Humphrey to Speak Here in Arena

★ ★ Mock Election Set on Campus

A mock presidential election will be staged on campus Oct. 27 by the Off-Campus Executive Council.

Any student who shows an activity card and faculty members who show an appointment card will be permitted to vote, Dan Heldman, chairman of the event, said.

Heldman said the polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and the activity cards and appointment cards will be punched so no one can vote twice.

Polls will be set up in the University Center, Old Main, the Wham Building and, weather permitting, outside Browne Auditorium.

Voters will be given a chance to express a preference between President Johnson and his running mate, Hubert Humphrey, and their Republican challengers, Barry Goldwater and William Miller.

In addition, they will be able to vote on their choice for governor of Illinois.

"We are going to try to run this as much like a regular national election as possible," Heldman said. The Young Democrats and Young Republicans will provide the pre-election activities, serve as official poll watchers and count the ballots.

"Our primary goal, of course, is to create an interest in the national election," Heldman said. "But we also hope to have at least a 50 per cent turnout of voters on campus."

Housing Policy To Be Drafted

The Housing Office has asked the Residence Halls Council to work with the housing staff in drawing up a policy to handle future overassignment problems.

The policy will cover every step of overassignment from the first contact of a possible overassignee until he's moved into permanent facilities, said J. Albin Yokie, coordinator of housing.

Yokie told the Daily Egyptian that James H. Behrmann, residence council president, had agreed to appoint a committee to work on the matter.

New Decision on Housing

Students in Crowded Dorms May Get Credit of $1 a Day

Residents of University housing who are living in temporary or overcrowded facilities will receive adjustments in their accounts, J. Albin Yokie, coordinator of housing, said.

Credit adjustments at the rate of $1 per occupancy day will be made to "all residents who are involuntarily inconvenienced by the necessity to overassign certain spaces," he said in a policy statement issued Thursday.

The adjustments will be calculated using Oct. 4 as the initial date and the day upon which a permanent accommodation is offered the overassignee as the terminal date.

Some 83 residents were eligible for the adjustments as of Oct. 11, not including those sharing quarters with the overassigned students, who also are eligible.

Yokie said the decision to make the blanket adjustments was based upon recommendations received from the Petitions Review Committee and the Residence Hall Council.

The Housing Office had announced previously that blanket adjustments would not be made.

Yokie explained that the change of decision was made when he discovered, after talking with overassigned students, that they hadn't been notified prior to signing their contracts.

Yokie said he had instructed his staff to notify students on a personal counseling basis before they were assigned to temporary quarters.

Another influencing factor in the policy change, according to Robert E. Maurath, assistant coordinator of housing operations, was that a number of overassignees who had appeared before the Petitions Review Committee had indicated their desire to remain in the overcrowded rooms, rather than being assigned to other housing areas.

Johnson's Running Mate Plans 'Major Policy' Talk

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, Democratic vice presidential candidate, will speak in the SIU Arena at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The senator will fly in to the Williamson County Airport between Herrin and Marion on Rt. 13 from Paducah, Ky., and drive to the campus in a motorcade with area Democratic party officials.

His speech in the Arena will mark the first time that the building has been used for a public event. The first regularly scheduled event was to have been the SIU Homecoming Show on Oct. 30.

2 Senators Lose Seats on Council; Carel Will Appeal

Don Grant, Student Council chairman, declared two senatorial seats vacant at the Council's Thursday night meeting.

Grant ruled that Jim Bell, married student senator, and Bill Carel, General Studies senator, could no longer serve on the Council because they had failed to attend any of the meetings this school year.

Carel, a candidate for education senator in next week's campus elections, explained he was under the impression that his term had expired at the end of last spring term.

The Council, however, refused to accept Carel's reason, and informed him that he could appeal the decision to the Campus Judicial Board.

"I definitely plan to file an appeal," Carel said late Friday.

