End of Frosh at Universities Seen

Collision Kills Two Students

Funeral services were held Monday for John William Rolofson and Jerry Eugene Cobble, SIU students who were killed in an auto accident.

The small foreign car which belonged to Rolofson burst into flames after colliding with another car about 4 p.m. Friday on Rt. 127 near Carlyle.

Rolofson was born Aug. 2, 1941, in Decatur. He served three years in the U.S. Army. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Rolofson who are the publishers of a weekly newspaper in Blandinsville, Ill.

He was a sophomore. Cobble was a junior majoring in agriculture. He was born April 9, 1943 at Westville. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Cobble, and a sister Janet.

Journalist Visits SIU From Bolivia

A man who began his journalism career on a small university publication and worked his way up to be acting chief of information on one of Bolivia's major newspapers, El Diario de La Paz, is visiting the campus today.

He hopes to get ideas which will enable him to contribute to the establishment of a journalism school in La Paz.

Oscar Pena Franco is touring various newspapers and journalism schools in the United States as part of a government-sponsored Foreign Leader Exchange Program.

Pena was less impressed by newspapers than by his visit to the New York World's Fair, but said that he believed U.S. newspapers to be technically superior to the Bolivian papers.

Since he was unable to read English language papers, Pena couldn't compare the news coverage of the two countries, but he said the "diagramming" is better looking in Bolivian papers, referring to what U.S. journalists would call the newspaper's makeup.

Pena commented that the content of the U.S. and Bolivian papers is similar, and that comic strips are very popular.

Miss Southern of 1964

Joan Yale

Joan Yale, Louisville Beauty of Woody Hall Crowned 'Miss Southern' at Spring Festival

Joan Yale, a willowy brunette with a gentle smile, will carry SIU's colors into the Miss Illinois contest later this year.

Miss Yale, a senior majoring in English, was selected "Miss Southern" as a climax to the 1964 Spring Festival Saturday night. The title assures her a spot in the Miss Illinois contest.

She was selected from a field of 16 candidates who competed on the basis of talent, personality, poise and beauty.

Earlier this year Miss Yale was elected "Miss Woody Hall." She is a member of Sigma Beta Gamma, radio-television honorary fraternity. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yale of Louisville, Ky.

Trudy Gidcumb, last year's "Miss Southern," placed the crown on Miss Yale's head at the Spring Festival dance in the University Center Ballroom. About 400 persons attended the dance.

Her four attendants, finalists in the contest, were Laurie Brown, Carbondale; Linda Laswell, Henderson, Ky.; Lois Pakulecki, Chicago; and Bonnie Syren, Chicago.

In spite of high winds which proved a setback in construction, Spring Festival this year was again made a success through team work efforts of all those involved.

The grand champion Midway prize went to the Sigma Kappa-Sigma Pi show which was a takeoff on the Broadway musical "Camelot," according to Ed Salowitz of the Student Activities Office.

Also in the category of shows, first place prize went to the Theta Xi-Sigma Sigma

Radio Station Manager To Speak to Journalists

Junior Colleges to Provide Training, Grinnell Predicts

John Grinnell, vice president for operations, has predicted freshman and sophomore programs would be phased out of universities, leaving the institutions free to concentrate on upperclassmen and graduate students.

Grinnell was one of 17 persons who testified before a public hearing of the State Board of Higher Education on the provisional Master Plan Monday at SIU.

Grinnell said enrollments would increase tremendously in the next decade, and except for experimental underclass groups in the General Studies programs, all freshmen and sophomores would be urged to

VTI Dinner, Dance Planned on May 22

The annual Vocational-Technical Institute spring banquet and dance will be held at 6 p.m. May 22 at the Egyptian Sands of the Marion Travel Lodge.

The banquet, which is sponsored by the VTI Student Advisory Council, will honor graduating VTI students.

Music will be provided by the Travelers. Tickets can be obtained from 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. at Southern Acres cafeteria.

attend junior colleges.

Robert Berkheimer, junior college consultant in the Office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction—who had not planned to speak at the hearing in the newly filled University Center Ballroom—seconded Grinnell's remarks. Berkheimer said there are 50 per cent more 17-year-olds in Illinois than there are 18-year-olds.

He said this means that education institutions will be asked to house 150 per cent of this school year's freshmen in facilities that are not adequate at present. He predicted in five years the institutions would not "be able to house all the students we are going to have to house."

