More Motorcycle Restrictions Expected as Traffic Increases

By David Tracy

The future will probably bring more restrictions on the operation of motorcycles on campus, according to Paul W. Isbell, chairman of the vehicle traffic and safety committee.

Initial steps have been taken towards solving SIU's motorcycle problem. As a result, there are fewer motorcycles this year and the number of accidents has been reduced.

Problems with motorcycles started before their popularity began to rise in the '60's, said Isbell. One of the contributing factors was the early stand the state took on the operation of motorcycles.

During the '50s Illinois law regarding motorcycles was that those which fell under a certain horsepower rating were not considered motor vehicles and did not have to be registered.

Consequently the regulations passed in 1956 by the Board of Trustees with regard to student operation of motor vehicles were not applied to motorcycles.

As motorcycles became more popular the University began to realize that the problems created by them had to be solved. Then last year, "Conditions got so bad with the congestion, noise and accidents that something had to be done," said Joseph F. Zaleski, assistant dean of student affairs.

These "conditions" were stated in a letter sent out last summer by Ralph W. Ruffner, vice president for student and area services.

In the letter Ruffner stated, "The number of vehicles, the frequency of accidents, the seriousness of injuries, the multiplicity of traffic and parking problems, and the subsequent difficulties apparent to all members of the University community and the City of Carbondale . . ."

He also mentioned in the concluding paragraph of the letter, "We also know that excessive and unwarranted use of motor vehicles at the University does not contribute to the educational process."

The University had to apply the motor vehicles regulations "to all types of motor vehicles as defined under the new Illinois state law," said Ruffner in his letter.

As a result motorcycle registrations are down from 1,809 last year to 799 so far this year, said Zaleski. Of the 1,809 permits issued last year, 1,160 were issued to freshmen, he said.

Motorcycle-related accidents are down from an average last year of 25 a week to an average this year of four a week, said Dr. Walter H. Clark, University physician.

Motorcycle parking lots were moved from the center of campus and from around classrooms to the periphery of campus. This helped alleviate the congestion and noise created by the motorcycles after each class, Zaleski said.

Some problems have been created by the new regulations. One of these concerns the theft of parking permit decals from motorcycles and another concerns the operation of unregistered motorcycles on campus.

"There have been 135 decals stolen from motorcycles this year," Leffler said. Of these, 115 have been recovered.

Students caught with an unregistered motorcycle will be fined $50 and possible disciplinary action will be taken, said Zaleski. "The second offense will result in suspension from school," he said.

Zaleski also pointed out that the new radar being used by the security police would reduce motorcycle speeds.

"In taking action in cases where speeding is involved on campus, in most instances the student will be suspended from the University," he said.

They all agreed that for the most part the students were cooperating with the regula-

* The Third Annual L.E.J. Awards

As 1966 clumsily staggers to a close, we once again enter that traditional period of nostalgic introspection.

So with a smile and a laugh let us walk the lanes of memory remembering those magical moments of that wonderful year when U.S. troops in Viet Nam passed the quarter million mark; when student rights almost became an issue at S.I.U.; when Lurleen Wallace was elected Governor of Alabama and when the Postal Department issued a multi-colored stamp bearing the face of a clown and the inscription "Circus, U.S.A."

Yes folks, its time for the L.E.J. AWARDS FOR 1966

1. The Napoleon Bonaparte Award for Determination to the S.I.U. Architects for Stability in the Face of Unprecedented Failure in recognition of their determination to build two additional 17-story dormitories identical to Neely Hall.

2. The Scholastic Musical Chairs Award to the newly revised revision of the revised final exam system.

3. A Gold-Plated Recording of Bob Dylan singing "The Times They are A-Changing" to Carbondale landlord John Lanin for his statement: "The issue involved in the new housing regulations is one of student rights."

4. The Samuel Gompers

Award to the S.I.U. Student Senate which last year discussed the possibility of establishing a committee to study the feasibility of a Student Labor Union.

5. The Carbondale Chamber of Commerce Award to the city of Murfreesboro, Tennessee, which offers a 10% discount on merchandise sold to students of Middle-Tennessee State College.

6. The Freedom Through Capitalism Award - competition department - to the city of Carbondale in special recognition of the city's second (count them - not one, but two) liquor store.

7. The Bob Drinan Memorial Scholarship Award to the University of Michigan Student Government Council for having "broken off relations with the University administration."

8. The B.F. Skinner Award for Environmental Determinism to Delyte W. Morris for his statement: "We can't tell students over 21 where to live. We can just tell them whether they can attend SIU or not."

