Madrigals, Choir To Present Spring Tour Concert Here Set Feb 17-24 for SIU Observance of Brotherhood Week

Madrigal singers and the a cappella choir from SIU will present their spring tour program Monday, Feb. 18, at the Walnut Street Baptist church here in Carbondale at 8:15 p.m.

Since the concert will be composed primarily of religious numbers, church officials asked the choir to sing in the new auditorium of the church. The same concert will be given in Chester, Feb. 21 and also during the spring tour of the choir, March 8-17.

"The Peaceable Kingdom," by Randall Thompson, will be performed by the choir. The composition, in eight parts, was inspired by the Biblical prophecy of Isaiah.

PSALMS 100 AND 47 will be sung by the group as well as several folksongs and compositions by Bach, Tschernokoff, Mueller, and Foltz.

The madrigal singers will perform several selections and sing a series with the chorus.

The choir is under the direction of Floyd V. Wakeland. Marlene Rann, Carrier Mills, is accompanist. John Wharton of the SIU music department faculty will play a violin solo, accompanied by William McGuire, junior, Makanda.

Observance of Brotherhood Week on campus will officially begin Feb. 17 and will continue through Feb. 24, Brotherhood Week, founded in 1928, is sponsored by the national organization of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

The week is all inclusive and pertains to brotherhood among all faiths, races, and groups, according to Lloyd Bitzer, student chairman of the event here at Southern.

The Student Council is sponsoring this year's Brotherhood Week on campus, with Joseph K. Johnson of the sociology department and Paul Hunsinger of the speech department acting as advisers. Committee members are Ruth Koffman, Jeanette Smalley, and Lovenger Hamilton. Mrs. David S. McIntosh will also aid with the activities.

ORGANIZED HOUSES, sororities, fraternities, and other organizations will be invited to have speakers come to their meetings and give discussions on brotherhood as it pertains to their particular groups or organizations.

Also helping with the activities is the radio department which is producing a program in keeping with Brotherhood Week which will go out to local radio stations.

Other events planned for the week include a dinner and the showing of a film by the Student Christian Foundation Thursday, Feb. 21, and an assembly program sometime during the week, and p.m., in the kindergarten room of University school.

Membership in A.C.E. is open to all kindergarten-primary majors.

Barbara Von Behren And Wyona Smith To Assume Editorships

Barbara VonBehren, junior from Mt. Vernon, was chosen as editor-in-chief of The Egyptian for the coming year, and Wyona Smith, Steelville sophomore, was voted editor of the Obelisk, at a meeting of the campus journalism council Thursday, Feb. 7.

THE TWO NEW associate editors for the Obelisk will be Betty Seip, Thebes sophomore, and Bud Harms, freshman, replacing Richard Stancliff and Wyona Smith, this year's associate editors.

Barbara Von Behren, who has been managing editor of The Egyptian for the past year, replaces Virginia Miller as editor-in-chief.

Don Duffy succeeds himself as sports editor, and Gwen Applegate replaces Carol Henderson as business manager.

The new staff members will assume their positions this coming spring term for a period of one year, according to Doug Shepherd, chairman of the journalism council.

1951 Obelisk Gets Two First Ratings

Southern's 1951 Obelisk has received two high awards in judgments by the National Scholastic Press Association, and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. The 1951 Obelisk received a first class honor rating from the NSPA and a first place certificate from the CSPA.

A. B. Mifflin, Belleville, was the editor-in-chief of the '51 Obelisk, with Jim Landolt, Pocahtontas, and Charles Dickerman, Carbondale, as associate editors. Robert A. Steffes, then head of the jour-

Begin Tryouts For Theta Xi Variety Show Feb. 13

Tryouts for the Theta Xi all-school Variety show will be held tomorrow and Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Little Theatre. The personnel deans will be present at these tryouts.

Pre-Advisement To End Saturday

Pre-advisement for the spring quarter started yesterday and will continue through Saturday, Feb. 16, for undergraduate and graduate students.

Every undergraduate student is to consult his adviser during this week. Two work sheets are to be completed by the student and approved by the adviser. One work sheet will be kept by the student and presented at registration on March 17. The adviser will keep the other work sheet.

All undergraduate students who do not obtain pre-advisement this week will be delayed in registering.

STUDENTS WISHING to change their majors should contact Mrs. Ott at the Office of Student Affairs and be assigned to the proper adviser.

