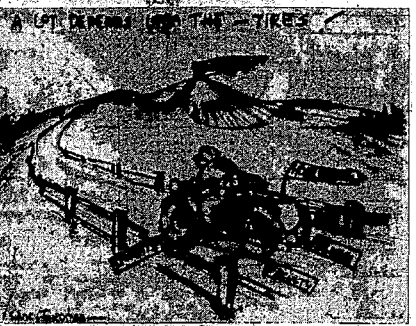

The other day I asked Edwin Har for why he majored in math. He said he liked figures but he can't remember their names.

These majors affect people. I heard a geography major singing the new hairline "Herc" earlier;
 "I hold her on my lap—
 She works for Rand McNally
 And you ought to see her map!"

JUST A SUBTLE SOCK:
 I'm beginning to think there's a bit of exaggeration in that advice about being able to tell a guy by his socks. Look at Willie Wiener. He seems to be a pretty nice guy.

—You Turned the Tables.

LOCAL LITERARY NOTES

By J. B. SPEAR
 With Homecoming bringing a renewed feeling of loyalty to our school, we think it fitting to pause and reflect on that of which we are proud. Of course there is our school—our mistake, we should have said there is our school—because it is the fifth largest teachers' college in these United States. The influence of this school is felt throughout the southern two-thirds of this state, parts of Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Missouri. The traditions, ideals, and attitudes put into effect here on this campus are being carefully cherished by the individuals who possess them, and they in turn will send their children back to their alma mater.

You say that it's doubtful because they want to send their children to a better school—well, can't you see our point—this school is getting bigger and better every now, it is looked up to as the outstanding one of its kind in this area. And gradually, but surely, the border of this school's influence is spreading ever outward. Gradually, because the best things must progress slowly. Surely, as has been shown in spreading acceptance last year.

Oh, Y. C. we come upon another Homecoming, more than ever is there a rejuvenating influence in the very air we breathe, a feeling of goodness, happiness, brotherhood—may all these work for our Homecoming this year.

Dr. John R. Mayor is in charge of the county group activities, and he is leading activities and directing publicly there. The concessions committee is headed by Miss Frances Eubridge, the resters and house decorations committee by Bob Chammess.

It has been decided that the former custom of awarding cash prizes for home activities will not be followed this year, but that a traveling cup will be awarded to the first place independent and first place organized houses. These cups will be awarded at the Homecoming football game and recognition will be given to the second and third places, as well. A limitation of $15 has been placed on organized houses of 95 on independent houses.

Faculty-Student Directory to Be Issued Oct. 28
 By HARRY E. TUTHILL.
 At last, fellow students, we feel safe in predicting the date, Friday, October 28, as that upon which the sixth edition of the Faculty-Student Directory for the year 1938-39 will appear on our campus. The directory this year is published solely by the Y. C. C.

To help you appreciate more the conveniences of this book, we wish to present a few facts concerning it, and the work involved in its completion.

Last spring, the Y. M. C. A. began work toward this year's edition, the editor of the book was named "BUCKLE" and he was proud to present him to the student body as the editor of the directory for the past two years.

Mr. Petersen took over this responsibility without salary, and has carried a regular scholastic load while at the same time. He has done practically all the work on the make up of the book, and has taken care of all the business, which included the securing of finances by selling ads and letting the contract of printing. We are proud of his good work.

He has typed the names and addresses (both home town and college) of every person listed in the directory. In many cases when people had fallen through carelessness or lack of information to supply telephone numbers and other data, Mr. Petersen looked them up and supplied them. It was he who conceived the idea of filling out a card for the student directory along with the other "blank" filling out full term registration, thereby making this convenient for you.

Few people will realize the conveniences of the directory unless they have enjoyed it up last year. Those whose names are not listed in this edition have only themselves to blame for the misfortune.

A few statistics and facts about this edition are not out of place. The entire cost of materials and printing of the 2200 copies will be around $10.00, making the individual cost of each between six and seven cents.

The Sixth Annual Edition of the Faculty-Student Directory, 1938-39, will be the same convenient size as last year's book. To provide for this year's increase in enrollment, more pages have been added to last year's number.

The first general distribution of the directory is planned for the Friday morning of Homecoming. Since this year will be the first year that all students will want to be there in order to secure their copy of the directory. An announcement will be made later as to time and place where those taking practice of the card during the morning may secure their copies.

