PULLIAM TO SPEAK TO SENIORS

DR. CHARLES CLAYTON MORRISON WILL DELIVER BACCALAUREATE ADDRESS HERE, SUNDAY

Has Been Editor of
"Christian Century"
For Thirty-one Years

Dr. Charles Clayton Morrison, who will deliver the baccalaureate address here Sunday evening, has been a prominent figure in religious circles for some years. He has been the editor of the Christian Century for the past thirty-one years. Dr. Morrison was the speaker at the Lyman Beecher lectures on preaching, delivered in the Marquand Chapel at Yale Divinity School, April 24-26. His lectures will later appear in book form. In 1932, Charles C. Morrison was ordained to the Christian ministry and began his first pastorate at Carolina, Iowa. After two years' preaching he entered Drake University. He graduated from Drake with the A. B. degree in 1938. During his student days he preached at Perry, Iowa.

From 1933 until 1932 he served as pastor of the Monroe street church on Chicago's near west side. His congregation, which has since merged with other nearby congregations. In 1935 he became a fellow in philosophy at the University of Chicago, where he studied under John Dewey. He graduated from Chicago with the A. B. degree in 1938. He was pastor of First Church, Springfield, Illinois from 1932 to 1936.

In October, 1938, Charles Clayton Morrison left the pastorate in Chicago to become a full-fledged editor of one among many church papers being published in the United States. That Dr. Morrison still considers himself a kind of missionary from Chicago to the rest of the Christian world was indicated by a statement he made recently to the Yale Campbell Club. He likes to think that by editing a paper which appeals to a larger audience, he is doing more for the Christian world than he is invested in and willing to support. It is unlikely, of course, that he will

The purpose of the Country Life Association in establishing such a committee was to promote the improvement of rural education in the United States. Among other members of the committee are Dr. Floyd W. Reeves, professor of education and political science at the University of Chicago and chairman of the Advisory Committee on Education, Washington, D. C.; Miss Agnes Samuelson, former State Superintendent of Iowa and president of the National Education Association; Dr. Lowry Nelson, rural sociologist at the University of Minnesota; and Mr. J. P. Special honors were extended to Anna Margaret Wham, Fred Meyer, and Donald Bryant who were chosen as the first, second, and third most outstanding junior leaders of the year.

At the opening of chapel Charles Mayfield spoke briefly about the method by which new members of Sphinx are chosen. MEMBERS OF COLLEGE FACULTY FORM UNF

Dr. R. D. Bowden Is President of Teachers' Federation

The local chapter of the American Federation of Teachers was organized at the college faculty by Dr. R. D. Bowden was elected as president of the group. Victor Randolph, vice president, and Fred Barnes, secretary-treasurer.

The American Federation of Teachers is a national organization whose policy is democratic and who believe that the chief agent of democracy in the school. They hope that the schools have failed of their noblest attainment because of inefficient administration, adherence to tradition, and lack of responsiveness to the needs of the community, and that the teachers must find the remedy. It is also their opinion that severity breeds severity, and that if the schools are to produce free, unskilled men and women, American citizens of the highest type, the teachers must live and work in an atmosphere of freedom and self-respect. The A. F. T. believes that the teacher is one of the most highly productive of workers, and that the best interests of the schools and of the people demand an intimate contact and an effective cooperation between the teachers and the other workers of the community upon which the future of democracy must depend.

In the national constitution the federation lists their five objects of the organization to be: 1. To bring associations of teachers into relations of mutual assistance and cooperation. 2. To obtain for them the rights which they are entitled to. 3. To raise the standard of the teaching profession by securing the conditions essential to the best professional service. 4. To promote such a democratization of the schools as will enable them better to equip their pupils to take their place in the industrial, social and political life of the community. 5. To promote the welfare of the childhood of the nation by providing progressively better educational opportunity for all.

To become a member of this organization one must be engaged in the teaching profession and be of supervisory authority in his present position. Classroom teachers in the rural district, where there is no local unit of the American Federation, may become members of the nearest unit provided they have the two-thirds vote which is necessary. Such a member may be maintained until the chartering of a union is effected at which time he would be eligible. Local which have been organized for at least one

HISTORY IS WILL NOT MEET TODAY

An Answer To Suggested Insults Directed At Peace Organizations

By W. R. RICE

In answer to Wayne Moore's question in last week's EGYPTIAN, "Is Anti-War Organization a Subtle Means of Propaganda?" the American Student Union newly formed peace organization on the campus...

