Candidates Offer Election Views; Polling Thursday

A flurry of last minute campaigning was evident on the Carbondale campus Tuesday as candidates prepared for Thursday's senatorial elections.

Posters, pictures, badges and the traditional barrage of promises vied for student attention. Twenty-two of the 33 candidates running for 20 vacant senate seats responded to a Daily Egyptian article offering space for campaign statements.

The reactions covered matters ranging from Free School, student power, a proposed judiciary system to the "inefficiency" of the present Student Government. Several candidates indicated that students weren't receiving proper representation under the current set-up. Others chose merely to offer their credentials.

The candidates, their districts, their party affiliations and platforms are stated below. The number in parenthesis is the number of vacant seats available in that district.

Commuter (6):

John Nystedt, Action Party-- "The duty of a student senator should be to express the views of the students he represents. Student Government should be the voice of the student body and not the platform from which radicals can sprout their personal philosophies. I hope to be a student representative that actually represents the students."

Dennis Nix, unaffiliated-- "Our current student leaders 'seek truth' by recruiting for protest demonstrations, but refusing other students the right to military recruiters or suppliers about job opportunities. They advocate free speech for themselves but silence opposition with shout-downs and foul language. They argue against police brutality while advocating student violence. If these are honest men, let's elect some dishonest ones."

Paul Wheeler, Action Party-- "I intend to run on my record, and on the fact that I have had a year's experience in the Senate. My qualifications include the incumbency, member of the rules and co-ordination committee, ad hoc student organization's committee. I do not intend to make any campaign promise which I cannot fulfill."

Tim Gorman, Action Party-- "Because Student Government decisions have normally been based on the polled opinions of a small minority of the students, the Student Senate has been unable to gain sufficient student backing to attain administrative changes. My contention is that issues of more concern to the students will bring in this support."

Louis Sauer, unaffiliated-- "A student workers union, Free School and other issues are important but they are only steps in the right direction. While I have and will continue to sponsor all measures for student rights, I will continue to fight for one major goal: a committee composed of one-half students and one-half faculty who would

City Council Accepts Draft Of Fair Housing Ordinance

The City Council last night unanimously accepted the Human Relations Commission's draft of Carbondale's first fair housing ordinance.

Calling the proposed ordinance an "excellent job," the Council moved to have city attorney George Fleerlage polish the draft into proper legal form.

It is expected that the polished ordinance will be brought before the Council at its next regular meeting for formal adoption.

Gus Bode

Gus says he would run for campus Senate, but as lover, rounder and playboy he hates to spread himself too thin.

According to Edward J. O'Day, president of the Human Relations Commission, the proposed ordinance is the culmination of a year's study of discriminatory housing conditions in Carbondale.

In a letter recommending acceptance of the ordinance, O'Day told the Council that "while instances of discrimination locally may not be legion, they are proven beyond reasonable doubt, and justify the adoption of a city ordinance to give all our citizens the equal protection of the law."

O'Day went on to say in the letter that the proposed ordinance is built around five main points. They are:

1. A clear statement of policy to guarantee equal, safe and decent housing to all citizens.
2. Regulations governing the sale and rental of all real property in Carbondale including property owned by private individuals.
3. Prohibitions against discriminatory listings; exploiting or overcharging because of race, discrimination in lending and other unfair housing practices.

4. Establishment of a fair housing board with the power to initiate complaints in cases of unfair housing practices.

5. Penalties for unfair housing practices.

In other business the Council decided to make a bid to persuade the Illinois Building Authority to locate a proposed state office building in downtown Carbondale.

The Council requested Mayor Keene and City Manager C. William Norman to represent the city at a hearing November 21 at which representatives from various municipalities in southern Illinois will present their cases for the location site of the building.

Polling Places

Polling places for the Thursday's student senate elections have been announced by Elections Commissioner Darrel Colford.

Ballot boxes will be stationed at Lentz Hall in the Thompson Point area, Trueblood Hall in the University Park area and Room H of the University Center building.

There will also be ballots available in the breezeway of the Wham Education building, at the front gate of Old Main, in front of the Morris Library, and at VTL.

Earlier Time for Jazz Sessions

Will Avoid Center Conflicts

Jazz workshops at the University Center cafeteria will begin and end a half hour earlier to avoid a conflict with food service scheduling.

The agreement by George Pope, student coordinator of the Jazz Unlimited Society, and Clarence G. Dougherty, University Center director, was made in a private meeting Tuesday.

The next workshop is scheduled for Dec. 2 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. in the cafeteria, Pope said. This will allow an hour for the cafeteria staff to clear the facilities before the opening of the dinner line.

The complaint, which led to an unauthorized interruption and announcement by student manager George Clark Saturday at the workshop that the sessions could no longer be held in the cafeteria, was that the staff did not have time to set up the facilities for dinner customers after the workshops.

The workshops previously began at 2 p.m. and ended at 4 p.m. The dinner line is scheduled to open at 4:30 p.m.

Student Power Movement Aired at 'Bitch-In'

By Ann Ellison

What was billed as the first of a series of "bitch-ins" proved Monday night to be nothing but a half-hearted bull session.

About 50 students attended the meeting in Browne Auditorium but offered few "bitches" and even fewer constructive ideas.

The firmest suggestions offered were that student workers show their power by tossing their pencils into the air to display unity on the student wage issue. Having students spit their chewing gum on the steps as members of the Board of Trustees go to their meeting next month was also suggested.

Somebody said student wages were too low, and another advocated no dormitory hours for women. Others pondered how they could stage a strike or disrupt University officials.

According to Student Body President Ray Lenzi's opening statement, the meeting was held to hear complaints, views and feelings of the student body.

After about an hour of debating what the "student power" movement has as its purpose, Dean of Students Wilbur Moulton was asked to take the floor.

Moulton criticized the discussions of the first hour calling them too "technique-oriented" rather than "issue-oriented."

The dean suggested that once the group began to be more issue-oriented, it should realize that SIU is more than just an institution for instruction. The University also must concern itself with research and service, he said.

Moulton said that many of the issues which were mentioned during the first hour had merit and added that many times it is overlooked that student involvement has played a very significant role in developing the present rules at SIU.

The first hour of the meeting was dominated by members of the student senate and Lenzi.

Of the 30 comments offered the first hour, 13 were made by either Lenzi (from the chair) or three members of the student government.

One person, unidentified, suggested from the floor that if students were to take over the regulation of their own social controls, then they would have to have responsible leaders. He then questioned whether the quality of leadership which would be needed could be obtained from the student body.

Lenzi expressed faith that the students, "like every other human being, will face this responsibility once it were given."

Moulton said as he looked around the auditorium that it was important to know to what extent a group of students represents the basic issues. He agreed with previous speakers that the number of speakers present at the "bitch-in" was hardly representative of the opinions of a community of 19,000.

Concern was expressed from the floor over the apathy of the student body reflected by the attendance.

One student said there had been many suggestions and he wanted to know what group was going to decide what. Lenzi said that the student senate or a separate organization would decide the action.

Discussing the creation of a separate organization, Lenzi said, "If you want to dismiss this whole meeting and make it for that purpose, I'll be glad to help you."

No action was taken on the student president's suggestion.

Lenzi summarized the relationship between the students and the University as "the standard situation of the oppressed and the oppressor."

According to a student government spokesman, another "bitch-in" will be scheduled sometime after the Thanksgiving vacation period.

Fire Forces Students To Evacuate Building

An explosion in a hopper-fed coal furnace was the apparent cause of a fire which forced seven SIU students from their apartment house early yesterday morning, Carbondale Fire Chief Ulmont Crawshaw said.

The fire started about 7:15 a.m. and was brought under control in about 35 minutes Crawshaw said. He could give no estimate of the damage but reported there was extensive water and smoke damage.

Suspect Questioned By City Authorities

According to Carbondale Police Chief Jack Hazel, one suspect has been questioned and released concerning "fire bombings" that touched off blazes in three Carbondale business buildings.

Hazel said police questioned only the one suspect and have no more clues concerning the suspected arson.

All three fires were in the same general area of the city. Extensive damage was reported at Jake's Tire and Recap Service, 316 E. Main St., where firemen were called at 1:14 a.m. Tuesday.

At 12:37 a.m. firemen extinguished a fire at Davie's Food Store, 201 N. Washington St., where loss was reported as minor.

Damage was also slight at Anderson's Grocery Store, 507 N. Marion St., where firemen reported a small blaze Sunday night.