Spanish Athletics

I feel extremely confident as I take my bow and arrow in hand this eve Fall day because I feel my opponents will fall. Last year I indicated my participation by Mexicans, Greeks, or any other nationality. Lo and behold I receive that competition in the same issue of the Spanish. That brings real joy to us bull shooters to think that someone is interested enough to go some first class section and read Spanish Athletics before it goes to press. But come on you Mexicans, let's have all you're got—your euro "kicked the ball around" last week. I'm very sorry that we Castilian bull singers put cinders in your eyes, but you do doubt know that's the disadvantage of coming in last in the race. The column showed you were handicapped in some way but this week is another duck so come on, we've got an even start—unless this column is again stopped on the way to the press.

First I want to tell "Really Gorgeous" of last week Spanish fama a large red scarf won't attract this Spanish bull. However, if you are Spanish interested, tie a red bow on the first bull you meet, your hair and your dress and walk two miles in the direction he takes and I'll meet you there.

Last week one of the Agriculture classes visited the State Farm and one of the town boys asked one of the town boy friends if one of the town cows was a Guernsey or a Jersey cow. He received the following answer: "I don't know. I can't see her license."

They laughed when we stepped out on the dance floor, with divas outfit on. They didn't know we were going to do the deep sea dance.

Someone the other day suggested a new theme song for his fever soldiers, "So Not the Rope." One of the elementary practice teachers told me this one: Ruth, age 7, had a vague idea of the Pledge of allegiance in which she had been receiving training. Solemnly, and with fitting gestures she recited: "I pledge the Legion to the flag and to the Republicans for what it stands—with liberty and justice for all!"

They laughed when I ducked under the poker table. They didn't know I'd be back in a flash with a flush.

Say did you all hear about the first time I had to wear about the mural paintings in the library? Some turned in masterpieces about the paintings by Muriel. Just reminds me did you ever try a Muriel sign?

Optimist—one who contributes to the Sphinx hoping to get a pass to the show. I guess there will always be some suckers. Right? "Big Country Boy" and "Really Gorgeous!" Nice brother act!

Too many men who are nice, work to better themselves only to find out they are first class rats.

They didn't laugh when I sat down to the piano to play, but when I got up over the ivories were tickled. (Shall I take my bow now?)

A new course to be offered at the University High School this term in which the principles of driving are demonstrated on a real motor. This was over the other day in the reservation lesson and someone asked me what horse power the motor was. They laughed then when I walked over and looked at the motor to find out. They didn't know I was going to count the plugs. (Not a big count, but either.)

Do.
 When? The Sphinx was one possible way to win a free pass to the theatre—ah sweet memories that are no more.

It may be the early bird that catches the worm, but it's the night owl that catches the devil when he croaks in around 3 a. m.

Height of Caution: Wearing a belt and suspenders on a pair of tight pants.

I must add this one. The Sphinx Editor laughed when I led the Spanish but he didn't know I was going to look him in the stable so he could not be looked over before the Sphinx was written.

(Disappointing) (Disappointers).

Score:
 Sphinx 0
 Mexican Football 2 (too bad for words).

Spanish Athletics 3 (three cheers for you more).

HOMECOMING TICKETS HAVE LARGE SALE

May Be More People Than School Is Able to Accommodate

Mr. Hal Hall, who is working on Homecoming activities, reported that the tickets were being sold on a large scale. The advance sale of tickets indicates that there will be more people at the Homecoming than the college will be able to accommodate. All students who wish to go to the dance and play are urged to buy their tickets in advance.

It is also announced that all students and student organizations who wish to receive the 5 percent commission on the advance sale of tickets must have all tickets turned in by 4 p. m. on Thursday, Oct. 27.

FERNANDO WAGNER CITES EGYPTIAN IN NATIONAL PUBLICITY

Senior Fernando Wagner, German-Nepalese lecturer, who appeared on a local chapel program last November, has cited the EGYPTIAN comment on his appearance here in recent programs.

