NICE ICE

Well, it makes a nice photo, anyhow. The heaviest snowfall of the year created this winter scene on campus last week, as winter arrived in full swing in southern Illinois. The snow began falling Friday afternoon and continued until after midnight. Roads and sidewalks quickly became hazardous, while at the same time the snow turned the campus into a "winter wonderland." This scene is between Shryock Auditorium and Altgeld Hall.

"Have Your Moves Ready, Boys!"

"Have your moves ready boys; here I come!"

That was the "battle cry" of the Checker Champion of the World, Tom Wiswell, as he moved from one opponent to another in a chess and checker exhibition Sunday evening at the Agriculture Building.

Wiswell began the evening by playing a "blindfold" game in which he defeated his opponent without ever seeing the board. Then, he reconstructed the game calling off every move that was made.

In the mass exhibition, his opponents began to squirm under the pressure of the first few moves. Sixteen boards were placed around the table to accommodate that many players at one time.

One of Wiswell's stronger opponents admitted that he had been playing chess for over "half his lifetime." He is Gavin Pickett, 10, of Carbondale, and has been playing chess for six years. Gavin's father is an English instructor at SIU.

Wiswell, who claims that checkers is the more difficult of the two games, has defended his title five times since winning it in 1951. Next October he will defend it again in Scotland where he will play the British champ.

His present tour will last about two more weeks, at which time he will return to his home in Brooklyn, N.Y., and work on a book, which will be the sixteenth he has written.

THREE SIDEWALKS UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Three concrete sidewalks, costing some $12,500, are now under construction on campus.

Two are located near Morris Library, one in front and the other on the southwest side. In the past they were laid with flagstone. The other walk is being built behind Parkinson and Allyn Buildings.

A fourth walk will be constructed in front of University School and behind Woody Hall as soon as weather permits.

Four Lads are 'Four Cut-Ups'

By Ron Jacober
Managing Editor

Whatever ideas a layman has about professional performers backstage, they probably would have been changed had they seen the Four Lads behind Shryock's dirty curtains Saturday night.

There is no way to describe the activities and atmosphere in Shryock's dilapidated dressing room except to say it was in chaos.

While Connie Codarini, more-often the leader of the Lads, was shaving in a vain attempt to get ready for a show that was supposed to go on in 15 minutes, Bernie Toorish, the real clown of the group, was playing a few flat notes on a violin he found in the room; Frankie Busseri, baritone, was attempting to thread a needle so he could sew a button on his jacket and tenor Jimmie Arnold was plinking away at the piano.

Connie, half-shaven began going into a descriptive routine about the jet plane flight out of New York that morning. "I was all right until we passed over the place the jet crashed the other day. Then, when the landing gears went up (it makes a bump) the guy next to me grabbed his seat like it was all over," he said with a face full of shaving cream.

The jokes were flying at a rapid pace when the three undressed members of the quartet realized they had only a few minutes until show time. "Gee, this place even has hot water—classy school you've got here."

The unusual low cut, patent leather shoes were also a topic of conversation.

"We have to wear these damn things?" said Bernie. "Sure, I think they are sharp," remarked Frankie. "Who ever heard of paying $30 to have your feet hurt," injected the tenor-voiced Arnold.

And the first show went on. After clowning and singing their way through an hour before a sparse crowd, the Lads were back in the dressing room. "Who's going after coffee?" were the first words that echoed through the high-ceiling room.

After a few off-color wisecracks, the conversation turned to some of the ad lib pranks of the first show. "What was this paint kick?" asked blond-haired Toorish referring to a wisecrack about Shryock being painted. "No, really," said Connie, "they did paint the dump. It was some kind of ridiculous orange or something last year."

And so went the conversation and the Four Lads. Soon they were back on stage for the second show—and as usual "hammered" it up.

Following the final curtain, the Lads were happy about two things: the warm reception of the second audience, and their check. Tired Jimmie Arnold (who had the check) broke into a big smile and said, "It's been great . . . hope to come back to Southern again next year—when it's warmer!"

'Diamonds' Featured in Teke Highlights Saturday

The first annual "Teke Highlights," sponsored by Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity, will be presented at two Shryock Auditorium performances at 7 and 9 p.m. Friday.

Featured in the show are the Diamonds, Mercury recording artists. While not primarily rock and roll singers, their act includes rhythm and blues numbers and comedy routines. They will be accompanied by the Johnny Veith Trio.

