Belgium Bride Feels at Home in U. S. After Marrying Centralia Veteran

THE THOMASES, RENEE P. AND EDWARD G.

With a definite feeling of nervousness but with a heart filled with hope and faith, a young girl boarded a ship at Rotterdam, Holland in March, 1947. First stop—New York City, U.S.A. Second stop—Carbondale, Illinois, U.S.A. She was leaving everything she loved—her family, her friends, and her country, to marry the man she loved and to adopt a new country.

Mrs. Renee P. Thomas was born and reared in Mons, Belgium; a town of 50,000 persons in the province of Hainaut, 5 miles from the French border.

The man who met her in New York, April 8, 1947 and to whom she was married April 19, 1947, is Edward G. Thomas, a sophomore at Southern from Centralia. He is enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, in pre-engineering. He hopes to graduate from the University of Miami.

Mrs. Thomas gave some interesting contrasts between the school systems of Belgium and the United States. In the Lycée (equivalent to our high schools) the students study six years. The curriculum for the six years is as follows: Six different foreign languages, mathematics, geography, chemistry, and physics. The students attend school eight hours per day five days per week and four hours on Saturdays. The high schools are not co-educational. The only time boys are with the girls is before and after classes and during vacations. Tuition is ten dollars every two months. There are no school clubs, no school dances.

Mrs. Thomas' father, the Chief Inspector of Police of Mons, was imprisoned twice by the Germans during World War II. Each time he was liberated by allied armies; once by the First Army (U.S.) and once by the English.

In September 1944 she tasted the first chocolate bar in four years. Also the allied soldiers brought white bread, oranges and other delicacies unheard of in Belgium during the war.

Commenting on the manners of the two countries, Mrs. Thomas said, "People in the United States are much more friendly, and I felt at home the first day after my arrival in the U. S." She thinks the English language not too difficult to comprehend, and enjoys her American attitude on life to the Belgian.

Now coming a little to the left toward the sixth obstacle, Colonel Club. A few passes were made there, and the rest of the field out the wind toward the Spur Inn. The spurs were used to get them by there. On they went to Main City where Crosby was playing a one night stand while the crowd cheered on and made a few bets on the side. That took care of obstacle 7 and 8, but the worst one was still ahead for No. 9 was No. 9. The horses finally passed but blunders had to be used.

Now the horses came down the home stretch. All of them were down to a 12 lb. load. Many more were even staggering from that. Only 1000 were still in the race and 1000 decided to settle for a probation finish. On they came sweating and grabbing mouthfuls of grass for their hay ration was long gone. Nooses were stretched for the finish. Lookaa if it might be a probation finish for all, for there does not look as if there is a horse in the bunch that can make it over the No. 10, the final exams obstacle, after making the rounds.

Jill's mamma has a pair of canaries, beautiful yellow ones. The other day she went out with mamma to tea, and her hostess showed her a pair of love birds, which, quite properly, are colored a vivid green.

"Mamma, lookit those birds," gasped Jill. "They aren't ripe yet!"

Who's Who About Campus

By Bill Price

A "good scout" chooses the career of professional girl scout.

Maureen Gray, graduating senior from Granite City, member of Girl Scouts, member of Little Theatre.

IMOGENE GRAY

atre president of Anthony Hall, member of Delta Phi Kappa physical education society, planning to enter professional girl scouting in September.

Her interest in this career was aroused two summers ago, when she was a counselor at Camp Wildewagen (Indian for friendship) at Springfield. Girls ranging from the age of eight years to girls seniors in high school were quartered at this camp for the summer.

Miss Gray intends to begin her career by working with the Girl Scout troops in Springfield. She will be acting field secretary, training Girl Scout Leaders, working on city programs and working with various organizations in Springfield.

Imogene was stage manager for the Little Theatre productions for the past two years (you know, those who change the scenes between acts and make the stage pleasing to the eye). In the latest production "State of the Union," the stage crew made three different scene changes, and did it in record time, we might add.

Imogene advises all students to participate in some kind of extracurricular activity. She believes that this is a definite part of one's college career. Also she "hopes the school spirit will increase at Southern, and we eventually do away with the 'commuting school'."

For relaxation she enjoys reading, stage productions, plays, and all kinds of sports. She is a physical education major and can participate in all sports, as well as enjoy them from the sidelines.

