Supports Degree 300 Chicago Area Students Sign Petition For Ban Lift

Student Body President Bill Berry told the Student Council Thursday night that over 300 members of Chicago area students have been obtained on a petition supporting the bill to lift the ban on engineering degrees at SIU.

The petition is now being sent to northern senators and representatives who have not supported the bill.

The council urged all SIU senators and representatives urging support on the bill. It was also suggested that letters from parents of students might do a great deal in gaining the support of the state legislature.

All that is needed is a short note indicating that the student or parent is in favor of the SIU engineering school, the Council said. Students should address their senator or representative in care of the State House, Springfield.

In other action in the short Council meeting Thursday: The question was raised concerning the Thompson Point Senator Todd Pillar of the Point has resigned and the election today must be ruled a special election in order for Thompson Point to be represented in the Council during the remainder of the quarter.

It was reported that the matter is now up before the Judicial Board, but that ruling had not yet been obtained.

Dalton Approved

James Dalton was unanimously approved as chairman of High School Guest and Band Day following the suggestion of President Berry.

Miss Elizabeth Mullins, Coordinator of Student Affairs, mentioned the May 26 cornerstone laying for the new University Center. According to Miss Mullins, the main ceremony will take place in the stadium at 10 a. m., with a barbeque held at 11 a. m. In the afternoon, the dedication of both small group and married student housing will take place.

Miss Mullins pointed out that the new Center is really only one building on campus that the students themselves pay for. Students automatically contribute $15 a year in addition to money collected from the vending machines and parking fines.

Jasper, Hamilton Cities

Berry cited the Student Government's secretaries for the excellent job they have done over the past year.

"The inauguration of our new Student Government has meant a lot of paperwork, and both Betty Jagers and Bernice Hamilton have done a great deal of work while receiving little recognition," Berry said.

Present at the Thursday meeting were two students running in today's election: Joe Brooks, running for Thompson Point Senator, and Mike Hemphill, a candidate for the position of senator from Southern Acres.

Festival Music Brings Rain

Music Under the Stars began Saturday night in McAndrew Stadium under cloudy skies, but was stopped about half way through the program by rain.

After an earlier delay by rain, the order of the program was changed to include most of the performers before more rain came. Heavy rain then sent about half way through the program by rain.

The program ended abruptly in the middle of a voice selection by Miss Frances Bible, American opera star and guest soloist for the event.

Miss Irene Watson, music instructor on the staff of the Marion Unit School District, was presented as the "Honored Musician" of the year.

Conductor Richard Frank Goldman directed a select band made up of students from 23 area high schools, and a 1,000 voice chorus was directed by Charles Taylor.

Academic Movie Of Southern Tomorrow

The faculty, staff, and student body of SIU will have an opportunity to see "Year of the Saluki" a new film dealing with the academic side of life at SIU, in a day long showing tomorrow in Furr Auditorium of University School.

The twenty-two minute color film will be shown at 10:15 a. m., 11:15 a. m., 12:15 p. m., 1:15 p. m., 2:15 p. m., 3:15 p. m. and 4:15 p. m.

"Year of the Saluki" pictorially traces the life of a freshman from his leaving home to attend Southern through one school year.

Shots taken within the state range from the Alto Pass orchard country in the south to the Kelso Hollow Theatre in New Salem Park to the north. Shots taken abroad include those from an archeological dig in Mexico to the Arctic midnight sun, from the Acropolis in Athens to a mosque in Moscow.

The movie, while stressing the academic both on the part of students and faculty, also shows the range of activities open to students at Southern. These range from football to fencing, from "LaBoheme" to "Oklahoma," from listening to Beethoven's music to Dylan Thomas' poetic prose.

Students featured in the film are Alice French Carbondale junior in the College of Education, and Bob Green, sophomore in the College of Education from Berkeley, Missouri.

"Year of the Saluki" was written, produced and narrated by J. Joseph Leonard, assistant professor in the SIU Radio-TV Department; cinematography and production supervision by Carl N. England, assistant supervisor in the SIU Photographic Service; music editor and audio engineer, James E. Hankins, Metropolitan senior in the College of Communications.

An original piano score for one sequence in the movie was written and played by Guy Wittlich, graduate student in music. Props used in the animation sequences were prepared by Harold Schwarm, art director of the SIU Printing Service, and his staff.

The film was produced as an Area Service project under the general supervision of Dr. William Tudor.

Southern Scientists Present Papers

Four scientific papers were presented by SIU researchers at the annual four-day meeting of the Society of American Biologists in St. Louis recently.

