HELPING CAUSE

Three SIU co-eds from Woody Hall help the Southern cause as they mail some 500 letters to state senators backing the lift of the engineering ban. The women wrote individual letters pointing out SIU's present capacity for starting a modest engineering program and stressing a need for engineers in the southern 31 counties. A merger of the Pi Kappa Sigma and Sigma Kappa sororities at the national level will bring a change in the number of sororities on campus as the SIU chapters join next week. The new group, to be called Sigma Kappa, will have 110 members on campus unless plans are completed to allow the society to move into the new University housing for Greeks, the group will likely be housed in the present Pi Kappa house at 506 S. Poplar next year. Installation of officers for the new Greek organization will be held May 27. All officers, with the exception of that of president, will be jointly filled by present officers from both groups. ### See Ya Later, Alligator Says Students

Poor Al is dead. Al was a pet baby alligator who was brought to SIU from Florida by sophomore Ron Baruch. He died last week in his master's Thompson Point home. Students at Thompson Point between 7 and 7:30 Thursday evening heard a mournful sound from the vicinity of the big elm tree on the hill where Al was laid to rest. A crowd of 40 or 50 grief-stricken students wearing black and wiping tears circled the grave as Al's body was lowered into the comfort of the damp, black earth. Before Al was buried, his coffin was taken to the Fels Hall funeral parlor where his loved ones could take a long, last look at him. Flowers were placed around his coffin. The odor of incense filled the room; shadows of death were cast by two lighted candles on either side of the coffin. Mourners formed lines on both sides of the funeral parlor door as Al's pallbearers and grave digger marched to the burial spot. As the funeral procession made its way to the big elm, an anonymous student from Pierce Hall played taps on his trumpet. As Al was being laid to rest, his reverent mourners sang "See You Later, Alligator."

'Happy Fella' Tryouts Set For June 1-3

Tryouts for the University Theater Summer Playhouse production, "Most Happy Fella", will be held June 1-3 at 7 p. m. in the University School Auditorium. Actors, singers, and dancers will be auditioned, and all students are eligible to participate. Scenes to be used for practice before auditions are available at the University Playhouse. The musical will be presented August 7 and 8 in Shroyok Auditorium as the final production of the Summer Theater Workshop. It will be co-produced by the Opera Workshop and the Southern Players. Dr. Sherwin Abrams, head of the players' group, will be the stage director for the show. Dr. William Taylor of the music department and head of the Opera Workshop will be the music director. Dancing will be directed by Jane Daggag or the physical education department. Charles Zoekler of the theater department will be the technical director. Although there will be four other plays in the summer series, this is the only one with public tryouts. The others are produced by the resident Summer Stock Company. This will be the fourth summer for the presentation of a summer musical. Gus is undecided between majors of home economics and engineering—in one people laugh at him and the other is too uncertain. Additional material is on display in the Lentz Hall Lounge, where students may read of the various programs offered in the service.

Voice Of Students Must Know Wants -- Hardwick

By Bob Hays
Egyptian News Editor
"As long as we're going to serve as the voice of the students, we must know what the students want," said newly elected Student Body President Bob Hardwick in an interview Saturday. Hardwick urged the student body to feel free to contact him or any member of the student government concerning problems of student life. "We could do so much if students would only bring their problems to us," he said emphatically. The new executive leader expressed fear that the average student doesn't know enough about student government. "I hope we can have a more effective chain downward, from the student body president to the students," he said. "Close personal contact is desirable, and should be accomplished through commissions and group officers." "However, if the group officers fail in their relations to their group, the chain is broken." Hardwick said problems concerning such things as advancement and curriculum should be brought to the attention of the student government by students. "Unless we know what the students' problems are, we really can't help them," he said. The student leader described his own role in student government as that of executive and administrative head, on much the same pattern as the federal government is arranged. He explained that he is also ex-officio member of a great many faculty-senior commissions, and that he makes appointments to student commissions and investigating committees. Hardwick said the Student Council will meet tonight and begin making plans for the coming year. He expressed hope that more emphasis will be placed on the International Affairs Commission this year. "Though there was some interest along these lines this year, I think more could be done," he said. The new officer complimented retiring Student Body President Bill Berry. He said Berry had the most difficult year in the new Constitution. "The first year is always the hardest for a new government," he said. When asked why he ran for the office of student body president, Hardwick said, "I thought I'd like to do my share to advance the interests of the student body." "It wasn't an easy decision," he added. "When I finally made up my mind to run, it was four o'clock in the morning."