Now appearing at the Allez Rouge in Evansville, Ind., the Diamonds have had six return performances in England and Germany. Walter Sill, owner of the Allez Rouge, commented, "This is one of the most versatile groups in show business."

The Diamonds are all single and all under 30 years of age. Two are from Canada, and two from Hollywood.

Dr. Faust, a mentalist and magician, will also appear in the show. He has been a guest on To Tell The Truth and the Jack Paar Show. His act consists of magic tricks and "mind-reading."

Students will be featured in short comedy spots, called "blackouts." Betty Parker, Ken Reichel, Neil Maxwell and Dick Sleeman comprise the local talent.

Tickets went on sale at the Student Union ticket office yesterday. Prices are $1.50, $1.25 and 90 cents.

The radio stations WCIL (Carbondale) and WFRX (West Frankfort) plan to feature Diamonds' records Friday.

SIU Alum Designer At Demo Blast

Jean Spencer Scott, a Southern Illinois alumnus, Class of '37, was selected by the Democratic Party's Advisory Committee on the Inaugural Ball to handle decorations for both the Inaugural Gala and the Inaugural Ball held last Thursday and Friday nights in Washington, D.C.

Miss Scott, a member of the National Broadcasting Company's art staff, was enlisted by actor Peter Lawford, President Kennedy's brother-in-law, in behalf of the Committee. In her capacity as a set designer, she and Lawford worked together on several television shows.

Nominated for "Emmy" awards twice within the past six years, Miss Scott has achieved national recognition while working with television personalities Dave Garroway, Maurice Evans and Steve Allen.

After receiving a Master's degree in Fine Arts from the Chicago Art Institute, Miss Scott joined NBC in 1946, and except for a short stint with CBS in their color television program, has been with them since. Also active in summer stock theatre, she served as managing director of the Putnam County Playhouse in Mahopac, N.Y., during the late forties.

While a student at Southern, Miss Scott designed sets for student plays and served on the Obelisk staff.

Students Plan To Celebrate India's Freedom

SIU Indian students will celebrate the anniversary of the birth of Indian democracy at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Morris Library Auditorium. The program is open to the public.

The program will include a speech by Dr. William H. Harris, Associate Professor of Philosophy, titled "My Impressions of India," as well as movies, dances and music from India. Dr. Harris spent a year there in 1953.

The Constitution of the Republic of India, signed Jan. 26, 1950, embodies many points of the United States Constitution.

The Student Council meets each Thursday at 7 p.m. in the President's Office.

Council Discusses Campus Sidewalks, Lawns in Short Meeting

The shortest Student Council meeting of the year—less than an hour—Thursday night devoted most of its time to debate over whether campus lawns should be chained off or otherwise protected from students taking short-cuts.

One senator thought creation of more sidewalks through some heavily traveled areas would spoil the natural look of the campus, making it "look like Chicago."

Others thought it was a matter of education, pointing out that at many campuses no chains were necessary to keep students from walking on the grass.

Kappaleers Win Harmony Title

By Ken Riedle

Snow and cold weather didn't chill the enthusiasm of approximately 300 people who attended the Harmony Show at Shryock Auditorium Friday night, rewarding all groups with hearty applause.

The Kappaleers, a Negro quintet sponsored by Kappa Alpha Phi, did a terrific job of singing "Oh What a Night" and "Shop Around." Rhythm set up by background singing and hand clapping accented the fine voice of the lead and also impressed the judges enough to award them the first place trophy for small groups.

The group was organized two months ago and this was their first competition.

The first place trophy for barber-shop singing was awarded to a group that certainly earned it—the Highlanders. The group was bubbling with talent in their renditions of "Oh Shine" and "Good-bye My Coney Island Baby."

The group was formed in the spring of 1960, and during the summer sang in clubs throughout the Denver, Colorado, area. The Harmony Show was their first campus competition.

The ROTC Singing Squadron led by Don Canedy opened the show with "Wild Blue Yonder," followed by "Seventy-Six Trombones," a song to be presented at the Review in Blue show.

Members of the first place-winning Kappaleers were Ted McAllister, Jim Crawford, Bill Norvell, Don Bondurant, Marvin Jackson and Arthur Kelley, pianist.