The papers described experiments in SIU's Biological Research Laboratory. One report, based on studies by Mrs. Gertrude Jagers and 22-area old graduate students, Mrs. Patricia Ling, dealt with the effects of caffeine on cell growth.

SIU 'Countrified'

Sunny, cloudy and rainy weather intermingled as Southern became contrified for the "Southern County Fair last weekend. Students and visitors poured into the different activities for the 1959 Spring Festival, the 10th annual event.

Miss Southern, 1959, was Barry Jo Wood, freshman home economics major from Pittsfield. Her court consisted of Cecelia Norris, Connie McGinnis, Marianna Doerr and Janet Childress. The contest was held on the Woody Hall patio, and attracted a large crowd on a warm, sunny afternoon.

The Midway attracted large crowds, and the rain held off at the right times for the most part. The drops began falling during "Music Under the Stars" at McAndrew Stadium Saturday night when the show was about half through.

The Vaudeville show, another annual event along with the Festival, and Midway were the main attractions Friday evening, while the Miss Southern contest and Midway were standouts for Saturday afternoon.

Aside from the musical program Saturday night, an overflow crowd attended the annual Spring Festival Dance at Lantz Hall, where the Tempos provided the music. President Morris presented Queen Wood and her court with gifts.

One of the most unusual and unexpected events of the weekend was the "stuffing of a telephone booth" by a local fraternity, Phi Kappa Tau fraternity stuffed 23 humans into a telephone booth, thus breaking the "National record."

The fad has traveled over much of the nation, but the stuffing by SIU marks one of the first in Illinois.

The Editors' Opinions

Good Memories Remain

The big weekend is over for Southern, but the memories will remain. The memories this year can be good ones. The students worked cooperatively and achieved much. Good sportsmanship was apparent and the school spirit reigned during the festivities.

The faculty showed their interest and backing by working with the students on various events and by turning out to enjoy the programs. This moment is over, but with the Southern teamwork and spirit, next year promises to be better.

Speak Up Now

Today is election day at Southern. This means that the students on campus who have any interest at all in the University should go to the polls. Now is the time for you to act. If you want a particular individual to attain one of the offices, then don't talk it out... go vote for him or her.

"What good does my one vote do?" is a worn out and trite phrase. Your one vote is good. It may be enough to elect or defeat a candidate. More than one office-seeker has been elected to an office, thanks to ONE vote. It actually takes such a short moment to vote, but the results last for a year. It is time well-spent. You are selecting those students who will represent you in the student government and on various committees during the next year.

Good student government is in your hands. You are the ones responsible for what goes on during the coming year.

Since here is a right and a wrong way to vote, be sure that you mark the ballots correctly.

Remember, today is the day... so visit the polls and have your say.

Irregular Teaching Methods

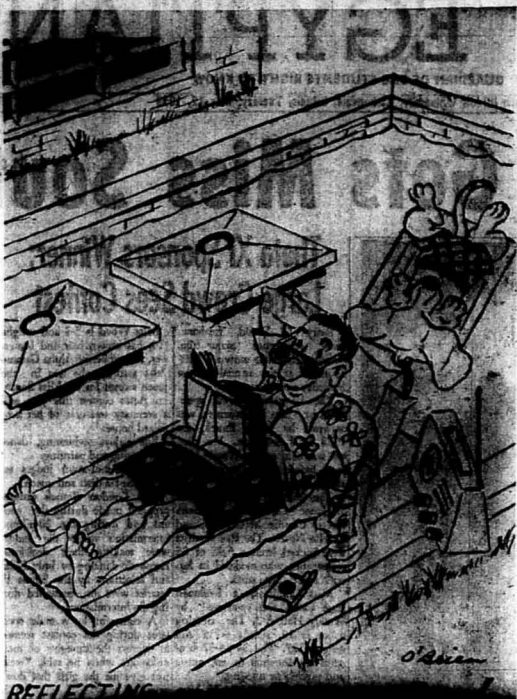

One of the main complaints of students is the irregular teaching methods employed by instructors. Granted, the only happy people seem to be people who complain constantly, but there is a point to be made in behalf of the complainants.

In several courses, either three or less examinations are given during the course. Although this makes less work for the student, it also causes the instructor to base the final grade on less grades.

The best system of teaching, it seems to us, should be on a basis whereas more grades are given. In this way, the student studies more, and the instructor can ascertain more concerning the overall knowledge of a student.

In some courses, only a mid-term and final examination are given; in others, a system of giving three or four exams is used, and in still others, one or more grades per week is given.

