AN ADDED FEATURE to this year's Greek Week, was the Greek workshop held on Wednesday evening. Don Mallot, dean of men at Purdue university, was the featured speaker. Following the speech, separate discussion groups for sorority and fraternity officers were held at the chapter houses. This year's scholarship awards for the Greek organizations were awarded at the Honors Day assembly on Thursday morning. Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity received the Inter-Fraternity scholarship trophy for the second consecutive year. The Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority was awarded the scholarship plaque for winter term.

To Hold All School Pep Rally Tonight

An all-school pep rally will be held tonight at 6:30 p.m. on the parking lot at Illinois and Grand avenues across from the music house, announced Bud Randolph, student chairman of the rally.

Purpose of the rally is to form a pep club on campus. The rally will be the kick-off of the proposed club. A newly organized pep club would, at future athletic events, form a cheering section in the bleachers. The organizing committee has discussed plans for sweaters or emblems which would be worn by the group at these events.

Aside from the traditional bonfire rally, entertainment will be featured at the pep rally tonight. The Chi Deltones, Chi Delta Chi fraternity quartet, and the Southern Jazz band will perform. Candidates who plan to try out at the cheerleading try-outs tomorrow night will be presented at the Rally.

All students are urged to attend the meet.

Begin Three-Day Stand Of 'Medea' Tomorrow

"Medea," this year's spring play, to be presented Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, May 21, 22, and 23, will be the third play presented by Southern's speech department and the Little Theatre with central staging as the medium of presentation.

Advance Ticket Sales Begin For Junior-Senior Prom

Tickets for the annual Junior-Senior Prom to be held in the women's gym Friday, May 23, beginning at 9 p.m. may be purchased in advance at University Drugs, the Student Center or from any of the prom committee members.

Tickets for juniors will be one dollar per couple. The prom will be given in honor of the seniors by the junior class.

Phillip Olson's College All Star orchestra will play at the formal event which will have a Cypress Garden as its decorative theme.

Doug Shepherd, chairman of the prom and president of the junior class, said that the entertainment committee has planned, in addition to dancing, other entertainment for the 10:30 to 11 p.m. intermission period.

STUDENT COMMITTEES working in preparation for the prom are: decorations—Carroll Cox and Doug Shepherd; invitations and dance programs—Mary Ellen Hayes, Connie Meyers, and Betty McLaughlin; entertainment—Robert Robertson; and publicity—Carol Henderson and Bob Coatney.

Dr. William M. Lewis, assistant professor of zoology, is the faculty sponsor of the prom. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bach and Dr. and Mrs. William Tudor will serve as chaperones.

In central staging, the audience is on the stage on three sides of the set. According to Dr. Archibald McLeod, director of the play, central staging gives the actors the advantage of being able to portray subtle and delicate motion which would be lost if the audience were seated far away as is the case in regular staging.

"Medea" begins several years after Jason's return from the quest of the Golden Fleece. Jason has left his first wife, Medea, to marry Creusa, the daughter of Creon. Consequently, Medea plans revenge.

CREON FORCES Medea and her two children to leave Corinth, and Medea uses her witchcraft for revengeful purposes. Medea sends Jason's new wife a golden robe and crown. When Creusa wears the gifts she is cremated.

Medea's final revenge is by far the greater of the other. She slays her two young sons and leaves Corinth, and Jason is left behind, a broken man defeated by his driving ambition to get ahead.

Casting for "Medea" includes Dorothy Paterson as Medea, Jason's first wife; Sue Smith as Medea's nurse; Don Fearheiley as Jason; Bob Cagle as Creon, King of Corinth; Dave Alverson as Ageus, ruler of Athens; Tom Berry as the tutor of Medea's children; Sam Hunter as Jason's slave; Carolyn Reed, Rachel Kinison, and Pat Lamont as three Greek women; John Rushing and Robert Mees as Medea's two sons; and Pat Bahn and JoAnn Eblen as two servants.