President Delyte W. Morris closed the hearing by speaking off the cuff on Grinnell's remarks. He suggested balancing the enrollments among the four classes within institutions and letting each institution decide what the role of the freshman and sophomore classes would be.

He said each school would be best able to determine what it could do for the underclassmen.

A section of the provisional Master Plan that came under heavy fire provides that a district must be able to produce an enrollment of 1,000 full-time students within five years in order to qualify for financial aid in building junior college facilities.

Speaker after speaker attacked the provision, saying that the number was too high for Southern Illinois. Harry Boyd, superintendent of the high school and junior college at Harrisburg, said a genuine concern for the population affected should be tempered with statistics, not vice versa. "We would not treat the ill by waiting until we had five patients," Boyd said.

He pointed out that many districts do not have enough high school graduates to satisfy the requirements of the provisional Master Plan. If junior colleges are not available in Southern Illinois, (Continued on Page 3)

Fuller, Fresh From Journey, Will Speak on 'World Design'

R. Buckminster Fuller, research professor of design, will give the fifth in a series of nine lectures sponsored by the Design Department at 8 p. m. today in Browne Auditorium.

Title of the lecture is "World Design."

Fuller, who recently returned from a three-month teaching tour of African nations, found the Ghana students highly stimulating and receptive to his ideas on world planning "for peace and plenty through scientific design competence and industrial technology revolution."

Hoffman Gets Role For Fine 'Chopping'

In the movies, it's often been said, your face is your fortune.

But that's not quite the case with Ron Hoffman, a 19-year-old SIU student. He may not be able to collect much on his face—but his judo chop, well that's a thing of beauty and a joy forever, moviewise, that is.

Hoffman, who spends his hours off from studying

1st Class Starts At Edwardsville

The first course to be taught on the new Edwardsville Campus of SIU is now under way.

It's a four-hour senior-level course in methods of field geography meeting Saturday mornings at the Metropolitan Affairs and Public Administration office building near the main entrance to the campus.

The university has been offering degree courses at Alton and East St. Louis since 1957, but this spring's course in geography is the first to be taught at Edwardsville.

Hindi Classes to Start

Hindi language classes will begin at 7 p.m. Thursday in Room F of the University Center. Classes are open to the public.

flipping opponents like a pin wheel, just completed the fight scenes for the movie, "Mickey One," being filmed in Chicago. But you'll never see his face on the screen.

In fact, Columbia Pictures hopes you'll think it is Warren Beatty, whose face is indeed his fortune and couldn't be put on the chopping block, in a manner of speaking.

Hoffman, who is about Beatty's size, was hired to do the fight scenes because of his judo ability. He demonstrated it for the movie cameras last Friday on Chicago's Rush Street where part of the picture was being filmed.

He managed to "best" his opponents as any movie hero worth his salt should, and still keep his back to the cameras so the public, hopefully, will believe it was Beatty and otherwise teaching the bad guys a lesson.

Hoffman, a prime mover in the SIU Judo Club, is a Judo master at 19. He received his Black Belt at 16 and is the holder of 97 first and second place judo trophies.

He has spent seven months in Japan studying advanced techniques in Judo and plans to return this summer to continue his studies.

Reportedly, he is the youngest person in this country to receive a Black Belt.

Cave Man Tour Set Saturday

Peace Corps Is Still Looking For SIU Graduating Seniors

Graduating seniors may still apply for Peace Corps summer training programs, according to I. Clark Davis, campus Peace Corps liaison officer.

Davis emphasized fast action, however.

He urged interested seniors to pick up a Peace Corps volunteer questionnaire from the Post Office or the Student Government office immediately.

They should be completed and mailed to the director of recruiting, Peace Corps, Washington, D.C., 20525, as quickly as possible.

According to Davis, 183 students from SIU have applied for the Peace Corps since last fall. SIU now has 28 former students serving with the Peace Corps, and two others have completed their two-year tours.

Davis said there is a particular need for volunteers who can teach English, science and mathematics.

SIU will have about 100 Peace Corps trainees on campus this summer.

L. V. Olah to Talk At Botany Seminar

L. V. Olah, professor of botany, will speak at the weekly Botany Seminar at 4 p.m. Wednesday in Room 323 of the Life Science Building.

His topic will be "A New Cytological Effect Induced by Digitonin, Sterol, Precipitating Non-Ionic Saponin."