Good Acting Down Drain In MGM's "The Journey"

By Bill Christie
Movie Reviewer

Some splendid acting goes down the well-known drain because of a time-worn plotline. "The Journey," a Metro-Gwyn-Mayer picture which tries to say in a stammering way that there was one Russian worth his salt in the Hungarian revolt of 1956.

In fact, the performances at times are so good that the story actually borders on the conceivable. But, alas, those moments are only mirages; effective dramatic seldom add up to feasibility.

The leading players are Yul Brynner, Deborah Kerr and Ian Roberts, Jr., and all three distinguish themselves in trying to make the story convincing. At the other end of the fulcrum are George Tabori, the scriptwriter, and Amanda Littaly, the director-producer, and they have torn down in advance what the actors and actresses hopelessly are attempting to build up.

Brynner is Bald

Chrome-minded moviegoers will be happy to know that actor Brynner grows in the dark once more. He is his totally bald self after Paramount Pictures refused to film Yul's head in the nude for the role of Jean Lafitte in "The Buccaneer." Sam lost his muscles when Delilah gave him that historic clip job, but Brynner is still strong, though working with the anemic role of a Russian major who likes some transient foreigners, especially Miss Kerr.

That, in essence, is the plot. Brynner is detaining a buildload of foreigners who include Miss Kerr and Roberts, a freedom fighter who is trying to conceal a wound he has sustained in the uprising. Where the plot sags, however, is the point where Brynner gets a good, early whiff that Roberts is an alien Hun. The movie tries to make the viewer believe that the major is detaining the entire group and ignoring Roberts simply because he has designs on Miss Kerr.

Miss Kerr is excellent in portraying a woman who must put her morals and future at stake ends of the scale and then see which balance carries the most weight. If she prostitutes herself to the major, she will enable the entire group to reach their destination and her lover also will be saved. If she refuses the Russian's advances, there is the chance that her fiance and the rest of the travelers will be disposed of.

When this dilemma is revealed, the obvious errors of the script are truly punctuated.

Spring Means Pink For Fashion

As the morning sun turns the azure skies to a delicate shade of pink, so does the fashion leaders turn Milady's wardrobe.

Pink for travel, pink for the beach, pink for evenings, and pink for classrooms.

For those sultry hours in the classroom, the co-ed poses prettily in a cool, eye-catching thirtiness of airy pink cotton. The many shirt-skirt ensembles, coming in pink-tinted cottons, mix and match for classes and dates.

The Southern student, home-bound for the weekend, can step off the train or out of the automobile "fresh as a daisy" in a cotton hopsacking suit, splashed with pink blossoms. Not only is the skirt and jacket due nice for traveling, but when the skirt is worn with a matching pink overblouse it converts into an all-over occasion outfit for campus or town.

Pink, Sun And You

Pink and white sets off the allure of a sunhat. The fashion-minded girl at the beach can make the beach-combers stop and look when she is dressed in a sunsuit or bathing suit of sleek white and bold pink. For that added touch, she may add one of the many sizes and styles of summits to complement her suit. A fashion flash for this season is evening gingham. Paring and dancing in the midsummer night air gets that romantic, sweet atmosphere when the girl is gowned in a scoop-necked, pink-checked gingham creation with a ruffle of eyelet embroidery. If you are a female who likes exotic, but fashionable evening wear, then try a delicate pink chiffon dress, swirling at the bottom to create that cloud-like illusion.

Glow With Pink 4

To skim along, completely smart and stylish, you'll desire to go straight with pink this summer. Add a touch of prim, any one of it from pale to prim, to your skin and you can fairly glow. Whether you are the girl who uses creamy makeup or the powder type, you will be able to purchase the "just right" pink shade for your summer make-up kit.

You've never appeared so prettily or provocatively as you will when you experiment with the various shades of pink lipstick on the market. Perk it up by applying one shade over another, or tone it down with the new white frosting.

Salukis Sweep Another Series, Lead Conference With 10-2 Mark

Tucker Wins Sixth Straight; Buyan Bangs Out Seven Hits

This must be Southern's year. The Salukis mangled Illinois Normal last Friday, 10-5, and then slipped out the door with both ends of Saturday's twin-bill 4-2 and 4-3 in 10 innings.

The Salukis are now 10-2 in conference play, and all but have the conference pennant on their wall with six league tilts remaining on the slate.