The three harmonizers of the Highlanders were John Latta, first tenor; Terry Blaies, baritone; and Russ Wright, lead.

Judges for the third annual Student Union Harmony Show were Mrs. Delyte W. Morris, Don Canedy, J. Cary Davis and Carmine Fiocelli.

Foreign Students Senator John Mustoe came up with the most obvious suggestion of all—installation of "Keep Off the Grass" signs.

Discussion was tabled until a later meeting on this and a recommendation by Student Body President Bill Morin, that benches be installed throughout the campus.

In other action, the Council will write a letter to Security Office Tom Leffler suggesting the security at the married housing area of Southern Acres be increased.

Howard Bunte, junior from Kankakee and chairman of the recently established student rights commission, told the Council that letters were being sent to several hundred schools to inquire into the car situation there.

Bunte also resigned from the commission Thursday because he said he had insufficient time to give the job the attention it merited.

Another resignation was received for the same reason at the previous meeting, that from Joann Hutchcraft, off-campus women's senator from Benton. An election will be held to select a new representative.

Kobrin, Goldman Named Fine Arts Chairman

Richard Kobrin, Chicago, and Fred Goldman, Wilmette, both sophomores in the School of Fine Arts, have been named co-chairmen of the Festival of Fine Arts Masked Ball.

The dance, scheduled for Feb. 25, will be held in Lentz Hall. Deadline for applications for the steering committee is next Friday.

Applications may be obtained from the Student Union information desk or from the Activities Development Office.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Jim Crawford of the Kappaleers gives a congratulatory handshake to Russ Wright of the Highlanders after the two groups won first place in the third annual Harmony Show last Friday night. The Harmony show is sponsored by the Student Union. (Staff Photo)

A Look at Students

We have discussed faculty members and administrations. Now it is time for us to take a long look at the student—if possible, through the eyes of an instructor.

Students can be classified in several categories. The favorite, probably, is the student who is exactly that—a student. The person who attends class regularly, who turns in assignments on time, who shows that he is intent on learning . . . is the type person most instructors are looking for. Other persons do the job, but little extra. These are the people who attend most classes, do most assignments on time and who make passing grades.

Then there are those who cut class frequently, who come up with countless excuses for late assignments and who slip by with average or below-average grades.

Some just do not have it. They try and give it all they have, but just aren't blessed with an abundance of intelligence and learning capacity.

Few of us realize the amount of time most instructors spend on preparing lectures and conducting research. We would all be ashamed—those of us who consider ourselves busy—if we compared our schedules with the schedules of most instructors.

So, just as there are some instructors who do not live up to expectations, there are students who are wasting both their own time, the instructor's time and who are taking up precious space in the classroom.

Before we feel free to criticize an instructor again, let's ask ourselves if the problem could be our deficiency as a student. An instructor can teach only the student who wants to learn.

He cannot teach those who are thinking about the hot dish lined up for Saturday night or the chess game coming up next hour.

The instructor is human; thus, he enjoys the challenge of a good student just as any person doing a job enjoys a challenge.

Thought for the day: The only thing irritation really helps is the oyster in producing a pearl.

Man occasionally exhibits his real self. Man does his job, sometimes with a minimum of effort and sometimes arduously and articulately trying to benefit himself and others.

A mark of genuine sentimentality and understanding was shown last week by a staff member. He wishes to remain anonymous, and we will grant his wish.

He had been prodded for several days about buying tickets for the Four Lads show. He finally decided it was impossible for him to attend, but he forked out two dollars anyway.

"Buy a good ticket," he said. "I know there are many people who'd like to see the show and can't afford it. Just tell whoever you give the ticket to that it came from a friend."

The little things in life that so many people never know.

The following story appeared in the Highland (Ill.) Bulldog, a high school publication:

"A child was born in a Lebanon garage to Joseph and Mary Goldberg last night near midnight. The Goldbergs, residents of Bethlehem, Pa., were passing through town on their way home from a visit to friends in Missouri when the premature birth took place.

"Because of the McKendree Homecoming celebration, all available hotel and motel space was filled. The emergency forced the couple to take shelter in an unoccupied, run-down garage."

The ironical event occurred shortly before Christmas.

Salukis Maul Panthers, 109-58; Shoot .459, Hit 46 Field Goals

Shooting a respectable .495 from the field, 12 Saluki cagers figured in the scoring as Southern dumped Eastern Illinois' Panthers, 109-58, Friday night at Lantz Gymnasium in Charleston.

