Fuller Views Rosy Future

R. Buckminster Fuller, back from his fourth world tour in six years, painted a rosy picture of an automated world that would provide for the total population, instead of the 44 per cent of the present.

Speaking to about 400 persons Tuesday, the design professor predicted, "We will be able to make the world work for the first time." His three-hour address on "World Design," delivered without notes, received a standing ovation.

Fuller predicted that automation will allow Red China to outperform the rest of the world by 1975, after only a quarter of a century since its beginning in 1950. He said China's present program of full automation of industry will enable it to operate for world markets.

He said this threat will force the United States to switch to full automation, delayed now because of the enormous investment in obsolete industrial processes and operations systems.

Fuller said that the nation's space program—with its "do-most — with the least-material" philosophy — will result in the first scientifically designed house for man.

Lodge Clear Ahead In Poll of Students

Republican Henry Cabot Lodge was in a class by himself as the favorite candidate for president in a poll of 500 SIU students.

Lodge, U.S. ambassador to Viet Nam, received 38.4 per cent of the total votes cast in the poll taken during the Spring Festival by the sponsors of the upcoming mock political convention.

Next came Sen. Barry Goldwater with 17.6 per cent, while Nixon and Rockefeller were close behind, with 15.3 and 14.4 per cent respectively.

The remaining nomination hopefuls and their voting returns were Gov. William Scranton, 7.6 per cent, Gov. George Romney, 4.4 per cent, and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, 2.2 per cent.

Another student poll will be taken before the convention on May 18, according to Rosalie Zucker, publicity chairman.

The convention will be held May 22 and 23.

Industrial Education Exhibit To Display 700 Projects

Some 700 top-rated industrial education projects from throughout Illinois will be exhibited at SIU Friday and Saturday.

The occasion will be the fifth annual Illinois Industrial Education Exhibit, at the University Center Ballroom.

The 700 projects represent the work of the top division winners from five regional exhibits held earlier this spring.

The SIU Industrial Education Club is sponsoring the event.

The statewide exhibit last year was held at Western Illinois University where an estimated 10,000 persons were on hand to view the displays.

The show, jointly sponsored by the University Industrial Education Department and the Illinois Industrial Education Association, will include tours of the campus for interested visitors.

The display categories will include crafts, metals, graphic arts, drafting, electrical and woods.

An industrial firm will award the winner of the machine metals project and his instructor an expense-paid trip to the New York's World Fair.

The displays will be open to the public from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Friday, and from 8 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday. The show is free.

Petitions Ready For Senate Poll

Petitions for a Thompson Point senator and an cut-in-town senator for the May 21 election are now available at the University Center Information desk.

The petitions must be returned to the Information desk by 5 p.m. Friday.

Prof Cassidy Is Speaker; Caryl Lyons Top Scholar

More than 350 SIU students will be honored this evening for scholastic achievement.

Scholastic Honors Day Convocation is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. today in Shryock Auditorium. Thomas E. Cassidy of the English Department will be the speaker.

Cassidy was honored in 1962 when he was named the most popular instructor by the student body and a great teacher by the alumni association.

Special awards to students will also be announced, and a reception at the University Center will follow the program.

Caryl Klingberg Lyons, who finished her work at SIU in December, compiled the top scholastic average among seniors during the 1963-64 school year, according to the records department of the Registrar's Office.

Her overall average was 4.97. Her all-A performance was marked by two B's, one in tennis and the other in art appreciation.

The second highest average was compiled by Mary Elizabeth Putt, whose average through the winter quarter was 4.888. She majored in sociology in the College of Liberal Arts. Last month, she received a $1,000 graduate scholarship from the Board of Education of the Methodist Church to permit her to continue her studies in Christian education.

Other seniors who compiled averages of 4.8 or better through the winter quarter were Martha Ellen Evers, an elementary education major, with 4.868; Mary Jo Stroup, another elementary education major who will graduate in August, with a 4.866 average; Mary Ann Shorb, an education and English major, with 4.809; and Nicholas Pasqual, a journalism major, with 4.80.

Miss Putt was honored Monday night at the annual commencement award of the Illinois Beta Association of Phi Beta Kappa at the Liberal Arts and Sciences honor society dinner.

Breakfast Hours Extended at Lentz

Breakfast hours at Lentz Hall cafeteria have been extended on Saturday mornings, after a request was made by the Thompson Point executive council to Christina Richard, food service supervisor.

Beginning Saturday the cafeteria will open at 7:30, a half-hour later than usual, and will serve its regular meal until 8:30.