SOUTHERN GRAD HEADS JUNIOR SCIENCE GROUP

Southern may have a monopoly on the chairmanship of the Illinois Junior Academy of Science.

For the seventh consecutive year, a biological sciences graduate of Southern has been elected to this post, according to Dr. Walter B. Welch, chairman of the University botany department.

Miss Kathryn Sturm of Decatur, a teacher, is the latest to hold this post, having been elected at the recent Academy meeting in Florida. She is the third Southern graduate to hold this position. Mrs. Audrey Lindsay of University High School, Carbondale, starting the succession in 1941, followed by Mrs. Mary-Crigger of Chester. Both Mrs. Lindsay and Mrs. Crigger held the office for more than one term.

Dr. Welch also was elected chairman of the botany section of the Illinois Academy of Science.

EGYPTIAN Reporters Discover Method Used for Modern Paintings

By Ed. Robinson

"Poets may be made; not born," but we feel modern paintings are accidental; not premeditated. Perhaps the following story will substantiate our theory.

"During the afternoon of May 20, we happened to be sitting in one of the art classes. We saw one of the students working diligently away on an oil painting. It was her first, and she seemed to be very enthusiastic about her work. At first, her picture seemed to look all right, but after a few minutes, her canvas was hopelessly smeared with unrefined colors. Disgusted, she wadded the canvas into a small ball and threw it into the waste-paper basket. By wadding the canvas into a ball, she smeared the colors even worse than they were before until not a single detail of the picture was recognizable.

"This morning as we came through the door of the second floor of Old Main, we saw a group of art students examining a new piece of work that hung among the paintings on display. As we stepped closer, there, to our surprise, was the discarded painting. The art students were admiring its beauty, grace, and its depth of thought.

"Later we talked to the artist who had produced the marvelous painting. She assured us that she was as surprised as we were when she saw the painting on display, but was glad that she had some artistic talent even if it had been brought out purely by accident.

Library Receives Lincoln Collection

Dr. Howard E. Bosley, director of the University library, reports that the library has been made the recipient of approximately seven hundred titles of Lincolniana from the late Governor Homer's collection. According to the late Governor's will the books were bequeathed to the Illinois State Historical Library with the understanding that titles which duplicated those in that collection should be offered to other institutions.

"This splendid addition to the University library will add greatly to the research material available on the nineteenth century in every field," said Dr. Bosley. "This is true because every aspect of Lincoln life is covered in these writings: religious, legislative, educational, and other aspects." Such a collection should afford material for those in various fields, and suggestions for the observance of Lincoln's birthday abound. Lincoln's contemporaries are included. Speeches by and about Lincoln, and sermons from every part of the country at the time of his death have been gathered into this rich collection.

Some of the books received are indeed rare items and would be impossible to purchase, except at an exorbitant price. Such an item is William Bush's Cogitations Vespertinae, "Evening Thoughts," book 1, which contains drama, pen pictures, and poems. It was published by Best and Carson in Chicago in 1872.

Other rare items are the Journal of the House of Representatives of the tenth and eleventh General Assemblies of the State of Illinois, held at Vandalia in 1836 and in 1838. Another excellent item is A Complete History of Illinois 1674-1874 by Alexander Davidson and Bernard Stuvé, which was published by the Journal in Springfield in 1874. Horace Greeley's Political Textbook for 1860 is an interesting item. Morrison's Stranger's Guide and Etiquette for Washington City and its Vicinity published in Washington, D. C. in 1862 will appeal for leisure-time reading.

Governor Homer was an avid collector of Lincolniana, as is evidenced by material received in the Persian, Japanese, Chinese, Turkish, Russian, Hebrew, German, and Norwegian languages.

PHI LAMBDA KAPPA CAME TO BURY CAESAR

A Roman funeral for long-dead Julius Caesar was staged yesterday by Phi Lambda Kappa, foreign language club of University high school, followed by a picnic for club members.

Marion, high school students were guests for the occasion. The ceremony was arranged to dramatize for the club members a funeral procession as conducted by the Romans. The procession formed in the Allyn Training School, moved across the campus, halted for the celebrated Mark Anthony funeral oration for the fallen emperor, passed on to the University farm where the "body" of Caesar was cremated.