Coach Harry Gallatin's Salukis posted their 13th win against three setbacks with ease. It was the first time this season that Southern topped the century mark. Previous offensive high for SIU this season was 96 points on Jan. 5, when the Salukis buried the same punchless Eastern Illinois Panthers, 96-17.

Southern, the third-ranked small college team in the nation, is now 7-0 in conference play. The Salukis hit 46 of 93 shots from the field Friday night to set a new all-time team record for field goals in one game.

Old Record 42
The old mark of 42 was tied earlier this year against Illinois State's Redbirds. The standard had been set against Illinois State in the 1958-59 season and equalized the following year against North Central College.

Team leaders for Gallatin's crew were center Tom McGreal with 21 points and defense specialist Harold "Sonny" Bardo with 17 markers. Capt. Don Hepler and all-time scoring leader Charles Vaughn contributed 16 points apiece.

Spila Gets Nine

Bardo, who has just recently found the range, hit seven out of eight attempts from the field. Only one other Saluki had a better night percentage-wise, reserve forward Ed Spila hit four out of four and added one free throw for nine points.

The Salukis jumped off to a 2-0 lead on a tip-in shot by Hepler. Panther forward Gary Pals quickly tied the score with a 25-footer from the corner. The two teams traded buckets briefly until Southern exploded for 10 straight points to take a commanding 15-6 lead.

Southern expanded its lead to a 26-point margin at the half, 55-29.

Gallatin substituted freely in the second stanza as he employed his entire bench. Eastern never cut the margin. Reserve guard John Mees scored as the gun sounded, ending the game, giving Southern its biggest lead of the night—51 points—109-58.

Coach George Lubelt's Saluki freshmen cagers lost the preliminary contest, 79-70. Southern's yearlings handed Eastern its only loss of the season last week in Carbondale, 95-81.

Dupree Takes Second In LA's 600-Yd Dash

Jim Dupree, Southern's newly acquired thindlad, finished second in the 600-yard dash, Saturday night, in the Los Angeles Indoor Invitational. The race was won by Arizona State's Jamaica runner Mel Spence. Joe Mullins was third.

The AAU Open Meet attracted an array of 10 gold medal winners and 15 world record holders. Two new indoor world marks were set; one by shot putter Pary O'Brien and the other by Tennessee State's Ralph Boston in the broad jump.

Dupree, competing unattached from SIU, was a member of the Southern Illinois Saluki Track Club comprised of fellow Saluki Sonny Hocker and independents Dave and Don Styron.

The foursome, coached by SIU's Coach Lew Hartzog, failed to qualify for the mile relay. Dave finished fourth in the 60-yard dash that was won by world record holder Roscoe Cook of Oregon.

The meet was video taped and telecast Sunday afternoon on the CBS Sports Spectacular. The attendance for the reunion of Olympians was 12,000 in Los Angeles' new Sports Arena.

Castillo Named Top Michigan Tennis Player

Francisco "Pacho" Castillo, Southern's freshman tennis player from Hamtramck, Mich., is the No. 1 netter in the state of Michigan, according to recent rankings.

SIU Coach Dick LeFevre's prize yearling was named Michigan's top player in the men and junior divisions. He is also ranked 18th nationally in the 18-and-under class.

Castillo, according to tentative rankings, is the second ranked junior in the Western Lawn Tennis Assn. The WLTA comprises five midwestern states. Clark Graebner of Cleveland is the top ranking junior.

Who Knows . . .

Just how tough are Coach Harry Gallatin's Saluki cagers? That's what occurred in my mind last week when Western Michigan's Broncos dumped DePaul, 85-60.

Southern, ranked No. 3 in last week's small college poll, defeated the Broncos a week ago last night in Kalamazoo, 84-80. Then the Mid-American Conference Broncos played host to the nation's seventh-ranked major college, the DePaul Demons, a few nights later. DePaul, that snapped Louisville's 13-game winning streak, fell victim to Western Michigan quintet.

Basketball is a funny game but here are some scores that are worth noting: DePaul had beaten Western Michigan, 81-60 earlier in the season; Toledo defeated Western Michigan, 96-66; and Southern beat Toledo, at Toledo, 59-54.

