HAROLD MOULTON WILL SPEAK HERE ON DECEMBER 10

Economic Authority Now President Of Brookings

Dr. Harold G. Moulton, President of Brookings Institute, Washington, D. C., will speak here December 10 on "Economic and Economic Progress". The address will be at 8 p. m. in the Shoyok Auditorium and is an offering of the college Entertainment Charge.

Dr. Moulton's present position and previous training qualifies him as an authority on the questions of the modern economic world, as applied to the small business man as well as to the industrial and commercial leader.

Dr. Moulton believes that the economic salvation of our nation can be brought about through the education of present and future leaders, that it can be accomplished by superior production and distributive stability or seeks the fundamental stability of increased and sufficient purchasing power for the masses.

These economic theories are the result of several years of study and practical relations with the American business world on the part of Dr. Moulton. As president of Brookings Institute, the economic research foundation, he is in a position to recognize the trend of American business and to see behind the scenes, to the causes of our economic ills and possible remedies.

Dr. Moulton's other books include "Money and Banking", "The American Transportation Problem", "The St. Lawrence (River) Navigation and Power Project", and "War Debts and World Prosperity".

Brookings Institute was established in 1927, as an agent for economic research and theory. The reports are in the form of books, such as "Income and Economic Progress". He also has written another recent work, "Formation of Capital". Other books by Dr. Moulton include "Money and Banking", "The American Transportation Problem", "The St. Lawrence (River) Navigation and Power Project", and "War Debts and World Prosperity".

In a special meeting Monday morning, the Student Council in cooperation with the athletic department decided to sponsor the Illinois College vs. S. I. N. U. basketball game at Carbondale. Receipts from the game plus the price of admission at twenty-five cents to all students and outsiders alike with no complimentary tickets being issued. The Council Committee in charge of the plans for the game consists of Clark Davis, Chairman, Sam Crain, and Roydon Tramm.

The athletic department will pay the guaranty and other costs of the game while all advertising will be taken from school funds. The game is the third one on the S. I. N. U. schedule and is predicted to be the best game of the year. Tickets will go on sale about two weeks prior to the game, but no definite plans have been made as to the method to be used. The various organizations will probably be called on to handle the sale. Receipts are expected to run around four hundred and fifty dollars.

SOPHOMORE DANCE COMMITTEE CHANGES DATE TO JANUARY

The committee for the sophomore dance met Wednesday at chapel hour to discuss further plans for the dance. The chairman of the committee is Jack Little, with Alvin Jones, Roydon Tramm, Frank Leach, and Jack Spicer as members.

It has been found necessary to postpone the date of December 11 as stated in the Egyptian song and song because the Pan-Hellenic Council is scheduled to have a dance at that time. The committee states that it now has an option on the last three weeks in January. Although the orchestra has not been decided on as yet, several orchestra members suggested and their reports were discussed. The committee will meet in chapel hour to discuss and finish plans for the dance.

RADIO SCHEDULES FOR WQHU NOW BEING PLANNED

Plans are in progress for establishing regular schedules between WQHU, SIXX, radio station and other schools having radio transmitters. To date only one regular schedule has been established that being with the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana. Arrangements have been made for one with Mt. Carmel, but as yet SIXX has been unable to receive them due to the law powers of their transmitter. However, WQHU is receiving a new communications receiver, National HRO Senior one of the finest receivers of its kind on the market, and when it gets here it is expected that WQHU will be received without difficulty. They also expect to have a schedule soon with Purdue University and perhaps one with the Holy Seignior of Mount. Holy Seignior.

At the present time every member of Synton has a schedule with some station at least once a week, and a few have even more than that. Progress is being made on the new Howard transmitter and it is hoped that it will be in service by the first of the year.

TOSCHA SEIDEL TO APPEAR HERE JANUARY 22

Final Number On Concert Series Will Be Barre Group

Toscha Seidel, internationally famous violinist, will appear at the Shoyok Auditorium January 22 in a recital which will constitute the second number of the Carbondale Cooperative Concert Series. The third and final number of the series will be presented February 23, when a concert will be given by the Barre Little Symphony.

Born in Odessa, Russia, Seidel's musical talent was displayed at an early age. As a child he studied under Max Fiedelman and later under the Esterhazy Brothers. His annual triumphs in Berlin, where he studied two years, following his training at the Hochschule fur Musik in Berlin, his appearance at Odessa, his tour of Europe for three years before he came to America. His American debut, which took place in Carnegie Hall, New York, was distinguished by the same success which he had achieved in Europe. Besides his annual transatlantic tours, Seidel has toured the world with his violin, playing in England, France, Austria, New Zealand, Hawaii, and Australia.