The dedicated leadership which he has rendered to this new congregation shall be a fine example to the future generation. "In his name this award is established as 'The Russell A. # The Editors' Opinions

Student Relationships

(Editor's Note: The following editorial by L. Clark Davis, dean of men, appeared in the latest issue of CAMPUS PATRYSSA, a publication distributed to all university eligible service employees in Illinois.)

"This would be a wonderful place to work if it were not for the students."

Administrators, teachers and University Civil Service employees all are guilty of making this facetious remark. However, we know we would be very concerned if young people by the thousands were not attending the public-supported universities of Illinois.

Students are a reflection of the society of which they are a part. They probably are no better or worse than the adults who have helped shape them. But our future depends upon their becoming more responsive to the general climate which an educational institution must provide for them.

A university education is designed to change a person. During this period there will be a certain amount of rebellion. Some of the student's actions may not be what is expected of a university citizen and scholar.

Students do appreciate a clean campus. They do respect the plumbers who keep the toilets in good condition. They do respond favorably to well designed brochures. They do appreciate courteous service by secretaries, receptionists, and business office employees. They do respect the janitors and cooks who prepare their food.

A University, after all, is a community in which 90 per cent are young men and women trying to grow up and find answers to problems and ten per cent are adults who try to help them. May the actions of our minority group be such that the actions of the Majority will be those we would expect of our own sons and daughters.

Our Men In Blue

Today, amid the deep tradition of the Air Force, Southern cadets will pass in review and receive achievement awards. It is proper and fitting that these future military leaders will be so honored.

The mass of blue-clad men will stand at attention as examples of today's students and tomorrow's leaders. They are our generation's contribution to the protection of our country. They are the promise of today and the hope of tomorrow.

With the spirit of the "men in blue," the cadets have drilled on the dusty field and along muddy roads. They have attended classes and gleaned information necessary for the many jobs and duties of the Air Force men. The individuals who will not continue in the military field, still have the background of proud participation with the Air Force.

The tradition of the military life is above and beyond that of standing at attention, saluting and addressing officers as "sir." It is a part of our nation's tradition of loyalty, honor and service.

The cadets on campus will receive awards from many sources, which they well deserve. But the personal award they receive, as a part of the Air Force, is that of service to their country and to their fellow men.

To them we say "a job well done."

The Saluki Says . . .

... Why do some instructors insist on such strict class attendance? A silly question, you ask? Look at it this way: you pay tuition in order to go to college. If you don't go to class, whose fault is it, and who will pay? If students don't have a clear sense to do as they should flunk. But on the other hand, the University should break away from some of this childish handling of students and let them take it on themselves to govern their behavior.

... What happened to all the restless natives, maybe it because of spring, when the young native's fancy turns to what the fe-natives have been thinking about all winter.

... That all the nice trees they're planting on campus are not for his friends, but they're taking up an awfully lot of good space for parking lots.

... Congratulations to the debutant of Paul Black and Keith Sanders for ranking sixth and twelfth respectively, in the nation at the West Point Debate Tournament recently. The high ranking of the two SIU students helped to move Southern even higher into collegiate prestige.

Gus Bode Says

Gus sez he still doesn't know why the cannon hasn't been fired in many years—and he has been there that long!

Gus sez all term papers should be prohibited during the Spring quarter—research is difficult at the Lake.

Gus sez he had a very lucky week last week—he was hit only five times by bicycles.

Parkinson Laboratory was named after Daniel Baldwin Parkinson, who was Southern President from 1897 to 1913.

RCA Victor Produces SIU L. P. Record

The SIU Department of Music, in cooperation with Auxiliary Enterprises, has negotiated an agreement to produce a 12-inch, L. P. recording which will be published by RCA Victor within the next several months, according to Dr. Henry Bruma, chairman of the department.

Bruma said recording engineers from Recorded Publications, Inc., have been on campus and have completed plans to record performances by the University band, chorus and symphony orchestra May 24-25.