The Salukis are 13-3 for the campaign and 7-0 in IIAAC conference play. Southern was only out of one of the three contests it lost. SIU lost its season opener to the then-nationally ranked North Carolina State Wolfpack, 88-69. Southern's other two setbacks were by a total of four points—to Northeast Missouri, 82-80, and to the No. 1 small college team, Tennessee A & I, 95-93.

Southern, a shoo-in for an undisputed league title, has done what some have termed the unbelievable. Common consensus says that all conference teams are hard to beat on their home court. The Salukis whipped Northern Illinois' Huskies, 92-62, and the Panthers of Eastern Illinois, 109-58 on their home hardwoods.

The chips will be down Jan. 31 when the Tennessee A & I State Tigers meet the Salukis in Carbondale Community High School's new

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS: DEAR DR. FROOD:

DR. FROOD'S THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: A penny saved is a penny earned. And if you could put away a penny a week for one year . . . why, you will have fifty-two cents!

Dear Dr. Frood: Our college mascot is a great big lovable Saint Bernard. He loves everyone—except me. In fact, he has bitten me viciously eight times. What can I do to get him to like me?

Frustrated Dog Lover

DEAR FRUSTRATED: Mother him. To carry this off, I suggest you wear a raccoon coat, let your hair and eyebrows grow shaggy and learn to whimper affectionately.

Dear Dr. Frood: Most of my life here is extracurricular. I carry the drum for the band, pull the curtain for the drama society, wax the court for the basketball team, scrape the ice for the hockey team, clap erasers for the faculty club and shovel snow for the fraternity houses. Do you think these activities will really help me when I get out of college?

Eager

DEAR EAGER: I don't think the college will let you out.

Dear Dr. Frood: On New Year's Eve I foolishly resolved to be more generous with my Luckies. My friends have held me to this, and I've been forced to give away several packs a day. What do you think would happen if I broke this resolution?

Resolute

DEAR RESOLUTE: It's hard to tell, really. Lightning, a runaway horse, a tornado—who knows?

Dear Dr. Frood: Before vacation, my girl and I agreed to exchange Christmas presents. I sent her a nice hanky. You can imagine how I felt when I awoke Christmas morning to find a sports car from her. What can I do now?

Distraught

DEAR DISTRAUGHT: Remind her that Easter giving time is just around the corner.

Dear Dr. Frood: Can you help me convince my girl that I'm not as stupid as she thinks I am?

Anxious

DEAR ANXIOUS: Perhaps, but you'll have to convince me first.

TO GET A QUICK LIFT, suggests Frood, step into an elevator and light up a Lucky. Instantly, your spirits will rise. When you savor your Lucky, you're in—for college students smoke more Luckies than any other regular. They're a wisd-up bunch who've known all along that Luckies taste great. Get the cigarettes with the toasted taste—get Luckies.

The Eyes Have It

By Larry Mayer

Rabbit Eye Research

An interesting article which mainly concerns research studies of rabbits appeared in the September, 1960 issue of "Illinois Wildlife," the official publication of the Illinois Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs. It's author, Rexford D. Lord, Jr., of the Illinois Natural History Survey in Urbana, reports that the following has been learned about cottontail rabbits.

(1) Three-fourth of the cottontails live less than 4 months; (2) The number of rabbits increases each year during the March to July part of the breeding season to five times the original number;

(3) Two-thirds of the rabbits alive during midsummer are dead before the hunting season opens;

Other Reasons

(4) A maximum of only 35 per cent of the rabbit deaths during the hunting season generally are caused by hunters; (5) The odds of surviving to breed in the next year are much greater for rabbits born during the last half of the seven month breeding season than for rabbits born during the first three months of breeding, which in Illinois is March, April and May.

How did the researchers determine the ages of the rabbits? The title of Lord's article, "The Eyes Have It," gives a clue. The researchers determined the ages by weighing the lenses of the rabbit eyes.

Lens Grows

"The medical world has long known the lens of the eye is one of the few organs of the body that grows throughout life, but until recently the only people concerned with the phenomenon were research men interested in alleviating the effects of middle-age farsightedness." Lord stated in his article.

The next column will contain a discussion of the current rabbit season as well as more rabbit research information from Lord's article.

Tennessee Tickets On Sale Friday

The game is Tuesday, Jan. 31 in Carbondale Community High School's new gymnasium that seats 3,500.