COMMITTEES for the play are as follows: costumes, Sue Smith and Helen Duckles; make up, Bunky Paterson, Virda Sill, and Harold Shelton; properties, JoAnn Eblen Carolyn Reed, Pat Bahn, and Marilyn Wakeland; lighting, Nancy Yost and Bill Menninger; special effects, Dave Alverson; stage crew, Anson Smith, Betty Betts, Bob Lupella, Marilee Paddison, and Preston Martin.

Dr. McLeod said that reservations may be made in advance by calling the speech department office at extension 307, and that these reservations will be held until 7:45 p.m. any night of the play, and then if they haven't been called for they will be put on sale. Admission will be 50 cents per person.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL TO SELL ICE CREAM CONES
Members of the Pan-Hellenic council will sell ice cream cones here on campus this Thursday. The sale will begin at 9 a.m. and will continue as long as the supplies lasts. The ice cream cones will sell for five cents each in front of Old Main.

Editor's Mailbag

Dear Editor:

I think Southern Illinois University is a fine, growing university and is being improved in many ways. However, with more students enrolling every year, one of its present problems is going to become greater.

This problem pertains to the "school spirit." The students do not seem to act as a body when they are backing school functions. The basketball and football games have had an average attendance, but the students do not seem to be backing their teams very strongly. I believe the teams realize this to be true, and it lowers their morale.

Instead of trying to put the blame on any one or two conditions, maybe we can build up a stronger "school spirit." One suggestion would be to have school assembly programs in the auditorium before some of the football or basketball games.

Another simple suggestion is to publicize the games more on the campus. Different organizations could make posters and award prizes for the most original posters.

A pep club could eventually be organized. This club could use pennants and flash cards with letters on them at the games to create more interest.

The students who have been backing our teams should be praised for their continuing support. Maybe my suggestions will help build the school spirit and help out these faithful team backers.

Sue Trout

What's A Rally?

This evening, Southern students will have an opportunity to show a little of the "school spirit" Miss Trout mentioned in her letter above. An all-school pep rally will be held today at 6:30 p.m. on the parking lot on the corner of Illinois and Grand streets next to the Foreign Language house.

At a similar pep rally held last September, not only were the cheerleaders present but all of 25 other students turned out for the supposedly "all-school" rally. With such an overwhelming attendance, such an event can hardly be called a "rally," but nevertheless, a "rally" was what it was supposed to be.

After today's rally, we of the Egyptian staff would like to write a follow-up story using the name "rally" with the feeling that the event was exactly that, and not just an attempt at one.

Special entertainment has been planned and a pep club, which could become an active organization as Miss Trout suggested above, is to be organized at the rally.

If the event is not successful, it will certainly not be the fault of those who planned it, but the blame will lie with the general student body. It's that spirited attendance that makes a rally what it is supposed to be. B.V.B.

A Mock Convention

According to an Associated Press release, students at Eastern Illinois State Teachers college at Charleston held a mock Republican convention last week. Douglas MacArthur came out ahead as the presidential choice of the student delegates with 213 votes on the third ballot.

Gov. Earl Warren of California received 167 votes. Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio was nominated for vice-president. Other candidates were General Dwight Eisenhower, Senator Everett Dirksen of Illinois and Harold Stassen.

It might be interesting to see what the turn-out would be in a mock convention here at Southern. Such a mock convention could make a good project for some organization to carry out here on campus. Any volunteers?

DR. FRANK EVERSULL, vice-chairman of the SIU Board of Trustees, as he delivered the annual Honors Day address Thursday before a group of 100 honor students.

Dr. Eversull Reviews Honor Students' Responsibilities At Assembly Program

In the speech at the annual Honors Day assembly held last Thursday morning, Dr. Frank Eversull, featured speaker, stated that he wanted during his address to point out the "search for responsibilities" that the honor student must fulfill.

Dr. Eversull first listed brief notes in history that bring us up to the final chaos of the world today. He said, "The struggles in which we find ourselves today are titanic. Fear, distrust, and frustration have exacted a heavy toll from our population." He concluded this background data with, "Your responsibility is to lead the world to peace."

