Service Project For Carbondale Is Scheduled

Students will have time set aside to do the town a good turn Saturday.

"Operation Carbondale" provides the opportunity for SIU students to clean and haul firewood at the city park, paint the interior of the home for the blind and the Carbondale Tennis Courts. The project is scheduled for 9 a. m. - 5 p. m. Saturday. Students who want to assist should go to the Student Union where cars will be leaving for work sites every hour. The cars will return for lunch at noon and will leave again at 1 p. m.

"Operation Carbondale," endorsed by the Student Council and Student Body President Bill Berry, is a community service project.

Dave Winters, chairman of the operation, said the idea comes from a similar project at Northwestern University. Northwestern has about 800 students every year for the community project.

Painting the home for the blind will be the sole project of the Illinois Avenue Residence Hall students by their request. Students from the hall plan to have a large group working and have issued a challenge to any other group to beat their turn out.

The joint resolution in support of the project reads: "As a means of increasing the spirit and unity of all students participating in a d establishing better understanding and good will between the students and residents of the community, the council sees it as a worthy project which deserves the support of the University student body."

Arts Schedules 'Three Centuries Of Italian Music'

"Three Centuries of Italian Music" will be presented Tuesday, Feb. 5 at 8:15 p. m. in Shrovet Auditorium. No admission will be charged.

Performing the program a part of the Fine Arts Festival will be Antiqua Players, a group of professional musicians termed as "collegium musicum," or a university-affiliated group interested in old or little played music. According to Dr. Robert MacQuarrie, a spokesman for the Fine Arts Festival committee, it is the first time such a group will appear on the SIU campus.

The group is composed of Colin Sifer, director, Robert Sterne, Karl Neumann, Edman Neumann and Nancy Williams, all associated with the University of Pittsburgh.

Widely known as concert, television and recording artists in the field of early music, they will play a repertoire covering Italian music ranging from the Italian Ars Nova (14th century composers) through the 17th century Baroque.

The instruments, along with the selections, will be authentic representations of the Italian medieval and Renaissance period. Some of the instruments date back as far as the 16th century.

Some of the unique instruments to be used in various instrumental include virginals, a keyboard instrument resembling a small-sized harpsichord, a mixture of reed and string instruments, the "stradivarius" of the cellist, a grand instrument, similar to the present day violin; and the recorder, similar to the clarinet, but having a flute-like tone.

Among their selections will be the works of Cipriano de Rore, Francesco, Claudio Monteverdi and Frescobaldi, all noted composers of the 14-17th century era. In writing Italian Music will be featured in the final portion of the program.

The group has appeared in many cities throughout the country and has soloists with the Saturday concert and in their smaller group.

Dill, a journalism major specializing in community newspaper, graduated from Carlini Township High School in 1953. The navy veteran spent two years in the Secret Service in Panama.

A pledge of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, Dill was sports editor of the Carlini Times for a year and has been on the staff of the Egyptian for three terms.

Allotted $3,550

Council Budget Shows Debit Of $507 For Fiscal Year

A report submitted by the Student Council shows a debit of $507.87 in the Council budget of Dec. 31, 1958.

The Council was allotted $3,550 for financing student government activities throughout the fiscal year of 1958-59. The balance at the beginning of the fiscal year, July 1, 1958, was $583.02.

The budget is allocated from a $9.50 fee paid by students through tuition. The fees collectively comprise the Student Activity Fund, which is split up among 30 separate activity or organizational accounts.

Income for the six months included $153 for reimbursement

SIU Students On Scholarships Get 3.9 Average

State scholarship students showed a "very good" grade average last quarter, according to Dr. Ernest C. Coleman, student adviser in charge of scholarships.

The over-all average of the 75 students who hold state scholarships was 3.985, with 12 students having 5.0 averages. Three students withdrew from school during the quarter.

The state provides $600,000 each year for 1000 students who are selected on the basis of competitive exams.

Owens, Gidcomb Win Election

Bill Owens was elected Commuter's Senator Tuesday, but an incomplete distribution of ballots concerning voting for the Off-Campus Women's Senator might have invalidated a victory for Janice Gidcomb.

Mrs. Gidcomb was unopposed on the ticket. The Election Commission is to meet to decide whether or not the total votes cast for the Women's Senator will constitute a victory.

Owens collected 35 votes in his unopposed campaign. Baggett was attributed to the low turnout by a member of the Student Council.