More SIU Students Involved In $120,000 Mail Theft Case

Postal and SIU authorities have indicated that several students may be charged in the theft of three mail pouches containing about $120,000 in checks.

W.R. Newsome, a postal inspector, said today that most of the checks in the bags, which were taken March 10 and April 26, were nonnegotiable. He said there were seven attempts to cash the checks, some successful.

James A. Klusman, 20, a freshman from Summit, N.J., and Charles Hoch, 24, of Chicago, were arrested earlier this week. Klusman was charged with illegal possession of mail and mail theft; Hoch with unlawful possession of stolen mail.

The Office of Student Affairs said it would take University action against Klusman, but no official action had been taken by press time.

Newsome said his report to Dist. Atty. Carl Peickert in East St. Louis would contain the names of several other SIU students, and it would be Peickert's decision on whether they would be prosecuted. Newsome declined to say how many students would be named in the report, but University sources said there were five SIU students in the case.

Sanskrit Scholar To Visit Southern

V. Raghavan, an authority on ancient Indian theater, will visit the SIU campus for three days, beginning Wednesday.

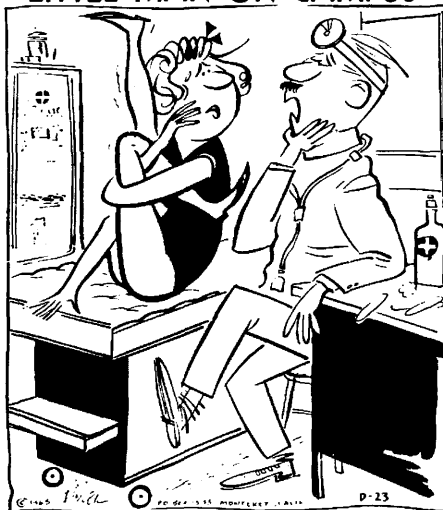

He will give a lecture at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Family Living Center of the Home Economics Building. The lecture is entitled, "The Drama and Theater of Ancient India." He will also address theater classes informally during the day.

Raghavan, professor and head of the Department of Sanskrit at the University of Madras, India, since 1931, is the author of books on Sanskrit drama, theater, poetry, literature and dance in three languages--Sanskrit, English and Tamil.

"He is the leading exponent on the dramatic literature and actual production of plays in India," said Archibald McLeod, chairman of the Department of Theater, which invited Raghavan.

Raghavan is currently making a two-month tour of the United States on a "leadership grant" from the U.S. State Department.

Education Board Hears Testimony

Geoffrey Hughes, executive director of Southern Illinois, Inc., a regional betterment organization, said the area has 15,000 men and 5,000 women on the unemployment rolls.

"We have noticed a tremendous impact of education in general, and this university (SIU) in particular, in helping us alleviate the problem," Hughes said. "We believe that education is a sure cure for unemployment."

Willis Moore, chairman of the Philosophy Department, spoke at the hearing from the viewpoints of faculty members and academic freedom. Moore pointed out that faculty members tend to resist centralization of administration in academic matters which increases the distance between the policy makers and the "grassroots" operation of the policy.

He asked that centralization be kept to a minimum, allowing room at each institution for variety and experimentation in courses, procedures and programs.

Moore said the Master Plan should include an affirmation of the principles of academic freedom and tenure and of faculty participation in academic policy making.

The chairman said he asked these things "not as protection of faculty members as functionaries... but as a constitutional defense against possible future attacks on the essential structure of the educational function itself."

The State Board holds the fifth in its series of statewide hearings today at Edwardsville.

Reds Caught in Plot To Kill McNamara

SAIGON, South Viet Nam-- A Communist agent suspected of plotting to kill U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara leaped from a window at police headquarters Monday.

The agent, identified as Nguyen Van Troi, leaped from a second-floor window, landed on a jeep, suffered a broken leg and was hospitalized. Troi was one of three suspected Communist Viet Cong agents picked up Saturday night as they tried to mine a bridge on the route McNamara will take today from Saigon airport into the capital.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge was expected to be riding with McNamara.

The Viet Cong agents confessed they planned to blow up the bridge.

Rights Voting Delayed Again By Dixie Bloc

WASHINGTON -- Hopes of Senate leaders for additional voting on jury trial amendments to the embattled civil rights bill were dealt a blow Monday by Southern opponents. Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., spokesman for the Dixie bloc, told newsmen he didn't think there would be any votes this week.