Bell was not at the meeting, and there appears to be some confusion about his whereabouts. Bell was elected last spring with only one vote and has failed to appear at a Council meeting since that time.

There was some controversy at the time of the election whether such a person existed. However, the elections commission ruled that such a person did exist and that he was duly elected by the one vote cast.

In other action, Danny Crumbaugh and Joan Swicks were appointed cochairmen for Parents Day, Nov. 14. Sue Jackson was named to the Campus Judicial Board.

Pat Micken, student body president, declared Nov. 16-22 as the University Center Planning Board Week.

Council members were reminded that pictures for the Obelisk are to be taken at 7:30 before next week's meeting.

A spokesman for the senator said that Humphrey's speech would be a "major policy address."

"It has been the custom of the Senator to reserve all his major policy statements for speeches made on college campuses," the spokesman said.

This will be the first appearance of either of the major Democratic candidates in Southern Illinois. Both have campaigned in Northern Illinois earlier this month and President Johnson's older daughter, Lynda Bird, spent last Saturday night on campus.

Earlier the Republican standard-bearer, Sen. Barry Goldwater, stopped off in Carbondale briefly while on a whistle-stop campaign through the state.

The Humphrey spokesman said that plans for the visit are "still to be firmed up" but that he believes that the senator will leave immediately after the speech for an appearance in Champaign.

Mrs. Humphrey is not expected to accompany her husband on the trip.

Three Will Attend Freshman Event

A faculty member and two students from SIU will attend the 17th national convention of Phi Eta Sigma, a freshman honorary fraternity.

The three-day convention is scheduled for Sunday through Tuesday at the University of Illinois in Champaign-Urbana.

Attending the convention will be Dean I. Clark Davis, faculty adviser, Dave Smith, senior adviser, and Mike Brown, president of the fraternity.

Elected by Dorm Council

James H. Behrmann has been elected president of the Residence Halls Council.

Behrmann replaces Larry D. McDonald, who had served as interim chairman for the council since last May.

Red Chinese Announce Detonation of A-Bomb

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China joined the world's atomic powers Friday with an announcement it has exploded its first atomic bomb in the western region of China.

The announcement came less than 24 hours after Moscow had exploded political bombshell of its own. The ouster of Nikita Khrushchev, China's atomic disclosure and the retirement of Khrushchev are likely to raise China's Mao Tze-tung's stature among world Communist leaders. To the Chinese, he is already the No. 1 spokesman for the international Communist movement.

The Chinese announcement came, ironically, at a time the new leadership in Britain is charting plans to end that nation's own nuclear deterrent program.

The official New China News Agency only quoted a government statement saying "China exploded an atom bomb at 1500 hours (3 p.m.—2 a.m. EST) on Oct. 16, 1964, and thereby conducted successfully its first nuclear test."

The government statement said China was forced to conduct nuclear tests and develop nuclear weapons. "China cannot remain idle and do nothing in the face of the ever-increasing nuclear threat posed by the United States," it said.

U.S. officials have pointed out that some time must elapse, possibly years, before China can turn its first experimental explosion into what can be regarded as a nuclear force.

In any case, Red China can be expected to seek to become the spokesman of the nuclear club for what is sometimes called the Third World—that, lying between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Baptist Student Union to Hear Report on Missionary Work

The Rev. Edward Sanders, missionary to Indonesia, will speak twice today at a Baptist Student Union missionary conference.

The Rev. Mr. Sanders will talk at both the 9:30 a.m. session and the 2 p.m. session of the conference.

The conference, which opened Friday night, also features nine SIU students who served in various missionary posts this summer.

Mr. Sanders is a graduate of Oklahoma Baptist University and the Southwestern Theological Seminary.

Appointed to his Indonesian post in 1959 by the Southern Baptist Convention Foreign Mission Board, Mr. Sanders moved to Jogjakarta, one of Indonesia's university centers. His work is oriented toward university students. He considers the ready response of young people one of the most encouraging signs from the standpoint of the Baptist missionary.