Graduate students go through the usual procedure. Their work sheet may be obtained from the Graduate Office. After the proper signatures are obtained, the material is to be returned to the Graduate Office for the Dean's signature. Graduate students should also remember to take their graduate and undergraduate records to the members of their advisory council.

alism department, was the adviser.

BETTY McLAGHLIN, Darwin Payne, Wilmer Rush, Ambrose Kiestler, Dorothy Allison, Howard Allen, Jean Dillman, Herb Rieke, Bob Patton, Jack Fiscus, Hy Khosharian, Wyona Smith, Charles Tucker, and Betty Seip made up the staff.

C. William Horrell, director of the photographic service, and his staff were in charge of all the photography in the book with the exception of the individual class photos which were taken by downtown studios.

AAUW children's play, 2 p.m., auditorium.

Pan-Hellenic party, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Student Center.

Each group is requested to have a complete list of all those participating in the act and the home town of each. If possible each act should have a name. If costumes are available they should be brought to tryouts or worn.

Anyone wishing to appear in the show must be present either of these two days in order to be auditioned. Students wishing to present musical selections should bring their accompanist with them. If records are to serve as the musical background, these may be brought instead. A record player will be available for anyone wishing to use it.

ANY INFORMATION concerning the act should be placed on paper and submitted at the time of the tryout.

All acts which have not contacted Bob Mosher, chairman, should do so before tryouts. According to Mosher, anyone who is planning to be in the show should plan very little social life from the time of tryouts until opening night, Wednesday, Feb. 27, as there will be practices and everyone is expected to be present.

A trophy will be presented to the best act from an organized house the night of the show. An award will also be presented to each member of the best individual act.

Tryouts for master of ceremonies have been cancelled.

ANY JUNIOR OR senior boy or girl is eligible to enter the Service to Southern contest. Application blanks are available at the display table on the second floor of Old Main and the Student Center. These applications should be filled out and returned to these places or to Al Tritanji by the afternoon of Feb. 20.

A faculty committee will then meet and select the ten finalists, five boys and five girls. On Feb. 26, each finalist is to have a speaker to speak on his behalf before the faculty committee.

The awards, Bulova watches with 14K solid gold cases, will be presented to the winners at the conclusion of the Variety show. They are on display along with the trophies, on the second floor of Old Main.

Select Work by SIU Art Major for Exhibit

Darwin Payne, junior here at Southern, has been notified that two of his paintings were accepted for exhibition in the eighth Annual Art Exhibition at the Decatur Art Center Feb. 3 through March 1.

The paintings selected were a watercolor called "Queen at Court" and an oil titled "Human Activity." The show was open to Illinois artists living within a 150-mile radius of Decatur.

Published semi-weekly during the school year, excepting holidays and exam weeks by students of Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Ill. Entered as second class matter at the Carbondale post office under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Students Voice Opinions On Number Of General University Requirements

by Helen Nance

The number of general requirements for graduation from the university tend to be too high, according to half of the students of the 16 asked this question. The other half, most of whom were upper classmen, argued that there were not too many requirements.

A senior, majoring in Spanish, said that most of the subjects required had already been taken in high school and he did just enough to get by in these. He thought efficiency tests for requirements should be given and therefore cut down on requirements. If there were not so many requirements, he said he would take up another minor and specialize in another language.

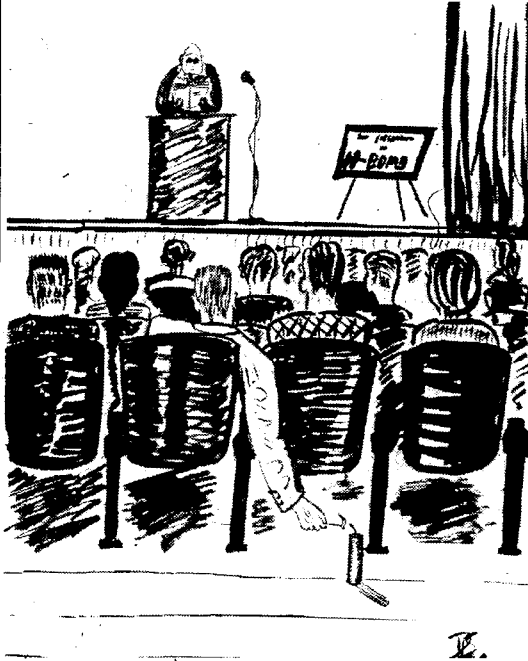

Others who say there are too many requirements think that by the time one has finished taking these, he has to go back and pick up too many courses in his major. If one has already decided on a major, they think it is foolish to take all of these courses one cares nothing about. One will therefore take less time studying requirements and will remember very little about them. A more specialized field can be acquired with less requirements and more fields can be specialized in.

