Explanation of Obelisk Charges

There seems to be quite a bit of disturbance over the charges on the Obelisk pictures. In order to make the student body and the faculty understand that they are not paying more than last year, the business manager offers this contrast with last year.

Last year the photographer charged $6.00 for a dozen and $4.75 for a half dozen pictures. This year the charges are $4.75 for a dozen and $3.00 for a half dozen. This shows for all those that took a dozen or half dozen pictures that they have saved over last year $1.75 on the dozen and $1.25 on a half dozen.

Anyone that took a dozen or half dozen pictures last year in addition to the $6.00 or $4.75 they had to pay $2.00 for engraving. This year in addition to the $4.75 or $3.00 they have to pay $1.00 for engraving.

The above is only for those that took a dozen or half dozen pictures.

Those who had just a single picture made last year for the Obelisk did not have to pay the photographer anything. But they paid the Obelisk $2.00 for engraving and 75c of this was paid to the photographer for the picture. This year those who had just a single picture had to pay the photographer $2.00 and in addition $1.00 to the Obelisk for engraving.

So this year those who took a dozen or half dozen pictures saved money over last year's charges but those who had just a single picture made paid $1.00 more this year than last.

The Obelisk Staff have done their best to put out an Obelisk that will surpass any of previous years. This they have tried to get through as cheaply as possible.

They are now making their last plea for the students who owe for the Obelisk and engraving to please pay promptly. The collection will be made this week only in the Obelisk office on third floor of Main building.

NOTICE

Urgent meeting of all members of the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday 6:30 p. m. in Association Hall, for the purpose of studying over and voting on the adoption of the new constitution.

LAKE GENEVA CONFERENCE WILL CONVEENE SOON

S. I. N. U. Is To Be Represented In Both Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.

Lake Geneva—what a variegated and variety of thought this brings to the minds of the students of the North Central States.

To that group of students who have longed to go there it is still held as a Meca to which each student generation longs to make a pilgrimage. In this group are included many who will make this pilgrimage this summer.

To those students who have in the past been privileged to Geneva it is numbered among their most cherished memories even to the point of being a sacred memory. It is an experience which each hopes to repeat in the near future and have again the fellowship gained there.

It is not that we would indulge in place worship as do some sects, that each year students from all of the North Central States wend their way to those beautiful shores, but that from such centers as these radiate the thought which dominates all christian campus thinking.

Lake Geneva is famed not alone for its conferences but as well for its beauty. The clear blue lake seven miles in length and three in width is one of the most enticing spot in "the playground of North American." Included in the legendary lore is a tale that Lake Geneva is fed by subterranean springs.

Still with all its beauty no conference could be a success without those living personalities such as "Jimmie"

Baker of Wesley Foundation at University of Illinois who is chairman of the assemblage, "Dad" Elliot, Bishop McDowell, and many others including Dr. Charles W. Gilkey of Hyde Park Baptist Church who delivered a series of addresses here last fall.

As one disembarks for the train after a journey all night into the better half of another, he immediately embarks on a steam launch which fairly glides over the peaceful water of the lake on the two mile lake voyage to College Camp. Rounding Conference Point the large dome of Yerkes observatory attracts the attention of all but its impressive majesty is not to be compared to the magnanimous spirit and fellowship which pervades the assemblage. Arriving at College Camp you again disembark and after due preliminaries are assigned to your tent, nestled snugly among the trees. A swim in the lake and then supper! Did I say supper, that does not half express it! You eat as you never (et) before. (I remember how overjoyed a certain party were when several members of their table failed to appear for breakfast and the scramble for the extra eggs, yes, they were also scrambled.) A typical days program follows:

- 6:30 a. m.—Rising.
- 7:00 a. m.—Breakfast.
- 8:30 a. m.—Discussion Groups.
- 10:00 a. m.—General Assembly.

Maroons Defeat Ill. Central Nine

The Maroons defeated the I. C. office team, 7 to 1, Thursday afternoon in a seven inning game. The victors scored four runs in a first inning swat fest, which was featured by a Purnell's triple with the bases filled. The I. C. team gained its lone tally in the first inning.

Kinkley performed on the mound for the Maroons and only allowed two hits and was credited with seven strike outs.

The Normal players filled the bases in the first inning when Birker singled to right field and Hight reached first safely on a sacrifice bunt. Dunn received a pass to first on being struck with the ball. Purnell, fourth man up for the Maroons, slammed a triple deep into the right field and cleared the bases. Hartley singled driving Purnell across for another run. Asbury went out at first.

