THE CORN CRIB

A high school Latin class had been instructed to write a poem. One fellow brought in this one. Latin is a language Dead as can be, First it killed the Romans, Now it's killing me.

Some people put everything they have on horses. Take Lady Godiva, she did. She didn't wear. She didn't place. But she shined.

The girls that really make a hit with the guys, though, are the ones that resemble a wraith waltz curved fit the wraith.

Speaking of a Chinese, here's one about a laundryman who called a dentist about a terrific toothache.

"What time you fixee tooth for me, please?" "Two-thirty alright?" "It hurtsee very much, but what time you fixee."

"Mom, do you know how to cook onions so they won't make the house smell?" "No, dear. How?" "Cook 'em outside."

"Fishin'?" "Nope. Just drownin' worms."

"My wife always put coffee on when she first gets up in the morning." "ing."

"How quaint. Mine always puts on her dress."

Masquerade - Suggests Mystery

Quarrel suggests gray voices, brilliant colors, and many noises. The word has become synonymous with fun and laughter. The second annual carnival in Southern Illinois is just around the corner, and to climax this gala three-day affair, what could be more proper and fitting than a masquerade ball.

Masquerade—the very word suggests mystery, merriment, fun, and above all, novelty. Costumes are a necessity in order to duplicate on a small scale a replica of the Mardi Gras.

Some people seem to have the idea that to attend a masquerade, they must have an expensive costume. This is not true in regard to Southern's masquerade ball. Simplicity and originality reign supreme.

Here are a few suggestions for the costumes. You can think of many more. Pirate and Princess, Lid Abner and Daisy Mae, Traveling Salesman and Farmer's Daughter, Adam and Eve, Indian and Squaw, Civil War Hero and Southern Belle, Beauty and the Beast, a Two-member horse team, Cowboy and Cowgirl, Clown, Carnival Strong Man, Superman, Zoot Suits, Cigarette girl, Ballet dancer, and Chorug girl.

The success of Spring Carnival and the Masquerade Ball depends upon all of us at Southern. Let's get behind it and make the entire affair a tremendous success. B.C.

PERSONALITY SPOTLIGHT

BY MARY BOSTON

RICHARD FRIZ Since cigarettes look all alike and since he didn't like them anyway, Richard "Dick" Friz began looking for a good pipe about a year and a half ago. He kept looking for that good pipe, and today he has not one, but twenty-five or thirty pipes.

In his collection are many curious specimens, including a calabash, which is made of a gourd. Inside the bowl of this particular pipe is a lining of muskrat. It is a white mineral, but the color changes to amber when the pipe is lighted. Another of his collection, a long stemmed pipe, is called a church wand because it was used by English janitors who had long whisks; the pipe had to have a long stem to keep the fire away from the whisks. One pipe shaped like a football was imported from Italy. Another one from Czechoslovakia is about one foot tall and has a bent stem of deer horn. The front is carved into a deer. Dick has several large Mis-

Ag Club Sponsors Barn Dance

Tuesday night, April 27, approximately 40 members of the Agriculture Club and their guests attended the Ag Club Barn Dance and B. B. Q. at professor Marshall C. Clark's farm. The party was given by the newly revised Ag Club.

The members assembled on Southern's campus at 5 p. m. and left for the party via hayride. After a four mile ride through the country side they arrived at their destination where volley ball, softball, and horseshoe games were quickly organized. The outdoor games ceased at darkness and refreshment consisting of potato chips, Bar B. Q. and cold drinks were served.

Hayloft Party In the hayloft of the barn the evening's entertainment began. Recorded dance and square dance music was provided by the entertainment committee. A broom dance, Virginia Reel, and other country folk dances were the highlight of the evening.

Robert S. Nolan, past president of the Club, helped everyone to become acquainted by group introductions. Special guests introduced were, Dr. Henry J. Lehn and wife, Prof. Alex Reed and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Clark.

The evening's entertainment was brought to a close by group singing led by Pan Whitehead, and accompanied by Stanley Ceglinski on the guitar Howard Sparlin, President and James Brooks, Vice-President of the Ag Club said that because of the success of the party, the Agriculture Club will plan another barn dance soon.

Other activities include sports writing for the Egyptian, member of German Club, and President of pledge class of Chi Delta Chi fraternity. Dick also likes sports. He particularly likes to read sports books and makes a collection of these books.

Carbondale Armory

Beautiful gifts await the lady selected the "New Look" Queen—Suits, Hats, Shoes and Purse to match and a long list of stunning up-to-the-minute accessories with all the glamorous features of the "New '48 Look" will be hers. A pair of shoes and nylon hose for the Lady with the smallest feet. Shoes for the ex-GI with the biggest feet and a shirt and a tie for the Veteran, of any war, who wears the biggest collar.