Coffee and toast will be served from 8:30 to 9 a.m. Students with 8 o'clock classes will be allowed to eat before 7:30, providing they obtain a special cut pass from the Thompson Point office.

A similar request that weekend breakfast hours be extended was deemed inadvisable by Miss Richard because of the added cost and extra help that would be required.

The change in hours will not affect residents of Woody Hall or Small Group Housing, according to Miss Richard.

FATHER JOHN RALPH Irish Priest at SIU Chosen Delegate

An Irish priest who beat the bush country of Nigeria for eight years before coming to SIU to do graduate work in journalism, has been chosen as an international student delegate to an evaluation conference to be held June 7-10 at Williamsburg, Va.

The Williamsburg International Assembly is planned as an evaluation for students near termination of their American studies.

Father John Ralph, who was assigned to the African country a short time after he was ordained on Easter Sunday of 1955, served an area that included a score of villages with populations ranging from 300 to 2,000.

Father Ralph expects to receive his master's degree in journalism in August. He said he probably will be reassigned to Nigeria.

Two other students have represented Southern at the Williamsburg assembly in the past. They were Suwan Choke-Magnini of Thailand in 1959 and Gulsen O'Kay of Turkey in 1962.

Wheelchair Taken From Parking Lot

A wheelchair has been reported missing by Ed Okstel of Thompson Point.

Okstel reported to the University Police that the wheelchair was taken sometime between 9:30 p.m. and 2:15 a.m. May 10.

University Police said that the chair had not been located by Wednesday morning.

Okstel, who lives in Abbott Hall, said it was taken from the parking lot south of Abbott Hall. He always leaves it where he parks his car.

Marjorie Earl, a rehabilitation counselor, said that there have been several cases of this nature.

The wheelchairs have always been returned but have usually been misused, she said.

Cuban Exiles Attack A Castro Sugar Mill

MIAMI--The opening attack of a promised war of sabotage and harassment against the Fidel Castro regime in Cuba was reported Wednesday by an exile group--a raid on a sugar mill at Puerto Pilon. The Revolutionary Recovery Movement (MRR) reported a successful attack on the mill, but gave no details. Puerto Pilon is on the southern coast of Oriente Province, the most eastern in Cuba. Three anti-Castro groups, including MRR, have announced plans to be fighting on Cuban soil prior to Cuba's independence anniversary May 20. The MRR, organized in 1959 by students of Roman Catholic faith, is headed by Dr. Manuel Artime, formerly an officer in Castro's rebel army, and civilian chief of the Bay of Pigs invasion in April, 1961. He was taken prisoner but liberated with others on payment of half a million dollars in ransom. Exile groups say additional attacks by MRR and other groups may be expected at any time.

Headquarters of Artime's group here said it did not know his whereabouts. It added the attack on the sugar mill was by members of the MRR group who recently landed in that area.

Exiles have vowed for several months they would resume this month active efforts to harass Fidel Castro's economy and strive for eventual overthrow of his regime.

The extent of damage to the mill and the nature of the weapons used to attack it were not announced by MRR.

"This is the first of a series of attacks to come immediately," said a spokesman at MRR. "Our immediate objective is to liquidate targets vital to the hangman Castro. Later on we shall go in for establishment of large scale guerrilla forces in our homeland."

"Eventually we shall carry big scale war to Cuba against Castro and his Communists."

Viet Nam War Effort Boosted

SAIGON, Viet Nam--Defense Secretary Robert F. McNamara Wednesday predicted a stepup in the war against Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam but warned again that it would be a long drawn out affair and "we should not delude ourselves on this score." In a statement before leaving for Washington, he said marked progress had been made in implementing plans to increase substantially the strength and fire-power of the Vietnamese air force. McNamara spoke briefly to newsmen before ending a crowded 30-hour visit in Saigon.

Nebraska Vote For Goldwater; Nixon Strong

Sen. Barry Goldwater was the top vote-getter in Tuesday's Nebraska Republican presidential preference primary, but he ran into a strong tide of write-in votes for Richard M. Nixon.

Goldwater was the only candidate listed on the ballot.

His announced rival for the nomination, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, polled a sizable vote in the uncontested West Virginia preference primary.

Rockefeller had no write-in competition, because such votes are not counted in West Virginia.

In Nebraska, Goldwater barely scored the number of votes his supporters had predicted before the election. He had about 50 per cent of the vote, with returns incomplete, while Nixon--who in 1960 got the presidential nomination that Goldwater seeks this year--had about 31 per cent.