"Toscha Seidel's great art," audience press notices say, "is based on a sure technique, a keenly trained tone and deep feeling for an understanding of the music, which he so affectingly interprets with his acknowledged Stradivarius. His name signifies the highest in violin technique and artistry, and the sort of success which is bestowed only upon the greatest artists." Reviewers of many large newspapers also praise his art. "He is an artist to appeal especially to those who enjoy delicacy of nuance, perfect intonation, and a delicately beautiful finish," says the New York Times. "One thought frequently of the work of the austere, century goldsmiths, Cellini and his confreres." Of his concert the Rochester Democrat-Characterist says: "Seidel has the great merit of never being dull; he is a dynamic player and the voltage is high. From the first he appealed strongly to the audience; his every piece was applauded sincerely and he had to play extra numbers after each group."

Georges Barre, hailed as the world's premiere virtuoso of the flute, founded the Barre Little Symphony in 1914. Today it is composed of thirteen men, each of whom plays eleven different instruments. The musical numbers of the concert are interspersed by enlightening, witty talks by the conductor.

STADIUM-FUND CONTRIBUTIONS NOW $6,000

Carbondale, Ill., Nov.—Led by the Carbondale business group, the contributors to the stadium fund of Southern Illinois Normal University have piled up a deposit of more than $6,000, to apply for the share of the construction costs for the $75,000 structure. The S. I. N. U. will have to match the $6,000 of WTA funds with $15,000.

In addition to the local business men, who have donated more than half of the amount now in, student organizations and other employees have made sizeable contributions, while the rest has come from several benefit entertainments on the campus and from the alumni of the college, who are organized for the purpose.

This annual contribution to date is much smaller than was expected, although it is hoped that former S. I. N. U. students will advance aid during the remainder of this year.

Construction work on the brick stadium, to cost more than $600, is already underway, and pouring of the concrete bases has been going on for about a month.

In addition to serving as the volunteers point for all outdoor interest, legiate athletics participated in by the S. I. N. U. teams, the editors will also be used as a community center and outdoor recreation centers will be athletic field.

ELIJAH IS WELL RECEIVED BY BIG AUDIENCE

Cockrum And McCollum Show Unusual Talent

The presentation of Mendelssohn's "Elijah" by the MacDonnell club Thursday evening was well received by an enthusiastic audience.

Proceeding more than the usual program of several songs, lacking in most initial performances, the parts of Elijah (Irvine Cockrum) and the Angel (Edwin McCollum) showed unusual interpretation in some of the more difficult solo passages. This was also the initial solo appearance of William Bowden in the part of the Widow. J. C. Hancock in the part of Abah; Jay Friedline in the part of Obadiah; Alice Jones in the part of the Youth.

The performance of the "Elijah" was unusually high commendation on the part of the church group.

The stage setting of gray and black, offset by maroon drapes, was arranged under the direction of Miss Lulu Rouch of the art department.

At the close of the performance the chorus presented an impromptu program of several popular, semi-classical, and novelty numbers while waiting for the taking of the MacDonnell picture for the Obelisk.

The performance of the college orchestra in connection with the appearance of the college chorus in the oratorio "Elijah" revealed some striking arrangements in several difficult tempo passages.

MAROONS LOSE FINAL GAME TO ST. VIATOR, 7-2

fect interference, led by his own right guard, Joe Sola, and crossed the goal line standing up after side-stepping Dale Hill's attempted tackle on the five yard line.

Southern had complete control of the battle during the first period. Albert Nerone placed his pass on the 1 yard line—the point where Charles blocked St. Viator's attempt boot—and again put the ball on the 3 1/2 yard stripe a few minutes later.

The second game found the Saints in a more aggressive mood as Captain-Gibbons, Lenahan, and Walsh pushed the Maroons line back to the 30 yard line but then North intercepted a pass from Gentson and the Southern squad began a march to the goal line.

For the remainder of the half Southern held the Saints on equal terms but yet Mac's boys could not gain the touch-down which they so badly needed in order to win a top standing in the conference.

The live Maroons whose intercollegiate career ended with this game, Co-Captains Hill and Smith, Estey, Dabney, and O. Denison all saw service during the game. O. Denison was hurt during the second period and "Smittle" went into the game with a lame shoulder.