Will she be the brightest or most glamorous student at S. I. U. or will she be just plain Mary who is the wife of an ex-GI that has been keeping house, and looking after Junior, while Bill is completing his College education, that was interrupted by World War II? Will she be the lady who wears the smallest size shoes? Will her dancing partner be the ex-GI with the biggest feet, or will he be a veteran who wears the biggest collar?

Yes, whether or not you enter these contests, you will be helping give a bit of sunshine and comfort to our disabled Veterans because the net proceeds will be used for the improvement of the Recreational Haven on Crab Orchard Lake, band concerts and entertainment of the disabled who are patients in the U. S. Veterans' Hospital, Marion Ill.

Maroon Netters Trough Normal For Third Win

Southern's rapid improving tennis squad scored its third consecutive victory of the young season as they upset the highly favored Illinois Normal netters 7 to 2. It was the first conference win for the Maroons against one loss.

The charger of Coach Bill Freeburg had previously been defeated by Western Illinois and St. Louis before starting their victory parade which now includes Evansville, Cape and Normal.

Southern swept five of the singles matches and captured two of the three doubles contests to account for their seven points.

Jack Mawley, playing in the number two singles slot, scored his fourth straight triumph at the expense of Hog Hoy 5 to 0 and 6 to 8. Other emerging victors were Bill Williams, Bob Harmon, and Bill "Pinhead" Price. It was the first match of the season for "Pinhead" and his years of experience payed dividends as he easily erased Bob Chapman 6 to 4 and 6 to 0.

Williams and Mawley hug up their third straight win in the doubles department as they swept two doubles team composed of Armstrong and Q. D. Miskell also eliminated Merin Belle and Lew Blakeman. Harmon paired with Nick Kostoff to play the final match and they were defeated by Bill Hertz and Bob Bropp 1 to 6 and 2 to 6.

On Friday of this week the Maroons will travel to St. Louis to tangle with the Billkins in a return engagement. The Bills routed the local lads 5 to 1 earlier in the season.

- Williams (S) defeated Dambold (N) 6-4, 6-4.
- Mawley (S) defeated Hoy (N) 6-0, 6-5.
- Armstrong (S) defeated Hertz (N) 7-5, 7-5.
- Belle (N) defeated Voryvald (S) 2-6, 6-4, 4-6.
- Harmon (S) defeated Blakeman

Golfers Sweep Cape Girardeau 12-3 at DuQuoin Saturday

Coach Lynn Holder and his team of the five Southern Illinois University golfers pulled out landslide score of 15 to 3 against Cape Girardeau last Wednesday for their first golf victory of the season. By all indications, the first team to finish off one of the golfers are a team that will prove hard to beat.

Each of the five-man squad racked up at least a point and a half in trouncing the Cape boys, who eventually were lightly outclassed by the local aggregation. Ralph Parrish and Oliver Shoaff each took a clean sweep of their three point parade, with Walter Zukosky, 1-5; Jim John, 2, and Ward Armstrong with 1-2 points to total 12.

Shoaff axin was low shooter for the team with a competent 76 for 18 holes, just 4 over par for the DuQuoin golf course. Parrish took second place honors with an 81, with John an 82 and Armstrong and Zukosky each with 83.

Coach Holder is very much pleased with the showing his team is making this season. "They are probably the greatest forger on Southern's campus. We say the greatest because he is very seldom wrong. He is none other than track coach Leland F. 'Doc' Lingle who will be before he goes into one."

Last Saturday afternoon, immediately following the meet with Normal, Doc was busy figuring with last week's track results how much Eastern was going to score

Highlights of Prep Sports

By BILL HOLLADA

Centrals, East St. Louis, and Laverneville of the Southern Illinois prep sports spotlight during the past week, each gaining fame by capturing first place at a large track meet.

East St. Louis' Flyers came from behind to edge out Collinsville 63-60 1/3 in the Southwestern Conference Relay held at East St. Louis in a meet that wasn't decided until the final event—and even after a heated argument. Belleville's pre-meet favorite, had to be content with third while Wood River was fourth.

On the night before the Centrals Orphans, fresh from their request of the 18-team Mineral Area meet the week before, came roaring back to easily win the Herrin Relays. A potent Christopher team finished second but was near-

40 points behind. Central's Harrisburg nailed down third place honors followed by Zeigler, Mt. Vernon, Herrin, Pinckneyville, Paducah, Benton, Murphysboro, Carlyle, West Frankfort, and Marion.