Nixon's showing in Nebraska was by far his best in any of the spring primaries. He is not an announced candidate for the nomination but has said he would accept it.

Returns from 1,804 of Nebraska's 2,148 precincts gave Goldwater 56,578 votes. The write-in votes went this way: 35,050 for Nixon, 18,994 for Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, 1,979 for Rockefeller and 1,012 divided among a handful of others.

In West Virginia, with 1,952 of 2,664 precincts reporting, Rockefeller had 83,001, about 65 per cent of the total vote cast in a lackluster Republican gubernatorial primary.

There were no Democratic preference contests in either state, but President Johnson rolled up a substantial write-in in Nebraska. With 1,771 precincts reporting, he had 45,122 votes. Gov. Frank Morrison had 1,873 write-in votes, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy had 1,488 and Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama had 839.

Turkey Says It Would Accept NATO Mediation in Cyprus

THE HAGUE, Netherlands--Turkey demanded an immediate halt to violence on Cyprus and told the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting here Wednesday that it would accept an allied solution for the island's future.

Foreign Minister Feridun Erking of Turkey, speaking to a secret session of NATO foreign ministers, brought up the bitterly controversial issue.

Persons who attended the meeting said he offered to accept NATO mediation in Cyprus provided the fighting stops. The island has been torn by conflict between the Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities since December.

Erking said he would submit a specific plan for a Cyprus political solution to his conference.

Earlier the ministers heard an attack by Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak against France's lone world policies throughout the world.

Persons who attended the session described Spaak's statements as energetic and pointed, although he refrained from mentioning De Gaulle of France by name.

Spaak criticized De Gaulle on at least three points--the internal organization of the alliance, relations between the United States and Europe, and De Gaulle's policy in Southeast Asia.

France wants the NATO structure loosened to give members a stronger voice in policy, and to cut down the dominant U.S. role, members believe the

The only decision announced

after the morning session was the appointment of Manlio Brosio, veteran Italian diplomat, to be NATO secretary-general to guide the alliance through the difficult period of reorganization.

Brosio on Aug. 1 will succeed Dirk U. Stikker of the Netherlands, who is stepping down because of ill health.

As the ministers emerged from the Juliana Barracks meeting hall, nearly a thousand women from NATO countries silently paraded in the neighborhood under a steady spring rain to protest the nuclear arms race.

A delegation of 15 women, each carrying a paper daisy with the word "peace" in various languages, passed through police lines and presented a petition to NATO officials. It called for general and controlled disarmament and assailed any spread of nuclear weapons.

Kennedy Says Many Problems Delay Accord on Amendments

WASHINGTON--Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said Wednesday "there is still a lot to be done" before a final accord can be reached on a package of amendments to the House-passed civil rights bill.

As he arrived at the capitol for a conference with Senate leaders of both parties, Kennedy told newsmen that serious problems remain to be settled.

Earlier Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., the GOP leader had told newsmen that a full accord had been reached on the proposed changes, with only a final look at the exact language remaining.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey D-Minn., assistant majority leader and floor manager of the bill, told newsmen that still are three or four areas on which complete agreement has not been reached.

The objective is to develop a package of amendments that will win the support of the required two-third majority--67 votes of all 100 senators vote--to invoke the cloture rule to limit debate.

Dirksen appeared to concede that a jury trial amendment backed by the Southerners might be adopted by the Senate. But he said that if it were, this didn't mean it would stay in the bill because it could be knocked out in conference.

White Dirksen didn't predict round-the-clock sessions, such as the Senate had in a 1960 civil rights fight, he talked of bringing in "folding cots and shaving kits" for senators.

At the same time he held out the hope that the package of amendments put together by party leaders might lead to passage of a compromise bill in above five more weeks.

Evansville Gets Air, Bracing 18-1 Defeat

By Alan Goldfarb

It appeared Tuesday that Evansville played baseball just so some of their basketball players could get a little fresh spring air.

The Aces may have a very good basketball team, but the air circulating around Riverside Park Tuesday probably wouldn't help even Jerry Sloan.

To put it mildly, the Purple Aces, and one of their veteran basketball players,

DENNIS GENTSCH

Paul Bullard, were blasted by the Salukis, 18-1.

SIU coach Abe Martin has been having a little problem with Terry Lynn's hitting. Martin decided if he was going to win his 13th straight game he'd put an .091 hitter in Lynn's shortstop spot.

Lynn's understudy was Denny Walter who made Martin look like a Swami looking over a cowhide crystal ball. Starting his first varsity game, Walter showed everyone, including himself, that he might be around for a long time and Terry Lynn may have lost a job.