"The recordings," said Bruma, "will be packaged in specially designed jackets and will be available for sale and distribution by the end of summer or the end of the fall term.

"Included in the recordings will be a number of the songs and marches associated with Southern's school spirit.

Bruma said these would include the Alma Mater, sung by the AFROTC Singing Squadron, and "Go, Southern, Go!" played by the University Band.

"The remainder of the recording," said Bruma, "will include compositions selected from the repertoire of the performing groups on campus."

Southern was chartered as Southern Illinois Normal University in 1869.

An SIU student has been jailed at Ripley, Tenn., on a charge of reckless driving, according to the Office of Student Affairs.

The student borrowed his roommate's car for "about two hours," but continued to Tennessee without the owner's consent.

A spokesman for the Office of Student Affairs said the student had been jailed for 30 days if he does not pay a $44 fine.

Student Government

By Marilyn Tipton Egyptian Society Editor

A new year is starting for the student government. Before this new year begins and the newly elected students go to work, let's reflect a bit and see just what has been done.

First, a bit of history needs to be stated. According to Egyptian records, the first recorded "School Council" as it was called, was October 14, 1931. It was held that year on a Wednesday during chapel, which was part of SIU's programming at that time.

An appointive student council composed of eight students and eight faculty members served as the voice of student interests. However, the plan was too obviously faculty directed to be an authentic voice of the students. All initiative came principally from the faculty members of the council.

New Approach Used

A new approach to student government and student participation in administration at Southern was made in 1936 with the creation of a representative student council.

All of the studies made of student governments in other institutions, a student committee, which was under the guidance of faculty advisors, drew up a plan. This plan provided for a council of 16 elected members, four from each of the classes.

All of this council's action was subject to SIU's presidential veto. Some committees were given executive authority. The bookstore committee established a much-needed book rental system. A cafeteria committee convened a principal campus nuisance into a valuable student food service, the University Cafeteria.

Several student loan plans were originated then, and the National Youth Administration Aid to Students was first organized.

That was the SIU student government until last spring. It survived the changing of a Normal education school into a full-fledged University. It survived constant doubling of enrollments.

The new student constitution was proposed in a Student Council meeting which was then under the direction of Mary Ann Edwards. On April 18, 1958, it was put before the student body for voting May 6, 1958.

The constitution passed with a 1,315 vote cast, only 22 percent of the student body. Under this new constitution, a three-fold student government was set up, much like that of our federal government. This included the student senate, the executive division and the judicial division.

Student Senate

The Student Senate, still called the Student Councils replaced the former student legislative function. It has legislative responsibilities, and consists of

Dance Club Gives Annual Concert

Southern's Dance Club will present its annual spring concert Thursday evening in Shryock Auditorium. The program will begin at 8:15 p.m.

This year the program will consist of a wide variety of dances. "A Big Day of Fun" which has a whimsical folk quality, and an abstract dance to a tango, "Tango Caprice" are among those planned.

Also on the agenda is "Who-Dun-It," a mystery which lets the audience view the situation from the detective's eyes, and "Process" which is a bitter outpour to the world. Many more will be danced and acted by the club's members.

Dance club members performing in this show are Beverly Beiswinger of Anna Ellen Dick of Bethany; Karen Johnson, Cissy; Lena McGone, Venice and Billie Mayfield of Marion.

Other club members participating are Sherri Reichert, Grand Chain; Carolyn Tillock, Baldwin; Betty Tongway of Carbonade and Marcoush's Judy Whitecotton.

Guest performers for the show include Gloria Branson from Hartford; Connie Cluts of Carbonade; Marion Hopkins, Carbonade; Gailverne Kopp, Benton; Dorothy Lingle, Carbonade; Jan Moldenhauer from Milwaukee, Wis. Ann Saunders from Marion and Bobbie Roan of Carbonade.

There is no charge for the concert.

The Dance Club is an interest group on campus. Many of its members are physical education majors, but women from many other majors join each year and perform with the group.

Mrs. Jane Daqqaq is the advisor for the group. She is an instructor in the physical education department, with a specialization in modern dance.