According to Fire Chief Ulmont Crawshaw, fragments of broken bottles and rags were found at each of the places. He said the rags apparently had been soaked in liquid, stuffed in bottles and ignited. The bottles were evidently then hurled into the buildings, he said.

Carbondale police and fire officials are investigating along with Deputy State Fire Marshal Norman Hilton.

The apartment house, located at 120 E. Park, is owned by John Lannin of Village Rentals. Lannin said he didn't know how the fire started, but said he had requested the fire marshal to make an inspection.

Chuck Marshall, a graduate student from Joliet and resident fellow, said none of the residents were injured and that they managed to save their clothes and most of their other personal belongings. He reported that some books and other materials were damaged by the water and smoke.

Others living in the apartment house are Tony Kilbert, Harvey Nudelman, Stewart Hayman, Peter Davis, all of Chicago; Terry Winkless, Kenilworth, and Geoffrey Howard, Barrington.

The students said they have had trouble with the furnace for a long time. They said it had been reported to Lannin but that nothing had been done.

The students were asleep when a workman employed on the Brush Towers project adjacent to their residence awakened them about 7:15.

One of the students said he noticed the heat when he woke up, but thought it was "the damn heater again" until he saw flames coming from the upstairs bathroom.

Marshall said there was no fire extinguisher in the building.

Senate Work Committee To Organize

The Senate Special Committee on Student Work Reform will have an organizational meeting at 6:30 p.m. today in the University Center Ballroom.

John Foote, chairman of the committee, said action will be outlined and assignments will be made for the continuation of fact-finding interviews. Approximately 3,500 questionnaires were distributed Friday in an initial attempt to gather student opinions on working conditions.

Student workers interested and willing to investigate present working conditions and student wage scales are invited to attend the meeting, Foote said. The committee is seeking statisticians and typists, in addition to interviewers.

AGENT 0037

Irresponsible Minority

To the Editor:
 Concerning your article in the Wednesday, Nov. 8 issue which described the circular entitled "Common Sense Revisited" and was signed "Viau," I can only say, "Too bad." It is indeed unfortunate that the circular had to appear when it did for two reasons which I feel should be made known.

First, the authors of this immature issuance are immediately linked with the newly formed committee investigating student wages, which is headed by John Foote. I know Mr. Foote quite well, and I can honestly say that he is serious, sincere, and entirely above the childish practice of distributing an anonymous piece of trash such as this circular. If the authors of this circular believe in what they say, why do they insist on remaining anonymous?

Secondly, as is all too often the case at this and other universities, serious endeavors to improve the situation of the students become linked to the irresponsible, irrational faction with which we are all acquainted.

Although I know nothing of politics, it seems to me that the responsible and interested students working for what they believe in would do well to disavow themselves from this irresponsible minority.

This University holds great potential for those who wish to grasp it; but as long as a group allows itself to be stereotyped by the irresponsible actions of others, it can only meet with failure.

To the Editor:
 I am new to SIU's campus and "Dick Whittington" was my first production here. I also understand that Mr. Ayers review was the first ever given the Children's Theatre program.
 Mr. Ayer's review was very kind and well done. I very much appreciate it and hope that it will be a beginning for future publicity for Children's Theatre.

Letters Welcome

The Daily Egyptian solicits letters to the editor. Any subject may be discussed. However, letters should be brief, not more than 200 words or about one and a half typewritten pages, double space, will be accepted.

All letters must be signed, including writer's address and, if possible, telephone number. The editors reserve the right to apply routine editing procedures to make the contributions conform to the law, decency and space.

Administration's Ostrich Act

Like a bird of a different feather, the Johnson administration had its head buried in the sand for 49 days during the costly strike of Ford Motor Company by the United Auto Workers.

The administration kept assuring the public that there is little danger of lasting damage to the nation's economy due to such strikes. This remains to be seen.

As UAW boss Walter Reuther put it, the union "squeezed and squeezed and squeezed," until it had bludgeoned the lifeless 3.2 per cent wage-price guidepost, a once cherished item, to the tune of 7 per cent.

This figure will become a standard for UAW bargaining throughout the industry. Already the autoworkers have extracted similar terms from Chrysler, whose executives apparently saw the writing on the wall and avoided a mass walkout, such as the one which cost Ford $1 billion in sales.

But, General Motors, the giant of the industry, is not likely to yield without a fight. Chances are that Reuther will ask for bigger and better things from GM. He is already socking union members heavy dues in anticipation of the battle ahead.

He is reportedly asking for numerous fringe benefits, including free lunches for autoworkers in the company cafeteria, drinking fountains in overhead cranes, air conditioned plants and free hot lunches for picketing employes.

The outlook is for similar demands from steelworkers and airplane mechanics when their contracts come up for renewal. If the trend continues to other industries, inflation on a large scale is inevitable.

The administration will have trouble kidding anyone with its nonchalant attitude if Reuther's success spreads. The time has come when looking the other way isn't the best thing to do.

Draft Lawbreakers

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, head of the Selective Service Administration, recently announced that college students who physically harm military recruiters on campus may be subject to immediate draft. College students are no longer considered "untouchables," and rightly so.

This "get tough policy," is not a new innovation. The law has been on the books but until now Hershey has not seen fit to enforce it.

Recent college disturbances prompted his action.

When tear gas is needed to quell student protestors (as in the case of Oberlin College in Ohio) for their entrapment of a Navy Recruiter in his car for several hours, the situation calls for strong measures.

The plan to draft college students who cause physical harm is just what is needed. The fear of serving in the Armed Services and, worse, being wounded or killed in action may result in the halting of such demonstrations.

Letters to the Editor:

Time for a Change

To the Editor:
 On Nov. 17, we, the student body, will select from among 30 senate candidates those persons who we feel will represent us. Perhaps we should remember when voting to select someone who reflects our opinions, ideas, and ideals.

If you read the Egyptian regularly, you will know that our present government leaders, (Lenzi, Novick, Krischer, etc.) have attempted to close the Pentagon during a protest march in Washington, helped start a Free School movement which would like to completely change our current educational system and killed an investigation of Free School by appointing its leader's roommate to investigate it.

In a recent campus election (Homecoming) it was shown that the majority of the students advocate a step-up in the Viet Nam conflict to end it faster. Our "leaders" tried juggling the facts and said better questions (they made up the original questions) should have been asked because the student body didn't agree with what they've been pushing.

If these 'leaders' are going to continue their behavior, then we should definitely take it into account when casting our ballot. If we want our national government to pull out of Vietnam at this stage of the war, then let's keep the Action party in the government. Let's elect the Lenzis, the Novicks and the Bard Grosses.

So where are the people in the student government who do represent our views? There must be someone in the Campus Senate who opposes the Action Party. There must be someone who will step up and stop a person from being allowed to head the investigation of his own roommate. But it is obvious there is not. Our senate meetings are farces. They're sounding boards for the Action Party.

Personally I'm sick and tired of some of the things the student government is doing, saying, or trying to do. They're at complete odds with the administration. Every time they get together we read how corrupt the faculty is and how our leaders are asking for something that is completely ridiculous. Team work? A comedy team, maybe.

To get something done, the students and the administration will have to work together. My impression is that they're having too much fun calling each other names to do that.

November 17, let's change our government a little. There are many independent candidates running for the student senate. Most of them are good people. Let's give them a chance.

"Yellow Press Colors Protests"

To the Editor:
 A lamentable result of the Washington protest was the news media's preoccupation with portraying, or trying to portray, demonstrators. Time magazine, in particular, sought out those individuals and small groups which exhibited characteristics distasteful to the media's audience. The most important aspects of the march were submerged by press sensationalism.

News coverage was directed toward conspicuously aberrant protestors; therefore, most of the audience, believing these protestors were indicative of the majority of protestors, disapproved of protestors in general.

If the reporters would have depicted the large percentages of student protestors from the most selective schools such as Harvard, Yale, University of Chicago and Columbia, then the public could begin to understand there is a great deal of sophisticated intelligence in the peace movement.

Aside from the ludicrously disproportionate characterization of the peace marchers, the news media's greatest evil was in falling to report the other side of the story--the marchers' defense of their activities and beliefs.

The Washington Peace demonstrators symbolize a new generation of thinkers, people who examine a war rather than chauvinistically playing follow the leader. These people deserve to be heard. The yellow press has an opportunity to redress itself by reporting the reasons underlying peace demonstrations. Such complete reporting should begin in the Egyptian and hopefully progress to the WSIU-Television station.

A Growing Dilemma

Canada's Negro Adoption Problem

By BRUCE LAWSON

Adoption agencies in Toronto said yesterday they are forced to find homes outside Canada for colored babies because couples here seldom will take them.