Walter not only got three hits in five trips to the plate, he drove in four Saluki runs on the strength of two 390-foot triples and a single. He also scored four SIU runs himself.

The Salukis big inning was the sixth (actually they scored in every inning except the fifth) when they came up with six runs on triples by Walter and Kent Collins and a 375-foot home run by pitcher Gene Vincent.

You might say that it was a pitcher's day, although the score wouldn't indicate it. The three Saluki pitchers, Vincent, Ken Everett and Denny Gentsch not only combined to allow the Aces only one run and five hits, the trio went 4 for 4 at the plate including a home run and two doubles to score four Saluki runs.

Vincent got the win by pitching three perfect innings before yielding to Everett in the fourth. It is his seventh win in eight starts.

Bullard, the Ace starter, was shelled for eight runs on eight hits in only 2 1/3 innings. He got the loss but was "helped" by Larry Halbig (five hits and six runs) and Curt Hahn (three hits and four runs).

Bullard didn't get too much defensive help, as the Aces committed eight errors, including three by first baseman-left fielder Bob Glaser and two by shortstop--basketball player Wayne Boultinghouse.

The Saluki pitchers gave up only two bases on balls (one each by Everett and Gentsch) and struck 10 Evansville batters (three by Vincent, five by Everett and two by Gentsch).

Southern's next outing is a doubleheader against Arkansas State Saturday afternoon at Riverside Park.

Line score of Tuesday's baseball game:

Evansville--000 000 001-1 8
SIU-- 165 202 11x-18 16 1

JOAN TOWNSEND, SIU ANTHROPOLOGY INSTRUCTOR, POSES WITH KONIAG AND KEVA

Family of Seven Siberian Huskies Finds Easy Sledding in Little Egypt

Carbondale old-timers, like the permanent residents in most university towns, have come to accept the unusual as common place among faculty and students.

However, even the most blasé old timers are willing to admit that a kennel of seven Siberian huskies is a bit unusual even for Carbondale.

At present all seven are household pets, but Papa Kusky and Mama Chugach have already had a career in dog-sled power in their native Alaska and their offspring--several of them born here in Illinois, now eight months old --are to be groomed for the harness and sled.

Their owner, dark-haired, Joan Townsend, was the first woman scientist to explore the Tanaina Indian culture on the shore of Iliamna Lake, largest inland body of water in Alaska.

Mrs. Townsend is currently dividing her time three ways: teaching classes in anthropology at Southern Illinois University here, writing her scientific report on Tanaina archaeology and ethnography as a doctoral dissertation, and being a mother of two children. But the dogs actually require more time, attention and energy than the children do.

Mrs. Townsend and her husband, Sam-Joe Townsend, also an anthropologist, ventured into the wildly beautiful Pedro Bay region of southeastern Alaska, at the upper reaches of the Alaska Peninsula, in the summer of 1960.

The Townsends grew so attached to the handsome Siberian Husky dogs they found there--dogs are still the principal means of locomotion in remote Alaskan villages--that they bought a pair, and at the end of the second summer they brought Kusky and Chugach back with them to California. The pair's first offspring, Nushagak, a female, and Koniag and Keva, were born a few months later.

When Mrs. Townsend accepted an instructorship at SIU in Carbondale last fall and Townsend enrolled as a graduate student at the University of Wisconsin, the dogs came with her and the children--Paula, age 10, and Wayne, age 7--to live in Carbondale.

No sooner had they arrived in Carbondale than Chugach gave birth to her second litter--four males. Mrs. Townsend sold two of this last litter as pets.

Now Measles Plagues Team

Torn muscles, ripped tendons, poor grades, etc., etc., has hampered Southern's track team this spring. But they don't mean anything to Charley Gore and Jack Leydig. They've got a better reason for being out of this Saturday's dual meet at Notre Dame--they both have the measles.

Both Gore, a sophomore who won the high jump in the Saluki's loss to Western Michigan last weekend, and Leydig, will remain at home to prevent further outbreak of the disease which could prove disastrous to Southern's presently thin ranks.

"There doesn't seem to be an end to our troubles this year," said a downhearted coach Lew Hartzog.

Hartzog earlier this season lost the services of three top-notch runners when Bill Cornell, Brian Turner and Jack Peters all had to undergo foot, leg or knee operations. Several others, including NCAA hurdle champion Bob Green are lost for various other reasons.

Nevertheless, Hartzog is still proud of his skeleton squad which includes the only 60 foot shot putter in the state's history, George Woods.