A program for three recitals of poetry presented last August 3, 10 and 17 in the National Library in Mexico City contained a list of press comments on his past performances. Newspapers mention therein are the Times (London), Boston Times; the Deutsche Zeitung von Mexico; the Philadelphia Herald; El Universal Grafico, of Mexico, and the Excelsior, of Mexico. Heading the list is the Egyptian of S. I. N. U. The program for Senior Wagner's recital contained the following Egyptian comment, which was extracted from the issue of November 19, 1937:

"The Egyptian," Carbondale, Ill., Nov. 19, 1937: "Wagner recital meets approval of German students. Comprehension high due to perfection of presenting."

"Senior Wagner's marvelous voice, perfect intonations, and expressive gestures invariably conveyed his meaning to all present."

"Senior Wagner gave a performance which all who attended applauded strongly. The entire student body looks forward to his next visit in Carbondale."

According to Dr. William P. Dallman, head of the college German department, it is probable that Senior Wagner will give a performance in Carbondale about the middle of November.

BANK PRESIDENT TO SPEAK TO CLASS IN MONEY AND BANKING

Mr. Everett J. Eberhart, president of the Carbondale National Bank, will speak to the class on money and banking Oct. 26 on the subject, "The Proposed State Banking Amendment in the General Assembly." Mr. Eberhart has agreed to talk to the class on this vital subject through the effort of Dr. Melvin J. Segal of the economics department.

This class in the economics of money and banking meets the fourth hour in room 102 of the Main Building. The speech is open to the public and anyone interested in the subject is cordially invited to be present. This bill of legislation is very important to banking, and comes up for a general vote of the people on Nov. 8. The amendment to the constitution concerns changing the requirement of double liability of state bankers to single liability.

'This Is Your School You Be In the Cheering Section'

By NADINE DAUDERMAN
It is up to you, students—each and every one of you.
When the football team is out there fighting will you be in the cheering section? Will you be on the campus to attend all the activities which go to make up Homecoming?
You are the hosts and hostesses in your school—let's show the alumni what a spirited, enthusiastic student body we are—proud to represent our beloved S. I. N. U. So, freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors, here's a big cheer for S. I. N. U. and Welcome Alumni, to your alma mater!

STUDENT OPINIE

Dear Editor:
I am not so far removed from the status of a student that I would like to contribute this letter of constructive criticism as student opinion—understand no official capacity; am not posing as an authority of good journalism or anything of the sort, just expressing my opinion, which incidentally I feel is more or less typical, about two of the columns which appear regularly on the features page of the Egyptian. I am your ad editor have been so inefficiently editing.

I am referring to the "Sphinx" and "Spanish Athletics." What I have to say about the "Sphinx" of today can also be said of the "Sphinx" of days gone by. Any dirt column cannot be justified in any publication unless the dirt exposed is universal enough to interest the majority of readers. Sorry to say, I cannot see that the present "Sphinx" is fulfilling this fundamental prerequisite—think it over and see whether or not I'm right.

Let's look at "Spanish Athletics." I can think of only one case that the slightest inference of dirt slinging could be made and surely a majority could appreciate that.

I may be wrong, however. There may be dirt slinging going on in "Spanish Athletics" that I know nothing of. But—remember I'm just a typical reader and if I can enjoy "Spanish Athletics" without the dirt then lets have more "Spanish Athletics." I can enjoy watching a football game even though I can't get in on the huddle—the same principle applies here.

This all leads up to last week's issue of the Egyptian. The "Sphinx" was fortunate enough to have some soul contribute "Mexican Football." Here's the thing about new—why continue the "Sphinx"? It has stopped as a dirt slinging column! If we must have "Mexican Football" make it a part of "Spanish Athletics." "Spanish Athletics" has the "umph," originality, and what-have-you. Whoever this D. E. is he should have the first shot at the bull and as soon as he gets so many cinders in his eyes that he can't write any better than the Sphinx Ed. Jerk him for someone better. IM4 USA.

Dear Editor:
Everyone knows that there is very little school spirit within this school. It is my belief that it is not necessary for us to have good athletic teams to have a good school spirit. It seems to me that if we had some sort of freshman rules, that it would increase our school spirit. For instance, freshmen could be forbidden to sit on the steps of the auditorium and main building, they should be made to wear some sort of green apparel, etc.
Of course, if this were to be done, some sort of governing body would have to be organized. I think the Kappa Phi Kappa fraternity would be a good governing body. They could make the freshmen rules and a committee selected by the fraternity could judge and then devise

The Altar and the Ashes

By Sydney Applebaum
HYMN FOR A PAPAL CHOIR
The Duke lives the "dangerous life" (How long?—And to what distance?)
The Duke lives the "dangerous life", O perilous existence!
He'd resurrect the Rome that was: (But not on its assistance.)
Sing: "Veni, vidi, vici!"
Shout: Viva, Mussolini!