9. Fifteen copies of the L.P.

recording "Conquerers of the Ages" to the SIU administration for its efforts in confiscating and burning the Edwardsville Campus Newspaper because the Editors changed the name from Alestle to Spectator.

10. A resounding chorus of "We're all in our places with sun-shining faces" in recognition of the SIU publication "The ABC of Campus Health" which contains this statement: "Respect thy father and thy mother, and the integrity of your physician."

11. The Alice in Wonderland Award to Lyndon Johnson who among other things autographed the forehead of a waitress in Honolulu while enroute to the Manila conference.

12. The Outstanding Perception of the Year Award to Novelist John Hersey for his comment on undergraduate busywork in Too Far To Walk! "If it was publish or perish for the profs, it was for the students. . . a choice of skip or flip."

13. The J.P. Morgan Award for Corporate Liberalism to Charles W. Engelhard, chief American investor in segregationist South Africa in recognition of his having received the National Brotherhood Award at ceremonies kicking off this year's National Brotherhood Week.

14. The Amy Vanderbilt Award to the (Deleware) Governor's Committee Report on Protocol for making the comment, "We found cheerleaders doing cartwheels to the 'Rockets Red Glare' and majorettes keeping time to 'Bombs Bursting in Air'."

15. The Well, Well, Well - By Gosh and By Golly - and Ain't That Something Award to John S. Rendleman for his testimony before the Illinois Higher Board of Education that SIU could not possibly spend 61% of the construction funds he was requesting for the 67-69 biennium.

16. The Delyte W. Morris Gold-Plated Mouse Trap Award to Jacalyn Dieffenderfer, student at the University of Colorado who is suing the University because she was given an "E" in an English class for which she contends she deserved an "A."

17. The Mario Savio Award to the workers at the International Paper Company's Gardinar, Oregon Plant who went on strike over the firing of Miss Pat Morris because she wore "tight fitting clothes". Miss Morris' measurements are 39-27-39.

18. The Everett Dirksen Award for Flamboyant Speech Making to Ramon Echegary, member of the Venezuelan Congress, who brought a pistol along to a congressional session, laid it on his desk and announced, "I'll talk until someone stops me."

19. The Orville Hodge Award for Honesty in Local Government to St. Clair County Sheriff Maurice Joseph, who won two automobiles in an illegal lottery held in East St. Louis.

20. The This Could Go On Forever Award - Warped Values Department - to the President of the American Broadcasting Company who said, "American (T.V.) viewers might one day watch live coverage of the Viet Nam War."

21. The State Department Award for Being Trapped by One's Own Propaganda in special recognition of the Daily Egyptian headline that read: "Women in Supervised Housing Permitted to Stay Out Later."

New Recipe: Morris Hash

In the "Betty Crumer Cookbook for Educators" we find the very controversial recipe of Delyte W. Morris, that world renowned educator from Xenica, Illinois. His recipe, "Morris Hash":

MORRIS HASH

Direction: First simmer 17,000 students in a large pot. (If a large pot is not available, use a smaller one, but nothing smaller than Carbor-dale.)

Next strain $15 from each student and add to the Edwardsville Pot. (Repeat thrice a year.)

Now pour strained students into large baking pan.

Add many trees and large rocks.

Then quickly add 15 cups of regulations. (If it starts to boil, remove 10 cups of privileges; if it continues to boil, cover with lid and ignore.)

Now place in pre-heated oven and bake for 4 years. (Season heavily with General Studies for the first two years.) Note: it is advisable to add at any time a couple of cups of concentrated restrictions and regulations. They can be acquired free for the asking at your local Board of Trustees.

After baking for 4 years, bake lightly with a diploma and serve immediately to society.

Note: if they are tasteless or flattened, it must have been impurities in the original ingredients which should have been removed with this infallible process.

* BEST "LETTER TO THE EDITOR" IN 1966

The letter from Richard Helms, Director of the C.I.A. to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, July 26:

"I want to let you know of my pleasure in reading the editorial "Brickbats for Fulbright" in the Globe-Democrat of July 18.

"It reflects so well your paper's policy of 'printing the news impartially, supporting what it believes to be wrong without regard to party politics'."

* J. Edgar Hoover Award for Paranoia

First Place: Dean Rusk for his ability to see an international conspiracy in every incident of social unrest.

Second Place: Senator Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) for his observation that Negro Riots "are part of a national conspiracy executed by experts."

Third Place: E. Claude Coleman for his theory that the recent Student Rights Movement at SIU was part of a non-student conspiracy.