The I. C. scored their only run, when Conatser scampered across home plate on Goshorn's double to left field, after he had reached first and stolen second.

Asselmoir scored in the first frame of the second inning for the Maroons, stealing from second to third and then reaching home after a wild throw to the third baseman. Expert fielding retired the I. C. in short order.

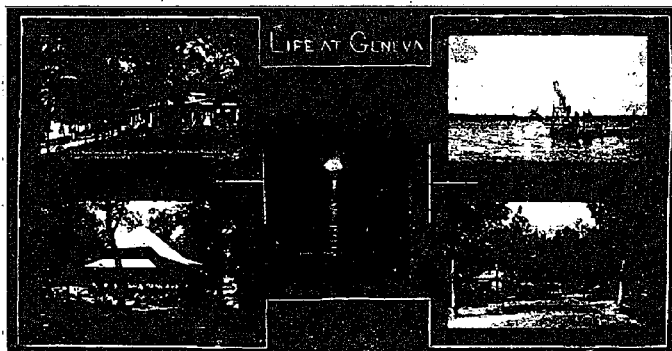

The Maroons again scored in the fourth. Spangler walked and then stole second. Asselmoir walked, Birker singled scoring Spangler. Hight singled and Asselmoir scored. Birker allowed himself to be caught napping at third, making the third out and stopping possibilities of another run.

The I. C. threatened to score again in the sixth when Whalen doubled. Put outs and strikeouts however left him stranded at second base.

A MUSICAL COMEDY

Down in "Ten-ten-tenesse," "Carolina Mammy" sat "Last Night on the Back Porch," "Sittin' in a Corner," reading a book called "Hi Le Hi Lo," when "Barney Google" came "Swinging Down the Lane." He said, "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses," and handed her a "Midnight Rose." He added, "My Sweetie Went Away," so now "I Love You." At this moment, "Annabelle" passed by, and was shocked to hear "A Kiss in the Dark." When "Barney Google," saw "Annabelle," He sang out "Cut Me a Piece of Cake" with some "Sweet Butter." At that moment, "Wild-Flower," his "Red-Headed Girl," appeared, and he went with her "Beside a Babbling Brook," after telling "Carolina Mammy" she was "The Kind of Girl That Men Forget." On hearing this, "Annabelle" and "Carolina Mammy" threw some "Hot Roasted Peanuts" after them, and said, "Somebody's Wrong." "I Gave You Up Before You Threw Me Down." Then both eloped with "Gallagher and Shean," "When the Leaves Came Tumbling Down."

ART APPRECIATION CLUB

At the meeting of the Art Appreciation Club last Wednesday evening, the audience made up in "appreciation" what it lacked in numbers and received the program with enthusiasm.

Celeste White played a piano solo with her usual ability and Adelia Fehiber gave the talk of the evening. She spoke on Millet and illustrated her points with a number of his pictures. So exceptionally well did she handle her subject that a stranger who was present was sufficiently impressed to ask whether or not she were a member of the faculty.

The Club discussed plans for a trip to the St. Louis Art Institute under the guidance of Miss Williams. The members will take the early morning train, have a picnic lunch in the park, visit the museum and go in a body to hear the Municipal Opera.

Any members who wish to make this trip with the Club are requested to notify Adelia Fehiber at once.

THE BOY AND THE BROOK

Down from yon distant mountain height
The brooklet flows through the village street;
A boy comes forth to wash his hands,
Washing, yes, washing, there he stands,
In the water cool and sweet.

Brook, from what mountain dost thou come?

O my brooklet cool and sweet!
I come from yon mountain high and cold

Where leeth the new snow on the cold,
And melts in the summer heat.

Brook, to what river dost thou go?

O my brooklet cool and sweet!
I go to the river there below
Where in bunches the violets grow
And sun and shadow meet.

Brook, to what fountain dost thou go?

Oh, my brooklet cool and sweet!
I go to the fountain at whose brink
The maid that loves thee comes to drink,
And whenever she looks therein,
I rise to meet her, and kiss her chin,
And my joy is then complete.

CASES

A case is a highly emotional, mental state ranging from raving insanity to mild idiocy, depending upon the season of the year and the temperament of the subjects. When a couple of students get a case, reason and judgment go on a vacation, while memory and imagination take possession of the cerebral hemispheres.

Cases are generally harmless, innocent conditions of the mind from which one recovers without suffering and serious injury of the hot-battery or in which one loses all sense, common and horse, and henceforth lives supremely and pestiferously happy. Sometimes, however, cases result disastrously and then the disappointed victims are doomed to go through life with shattered hopes and punctured blood humps.