Spokesmen said this is one of the truths behind the fact that Canada, one of the richest nations on earth, is sending illegitimate children out of the country.

Try as they might, adoption agencies can't find anyone who wants the children. In fact the Catholic Children's Aid Society of Toronto classifies colored babies as handicapped, along with children who are mentally or physically abnormal.

Since 1964, the Toronto Catholic CAS has shipped out 48 unwanted children to foreign homes and the non-Roman Catholic CAS has done the same with about 25 more. The alternative to sending these children into apparently affluent and loving homes in the United States or the West Indies was to throw them to the cold and uncertain mercies of a string of Canadian foster homes.

"Nine out of 10 want that blue-eyed newborn baby girl," says Ward Markle, director of the Catholic CAS. "A lot of people are very biased and bigoted."

"We even have to do a bit of a selling job to get them to take boys. Some of them insist that they want a Scottish mother and an Irish father, for example."

The Toronto CAS has the same problem, according to Florence Schill, the public relations director. "A lot stipulate very firmly what they want. We respect their right to say that because if we placed children with them against their wishes, it wouldn't be fair to the children."

Both agencies say they refuse only a negligible proportion of the prospective parents who apply to adopt a child. Yet still they can't get enough, and still those who do apply hold out for the perfect child, ignoring the ones handicapped by mental problems, behavior problems, physical imperfections, and race.

Both agencies also say that most of the children they have placed in good homes of professional people outside Canada have been colored. They may be in danger of losing the rights and privileges of Canadian citizenship, but Mr. Markle believes the children are actually getting a marvellous break.

However, he points out that Canada is not actually losing bodies, because more women come to his agency from outside Canada to have their babies than the number of children adopted out to other countries. "We are away ahead of the game," he says. "Last year, 11 girls came to us from outside Canada."

Of about 1,600 unwed mothers expected this year, the Catholic CAS predicts half will be from outside Metro. There are 53 agencies in Ontario, but only three are Roman Catholic, so Toronto is the natural place for many to come.

'I SPOSE THEY'LL BE DEMANDING PURPLE HEARTS'

What Kind of World

The New Wave of Young Intellectuals

by Robert M. Hutchins

Although I have listened to hours of discussion of the "youth problem," I must confess it still eludes me. I do not fully understand its nature, causes, scope or consequences. I understand enough, however, to say that snap judgments about it can be right only by accident.

Is there a "youth movement"? Clearly, something is going on all over the world, and something different from the usual rebellion of children against their parents. What we see in this country is more like a wave than a movement. There are no accredited leaders and few organizations that appear to have much stability. When there are no official spokesmen, it is hard to know how much importance to attribute to what is said. Particularly is this the case when what is said is always accompanied by the statement that nobody over 30 can understand it.

The wave is certainly visible. Its motive power is the rejection of what we think of as middle-class values by the children of the middle class. Since the middle class does not actually live by such good values as it has, but wallows in hypocrisy instead, its children are disillusioned about their parents, about the values they actually live by and those to which they pretend.

The wave is fluid and diverse. It contains revolutionaries, reformers and drop-outs. How many there are nobody knows. I have heard over and over again that the wave is sweeping the country. Yet I have lately visited a large technical school in Georgia and a medium-size college in upstate New York and seen no traces of it. When I say this I am told the wave will sweep the country. There is no way of knowing whether such a prophecy will come true. It might. It is fairly clear that the wave has not yet subsided.

The war in Vietnam is so often mentioned as the cause of the current disillusionment that I have asked the natural question: what would happen to the wave if the war were stopped? I have been told repeatedly that it would make no difference whatever; the damage has been done. The war has shown how evil the society is, and peace in Vietnam cannot

There seems general agreement that the problem of sending children out of Canada to be adopted is not a religious one. There is machinery set up for adoption exchange.

"I have no hesitancy in recommending we go beyond religious lines," Mr. Markle says. But in practice, it is rare for Roman Catholic children to be placed in Protestant or Jewish homes. Last year, the Catholic CAS did not make even one such placement.

However, a survey done this year by the Ontario Association of Children's Aid Societies shows that of the approximately 5,000 children available at that time for adoption, in only 23 cases was religion mentioned as the barrier to adoption.

Race was the barrier in 182 cases, and other handicaps in 215 cases. Mental deficiencies were blamed in 600 cases, and "gross physical or medical problems" in 194 others.

Many other children were not placed because they were too old or otherwise unable to accept new parents (1,228) had behavior problems (505), or had become emotionally attached to foster families (557).

According to Mr. Markle, the problem is likely to get worse, not better—unless a new tolerance suddenly appears.

"There's a steady decline in the number of adoption applicants in the United States and Canada," he says. "And as the birth rate goes down, the illegitimacy rate is going up."

The reason, he believes, is the rise of the working mother class and the move to apartment living, both factors which discourage married couples from adopting children.

Miss Schill notes another trend: "There is a higher proportion of disturbed children coming to us now. I don't think anybody really knows the full reason."

She thinks it has to do with strains of modern living. "The children who come to us are more and more in need of treatment before they're adopted. We have been screaming since 1948 for treatment centers."

There are some white persons willing to adopt colored children. Last year, of about 25 colored children up for adoption by the Catholic CAS, six were taken by white families and another six found homes in Trinidad.

The CAS has been placing "Negro and part-Negro" children for 15 years, Mrs. Schill says. "We have many good families who have taken them. But it is harder to get foster and adoptive homes for colored and part-colored children."

wipe out the memory of this revelation or restore the illusions the war destroyed.

In the past the weight and strength of the established order have been enough to force the young into its mold sooner or later. But according to a Louis Harris Survey conducted for Newsweek last year 88 per cent of all college seniors want to stay away from business careers. That is suggestive enough. But what is worse is that among the highest scorers in the competition for National Merit Scholarships in 1964 only 3 per cent of the men and almost none of the women indicated an intention to go into business.

All studies of the student activists who have come into collision with the authorities show that they are the brightest in the university they are attending. They would once have been compelled by necessity to conform to the demands of the economic and social system. Will this happen in an affluent society? If not, we may see important changes in the system within 10 years.

Next week I shall discuss what the wave may do if it sweeps over the colleges and universities.

NSA Referendum background information for Thursday, November 16, 1967

According to the provisions of the new By-Law, the 20th National Student Association Congress designated three resolutions as Major Issues. They were "Black Power Legislation," "The Draft," and "More Equitable Drug Laws". Of these, only "The Draft" had a minority report. All these resolutions and the minority report are as follows.

All three of these resolutions became official policy of USNSA when they passed the Congress. However, the member campuses, through referenda, may either re-affirm or reject any or all of these resolutions.

SIU will forward the results of your referendum vote to the National Office. SIU will be allowed to forward to the National Office as many votes as the number of delegates it sends to the national congress those votes being divided in proportion to the number cast for any position in your referendum. (For example, SIU has 8 votes at the national congress and if in its campus referendum, 50% of those voting approve "proposal A" while 50% reject "proposal A". SIU forwards a vote of "4 for, 4 against" to the national office. Of course, votes for a minority report must be recorded proportionally also.)

Assuming enough campuses respond to validate the vote, the effect of the referenda may be as follows:

- A. The Black Power resolution may be upheld or wiped off the books.
- B. The Drugs resolution may be upheld or wiped off the books.
- C. The Draft resolution may be upheld, the Draft minority report may replace the Draft resolution, or both the Draft resolution and the Draft minority report may be wiped off the books.

Black Power Legislation

Principle:

Black Power is the establishment of racial pride, identity, purpose, and direction in order to secure economic, political, social and cultural power and influence for the black peoples in America.

With the development of potential and a positive self image, the black man attains self-respect and self-determination. With this improvement of the black man's life style, he will have reason to live and not merely to exist.

"Black Power" is the determination to build a black community which will be more than a euphemism for the ghetto. It is a valid and necessary cry to the extent that it expresses the despair of the gradual absorption of the deserving "negroes" into general society and puts its faith instead in collective action aimed at dealing with a collective fate."

"Black Power" is the organization of black people to represent their needs in order to stop white oppression and exploitation: it is the emancipation of the black man from what the white man thinks is best for him. Black Power is the unification of all black peoples in America for their liberation by any means necessary.

Therefore, USNSA reaffirms in accordance with BPD XIII "that the student should seek with interest those policies without fear which will lead to responsible involvement in social and political action."

declaration:

A. It is common knowledge that the United States Black Man has been subjected to at least ten generations of inhuman atrocities and deprivation of liberty by the white power structure.