NEEDS COMMUNITY SUP-PORT

The Carousel Playhouse in Herrin, operated by Messrs. Hunt, Meyer, Walker, and Bruyns, offers the citizens of this area an opportunity to participate in live theatre. A community theatre provides a special service in the cultural enhancement of its society. Unless it receives strong support from its community, it cannot survive.

The Carousel Players' latest production, THE GLASS MENAGERIE, is considered by many to be Tennessee Williams' best play. In it, Williams held a mirror up to memory and portrayed a few telling moments of three lives: his mother's, his sister's, and his own. In a lower-middle-class apartment in a Midwestern city, Amanda Wingfield (Williams' mother) tries vainly to cope with the present by chattering endlessly about an illusory past. The son Tom (Williams) struggles in a shoe factory and searches for adventure by going to the movies. The daughter Laura (Williams' sister Rose) as fragile as the little glass animals which she collects. A crisis occurs when the mother forces Tom into bringing home a "gentleman caller" for Laura. But the caller turns out to be engaged, and Laura's last hope for the future is frustrated. At the end of the play, Tom breaks free of the family, but as the years pass, he finds that he cannot forget or escape the past.

WILLIAMS WITHOUT TEARS

Operating on a limited budget, director Bob Hunt and his company have fashioned a straightforward production whose best quality was that it accented the nervous, squalid, unattractive reality of the lives of the characters. Too often, Williams' plays are buried by pseudo-reverent, sloppily-poetic, and overly-sentimental productions. This cast seemed to capture the feeling and sense of "real" people as they might have lived in an area such as this, one generation removed.

Charlie Harris turned in the best performance as Tom. His arguments with Amanda (Gerry Mann) were especially effective. Although her limp was not credible, Gigi Reitz offered a true picture of Laura as an unattractive girl who is to be pitied because she simply does not have the necessary equipment to cope with life. We look forward to the Carousel Players' next production.

Ex Omnia Ova

The problem is the political label, or, more correctly, its careless and arbitrary use. For umpteen years now, the liberal-left in America has been running editorially amok convincing each other of the strange notion that National Socialism and fascism were right-wing movements, and that, consequently, American conservatives are all Nazis (at heart). And it is about time someone blew the whistle on the semantic game. Mother may I?

1) We may maintain that fascism is right-wing, only if we juxtapose it to communism. If we decide that communism is the extreme left wing of the socialist camp, we may say that fascism (or nazism) is the extreme right wing—of the socialist camp. Fabian socialism, communism, fascism, etc. are all "splinters off the parent trunk of scientific socialism."

2) I have tried this argument before, on KA's Dave Wilson, in an unsuccessful effort to demonstrate to him that he is actually more of a right-wing nut than he suspects I am, since he insists that he is a philosophical anarchist. He refuses to believe me. His problem—and this is the problem of political Linneaus's in general, who insist on injudiciously gumming labels on people as they trot by—is that he imagines that since anarchism in the days of the Tsars was left-wing, that anarchism in the days of the communists is also (or, still) left-wing. (Please, please don't accuse me of calling Wilson a communist. The whole point of this article argues that emphatic opposite.) And this is silly, since it implicitly argues that communists are right-wing. (Oh yes it does, too. The communist state is the total state. The anarchist is the polar opposite of the statist. If the anarchist is left-wing, the communist, by definition, is right-wing.)

Further, to argue that anarchism is left-wing is to argue that FDR was right-wing, and that Ayn Rand is the most notorious left-winger ever known.

3) In point of fact, fascism, communism, socialism, (American) liberalism, etc., are all cut from the same piece of cloth and, sub specie aeternitatis, differ little. The bigger the functions of government, the stronger the federal executive vis-a-vis Congress, the more planning, the less individualism—the happier are the communists, fascists, nazis, socialists, and liberals, while the sadder are the conservatives.

4) Let's face it, SDSers: Stalin, Hitler, Mussolini, Thomas, Rockwell, and Gerald L.K. Smith are your homunculi—not ours.

Phil Weber

P.S.: Gerlad L.K. Smith got his start as the head of (FDR's one-time friend) Huey Long's plan to: "Distribute the wealth, and make every man a king," whereby ". . . All surplus property would be turned over to the government so that someone who needed a bed would get one from the fellow who owned more than one." Surprised? You shouldn't be. Sic semper socialism.

(Editor's note: "To know is nothing at all, to imagine is everything." — Anatole France.)

Best Editorial of 1966

For the Campus Agent
Exists there a university without at least one federal contract to call its own? If so, that institution's worries may be over. The Air Force is not likely to have many takers when it seeks a concurring opinion on unidentified flying objects, known as UFOs.