Currently in the United States on furlough, Mr. Sanders and his family will return to Indonesia in May, 1965. Student missionaries who are taking part in the conference are Leslie Pappas, Fairfield; Maida Quick, Pa-

THE REV. EDWARD SANDERS toka; Jerry Moore, Bridgeport; Georgina Phillips, Sesser; Martha Jackson, Whittier, Cal.; Effie Mae Kelley, Carbondale; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Spicer, Royalton; and Elizabeth Smith, East St. Louis. The SIU missionaries served 10-week terms in France, Trinidad, Ohio, Michigan, Kansas, New Mexico and California.

Sloppiness Criticized

No Solid Trend Noted In Southern Coed Dress

Fashion conscious coeds have always and will always follow the latest fads. This is the speculation of an article in a national magazine regarding, "Back to School Fashions."

The article said that "the shiny-nosed adolescent with the shirt-tail flapping over tattered levi's and the blue-blooded aristocrat with the cashmere sweater, flannel skirt and a single strand of perfect pearls have gone with the wind."

In her place is a sleekly feathered creature who swings her hair when she walks and wears little or no make-up.

The "scramble look" is the trend for this year. It takes a smart lass who can skillfully blend dots with stripes, checks with tweeds, and plaids with prints, plus patterned stockings to "set off" an outfit.

Although the patterned stockings haven't made Southern's campus scene yet, all one must do is to look around and he can see such things as the headband instead of a head scarf, or the shoulder-strap hand bag.

Out of style are the kilts and the Bermuda shorts which are slowly giving way to full length slacks or skirts.

Although the new look is giving a more casual air to campus, some people feel that there is such a thing as being too casual.

According to a spokesman in the SIU Office of the Dean of Women, it appears that the women students are not being as careful about their dress as they have been in the past years.

The spokesman made it clear that although this remark could pertain to either men or women students, it singled out women who wear slacks, peddle pushers and shorts on campus.

One brave soul who wished to remain anonymous said:

"Some girls meet their date looking like they're going to a Sadie Hawkins dance. They seem to think that a pair of slacks, sloppy sweat shirt and tattered tennis shoes make them look real collegiate. I prefer my date to look like she has put a little time into preparing for our date. After all, she wouldn't go with me if I wore over-alls."

Ron Flach, senior, took a

Jewish Association To Sponsor Picnic

Jewish Students Association is kicking off a membership drive by sponsoring a picnic this Sunday at the Carbondale reservoir.

different view. He said that he didn't feel that there was any definite trend either toward sloppiness or neatness. "It just depends which way you happen to be looking."

Lu Helsey, operator of the Baptist Foundation La Posta snack shop, said that campus fashion is about the same as it has been for the last few years. "The fashions this year call mostly for comfort. Of course, there always are a few who must go to an extreme, but on the whole most of Southern's coeds pride themselves in their appearances."

Interfaith Council To Discuss Unity

The Interfaith Council will sponsor a discussion on "Nature of the Unity We Seek" at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Newman Center. The three-member discussion team will share its views of the Ecumenical Council in Rome.

Pastor Lenwood L. Monte, of Epiphany Lutheran Church and one of the participants in the discussion, said, "We will talk about the things that unite us as Christians, rather than the things that separate us as denominations."

The Rev. Ferdinand Pott-hast, Roman Catholic priest, and the Rev. Ronald Hallett, Episcopalian minister, will be the other two members of the discussion group.

Members of the Interfaith Council sponsoring the discussion, include the Lutheran Students Association, Canterbury Foundation, Newman Foundation, Gamma Delta, Wesley Foundation, Student Christian Foundation and the Baptist Student Union.

The Rev. Mr. Monte said the discussion is open to the public and that there will be a coffee hour after the meeting.

Record to Address Professors' Group

Wilson Record, professor of sociology, will speak at the first 1964-65 meeting of the SIU chapter of the American Association of University Professors at 6:15 p.m. Monday at the Student Christian Foundation.