He added, however, that a meeting of the Southern senators will be held today and he will be in a better position then to assess the situation.

With the Senate in the 10th week and 52nd day of its civil rights debate, party leaders had hoped that the jury trial issue could be disposed of by midweek.

A statement issued by bipartisan leaders supporting the House bill had reported that a vote probably would be taken today on a compromise jury trial amendment advanced by Sens. Mike Mansfield of Montana, and Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Mansfield is the Democratic leader of the Senate and Dirksen is the GOP leader.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., called on the Senate to act now, saying "32 days of debate on this bill is ridiculous."

"Let's vote it up or down," he said.

Proxmire said there was a massive legislative program to be acted on.

Arias Takes Lead In Panama Voting

PANAMA--Former President Arnulfo Arias took an expected slight lead Monday in fragmentary returns from Panama's presidential election. The tedious ballot counting may not produce the winner until Wednesday.

Early returns from Panama City precincts gave the 63-year-old American-educated surgeon a steady lead over the government coalition candidate, Marco A. Robles, 58.

Government Probes Hoffa's Finances

WASHINGTON -- Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz began an investigation Monday of the use of union funds to pay legal fees for Teamster President James R. Hoffa.

The Labor Department said the investigation began after a complaint by 16 members of a Teamster Local in Philadelphia.

Crash Near Manila Kills 74

MANILA--A U.S. military transport plane crashed in a rainstorm Monday night, killing 73 of 83 persons aboard, the Air Force said.

Just before smashing into the ground, the plane struck a taxicab with a driver and two passengers. One passenger was killed and the other two persons in the cab were injured.

Wreckage was strewn over a wide area of the base, a relay point for supplying U.S. forces in South Viet Nam.

The spokesman said there was a localized rain squall in the Clark area 60 miles north of Manila at the time but "there was plenty of visibility."

He said investigators at the scene gave no indication of the cause of the crash. He added that weather conditions at the base were not unusual for landings.

The transport, carrying 73 passengers and a crew of 10, broke up and burned less than a half mile from the runway, the spokesman said.

It had left Travis Air Force Base, Calif., Sunday and had stopped at Hickam Field, Hawaii, before going on to Clark.

A spokesman for the U.S. 5th Air Force in Japan was told that the plane carried "military passengers."

Letters to the Editor

Teachers or Writers?

Which is more valuable to the University—the teacher or the publisher?

Amid the recent perishable non-publishers is Woodrow Wilson Sayre, grandson of President Woodrow Wilson. He is a philosophy teacher at Tufts University, Medford, Mass. He may not be around next year, because the powers "are frankly disappointed that the promise of scholarly contribution has not materialized." Why the publishing fervor? It attracts students, grants, and prestige. Chances are professors also learn something from their research. Chancellor Harry Ransom said he took a list of professors that students over the last five years have named as outstanding. "The list of their publications is longer than your arm," he said.

One professor at a recent Inquiry session said that he used to believe in doing nothing but teaching. But, he said, when raise time came, he found the publishers moving up while he stayed put. The fellows that were writing articles, he said, were also writing their own tickets. Now he's conforming. He says, he says.

IRVING DILLIARD

Finally—an A. B. A. Rights Unit

Every now and then something happens inside the generally staid American Bar association that makes you want to throw your hat in the air as a sign of enthusiastic approval. Something of just that kind is happening now.

A nation-wide group of 18 lawyers, with Dean Jefferson B. Fordham of the University of Pennsylvania law school as chairman, is undertaking "to bring about the establishment of a section of individual rights in the American Bar association." The idea is to provide a regularly constituted unit within the A. B. A. which will concern itself continuously with issues, controversies, and matters arising under the constitutional protections of the individual citizen.

There are many units within the A. B. A. These deal with criminal problems, international relations, and a host of matters, many of them urgent and important. But the most important area of all—what happens to our historic bill of rights in times of increasing tension and strain—has been too long slighted.

Old Committee Fades

Just a quarter century ago the A. B. A. did establish a special committee on the citizen's liberties. Under leadership of its sponsor, distinguished Grenville Clark of Dublin, N. H., that committee illuminated many dark corners with strong light. But after a few years, less enthusiastic administrations of the A. B. A. allowed it to fall into disuse. In time it became almost a mockery of its original purpose.