Officers assigned to Project Blue Book, the Air Force's UFO program, have investigated more than 10,000 sightings. Not a trace of anything interplanetary has turned up. Yet continued skepticism in some quarters—not ours—is believed to warrant a research contract at some "disinterested, reputable" university.

There come to mind a good many reputable universities likely to be disinterested in the very idea. Some others, still climbing the ladder of respectability, might consider it a poor way to get ahead. Fortunately, the flying saucer study need not languish for lack of a university. Why not farm it out to a campus chapter of the Central Intelligence Agency?

On New Year's Eve, WSIU-Radio will present a special parade of big dance bands.

SIU May Purchase

Washington Square

Plans to purchase Washington Square Dormitories, at 701 S. Washington, are in the negotiation stage with the University and owners of the dormitory, according to C. Richard Gruny, legal counsel for SIU.

Gruny said that it was fairly definite that the purchase would be made.

"The University plans to use the dormitories for office space," Gruny said.

Plains Leasing Co., managers of Washington Square, also confirmed the negotiations.

SIU Approaches Term's End Without Motorcycle Fatality

SIU approached the end of the fall quarter without a motorcycle fatality, according to the local records at the Health Service.

During the 1965-66 school year, four students were killed on cycles.

During the 1965 fall quarter, a student on a motorcycle was killed when struck by a hit and run driver and a month later another student was killed near the east entrance to the Murdale shopping center.

After a six-month period without any cycle fatalities, another student was killed when his cycle hit a pedestrian sign on Campus Drive.

A little more than a month later, a cycle accident, in Peoria, Ill., claimed the life of a SIU coed.

Dr. Walter H. Clarke, Health Service physician, said there may have been one or two more student deaths attributed to cycles in fall quarter, 1965.

Wall Street Sidewalk Waits for Easement

C. William Norman, Carbondale city manager, said the City Council has been discussing a temporary sidewalk for Wall Street, but that a University property easement must first be obtained.

The walkway, to be made from crushed rock, would begin north of Park Street and run south to the Wall Street Quadrangles.

Norman said that the walkway would likely be located on the west side of Wall Street south of Park Street. Definite location north from Park Street has not been determined, he said.

"Because of the time of year," Norman said, "the walk would be a temporary one now. Later, when the weather permits, a blacktop surface would be applied."

Plans to extend the walk north of Park, to College Street, have been discussed.

"In this area, a permanent type of construction has been discussed," Norman said.

The easement is needed where the walkway would have to cross University property, Norman said.

Norman plans to discuss the project further at the next Council meeting.

"A more complete report will be presented to the Council next Monday," he said.

Schedule Given for Buses to Train

Buses will be provided from SIU housing units to the Illinois Central Railroad station Friday to meet regularly scheduled trains and Saluki Specials.

The Illinois Central will run the regular trains Friday and Saturday plus two specials on Friday at 12:25 p.m. and 6 p.m., and one special at 6:25 p.m. Saturday.

The Friday bus schedule from housing areas to the depot are as follows:

Leave University Park, 11 and 11:45 a.m.; leave Small Group Housing, 11 and 11:45 a.m.; and stop at corner of College, and Rawlings on way to depot, 11:15 and noon; leave Wall Street Quadrangles, 11 and 11:45 a.m.; and stop at corner of Wall and College Streets on way to depot, 11:15 and noon.

Leave Thompson Point (Lentz Hall), 11 and 11:45 a.m.; and stop at Woody Hall on way to depot, 11:15 and noon; leave University Park, 4:30 and 5:15 p.m.; leave Small Group Living, 4:30 and 5:15 p.m.; and stops at corner of College and Rawlings, 4:45 and 5:30 p.m.; leave Wall Street Quadrangles, 4:30 and 5:15 p.m.; and stop at corner of College and Wall Street on way to depot, 4:45 and 5:30 p.m.; leave Thompson Point (Lentz Hall), 4:30 and 5:15 p.m.; and stop at Woody Hall on way to depot, 4:45 and 5:30 p.m.

Soviet Missile Buildup Revealed by Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP) -- The Soviet Union may be on the verge of a massive program to improve the capability of its intercontinental ballistic missiles, Pentagon sources indicated.

The basic Soviet aim apparently would be to introduce multiple independently guided, nuclear warheads -- each capable of carrying a nuclear device of at least one-megaton yield--into its presently expanding fleet of ICBMs.

The United States similarly has been conducting research into a multiple-warhead system that reportedly is being considered for a number of applications including the new Minuteman 3 and the Poseidon ICBMs now under development.