An increase of 400 tickets will be given to the student body due to the enlarged seating capacity. If any of the 1,200 tickets allotted to the students are remaining after Friday's distribution, they will be given to any student with an activity card on Monday afternoon from 1-4.

Arrangements are being made for bus service to the CCHS gymnasium on the night of the game.

SIU Swimmers Sink Cincy's Bearcats, 51-43

Southern, with a skeleton swimming crew, defeated the University of Cincinnati, 51-43, Saturday afternoon in Cincinnati.

Coach Ralph Casey's Saluki swimmers won their third dual meet of the season without the services of co-captain Ray Padovan, diver Jeff Wandell, sprint specialist Bill Jensen and distance ace Jim Fountain.

The four mermen, who were traveling in the same car, left later for the meet than their teammates. They ran into bad weather at Evansville, Ind. and were forced to turn back for Carbondale. Saluki Clyde Epperson didn't make the trip.

Co-captain Walt Rodgers led the SIU entry in the meet with Cincy's Bearcats. Rodgers copped first in the individual medley and the 400-yard freestyle race. Walt's times were 2:14.3 and 4:53.2, respectively.

Other Saluki individual firsts were scored by Ernie Gonzales, Ballatore, Ellis and Asmusen. Gonzales took diving honors, Asmusen copped the 200-yard breaststroke in 2:34.7, Ellis and Ballatore posted times of 2:15.7 in the 200-yard butterfly and the 200-yard backstroke, respectively.

SIU's next swimming meet is Saturday afternoon when the Salukis host North Central College and Richard Blick, who has been named the top Illinois athlete the last two years, swam the fastest leg on the U.S. relay team that set the world record at the Rome Olympic Games.

Coach Casey is expected to send Southern's Tarzan, Padovan, against Blick in the 220-yard freestyle race.

1961 AFROTC QUEEN CANDIDATES

JANE STATLER

Jane is a freshman from Carmi majoring in secondary education. She brings from high school a host of honors, including prom queen, Tri-State Prep Sweetheart, editor of the high school yearbook and recipient of the Good Citizenship Award. Jane had a 3.9 average in her first quarter at Southern.

GAYANNE GUTHERZ

Straight from the blue grass of Kentucky is Gayanne Gutherz, a junior. Gayanne is a member of Beta Club, Sigma Alpha Eta, the Dramatics Club and the University chorus and band. The speech correction major has a 3.5 overall average. She hails from Marion, Ky.

JOYCE VIZER

Another freshman breaking into collegiate royalty circles is Joyce Vizer, pert coed from Granite City. Joyce is a Sigma Sigma Sigma and is a member of the Angel Flight. She was secretary of Christmas Week, but still compiled a 4.0 average in her first quarter. She is a business management major.

KAY WOODRUFF

This attractive freshman from Hillsboro racked up a 4.9 average in her first quarter, but still had time to pledge the Angel Flight. Kay, a Woody Hall inhabitant, was active in a host of events in high school. She was a Homecoming queen candidate and was crowned the Old Settler's queen.

SANDY NEWBROUGH

Sandy was named Miss Thompson Point last year and was an attendant in the Homecoming court. Sandy, a Tri Sig pledge, is information officer in the Angel Flight and a member of last year's Thompson Point Social Council. Sandy was a candidate for Miss Southern Acres and Miss Southern.

Final Queen Ballots Cast Today Galleries Receive $25,000

The 1961 Military Ball Queen was elected Tuesday—half-way elected, that is.

Because of the size of the ROTC cadet corps, the members of Wing I voted for the five queen candidates last Tuesday with Wing II scheduled to view the lovely coeds and cast their ballots today.

The 2200 cadets and cadet officers will elect Joyce Vizer, Jane Statler, Gayanne Gutherz, Sandy Newbrough, or Kay Woodruff to the ROTC throne.

The ROTC's big weekend, titled "Holiday in Blue," is Feb. 3-4 and is the only formal affair during the year at Southern. Friday night presents the "Review in Blue" in Stryock Auditorium with AFROTC talent featured on the program. Tickets are on sale at $1.75 cents, and 50 cents.

Ticket sales are at Wheeler Hall and the Student Union for Saturday night's Military Ball presenting the Buddy Moreno Orchestra of St. Louis.

Persons attending the strictly formal Ball not members of the ROTC department must wear tuxedos or formal. Again this year, the University will provide transportation to and from the Carbondale National Guard Armory where the dance will be held.