The Duke might inspire a mob As well as could Caruso— Perhaps a Papalcol or so, A howl, a scream or two, And didn't Julius Caesar, bud, And other fellows do so?
Sing: "Veni, vidi, vici!"
Shout: Viva, Mussolini!

The Roman legions stand erect, And salute him as his marches, His stolid head illumined by "The fires of army torches."
(Pity the soldierly effect Of feet with fallen arêtes!)
Sing: "Veni, vidi, vici!"
Shout: Viva, Mussolini!

Dear Editor:
Does history repeat itself? I quote directly from the "25 Years Ago" column of the Carbondale Press for October 11, 1928: "Coach McAndrew accompanied the S. I. N. U. football team to Eldorado this morning to play a game with the Eldorado High school team in the afternoon. The S. I. N. U. boys went with a determination to win as they met defeat at Eldorado last year and they desire to redeem themselves this time."

So, loyal supporters, don't give up. They might even get a home strong determination to win a game.
SKEPTICAL—W. C.

The majority of the student body is dissatisfied with the present cut system. The main reasons for rebellion are that the new system eliminates the privileges of the worthy group of students who make a 4.0 average, and that it is not a progressive step in college legislation.

Possibly the idea of the system is to make certain that students will attend classes, but force is unnecessary. Students soon realize that so-called cutting greatly lowers grades. Naturally students whose cuts are too frequent are those who pack their trunks at the end of the term.

These gems were collected on the campus:—
Norma Sparks—"It doesn't do me any good. I can't cut practice. I don't want to get on a class and get cut out of the other."
Loretta Sitter—"I don't think it's fair. People who make 4.0 and can't go beyond that have nothing to look forward to."
Mabel Gowell—"I like the old system better. All upperclasses have a better chance at privileges."
Thomas Parks—"Poopy!"
Joann Brooks—"It's immaterial to me because it doesn't affect me. I might have a chance at a B. U. I don't think one should work for grades: I don't think there should be grades."
Jack Joehr—"I don't like it."
Jean Morton—"I like the idea of unlimited cuts, but I think a student should attend class to get something out of the course."
Phyllis Wolsmann—"I admire the system used at Illinois."
Jeanette Miller—"I think it's terrible."
Bob Winegarner—"I don't worry about things that don't affect me."
Many faculty members are sympathetic with the opinion advanced by the student council last year to the effect that all juniors and seniors should have unlimited cuts. Other faculty members agree with the method of the University of Illinois. No doubt there are many who favor the present cut system. Let's put it to a final vote!

QUEEN CANDIDATES TO BE ANNOUNCED AT FIRST LADY
Wednesday, Oct. 19, the election of the Queen to be held in the foyer of the Auditorium. This election this year differed from the ones of preceding years in that the queen was elected by popular vote of the students. Each class had a ballot box in the Auditorium. Before a student could vote for his choice, he was required to sign his activity ticket and his name was checked off the list by a clerk.
The seven girls receiving the highest number of votes will be presented at the Homecoming play, "First Lady." The queen will be announced at the dance Saturday evening. The candidates for queen were: Jacqueline Bundy, Gattuso; Cotte; Edith Hudson; Martha Jean Lanzenfeld; Margaret McCloud; Claire Patterson; Maxine Richards; Lulu Rose Sanders; Ruby Lee Tomlinson; Mary Winecarter; Anna Margaret Wham; Betty Williams.

OUR NEW STADIUM

By CROSLIN
Hm! I think I wonder why your teacher gave us such a silly assignment as looking over the new stadium. From here, the thing looks something like a snow bank.