The Soviet program, if successfully developed, could have the effect of neutralizing or outweighing any offensive advantages the United States would accrue by installing multiple warheads on its new ICBMs.

Details of the reported Soviet program were outlined Tuesday in Technology Week, an authoritative journal on rocket and missile affairs. An earlier article in Missile and Space Daily, another technical journal, hinted of the development, but said there was no conclusive evidence.

Pentagon officials were reluctant to discuss the articles -- "the whole area is very sensitive," said one source -- but the officials also made it clear they were not in a position to refute them.

If the Soviet Union has successfully developed a multiple warhead for the ICBM fleet, the impact on U.S. strategic planning would be immense.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced last week that the Soviet Union is planning to deploy more long-range missiles than earlier U.S. intelligence estimates had indicated.

He emphasized, however, that the United States still maintains a numerical advantage in ICBMs of about 3-to-1. He added that this country will "continue to have a substantial quantitative and qualitative superiority" over the U.S.S.R. for at least another 18 months, even with its present ICBM arsenal.

Latest Pentagon figures show there are about 1,630 ICBMs in the current U.S. storehouse. The Soviet Union reportedly has about 600 now but may be able to deploy as many as 850 long-range missiles by 1968.

Hanoi Broadcast Opposes Red China

SAIGON (AP)--A mystery radio station claiming to be in Hanoi is telling young men of North Vietnam not to fight in the south and urging the people to oppose Red China and follow the Soviet Union.

"Mao Tse-tung is a madman and wants world war--look to Russia," said a recent broadcast.

Among others, South Vietnamese rangers heard this particular hour-long program in Vietnamese in a farming area near My Tho, in the Mekong River Delta about 50 miles southwest of Saigon.

U.S. officials in Saigon said today they do not know anything about the broadcasts.

There was speculation, however, that they are super-secret U.S.-sponsored psychological warfare programs.

Nabrit Resigns UN Post

WASHINGTON (AP)--James M. Nabrit Jr., is resigning as deputy permanent U.S. representative to the United Nations to return to his post as president of Howard University. President Johnson accepted with "deep regret" Nabrit's resignation, effective Jan. 15.

Hearings Begin on Proposal To Discontinue SomerTrains

CARBONDALE (AP)--An Interstate Commerce Commission hearing into an Illinois Central Railroad proposal to discontinue several passenger trains adjourned today in Carbondale and will next move to Memphis, Tenn.

At today's second hearing session, a representative of a railroad union questioned whether many Southern Illinois University students who live south of Carbondale might be adversely affected by changes in trains in the area.

Reno Bianchi, assistant to the SIU vice president of business affairs, appeared in rebuttal and said "very few" of SIU's 18,188 students live south of Carbondale where the university has its main campus.

T.J. Dugan of Chicago, a representative of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, testified that persons coming from Memphis to St. Louis would have a four-hour layoff in Carbondale if the proposed changes went through.

Hamilton Passes Draft Physical, Still Deferred

NEW YORK (AP)--Movie actor George Hamilton, a frequent escort of Lynda Bird Johnson, has passed his draft physical and the results show he is "qualified for military service," draft officials said today.

Col. Arthur Alpert, an aide to the director of Selective Service in New York, said, however, "the results have nothing to do with his present deferment. They mean his draft board has more information to act on if they re-classify him."

The actor had received a 3A "hardship" deferment on the ground that he is mother's sole support.

Scores of persons across the country have protested that his mother, Anne Potter Hamilton Hunt Spaulding, lives in a 39-room Beverly Hills mansion and that she has two other grown sons who are not listed among her supporters.

Hamilton, 27, has declared his willingness to fight in the Vietnam war.

Hamilton is in Munich, Germany, making a movie.

Christmas Lonely Time on Campus

By Leonard Boscarine

It's a lonely time.

The cold, north wind, hindered in its speedy flight by throngs of frantic Christmas shoppers, seems to be funneled by the empty streets into an immense spearhead of bitter cold.

A glance into one of the store windows gives a clue to the suddenly empty streets. A little sign, obviously painted hastily by less than an artist, proclaims to anyone interested that the store will open Jan. 3.

A few steps further and you notice things that you never somehow were aware of when the streets were filled with humanity; a crack in the sidewalk, the initials long etched of a K.S. who loved a D.E., even the faded yellow chips of paint which mark a forgotten "No Parking" sign. The Christmas "break" is here. For some, a time of joy; for others a time to be dreaded. Thousands of students leave Carbondale, but a few remain, and for them, the holidays can be a lonely time.