Owens, a junior from Anna, replaces Tom Mabry as Commuter's Senator on the Council. Mabry resigned recently when he moved into family housing on Southern Acres.

Mabry indicated he would campaign for Family Housing Senator, but the position was not on the ticket for the election.

The election for Off-Campus Women's Senator is termed invalid, a new date for another election will be set and approved by the Council.

The position became open when Ethel Belz resigned after her marriage.

Dorsey Band Leader Meet Lee Castle

"Jimmy and Tommy Dorsey were tough — but great," said Lee Castle, director of the Jimmy Dorsey band, during an intermission at the Military Ball Jan. 28.

Castle chatted with the reporter as he posed for pictures with students.

The amiable band leader told of his rise to stardom after the death of Jimmy Dorsey. Castle played trumpet for Jimmy until the fabulous Jimmy died about two years ago.

"After Jimmy died, I took over. The only reason it is called the Jimmy Dorsey band is because Tommy's wife has rights to Tommy's band."

"The kids still like the old standards," Castle smiled. "I've hardly ever got a request for 'rock n' roll,' and as far as I'm concerned, it's not dying—it's dead."

Castle grinned as photographer took two pictures and the bulbs did not flash either time.

"That's the story of my life," he laughed, "flashbulbs don't work."

Castle, who will alternate with the Harry James orchestra in the near future at Las Vegas, talked with this reporter at the Military Ball, Jan. 28.

Asked what kind of work he likes best, he emphatically said, "There's no doubt about it, college dances are the greatest."

"The college kids appreciate good music more, and even though sometimes they don't applaud, we can tell they are really having a good time."

"Except for vacations and big bookings, we're on the road all the time."

The Dorsey band appeared at Marion on Thursday night and at Carlini on Saturday evening.

Castle said SIU students are just about like all college students.

"How do I like Southern?"

"The people that I've associated with thus far have been more than friendly. It seems to be a fine school."

Castle, one of the most friendly band directors to visit Southern, glanced nervously at his watch and said, "Well, just about time to get the band back to work."

With that, the director of the Jimmy Dorsey band shook hands with the men, bowed to the ladies and went "back to work."

Canadians Give Fine Show

Drama lovers braved the rain and snow Monday evening to see the Canadian Players' production of "Devil's Disciple" in a performance.

The story, by George Bernard Shaw, took place in America during the Revolution. Most of the action centered around the young, debonair Dick Dudgeon, a disciple of the devil, to whom he had sold his soul. He was mistaken for a Presbyterian minister by Mrs. Anderson, and sentenced to hang.

Anderson, played by Norman Welsh, ran away, renouncing his ministerial duties, and he returned just in time to save Dudgeon from the gallows.

His wife, Judith Anderson, portrayed by Elaine Nichols, handled her role with remarkable skill. Her original hatred for Dudgeon turned to love when he attempts to sacrifice his life for her husband's. After Anderson joined the army, he gave up his wife, asking Dudgeon to "take good care of her."

Tom Follows, as Dudgeon, kept the play moving with his natural flair for drama and comedy. During his trial, his remark, "I never expect a soldier to think, sir," in answer to one of General Burgoyne's questions, nearly brought down the house.

The supporting cast, as well as the featured players, displayed unusual and unique ability in presenting the play.

Weinrich Recital Features Concert

An organ recital will be presented by Carl Weinrich Sunday at 3 p.m. at the First Methodist Church. The concert is one of a series in conjunction with the Festival of Fine Arts.

Weinrich, who will play organ music by Italian composers, has performed at all parts of the United States through concerts and recordings. Time Magazine described him, along with Marcel Dupre and Albert Schweitzer, as one of the three greatest living players of Bach's organ music.

Since 1943 Weinrich has been director of music at Magnificent Chapel, Princeton University. He has taught at various colleges, including Wellesley, Vassar and Columbia.

In 1950, he was invited by Harvard to give eight recitals as Lamd Visiting Lecturer. The first time such an honor was awarded to a performer.

Weinrich recently recorded all the Bach organ works at the Church of Our Lady, Skaneateles, Sweden. He recorded 25 long-playing records.

Activities planned for the third week of the Festival include a performance by the Antiqua Players Feb. 5.

Provides Funds For Housing, Student Center

A bond sale totaling $7.6 million was approved by the SIU Board of Trustees in a meeting Tuesday. The record bond sale covers a $4.6 million fund for the University Center and a $3 million federal loan for housing.