Vexation and grief struggled for mastery in Gertrude's soul. "Mother, do come out and speak to Freddy," she said. "He's treadin' on all the ants in the garden."

"Yes, that's what I've told him," said Gertrude, "but he won't let me tread on a single one."

Vets Have Three Months To Reinstate Service Insurance

Less than three months remain for veterans to reinstate their unpaid National Service Life Insurance policies without a physical examination and by paying only two monthly premiums.

Robert D. Ewert, manager of the Illinois Reunion, has pointed out that the liberal reinstatement provisions now in effect will expire on August 1, 1945.

Beer stated that it is not presently known what the provisions will be after August 1, but it is expected that they will be much tougher.

Physical examinations will probably be required after the deadline and many veterans risk being disqualified through poor health.

Veterans in the Illinois Reunion may receive aid in completing the simplified reinstatement form at any Veterans Administration office.

John P. Carmichael To Speak At Banquet

John P. Carmichael, sports editor of the Chicago Daily News, will be guest speaker at the annual banquet given by the Carbondale Businessmen's Association for the year's lecturer at Southern, Athletic Director Clark "Shep" Smith has announced. The banquet will be held at the University cafeteria on June 2. The Henry Hinkley Memorial trophy and the Jack Dempsey award will be presented at this banquet. The Hinkley trophy is awarded by Nu Epsilon Alpha, a fraternity in memory of Henry Hinkley, late student and fraternity member, who lost his life in the South Pacific as a member of the armed forces. The Dempsey trophy which is furnished by the Adam Hat Company, will be presented for the first time at Southern. Carmichael, who has been with the Daily News since 1922, attended Champion College and University of Wisconsin. He broke into newspaper reporting on the staff of the Milwaukee Journal as a police reporter, but left this paper to join the sports staff of the Chicago Herald-Examiner, where he worked until 1922.

PAT'S CHATTER

Since our forthcoming state meet has been verified by many different authorities at many different times, we find ourselves in the position to state that tennis is one of the better phases of athletics to perfect. With this thought in mind, it is with both pride and pleasure that we congratulate two of Southern's students. They are Evelyn Parker, Bedford, and Betty Adams of Sparta, both members of the physical education department. These two women are the champions of the 31st annual women's intercollegiate tennis matches held at Millikin, May 16 and 17. They participated in the doubles. The fact about winning this title is that to do so the girls had to defeat the winners up. They, it happens, were also Southern women. Avis Frank and Mary Anderson, by name. It really looks as if Southern was in there picking; doesn't it?

Southern's Women Netsters Win Meet At Millikin College

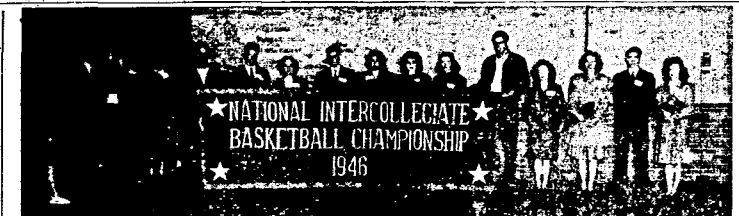

Betty Adams, Sparta, and Evelyn Parker, Bedford, defeated Avis Frank and Mary Anderson, Southern, in the doubles title in the women's Intercollegiate Tennis meet at Millikin University Saturday. Adams and Parker, also of Southern, won second.

Five schools entered the meet which was sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association of Millikin. The teams and their captains were: Southern, Evelyn Parker; Bedford, Betty Adams; Sparta, D.D.T.'s, Bette Logsdon; Pottsville, Pottsville; and Delta Phi Kappa, Lillian Albers.

Junior and senior women's physical education majors were entertained by the faculty of the department at a dinner at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Muzzey last Wednesday evening. The first social games were played and the senior majors initiated the junior majors into the Delta Phi Kappa society.

The new members presented a stunt called "Mummy" for the group. Following the stunt, the seniors gave a review of a Delta Phi Kappa meeting in 1950 in which they pictured the juniors and faculty members as they will be then.

The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Dorothy Muzzey, Miss Jean Stehr, and Dr. Dorothy Davis.