John Gillmore, Itchy Jones and Richard Dillinger were members of the All-Conference baseball team last spring.

Southern is only three victories away from tying a record for most SIU games won in a season by a major league team.

Abe Martin has coached SIU baseball since 1947. He has won 156 games while losing only 91. He is the first coach to lead a team to a .600 winning percentage, which is the prime emphasis in this department, is concerned with individual and group behavior in referral and appellate situations. That is, this board can hear a case which has been referred to them by another board anywhere on campus, or a person can appeal to this board.

Nine students are appointed by the student body president to serve on this board, and three faculty members are selected by the Director of Student Affairs. These faculty members served in an advisory capacity only.

Members of this board must also be juniors the fall term following appointment and must have a 3.5 academic average.

More than 350 students are participating in the student government. On campus, and many more are involved with some aspect of it in their own living quarters or organizations.

BETA OMICRON GOES TO ST. LOUIS

Beta Omicron, journalism fraternity for women, is planning a 100-mile jaunt this Saturday to attend a luncheon in St. Louis. The occasion is the annual Mags Table Luncheon of the St. Louis Chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, national journalistic fraternity.

Beta Omicron, started here on campus three years ago, has been in the process of petitioning Theta Sigma Phi. The petition is to be acted upon by the national group sometime this fall.

To be initiated into Theta Sigma Phi, a woman journalism major must have a 4.0 academic average and a 4.0 average in journalism. She must also be a junior.

The members of the group traveled to St. Louis last year for this luncheon also. At that time, they met many famous women, such as writers for the St. Louis papers and women working in advertising.

Advisors for the student chapter here on Southern's campus are Dr. and Mrs. James Ford. Dr. Ford is a professor in the journalism department here and has sponsored Theta Sig chapters at other schools of journalism. Mrs. Ford, a faculty member of the math department, is a member of Theta Sigma Phi.

Dr. H. Fisher New President Of Honorary

Professor Harvey L. Fisher, chairman of the zoology department, was elected president of the SIU chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, national all-university honorary society.

Harvey will assume his new office May 25. Dr. Cameron Garbut of the speech department is the former president.

Phi Kappa Phi members must have completed 144 quarter hours with a 4.25 grade average in order to qualify for membership.

SIU will play a rescheduled game with Evansville College on May 19. The game was originally scheduled for May 5 but was rained out.

The group held installation of officers. The new president, Mrs. Sally Lynn, is sitting next to Miller. (Staff Photo)

Cindermen Defeat Normal, 81-50 Wrap Up 12th Undeclared Season

Crippled with injuries, "Doc" Lingle's track squad ran past Illinois Normal last Saturday, 81-50, to close out their season undefeated in six dual meets.

The perfect season was the 12th in Lingle's 33-year career at Southern. "Doc" began as head track coach at SIU when the sport was originated in 1927. In those 33 years the Saluki cindermen have now won 129 meets while losing only 43. They tied one last season with Eastern Illinois.

"Doc" Lingle
... 12th Perfect Season

Two top-notch track men and record holders, Carver Shannon and Ron Helberg, didn't run in the meet. Both are suffering from muscle pulls. Shannon holds the school mark in the 100-yard dash at 59.7 and Helberg holds the 440-yard mark at 49.0.

Southern still won every track event except the mile. John Flamer was defeated by Shinneman of Normal who turned a fine time of 4:17.8. Dale Gleghorn was again the big pointmaker as he won the 220, the low hurdles; 8 1/8 hurdles and placed third in the 100.

The Red Birds dominated the field events losing only in the high jump. David Johnson, freshman from Mt. Vernon, won the event for Southern was a jump of 5-11 3/4.

One of the top distances of the day was turned in the javelin throw, McCallister of Normal tossed 202-2 1/4.

"Doc" Lingle will take his squad to compete in the IAC meet at Ypsilanti, Michigan. Last season the Salukis finished fourth behind Northern Illinois, Central Michigan, and Eastern Michigan. SIU marked up 26 1/2 points while Eastern Hurons scored 66.

Play Notre Dame Thursday

St. Louis Eighth Straight Victim For Saluki Netters

Continuing to win at a record-breaking pace, the Saluki tennis team pounded Washington University of St. Louis last Saturday afternoon, 8-1.