The amount will be covered by bonds to the state government for its share of the University Center loan and two to the federal government, one for $2.3 million housing loan.

Thompson Point and Dowdell construction site covered by the loan. Bids are to be opened the first of February for the University Center.

The Board also established a graduate program in geology and voted to establish a separate department of higher education in the College of Education.

Completed in 1961

Completion date for the University Center is estimated for May 1, 1961, according to proposals sent to contractors.

The proposals state that the contractor must begin work within 10 days after receiving written notice from the University.

A spokesman from the University Architect's office said work will probably begin this spring.

The building will be located on S. Thompson ave.

It will consist of four major decks with a small basement and 10 bedrooms, bowling alley, loges, conference room, ballroom and mood units with kitchens will be located on the main deck.

Contractors must submit their bids prior to Feb. 10, the deadline. The bids will then be publicly opened at the Morris Library Auditorium.

As of Jan. 9, 14 bids had been submitted to the University.

Board Members Named

Two members of the Board of Trustees have been named to a joint committee representing state higher educational institutions.

Delegates to the liaison committee are Kenneth L. Davis, Harrisburg, and Harold R. Friesinger, Carbondale.

The Board also approved administration arrangements for fraternity and sorority use of University housing in "fraternity row." Under the plan, an organized group may use a floor or all of one of the nine units now under construction.

The Editors' Opinions

A Welcome Noise

Completion of work on the SIU Storm Warning siren brings a sigh of relief not only from those connected with the University but also the people of Carbondale.

An effective means of warning area residents of approaching storms has been sought for several years. Radio and TV did not prove to be the answer. Too many people would not have their sets on at the crucial moment.

The warning siren promises to be the answer. If its blast can be heard up to seven miles away. With an alert crew of civil defense storm watchers the siren can give the University and the area advance notice of an approaching storm. And this warning could mean the difference between safety and disaster for many people.

Those doing the work and planning for the storm warning siren deserve our thanks.

Winners All!

With much of the fanfare and attention being given to sports such as football and basketball the wrestling team at SIU has tended to be overlooked. Not until their recent victory over the U. of I. did people begin to sip up and notice.

Starting in February of 1957 the Saluki wrestlers have built up a string of 18 dual meet victories in a row. Going further back the team has won 28 of its last 29 matches.

This is an outstanding record; made even more noteworthy by the top flite competition it was made against. Coach Jim Wilkinson and the SIU wrestlers are to be congratulated.

But while bouquets are being handed out in the sporting world the other so-called minor sports of swimming and gymnastics should not be overlooked. In all of these sports Southern has become tough competition for the best.

behind the news

By JOE BLEWETT

A doctor's prescription for a patient often includes these words of advice, "Get a hobby; something that will get you out in the fresh air and keep you busy."

This advice is usually sound—if the activity chosen is the right one for the particular individual. A dull hobby can be worse than none at all, and one which includes a lot of strenuous exercise can be dangerous for some.

Often times, also there is a basic conflict between a person's hobby and his home life. If the leisure time activity is golf, for example, the wife is likely to take a narrow minded view at times and insist the yard be mowed. Or the fishing trip is apt to be postponed indefinitely by a window cleaning expedition.

But these are all negative examples which cast cold water on the aspirations of a prospective hobbyist. No one will deny that a good hobby can make life a lot more interesting.

Many people have made their hobbies pay off in more than just enjoyment. In some cases the spare time interests have turned into the major source of income.

Actually practically any interest other than the regular job can be termed a hobby. I don't know of any criteria to determine what can be legally termed a hobby and what should be referred to some Senate investigating committee for further study.

Contrary to a now oft used statement no one really has to "think for himself" to take up an unusual hobby. We all have different interests.

In past years a hobby was more often associated with older people. It was something which you took up when life no longer had anything else to offer. This conception has done an about face in recent years. Now having a hobby is the popular thing.

At one time a hobby also had somewhat of a negative connotation. One immediately thought of stamp collecting or some similar activity which appeals to only a few.

One of the seven cardinal principles of education is "worthy use of leisure time." What is "worthy" is open to debate. Some would contend that just plain loafing can be a worthy occupation—usually neglecting to admit this "hobby" can be overdue.

Even students manage to find time for hobbies. Of course the stock reply when the male student is asked his hobby remains "Golf."