When evidences of a new case makes their first appearance they create an excitement in the student body before the announcement of the starting of the new gymm. fades into puny insignificance. And when a good healthy case is in a thriving condition it is of more interest to the average by-stander than getting out of school on Memorial Day, than Senior Week, or even a washer pitching contest at the Sigma Alpha Pi.

The first case on record began with Adam and Eve and a luncheon of fruit in the Garden. College cases usually arise between an "Ed" and a "co-ed" at a Dog-Fry in the woods. They flourish most abundantly in the Spring but some, like the poor, are always with us.

HOW TO BECOME A PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITY

Be born in the United States. Necessary even though some possibilities think it is a hardship.

Have family live in small house while you are born. Log-cabin is best. Live thirty-five years or more. This is just about the hardest thing you do to become a possibility.

Practice shaking hands. Churning develops the muscles for this. Use old fashioned churn.

Never rob the people by force. A term in the penitentiary spoils a Presidential possibility.

Get elected Senator. Jump around yelling about something. Yell about anything. Don't forget to yell.

Get square cap and dinner-pail. Pose for picture. You are a laborer. Laborers are men who work.

Think up plan to abolish the national debt by abolishing all taxes.

Propose amendment to Constitution that we shall have no more amendments. You can't miss with this.

page. We feel that we have the right to insist that these merchants of Carbondale, from whom we have bought senior rings, sweaters, invitations, in fact every article that has become necessary for us to buy so far as graduation is concerned, besides the thousands of dollars spent for the ordinary essentials advertise with us. We think that an institution with an enrollment one-third as large as all Carbondale contributes largely to the growth and development of any city. We have the feeling that when contributions amounting to thousands of dollars have been made there should be some reciprocation.

AGORA ENTERTAINS

The Agora boys felt as if they ought to celebrate their victory in the Tri-Club debates in some special manner. They agreed upon having a weiner roast on Monday night, May 12, instead of their regular weekly meeting.

The boys had each invited a guest and about 7 o'clock the boys and girls met at the Library building. The party of merry hikers were guided by Cecil Schroeder and Charles Neely, over hills, across ditches, and through woods until the party finally came to the chosen place.

Everyone did his share in getting wood for the fire which soon blazed high.

After a joyous time of "hot dog" sandwiches and all that goes with them, the crowd settled down around the fire. The spokesman for the Agora, Ransom Sherretz, stepped into the circle formed holding in his hand the much-prized cup which the Agor Tri-Club debaters had succeeded in winning. After a welcoming speech, he called on Ellis Crandle, the president-elect to give a short talk. Mr. Crandle began his talk in a humorous way but concluded it with some serious remarks.

Miss Baldwin, their faculty advisor, and chaperon for the evening was given a rising vote of thanks by the Agor a members for the valuable council she has given them. Then Miss Baldwin spoke to the group for a short time.

Some one had been seen carrying a large bottle of grape juice and there had been numerous questions asked about it. Following Miss Baldwin's talk, the bottle was opened and its sparkling contents poured into the silver cup. Every one stood and the cup was passed along the line so that each person might have a sip from the cup which stood for the successful work of the Agora club.

The motion was made to adjourn and the crowd of hikers began their walk back to town.

Mother Nature had contributed her share in making the evening's entertainment a success. There was a silver crescent moon and a host of stars in the sky and the weather was pleasant.

Who is ready to go on another Agora weiner roast? We all are.

LIFE

We get out of life just what we put into it—in fact, that applies to any phase of life's activities. Evidently quite a few are not getting anything, or at least, very little out of school and its work, judging from the energy and interest which they fail to put forth. Of course this may be due to carelessness—but what a reputation to establish! It may be that things aren't running just exactly to suit your particular tastes, but that's life.

Life is a gift to be used every day Not to be smothered and hidden away

Don't keep it in niches, or corners or grooves

You'll find that with service its beauty improves!

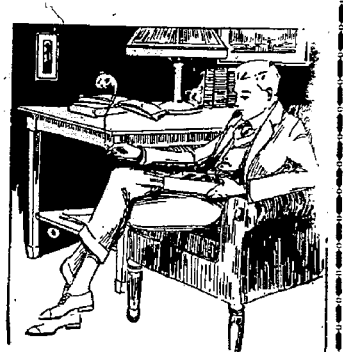

Give service! Help the Obelisk managers, the various organizations, and THE EGYPTIAN all you can during the next few weeks.