The victory, SIU's eighth straight, rocketed the Salukis regular season mark to 11-2 which ties a record for the number of victories in a season. SIU loses only their regular season Thursday at South Bend, Indiana against the University of Notre Dame.

In 1939, under Coach Charles Tenney, SIU won 11 dual meets as they went undefeated. A win over Notre Dame would break this mark.

The Bear's only victory was posted by Dick Horwitz in the number one singles as he won his 22nd straight collegiate match Horwitz defeated Jerry Budzlekkis 6-4, 3-6, 6-4. Southern won every other match in straight sets.

Including the annual spring tour, SIU now stands at 15-5 for the season. The Salukis will go into the conference championships at Ypsilanti, Michigan next weekend as heavy favorites.

The Results:

Tucker, Gurley Win SIU Wins Two Of Three; Virtually Clinch Crown

Larry Tucker and Harry Gurley pitched Southern to a double victory Saturday after SIU lost a single contest Friday to virtually clinch SIU's second straight IAC baseball title.

The Salukis dropped the single contest on Friday by a 9-6 count, but the double win Saturday pushed their conference mark to 12-3 with three IAC games against Eastern Illinois remaining next weekend.

Harry Gurley, freshman from St. Louis, scattered 12 hits in the first game on Saturday as he won his fourth game of the season 6-4. Gurley has been beat on the only pitcher on the SIU staff with more than one loss.

"Itchy" Jones smashed a home run on his way to gathering three safeties. Ken Monheim also collected three hits at the plate.

Larry Tucker, one of the most outstanding freshmen pitchers in SIU history, tossed a four-hitter in the series finale as he won his seventh game against the Salukis. Tucker had better led off the contest with a home run on the first pitch. Tucker three hits and allowed no runs for the remainder of the contest. Tucker has now allowed five earned runs in 58 innings of pitching.

Frederic Loesch provided the power for Southern as he banged out his ninth and tenth home runs of the season. First-base man Dick Dillingier collected three hits and Rocky Bridges and "Itchy" Jones found the range for two safeties. Loesch's total 10 home runs is just one short of the entire team output of 11 last year.

In other conference action, Eastern Illinois dumped Illinois Normal Friday and the two squads split on Saturday. After the Hurons won the opener, 5-3, Normal came back and pounded the Michigan squad 17-1 in a game that was called after 4 1/2 innings by mutual agreement.

Western Illinois ended all hopes Central Michigan had, if they had any, of being Southern for the conference title by sweeping the three-game set.

The Leathernecks, however, scooped themselves into the picture as the only possible contender of the share of the title.

Western is now 9-6 in conference play, while Southern, who cannot possibly lose the title, is 12-3. The only possible way Western could tie Southern is to sweep the Eastern Michigan series while Southern loses three games to Eastern Illinois.

Eastern Illinois, Southern opponent next weekend in the conference finale, has been in the picture all season until they dropped two out of three two weeks ago. The Panthers are now out of contention for first with an 8-7 record. Northern Illinois is now 8-9, Illinois Normal 5-9 and Eastern Michigan, 4-8.

SIU now stands at 17-5 for the regular season, just one victory short of tying a record for the most games won in a single season. In 1952 a Martin coached team won 18 while losing 5. Overall, including the spring tour, Southern's record is 23-7.

Following the Eastern series next weekend, SIU closes out the season the following weekend with a double header against Bradley at Peoria.

Linkmen Add Another Victory To Record

Lynn Holder's golf team added another victory to their record number of 15 last Saturday as they shot past the Billikins of St. Louis University, 13-11.

The victory, played on the Norwood Hills course at Norwaddy, Mo., was the 14th in 17 outings for SIU. Two weeks ago they broke the existing record for number of victories in a season (11).

Southern will compete in the starting Thursday at Ypsilanti, Michigan. The Salukis, after finishing their best season in history last year, blew up in the conference tourney and finished last. Coach Lynn Holder is very optimistic about their chances this season. Holder recently stated that with good rounds from the middle men, 3rd, 4th and 5th) they could win it. Western Illinois will probably be favored.

Dick Foukl was again medalist for Southern and the match with a one-under-par, 71.