It is doubtful if studying could be classified by any stretch of the imagination as being a hobby. For some it definitely is a leisure time activity but couldn't very well fit under the title of a special interest.

Doctors have been saying for some time that the human body isn't geared for the present day pace. The tragic increase in deaths due to heart attacks bears this out. Perhaps more hobbies of a "slowing down nature" are the answer.

Gus Bode Says

Gus says Southern really doesn't need a storm warning siren. He's built up considerable prowess by whistling at the girls.

Gus wanted to join the grunt and groaners but he was afraid he'd hurt someone.

Gus knows where the ten little Indians really went. They got on TV and are all rich.

Students interested in joining the Boating and Sailing Club may register in the Student Union.

The Sweetheart Dance will be held Feb. 14 at the Anthony Hall Eaves.

Letter To Editor

Though this letter is sent to the Editor of the Egyptian it may be better directed to the person in charge of the Gymnastics meets of Southern Illinois University.

This is my fourth year here at Southern, and in those four years, I have attended every sport event that SIU has participated in that I possibly could. This naturally does not make me an authority on the finer points of the various sports, but I was alarmed, hundreds of other "Saluki" were, at the obviously poor judging at the Gymnastics meet with the University of Illinois. One judge, in particular, seemed to award "be champions" points on the basis of their reputations and capabilities, rather than their performances on that evening.

This gentleman, though a former Big 10 champion, should not be allowed to judge any more because of his rather poor judgement exercised Tuesday evening. It would be a break for the gymnastic team, as well as the "Saluki" fans if another judge could be found. If no other person is available, I have a Cocker Spaniel that could do that well, and besides, she does not know anyone's reputations in the field of gymnastics.

DUBARU IS PROFESSOR IN SIU FORESTRY

James F. Dubar, Earlville, N.Y., was approved recently as visiting professor of forestry at SIU for the spring term by the SIU board of trustees. Prof. Dubar will direct Southern's spring term forestry camp program, beginning March 16.

Dubar retired last summer as director of the ranger school in the State University of New York College of Forestry at Syracuse, a position he had held since 1921.

STUDENT HIRED TO HELP DISABLED

Bill Fife, a wheel chair student, has been hired by the University to assist blind and handicapped students. Fife said some disabled students need more help than other patients, and that his job would be to consult with and advise University officials on their problems.

"There are plans to increase the number of severely handicapped students," Fife said. "More housing facilities are needed and the University is working on it."

Co-rec volleyball rosters are due today.

The teams must be made up of four boys and four girls. The games will be played on Saturday afternoon from 1:30 p. m. to 5 p. m.

KEITH LYNN, B.S.E.E., PURDUE, '52, INVITES YOU TO

"Spend a day with me at work"

"I'm an Equipment Engineer for Illinois Bell Telephone Company in Chicago. Speaking personally, I find Bell Telephone engineering darned interesting and very rewarding. But judge for yourself."

"8:30 a.m. We start at my desk. I'm studying recommendations for installing additional dial telephone facilities at the central office in suburban Glenview. This is the beginning of an interesting new engineering assignment."

"10:20 a.m. I discuss a proposed layout for the additional central office equipment with Supervising Engineer Sam P. Abate. I'll want to inspect the installation area this afternoon, so I telephone the garage and order a car."

"11:00 a.m. At an interdepartmental conference I help plan procedures for another job that I've been assigned. Working closely with other departments of the company broadens your experience and know-how tremendously."

"2:00 p.m. After lunch I drive out to the Glenview office. Here, in the frame room, I'm checking floor space required by the proposed equipment. Believe me, the way our business is growing, every square foot counts."

"3:10 p.m. Then I drive over to the office at nearby Skokie where a recent engineering assignment of mine is in its final stages. Here I'm suggesting a modification to the Western Electric installation foreman on the job."

"3:30 p.m. Before starting back to Chicago, I examine a piece of Out Sender equipment being removed from the Skokie central office. This unit might fit in just fine at one of our other offices. I'll look into it tomorrow."

"Well, that was today. Tomorrow will be different. As you can see, I take a job from the beginning and follow it through. Often I have a lot of jobs in various stages at the same time. I think most engineers would agree, that keeps work interesting."

Wrestlers Tie Illini In Knots 24-4

A tremendous Saluki showing gave the large crowd of loyal followers exactly what it wanted to see — a victory over the Big Ten Conference Illini squad — in Monday night's dual wrestling meet at Men's Gym.