Saturday's games had everything—including rain. Larry Tucker ran his victory string to six as he went all the way in the opening game of the twin bill. "Tuck" was in trouble several times throughout the contest, but always managed to pull out of it with the help of the stalwart SIU defense behind him. Tucker has now allowed only four earned runs in 49 innings of pitching to lead the Salukis staff.

The Redbirds started off the scoring with a run in the second on three walks and a single. SIU tied the contest in the bottom half of the frame as J. W. Sanders pounded out his second home run of the year into left-center field.

Southern added another run in the third on a single by "Ichy" Jones and a triple by Roger Buyan, who had seven in his in the series. SIU scored for the last time in the fourth when Bridges was hit by a pitch and J. W. Sanders, again "Johnnie on the Spot" doubled him at home. After Bob Hardcastle reached first on a fielders choice, a double steal scored Sanders.

Normal also tallied for the last time in the fourth frame on a double and a walk. Tucker then

Netters Jolt Unbeaten Principia; Play At Eastern Illinois Today

Undefeated Principia College fell at the hands of the Dick LeFevre's tennis squad Saturday, 6-2.

The Salukis advanced their record to 10-2 for the regular season with the win. They stand at 14-5 including the spring tour.

Jim Jarrett, playing number one singles in place of Jerry Budzick who had reportedly dropped out of tennis, Ron Underwood, Marvin Cohen and Jerry Gruen all won their singles matches. The Salukis won the number one and two doubles matches. The third doubles match was called a draw after a hard rain fall.

Today the dogs are at Charleston for a match against Eastern Illinois. Southern defeated the Panthers earlier this season on the varsity courts by an 8-1 7-5 conference mark. If they sweep the series, they will be 10-5 with three games against Southern remaining.

Coach Abe Martin said that Southern was in "fine shape" to repeat as conference champs, but he refused to let himself believe that the title was wrapped up. "It is possible to still lose it. It has been done before," said the diamond boss.

Southern, now 21-6 including the spring trip, plays at Northern Illinois next weekend in a three-game set. A make-up of the only rain-out game of the season with Evansville is slated for a week from today on the grassy diamond in the home field.

Flamer Sets Mile Mark Helberg Breaks 440 Record Again As Salukis Run To Fifth Straight Win

Ron Helberg broke the varsity 440 record for the second time in three days with a time of 49.0 last Thursday night as the Salukis ran to their fifth consecutive win, 82-49 over Eastern.

Dale Gleghorn was the leading point-getter for the Salukis. Gleghorn, holder of both varsity hurdle records, won first in both the low and high hurdles, second in the 220 and third in the 100.

John Flamer set a new Mo. Andrew Stadium record in the mile as he stepped off the four laps in 4:19.2.

The victory may have been a very costly to the Salukis. Ron Helberg, after setting a new quarter-mile record, pulled a leg muscle in the 220. Helberg stated Sunday night that he thought he "may be ready to go by Saturday." "It was a bad pull but Doc (Spackman) got ice on it right away," the record holder.

The Saluki cindermen were scheduled to run against Washington University today, but the meet has been reportedly called off for the third time.

Saturday Doc Lingle's athletes are slated to meet Illinois Normal at Normal in the dual meet finale. The following week SIU will compete in the IAC meet at Eastern Michigan.

Martin Going To Israel

Olen (Abe) Martin, SIU base coach and intramural director, will join the State Department's cultural affairs office for a three months' assignment in Israel this summer.

Martin will advise and organize baseball clinics to help promote the sport in conjunction with Tel Aviv University and the U.S. cultural affairs office.

Martin and his wife will leave for the Middle East June 14 and return in September.

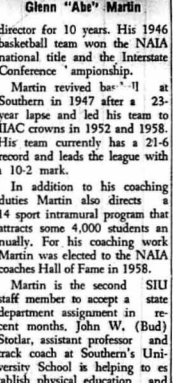

A member of the SIU athletic staff, since 1938, Martin has been head coach of football, basketball and baseball and also was athletic director for 10 years. His 1946 basketball team won the NIAA national title and the Interstate Conference "amphipship."

Martin revived "I" at Southern in 1947 after a 23-year lapse and led his team to IAC crowns in 1952 and 1958. His team currently has a 21-6 record and leads the league with a 10-2 mark.

In addition to his coaching duties Martin also directs a 14 sport intramural program that attracts some 4,000 students annually. For his coaching work Martin was elected to the NIAA coaches Hall of Fame in 1958.

Martin is the second SIU staff member to accept a state department assignment in recent months. John W. (Bud) Stolar, assistant professor and track coach at Southern's University School is helping to establish physical education and athletic programs in the Netherlands West Indies.