REQUIREMENTS SHOULD not be abolished altogether, but reduced in number and fitted to each major so that they will all be helpful in that specialized field, according to those who think there are too many requirements.

Those who think the number of requirements is not too high argue that each person will get a broader education if he takes some subjects in every field. They say one has to know a little about everything in the world to get along. Students who come to school and are not sure as what they will major in, can get a sample of several fields before they decide for sure what they like and what is best suited for them.

Taking a number of general requirements gives one a dip into all phases of education. Taking these will give one a well-rounded education so he might know a little about fields other than the one in which he is specializing.

Two Child Guidance Clinics To Be Held In Area In February: Thalman

In addition to the Child Guidance clinics which have been held in various communities throughout Southern Illinois during the past several months, two more have been scheduled for the month of February, according to Dr. W. A. Thalman, clinic director.

A two-day clinic will be held at Mt. Carmel on Feb. 14 and 15. This is the second one held at Mt. Carmel within the past two months. This clinic will be conducted in cooperation with the Wabash County Nursing Service and the Mt. Carmel Public Schools.

On Feb. 22 a community clinic will be held at Pinckneyville in cooperation with Mr. Hugh Malan, Superintendent of Schools.

Graduate assistants Fay Siske and Wanda Mitchell in the Child Guidance clinic, Kathryn Davis, graduate assistant in the department of guidance and special education, Richard Gray who is in one of the practicums as directed by the Child Guidance clinic, and Warren Seibert, from the Office of the Dean of Men, will assist Dr. Thalman in the testing of the children and in the interviewing of the parents.

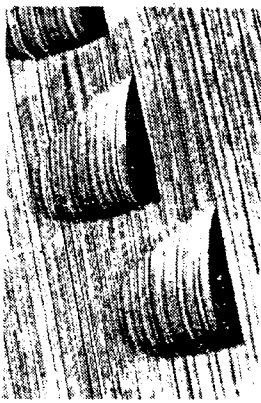

CLINICS ON THE campus are conducted throughout the entire academic year and also during the time of the summer session. Most of the cases which are brought to the campus are seen on Friday, although some cases are also brought to the clinic on the other days of the week.

During 1951 children and adolescents were studied by the Child Guidance Clinic from 50 different communities in Southern Illinois. In practically all instances the clinic not only makes a complete study of the patient, but it works directly in cooperation with the teacher, the school administrator, and the parents of the patient. A definite program is outlined for the parents and for the teacher as well as for the child with respect to therapy and procedures to be used in correcting the difficulties.

In some of the cases where the distance is not too large, therapy is offered by the staff of the Child Guidance clinic and the children are brought to the campus once and twice a week.

Lincoln's Speech Unknown To Many

Lincoln's Gettysburg Address is being sorely neglected, says Roy V. Jordan, curator of the Clint Clay Tilton library of Lincolniana and Americana at Southern Illinois University.

Results of a recent survey by an advertising firm, Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborne, Inc., New York, in 10 large cities show that more than 7,000,000 adults in this country have never even heard of the speech, Jordan says. Of those who have heard of it, 16 per cent cannot tell who the speaker was; 54 percent have the occasion wrong; 36 percent can only repeat the first line; and only 15 percent even pretend to know most of the words. Guesses about the exact date of delivery range through 185 years.

Sample statements in the survey were: "How should I know the Gettysburg Address? I'm a stranger here myself—just got in from Chicago." "It was a talk given by George Washington at the end of the war." "It was a debate with Douglas."

The 88th anniversary of the delivery of the 277-word address by Lincoln at Gettysburg National cemetery was Nov. 19.

The sentiments and reasoning of the message are as fresh and pertinent today as when it was uttered, and it ought to be taught at all levels of education, says Jordan.

Microbiology Staff Offers New Courses

Two new courses in the microbiology department will be offered spring term.

Introduction to Microbiology, 201, is a course in general bacteriology, which includes the application of bacteriology to agriculture, food preservation, sanitation and general public health. There are no prerequisites for the course, for which four hours credit is given.

The second course is Cellular Biochemistry and Physiology, 504, a study of the assimilation of nutrients, the fermentation of sugars, and the action of antibiotics. Instruction is given in the use of instruments and techniques which are applied by biological and medical research laboratories. Organic chemistry is a prerequisite for this course. Five hours credit is given.