Directors Cast Wingless Victory

With a cast of 15, the Southern Players will present "Wingless Victory," a tragedy by Maxwell Anderson, here Feb. 17-19 and 21-25.

The cast will include Eleanor Guerin of Arlington, Va., as a girl; Victor Cook of E. St. Louis, as Rev. Phineas McQuestion; James Kaps, Berwyn, as Jared Mungo; Bill Bourns of Salem, as Winston Urquhart.

Nancy Longwell of Herrin and Louise Gordon of Chicago, will alternate in the rolls of Mrs. McQuestion and Oparre, the two female leads. This situation is unusual since the conflict between Mrs. McQuestion and Oparre is one of the major issues of the play.

Roger Long of Decatur will play Ruel McQuestion; Jo McCord of Watseka will take the part of Venture, Phineas' wife; Kathleen Whitelock of Metropolis, Faith Ingalls; Philip Dougherty of Des Plaines, Happy Penny; Judith Packard of Morton Grove as Letty.

Allan Rothman of St. Louis will play Nathaniel McQuestion; Janet Moomey of Decatur will play Toala; Judy Helton of Carbondale, Durian; and Neil Newlon of Galesburg will play Harry, a bailiff.

Productions previously staged at Southern by Dr. Abrams include: "A Streetcar Named Desire," "Dairy of Anne Frank," "Picnic," and "Lady in the Dark."

Season coupon holders may reserve seats beginning Feb. 3. General sale will begin Feb. 10 at which time the Playhouse box office will be open weekdays 10-11 a.m. and 3-4 p.m. Single admissions are $1.

Union Sponsors B'Ball Trip

Oscar Robertson, Bob Pettitt, Cliff Hagen—for $3.50.

The Student Union will sponsor a trip to Kiel Auditorium Saturday, Feb. 11, for the National Basketball Assn. tilt between the St. Louis Hawks and Cincinnati Royals.

Tickets for $3.50, which covers the game and cost of transportation, are on sale at the Student Union information desk. Forty-seven ducats will be sold on a first-come basis, Paul Anderson of the Activities Development Office said.

Students must file a trip permit prior to leaving campus.

APO Looks For SIU's 'Ugly Man'

Monsters will have their day at Southern next month.

The "ugliest man on campus" will be selected by voting Feb. 6-18 and the winner will receive $85 in prizes from local merchants.

The annual Ugly Man Contest, sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, is a nationwide charity fund raising affair.

Any club, dorm, organized house, fraternity or sorority may enter a man in the competition. Required are two 8 by 10 photos which will be taken by the Photo Service for $1.80. The photos will be displayed in the Student Union.

Votes, to be cast at the Student Union and Lentz Hall, will cost one cent each. The winning monster may select a charity to receive the proceeds.

Prizes will include a watch, gift certificates, a stereo record, movie passes, and a tie bar and cuff link set.

NINE PER CENT MAKE DEAN'S LIST

Some 884 undergraduate students at Southern Illinois University—9 per cent of the total campus enrollment—have been cited by their academic deans for scholastic achievement during the fall quarter.

To achieve ranking in the Deans' lists, students must have maintained grade point averages of 4.25 or above (5.0 is perfect) and have taken 12 or more credit hours of class work.

SAM MEETS THURSDAY

The Society for Advancement of Management will meet Thursday at 10 a.m. in Barracks G, Room 110. Tickets for the SAM banquet will be distributed at the meeting, and nominations for officers will be discussed.

More than $25,000 worth of new art work has been received by SIU for the University Galleries the past year. Most of the art received has been gifts.

Curator Benjamin Watkins said efforts have been made in the past year to build up the gallery archives and to set up several art galleries on the campus.

Since then dozens of gifts, both works of art and cash, have been received from leading art patrons.

Art Contributions

Recent gifts have included a cast bronze sculpture by Italy's Mario Negri; the painting, "Ruby Nude," by John Sloan, a founder of the "Ashean School;" a modern abstraction by Genichoro Inokuma; Alexander Brooks' oil painting, "Interior,;" and "Miss R.," a nude by the late Walt Kuhn.

"Interior" is a gift of actress Helen Hayes, who received an honorary degree from SIU last spring. "Miss R." was a part of the collection of Miss Hayes' late husband, playwright Charles MacArthur. The painting has been loaned to the Galleries for five years.