HE POINTED OUT the three avenues of hope lying before the honor student which might recover the rights of man. "First," he said, "you must lean more heavily on the sensual spiritual values. Secondly, you must reevaluate your values to find those which relate to life."

For the third avenue of hope, Dr. Eversull stated, "The honor student must evolve a more dynamic and more functional program of free education."

Enlarging on each of the avenues of hope, he stated that war does not solve problems, because we still find ourselves incapable of applying the Golden Rule. He said, "The Ten Commandments are on vacation."

DR. EVERSULL believes that there can be no relaxation in the pursuit of virtues. "We as Americans and as scholars cannot evade spiritual values," he emphasized.

He told the honor students that their grades did count, but that their grades must be honest and represent work from each student.

Dr. Eversull pointed out to the students that their possession of abilities placed heavy responsibilities upon their shoulders, and because of these abilities that each of them had become a public servant.

In conclusion, Dr. Eversull stated, "It is not for past performances alone that you are being honored today, but because you have it in you to be tomorrow's leaders."

Illinois has been called upon to supply 1549 men for induction into the armed forces in July, it was announced today by Colonel Paul G. Armstrong, Illinois Selective Service director. This represents five per cent of the national quota for July of 31,000.

Gene Stiman

Left Goodman to Come to College

by Jim Fecho

Security is the keynote of this era—so feels Gene Stiman, former trombonist for Benny Goodman, who is here at Southern getting his degree in education so as to be assured of a more secure future.

Stiman made the decision of his lifetime when he decided to go to college and leave Goodman's organization. One night stands, poor facilities for eating, sleeping, and living, constant traveling, plus the fact that he seldom saw his family, all contributed to his action.

He knows that with a college degree he will be assured of a more profitable and secure future. The days are gone forever when he will have to get up in the middle of the night and make a run for the bus and another one-night stand.

HE GOT HIS START in music the usual way. His father decided that he should learn to play an instrument. The unusual thing about it is that he liked it and learned rapidly. He handled the trombone as easily as other boys scooped up a hot grounder.

After high school he had offers from many bands and organizations. He played with Billy Shelton's band; turned down an offer for a job in a Nashville radio station; then gave forth music for Tony DiPardo. In 1942 he joined the Air Force, and served for 37 months.

STIMAN RETURNED in 1945 and inked a contract with Benny Goodman. In 1949 he decided that the type of life didn't appeal to him so he quit. He started school here and is now a senior, majoring in music. He is a member of the College All-Stars, who are scheduled to play for the Junior-Senior prom, and the Theta Xi "Concert in Jazz."

According to Stiman, one type of work may not be as glamorous as another, but in the long run, glamour, money, and other pleasures all are subordinated to the motive for most human actions—security.

Complete Plans For SIU Summer

Anthropological Trip To Mexico

Overall plans are complete, and only details remain to be ironed out in regard to Southern's summer anthropological field session to be held at Durango, Mexico. The trip there is scheduled to begin the day after registration, June 17.

At present, the main problem is transportation, according to Dr. J. Charles Kelley, director of the museum and director of the trip. Private cars are to be used in transporting students and staff to the site of the camp near Durango.

A permanent camp will be set up approximately 65 miles north of Durango. During the two months of archaeological exploration, the participants will live in tents, and "rough it" in every sense of the word, said Kelley. On weekends the students are to make trips to various points of interest in the surrounding area.

In the area where most of the research will be carried on, there are located two relatively uncultured Indian groups. The Tepic Indians occupy a reservation in west-central Durango within the area of study. Little is known concerning this group and ethnographic work of all sorts is needed badly, stated Kelley.

In northwestern Durango and extending up the Sierra Madre into Chihuahua are located the primitive Tarahumara Indians. Several

Visitors To Schedule Advance Museum Tours

Grade and high school groups that plan to visit the SIU museum and its exhibits have been asked by Esther Bennett, museum curator of education, to make advance arrangements for museum tours.

Because of the large number of visitors present each day, it is necessary that groups make plans in advance in order to insure them of guides.

The exhibits include area natural history, natural resources and industries, early regional cultures, and pioneer living in Southern Illinois.