Southern did not lose a bout to Illinois. The best that the U of I could do was score four points on two draws.

Jack Crider, an ex-Purdue wrestler and transfer student to SIU, battled the Illini's Mike McLaughlin in a 3-3 deadlock in the 157 pound division. Crider made his first varsity appearance as a Saluki Monday night after becoming eligible this term.

SIU's Ken Pontikes drew 1-1 with his opponent in the 191 pound class.

Before the two draws, Southern had compiled a 14-0 lead in the first four matches.

Blind athlete Deké Edwards needed riding time to edge by the U of I's Frosty Devore in a very close bout, 3-2.

Edwards held his top position over Devore during the entire two minutes of the third period.

Edwards was performing before a group from the Missouri School for the Blind, the high school which he formerly attended.

The Salukis' 20-point margin of victory gave no indication of closeness between the teams. The fact that every SIU individual victory except a forfeit, was won by the difference of a single point clearly illustrates that the teams were closely matched.

With the victory, Southern increased its winning streak to 18 in a row and 29 out of the last 30 in dual meets.

The defeat was the second to be suffered by the Illini squad, who now has a 1-2 dual meet mark for the season.

The Saluki grapplers will make another appearance at home Saturday night against Indiana University at 7:30.

Salukis Hunt For Hawks

Tonight, the Hawks will be in the dog race. The Hawks are the Quiner Men's gym. The dog race will be in the Men's gym as Harry Gallatin's crew will attempt to unlesh another fast-moving high scoring game.

The Salukis, led by Charlie Vaughn, Seymour Bryson and company, will be shooting for their eighth consecutive victory and their twelfth win of the season.

Quincy will be tough, in fact, they will be one of the stiffest tests for the point, happy Salukis in a long while.

Southern is one of the top teams in the nation as far as the scoring department. They have dumped in 1,484 in 17 games for an average of 87.3 points-per-game.

Vaughn is leading in the point production department with a sparkling total of 415 points for a 24.4 average per contest. Seymour Bryson, playing brilliantly in the last five games, has ripped the nets for 345 points good enough for 20.3 per outing.

All five starters are hitting at better than 40% from the field. In fact, only three men of the 12 varsity are hitting under 40% of their shots from the field. As a team Southern has hit 588

Coach Ralph Casey, optimistic after the showing of his first- and second-year teams, predicts a tight 12 varsity are hitting under 40% of their shots from the field. As a team Southern has hit 588

Piccone New Grid Mentor

The SIU Board of Trustees appointed Carmen Piccone as head football coach at Southern last Tuesday afternoon.

Piccone will assume the duties of head coach in time to prepare for spring practice which begins in March. He succeeds Al Kawa, who resigned three weeks ago after four seasons as head grid mentor.

The 29-year-old Piccone, Philadelphia native who came to SIU for years ago as Kawa's backfield coach after they left Temple University. Carmen played under Kawa at Temple.

Piccone's biggest immediate problem is finding some new backs. The Salukis lose the entire first string backfield of quarterback Bill Norwood, half-backs Carver Shannon, who was recently drafted by Los Angeles and Renato Lewis and fullback Cecil Hart by graduation. Second string quarterback Dave Wheeler also graduates.

Piccone apparently plans no drastic changes in coaching personnel.

Saluki Gymnasts Scare 'Abe And The Boys'

A large thrilled crowd witnessed a brilliant exhibition of gymnastics in the Men's Gym last Tuesday night as the University of Illinois, defending national champion, edged a young, talented Saluki squad by a mere five points, 58 1/2-53 1/2.

Bill Meade's athletics gave the highly partisan crowd a thrill as they jumped off to a 29-19 lead after the first three events. The Illini however, led by Olympic performers Don Torry and Abe Grossfeld, took over and outpointed the Salukis on the high bar, parallel bar and rings. Fine efforts by Len Kalkian, Jack Wiley and Hugh Blaney in the final event, tumbling, went for naught as the Illini were far in front.

Leonard Kalakian led the Saluki attack against the Illini, winner of the Big Ten crown for the past nine years, as he scored 16 points. Len won the trampoline and tumbling events and finished second in free exercise.

Another Saluki first was picked up by Bob Kies as he turned in a fine routine on the side c horse. Ed Foster ushered in another fine performance on the still rings finishing behind Abe Grossfeld.