A racist system has been imposed upon the black man that is supposed to respect and uphold. Intrinsic clandestine mechanisms such as the Ku Klux Klan and de jure or de facto racial discrimination have been utilized to contain and control the black man within certain social and economic bounds.

The United States Government is engaged in costly programs of foreign aid while remaining largely oblivious to the plight of the black people in America.

Congressional legislation has afforded the American Black Man civil privileges but not the human rights guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States of America.

The foregoing conditions have led to the emasculation and loss of dignity of the American Black Man. As illustrated by the Moynihan Report, the black woman assumed the role of provider and head of the familial unit thus disrupting an otherwise normal family relationship.

B. Black Power is a sign that the black man is becoming a fully functioning individual in American society. White students must no longer put themselves in the position of determining what is best for blacks. Blacks will provide their own leadership.

Blacks are entirely logical and rational that the black man's contempt and hatred for the white power structure would sooner or later surface, and be presented to white unequivocally; whites should want black to assert themselves even if it means conflict with the white power structure.

White students should use this philosophy in working in these two areas:

- 1. Organizing power whites around their own self interests.
- 2. Educating the white middle class to understand Black Power and to understand its own racist attitudes.

mandates:

A. USNSA mandates that:
1. The USNSA shall establish a Black Commission of black people to consider the problems of the black peoples in the United States on all levels of society. This commission shall consist of five (5) staff members.

2. The USNSA shall approach the N.A.A.C.P., C.O.R.E., Urban League, S.N.C.C., A. Phi. A., and other organization for funding purposes.

B. The president of USNSA shall appoint hereinafter a black man as head of the Civil Rights Desk.

C. The USNSA shall actively support those roles of both black and white students in Civil Rights as stated in all resolutions previously passed by the USNSA Congress.

D. USNSA further mandates that:
1. A special sub-desk on the role of whites in the Black Power movement to be set up under the Civil Rights Desk.

a. It is to be run by whites interested in the Black Power movement.
b. It is to be run by black speakers to white campuses to explain the role of white students in the Black Power era.

c. It is to provide information to white member schools and students.

2. The E.A.V.P. is to arrange a national conference of white students to confirm their role in the Black Power era. Plans are to be completed, and the dates of the conference is to be announced by the first meeting of the National Supervisory Board.

A. Participation by schools in all geographical areas of the United States is to be guaranteed.

b. Black as well as white experts shall be used in setting up the conference.
c. Funds for the conference are to be secured by the E.A.V.P.

Minority Report on the Draft

principle:

Since military service is morally objectionable to some members of our society, and realizing that "the government must be ever concerned with the protection of an atmosphere within which the individual may fully realize his right to express himself, his policies without fear of incrimination, intimidation, or interference by the government," (BPD X) alternative choices to military conscription must be offered.

The present draft laws are discriminatory, favoring those young men in college and those from the most affluent segments of our society. While the 90th Congress has explored alternatives to the Selective Service Act with various officials in the military establishment, no alternative program has been reached.

declaration:

USNSA advocates the abolition of the present selective service system and suggests that a program of alternative compulsory universal services be instituted. The new program would give each male the opportunity to serve his nation in a field which would best serve his convictions.

With the unrest in the nation's urban centers, widespread poverty, and the need for assistance to underdeveloped nations, programs such as the Peace Corps, Vista, and the Job Corps provide a viable alternative to military service.

USNSA recommends that the following program be established:

1. All 18 year olds—male and female—must register for a term of alternative or military service which will last for a minimum of 2 years.

2. The registrant can either serve immediately or postpone service for a maximum of 5 years. If the registrant attends college he can attend graduate school if he so desires. If after 5 years in college an undergraduate degree has not been obtained, the registrant must give just cause for his being allowed to continue his education at that time.

3. In the time of declared war or declared national emergency, the government has the right to designate registrants for military service. Only Congress can determine whether a state of war or a national emergency exists.

mandate:

The Twentieth National Student Congress authorizes the national office to:

- 1. Establish a committee to actively seek support from college campuses.
- 2. Inform citizens in other segments of society, especially those affected by this proposal, who are not in college.
- 3. Forward this information to all parties concerned.

Sample Ballot Thursday, November 16, 1967 vote as follows:

	Yes	No
Black Power
The Draft
Draft Minority Report

The Draft

principle:

USNSA believes that the "free and unfettered exercise of civil liberties cannot be in conflict with national security" (BPD XVII "National Security and Civil Liberties") and that too often the cry of national security has been used as an excuse of the needless denial of legitimate freedoms.

declaration:

USNSA believes that conscription provides manpower for whatever military involvement the government deems necessary and often obviates the necessity for the government to depend on the support of the people in its actions.

USNSA advocates the abolition of the selective service system and proposes a system of forced service to the government as seriously endangering human freedom.

USNSA proposes that the selective service system be abolished and replaced by a voluntary army, as follows: all jobs presently in the armed forces that can be performed by civilians should be filled by civil service. While this transaction is taking place the wage scale for the armed forces should gradually rise until the combined effect of these two measures is sufficient to reduce the monthly draft quota to zero.

USNSA believes that the Congress has the right to call for a military conscription only in times of national emergency, i.e., a declared war in the face of an immediate threat to national survival, and to last only for the duration of the national emergency.

However, USNSA also believes that until conscription can be completely abolished, it should be made as equitable as possible. USNSA strongly believes that widespread inequities of the present selective service system, making a number of major changes immediately necessary. We believe that citizens should be guaranteed the greatest amount of personal control over his future.

USNSA believes that in such times of national emergency various services alternative to the military be available and that these include all varieties of social service work.

USNSA believes that the present system of deferments and exemptions contains inequities often based on socio-economic inequities. USNSA therefore suggests that all those drafted be requested to serve for two years, that the prospective draftee must declare himself eligible upon completion of secondary school, at age eighteen, or upon completion of one higher education or technical training. If before he was "drafted" the prospective draftee volunteered for any approved social service work, he should be granted a two-year deferment. If he served for two years, his obligation would be fulfilled.

While USNSA feels that conscription must be abolished and a voluntary national army substituted, we urge reform in the following areas, falling action to revert voluntarism:

- 1. Conscientious objector provisions should be revised so that the objection to war in general or to any particular war on philosophical and political grounds as well as on religious grounds has the same protection of law.
- 2. Universities should not participate in the selective service process in any form. We believe that deferments to be undemocratic and in effect, biased towards higher socio-economic levels. Also the farm labor automatic deferment should be abolished.

3. The 4-F exemption should be based upon physical or mental disability only, not upon selective service verdicts on individual morality. The phrase "physically, mentally, or morally unfit" in the law should be abridged accordingly.

4. The "security questionnaire" should be eliminated as inconsistent with civil liberties.

5. Only the following would be exempt: the head of a family, hardship cases, (regional boards to determine the validity of exemptions) and those mentally or physically unfit for any type of service.

6. The power of often capricious, arbitrary, or discriminatory local draft boards should be limited by establishing uniform national standards and procedures.

USNSA, while supporting efforts to make the present system more equitable, is in forces should gradually be raised until the opposition to any system of conscription, mandate:

The Twentieth National Student Congress mandates the USNSA to organize and support resistance to the draft along these lines:

1. The NSB shall appoint a steering committee composed of 15 or 20 student body presidents or interested students from member schools to organize a nationwide campaign against compulsory service by the military actions of the United States. The NSB Draft Desk will work under and be responsible to this Steering Committee.

2. The first action of the Committee shall be to raise money by holding a nationwide campaign of letters and telephone calls. The money will be used for an enlarged anti-draft desk.

3. Throughout its operations, the Committee shall cooperate where possible with other anti-draft groups.

4. The Committee will send to all campuses anti-draft kits containing information on C.O., resistance, counseling, and legal aid. In addition, the Committee will support speakers, counselors, and traveling representatives from USNSA and other organizations as part of a campaign to encourage every male student to apply for a conscientious objector status consistent with his beliefs.

5. By organizing law school students and faculties and working with other legal aid organizations, the Committee shall provide legal advice for conscientious objectors and for others who by reason of conscience cannot cooperate in any of the Selective Service System.

6. The Committee shall be formed at the Twentieth Congress and the anti-draft campaign begun as of the passage of this mandate.

7. In conjunction with appropriate groups shall use available resources to test the legality of the law. The National Student Congress, and the National Supervisory Board and the President of USNSA shall issue a full report on steps taken to carry out this mandate to all member student governments by January 31, 1968, and again at the Twenty-First National Student Congress.