Milton T. Edelman, professor of economics and president of the chapter, said the program will feature a dinner followed by Record's talk and discussion. Those who cannot attend the dinner are invited to the program, to begin at 7 p.m.

Falcon Wing Sets Rush

Discussion Forum On Wesley Agenda

"The Church in the World" will be discussed at this week's Wesley Foundation Sunday Supper Forum.

The discussion topic is the theme of the Eighth Quadrennial Conference of the Methodist Student Movement. The conference is scheduled from Dec. 27 to Jan. 2 in the Lincoln (Neb.) Municipal Auditorium.

After the forum discussion, a panel composed of Kay Prickett, Vince Tranquilli, and Minnie Jean Brown, will relate their experiences while working in Mississippi as a part of the Student Non-violent Freedom Committee.

The Sunday dinner will start at 6 p.m. and is open to the public.

Khrushchev the Spectacular Kept West Guessing

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON -- "I'm not afraid of the devil," Premier Khrushchev said in 1959, trying to squelch an American labor leader. "And you're a man." This was more than a retort.

Khrushchev was expressing his attitude toward the world, as he showed many times. But it wasn't always true. He had been Joseph Stalin's passive vassal until the old tyrant died in 1953.

Then Khrushchev became the Russian boss and his own man. He asserted himself in a four-hour speech denouncing Stalin as a murderer, monster and mental case. He repudiated the "cult of the individual" and one-man rule.

With this speech Khrushchev began the liberalization of Russia. He led it out of the dark ages. The power of the secret police was diminished. The Russian people had a new sense of life.

And later, when he preached "peaceful co-existence" with the capitalist world, the West, while remaining suspicious, sighed with relief. But with the speech and the new policy the Communist world became unstruck.

Everywhere Communist parties had to ask themselves: How could they explain, in view of the revelations about Stalin, their own long subservience to Russia's wants and wishes and the myth of Soviet infallibility?

Around the world Communist parties for the first time began to show some independence of Russia. Eventually the two giant neighbors, Red China and Russia, not only split but appear to be in deadly rivalry.

Perhaps all this means the triumph of nationalism over communism, as might have been predicted. But to Chinese protests that war and revolution are steps forward, Khrushchev asked: "Forward to what? The grave?"

He said "prosperity is the only thing worth fighting for." He ridiculed the Chinese, saying they preferred "revolution" to "goulash." Unless the splits are healed and unity restored world communism may disintegrate.

Now, after 10 years in Stalin's seat, Khrushchev has been retired. Moscow announced it Thursday night. The reason given was poor health and age. Khrushchev is 70.

But Moscow said his policies of destalinization and economic improvement would be continued under the new leadership. In 1964 Khrushchev launched a 20-year Russian development program unmatched in scope since Lenin's in 1919.

Khrushchev's two top proteges take over: Leonid Brezhnev, 57, as Communist party secretary, and

Sanders, Kansas City Star

'SORRY! I DIDN'T AGREE WITH THE SERMON!'

Alexei Kosygin, 60, as Premier. Perhaps the Moscow statement and these two appointments truly mean continuity.

But at this moment in history there is only one honest thing that any interpreter of events can say about the meaning of this end to Khrushchev's career: "I don't know."

President Johnson Thursday night admitted he didn't know. He said the change might or might not be a sign of big turmoil or changes to come. He said the American people would remain steadfast.

One thing is certain: Relations between the United States and Russia under Khrushchev are far better than they ever were under Stalin, although both countries distrust each other so much they never stop arming.

This is also certain: Khrushchev was one of the most colorful and spectacular leaders in the history of the world. And he was unpredictable. He could laugh, joke, revile, denounce, boost and belittle.

He is an atheist but he was forever talking about swearing on the Bible and invoking the name of the Lord. And he was loaded with contradictions.