On The Trail of Sports

Two straight IIAC Championships and two straight undefeated seasons in official competition—that is the record established by Southern's power-laden tennis team, coached by Bill Freeburg, during the 1946 and 1947 seasons. In winning the IIAC championship for the last two years the team has been in a class of its own. For instance in this year's meet the closest rival was 13 1/2 points behind the Maroons.

In competition this year not one team came close to beating our team. The men on the team were eager to find good opposition, and attempts were made by the Athletic department to do this. They attempted to schedule such teams as St. Louis University, Washington University, Indiana State and Bradley College. However, in each instance the schools either had a full schedule or some other reason put a damper on the attempts. Some schools have even refused to play our boys, because we would make them look as bad.

Joe Pulley, Roy Leitch and John Maguire have been members of the 1946 and 1947 teams and have turned in magnificent performances. Last year, Pulley won the second division of the IIAC, Leitch the third, and Maguire the fourth. Then Pulley and Leitch combined to win the doubles of the Southern Illinois Open tennis meet at Flora. Leitch in four years of competition has never lost a match in outside competition.

All of this has happened since Bill Freeburg took over the coaching reins two years ago. Therefore, it is only logical to assume that this outstanding record has come from two sources. It must be the result of excellent coaching and equally fine playing by our team members.

This year, Freeburg brought up Ray Fulkerson and John Bristow to join his three veterans and they also proved to be outstanding performers.

All five of these men are either graduating or transferring to other schools, before next year's tennis season rolls around. We hate to see them go, and it has been a pleasure to have them represent Southern.

It is natural for us to expect a let down in the 1948 season, but after talking to Coach Freeburg we are looking forward to another great team. He again expects to come up with a formidable crew. There is no sure way of knowing if it will be as good as the past, but at least it should be strong.

Lingie A Good Loser

Truck Coach Leand P. "Doc" Lingie was recently heard singing an original song. Seems as though the words were: "Too much Perkins, Perkins is too good."

W.A.A. MAROON GOLFERS GET FOURTH IN MEET AT DE KALB

Vera Turner of Monsanto was elected president of W.A.A. at a meeting of the organization Wednesday afternoon. Other officers elected at the meeting were Helen Graham, Pottsville, vice-president; Annie Harn, Murphyboro, treasurer; and Betty Logsdon, St. Louis, secretary.

Betty Adams of Sparta was chosen co-treasurer; president; Dolores Langham, of Tamaqua, field-hockey manager; and Mary Anderson, of Metropolis, tennis manager. Vera Legg of Wayne City was chosen president of the Modern Dance club.

Because of bad weather, outdoor softball practice could not be held during the early part of the week. In the meantime, four teams were formed and captains were elected. The teams and their captains are: Southern Sally, Evelyn Parker; D.D.T.'s, Bette Logsdon; Pottsville Pottsville; and Delta Phi Kappa, Lillian Albers.

Junior and senior women's physical education majors were entertained by the faculty of the department at a dinner at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Muzzey last Wednesday evening. The first social games were played and the senior majors initiated the junior majors into the Delta Phi Kappa society.

Southern Baseballers Lose To Shurtleff College 4-3

Southern's baseball nine lost a 4-3 contest to Shurtleff College yesterday afternoon in a game played on the opponents home field.

Fred Breznal of Staunton went the route for the Maroons and allowed but seven hits while his teammates garnered eight.

The Maroons scored one run in the second, fifth and sixth innings while Shurtleff was hitting pay dirt twice in the third and twice in the eighth to give them their single run advantage.

The ninth found Southern staging a futile last ditch stand when Breznal walked and Scotty Marlen got life on an error. However, with two down Gaundier, the Shurtleff right fielder, made a beautiful back hand catch of Roger Spear's long drive to end the game.

Next week the Maroons play two home games. They play one Tuesday with Evansville and another with Eastern Thursday. The games are scheduled as single games and will be played at Sportmen's Park.

Sweeping the singles, and winning one of the two doubles matches, Southern easily won the IIAC tennis championship at DeKalb Saturday by rolling up 19 1/2 points to six for their nearest opponents which was Eastern.

In winning their fourth crown in six years, the Maroon Netsters played the same sparkling brand of tennis that has featured their play all season.

Roy Leitch of New Athens was the winner of the second division pairings by defeating Anderson of Western 4-6, 6-1, 6-4.