More Equitable Drug Laws

Resolved, that the USNSA on the recommendation of the First National Conference on Student Drug Involvement, recommends that all drug abuse be treated as a health problem rather than as a criminal offense and that local, state, and Federal governments stop all punitive and criminal approaches to the use of Cannabis, a mind-altering, non-addictive drug; repeal their laws on hallucinogenic drugs in light of current scientific research; and treat narcotics addiction as a serious health problem and narcotics traffic as a serious criminal threat to the health and safety of American society.

We recommend programs in which:

- 1. All drug abuse is treated as a health problem rather than as a criminal offense.
- 2. A. The local, state, and Federal governments permit and encourage research into all aspects of Cannabis use, including its medical applications.

b. The smoking of Cannabis on private premises is allowed and no longer constitutes a criminal offense.

c. Cannabis is controlled, rather than prohibited, by an act in which possession, sale and use of Cannabis is permitted, and should be controlled rather than prohibited.

d. Possession and sale of Cannabis is permitted, and should be controlled rather than prohibited.

e. All persons now imprisoned solely for possession of Cannabis, for allowing Cannabis to be produced on private premises, or for being present on such premises, should have their sentences commuted.

f. Clinics staffed by physicians be licensed and established so that those who wish to use psychedelic substances can do so under safe and controlled conditions. These clinics should also serve to facilitate research and disseminate information on psychedelic

Role of Power to Students

Action Party Senate Platform Announced

The Action Party platform for Thursday's student senate elections stated that the recent campus referendum is a mandate for birth control information and devices to be made available to all students of the University.

The party has devised a campaign slogan which it hopes will usher its senatorial candidates to victory over the opposing independents. The slogan is "The New 'Responsible' Action Party," according to chairman Jim Morris.

The party believes "powerful and responsible student action will bring an end to second class citizenship for students. The platform also states that "students must be given a powerful and responsible role in the decision-making process of the University."

It is the opinion of the party that "students should have the right to choose their own mode of living and transportation."

According to Morris, the party feels that students should be permitted to express their opinions through referendums. Such referendums as those on fraternity and sorority expansion will appear on Thursday's senate ballot.

Jung Appointed Research Director Of SIU Agency

Loren B. Jung, 40-year old Randolph County native, has been named Director of Institutional Research for SIU.

The agency is charged with data gathering and analysis used in management decisions affecting University affairs and is part of the President's Office.

Jung had been acting director of the office before his new appointment. He first joined the SIU staff in 1961 as a vice president's assistant on the Edwardsville Campus. He was in charge of equipping and preparing the Edwardsville Camps before it opened for classes in 1965.

He is a 1949 graduate of SIU and received a master's degree in education at SIU in 1951. He was formerly school principal in Shawneetown and Edwardsville and was assistant superintendent of schools at Edwardsville from 1957 to 1960.

Education Commission Will Meet Thursday

The first meeting of the Educational Reform Commission, sponsored by the student government, will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Student Christian Foundation, 913 South Illinois St.

Livestock Judges To Stop at SIU

Livestock judging teams from five southern universities will stop at SIU for practice sessions Thursday and Friday before going to Chicago for intercollegiate judging contests at the International Livestock Exposition.

Howard Miller, coach of the SIU livestock judging team which also will take part in the exposition contest next week, said herdsman at the various livestock centers of the SIU Experimental farms will set up facilities for the guests' practice sessions.

The sessions will help students from Mississippi State University, Oklahoma State University and the Universities of Florida, Georgia and Kentucky have experience with midwestern livestock.

CAST OF 'THE VISIT'- Robert Zay, left, Charlotte Owens and Dennis Immel have lead roles in the upcoming play entitled

"The Visit" which opens tonight in the Communications Building Theater. The play will run through Sunday night.

Nikolais 'Imago' to Be Performed

"Imago", Alwin Nikolais' 1963 landmark in dance composition, will be performed Sunday in Shryock Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Nikolais, who is considered by Life Magazine to have made perhaps "the most sensational advance" as a leader in American dance, will also give two lecture demonstrations, Friday at 4 p.m. and Saturday at 1 p.m., in Shryock Auditorium. He will give a master class Saturday at 4:30 p.m. in the women's gym. These two events are open to area residents free of charge, according to Phillip Olsson, asstant dean of the School of Fine Arts.

For the evening concert performance, the 10 members of the Nikolais Company will perform his full length work portraying the life of a city. The choreographer also composed his own electronic music and mingles sound, lights, color, and costumes in what Harris of the New York Telegram terms "weird, fantastic, delightful. . . It should fascinate anyone interested in art or design as well as the dance enthusiasts."

Hallowed tradition of "pinning" a girl is up-dated by Sprite bottle caps.

According to an independent survey (we took it ourselves), a startling new practice is becoming widespread on some college campuses.

Suddenly, fraternity men are no longer "pinning" the lovely young things that catch their eye.

Instead, they reach for a bottle of tart, tingling Sprite--and proceed to "cap" the object of their affections.

Why has this come about?

Perhaps because of what happens when you go through the ceremony of opening a bottle of Sprite. It fizzes! Roars! Buzzes! Tingles! Bubbles!

All of which makes for a much more moving moment than to simply "pin" a girl.

Then, too, the intimacy of two people engaged in the act of opening a bottle of Sprite in itself leads to strong emotional involvement.

Capped off, of course, by the sharing of a few moments of delicious abandon. (Tasting the tingling tartness of Sprite, that is.)

The beauty of the idea is that if the course of true love does not run smooth, you don't have to go to the trouble of getting back your pin.

You just buy another bottle of Sprite.

Angry Mob Battles Police At Rusk Vietnam Talk

NEW YORK (AP)-- A roaring mob of antiwar pickets fought police on Sixth Avenue Tuesday night, as a demonstration against Secretary of State Dean Rusk spread more than half a mile along the busy mid-town artery.

Rusk addressed a dinner meeting of the Foreign Policy Association at the New York Hilton Hotel on Sixth Avenue between 53rd and 54th streets. The fighting between police and pickets extended from 55th to 42nd streets.

State Department security men whisked Rusk from Washington to New York ahead of his announced schedule and had him inside the hotel well before the demonstration reached its peak.

The demonstrators began gathering in late afternoon and swelled by police estimate to more than 2,500 with the descent of chill autumn darkness. It was then that the violence began, with the pickets shouting, "Peace!" even as turmoil was sown.

Terrified theatergoers found themselves trapped in taxicabs that were rocked by the demonstrators. The windshield of one cab was kicked in.

Young girls in the throng shouted obscenities and pounded on the windows of passing automobiles. Traffic inched to a standstill as the broad north bound avenue was blocked intermittently as far south as 45th Street.

False alarms were turned in and a trash basket set afire at 43rd Street, and the arrival of fire fighting equipment added to the traffic stalemate.

Trash baskets were hurled into the roadway in the Rockefeller Center area. The world-famed Radio City Music Hall was a midpoint in the surging battle on the avenue.

The demonstrators appeared to be directed with semimilitary precision by their leaders, who shouted orders through loudspeakers.

In the mob were hippies and bearded types, school-age youngsters, and well-dressed, middle-aged men and women. Buckets of water were emptied on the crowd from the fifth floor of a building at 46th Street.

Several young girls were left writhing on the pavement as the battle moved south to 42nd Street, and then back again uptown.

In a speech prepared long before the violent outburst, Rusk seemed almost to have aimed an advance rebuke at the unruly mob of anti-Vietnam demonstrators.

U.S. General Dies in Crash

SAIGON (AP)-- The U.S. Command said Wednesday ground fire caused the crash of a helicopter that killed Maj. Gen. Bruno A. Hochmuth, commander of the U.S. 3rd Marine Division, on an inspection flight 400 miles north of Saigon.

Hochmuth was the second American general to die in the Vietnam Division.

He plunged with the shattered helicopter into a lake 10 miles north of Hue on Tuesday.

The command said five other persons died with Hochmuth.

In war operations Wednesday, American B52 bombers returned to the embattled Dak To sector to pound North Vietnamese forces and build-up areas behind their lines with two more raids.

The latest two raids, the third and fourth in two days, came during a lull in ground fighting in the central highlands area, 270 miles north of Saigon.

Ranged against each other at Dak To are an estimated 8,000 North Vietnamese and perhaps 6,000 American troops plus South Vietnamese army units and Vietnamese irregulars.

Elsewhere across South Vietnam, no significant ground engagement was reported by the U.S. Command.

California Executions Halted

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)-- The state Supreme Court Tuesday stayed all executions in California.

The stay applies to prisoners already under sentence of death and to others who may receive such sentences before the court hears challenges of constitutionality of capital punishment next January.