Well, I suppose I might as well go over and get the assignment over with. Well, the thing doesn't look half bad; now that I'm close to it; but, boy, the sun's hot! The stadium has a modern look, and yet, as I look something like a snow bank. Well, I suppose I might as well go over and get the assignment over with. STUDENT COUNCIL IS TOPIC OF MAYFIELD'S SOCRATIC TALK

The Socratic Literary Society held its regular meeting Wednesday night in the little theater auditorium. The program consisted of a talk by Miss Mayfield on the subject of the student council, on the functions and aims of that organization. The program was shortened to allow members of the society to attend the recital given by two of its members, Kate Bunting and Anna Margaret Wham, at a downtown church.

PHIL DOWNEY DIRECTS CROSS COUNTRY TRAINING

Trackmen Will Meet Charleston Here Nov. 2
Under the direction of Veteran Phil Downey some nine cross country men speeded up workouts this week in preparation for the next meet with Charleston Teachers here, November 2. Little mention has been given these men up to now, but, nevertheless, they have been putting in intensive drilling in an effort to be in readiness for the invasion of the straits Eastern team.

Downey, himself, will be Southern's mainstay in the initial run. He proved his ability as both a one and a two miler in his freshman year and now is the possessor of three letters for his performance in those events. Charlie Morgan, track coach, and Leland F. Ling's dependable quarter miler, has joined the squad and looms as a second potential point scorer.

From the graduate ranks of University High has come C. J. Anderson, a promising freshman runner. Anderson was heralded last year as a better than average high school product and his showing in early workouts seem to point toward the truth of the advance reports.

According to Downey, the squad is fast rounding into shape and will have considerable power with which to offset the ability of the veteran Charleston team.

Davis Speaks At Meeting of Sigma Pi Rho

Sigma Pi Rho, honorary Latin fraternity, met Wednesday, October 12, to hear Dr. J. Cary Davis speak on "The Development of Latin into the Modern Romance Languages."

The talk was presided by a short business meeting. Plans were made to have a faculty member who has had work in Latin or related subjects speak at each meeting, if possible.

The eight charter members were present at the meeting, which was held at 4 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. room of the Old Science building.

450 Stadium Seats Reserved For Students Who Arrive First

The indefatigable Homecoming Committee went into a huddle Tuesday morning where they devised new plans and reviewed old plans which they expect to use to put Homecoming over in a big way.

The signal caller, Charles Mayfield, asked the "Royal Duke," who is known to the public as Harpold Cast, if he had any comments to make concerning the homecoming. Mr. Cast said that everybody was expecting to have a "hot time"—that is if the "fresh" don't steal the show; the "fresh" will have a hot time. He explained that several groups of freshmen were demanding that they be allowed to wear a green sash and the week preceding the homecoming. The freshmen want to burn their green sashes believing that this act would indicate that they were no longer green freshmen. The Homecoming committee agreed to let the freshmen carry out their plan if they prove that they have enough enthusiasm to make the homecoming a success.

The Homecoming committee has added another feature to the Homecoming program. All Homecoming Queens of S. I. N. U., that have been crowned in previous years will be invited to attend the dedication, where seats among the dignitaries will be reserved for them. They will also be presented to the audience.

The Southern Knights have a secret. The Homecoming committee suggested that the Southern Knights choose a symbol for S. I. N. U. and that they present the symbol before the football game Saturday, October 23. The Southern Knights have chosen the school and will unveil the symbol, whatever it is, Saturday, October 23.

Four hundred and fifty seats are being reserved for the students of S. I. N. U. that have a penchant of a spot of maroon colors at the dedication. These seats will be reserved until 12:15 p. m. The first four hundred-fifty students to arrive will be the students that will sit in the reserved section.

Mr. Hal Hall announced that the advance sale of tickets to the Homecoming activities was greater than anticipated. He also stated that student organizations that wished to receive the 5 percent commission on all sales amounting to more than $20 must have their advance ticket sales turned in by 4 p. m. Thursday, October 27.

BETTY BOOP AND SALLY RAND GET VOTES FOR QUEEN

By CARLTON BUSENHART.
Regarding that Homecoming Queen nomination that was held last Wednesday. Of the twelve girls that were nominated, how many of them had any idea that her name would appear on the list? All but three, possibly four. That is of no consequence though, because of the twelve nominees, only one can be queen. Who? Do you really want to know? They are (according to "horse" language) three or four favorites. Perhaps there will be a tie here or so in the race. That might make it interesting. Anyway, the three top ones will be Betty Boop, Sally Rand, and another one (name not given).