What was needed is what the new group, including happily Grenville Clark who is vigorously active at the age of 81, seeks—the status of a duly constituted section within the structure of the A. B. A. Such a section can recruit members, plan activities, hold meetings, and focus public attention thru newspaper reports and other publicity on developments bearing on individual rights. One urgent need is informed pro and con discussion of civil liberties and civil rights issues. The proposed A. B. A. section is a means to that end.

Stimulus to Action

To be blunt about it, too few lawyers concern themselves with these fundamental American issues. The new A. B. A. section will be a stimulus to a proper appreciation of their day-in-and-day-out urgency. Moreover, the new section can recommend "appropriate steps for the protection of individual rights against arbitrary exercise of power at any level of government."

Some good work is being done in existing committees concerning, for example, racial unrest. But this is not nearly enough. The A. B. A. can and should—indeed, must—do a lot more.

The organizing committee includes law deans of Yale and Harvard, Eugene V. Rostow and Erwin N. Griswold. It includes Arthur J. Freund, St. Louis; Rufus King, Washington; and Joseph G. Harrison, Newark. But it is not a northern committee. Several organizers are in Texas, Alabama, Louisiana, and Tennessee.

This column joins in the hope of Dean Fordham and his fellow organizers that the new section "be established as promptly as may be."

Forced ROTC Conscription: Can We Morally Justify It?

After examining the letter of Thomas J. Anton ("ROTC Defense: Remember Pearl Harbor?" April 30), I find myself in agreement with most of his points. Unfortunately, I also find it necessary to carry these to a logical conclusion.

I, like Mr. Anton, feel that if a student does not like the idea of compulsory ROTC, he either should leave SIU immediately or not start in the first place, so that we who are left peacefully can turn SIU into a co-educational Air Force Military Academy. This, I am certain, would at least satisfy the militarists hiding among the majority.

At the same time, it would eliminate many of the other problems raised by Mr. Anton, such as an unwilling student disgracing the mighty military uniform; not-so-patriotic Americans lacking in subservience to the Stars and Stripes; and to stress the most important point, that greatest danger from within, the Communists (read in a hushed voice), might really balk at trying to infiltrate a society (classified from General up to Private) that is under a uniform, totalitarian rule.

In all seriousness, though, I find that Mr. Anton neatly side-stepped the main issues concerning compulsory ROTC by not asking such questions as: Is forced conscription into ROTC morally and constitutionally right? Does compulsory ROTC actually persuade a substantial number of persons (over and above those who would continue anyway, from personal preference) to choose the military as a career? Is SIU an institute of public education or a branch of the armed forces? Does ROTC contribute enough substantial knowledge to compensate for those classes that a student might otherwise take? and other questions of this sort.

Mr. Anton might well consider some of the factors involved instead of waving a Glory high, crying patriotism, and charging blindly into the fray.

Saluki Patrol Scores Vandals

It seems to me that with all the recent controversy concerning the inadequate street lighting of our campus, students would hesitate to destroy what little lighting facilities we do have. I am referring in particular to the lights located along the paths surrounding Campus Lake; 49 were broken out several nights ago. These poles have continually been an excellent target for students to wage war upon.

Being a member of the Saluki Patrol, I am well acquainted with this problem. However, during the four terms that I have been connected with the patrol I have yet to find a logical reason for such actions. Whether students feel that they are getting even with the University for some injustice done them, or whether they are simply destructive souls who thrive upon this type of action, is beyond my comprehension.

As a member of the patrol it is my task to try to stop these offenders; but also as a student of the University it concerns me that we have this type of individual who will resort to these destructive measures.

By the time a person reaches college age he should be old enough to realize that these actions only exemplify his immaturity, and label him as a child.

I hope the next time a student feels the need to break a light he will realize what he is doing, and also consider the fact that possibly his girl or some other girls will be walking that dark path on their way home.

let's face it Gladys-I can't stand you and you can't stand me!

You're right Clude—the only thing we agree on is that you think I'm a jerk and I think that you are a jerk!

let there be bleh

the bleh takes immediate effect.

if seems as if there is only one logical step for us to make— Gladys will you marry me?

Certainly, I can't think of any drabber way of spending my life!

...luckily a Hipster Agent is close by, and in a moment...

the Arch Hipster appears on the scene disguised as Ayn Randers the famous individualist love horn columnist...

Miss Randers we both agree that the other is a jerk. is this a good basis for a truly drab marriage?