EDITORIAL

THE CALL FOR HELP

Now is the time that every good student must come to the call of his School Paper and more than that it is the time when the business men of the town must realize that when at least $300,000 are spent each year by the student-body of this institution for that which they have to sell they are not mere'y making donations to some half worthy cause when they advertise in The Egyptian. For those of us who happen to know the exact condition of things so far as the finance of this paper is concerned there is a feeling that is not the most desirable, to say the least. The atmosphere is not as clear as it must be if we are to have a school paper another year. The truth is we hear the sounding of a bell (not so far distant either) whose beat is slow and its message is solemn. If Macbeth were to speak now and were to tell you of this bell he would say, Hear It Students! Hear It Students! It is the knell that to hear it not is liable to summons your paper—somewhere besides Heaven.

We are not making this final plea asking for more subscriptions or anything of the sort but tomorrow from 5:30 to 7:30. The Egyptian Staff will give an ice cream and strawberry social on the east campus and the orchestra will be there with a big musical program. It costs you nothing to come but you are urged to be present and buy the concessions offered for sale. You are urged to make it possible to have a school paper another year. More than that, you are urged to look through the columns of The Egyptian and see just who our advertisers are before you buy your apparel for commencement. Within the next week we expect to put on the most intensive campaign for advertising that has ever been attempted by a school paper in Illinois. We expect to give every merchant a chance to advertise his wares and we further propose to give a list of our advertisers on the front

ARE YOU YOU?

Are you a trailer or are you a trolley
 Are you tagged to a leader through wisdom and folly
 Are you somebody's else or you?
 Do you vote by the symbol and swallow it straight
 Do you tie your cravat by the calendar's date,
 Do you follow a cue?

Are you a writer or that which is worded
 Are you a shepherd or one of the herded,
 Which are you, a what or a who?
 It sounds well to call yourself one of the flock
 But, a sheep is a sheep; after all at the block
 You are nothing but mutton or possibly stock
 Would you flavor a stew?

Are you a being and boss of your soul
 Or are you a mummy to carry a scroll
 Are you somebody else or you?
 When at last you come to the heavenly wicket,
 Where Peter, the scrutinous stands at his picket
 Are you going to give him a blank for a ticket
 Do you think it will do?

FORUM

With Jesse Rutherman at the helm and twenty-four active sailors the Forum is launching out into the deep for the remainder of the school year. Monday 19 while the thunder roared and the lightning flashed a goodly number gathered to debate "Resolved, that S. I. N. U. should be changed to S. I. T. C." The decision was unanimously negative. There was plenty of light on the subject from within but not from without. During the darkness several members of the Illinae came in to visit. When called on for a few words, it was mighty interesting to hear Miss Corley substitute for Miss Parr and vice versa. But girls, you may fool us with paints powders but not with your voice! What is this I hear? Is it Miss Hickson's voice? (Sounded mighty like it) and out through the door they ran. Your welcome, come again.

ASK ME! ASK ME!

Miss Kewpie—Will you please give me some information about a fight yesterday noon in my class room? Miss Burkett.

Answer: I did not know of the fight yesterday in the art room. I have learned that two erasers got to rubbing it into each other in the scrap basket.

My Dear Miss Kewpie: Supposing I meet a little bobbed hair girl wearing a maroon sweater in my fifth hour class and she smiles at me. I smile back at her and then we get acquainted that's not flirting is it? I'm not saying I did, but I'd like to know before it is too late. Clarence Conaway.

Answer: If you didn't smile back at the young lady who smiled at you, you would be impolite and discourteous, and that would be rude and to be rude is inexcusable. Of course, after the polite stage you must let your conscience be your guide.

Dearest Kewpie: Do you think "The Boomerang" will be a good play and worth seeing? Jimmie Allen.

Answer: There is no doubt about it's being good and to see Virginia Neftzger kiss a boy would be worth the price of admission.

Why does Aline Neftzger think doctors lead such interesting lives in "The Boomerang?"

Despite the threatening weather quite a few interested girls came out to the Y. W. meeting last Tuesday.

I. C. P. A. HOLDS ANNUAL CONVENTION

Illinois College Press Association Will Meet at Augustana College in 1925

The Annual Convention of the Illinois College Press Association was held at Peoria with Bradley College one day last week. Augustana College of Rock Island was chosen as the meeting place for 1925. George Wickstrom, editor of the Augustana Observer, was elected president of the group and D. E. Dickinson, editor of the Eureka Pegasus, was chosen vice-president for the coming year.