I wonder if all the students voted. No, they did not! But did you know that more votes were cast than there were students? Women? Well, I don't either. I can give you the vote you could have voted vice. Another thing that may surprise you, or it may not, was that two people of the opposite sex had votes cast for them. And one of them, a student, is eligible for nomination except for girls, maybe he could be king. It is rumored that some of the members of the faculty were voted for, too. You can believe that if you want. (Don't let them know it if you do.) I hear that Betty Boop, Sally Rand, will just any number of outsiders were nominated. Guess maybe the students thought the instructions were to vote for one person alone, student or otherwise.

Charles Gillopy, who attended the summer session here, is now at the University Medical School.

BARRON SUCCEEDS BAGGETT AS BUSINESS MANAGER

Tom Barron, a senior from Marion, has been appointed business manager of the Egyptian. He took the position which was left vacant when Charles Baggett, business manager last year, went to Washington, D. C. where he is working in a civil service position.

Barron took the position Wednesday at the second week of school. There were two applicants in line for the job. They were Janet Miller and Mr. Barron. Miss Miller, a member of the editorial staff, withdrew in favor of Mr. Barron.

Some of the duties which confront the new business manager are paying all bills, buying supplies, and seeing that the collections are made for subscriptions to the outside subscriptions.

Freshman to Set New Tradition

Plan to Wear Green and Take Ephibic Oath

To add to the many attractions of Homecoming is a plan which should be of interest to all members of the freshmen class. This plan, formulated by a group of freshmen students representing the majority of campus organizations, is that the men add women of the freshmen class wear green during the week preceding Homecoming.

On Monday morning, October 24, all freshmen are expected to "blow-sun out" with inexpensive green ribbons or other green insignia. The girls will probably wear green ribbon rosettes or hair ribbons, and the boys may wear green ribbon ties. It is definitely recommended that the amount spent for the ribbon be kept at a minimum.

This first appearance of an old and honored tradition on Southern's campus will end with the symbolic "burning of the green" at the Homecoming bonfire which is to immediately follow the Homecoming play next Friday night. At that time all freshmen will join in burning their green ribbons and following this they will unite in taking the Ephibic Oath of loyalty to the college. The oath will be administered by President Eugene Pullman and represents the freshmen's allegiance to S. I. N. U. The committee hopes that full cooperation will be given them in establishing this new practice and that it will become traditional from year to year.

HINRICHS TO TALK ON DIETS THIS AFTERNOON

Dr. Marie A. Hinrichs, S. I. N. U. physician, will speak before the Home-makers' Group this afternoon on the subject of "Junior Diets." The meeting will be held in the public library at 2 o'clock.

SOUTHERN SQUAD DRIVES TO 6 TO 0 VICTORY OVER ARKANSAS AGGIES

SOUTHERN TO MEET MACOMB TOMORROW

Game at Macomb Is Last Until S. I. N. U. Homecoming

Coach William McAndrew and his injury-riddled traveling squad of twenty-six men departed this morning for Macomb, where they will meet the Western gridlers in a homecoming game tomorrow afternoon.

Fresh from their 6-0 win over Arkansas Aggies last weekend, Southern is eager to run their heads into submission and thus rise to a thrilling climax in preparation for the homecoming tilt with Old Normal of Bloomington here next Saturday afternoon.

Comparative scores made by tomorrow's opponents indicate that Macomb will have a slight edge, 12-6.

Included in the squad that left this morning were several men who returned this week from the completely disabled so-called "glass list."

NORMAL, DEKALB STILL LEAD IN IAC RACE

Maroons Will Play at Macomb Homecoming

The results of the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference games last week-end had little effect on the standings of the teams in their bid for the football crown and consistency in the IAC.

The Bloomington eleven kept on an even level with DeKalb by defeating Western Teachers of Macomb 19-0. Northern, meanwhile, downed Wheaton in a non-conference engagement by a 18-7 decision.

Three of the games this week-end will be parts of Homecoming celebrations. Macomb will play hosts to Southern, while Elmhurst will entertain Carthage.

Judging from the showing made thus far, Southern, in spite of numerous injuries, is a favorite to break into the winning ranks of Macomb after beating the Arkansas Aggies last week at Elmhurst.

