Southern Students Burglars Steal 271 Pounds of Meat Win Two Firsts At Speech Contest

Roy Clark and Doris Schwinn of Southern won top honors at the Illinois Intercollegiate Oratorical association meet held at Monmouth college last week end.

Clark won first in the men's oratorical division with "Noblesse Oblige," a discussion of race relations, while Schwinn won first in the women's division with "Something of a Man," an eulogy of John L. Lewis.

Last year at the meet Tom Sloan won first in the men's division while Schwinn won second in the women's division. Sloan entered extemporaneous speaking at the meet this year, but did not place.

Winning second in the men's division was Stanley Rive, Illinois Normal while Paul Koester, Eastern, was third. Janice Schrage, Augustana, was second in the women's division while Mary Margaret Stewart was third.

Participating in the meet were nine college and universities—Eastern, Northern, Illinois Normal, Western, Southern, Augustana, Illinois Wesleyan, and Bradley.

Southern's Madrigal singers, with similar groups from area high schools and Madrigal alumni as guests, will present a concert in the Little Theatre at 8 p. m. Monday, Feb. 26.

The University Madrigals will do two groups of numbers, and the organizations from Carmi, Benton, and Murphysboro will do one group each. Then alumni of the university Madrigals will be invited to join the present members for a group of favorite selections. The program will close with all participants in the concert singing a set of songs together. This group will include approximately 50 singers in Elizabethan costumes plus the alumni. Fifteen or more alumni are expected to be present.

KDA Variety Show to be Staged Tomorrow Night

The time is 8 p. m., and the setting is Shryock auditorium for the fourth annual KDA Variety Show, to be presented tomorrow night on campus. Tickets will be available at 7 p. m.

Variety Show Head Has Full Schedule

Gene Johns, chairman of the coming KDA Variety Show Feb. 21, may not be the busiest man on campus, but he's making a good attempt. Aside from being an active member of Kappa Delta Alpha, Gene has a part-time job, is carrying 18 hours, and is majoring in the difficult subject of government.

The 21 year-old junior from Harrisburg was chairman of the Variety Show last year when the presentation was taken off campus for the first time in its history. This year, Johns' plans call for two off-campus affairs, which will involve the busy student in quite a bit of extra work.

FOR A FELLOW of 21 years, Johns has really been around. He served two years in the Navy, dur*in the auditorium foyer. Advance sales point to a sell-out audience to view the 20 best acts from SIU talent.

Gene Johns, chairman of the show, issued a hearty welcome to all students and townspeople. "The entire proceeds of the show will go to Southern charities," Johns said. "and we hope everyone takes advantage of one of the finest theatrical talent productions we have all year." Johns had previously stated that this year's show appeared to be one of the best in the history of the Variety Show.

THE SHOW WILL open with a chorus line, "The Rockettes," made up of Anthony Hall girls. Following this will be a KDA chorus line made up of frat members.

Other outstanding acts on the agenda are the Chuck White trio, Tri Sigs' impersonation of "Juke Box Saturday Night," glowing tap-dancers of Delta Sigma Epsilon, Tom Berry's song and dance rou-ing which time he visited the Arctic, the Mediterranean area, the Gulf of Mexico, and both coasts of the United States.

Last spring, he was a student of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington, D. C., and he's now awaiting a call for the Air Corps cadets.

Just keeping up with the outside reading required in government would keep most students busy, but Johns isn't content to waste an idle moment. After school, he works for a cleaning agency, picking up dirty clothes, and delivering clean ones. He bought a car this fall, and uses it in making his deliveries, which often keeps him busy until late at night.

IN ADDITION TO all this, Johns finds time to take part in extra curricular activities at Southern. He was on the Student Council his sophomore year, and has been the fraternity's nominee for class president on two occasions.