The museum exhibits are on the third floor of Parkinson. A few of the offices and work rooms are now located in the gymnasium of the Old Science building, where the entire museum eventually will be located.

reports have been written on their culture, but their way of life is still inadequately known, asserted Kelley.

Students interested in taking the field trip session may contact Dr. Kelley or William J. Shackelford at the museum. According to Kelley, the expected cost of the two-month trip, including meals and transportation, will be approximately $200.

Sphinx Club To Install Officers, New Members

Sphinx club pins will be awarded to graduating members, and new officers and members will be installed at the club banquet to be held tomorrow, May 21. Vice-President Jim Throgmorton has announced. The banquet will begin at 7 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Patton at 704 South University st.

Sphinx club is the highest honorary service organization on Southern's campus. Twenty outstanding students, 15 juniors and five seniors, are elected to membership each year.

New members are elected by the members of the previous year. They are chosen on the basis of service to the school, leadership, and cooperative participation in student activities.

New members and officers are as follows: Jim Schmulbach, president; Wilma Beadle, vice-president; Doug Shepherd, secretary-treasurer; Gloria Bonali, Carroll Cox, Jim Drury, Beverly Fox, Freda Gower, Mary Ann Klingenberg, Audrey Mayer, Wayne Nast, Bob Robertson, Chuck Thate, Barbara Von Behren, and Chuck Wildy.

Professor of Zoology Resigns from Staff

Dr. Reino S. Freeman, assistant professor of zoology, has announced his resignation, effective at the close of the spring term, June 6, in order to accept a research appointment at the Ontario Research foundation, Toronto, Canada.

Freeman joined Southern's zoology faculty in September, 1950, and has been carrying on research in parasitology. At Toronto he will do research on wild life cestodes, tapeworms, as well as teaching a graduate course in parasitology in the school of public health, University of Toronto.

One of the outstanding research foundations of the North American continent, the Ontario Research foundation is an independently operated institution, supported by both private and provincial endowment, and works closely with the University of Toronto, Freeman reports.

Ten AF ROTC Cadets Receive Promotions

Lt. Col. O. K. Halderson, commander of the SIU Air Force ROTC detachment, has announced the promotions granted to cadets.

Those students who have been promoted to cadet captains are: Wayne Nast, Belleville; Kennedy Endrizzi, Jr., Carbondale; Harold Murphy, Herrin; Enso Lietz, Nashville; and Jerrold Hollopetter, New Madrid, Missouri.

Promotions to first cadet lieutenants were received by: William BaHowe, Herrin; Donald Daugherty, Johnston City; Gene Graves, Marissa; Lloyd Robinson, Oakdale; Mark Johnson, Salem; and Frank Davis, Carbondale.

SOUTHERN BUSINESS STUDENTS watch a Southwestern Bell company clerk sort stubs from telephone invoices on a Commerce club inspection trip which was recently made to St. Louis. Dr. Viola DuFrain and Van Buboltz accompanied the group.

Request Applications For Summer Employment

Students desiring employment for summer jobs have been requested to contact Warren Seibert in the office of student employment. Off-campus jobs include those in camps and resorts.

Seibert has requested students to apply at the earliest date possible since employment will begin in the immediate future and arrangements must be made.

For students desiring jobs on campus, those available include stenographers, typists, janitors, and jobs in the cafeteria and library.

Workers are needed for odd jobs off campus such as yard work, which can be expected to pay a minimum of 60 cents an hour.

Disband Pyramid Club, Women's Honor Group

Southern's honorary society for women, the Pyramid club, has temporarily disbanded. Mrs. Leah Bradley Simms, this year's president of the club, explained that the organization has been inactive this year.

This club was organized and operated along the same line as the Sphinx club, honorary society for men and women. Membership was based on scholarship and service.

Members of the club were: Mrs. Simms, Virginia Miller, secretary; Jo Ann Eblen, Jeannette Smalley, Peggy Beasley Pavison, Dorothy (Bunky) Paterson, and Pat Colligan.