Sig Taus Begin New Scholarship

Jack Donahue, scholarship committee chairman of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity has announced that the fraternity has established a Robert Wichmann Memorial scholarship.

The scholarship is in memory of the late Robert Wichmann, who was fraternity treasurer and an outstanding athlete here at Southern. Wichmann was killed in a car-train collision in East St. Louis last Aug. 18.

Valued at $80, the scholarship will be awarded in September to a male student entering Southern. Requirements are that the recipient be a graduate of a high school in East St. Louis and that he be chosen on the basis of need and achievement in high school. Application papers and detailed information may be obtained by contacting the Office of Student Affairs.

Choose Couples to Play in National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament

Several Southern bridge players participated in the play-off bridge tournament held in the Student Center last Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 5 and 6. From the 14 participants, the four couples with the highest ranking scores were chosen to represent Southern in the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament, an annual contest in contract bridge in which undergraduate students compete for a championship title and trophy.

Those couples who will play in the national tourney to be held on this campus sometime during the week from Feb. 17-23 include the following: Jewell Calhoun, junior from Villa Ridge, and Sue Smith, junior from Benton; Phyllis Owen, junior from Herrin, and Jane Hall, senior from Herrin.

JANE MOUNTAIN, senior from Benton, and Richard Murphy, senior from Mt. Vernon; and Bud Harder, senior from Morris, and Mahlon Smith, senior from Mt. Vernon.

Over 190 colleges representing 44 states are entered in the national tournament. Southern's players will be competing in the regional tournament with players from such colleges as the University of Chicago, Indiana University, Michigan State college, University of Wisconsin, University of Notre Dame, and 26 others located in the Great Lakes Zone.

Winners from each of the eight zones will play in the finals to be held in the Blackstone Hotel in Chicago on Friday and Saturday, April 18 and 19.

William Horfell, director of Southern's photographic service, and Mrs. Horrell were speakers at the Lions Club of Vienna recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Horrell discussed the subject "How to Improve Your Snapshots," according to the University's speaker's bureau. The Horrells formerly operated a portrait and commercial studio at Anna before Mr. Horrell joined the faculty at Southern in 1949 as an instructor in journalism and director of the photographic service.

Norman H. Meyers, Wayne City, has accepted a position as teacher of social studies at the Naylor, Mo., high school. He was graduated from Southern in June, 1950.

Music Department Gives Two Recitals in Week

Southern's music department presented its second recital in less than a week last night in the Little Theatre.

William McGuire, junior from Makanda, was the pianist in the Junior Recital presented last night which included "Sonata, Opus 2, No. 3" by Beethoven; "Suite in Eb Major" by Bach; and "Fantasies" by Brahms.

Students taking part in the first of the two student recitals held in the Little Theatre last Wednesday night were Bill Wakeland, pianist; Mary Snow, hornist; Barbara Aber, flutist; John Wharton, first violin; Everett Boyd, second violin; Kenneth Mills, viola; Eileen Barry, cello; Mrs. Joanne Dale, pianist; Jack Goal, clarinetist; and Jane Ann Dunning, pianist.

Selections included pieces by such noted composers as Beethoven, Mozart, Bach, Haydn, Brahms, Gaubert, Debussy, Glarum, and Thompson.

The university chorus, under the direction of Floyd V. Wakeland, concluded last week's recital by singing "Woe Unto Them," "The Noise of the Multitude," and "But These Are They that Forsake the Lord."

SIU Flying Club Recruits Members

All students and faculty members are eligible to join Southern's Flying club which will meet tomorrow at 7 p.m. in room Parkinston 107.

Recent plans of the club include the purchase of a light airplane after the club has received 25 new members. In order to cover costs of the plane a $25 initiation fee will be charged. Also, a fee of four dollars will be charged to fly the plane for one hour. However, free instruction will be given by Southern AF ROTC personnel.

If an additional 25 members are taken into the club, a second plane will be purchased. Part of the shares in the first plane have already been received.

Money for new memberships is now being received by Earl Gum, 606 West Grand, phone, 1329-X. Persons interested in joining the club may contact Earl Gum or by attending the meeting tomorrow.

Christian Foundation Holds Annual Banquet

The third annual formal banquet of the Student Christian Foundation was held Friday evening. Master of ceremonies was Miss Dorothy Boucher; the speaker was Mr. Leigh Kagy; and the honored guests were Mrs. D. W. Morris, Doug Shepherd and Nancy Spooner, and Miss Eleanor Taft of the Student Affairs office.