"I hate Christmas 'break.' There's no girls around and there's no place to go. Last year I stayed down and worked, but never again," said Dennis E. Conn.

"How do you tell your friends when they come back with all sorts of stories about great parties that you spent New Year's Eve with three guys from work playing pinochle and polishing off a fifth of vodka?"

"It wouldn't have been so bad if there had been a girl around but we knew of no girls that were down here and even if we had known of some there would have been no place to take them," he said.

Married students seem to suffer less than any other group during the break. For them it may take on the atmosphere of a second honeymoon.

But one fellow, whose wife worked, suddenly found himself with so much time on his hands that he took a job as a student janitor on Old Main's janitorial crew in order to relieve his boredom.

It's Thought That Counts

Deltas Simplify Exchange, Cut Yule Costs, Keep Friends

By Jody Erwin

Spirit of Christmas? Some people say it's dying a slow death nowadays.

Every year, there's talk about how sad it is that Christmas has been so commercialized, and what a shame that we think a gift has to be expensive to be appreciated.

The sisters of Delta Zeta sorority have learned the truth in the old and simple saying: "It's the thought that counts."

Imagine for a moment the problems you would face at gift-buying time if you had about 60 sisters. That kind of shopping spree could turn out to be very costly.

But the DZ's have solved their problem in a very simple way.

Every Christmas, all the sisters gather around their large Christmas tree and pile mountains of gifts under it. They sing carols and have hot chocolate and Christmas cookies. Then they exchange gifts.

Everyone is sure to get at least one "nice" gift, from her roommate, pledge daughter, or pledge mother. The rest are novelties which have some sort of special meaning to giver and receiver.

The gifts accomplish what a Christmas gift is supposed to. No matter how small or unimportant the gift may seem, it tells the recipient that she is remembered at Christmastime.

It's quite easy for one sister to decide what to get another. You just don't live with your sisters without discovering their little idiosyncrasies, even if they insist they don't have any.

This year Kathy Ganey, E. St. Louis, a senior majoring in speech correction, president of the sorority, received a small bottle of "Stop Bite," a chemical preparation to help her stop biting her nails. She also received a set of artificial nails to wear until her own nails grow out.

Lavona Shea, Belleville, a graduating senior majoring in journalism, got a tin of "Play-Doh" to keep her occupied since she will soon be leaving school and have nothing to do.

Room 212 gave room 210 a pair of tweezers, since the occupants of 210 broke their tweezers the first week of school, while opening a paint

can. (Since then, 210 has been borrowing 212's tweezers.)

Jean Baker, Chicago, a sophomore majoring in public relations, was presented with a mousetrap. She sometimes has problems with one—her lavalier-mate's nickname is "Mouse."

Maggie Simpson, Chicago, a junior majoring in journalism, is a new member of SIU's Judo Club. Her roommate, Marcia Daab, gave her a brown leather belt (yes, her Brown Belt) this year. In return, Maggie gave Marcia, a junior from Dupo who is majoring in recreation, three bottles of glue. (This gift was purchased because at least once every week this quarter, Marcia has wanted to borrow Maggie's glue to do her art projects. (Each time, Maggie has told Marcia she doesn't have any glue, but Marcia has kept right on asking.)

And what did my sisters give me this year? Well, it seems I have this peculiar passion for dill pickles—would you believe half a dozen kosher dills wrapped individually and carefully placed under the tree?

Gymnasts Will Compete in Florida In Eastern U. S. Federation Meet

Having cleared another hurdle, the Colorado Invitational, the Saluki gymnastics team is preparing to compete in Florida during the break.

The Florida competition will be the Eastern United States Gymnastics Federation meet in Fort Lauderdale Dec. 26-30.

After this the Salukis will be at home Jan. 14 for a dual meet with Iowa State, their first home meet of the season.

Southern finished the Colorado meet with 125.53 points followed by Colorado University with 118.10, Colorado State University with 113.20, Colorado State College with 107.45 and Air Force Academy with 105.45.

The Salukis won every event but the side horse in taking a first place finish.

Jim Ryun Named Athlete of Year

NEW YORK (AP) - Jim Ryun, 19-year old University of Kansas sophomore who holds the world record for the mile at 3:51.3, was named Sports Illustrated's Athlete of the Year Tuesday. He is the youngest ever chosen for the honor.

FRAZIER SCORES—Scoring for SIU is Walt Frazier (52), the Salukis' leading scorer with an average of 19.6 points per game. He is also the team's leading rebounder, averaging 15 per game. During the break the Salukis will play home games Dec. 17 and 19 and in the Sun Bowl Tourney at El Paso, Tex., Dec. 29-30.