He said he would welcome Americans to the moon, but he wouldn't accept U.S. disarmament inspectors inside Russia. He talked of freedom in Russia but for years wouldn't let Russians hear American broadcasts because, he said, he wanted to protect them from propaganda.

Hardly anybody was safe from his tongue. He called former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy in the 1960 campaign the "lackeys of capitalism."

He dismissed President Eisenhower as "weak-kneed" and fit only to run a "children's home." He suggested West German Chancellor Adenauer was a "nut."

'IF IT'S A STATE SECRET, HOW COME THEY MADE IT PUBLIC?'

Pollsters, Now Wary, Help Politicians Gauge Public Pulse

By Jack Harrison

"The polls" have been widely quoted and much-maligned in this 1964 political campaign.

And often they seem to be misunderstood. Some persons forget that, as George Gallup has said, the pollsters are "scorekeepers and not prophets."

Campaign orators have vowed defiantly to "prove the polls are wrong." But what they really want to prove is that they can change the public attitudes that the polls measure.

Polls definitely are an indication of how a candidate stands and how his campaign is progressing.

The latest Gallup poll, made public this week, shows President Lyndon Johnson with a comfortable lead over his opponent, Sen. Barry Goldwater. But the latest poll by Lou Harris shows the lead trimmed just a little.

Gallup reported that 62 per cent of the voters nationwide favor Johnson, 32 per cent favor Goldwater and 6 per cent are undecided. Harris said that 58 per cent like Johnson, 34 per cent are for Goldwater and 8 per cent are undecided.

Both polls, however, showed that Goldwater had gained some ground in the last month. Gallup said Johnson lost three percentage points and Goldwater gained three since mid-September. Harris said Goldwater's percentage is up just two points since mid-September.

There is no argument, however, with the fact that Johnson's margin since the conventions is unprecedented. Gallup says Johnson is further ahead than any presidential candidate has been in the 29 years of the Gallup Poll.

Goldwater said Monday in Phoenix that his polls showed he had at least 40 per cent of the voters in every state and was closing the gap.

The Republican candidate also said his figures show he is winning back the dissident GOP voters at a rate of 6 to 8 per cent a week. Harris, however, disputes this and says that stray Republicans have been returning to the Goldwater fold at a rate of 5 per cent in two weeks.

To mention just one of many nationwide appraisals of candidate strength, the Christian Science Monitor reports that Johnson is leading in 31 states and the District of Columbia, with a total of 374 electoral votes (270 are needed to win). Goldwater leads in 9 states with 63 electoral votes, and it's too close to tell in states totaling 101 electoral votes. This same survey reported Goldwater with 110 potential electoral votes in early September.

The Monitor used local polls and several other factors in its analysis.

In one key state, California, Johnson's lead according to two separate polling organizations, is quite similar to his lead nationwide.

Marvin D. Feid' California Poll reported Wednesday that Johnson now has 58 per cent of the potential vote, Goldwater has 32 per cent and 10 per cent are undecided.

Hal Dunleavy and Associates said the count now stands 59.2 per cent for Johnson, 33.6 per cent for Goldwater and 7.2 per cent undecided.

The Democrats are cautioning one another about overconfidence. And the Republicans are asserting that much of the Johnson support is lukewarm and subject to change.

Both camps often bring up the name of Tom Dewey, who, despite good news from the pollsters and an election-night headline in the World's Greatest Newspaper, never was elected President of the United States.

The polls are much improved since that 1948 forecasting fiasco. Nowadays they don't stop polling until three days before the election, and they take a closer look at the undecided vote.

Within their natural limitations, the polls are an accurate and helpful addition to American political campaigns.

New British Leader Filling Cabinet Posts

LONDON--Prime Minister Harold Wilson has named Patrick Gordon Walker as Britain's new foreign secretary in one of the first official acts after the Labor victory.

The appointment was made despite Walker's failure to win a House of Commons seat in the election.

Wilson also named deputy party leader George Brown first secretary of state and minister for economic affairs.