But right now, he's busy at another task, that of running another show—the all-school Variety Show. Meeting with various committees time, "Singer of Songs" Bob Hahn, Tau Kappa Epsilon's impression of an army recruiting center, and some humorous tumbling by Bill Nichols and Les Barnes.

Frat members Jim Kahmann, Al Spizzo, and Norm Megeff will handle the master of ceremonies introductions, and sing a few original songs in addition.

HUBERT (BUD) LOFTUS, winner of the Service to Southern award last year, and now a member of the government department, will make the presentations tomorrow night. Over 50 applications for the Service to Southern awards were received, and the faculty committee is to vote on the five finalists this afternoon in the (continued on page 3)

'Service to Southern' Finalists are Chosen

The five finalists for the Service to Southern awards were selected at a faculty awards committee meeting last Friday. Another meeting will be held at 4 p. m. today in Student Center, to select the man and woman most deserving of the gold watch award. The presentation of these awards is one of the highlights of the Variety Show Wednesday night.

Mary Boston, Virginia Miller, Doris Schwinn, Mary Ellen Dillard, and Pat Colligan were selected as the five women finalists. Tom Sloan, Jim Walker, Chuck Elliott, Ray Palmer, and Bob McCabe walked off with finalists honors for the men.

The finalists were selected on the basis of their "Service to Southern" in past years.

takes a considerable amount of time in itself, and Gene's schedule often requires him to be at two places at the same time. But this doesn't seem to bother Johns. The jovial frat man just isn't happy unless he's busy.

Better Suggestions Needed

The KDA's, sponsor of the annual Variety Show, are earnestly trying to find a worthwhile way to spend the profits from this year's Variety Show.

In the past the KDA's have given the money to held Southern in some way, such as aiding the Student Center.

At present two suggestions are being considered:

1. To buy a gold medallion for President Morris to wear on formal occasions.

2. To buy a television set at the Student Center.

WE THINK THE KDA's would be wise to turn thumbs down on both these suggestions.

The gold medallion would be a good gift, we'll admit, but we thing Southern with its many needs for money, can put the money to better use.

Certainly we would enjoy seeing television at the Student Center. We think the television set would be of benefit to so few persons, however, that it would not be worth the cost.

At present we have no specific suggestions for using the money. However, we think the KDA's would be wise to wait until later before earmarking their money.

Students having suggestions for spending the profits from the Show should notify the KDA's. B. H.

Vote for the Southern Flyers

An important election to get a new team nickname for Southern is being held today along with Spring Festival chairman election.

We have no suggestion as to the best person for Spring Festival, but in the name election, we recommend "Southern Flyers."

Warriors, Knights, and Southern Colonels sound too old for a growing university like Southern and Marauders is too hard to pronounce.

Flyers is easy to pronounce and has a modern connotation.

Why Reporters Misspell

THE DISCOVERY HAS been made—and it is duly reported in the trade paper, Editor and Publisher—that reporters, and particularly graduates of schools of journalism, can't spell.

The news is stale. Any city editor could have told you that, right back to the days when news was slugged out with a chisel on a block of stone. A reporter was once fired from the Sennacherib owned Babylonian Bugle for spelling Ham-murabi with only one "m."

But why single out reporters and why single out graduates of journalism schools? As Editor and Publisher promptly pointed out, Stanley Walker of the New York Herald Tribune once remarked that if a man was a lousy speller at the age of 12, he would be a lousy speller at 60; and schools of journalism do not admit students at the age of 12.

THE FACT IS, THAT very few people can spell, and those who can are never able to describe the trick to others. Educationalists wrestle with the subject in vain. Methods of teaching change faster than light travels, and text books offering a new method sell quicker than snake oil at a county fair. All to no effect. Each rising generation provides the same number of victims of spelling methods. They all valiantly resist any attempt to knock spelling into their heads.

It is time for someone to speak clearly and say that perhaps after all it doesn't matter, Shakespeare's spelling was frightful, yet he got by.