Several major meets are slated for this week-end. Friday afternoon the South Six conference school will gather at West Frankfort while on Saturday the same track will be the scene of the 20-25 team West Frankfort Relays.

Centrals is favored to cop both, but Belleville and East St. Louis may give the Orphans some keen competition in the Relays.

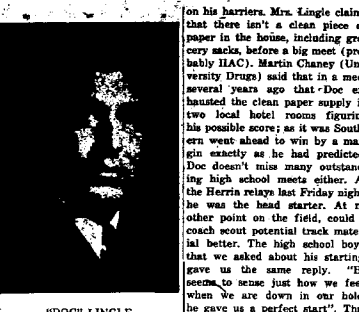

In other meets Christopher will be host Friday night to six other teams in the Christopher Relays. Saturday afternoon following Southwestern Egyptian teams will take advantage of the visiting Maroons as they hold their annual conference meet on Southern's track. Christopher will be favored in their meet while Pinckneyville will be a strong favorite to take the Carbondale meet.

In the sport world, there is a number of so called "prophets". This week we have honoring us probably the greatest forger on Southern's campus. We say the greatest because he is very seldom wrong. He is none other than track coach Leland F. "Doc" Lingle who will be before he goes into one.

BILL BLEYER

He hits 425 one year, and this year he is slipping away at a 440 rate and still going strong. He is Bill Bleyer, one of the most modest and quietest players on the team. The 21-year old Cartersville-born athlete is the type of hitter a coach always sees on the other team, always wishing he could play for the home team, but usually has to be satisfied with the meager talent he has.

The only game that we have seen Bleyer play this year was one that typifies his hitting ability. First he hit a home run that cleared the right field fence with left to spare, then a triple into left center, and a lowly double into center. And there is no wonder why he is now hitting .440 for the mid-season schedule.

He has received offers from various Class D teams in the Illinois State Loop and a scout from the Detroit Tigers offered him a contract to play ball in Georgia this last spring. But he refused in order to continue in school.

"Right now school comes first," says Bill, "but after I graduate in '49, I intend to give professional baseball a try, if I get an opportunity." We believe he will get the opportunity.

Bleyer is a third term Junior, majoring in Physical Ed. and Health Ed., and minoring in government. If the pro baseball deal does not pan out, he wants to be an athletic coach or a recreational director for a community program. He has had 26 months in service, of which 22 were in the South Pacific, attached to Fleet Hospital 108 at Guadalcanal. He returned to the states and finished up at Ohio State U.

His wife, Dorothy Rushing Bleyer, is a staunch Bleyer fan, and sees most all the games "the ole man" plays in. And, like most married arrangements at this stage, Dorothy is a year ahead of Bill and will graduate this June. They live in the Housing Units at the Ordnance Plant.

As we mentioned before, Bleyer is a coach's player, assuming only that he will get his share of base knocks, and doing so more than his quota of runs. He was teamed with George Sawyer as the two dangerous hitters on the squad, but Sawyer left for the professional ranks. Bill says he has plenty of time for that baseball, but that the educating of ball players is still foremost in his plans for the little Bleyers that may come in the future.

Former Major League Star To Be Here May 5

The Chicago Daily News sponsored Rogers Hornsby baseball school.

Dr. Joseph K. Johnson, chairman of the sociology department, will be off the campus April 29 and 30 of this week attending the annual convention of the Midwest Sociological Society at Minneapolis, Minn., rather than last Thursday as previously stated.

former major league star and his group. The luncheon is open to the public, the charge being one dollar per plate.

Since the founding of the Hornsby school, in 1946, the diamond affair has attracted an estimated 350,000 boys at gatherings all over the country.

The instruction includes tips on hitting, throwing, fielding, and catching. There are also discussions of baseball theory and successful hitting methods, along with lessons on the proper way to select a bat.

Highlights of Prep Sports

By BILL HOLLADA

Centrals, East St. Louis, and Laverneville of the Southern Illinois prep sports spotlight during the past week, each gaining fame by capturing first place at a large track meet.

East St. Louis' Flyers came from behind to edge out Collinsville 63-60 1/3 in the Southwestern Conference Relay held at East St. Louis in a meet that wasn't decided until the final event—and even after a heated argument.

On the night before the Centrals Orphans, fresh from their request of the 18-team Mineral Area meet the week before, came roaring back to easily win the Herrin Relays. A potent Christopher team finished second but was near-

40 points behind. Central's Harrisburg nailed down third place honors followed by Zeigler, Mt. Vernon, Herrin, Pinckneyville, Paducah, Benton, Murphysboro, Carlyle, West Frankfort, and Marion.