No, a drab marriage must be founded on a nastier basis

If anyone knows, its you Miss Randers. We'll have to go on being nasty together without the sanctity of matrimony. At least until we develop a deeper and more mature hatred.

Hotz Threatens Record

Visiting Aces May Be Salukis' Victim No. 13

Evansville College could be victim No. 13 in Southern's quest for an undefeated baseball season as the Salukis meet the Aces at Riverside Park at 3 p.m. this afternoon. Salukis beat the Aces last month at Evansville 7-1 as Johnny Hotz struck out 12 Ace batters. Kent Collins was the batting hero in that one by getting four hits—three of them doubles—in five trips to the plate. But Hotz won't be on the mound this afternoon as he went the distance against Menard State Prison Saturday afternoon to lead SIU to a 6-0 win.

Gene Vincent will probably get the nod from coach Abe Martin today as the right-hander will try to come back after being knocked out in his last two outings.

Hotz struck out 14 while walking five and scattering seven hits against Menard. He was in trouble a number of times but got himself out of it, or relied on his fielders to ball him out.

A bases-loaded double play preserved the shutout in the fifth and Hotz helped himself in the first inning by striking out the side after giving up two walks.

The big bat of the afternoon was Jim Long as he hit his second home run of the year to drive in Collins from first to give the Salukis a quick 2-0 lead in the first inning.

The Salukis picked up one run in the second and third innings without getting a base hit and then scored twice more in the fourth on walks to Gib Snyder and Al Peludat, and a single by Bob Bernstein. Denny Walter then got on base on a Menard error to send in Peludat and Bernstein.

Hotz picked up his eighth win of the season against only one subpar and is seriously challenging Southern's all-time win record of nine set by Wayne Grandcolas in 1952 and Larry Tucker in 1959. Both pitchers chalked up 9-0 records.

Collins is a sure bet to surpass Jerry Qualls' team-leading hit total of 39 last year. With at least eight games left on the schedule, and with the possibility of playing two or three more in post season tournaments, Collins only needs eight more hits to tie Qualls. Qualls was Southern's Most Valuable Player last year, and since then has signed a pro contract with the Detroit Tiger organization.

Coach Frank Sovich's freshman baseball squad hit its way to the seventh win of the season without a loss Friday with a 10-6 victory over the Southeast Missouri State junior-varsity at Cape.

Kent Collins' kid brother Rich proved he has a potent bat also, as the freshman belted a grand slam homer for the Saluki yearlings.

Design Students Offer City Plan

What could be done with downtown Carbondale if the bottleneck caused by the location of the Illinois Central Railroad were removed?

One answer has been provided by sophomore students in the Design Department and is now on display at the Illinois Central Railroad Plaza located at Main and Washington Streets.

The exhibit, entitled Centrecore/Carbondale, is open every day from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. through May 17.

Salukis Whip Indiana Netters, Extend Unbeaten String to 14

Southern's tennis team handed Indiana its second loss of the season, 7-2, Saturday as the Salukis ran their unbeaten string to 14.

Sophomore Al Pena of SIU picked up his 14th straight singles victory of the year by beating the Hoosiers' Jim Binkley, 8-6 and 7-5. Binkley got revenge in the doubles competition, however, as he teamed with Charles Fichter to hand Southern's doubles team of Pena and Thad Ferguson their first loss of the season in six doubles matches.

Bob and Roy Sprengelmeyer also kept their singles marks clean as Bob ran his string to 14, and Roy picked up his 12th in a row.

The results: Dave Powers beat Lance Lumsden (S) 6-1, 6-3.

Pacho Castillo (S) beat Charles Kane 11-8, 3-6, 6-1. Bob Sprengelmeyer (S) beat Allen Graham 6-4, 6-3.

Al Pena (S) beat Jim Binkley 8-6, 7-5.

Roy Sprengelmeyer (S) beat

Charles Fichter 7-5, 6-1.

Thad Ferguson (S) beat Bill Wham 6-3, 2-6, 7-5.

Lumsden - Bob Sprengelmeyer (S) beat Powers-Wham 3-6, 6-1, 7-5.

Roy Sprengelmeyer - Casarillo (S) beat Graham-Kane 6-2, 6-3.

Binkley-Fichter beat Pena-Ferguson (S) 2-6, 6-1, 6-0.

Saluki Cinder Set Bows to Michigan

Southern's track team got belted for the second week in a row. Western Michigan beat the Salukis 101-35 at Kalamazoo Saturday.