IT IS HARD TO UNDERSTAND why "harass" should have only one "r" while "embarrass" has two. "Britain" is spelled with one "t" but "Brittany" is spelled with two. If you add "ed" to the word "pot," you are told to add another "t" and spell it "potted." But if you do the same thing with the word "limit," the blue pencil strikes.

If you find it possible to "manage" something it becomes "manageable" but if you find something can be "reduced," it becomes "reducible." Where has the "e" gone to?

That is why a reporter's spelling is unmanageable and a city editor is reducible to tears. (Montreal Star)

Variety Show Has Fine Talent

By Harry Reinert

Today students will select this year's Spring Festival chairman from a slate of six nominated last week. As this column has done so often in the past, every student is urged to go to the polls. As usual, publicity for the various candidates was slow in getting under way for today's election. We hope that some day a candidate for some office will appear with enough imagination and stamina to really put on an all-out election campaign—stump speeches and all.

The results of last week's poll of students concerning the establishment of an ROTC on campus were extremely encouraging—a round 85% of 2,000 votes were cast in favor of the plan. We hope that the remaining matters necessary for Southern to get a unit will be equally successful.

STUDENTS WHO MISS the Variety Show tomorrow night will regret it. It's been said before, and it is worth saying again—this is one of the highlights of the season on campus. The acts on the show represent some of the finest talent on campus, and as an added incentive, the Service to Southern awards will be made after the last act.

Finals begin two weeks from today. "Nuff said."

Students who do remain on campus on the week ends, or who come back early should note that the library is open from 2 to 5 p. m. Sundays—an excellent chance to get in some last-minute cramming.

Evidently, the question of a Southern emblem is going to be settled at last—after many years of empty promises to decide the issue finally this time. The student vote in the election today will tell the tale. The Alumni service is to be congratulated for stirring up enough interest in this problem to make it possible for it to be settled. If it's the money that did it, it's money well spent.

Notable quote: Obstinacy and vehemency in opinion are the surest proofs of stupidity.

The Storyteller

Three Little Pigs Build Their Homes

by Robert L. Coover

Once upon a time there were three little Pigs (this is using the term mildly), Permonella Pig, Percivalia Pig, and Pippilina Pig.

Having saved a considerable fortune from performances in the chorus line in the KDA Variety show the young misses decided to build a home.

Permonella wanted a nice little rose-covered bungalow with green shutters and constructed of plywood.

PERCIVALIA wanted a stately old home built of bricks, wood and cellophane.

Pippilina was interested in something more along the "Chatterbox" line.

So the three young maidens split up their finances and proceeded to build their homes. A week later they moved in. (Anything can happen in fairy tales.)

Needless to say, this story has its villain—one Marmaduke Q. Wolf. Marmaduke had been admiring these three Pigs for some time, so one day he decided to call on Miss Permonella Pig.

"Oh, Miss Permonella," sang Marmaduke as he kicked on the door, "let me in."

"Shove it, schmuck," said Miss Permonella.

"I'll huff and I'll puff and I'll Marmaduke through the keyhole. "So, blow, schome," replied Miss Permonella daintily.

ANGRILY, MARMADUKE Q. Wolf huffed and he puffed and he puffed and he huffed UNTIL - - - he was out of breath.

"Gotta quit smokin'," said M. Q., and he proceeded to the home of Percivalia Pig. Inside, Miss Percivalia was munching on her pickled peoples' feet and brushing up on her pig-latin.

"Open, fair maiden, and let me in," squeaked Marmaduke fiercely.

"Nay, not by a hair of my chiny, chin, chin," replied Miss Percivalia.

"Egad," thought Marmaduke, "a beared lady." And he proceeded to the home of Pippilina Pig.

She was the smart pig. She let the wolf in.

Jury Sets $113,500 As Fair Price In Southern Land Suit

Jurors in the closely-contested land condemnation suit brought by Southern Illinois University against four landowners of property adjoining the campus last week tabbed Southern for $113,500 as the total fair cash market value of the four properties.