VOLEY BALL, PING PONG ATTRACT WOMEN ATHLETES

Volley ball activities over, women athletes are now turning their attention to soccer, in which they will play a tournament during the last six weeks of the term.

A ladder tournament in ping pong is also in progress. Those holding the top five places now are Giovanna Mazzara, Emma Jean Baker, Nadine Dunderman, Margaret Lyle, and Audrey Weisman.

SPORTS EDITORITES

By CHARLES SOUTH.

THIS WEEK it is my turn to travel with the team to Macomb, where we engage the eleven of Western Illinois State Normal which has an enrollment, as near as I can ascertain, of about 800 students, some four hundred of which is potential football material, i. e. masculine. Macomb is reputed to have a strong outfit this time, and if Saturday's performance is one of those stonewalls which coming events are supposed to cast before them, Macomb is going to need everything that they can get on the field, including a few stretchers. The boys now have an entirely new outlook on life, and having smelled blood, will be hard to stop tomorrow. Macomb may do just that, but I certainly doubt it.

AS THE CHIEF bowler when things were not so hot, it is now to assume the role of chief booster. The boys have shown me that they can do it, and if they continue to exhibit the same brand of football for the rest of the season that they showed in the final slant of last Saturday's game, they will be a reader, may well be proud of them.

HOMECOMING: A-H, HOMECOMING!

Back and every little body is preparing and laying plans for that great affair, and so have I, and so have I! (T-Tra-la). If it isn't a grand old affair for all concerned it will certainly be the average's fault, for at least for every person on this here old campus has some kind of a plan to make it a bigger and better day than it has ever been before.

It would seem that if one falls thru, we still have another, and so on ad infinitum. ... Aw, go on and have your fun, for the plans are very, very flexible. ... They only include two things for sure, but I feel confident that enough will be happening at any one time that with such a schedule, I will be able to see the show whatever time I meet. It sure is going to be tough on Pav and Maw though, for if I attend all the banquets, breakfasts, and luncheons, they won't be able to see their darling until Monday after Homecoming, and I'm very, very sure that by that time he will not longer be as sweet and cheery as he is now. ... Oh for the life of the bon vivant!

PETERSON WINS TOURNEY OVER FORTY ENTRANTS

Again Robert Peterson was crowned the ping-pong champion of the men here this week.

Robert Peterson, champion of the men here this week.

Peterson arrived to the finals by defeating Charles Morgan, 17-21; 21-10; 17-21; 21-19; and 21-14, in the semifinals. The match was thrilling with first one man and then the other taking the lead.

The finals match was the best exhibition of ping-pong that has been seen in this campus. Again Peterson started off slow. In the second match he hit his stride and took three successive games. "Petey's" tremendous drives and cunning chops were just too much for Purlow. The score: 14-21; 21-23; 21-16; 21-12, shows Peterson's supremacy of the ping-pong table.

Elmer Farlow defeated Emmitt Radcliff by a forfeit.

FALL TENNIS TOURNEY TO END NEXT WEEK

Freshmen Haeg and Church are playing Fine Tennis

One more week is left for competition for all those entered in the fall tennis tournament. Still there are about thirty men who have not completed their matches. Final results will be made today.

All during the tournament, eyes of tennis followers have been on two freshmen, namely Monroe Haeg and Bruce Church. These young netters have not lost a match and have only had a few. Veteran Letterson, Bob Peterson, Harry Kite, and Charles Pardee seemed to have run up against stiffer competition than they expected.

GYM TEAM TO GIVE HOMECOMING BANQUET OCT. 29

Plans are settled for the annual Homecoming banquet of the gym team members both present and absent. It will be held in the annex of the Baptist church Saturday morning about 11:30 on Oct. 29th.

Acting Coach Harold Black and Capt. Bernie Park have sent out a number of invitation cards to alumni, and are expecting to entertain several of the old grads who were active in the gym team while attending S. I. N. U.

In the true spirit of Homecoming, the gym team this year, as it has for the last two years, is going to go to its part to see that every returning alumnus is given a hearty welcome. The boys have gone a step further than just giving a banquet; they are also planning to provide entertainment during and after the dinner.

Besides musical entertainment, Black announces there will be "three movies of last year's gym team in action. Tickets to the banquet are on sale at 50 cents each. See Bernie Park at 510 W. Grand if you plan to attend.