The American Student Union endorses this stand wholeheartedly. Its aim is to stimulate independent thinking, but group action. For obvious reasons, independent thinking on the subject of war can come in only one conclusion—that it is civilization's curse.

The American Student Union does not think for its members. The policies and platforms of the organization are formed as a result of the individual mental activity in its membership...

The American Student Union Gives College Youth an Opportunity to Do Something to Prevent War

Editor's Note: Mr. Rice is one of those of our students who is actively interested in the inclusion of an American Student Union was held Monday night. The American Student Union furnishes you an opportunity to throw your influence to the forces aimed to prevent American youth from again crossing the ocean to lie in fields of white crosses...

However, let it not be understood that the American Student Union stands for world peace and that alone. It upholds democracy both in the nation generally, and on the campus specifically. It stands for recognition of minority rights.

The techniques used by the American Student Union vary according to the situation. They act by exerting pressure on legislative and executive bodies, by studying world problems and forming conclusions and resolutions, and by directing peace propaganda toward enlightening American youth on national issues of vital importance.

The American Student Union was organized in 1935 at Columbus, Ohio. In the four years since then, its membership has grown to twenty thousand, composing two hundred college chapters. Some of the more influential chapters now operate at Dartmouth, Harvard, Stanford, Mt. Holyoke, Michigan, Colorado, Chicago, California, and in many other places, extending over the entire length and breadth of the nation.

The Union is still growing and will continue to grow as long as American youth is interested enough in democracy to engage in activity dedicated to the stabilization of the foundations of the greatest human governmental institution.

Of course, the editor and staff perform a rather minor function in throwing a certain number of photographs and paragraphs together. The actual literary work is done by the mass staff of laboriously literary geniuses who contrive to say "Bob wishes etc." "I shall always remember etc." in a thousand different ways. The effect is not always coherent and the penmanship is not always legible, but the sentiment is undoubtedly invariable.

NOT THAT IT MATTERS

By BETH BRUCE.
One of the queer facts which should rate Ripley's attention is that S. I. N. U. Obelisks are really written after the publisher has released them. Of course, the editor and staff perform a rather minor function in throwing a certain number of photographs and paragraphs together. The actual literary work is done by the mass staff of laboriously literary geniuses who contrive to say "Bob wishes etc." "I shall always remember etc." in a thousand different ways. The effect is not always coherent and the penmanship is not always legible, but the sentiment is undoubtedly invariable.

Several of our foremost S. I. N. U. personalities have expressed themselves as being in great sympathy with the poor Hollywood stars who are perpetually annoyed by autograph hounds. Within the past few days it has been brought home rather forcibly to a number of our local constellations that "paths of glory lead but to an Obelisk pipe."

In appreciation of the 1938-39 Student Council, we can say honestly (and without political reasons behind our saying so): "You have turned in a swell piece of work." Certainly it goes without saying that this year's councilors have had a tough job. This seems most particularly true in view of the fact that the S. I. N. U. student body is rapidly becoming politically awakened. There is an awareness of student interests that has never before been quite so obvious.

The individuals who were elected to serve their respective classes this year have had the task of ironing out a number of major student problems, such as the cut system, the honor system, change of attendance, close election supervision, and student representation on various faculty committees.

In all these affairs the council has devoted an intelligent interest to the solution of whatever cases were brought before it. Several members of the council have done outstanding legislative work and have been right in the middle of the fight every time. Each council member has been subjected, no doubt, to criticism, both constructive and destructive, but most of them seem to have the blood of Irish politicians in their veins and have come up swinging every time.

PERHAPS IGNORANCE IS BEST AT TIMES

By WAYNE MANN.
In turbulent times such as these there may be new organizations suddenly springing up or old ones waking up to openly declare themselves against the evils of war and cry to the high heavens that education in that direction should be maintained in all colleges.

Perhaps their motives and ideas sound all right on paper and their points seem very convincing to those who will listen, but will they work when it comes down to the point of practicality? Perhaps they do have some very good reasons for educating the public against the wry and means of the capitalist in provoking war, but there is where the danger lies. If peace is to be maintained, will it be maintained when there is constant hawking about war, hate, Hitler, Causes of War, until our very minds are sickened with thoughts of it—until we are ready to fight to release our emotions? If we, as true Americans, would pay less attention to war instead of admitting that it is coming by trying to fight it with peace organizations, real security might be much easier accomplished.

After all, sixty families control nearly all of the tools of propaganda, and if worst comes to the worst, they might even use peace organizations to accomplish their ends when the critical time presents itself. I say, why give them the chance in the first place?