Mrs. Julia Neely, associate professor of English, was faculty sponsor of the organization.

HOME EC STUDENTS TO GIVE STYLE SHOW

Salukis Whip Huskies, Win 4-3 and 8-5

Southern began a double-header with Northern Illinois at approximately 1:30 p.m. Friday afternoon. Twenty-nine innings and 24 hours later Saluki pitcher Reid Martin threw to first base, retiring John Bednarcik to give the Salukis a clean sweep of the series, 4-3 and 8-5.

Little "Zip" Zapotocky and Wayne Grandcolas were the heroes in the first contest, a ten-inning affair. Zapotocky singled home Charlie Valier from third base with the winning run to give Grandcolas his seventh victory of the year against no losses.

COACH MARTIN'S ace left-hander gave up nine hits, struck out eight, and walked five in gaining the victory. The only time he found himself in hot water was in the ninth inning when the Huskies tied the score on a walk, a single, and a line-drive triple.

Bednarcik opened Northern's half of the tenth with a single. Grandcolas got the next hitter on an infield pop-up. The next batter, Mateja, swung at a third strike. A perfect throw from catcher Jack Chor to Jerry West covering second caught Bednarcik on a hit-and-run to end the inning.

Valier drew a pass to open the tenth for the Salukis. He moved to second on Ems' sacrifice, and stole third while Northern's McCole, who relieved Jake Stap, was pitching to Burns. The stocky first baseman lifted a pop-up to the second baseman for the second out.

JERRY WEST waited until McCole for his second straight walk. West received a gift of second when the Huskies refused to risk a throw on his steal attempt.

Vern "Zip" Zapotocky waited until McCole offered him a straight fast ball. He then belted it into right field for the hit that ended the contest.

FIRST TRY AT SECOND GAME
In the second contest, Ray Ripplemeyer went to the hill for the Salukis against Ted Odegard.

Odegard got off to a rough start when he gave up three straight passes and a single to Jerry West in the first inning, good for two runs.

NORTHERN came to bat in the sixth inning, trailing 7-1. Then the roof fell in on Ripplemeyer. Gene Wasco started things rolling by doubling after one out. Billy Graham, batting for Odegard, flied out. After a walk and an error by West filled the bases, Ripplemeyer hit Sarina to force in a run. Jack Dunn then teed off on a gopher ball for a four-run homer. Northern scored lone runs in the seventh and eighth to take a one-run lead.

But Southern tied the score in the ninth when Coleman walked with the bases loaded.

After a scoreless tenth inning, the game was agreed to be terminated because of darkness. After much haggling, Coaches Martin and McKinzie agreed to replay the game Saturday morning.

SECOND GAME

Reid Martin went the route for the Salukis against three Huskie hurlers in the replay to gain his first IAC victory, 8-5. Delaporte started for Northern, but was relieved in the third inning by Don Baker. Baker was jerked in the seventh, after hitting two batters. Graham then finished the game. The loss was charged to Delaporte.

SOUTHERN parlayed a walk, a passed ball, and an error for a run in the first inning. Their biggest party came in the third, when they showed across six runs.

In the big third, the Salukis put together two infield errors; successive doubles by Valier, Burns, and Ems; a triple by Zapotocky; and Chor's fly-ball for six tallies.

That was all the assurance that Martin needed. After being nicked for a pair of runs in the third, and lone tallies in the second, fourth, and fifth, he pitched hitless ball from the sixth on out.

Zapotocky Leads Southern Batters

Left fielder Verlan (Zip) Zapotocky is currently leading the Salukis in the IAC batting circle with a neat .391. The Belleville freshman has hit safely nine times in 23 appearances at the plate. His hits include three triples and one double.

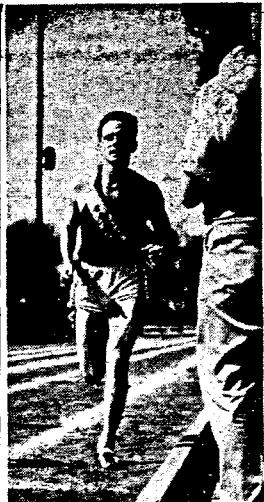

Chuch Valier, third baseman, and Ed Coleman, pivot man, are tied for second honors. Both are batting an even .333. Valier, a Pinckneyville senior, has collected ten hits in 30 tries, including four doubles. Coleman, DuQuoin junior, has hit safely 11 times out of 33 trips. Two of Coleman's hits were doubles.