This weekend the Saluki gymnasts face three meets. Today the Salukis stop off at Eastern Illinois to face the Panthers. Tomorrow they move to Muncie, Ind. for a triangular test with Ball State and the University of Chicago.

Probable lineup:

- 123 lb.—Baize (IU) vs. Irvin (SIU)
- 130 lb.—Zohory (IU) vs. Bledsoe (SIU)
- 137 lb.—Morrison (IU) vs. Edwards (SIU) or Frankenberg (SIU)
- 147 lb.—Petronka (IU) vs. Grubbs (SIU)
- 157 lb.—Gallow (IU) vs. Crider (SIU)
- 167 lb.—Redecker (IU) vs. Ayres (SIU)
- 177 lb.—Thot (IU) vs. Pontikes (SIU)
- Hwt.—Servise (IU) vs. Rushing (SIU)

'LET'S SEE NOW... What's next.' Bob Kies didn't have any trouble figuring it out though. Kies, a sophomore from St. Louis, turned in an excellent routine on the side horse to win the event in the Salukis meet with Illinois Tuesday.

IIAC Cage Title Up For Grabs

Entering the final month of conference action, the fight continues for top position in the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

Western Illinois, last season's walkaway with 12-0 conference record, is finding the road a bit more difficult this season.

Illinois Normal is at present in hot contention but it is felt by many that SIU is still the team to beat. Coach Harry Galatin's outfit could be in a first place tie with Illinois Normal had it not been for an early season forfeit to Western Illinois due to the use of an ineligible transfer player.

Salukis Meet Normal

The next conference action slated for Feb. 6, will have a good deal to do with the standings as Illinois Normal travels to SIU. Then on Feb. 21, Illinois Normal hosts Western Illinois, so it can be seen that the conference championship is far from determined.

Both Illinois Normal and Western Illinois had their fill of scares this weekend as they were almost upset by tallender Eastern Michigan College. Western had to go into overtime to emerge with a 95-87 score while the Redbirds edged the Hurons in regulation time 67-64. Southern also had a rather difficult time prior to beating Northern Illinois, 80-78. It may, then, be a season of late upsets hurting the chances of either one of the new top ball clubs.

As far as conference action is

Bird Dogs Hold To Slim Lead

The pivotal match between the league-leading Bird Dogs and first-half champion Newman Club No. 2 is scheduled for Monday night at the Congress Lanes. To the winner may go the eventual second-half title in the Independent Students Bowling League.

The two teams were only three points apart when the Newmans nailed down the first-half diamond, and the rivalry is just as abid in the second half of play. The Bird Dogs would like to win the title, thereby necessitating a playoff match with the over-all loolp titist.

Although today's standings show that the Bird Dogs have a three-point command over the Newmans, the race probably is a mile closer. The Newmans' rolling on last Monday night was against no opposition because Dowdell Hall announced that it was withdrawing from the nine-team circuit. Dowdell's replacement — the Air Force — was to have bowled against Newman No. 2's scoties Wednesday evening.

The Bird Dogs had their second-half championship experience detailed for the first time last Monday at Congress. They were held to a 2-2 standoff by Doyle Dorn No. 2.

BOYER HALL TURNS INTO 'SNAKE PIT'

THETA XI FEATURES OPEN HOUSE, PARTIES

Theta Xi, a new organization, held its doors wide open to interested people last week as the TX men held open house and rush parties.

The open house, held Sunday evening, Jan. 18, brought many bright new faces within the walls of the chapter house. Upon entering, the public was shown through the building, including the individual rooms and studying areas. Punch and cookies were served while conversation ran high. Sam Meyer, who was in charge of the open house, deemed it a success.

Despite the rain and snow which plagued the Theta Xi rush parties held Jan. 20, many interested prospective rushers were on hand. Under the direction of Don Wolf, rush chairman, the rushers were invited to spend a short evening viewing slides and singing songs. East Meets West In Fashion

By Betty Shadle

Kipling once said "East is east and west is west, and never the twain shall meet." But here on the campus of SIU east and west are meeting in the person of Nazareen Mizra, graduate student from Pakistan.

Impressed by saddle shoes and sack dresses but always attired in her native dress, Nazareen expresses a genuine interest in the fashions of the Western world, noticing also that there are similar fashions in Pakistan.

She comments favorably on the face that the American girls take so much care to get that they are well groomed. She feels that the great difference in the dating customs of Pakistan and the United States have a great deal to do with this. In Pakistan girls do not begin dating until they have graduated from