The court announced last week that it would hold hearings early next year in all death penalty cases involving constitutional issues.

The action was taken in blanket cases originally filed in U.S. District Court.

U.S. District Court Judge Robert F. Peckham had ordered the condemned men to exhaust remedies in state courts.

More Meat Inspection Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)--Advocates of a new federal meat inspection law said Tuesday a meat dirtied on slaughterhouse floors, butchered from diseased and dying animals and treated with chemicals to mask its flaws is sold in some American supermarkets.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., said a name brand or a chain supermarket is no guarantee the meat a housewife buys measures up to federal inspection standards.

Industry critic Ralph Nader and three labor union officials joined in urging a Senate Agriculture subcommittee to approve Mondale's federal inspection bill, far more stringent than legislation passed by the House.

Mondale's measure would extend federal meat inspection to all U.S. plants, except those covered by state regulations which the Department of Agriculture rules satisfactory.

Polls Won't Affect War, LBJ Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson was quoted in a labor newspaper Tuesday as saying he will pursue peace with honor in Vietnam even though "I may wind up with a poll of one per cent before it's over with."

Johnson's quote in "The Machinist" apparently referred to recent polls reflecting a drop in his popularity among many Americans.

"We can't end it with honor by surrendering," Johnson said of the war in the article in the newspaper of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists.

"We can't end it with honor by negotiating because he, the enemy, will not negotiate with us," the President added.

A union spokesman said Johnson's remarks were made to a group of labor union officials at an Oct. 25 White House luncheon. A White House spokesman said Tuesday such a meeting was held.

Until North Vietnam is willing to negotiate, Johnson is quoted as saying, "it is going to be tough, but we are just going to have to stand up and take it."

Johnson and his military and diplomatic leaders from Saigon and Washington will hold a full-dress review of Vietnam policies and prospects on Wednesday.

PICKET AND STUDENTS—A picket in the foreground greets Negro pupils at Madison Ill. high school, were 1,300 Negroes stayed away from classes for the second straight day. Meetings between parents and school officials are continuing.

Madison Pupils Absent As Meetings Go On

MADISON, Ill. (AP)—Meetings continued late Tuesday as parents and teachers at Madison attempted to solve problems which have resulted in a boycott of classes by Negroes in the Madison School District.

About 1,300 Negroes stayed away from classes Tuesday, as they had the day before. Total student population in the district is about 3,000.

Mrs. Thomas Weston, president of the Madison

Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said she had little hope a special citizens committee would find a solution to problems at the school.

Problems at the school surfaced two weeks ago when 17 Negro football players stayed away from practice sessions and were suspended from the team. They said they were protesting the fact that only one of six varsity cheerleaders was a Negro.

New Chrysler Strike Set

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union said Tuesday its 8,000 clerical and engineering workers at Chrysler Corp. will strike the firm at 10 a.m. next Tuesday if no contract is reached for them by then.

The strike deadline was announced a few days after UAW leaders and Chrysler officials signed a three-year pact covering 95,000 production and maintenance workers at Chrysler.

Despite the fact that the agreement was reached several hours before the original strike deadline, last Wednesday midnight, scattered walkouts hobbled Chrysler production for nearly a week.

If a strike begins at 10 a.m. Tuesday in lieu of a contract, only the 8,000 clerical and engineering employees will be on strike, a UAW spokesman said.

Chrysler operations, meanwhile, climbed back toward normal Tuesday as workers on walkout returned to their jobs, as both the company and UAW leaders had demanded.

Deserters Said To Have Made Own Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — A Dartmouth professor, who talked in Tokyo with four men who said they deserted an American carrier because of the Vietnam war, stated Tuesday he thinks they know exactly what they are doing.

Prof. Ernest Young told a news conference he was convinced the young men made their decisions independently and were not influenced by the Japanese peace movement, leaders of which set up a filmed interview with the youths last week.

Young also said he was convinced the four wrote their individual statements and are aware that "they have taken a very large, significant step."

He added that he has no idea where they are now.

The youths were identified as Airman John M. Barilla, 20, of Catonsville, Md.; Airman Richard D. Bailey, 19, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Airman Apprentice Michael A. Lindner, 19, of Mount Pocono, Pa., and Airman Apprentice Craig W. Anderson, 20, of San Jose, Calif.

The Navy says it has been carrying the four as absent without leave.

Parent's Day Weekend Festivities Planned

Facilities throughout the campus of SIU will be open for the annual Parents Day Weekend, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Traditionally the time when parents of SIU students are especially invited to visit the campus, the weekend will feature campus tours, open houses and coffee hours in various campus units, and the recognition of two pairs of Parents of the Day during the half-time of the SIU-Drake football game. Stage performances and a dance also have been arranged for the weekend.

The weekend events begin Friday with a satirical revue in Shryock Auditorium. Admission is free.

Registration of visiting parents will be from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. in the University Center. A morning coffee hour and campus tours will also be offered at the center.

The Parents of the Day, drawn from names submitted by students, will be presented with a Revere bowl during the half-time ceremonies of the SIU-Drake University football game which begins at 1:30 p.m. at McAndrew Stadium. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Lamont, Moline, parents of Larry Lamont, a freshman; and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Sinclair, Mt. Vernon, parents of Gloria Sinclair, a junior studying speech pathology.

Other Saturday events include the Celebrity Series presentation of pianist Skitch Henderson at 7 and 9:30 p.m. in Shryock Auditorium and the play, "The Visit," presented in the Communications Building theater at 8 p.m.

The SIU museum will have its grand opening in its new quarters in Old Main on Sunday, with an open house from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. All departments of the museum, both the exhibits and the behind-the-scenes operations, will be open for display. Sorority girls will serve as tour guides.

6 Initiated, 22 Pledged By Tau Kappa Epsilon

Tau-Kappa Epsilon, social fraternity, initiated six members during recent ceremonies. The new initiates are Martin Miller, Tom Gayne, Jerry Sturm, Jim McKay, Bill Elliot and John Zeller.

Officers for the new Tau Kappa Epsilon pledge class are Kenney Trout, president; Mike Linderman, vice president; Pat Trunk, social chairman and Roger Johnson, secretary.

POVERTY WORKER--After working three months as a participant in a U. S. government anti-poverty program, Mahesh Podar of India, left, a senior in economics at SIU, returns to the University to finish his requirements for a bachelor's degree. Under instruction of Donald L. Winsor, director of the Learning Resources Service at SIU, Podar, who is a student projectionist, prepares to show an instructional film for a class.

Volunteer From India

Foreign Student Aids City Poor With VISTA

A student at SIU from a country where in some sections poverty, hunger and disease approach crisis proportions, worked in the summer to help the poor in one of the wealthiest cities in the world.

Mahesh Podar from India, who is a senior in economics at SIU, participated in a U.S. government anti-poverty program, through the recommendation of the Institute of International Education. His assignment was to work with 30 underprivileged teenagers in the northwestern side of New York City, the Chelsea area.

"The youngsters were basically Puerto Ricans and Negroes, mostly high school dropouts," he said. "My major responsibility was to make them aware of the problems existing in the neighborhood and show them what they could do to solve these problems."

The teenagers were trained to serve in their own communities as apprentice organizers. The training projects included lectures on necessary information of housing and sanitation regulations, seminar type of admission, and field works. During the training, the participants were encouraged to bring out their own feelings and ideas.

Podar, who hopes to do graduate study in the economy of underdeveloped countries, believes that he "has gained the invaluable experience of working alongside underprivileged people." He has found that the poverty problem in the United States is much different from that in India. "Poverty in India is on a mass scale," he said, "There are people who are born poor, live poor, and die poor for the simple reason that they are very pessimistic toward life, while in this country, poverty is among the very few," he added.

However, his contact with poverty problems in the summer surprised him. "The extent of poverty was much greater than I thought," he said.

Podar was one of 45 international students in various universities of this country selected to serve in the poverty program, officially called Volunteers in Service to America, or VISTA for short. Aims of the program are to widen the American horizons to foreign students and infuse some fresh talents into the anti-poverty program. The students were paid by the government at the rate of $40 a week, plus an extra $125 at the end of the summer.

Back in school, Podar works part time as a student supervisor at the University's Learning Resources Service. Twenty-six student employees work with him to offer such services as showing instructional films and slides, and helping operate tape recorded lectures.

Headlining College football's next to last full Saturday of the 1967 season are a few all-important games that could determine champions in three and possibly four conferences, and even decide the two Rose Bowl participants.