Following the dinner, Mrs. E. Smith sang "Because;" Rev. Repenhagen of the First Baptist Church performed with magic tricks; and Dorothy Boucher sang "Desert Song" and "Strange Music." The vocalists were accompanied by Miss M. Bushman.

Leigh Kagy, lawyer from East St. Louis, spoke about the responsibilities of the individual in church and in the state. He said that each individual is responsible before God and that, carried over into community life, each individual becomes significant in political responsibility.

Kagy, vice-president of the Rotary Club, is very active in local and national Presbyterian work.

About 60 people attended the banquet.

Name Committee For Military Ball

Wayne Nast, Belleville, Southern Air Force ROTC student, has been selected as general chairman of the planning committee for the ROTC military ball on March 28.

Assisting him are: Gene H. Graves, Marissa, publicity committee; George F. Holliday, Carbondale, queen committee chairman; Maurice R. Abney, Marion, band committee chairman; Enno S. Lietz, Nashville, invitations committee chairman; and Harold G. Murphy, Herrin, decorations committee chairman.

TV Will Speed Up Education In Area, States Robbins

Television offers one of the greatest opportunities Southern Illinois University ever will have to speed rehabilitation and education in one of the nation's few remaining "depressed" areas, according to Buren C. Robbins, director of radio at SIU.

Representing universities and colleges engaged in or contemplating educational television, Robbins addressed the annual meeting of the Department of Audio Visual instruction and the National Association for Supervision and Curriculum development.

CITING CONDITIONS included in the educational job of SIU, Robbins related that unemployment is 10-percent higher in Southern Illinois than in the United States as a whole; relief rolls are the largest in the state; mining, the principal industry, is declining; and the general educational level low; average years of schooling completed by adult males being less than 7th grade. "Obviously these conditions call for a special program of area wide education. Certainly, Southern's true campus is the entire area which it services," he said.

"The Department of Commerce, after extensive surveys, says the one saving factor for the region is education . . . and the best way to get to the people of the region is through homes, which can be done most effectively with television."

TELEVISION programming proposed by Robbins to fulfill the demands of the Southern Illinois situation and as developed by SIU point out the need for good showmanship; use of authoritative, friendly personalities; use ordinary occurrences; audience participation, and remote pick-ups throughout the area.

Costs of installation of a television channel at SIU were estimated at half a million dollars by Robbins. "We would use a nucleus professional staff and students enrolled in television courses to operate the station," Robbins explained.

He concluded, "Television offers one of the biggest opportunities Southern Illinois University has ever had to speed the rehabilitation and education of our area."

Southern Illinois University's application for a television channel is still pending before the Federal Communications Commission.

To Offer New Courses In Home Economics

The home economics department is offering a course spring term which will be open to non-majors, titled Meal Planning and Table Service. The course will be numbered home economics 335.

Features of the course will be the arrangement of flowers and other table decorations; and the selection, use, and care of linens, glass, china, and silver.

NON-MAJORS desiring to take the course and who do not have the necessary pre-requisites may, with the consent of the instructor, substitute home experience in food preparation.

Also spring term, the department is offering a course in general home economics for men under the number, home economics 300. Three quarter hours credit will be given for the course.

Subject matter to be covered in the course will be determined by the particular needs and interests of the class membership.

A THIRD COURSE to be offered by the department spring term is a Survey Course in Home Economics (No. 225) which is being taught primarily for students majoring in kindergarten, primary, and elementary education.

This course will include a unit on meal planning, marketing, and school lunches. Plans for teaching nutrition to elementary school pupils will be formulated. Also, selection, cost, and care of clothing for the school child will be included. Another unit to be included will deal with family relationships.

FOOD DEMONSTRATION

Wednesday, Feb. 13, at 11 a.m., in room Main 110, Jean Marie Wallis, student demonstrator, will give a food demonstration entitled "The Egg and You." The public is invited to attend the demonstration.

Eastern Barely Beats Southern Here, 59-56

by Sherman Doolen

It was a case of "almost but not quite" here Saturday night as Southern lost a heart-fluttering decision to unbeaten Eastern Illinois, 59-56. The Panthers thus chalked up win No. 17 of the year, but the Salukis could console themselves with the thought that it wasn't an easy one.

The Panthers had been averaging 83 points per game, but a scrappy Southern defense and a five-minute freeze sliced it down a bit. The Salukis kept the outcome in doubt up until the last minute.