George Woods, Herb Walker and Charley Gore were the bright spots for Southern as Woods set a new outdoor SIU shot put record with a toss of 60 feet 4 inches. Woods also won the discus event at 138 feet 8 inches.

Walker racked up his best SIU mark in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles in a time of 38.1 seconds and Gore won the high jump event with 6 feet 1 inch.

SIU's mile relay team of Walker, Jerry Fendrich, Bill Lindsey and Gary Carr won in 3:22.3.

Carr was second in the 440 and third in the 220. Brian Turner was second in the mile, Larry Betz was second in the broad jump and the triple jump, and Don Basham was third in the pole vault.

Southern's freshman turned in a good performance, however, as John Jaeger won the mile in 4:26 and the two-mile in 9:41.

Golfers Look to 7th at Notre Dame After Defeating Missouri Tigers

With one dual match remaining one its 1964 schedule, SIU's hot-shooting golf team is assured of one of its most successful seasons in recent years.

Coach Lynn Holder's Salukis, who meet a strong Notre Dame squad in the season's finale at South Bend, Ind., Saturday, upped their impressive record to 6-1 by defeating the University of Missouri, 11 1/2 to 6 1/2 at Columbia, Mo., Saturday. The win for Southern was the second of the season over Missouri.

Leading the Saluki attack against the Big Eight Tigers was stalwart veteran Gene Carello. Carello, a West Frankfort senior recorded his fifth win in seven dual match starts by defeating Missouri ace, Charles Patterson, 72-82 on the 18-hole, par 72, course.

Following Carello for Southern was veteran Jim Place. The Freeport senior shot a solid 76 to tie Tiger Tom Havens.

Also chalking up wins for the talented Salukis were senior Leon McNair and junior Al Kruse.

Kruse, Mt. Prospect, pushed his perfect team-leading record to 6-0 Saturday with a 77-81 triumph over Missourian Bill Sutton. McNair, Coal City, fired a five over par 77 for his third win of the campaign in four dual matches.

Previously undefeated Saluki standout Jerry Kirby suffered his first loss in six matches, when he dropped a close 74-76 contest to Tiger Steve Shepker.

Bloomington star, John Krueger, absorbed his second straight defeat of the season when he lost 77-84 to Missouri's Jim Landweth.

The results:
Place (S) 40-36-76 tied Havens (M) 36-40-76, 1 1/2, 1 1/2.

Carello (S) 34-38-72 beat Patterson (M) 42-42-84, 3-0.

RICHARD WEBER

White Team Beats Red As Grid Practice Ends

Led by Jim Hart's passing and little Richie Weber's running, the White's scored two touchdowns to beat the Red team as Southern's football team finished spring drills with an intrasquad game Saturday.

Hart, who displayed great poise in his first year last season, showed more of the same team leadership in the 12-0 victory as he connected on seven of 18 pass attempts for 118 yards, including one touchdown pass.

Weber, who's only 5-8 at 170 pounds and was the Salukis' leading ground gainer last year, ripped through the Red defensive line for 104 yards in 21 carries. The White team gained 149 yards on the ground.

The White team pushed across their first score in the second quarter on a 12-yard sweep around left end by Weber.

The Red team then dug in and held the Whites until the final minutes of play when Weber picked up 20 yards and the Whites gained 15 yards on a penalty.

Then Hart hit Mike McGinnis for a 19-yarder, good for the second touchdown. McGinnis, a defensive halfback last year, and converted to offensive end by new coach Don Shroyer, hauled in three passes for 35 yards. Harry Bobblitt, one of the three cocaptains last year, grabbed two aerials for 52 yards.

Shroyer started Hart, Weber, Bobblitt and Bill Pudala in the White backfield with Bonnie Shelton and McGinnis at ends. Jim Westoff and Issac Brigham were at tackles, Vic Pantaleo and Mitch Krawczyk at the guard positions and Gene Miller at center.

Doug Mougey and John Luketich shared quarterback duties for the Reds, completing seven of 27 passes for a total of 101 yards. Tom Massey, playing with a broken wrist, was on the receiving end of three of those passes for 56 yards.

Luketich, only a freshman, looked good in backing up Mougey most of the second half.

The Reds gained 86 yards on the ground in 34 attempts with Monty Riffer leading with 28 yards on seven tries.