Cole Porter Dies; Noted Composer

SANTA MONICA, Calif. -- Cole Porter, one of the 20th Century's great composers and lyricists, died Thursday night at a Santa Monica hospital where he underwent kidney surgery Oct. 13. He was 71.

Doctors said Porter "simply stopped breathing." They did not give an official cause of death but said Porter's general physical condition even before he was admitted to the hospital Sept. 22 for a routine checkup was poor.

Porter was the author of song hits such as "Night and Day," stage musicals including "Kiss Me Kate," and did the music and lyrics for such films as "High Society."

He will act as prime minister when Wilson is abroad and has the rank of No. 2 man in the administration.

James Callaghan becomes chancellor of the exchequer. The Labor Party ended 13 years of Conservative rule this week by winning control of the House of Commons--but by a slim margin which can mean trouble ahead.

Wilson, who wants to abolish Britain's independent nuclear deterrent, led his party to victory and becomes prime minister. At 48, he is the youngest one in the 20th century.

The Queen accepted the resignation of Douglas-Home--a former nobleman defeated in his first electoral battle as the Conservatives' leader, though he retained his own seat.

New Russian Leaders Pledge Not to Shift Back to Stalinism

MOSCOW--With Nikita Khrushchev toppled from power and pushed into obscurity, the new leaders of the Soviet Union sought Friday to reassure the people that de-Stalinization and economic improvements will continue.

This was the first policy indication given by Leonid I. Brezhnev, the beefy, brooding protégé of Khrushchev who emerged from a secret Communist party meeting as the party's first secretary--the top job. It was contained in a statement in the party paper Pravda.

Alexei N. Kosygin, a weary looking administrator, became premier in changes announced early Friday.

A number of Khrushchev aides were reported by reliable informants to have lost their jobs also. Most prominently named in these unconfirmed reports was his son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubel, editor of the government paper Izvestia. Pavel Satyukov, editor of Pravda, also was reported to have quit.

The mystery long associated with the Redbrick walls of the Kremlin was wrapped about the Khrushchev departure. There was no explanation to the 227 million Russian people of what had become of the man who led them for almost a decade, or why he had been dropped by the wayside.

The Soviet Communist party newspaper, Pravda, published a front-page statement that the party "firmly and consistently carries into life the Leninist general line worked out at the 20th and 22nd congresses of the party."

Khrushchev delivered his famous speech against Stalinism at the 20th congress in 1956. The 22nd congress five years later set long-term goals of improved economic conditions and the attainment of communism. Any attempt to drop these policies would probably meet strong popular resistance, many diplomats in Moscow believe.

The rest of the world waited to find out how the change-over would affect the Soviet Union's foreign policy.

There was general belief that Khrushchev's departure would open the way to at least a measure of reconciliation between the Soviet Union and Red China.

But any reconciliation with Peking could also require a common policy toward the West. This would probably mean an end to Khrushchev's era of peaceful coexistence.

FOLK SONG SEMINAR

Many of the reasons for Odetta's acclaim by knowledgeable folk music fans are evident in her latest Dynagroove album. Here--in a cross-section of 12 great folk songs--her pure voice and emotional power extract the essential meaning of such ballads as "Troubled" and "Wayfarin' Stranger" as well as the humorous flavor of "Froggy Went A-Courtin'" and "Sea Lion Woman." If you could own the albums of just one folk singer, Odetta is the one you should choose.

WSIU-TV Plans To Film Parade

WSIU-TV will videotape the SIU Homecoming Parade for broadcast at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 2. A videotape of the Homecoming Football Game will follow the parade broadcast.

Dan Niemeyer, TV director in charge of the parade telecast, said a crew of 16 persons will work on the Homecoming program.

Richard Qualls and Alice Schwartz will announce the hour long show. All but one of the TV crew worked on last year's broadcast.

Three TV cameras will be used to televise the parade as it passes the judges reviewing stand on University Avenue between the Home Economics Building and Woody Hall.