Despite a 20-19 deficit at the end of the first quarter, Southern led by one or two points most of the first half. The Salukis, after stacking up a three-point lead, stalled out the final five minutes of the second period to lead at the half-time 25-22.

EASTERN THREATENED to pull away in the third quarter but when the period ended Southern trailed only 42-39. Late in the fourth quarter Southern took the lead again. With two minutes remaining the score was 56-up, before Norman Patberg hit a basket and Bobby Lee a free throw to give the Panthers their winning margin. Patberg would up high scorer for the game with 21 points. Panther star, Tom Katsimpalis, was well guarded by Chuck Thate and was held to 12 points.

Top scorer for the Salukis was little Jacque Theriot, a reserve guard, who hit seven baskets in 12 shots and chipped in a free throw for 15 points. He got all of them in the second half, 10 points in the last quarter, when he nearly put the Salukis over the top.

Southern outshot and outrebounced the visitors and scored just as many field goals as the Panthers, but free throws turned the tide. Each team had 20 baskets. Eastern made 19 free throws to Southern's 16. The Salukis shot .363 from the field to Eastern's .328. They missed only three free throws but their eager defensive play resulted in 27 fouls and Eastern was thus able to afford missing 10 free shots.

SOUTHERN PLAYED probably its best game of the season. Especially noteworthy were the efforts of the two freshmen. Ray Ripplemeyer and Gib Kurtz. Ripplemeyer made three baskets in four shots, all of them in the first half, and rebounded beautifully all during the game. Kurtz made four baskets in eight shots and did as much as anyone to hold the Salukis together.

But it was, all in all, a brilliant team effort that almost turned the tables on what was undoubtedly one of the finest teams a Southern squad has ever had occasion to play.

Salute the Salukis

It is the custom in this space to single out some particular player for compliments, but now seems a good time to offer a bouquet to the whole bench. Saturday's defeat to Eastern may not seem the proper thing to exult over, but it is unlikely that the Salukis will turn in a better performance this season.

A story on the game elsewhere on this page contains a few kind words for the two starting freshmen. Ray Ripplemeyer and Gib Kurtz. It may not be out of place to say a few more.

RIPPLEMEYER, we would say, is one of the best freshman prospects ever to turn up at Southern. His play here Saturday night was a good example of how he puts everything he's got into a ball game. His rebounding this season has been second only to that of Chuck Thate, who stands about four inches taller than "Ripp." Kurtz, for his part, has looked better the past couple of games than he has all season and with some extra seasoning he may be, as the sports-writers are fond of saying, "outstanding."

THATE, A JUNIOR, has been averaging about 12 rebounds per game and the last time we looked, he was No. 19 among the small college leaders according to statistics compiled by the NAIB. Thate grabbed 12 rebounds against Eastern and did a good job of covering Tom Katsimpalis, who made only 12 points, considerably fewer than he is used to scoring. The "Kat" only got two rebounds, according to the chart kept during the game on the Southern bench.

Then there are a couple of sophomores from Centralia. Bob Nickolaus and Harvey Welch. Nickolaus has been averaging over 10 points since he took over Tom

Salukis Play Normal Saturday; Washington Comes Here Feb. 20

Southern travels to Normal this Saturday to try to avenge a 65-63 loss suffered here Feb. 2.

The next home game, and perhaps the final one of the season, will be played Feb. 20 with Washington University of St. Louis. A game scheduled earlier here with Michigan Normal was postponed, but as yet the two schools haven't been able to agree on a date for the game.

Outside of this contest, there are four games left on the schedule and all of them stack up as tough ones. On Feb. 23 the Salukis travel to meet powerful Beloit and on March 4 they close the season in New York against Siena, a team that has been rated among the top 20 teams of the country in the wire service polls.

Southern's record to date is 12 victories and eight defeats. The Salukis may be hard pressed to improve on their last year's mark of 13-13.

YOU NAME IT

This week's close-up is an enlargement of the indexed edge of an unabridged dictionary.

Milikin's place. Welch, unfortunately, has been out of the lineup recently with an injured finger. He went in during the last minute against Eastern when Nickolaus fouled out.

TOM "HOTS" TAYLOR, who's been taking Welch's place in the lineup, Jacque Theriot, Captain Stan Horst and Jerry Hollopetter, all give Coach Lynn Holder solid reserve strength. Only Horst will graduate this year; the rest will be back for next season.

Most of the eight games Southern has lost this year were by close margins, and could easily have gone the other way. Next year they may.