BOB EMS, Fisher sophomore, holds down fourth spot in Southern's IAC averages. Ems has a total of 11 hits in 36 times at bat for .306. Of these 11 hits, two are home runs, one a triple, and four are doubles. The big right fielder is leading the club in home runs.

Captain Jim Schmulbach is next with .293. The New Athens senior has nine hits in 31 appearances. Two of the center fielder's hits have been doubles.

SHORTSTOP Jerry West, Belleville sophomore, is currently hitting .276 in the IAC. West has eight hits in 29 tries, including two doubles.

Larry Burns, a Madison junior stationed at first base, connected six out of 24 times for .250. Two of Burns' hits have also been doubles. Lebanon's freshman catcher Jack Chor has three hits in 21 tries for .150.

PHIL COLEMAN, Southern's ace distance runner, set new school records in the mile and two-mile runs in the meet against Washington U.

SIU and Eastern Play Two Today In IAC Wind-up

Southern's first place Salukis encounter their last IAC competition here at 1:30 p.m. when they meet the Eastern Illinois Panthers in a double-header. A double victory over the third place Panthers will assure the Marjimen of the title.

If the Salukis split, they still may keep possession of first place—depending upon what Michigan Normal does in its remaining two games.

NO DOUBT Coach Martin will employ the services of his two main-stays, lefty Wayne Grandcolas and right-handed Ron Hagler.

Wayne Grandcolas, a Belleville sophomore, posted his seventh straight triumph last Saturday by beating the Northern Huskies in a ten-inning thriller, 4-3.

Hagler, sidelined by a broken blood vessel on one of the fingers of his right hand, will be ready for action today. The Murphysboro freshman will be seeking his fifth victory. Hagler was bested by Illinois Normal in his last start, 4-3. His season's record now stands at four victories and three defeats.

Southern will wind up its 1952 baseball season May 30-31, when the Salukis play host to Bradley University of Peoria.

Bears Claw Trackmen, Coleman Breaks Marks

Although the Saluki trackmen suffered their second defeat of the season last Saturday at Washington university, 74-57, they still came home with something to shout about. Phil Coleman, Southern's all-time great distance runner outdid himself again.

Not only did the Carbondale senior remain undefeated in the mile and two-mile, but broke both school records while doing it. Phil clipped off the mile run in 4:21, shaving off two seconds from the previous record run of 4:23, set by Phil Coleman in 1951.

COLEMAN galloped off the two-mile in a new record time (for SIU) of 9:40.2. This new low obliterated the old mark of 9:44.2—again, set by Phil Coleman, in 1951.

Other school records came close to falling. Leo Wilson placed first in the 220 yard low hurdles, clocking in at 25.7. This mark was just 1.9 seconds away from establishing a new record in that event.

Another fine performance was turned in by Dick Gregory, St. Louis half-miler. Gregory came within 0.8 of tying the school record set by Joe McLafferty in 1950 when he circled the distance in 1:59.8.

WHAT HURT the Salukis was their poor showing in the field events. The Linglemen failed to place a man in either the shotput or the discus.

Washington runners also dashed off with first and second in both the 100 and 220. Southern excelled in the distance and middle distance runs, taking first and second in the mile, 440, and two-mile, and first and third in the 880.

THE SUMMARIES:

Rain Side-Lines Golfers, Face IAC Meet Next

Rain and low temperatures forced the SIU golf squad to remain idle this week-end when a scheduled match against Bradley at Peoria had to be postponed.

Coach Lynn Holder's linksmen will see their next action when they travel to Ypsilanti for the IAC meet May 22, 23, and 24.

The answer to this week's "You Name It" is a wiring board to an IBM machine in the campus IBM office.