Swimmers Will Participate in Clinic At Fort Lauderdale During Holidays

No meets are scheduled during the break for the Saluki swimmers but they will participate in the Collegiate Swim Clinic at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The next dual meet is scheduled Jan. 7 in Norman, Okla., against the University of Oklahoma Sooners.

The Sooners took first place this past weekend in the Big Eight Relays at Kansas University. The Salukis participated in that meet and placed fourth. SIU had 74 points compared to 116 for the Sooners.

"The team performed well for this time of year. It showed how far we have to go before the nationals," said Head Coach Ray Essick.

The Salukis won the breast-stroke relay with Wayne Thomas, Gerry Pearson and John Holban anchoring that team. The Salukis also finished second in the 800-yard freestyle relay and the 200-yard relay.

"It is impossible to say what a meet like this would be like. We placed people in every event and only Kansas State did this. It shows that we don't have the team depth to compete in a meet like this," said Essick.

Bowl Team Bounces Roving Quarterback

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) - "Now we'll have to look around in earnest," quarterback Jim Del Gaize said Tuesday after he and his identical twin, John, were bounced from Syracuse University's Gator Bowl-bound football team.

The university said the sophomore athletes from Revere, Mass., has been asked by Coach Ben Schwartzwalder to turn in their uniforms after it was learned they planned to transfer to another university next year.

"We just can't have boys training with us who are planning to transfer right after the bowl game," Schwartzwal-der said. "Mabe I am old fashioned, but I have always felt that loyalty was a virtue."

"We were just scratching around, there wasn't anything definite yet," Jim Del Gaize told the Associated Press. "I don't know how it got around so fast. Now we'll have to get serious."

The 6-foot-2, 200-pounder, who set a Syracuse passing record of four touchdowns against Maryland in his first starting assignment, spent most of the season as understudy to Rick Cassatta, although he started in two other games.

During the season Del Gaize completed 34 of 83 pass attempts for 418 yards and five touchdowns. Ten passes were intercepted.

His brother, a second-string end on offense, caught only two passes for 22 yards.

Jim Del Gaize said he and his brother had offered to remain with the team for the Gator Bowl game Dec. 31 with Tennessee "but the coach took the view it would be bad for the team if we weren't coming back next season."

"I respect him for his decision," Del Gaize said. "I can't argue with him there."

He said he and his brother planned to attend the same university but declined to identify it.

"There is nothing definite yet," he said.

Illinois Hunters Bag 7,000 Deer

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. (AP) - Illinois hunters killed 7,327 deer in the six-day season this year, the State Conservation Department announced Monday.

The total was divided 1,404 during the last half Dec. 9-11 and 5,923 in the first half Nov. 18-20.

Rushing Title Narrows to 3

NEW YORK (AP) - Leroy Kelly of Cleveland leads by 81 yards but the race for the National Football League rushing title is a three-man battle going into the final game of the season.

With one game to go, Kelly has 1,122 yards and Dick Bass of Los Angeles 1,041. However, Gale Sayers, Chicago Bears' flash, is only seven behind Bass with 1,034.

Kelly must run against the St. Louis Cardinals, Bass must take on the Green Bay Packers and Sayers faces the Minnesota Vikings in their last games this weekend.

Pat Studstill, Detroit flanker, has completed his season with 67 pass receptions and is threatened by Charley Taylor of Washington with 64 and Dave Parks of San Francisco with 61. Bob Hayes of Dallas needs 10 to catch up at 57. Taylor has become a real whiz since coach Otto Graham moved him from his running back position.

Bart Starr, Green Bay quarterback who was injured in the first half of the Baltimore game last Saturday, remains the top passer with Sonny Jurgensen of Washington No. 2.

Play Texas Western in Sun Bowl

Salukis Will Play Four Games During Break

By Tom Wood

If Santa is good to the Salukis this Christmas, Southern could conceivably return after the holidays with a 6-1 record, the Sun Bowl Tournament trophy and a number one ranking in the college division polls.

However, the path to such success is filled with people who are not only determined to spoil such ambitions, but highly qualified to do just that.

The Salukis see action again Saturday night when they meet Kansas State Teachers' College of Emporia in the Arena at 8:05 p.m. Monday night Augustana College visits the Salukis.

The Hornets of Emporia will be climaxing a 10-day road trip with their sixth consecutive game away from home. It has been a most unrewarding trip for Coach Gus Fish's charges thus far. The Hornets have already lost their first five games to Southwest Missouri, Peru State, Rockhurst, Colorado State College and Regis.