The verdict, returned to the Jackson County court at Murphysboro, Judge C. E. Wright presiding, closed the door on the hardest fought law case in Jackson county for several years.

THE CASE CONSUMED eight days of court hearings, including three days on a hearing on a motion-to-dismiss the original condemnation petition in November, 1950.

The motion-to-dismiss was overruled and the case went to trial, with final arguments presented last Thursday morning, and the decision Thursday night.

A breakdown of the jury verdict lists $65,000 for the Calhoun Cavaness property, $20,000 for the Wallace H. Jones property, $16,000 for the William Cox property, and $12,500 for the William Gray, Jr. property.

The four awards are reportedly considerably above the offers made by the University prior to the condemnation proceeding.

EXTRA VALUE was attached to the Cavaness property due to a chicken hatchery business conducted in specially-constructed brooder houses on the Cavaness property.

The four tracts of land lie in the vicinity south of the new training school, in the area of Grand and Thompson avenues, and Chautauqua street.

In its original petition, the University decreed the land as necessary to a long range expansion program now under way. Land owners fought the condemnation on the grounds that the University already has sufficient unoccupied land for the purposes as set out in the expansion program.

Present location of the University cafeteria once housed a tavern.

THE FIRST TIME

Tom Millikin, captain of our basketball team, adds another notch to his scoring totum every time he scores a point. Going into the Washington U. contest last week, "Big T" had just become the first-basketball player in the history of SFU to score 400 points in a single season. No other player in Southern's history, and that includes Stoitar, Stinson, Colborn, Hughes, Sebastian, and Sheffer, has ever scored that many points in a single season.

Going into the Normal contest here Saturday night, Tom had 426 points, and still had three games to go. It isn't entirely impossible that he'll hit the 500 mark, but even if he doesn't, he has given future players at Southern quite a mark to shoot at. He himself has another year left here, and he could well surpass this year's staggering total.

MEET ME IN CHAMPAIGN?

The NAIB district playoffs are to be held this year in Huff gym in Champaign, on the University of Illinois campus March 6th and 7th. And while Eastern is a shoe-in, Southern is still not to be counted out—provided they took Normal Saturday night. Northern has to play both Eastern and Western yet this year, so their 7-3 record will certainly be altered. And Western has to meet Southern and Northern, thereby possibly hurting their 6-3 standing. As of now, Southern has a 6-4 record, but it could be 8-4 at the season's end.

COMING STARS

A couple of new men on the basketball squad gave promise of future cage brilliance in the Washington U. game. Stan (Pony) Horst and Jack Theriot, two men who had previously seen limited action in varsity games, really came through in grand style against the Bears. Horst has played good ball whenever he has been in the game, and what he lacks in offensive ability, he makes up for in rebounding, tip-ins, and his great defensive work.

Theriot is a real speedster, and is a valuable man to have around whenever coach Holder wants to use the press. This little guy is all over the floor, and covers two men seemingly at the same time. He also is an excellent shot, and a hard driver.

INSIDE THE . . . INTRAMURALS

by Jim Dowell

The intramural basketball league has advanced to the playoffs. Eighteen of the 36 teams that started in the intramural action are now battling for the championship of the league with three games being played per night.

Tonight the Manor House and the Hoopston Cornjerkers will battle at 7:30. The remaining two games will depend on the winners of last night's action.

Cagers Finish Up Conference Season Against Western

Following their unexpected loss to Illinois Normal last Saturday, the Maroon cagers of Lynn Holder will journey to Western this Saturday to wind up their conference play. The outcome of the Western contest is not too important, since Southern lost all hopes to reach the NAIB playoffs in losing to Normal.

SIU nipped Western, 60-57 here last month, but the Leathernecks are always tough on their home court. Southern will have a play a much better brand of ball Saturday in order to emerge the winner in this contest. Western is currently in third place in the conference with a 7-3 record.