This will be the third year that WSIU-TV has televised the Homecoming Parade.

NEW BIKE PARKING LOT

Areas Restricted

New Parking Lot for Cycles Opens Northwest of Stadium

New parking facilities for motorized cycles are now open on the old tennis courts northwest of McAndrew Stadium.

Parking for motorized cycles also has been newly provided at the northwest side of the SIU Arena and at the southeast end of the Wham Education Building parking lot.

The Parking Section said that with completion of the new facilities motorized cycles will no longer be allowed to park in the Old Main area or in the circle to the northeast of the University Center. They are expected to park only in areas provided.

Lines marking spaces have not yet been painted on the tennis court lot, but that will be done in the near future. Until then, the Parking Section said, it hopes drivers will park their cycles in an orderly manner so as not to create bottlenecks in the area.

The Parking Section also reminded cycle drivers that they are expected to obey motor vehicle traffic laws. A spokesman said the office would soon announce plans for registration of motorized cycles.

Ailing but Eager Salukis Face Drake Today

All-Out Effort Essential For Victory, Coaches Say

SIU's limping but eager football team is going into this afternoon's contest with Drake University at Des Moines, with two objectives in mind--(1) end a humiliating scoring drought and (2) stop a spunky Bulldog squad which owns a 2-0 edge in its grid series with Southern.

The third meeting between the Iowans and the Salukis will start at 2:30 p.m., Carbondale time, and will be heard on WSIU-FM radio.

Since stopping a stubborn Louisville University squad here three weeks ago, Coach Don Shroyer's Salukis have seen their football fortunes sag considerably. Their current two-game losing streak began with a 63-7 deficit to powerful Tulsa and was aided by a surprising 16-9 setback at the hands of Ft. Campbell here last Saturday.

But the Salukis aren't the only ones with the problem of winning a football game. Drake, as does SIU, owns a klackuster 1-3 record for the current campaign and Bulldog Coach Bus Mertes considers today's game with the Salukis a key one if his veteran squad is to make a respectable showing this season.

While spirit is running high among the SIU players, Southern's coaching staff feels that it will take an all-out effort on the part of the Salukis if they expect to pull an upset on the favored Bulldogs. For one thing, Southern's pass-defense has been sub par all season. The Salukis young pass defense already has allowed more than 800 yards passing in four games, and is expected to face another aerial bombardment in Des Moines. Playing feature roles in the Bulldogs' offensive attack is a crafty, passing quarterback (senior Gil McNeish) and Steve Valasek, the best pass-catching end in the school's history.

Another problem dogging the Salukis is their inability to move the ball effectively--particularly through the air. SIU signal caller, Jim Hart, who set a number of SIU passing records in 1963 when he completed 72 of 152 for 1041 yards and 14 touchdowns, has been less than impressive this season. For the first four games this year, the Morton Grove junior--considered the key man in Southern's pro-type offense--has completed only 36 of 93 passing attempts for 435 yards and three touchdowns. In addition, Hart has had 12 of his aeriels intercepted by enemy defenders.

Also hampering the Salukis efforts to produce a victory is a number of key injuries which have further reduced the manpower of an already small squad. The recent injuries sustained by leading Saluki pass receiver Tom Massey, running back Charlie Warren and center and co-captain Gene Miller are expected to put more strain on the sputtering Southern offensive attack which is averaging only a little better than eight points per game.

Keane and Berra To Be Replaced

Neither Johnny Keane nor Yogi Berra will continue as manager of the baseball teams they led into the World Series, it was announced Friday.

St. Louis Cardinal manager Keane has resigned, in a letter to Card President August Busch. In the letter, dated Sept. 28, Keane wrote that he has "enjoyed working for" Busch and the Cardinals, wished them both continued success, but failed to cite a reason for the resignation. Berra's relief as New York manager was announced at a press conference. The announcement said Berra has been given a two-year contract in the Yankee organization as a special field consultant under Ralph Houk, general manager of the club.