Old Normal Has Not Been Scored Upon in Conference Games

With the first of the S. I. N. U. Homecoming festivities but a scant week off, indications point to the fact that the football game, which brings Old Normal and Southern together in one of the three week-end classics, will rate more than passing interest.

The first of the S. I. N. U. Homecoming festivities but a scant week off, indications point to the fact that the football game, which brings Old Normal and Southern together in one of the three week-end classics, will rate more than passing interest.

The recent attempts in arousing the enthusiasm of spectators has been welcomed with surprise, is the determination on the part of the football men to make the 1938 celebration a complete success as far as they are able.

As though the rising shouts of enthusiasm had reached their ears, State Normal, too, seems to have responded with sudden power. At present they are sharing the lead in the IAC race with DeKalb.

Last Saturday morning the Hiking Club met under the sponsorship of Mr. Melvin Seegal for its first hike. Hiker Col. leader and veteran hiker, set a lively pace as the group left the campus for Rockyford.

The weather was most delightful and the conversation light-hearted. All who went were in favor of continuing the hikes as long as the weather permits. Camera men are sure to find good shots when the club makes another hike next Saturday at 8:30. Meet in Room 101, Main Building.

INTRAMURAL BASEBALL By IKE SCHAEFFER.

On October 12 the Spirits stretched their win streak to three straight by defeating the Bartonians, 4-2. McCright started for the Spirits and had a one run, lead going into the last half of the 4th inning. Hicks, leading off for the Bartonians, singled and Underwood was hit by a pitched ball. This put Bartonian runners on first and second, nobody down, and they needed only one run to tie up the ball game.

The Spirits went into a lull and decided to have their ace pitcher, Gene Filgor, relieve McCright. Filgor had pitched a four hitter against the Wildcats the preceding evening but evidently he can take it, because he proceeded to end the inning by striking out the next three Bartonians. The Spirits gave him another run in their half of the fifth and to show his appreciation, Filgor retired the Bartonians in order, two via strike-out route. A finer job of relief pitching could not have been done. Crauer did the catching for the Spirits while Nelson, Hicks, and Huber formed the Bartonian battery.

The Bisons and Bartonians were scheduled to play last Monday, but neither team had the necessary quota of players available at that time, so there was no contest as far as the records are concerned.

Tuesday afternoon the Bisons, who finished the season without a victory, were the fourth consecutive victims of the Spirited Spirits. The Spirits collected seven runs off eight hits and committed only three errors. The Bisons gathered only four hits which produced one run and they miscued four times. The Spirit battery was comprised of Filgor, Crauer and Crauer, opposed by Kite and Holiday for the Bisons. The final score was 7-0.

Townes, Wolfmberger, and E. Smith Star in First 1938 Triumph

The Maroon won broke over the Arkansas store last Saturday, as the home team downed the Arkansas A. & N. College at the New Stadium by a 6-0 score.

The invaders met a stone wall in every attempt made to gain ground through the Southern line, and their attempts to lay down an aerial barrage met with little success, as a grim Maroon and White clad eleven held fast on defense and drove relentlessly on offense.

Nearly all of the game was played in Arkansas territory. Arkansas, however, made two very definite bids for touchdowns, one in the second quarter, and one in the fourth quarter. In the second quarter, the Arkansas took the ball on their own 29 yard line, and drove down to Southern's two-yard stripe when the Arkansas made two very definite bids for touchdowns, one in the second quarter, and one in the fourth quarter.

Late in the fourth quarter the Aggies took to the air in a desperate attempt to score and succeeded in getting as far as Southern's 25, where the Maroon secondary tightened up and battled every eligible receiver.

The Maroons' lone touchdown came as the result of a sustained drive from their own ten-yard line. Townes and Wolfmberger carried the ball off tackle and guard for a distance of 90 yards and a touchdown. Verdie Cox, freshman place-kicker, missed the try for point-after-touchdown.

This touchdown came late in the fourth quarter, and as the Aggies had only a few minutes to save themselves, they took to the air in a futile attempt to save the day. These gains were stopped on Southern's 15-yard line, and on the first Maroon play after recovering the ball from Arkansas, a fight broke out between Wolfmberger and an Arkansas man. Both men were dismissed from the field, and a few plays later the final gun sounded.