The Kansans will play Central Missouri tonight and Murray State Friday, before coming into the Arena.

Augustana has fared a bit better, sporting a 3-2 record so far. They have defeated Hamline, Augsburg and Mankato State and lost to Gustavus-Adolphus and St. Cloud.

The Saturday game will be preceded by a frosh contest with Belleville Junior College.

The SIU freshmen evened their record at 1-1 against Louisville Saturday, winning 60-58.

After Monday's game the varsity will get a breather before journeying to El Paso, Tex., for the Sun Bowl Tourney. There the Salukis will face Texas Western, the defending NCAA champions and currently rated number two in the nation behind UCLA, in the opening round Dec. 29.

If the Salukis win that one from Don Haskins' undefeated Miners, they will face the winner of the Southern Methodist-Drake game.

Texas Western has eight lettermen back from the squad that went 28-1 last year and upset Kentucky for the national crown. Among the returnees are five of the first seven players including All-American Bobby Joe Hill, Willie Cager and 6-7 David Latin.

SMU, the probable favorite in the other first round game, has four starters back from last year's Southwest Conference champions. The Mustangs have already lost to Texas Western, by a nine point margin, but it took a 63 per cent shooting mark to beat them.

Drake has 6-9 Bob Netolicky back, but has lost the numbers one, three and five scorers from last year's team, which was 13-12. The Bulldogs could be the third Missouri Valley opponent for SIU thus far this season, the Salukis having dumped St. Louis 69-59 and been edged by conference favorite Louisville 70-66 in two overtimes.

The Salukis' record is now 2-1. They have averaged 76 points a game, holding the opponents to a 62.3 average. The Salukis have outshot and outrebounced their opponents.

Walt Frazier is the leading Southern scorer with a 19.6 average and the leading rebounder with 15 rebounds a game. Behind Frazier in the scoring department is Dick Garrett, sophomore forward, with an 18.3 average. Garrett, scored 27 against State College of Iowa in the Saluki opener.

Other scorers are Clarence Smith with a 9.6 average, Roger Bechtold with 8.6, Ralph Johnson with 8.0 and Chuck Benson with 7.3 points.

As a team the Salukis have connected on 41 per cent of their shots from the floor. They hit 65.5 per cent from the free throw line.

The Salukis return home after the holidays Jan. 7 to play Indiana State, the team the Salukis beat in the NCAA regional opener last year. They go to Evansville Jan. 9 to play the Aces, who are ranked third behind Kentucky Wesleyan and Southern

Schedule of Basketball Teams Ranked According to Difficulty

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - UCLA will play a basketball schedule easier than 80 other major colleges this season.

Kentucky is involved in a card the caliber of which is surpassed by 164 other teams.

Rhode Island, for example, plays it a lot tougher than Kentucky. In fact, only 41 other teams have a more demanding schedule than the Rhode Island Rams.

These and other wise assertions come from Gordon L. Wise, assistant professor of marketing at Wright State University in Dayton.

Professor Wise teaches a course in statistics and uses them in what he calls "an objective" preseason analysis of the strength of the basketball schedules as played by 233 selected National Collegiate Athletic Association colleges and universities.

Wise uses the ratings of "top teams" compiled by the experts in assigning "power points." Computing the points shows the ruggedness of the schedule. His system even makes allowance for such things as where the game is played.

It's 45 points for playing UCLA on a neutral court, for instance.

If Lew Alcindor and his mates, who are virtually conceded the national title at UCLA for three years, rate far down the list and if Texas Western's reigning NCAA champs are no better than 52nd in schedule difficulty, who has the hardest way to go?

Michigan State? No, it's the team the Spartans beat 103-68 last Saturday: Wichita State.

Wichita plays nine other rated teams six of them twice this season and the Shockers schedule packs a shocking 391 power points. UCLA's schedule has 160 points, Michigan State's 117 and Kentucky's 93.

Wise's system lists point values for all 47 teams he found mentioned in any of the preseason ratings. Home courts, tournaments and similar factors are taken into account.

Once the ratings are assigned, the rest is pure mathematical computations.

Wise's figures show the Missouri Valley Conference, which includes Wichita, plays more tough teams, including each other, than anybody else. Atlantic Coast teams rank second.

And who stands second to Wichita in rating sympathy for having it tough?

Virginia. And right after that Wake Forest, New Mexico State, Notre Dame and Tulsa.

Among the rated teams, Duke stands highest in the toughest schedule list-15th.