No successor to Keane or Berra was announced.

Woman Bowlers Elect Dragosh

The Women's Faculty-Staff Bowling League has elected Faye Dragosh, lecturer in mathematics, president of the league and Minnie Villani secretary-treasurer.

The group also decided to open their season Oct. 20, with a six team circuit. All matches are to consist of three games and are to be conducted on an 80 per cent handicap.

Henry Villani, manager of the group, said that there are still a few individual openings. Anyone interested should contact the University Lanes, 3-2803.

SIU Turns Down

Track Meet Offer

Saluki cross-country coach, Lew Hartzog, has withdrawn Southern from the Notre Dame Invitational meet which is scheduled for this weekend. According to Hartzog, the main reason for withdrawing were the illness of Bill Cornell, twice an All-America runner, and unexpected transportation difficulties.

Southern is still slated to compete in the Central Collegiate Championship at Chicago on Nov. 13 and the National Collegiate Championship at East Lansing on Nov. 23.

Salukis Underdogs

Memphis Menaces Frosh Victory Streak

Southern's freshman football team will be the underdogs for the first time in two years Monday afternoon when Memphis State calls at McAndrew Stadium at 3 p.m.

Coach Frank Sovich has never lost a ball game at the helm of Southern's freshmen, but on the other hand, the young Salukis have never beaten the Tigers.

Sovich's teams have won six straight (two this year) over a two year period. Memphis State was the last team to beat the Salukis. That was in 1962 when the Tigers bombed SIU 41-6. In 1961, Southern lost to the Tigers 9-6 on a last minute field goal.

Sovich is concerned about a few things--mainly his injured halfback and leading ground-gainer, Duane Brooks, and Memphis' massive line. Brooks, who has gained 161 yards on the ground in 22 carries, injured an ankle early in the Washington game last week and sat out practice all week. Sovich thinks Brooks may be ready, but if not, Arnold Kee is slated to start at halfback.

Memphis' line is something to think about too. The Tiger's forward wall is led by 252-pound tackle Barry Williams. He'll have plenty of support from at least five other linemen ranging from 230 to 259 pounds.

Sovich may not have Brooks in the lineup but he too has a massive forward wall. He praised 236-pound Al Jenkins and 255-pound Jim Krolak for their fine defensive line work against Washington University in the overwhelming 49-12 win. Sovich also singled out Barry Brown from Carbondale for his defensive backfield.

Memphis State, who has lost the only game it has played this year--to LSU 29-17--is led by Bob Baxter at halfback and Herb Covington, a 207-pound fullback. Memphis was leading LSU with three minutes to go in last week's game, when LSU broke it wide open.

The Tigers aren't a passing team. Quarterback Dave Cox completed only two out of 10 passes against LSU.

Students will be admitted with an activity card. Admission is $1 for all others.

Nov. 2 Is Cutoff For NSF Grants

Graduates and seniors applying for National Science Foundation graduate fellowships are reminded that NSF applications are to be turned into the Graduate School office no later than Nov. 2, according to David Kenney, acting dean.

Kenney said that because of the application length and the time required to fill it out, students should try to get the applications in as soon as possible.

COMPANY FOR THE CANNON - Students accustomed to seeing several new coats of paint on the Old Main cannon got a real surprise Friday. A small spruce tree suddenly sprang up there. A University spokesman said no decision has been made yet whether to move it or just let it grow. (Photo by Scott Kane)

Making of Cages To Be Celebrated

A dinner to commemorate the one-millionth disposable animal cage to be manufactured by Lab-Line Instruments, Inc. will be held Oct. 29 at SIU.

The disposable cage was invented at SIU. It was turned over to the SIU Foundation, which patented it and sold it to Lab-Line Instruments.

At the dinner President Delyte W. Morris will be presented with a gold cage and a plaque in appreciation for his support in the development of the cage.