The Negri sculpture, "Standing Man," is a 14-inch-high piece whose value is estimated at $900. It was given to the University by Allan D. Emil, prominent New York collector. The Sloan work was a gift of Edward Bergman, Chicago collector.

A cash gift from Mrs. Gertrude Perrin, New York, made possible the purchase of the Inokuma painting, a large red abstraction.

Market Rises

"A rising art market" has already had an influence on the Galleries' net worth, said art department chairman Warren Brandt who is also director of the Galleries.

"Very Dark Mountain," a noted painting by American modernist Milton Avery, was donated last year when its worth was estimated at $3,000. Brandt says the same painting would bring $7,000 now.

Concentration now is on completing the Mitchell Gallery in the Home Economics building, near the formal lounge. Expected to be done in May or June, it will be in a rich setting including carpeting and special lighting.

The Mitchell Gallery, being completed by a New York decorator, was made possible through a $10,000 contribution of Mr. and Mrs. John Russell Mitchell of Mt. Vernon. An additional cash gift was received from the Martin Oil Company.

Upon completion, the Gallery will open with a formal exhibition of the Mitchell's own art collection, followed by regular exhibits.

Says NBC Commentator

Dangers To World Peace 'Staggering'

By D. G. Schumacher

Warning that the "dangers to world peace in the years ahead are staggering," veteran foreign correspondent Irving R. Levine related insights on "Soviet Foreign Policy Seen from the Inside and Outside" to a sparse audience in Shryock Auditorium Thursday night.

In what William R. Mofield of the School of Communications, who introduced the NBC commentator, described as "another of the University's cultural enrichment programs," Levine cited observations from Russia, India, Italy and Africa, concentrating on Russia, where he spent four years as NBC's Moscow correspondent.

Levine stressed that Khrushchev's Russia is "a far cry from Stalin's," that Russia is changing for the betterment of the Soviet people, showing a greater concern for the production of consumer goods and use of installment buying, reduction of the work week from 48 to 42 hours, introduction of a minimum wage and admission of more visitors.

Levine said Khrushchev "admits visitors because he believes Russia has something to be proud of—and she does."

While believing that the "greatest hope for peace in the world for years ahead lies in the changes in Russia," the commentator pointed out that "The challenge is still there—only in different terms."

The Brown University graduate, who later received his MA from Columbia, cited India as the "test case." In that country, he said, with its incredible poverty, is the most crucial conflict between communism and democracy.

"If China succeeds, and India fails," Levine predicted, "the future of democracy looks dim in Asia and other parts of the world."

The International News Service European correspondent until 1950, who just two weeks ago returned to this country from the Congo, described the situation there as "like trying to drive a nail in a board with a banana—both equally frustrating."

Recognizing that the UN is trying to perform a task made no easier by (1) disagreement in the UN, and (2) differences of opinion between the UN and Belgium, Levine said both the UN and Belgium could help the situation.

The UN, he indicated, might be less insistent that Belgium work through them, and Belgium by being more co-operative with the UN.

The Belgians, who in leaving the Congo "left a vacuum which was what the Russians wanted," are now beginning to return, according to Levine.

Citing the "deplorable army" of the Congo as one of the many dangers there, Levine believes that failure of the UN to disarm the army was a mistake.

The commentator recalled broadcasting from a heavily guarded radio station in Leopoldville. Congolese soldiers there who demanded to be shown government passes couldn't read. Many times, he said, the soldiers held the passes upside-down to "read" them. Once a correspondent used a restaurant menu in lieu of a pass.

Following more lectures and "a couple of week's leave," Levine will return to Rome, probably about Feb. 15.

Obelisk Staff Pushing To Meet Deadlines

Forty-eight pages done and 318 pages to go—that's the current story of the 1961 Obelisk.

Editor Ron Rathburger said the copy, pictures and layout are due March 31. The yearbook will be distributed the first of June.

The five full-page color shots have been taken, Rathburger said. Three of the color shots were taken by amateur photographers, but most of the pictures were taken by the SIU Photographic Service. About 60 per cent of the pictures have been processed.

Rathburger said only the cover will be in three colors. He said the 4,500 copies could be themed as a study of life with a modern approach.

The book will be divided into activities, academic life, organizations, Greeks, living groups, junior and senior individual pictures and spots.