After losing to Normal, the Maroons' loop record stands at 6-5. A loss to Western would therefore drop the local cagers to a .500 won-and-lost record in loop play. The Maroons still have a 12-11 season's showing, however.

Western has the tallest team in the league, averaging well over six feet in height. Gene Redman, the Leatherneck's ace center, is 6-5, and the other members of the first five aren't much smaller.

Kappa Delta Alpha Holds Narrow Lead in Bowling League

In the SIU Hellenic roll-down of the Carbondale bowling league, the Nu Epsilon Alpha keggers scored the only sweep of the evening having as their victims the Delta Sigma Epsilon fems and gained a game on Kappa Delta Alpha, the league leaders.

The NEA's are now only half game out of first place. Bob Nicol's 528 setto spear-headed the attack and assisted by August Schwartz's timely 445 effort, J. K. Williams' 407 and Dolores Hamp's 400 were noteworthy efforts for the victimized Delta Sigma gals.

The leading Kappa Delta Alpha quintet pummeled the evening's high 2259 series which won two games from Pi Kappa Sigma. Bob Barnhart set the fireworks for the winners with a 547 beauty with Chuck Elliott's 487 another vital contribution. The Pi Kapp's had the assistance in their lone win of Jackie Bittner's 147 and Celia Hutton's 137 games.

Chi Delta Chi pinsters only managed to poke out a 2,041 tally but it was good enough to beat the cellar dwelling Alpha Phi Alpha outfit in the odd game and moved into third place for their efforts. Jim Throgmorton's 499 took top-flight honors on the pairs of alleys.

In the other set on the card Tau Kappa Epsilon trimmed Sigma Sigma Sigma twice with the aid of Fred Pemberton's 465 and Lee Tripp's 454. Wilda Wood of the victims rifled a 485 to take the laurels for the pair of alleys.

Maroons Off at Bucket; Lose To Normal, 68-63

By Jim (Scoop) Dowell

Illinois State Normal University staged a scoring spurt in the final four minutes to down the Maroons in their last home basketball game of the season, 68-63, Saturday night.

The Maroons jumped ahead at the first of the game, and held a seven point advantage at halftime, 37-30. At one time during the final stanza the Holdermen led by 11 points. Then Normal's Glenn Hornsbruck and Bill Sarver went on a scoring spree to turn the 11-point deficit into a six-point asset. Normal stalled the ball the last minute of the contest.

Tom Millikin and Bill Garrett shared high honors with 13 points. Bob Nickolaus was the second high scorer with 11 points. Millikin turned in the worst performance of this year's home schedule. Generally "Big T" is a second half ball player, but Saturday night he couldn't find the hoop, even when he was directly under it. Normal wasn't much better. They were missing shots under the basket as much as Southern.

Bill Sarver was the top tallier for the Redbirds with nine field goals and two free throws for a total of 20 points. Glenn Hornsbruck was the Redbird runner-up with eight field buckets and three foul goals for a total of 19 counters.

Coach Lynn Holder fielded a partially new team in the Saturday night contest. Freshman Bob Nickolaus started in the place of Bob Johnson, and big Bob Wichmann jumped center.

HOLDER DID NOT use his two bigger boys, Chuck Thate and Jerry Hollopeter. Instead he substituted with Stan Horst, Jack Theriot, and Shiran Eckert. Even though these boys played a good brand of ball on defense, they could not compare with Thate and Hollopeter on rebounds and under the basket shots.

Bob Nickolaus showed fans how he obtained fame in high school as a high jumper. In several instances during the game Nickolaus soared three and four feet above the floor to block a shot.

Little Jack Theriot, with only a minute to go in the game had only one foul. With 15 seconds remaining, Theriot was back on the bench with five fouls, having received four fouls in trying to steal the ball during the Normal stall.

The Southern Bees were also downed by a quintet from Grand Tower, 70-67.