Bradley entertained the guest in a grand way, furnishing trips through offices of the two reading dailies of Peonia. Addresses were given by the editors of the two above papers and by Prof. A. Siebert, of the Bradley department of Journalism.

Invitations will be extended to the remainder of the Colleges of the Prairie state to join the association. The Universities of Chicago, Illinois, and Northwestern will also be asked to join. Melbourne Akers, of the McKendree Review, was selected to edit an association bulletin. The awards for the best front page make-up, best editorials, and best new stories, not ready for announcement. Round Table discussions were given by the college representatives present on things of important interest to the college management.

A FOOL THERE WAS

(Dedicated to Whom It May Concern)
 A student went out for a walk one day
 And took a fair "friend" along
 For walking is much more fun they say
 When you go with "friends" that way.
 A little bird sat in a campus tree
 And laughed and said:
 "What fools they be,
 Tee he, tee he, tee he."
 The little bird swallowed a fine fat worm
 And laughed and said:
 "He'll flunk this term,
 Just see, just see."
 The student went to exams one day
 And he carried his pony along
 For exams are a terrible thing they say
 For a man who has done nothing but play.
 But Prof. Wham sat in his great arm chair
 And he looked around the room with an eagle stare.
 Hee Ha! Hee Ha! Hee Ha!
 And he muttered, "You can't fool me,
 You sure will flunk if you don't get 'C'."
 Alas, the student, he got "D".
 —Apologies to Milton.

Do all doctors believe that love is 'bugs'?

Wee Wunder how it happened that all of these fine public speakers have escaped public eye so far?

THE BOOMERANG CAST

"The Boomerang," a three-act comedy has been chosen by the Spring Entertainment Committee, assisted by Miss Trovillion, as the play to be given by the Socratic Society this year on the 17th of June. The cast was chosen by Miss Trovillion and rehearsals have been made for some weeks. The cast is as follows:

Dr. Gerald Summer Frank Watson
 Budd Woodbridge Lewis Ed Williams
 Mrs. Creighton Woodbridge
 Virginia Neftzger
 Marian Sumner Pearl White
 Preston DeWitt Lester Buford
 Grace Tyler Mina Sлимпert
 Gertrude Ludlow Aline Neftzger
 Emile Sam Lirely
 Hartley James Blair
 Mr. Stone Glenn Ayre
 Virginia Helva Aline Settlemoir
 Guests Dorthea Merz
 Alice Grant, Bessie Harris, Gail Boyton, Rex McIntyre, Harry Brinkman, Ray Harper, Clarence Fegley and Cecil Schroeder.

The plot centers about young Dr. "Jerry" Summer, who is more at home on a golf course or in a drawing-room than he is during office hours. The skillful cure he effects for Budd Woodbridge (who was about dead with love-sickness) becomes the "boomerang." Perhaps the magnetic charm situated in his outer office—Virginia Helva—is responsible. At any rate the plot promises to be an amusing one.

WESLEY FOUNDATION PICNIC

On Thursday evening nearly one hundred Methodist students and teachers enjoyed a picnic on the dirt bluff above Files Fork. This was the third Annual Picnic of the Wesley Foundation, and is the climax to the social program of this organization. The merry-makers gathered in two groups at the east and west campus gates under the leadership of Lester Buford and Harry Taphrick. Forewarned of disaster Harry located an ax and his bunch being of less numbers became hewers of wood and fire henders for the whole crowd. They made up for it by disposing of more weinies and marshmallows.

Another event of historic importance was a throwing contest between the bob-haired girls and the "normal haired" ones. It was found that one girl in seven can throw with reasonable accuracy; and the bob-haired girls won by a score of 44 to 27.

It was an ideal evening for the hike and the "eats" were in the same class. As darkness came on songs and cheers terminated the gathering; to be followed by the hike homeward. Dr. and Mrs. MacVey were guests of the party.

ANNÁ K. REA

Former students of the S. I. N. U. will note with sorrow the sudden passing of Miss Anna K. Rea, who graduated from this institution with the class of 1914. Her home was Chester, Illinois, and we clipped the following from the Chester Herald Tribune:

Beside the body of her mother in beautiful Hillside cemetery in Minneapolis, amid a bower of flowers, they laid the tired body away, there to remain forever. But her memory can never be erased from the minds of those who loved her most.

"There is no death; an angel form
Walk's o'er the earth, with silent tread
He bears our best loved ones away
And then we call them 'dead.'
And ever near us though unseen,
The dear immortal spirit treads
For all the boundless universe
Is life—there are no dead."