Although in the matter of first down the Maroons did not fare so badly, St. Viator failed to see St. Viator's 28 yards to 66.

Hollo folks here I am again with the news of the collegiate world in a nutshell (my head) ... That isn't the title of a book. It's just a segment-sentence description of the kind of life Mary Ann Wykoop, freshman at Indiana University, has been living for the past nine years.

Before coming to college, she did all kinds of odd jobs around the offices of the Lebanon, Indiana, Daily Reporter, where her father serves as city editor.

Although she is the first ever to have worked in the newspaper industry during the past year, she is not the only one. She has been a "printer's devil" since she was 12 years old.—(ACP) slimpy little Captain Fritz Hill took this game apart with his broken field running.

The following week at Maroons, that tricky eleven held out Maroons to a 7 to 1 tie. The trusty toe of Art Holter dead-kickered the game after Hill's long run scored for the Maroons.

Cape Girardeau with a lone string of offense suddenly snapped out of its defensive doldrums and defeated Southern 6 to 4. Cape has won every game since a week before they defeated Southern, so let it be known that this game denoted no weakness in the Southern eleven.

The story of the St. Viator game is not known and when it is taken into consideration that the Saints outgained the Maroons 288 yards to 66, much credit must be given to the Maroons for clamping down on the previously high scoring Green Wave.

John Mondan's broken leg was the highlight of the season when it comes to injuries. "Barrier" Cade received a serious abdominal injury against McKendree which incapacitated him until the Cape Girardeau tilt.

Again in the St. Viator game Cade was put out with an injured ankle in his back. After being clipped in the Cape game, Bus Keyes was unable to see any action in the remaining two contests. A leg injury sustained at Macomb kept Lester Denison out of the Cape game and his big brother Glen received such a serious intestinal injury at DeKalb that he saw no action until the Cape game. A painful hip injury prevented Al Nerone from playing against Normal.

Little "Dare" Hayward, who was given a injured kidney by the Charlestonians saw no more action, and Elbert Smith, a newly found star, was taken out of the St. Viator game with a badly injured leg.

Rodney McGuire was not able to show his wares to the Charlestonians because of a "charley horse" kindly donated to him by a Cape Warrior. If a few inopportune intelligibilities are added to this list of injuries, it is remarkable that

LUCK BIG FACTOR IN FOOTBALL, SAYS FAMOUS COACH

(BY ACP)

"The element of luck is a bigger factor in the success or failure of a football coach than in any other occupation I can think of. A coach works a whole year to build up his team for a 'crucial' game. He develops a strong player for every position and plenty of reserves, if he has the material. And then comes! Pat! jumps up and hits him in the neck. One of the best of the Coaches of a ball, a last piece of judgment by the quarterback, a momentary mis-ten-tion by a player who has been carefully coached to do the right thing and the game is lost and with it something the coach's position."

Coach Charles W. DePaw, founder of THE DEPAW, one of the many services in one of many schools.

Carl Laemmle, movie magnate, clerked in a store in Oakshook, Wis. in his boy-hood days.

The Maroons possess as good a record as they do.

Cocacolas Dale Hill and O.J. Smith were perhaps about the best performers for the Southern eleven.

CHOOSE PIANO BY BLINDFOLD TEST

The new piano in the Dalton music room at Purdue University was chosen by the blindfold test. Several musically inclined people sitting behind a screen voted on the different makes by "hear" and eliminated the less desirable instruments week a whole year to build up his team for a "crucial" game.

INSTRUCTOR SAYS POETRY LIKE CLOCK

Donald A. Smalley, instructor of English at Indiana University, thinks that the poetry of John Donne and Robert Browning presents the "effect of the alarm clock and not of the hour" or of "Wagner" rather than Mozart.

Communism Shown In T. C. U. Lockers

A group of communism in the matter of lockers has shown itself on the campus of Texas Christian University. Five freshmen sharing a one-foot wide locker have jammed in textbooks, eight notebooks, two coats, and seven pencils into the cubicle.

In Australia, fence posts excite the farmers of southern Iowa. The odor comes from the tininess of the umbrella bush, which is used for the post.

Film dance director says, "Go home now until you're 18 if you want to dance." It seems to cast doubt on the possibilities of the half-hilly quartet.

Victor McLarden says he has been enjoying all his life. Many people do it only on the job.