First of all, out of the havoc that Oregon State has reeked upon the Pacific Coast Conference the past two weeks, Southern Cal, now second in the nation, meets undefeated but tied, 3rd-ranked U.C.L.A. in the final show down. . . title and Rose Bowl at stake. For what it's worth trying to second-guess the topsy-turvy Pacific Coast, we'll pick the Trojans to win the big one by a point. Meanwhile, 7th-ranked Oregon State will close its season with a 20-point win over Oregon.

14th-ranked Mississippi is just about the final hurdle for Tennessee, #4 in the nation, in its bid for the championship of the Southeast Conference. The Rebels will be a rough obstacle as the Volunteers are favored to squeak by in this one by only two points.

Jolted from the ranks of the undefeated last week, 8th-ranked North Carolina State battles Clemson for the Atlantic Coast Conference crown. Both are undefeated in league play. The powerful Wolfpack will be too much for the Clemson Tiger, State winning by 9.

In all probability, the winner of the Indiana-Minnesota game in Minneapolis Saturday will be the Big Ten's representative in the Rose Bowl. To pick the winner, it's almost a case of flipping a coin.

Another game that we think might be a surprise is the Wyoming-University of Texas at El Paso struggle in El Paso. El Paso will upset the Cowboys by six points.

Elsewhere, the new #1 college football team, Purdue, will roar past Michigan State by 15 points to remain undefeated in the Big Ten.

It's always a winning score if its the Official SIU class ring.

Police Claim 5,000 SIU Students Drink Illegally Each Week

By J. Richard Wood

"Hey, Joe, let's go get a beer."

"Naw, I can't get in. I'm not old enough."

This may well be a typical conversation on college campuses across the country as college students strive to reach that magic age of 21 when they can buy and drink liquor legally in most states, including Illinois.

According to Thomas L. Leffler, division chief of the SIU Security Office, at least 5,000 SIU students violate the law each week by drinking alcoholic beverages.

According to the Registrar's Office 10,600 students are under 21 years of age. This figure represents 55 per cent of the student body.

Underage drinking could be traced to lax enforcement of the law by taverns and to persons of legal age who supply minors with alcoholic beverages.

But according to Leffler, "Most of the taverns in the Carbondale area do a good job of enforcing the law."

If taverns are doing a good job, the problem of underage drinking seems to lie primarily in the social world outside of the tavern.

During the last school year, the Security Office arrested some 320 students for having accepted alcoholic beverages. Of these only 10 per cent were found to be carrying false identification cards.

"The 320 students arrested last year were unable to handle their liquor. They caused some kind of disturbance and were reported to my office."

For this reason, Leffler does not consider underage drinking a problem. Of the estimated 5,000 underage drinkers per week, only less than 7 per cent were apprehended during the last entire school year. The other 93 per cent of the students were able to handle their liquor and therefore avoided trouble.

Leffler does not consider lowering the legal age to be a good idea. New York State has a drinking age of 18 and has run into many problems, said Leffler. In states surrounding New York, the drinking age is 21. Young people in these states who are 18 years old and want to drink just take a short trip into New York where they can purchase liquor.

Speak at Seminar

Marvin Charton of Pratt Institute will discuss the "Nature of the Ortho Effect" at 4 p.m. Thursday in Parkinson 204.

chase their beer or whiskey legally.

The problem results in a high rate of highway accidents due to drinking and arrests for underage drinking when the kids who were legal in New York reach their home states.

Leffler said he does not think Illinois will lower the minimum legal drinking age.

Faculty Artists to Offer Recital in Joint Concert

A faculty recital featuring Herbert Levinson, violin, and Kent Werner, piano, will be presented by the music department at Southern Illinois University, Sunday, Nov. 19.

Opening the concert, Werner will play the "Sonata in E-Flat Major" by Mozart and Beethoven's "Sonata in G Major."

Following the intermission, Levinson and Werner will perform the five movements of Stravinsky's "Duo Concertante."

The recital will be held in Shryock Auditorium at 4 p.m. and is open to the public free of charge.

Professor to Talk At State Meeting

Jacob O. Bach, professor of education at SIU, will represent the Illinois Conference of Professors of Educational Administration on a panel Sunday in Chicago.

Bach will discuss "Research and School-University Relations" at a meeting of the Illinois Association of School Boards and the Illinois Association of School Administrators. He will join professors from Northern Illinois University, Illinois State University, and the University of Illinois in the panel discussion on "Improving School Board-Administration-Professor-College Relationships."

Do you buy a shirt or a label?

You buy both, if you're smart. Because a good label means a good shirt. A shirt that's styled to last. With rolls, pleats and tapers in the right places. And a wide enough selection of colors so you don't have to buy the same shade twice.

This Arrow "Cum Laude" Oxford has all the things a good label means. Button-down roll collar with a soft flare. Tapered waist. Perma-Iron so it won't wrinkle. "Sanforized-Plus."

And it comes in blue, pinks, stripes, etc., etc., for $7.00.

So, if you want a good shirt, look for a good label. And if you want the best label, buy a shirt made by Arrow.

Factory Used As Studio

Artists Feature New Methods

Balloons and cardboard cutouts are the unusual materials used by two artists-in-residence at work this year at SIU.

Margo Hoff, painter, and David Slivka, sculptor, are sharing studio facilities in the former Good Luck Glove factory building, and providing art students with practical as well as inspirational instruction on how professional artists work.

Mrs. Hoff is working in her newest medium, which might be called "relief painting." She builds up designs on a flat surface by pasting on successive layers of cardboard cutouts—sometimes to several inches in height—then finishes the work by painting in acrylic colors.

"This technique achieves perspective and often a sense of motion," she explains. One large piece in progress,

"Magic Carpet," being executed on large veneer doors, when finished will be hinged and suspended as a mobile. The design features raised motifs of hearts, circles and other romantic symbols. It will be colored in shades of red.

One of Mrs. Hoff's paintings was reproduced as the 1967 UNICEF Christmas card and another, "Under the Bridge—Michigan Avenue," adorns the cover of the 1967 Chicago telephone directory. A portfolio of her work has been published by International Minerals and Chemicals Co.

Mrs. Hoff is a native of Tulsa, Okla.

Slivka, Chicago-born, has been professor of sculpture at the University of Massachusetts for the past three years. He has served as visiting professor at the University of Texas, the Philadelphia College of Art and New York University, and has twice been a visiting lecturer at SIU.

For the past 17 years he has pioneered new techniques and conceptual ideas in direct wax and "lost wax" bronze casting. This year he plans to use a foundry at SIU's Edwardsville campus pending construction of one at the Carbondale campus.

Slivka works largely in sculptures involving the use of "budding" or organic forms that are reminiscent of the human figure. He uses balloons as models for his wax forms, inflating and manipulating them into a variety of rounded shapes.

"THE MAGIC CARPET"—Margo Hoff, artist-in-residence at SIU, at work on her "relief painting," which she calls "The Magic Carpet". The design is built up by successive layers of cardboard cutouts, then will be painted with acrylic colors.

Helen Zimmerman to Chair Physical Education Group

Helen Zimmerman, professor of physical education for women at SIU, will become president of the Illinois Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation at the close of the 1967 convention, meeting this week in Chicago.

As president-elect during the past year, Miss Zimmerman has directed district workshops throughout the state.

Melva Ponton Lab Director

New director of the home economics Child Development Laboratory at SIU is Mrs. Melva Florence Ponton, former director of cottage life at the Warren G. Murray Children's Center, Centralia.

Mrs. Ponton was the 1965 recipient of the Governor's Francis Gerry Award for her work as coordinator of a training program for child care aides.

A two-degree graduate of the University of Illinois, she worked there as an executive assistant and editorial writer in the Biophysical Research Laboratory.

SIU's Child Development Laboratory is operated by the Home and Family Department in the School of Home Economics, and enrolls two groups of pre-school children.

At the Chicago convention, Dorothy Davies, chairman of the SIU department, will chair the college women's section, and Charlotte West, assistant professor, will chair the officiating section, presenting a demonstration of basketball officiating with SIU and University of Illinois physical education majors as the competing teams.

Also to attend the convention are Jean Stehr and Jacqueline Puhl from the SIU department.

Miss Zimmerman, who came to SIU in 1952, holds degrees from Harris College, St. Louis University and the University of Wisconsin. She has been particularly interested and active in research in the field of physical education for women, and also belongs to the American College of Sports Medicine.

Linderman Elected

By Junior Greeks

New officers have been elected by the members of the Junior Inter-Greek Council.

The officers are Mike Linderman, president; Murray Watson, vice-president; Don Hachmeister, treasurer; and Toni Alvarado, secretary. Junior Inter-Greek Council is an organization composed of two pledge representatives from each fraternity and sorority on Greek Row.

SCULPTURE SEGMENT—David Slivka, artist-in-residence at SIU, files a rough edge on one segment of his projected 7 1/2-foot sculpture. Slivka creates a "vocabulary" of shapes by inflating balloons, covers them with wax, then plaster, and finally casts them in metal. This piece will be in silicon bronze.

National League Won't Fight AL's Seattle Move

CHICAGO (AP) — The National League, virtually slapping the wrist of the American League for rule-breaking in its independent move to expand, announced Monday it would not contest the junior circuit's beachhead in Seattle.

The AL last month voted to shift the Kansas City franchise to Oakland, Calif., and to grant franchises operable in 1969 to Kansas City and Seattle.

Representatives of the senior circuit met Monday for expansion talks at a special meeting which grew out of the pressure generated by the American League.

Originally, it was reported that Seattle was high on the NL's new franchise list and that possibly the NL would challenge the AL for that city whose citizens vote in February on a $40 million bond issue for a new sports complex.

Such a challenge was thought to be in the making because of the announced intentions of E.J., "Buzzy" Bavasi, general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers, in bidding for a Seattle franchise.

Bavasi had the blessing of Dodger owner Walter J. O'Malley, one of the NL's most powerful figures.

National League President Warren Giles said he wanted to clear the air about Seattle.

"The major league rules provide that before a major league makes a commitment, or takes any official action to expand, its program will be presented to and discussed at a joint meeting," Giles said.

"The resolutions adopted by the American League on Oct. 18-19 providing for transfer of the Kansas City club to Oakland and for expansion of the American League to Kansas City and Seattle involves a commitment and official action by the American League prior to a joint meeting which is contrary to rules—but we will not oppose expansion of the American League to Kansas City and Seattle announced in its resolutions," he said.

The meeting resumed with Giles insisting that "we haven't even decided to expand let alone talk about possible new franchise sites."

San Diego, Milwaukee, Dallas-Fort Worth, Buffalo, N.Y., and Montreal have been mentioned as sites if expansion materializes.

"We are exchanging ideas and if we decide on expansion we will set up a timetable," Giles said. "But nothing is going to be formalized until the joint major league meetings in Mexico City later this month."

"Right now, we are playing everything by ear," he said. Giles admitted he had franchise applications from Buffalo, Dallas-Fort Worth, San Diego and Milwaukee.

"I also have a letter from Toronto which I consider a franchise bid," Giles said. "And I have an application from another city that has requested it remain unidentified at this time."

Giles added that Montreal had not filed for a franchise and that he had not heard from anyone in that city.

"If we decide to expand then we will select two cities so each league will have 12 clubs," Giles added. "We want to do everything in an orderly fashion."

"The American League violated the spirit of the rule, and I think its action was hasty," Giles said. "But it was confronted with problems, and they had to take faster action than they wanted to."

Later when plinned down with questions, Giles indicated that the unnamed city was, indeed, Montreal. He also said that he had "a letter from a good friend of baseball in Denver asking that Denver be considered for a franchise."

Army Waiting for Bowl Bid

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — The athletic brass at Army is not hanging over the telephone waiting for a football bowl bid, but they're not taking the receiver off the hook, either. They're ready to listen-when and if. You might also describe them as interested.

"We're the only service academy that has not played in a bowl," Col. Jerry Capka, athletic director at the U.S. Military Academy, said Monday. "We have no policy against it."

"Our attitude is that we will wait until we get a bid and then we'll consider it on its merits." He acknowledged there had been feelers.

The Black Knights, with a 7-1 record and one of the country's most interesting teams are reported on the invitation lists of the major Southern bowls—Sugar, Cotton, Orange and Gator.

Referendum Will Consider NSA Resolutions

Students will be given the opportunity Thursday to express their opinions concerning four proposed National Student Association resolutions. The proposals concern black power, drugs, majority draft and minority draft reports.

the injustices and inequities of conscription.

They should remain as present where all females have the same hours; the closing hours should apply only to freshmen women; no closing hours for any female students; or, closing hours should apply only to freshmen and sophomore women.

They will also be asked to express their opinions concerning fraternity and sorority expansion and restrictions for women's hours. An advertisement containing the referendum appears elsewhere in today's Egyptian.

Black Power, according to the NSA resolution, is the unification of all black people in America for their liberation by any means necessary.

The essence of the drug resolution recommends that all drug abuse be treated as a health problem rather than as a criminal offense.

Students will be asked to cast a yes or no vote to indicate whether SIU students should be allowed to form additional University recognized fraternities and sororities. The Greeks are currently restricted to their present organizations.

There are four alternatives for expressing a favored pol-determine the policy of (and govern) the student life complex."

Eastside Dorm (4):
Sara Kiss, Action Party-- "As your senator, I would work for true representation through more personal contacts. Since this district is so large, it is difficult to co-ordinate; nevertheless, with newsletters, opinion polls, and personal visits, your senators can let you know what is going on while learning how you feel about various issues."

Eastside Non-Dorm (1):
Bill Gasa, Action Party-- "I stand on my record with a 4.15 grade point and junior standing, government major, economics and history minor. I have served in student government at Thompson Point for two years, including Bailey Hall President, vice-president and TP board member and forums chairman."

Ron Smith, unaffiliated-- "Vote for me Thursday and I'll bend full efforts to get this actionless student body moving. In view of the present University-student relationship, any candidate proposing to do different things is talking through his hat. The reason being that the senate presently has no voice on University matters. Because I am an independent, I will represent you, not a party."

Thompson Point (1):
Jack Seum, Action Party-- "I am a second quarter junior from Chicago majoring in government. I feel that a senator should promote as his highest goal the accurate representation of the people in his district. If elected my only promise is to achieve this goal. I would appreciate your support on Nov. 16."

Jana Ogg, unaffiliated-- "My goal is to give responsive leadership to Thompson Point residents, particularly in the fields of student rights and educational reform. A junior government major with a 4.7 standing, I have been active in Student Government for over a year and presently serve on the executive committee of the Action Party."

R.L. Richardson, unaffiliated-- "I do not seek a senate seat as such; I seek to represent the residents of Thompson Point. I seek to prove that by direct, dynamic action, channels of communication may be established--therefore, no student may be justified in the attitude, "Why bother?" This concern must be resolved: apathy, be damned."

University Park (2):
D.J. Kennedy, unaffiliated-- "Senators must not waste the students' time by becoming involved in personal or party power struggles in their own interests, but must direct their attention to issues which concern all the students: housing, hours, visitation, general studies, vehicles. Improvement will come when senators work actively for their constituents' desires."

Scott Ratter, unaffiliated-- "Vote for a candidate sworn to support your views, to work for and uphold your rights. As an independent candidate I will be obligated and responsible to no one but you. In essence, I am concerned with the people--not a party."

West Side Dorm (6):
Robert Blanchard, Action Party-- "Student Government activities with the student body and the administration that I have had the opportunity to view have come under criticism for being ineffective and inefficient. If student oriented goals and objectives were put in proper perspective between all factions with active support, perhaps Student Government would be more effective."

Steve Collier, unaffiliated-- "I feel that the SIU Student Government should first represent and then speak for the students, and when possible in cooperation with the administration. If elected, I will try to fulfill my part in representing you and speaking for you in the Student Senate."

Dale Boatright, Action Party-- "Past experiences show that many student issues have been ignored by Student Government. I believe that this is a serious problem and I pledge to be a representative of the West Side Dorm Student Body. It is my contention that a more effective Student Government is a more reflective Student Government."

Cheryl Lamney, Action Party-- "I can summarize my views on current issues by saying that I feel that anything which will make life better for the students of SIU is worth fighting for."

Campbell McHugh, Action Party-- "I am a senior majoring in pre-law and have served as Student Senate parliamentarian. I will represent what the majority of students want--not a small way-out clique."

West Side Non-Dorm (2):
Jerry Paluch, Action Party-- "I am running for Student Senate because I feel that in the past, students have not been fairly represented by their elected representatives. Too often, senators express their own feelings on campus issues and not those of the students they supposedly represent. I plan to make the student's my chief concern."

John Singleterry, unaffiliated-- "I pledge to work for the following goals: a student workers' union as a vehicle for improvement of the lot of student workers; to make the University Center a Co-operative Student Union operated solely for student benefit; a scientific system of faculty evaluation; a study into cooperative housing off campus; recognition of soccer as a varsity sport; and, to support ideas presented to me by my electorate."
