Suspension Rules Will Include Overall Averages

Scholastic standards placed in effect fall quarter will be applied to determine whether undergraduate students will be placed on scholastic suspension at the end of spring quarter, according to Robert A. McGrath, registrar.

There will now be two methods of determining whether a student will be placed on scholastic suspension.

The first will be the usual method of suspending a student on scholastic probation for two quarters (until winter term, 1967) if his average is below 3.00 for the spring quarter.

These students should not seek readmission for summer or fall quarters of 1966. If they seek reinstatement for some future quarter, they should apply at the Admissions Office. The final admissions decision will be made by the deans of their academic units.

The second method, being used for the first time, requires students to have earned certain overall grade point averages by the end of the quarter.

Students with between 48 and 96 calculated hours must have a 2.400 overall; students with between 96 and 120 hours must have a 2.700 overall; students with between 120 and 144 hours must have a 2.800 overall;

Students with between 144 and 160 hours must have a 2.900 overall; and students with over 160 hours must have a 2.950 overall.

If a student does not meet these average requirements, he will be suspended and not reinstated until winter of 1967. He must also be able to present tangible evidence that additional education can be successfully undertaken.

Students suspended because of failure to meet both requirements will not be eligible for reinstatement until winter of 1967.

The average requirements apply to the records of transfer students both at this University and at universities he previously attended. For example, a student with 150 calculated hours will be suspended if he does not have an overall average of 2.900 or if he does not have an average of 2.900 for work done at Southern.

Fishel Talk Gives Viet Nam Insight

Voting League Head Praises City Decision

Citizens of Carbondale made "a very wise decision" in voting in favor of changing to the city manager form of government, Mrs. Randall H. Nelson said Wednesday.

Mrs. Nelson, president of the League of Women Voters, and her organization played a major role in promoting the city manager plan before Tuesday's special election.

The vote was 1,901 in favor of changing to the city manager form of government to 943 against. This was the second time citizens of Carbondale voted on the plan. In 1951 it was defeated by a few votes.

Mrs. Nelson said the city manager plan should be "an effective way" of meeting many of the problems Carbondale will encounter as it continues to grow.

Among the problems that might be solved under the guidance of a trained city manager are traffic, planning, water distribution and sewage disposal, she said.

According to Mrs. Nelson the next step will be advertising for and selecting a qualified city manager to fill the position.

An ordinance will have to be drafted and passed specifying the qualifications and duties of the manager beyond those listed in the state statutes, Mrs. Nelson said.

In any case, she added, the organization will continue to observe the issue and assist in any way it can.

Obelisks Expected To Arrive Today, Go on Sale at 10

The 1966 Obelisks are expected to arrive today and will be on sale beginning at 10 a.m. at Building H-2, northwest of the Agriculture Building.

Students must present identification cards and receipts of payment. If a student does not have his receipt, he may sign the receipt copy at the Obelisk office to get his yearbook.

If a student wants to pick up a yearbook for someone else, he must present his identification card and sign the office's receipt.

INFORMAL CHAT—Wesley R. Fishel, professor of political science at Michigan State University, chatted informally with students and faculty members Wednesday before speaking at a seminar in the Morris Library Auditorium. He spoke on Viet Nam later in French Auditorium.

Involving $12,500,000

Revenue Bond Dispute Between University, Illinois State Treasurer Solved Wednesday

A dispute between SIU and State Treasurer William J. Scott, involving more than $12,500,000 worth of revenue bonds, was resolved Wednesday.

John S. Rendleman, vice president for business affairs, said the dispute arose because Scott "wanted the money from the bonds deposited in his account. We couldn't do that."

Scott had refused to sign the bonds, which were sold to get money for the construction of new University housing facilities, until the University guaranteed him some "safeguards to protect myself."

The University contended, with the backing of Chapman & Cutler, bond consultants in Chicago, that it has the right to regulate and invest the money the way it wants. Rendleman also said that legally, SIU could not leave the money in Scott's account as he wanted.

The problem was resolved Wednesday when the University agreed to "give him (Scott) a receipt for the bonds and to indicate where and how the money would be invested," Rendleman said.

Scott had said earlier that he would not sign the bonds unless the University would give him a copy of the receipt for the money.

Scott has not yet signed the bonds, but he was expected to do so without any further delay, the vice president said.

The bonds, which were sold last month, were approved by the SIU Board of Trustees in 1962. They will eventually be retired by the rentals students will pay to live in the dormitories the bonds will finance.

It was reported that the dispute stemmed in part from bitterness left over from a 1965 legislative fight between Scott and both SIU and the University of Illinois.

A bill that would have made Scott the treasurer for both SIU and the University of Illinois was sponsored by him in the legislature. The bill was defeated, and both schools now employ their own treasurers.

Northern, Eastern, Western and Illinois State Universities have agreed to Scott's plan for safeguards over the revenue bonds.

U.S. Adopted 'No Policy' Policy

The reason we are in Viet Nam is because "We failed to make a decision not to be there."

This is the opinion of Wesley R. Fishel, who said that our reluctance in 1954 to form an affirmative policy in Viet Nam has led to the state of affairs as they now exist.

Fishel, professor of political science at Michigan State University, should know. In 1954 he assisted South Viet Nam President Ngo Dinh Diem in the reorganization of the country's government. He is a noted author, lecturer and adviser on Viet Nam.

Fishel traced the involvement of the United States in Viet Nam since 1954 in a speech Wednesday night sponsored by the International Relations Club.

He described the formation of the Diem government in 1954 and how that government, by 1955, had become known as the "Miracle of Viet Nam" because of the tremendous strides that it had made. Fishel said that "the miracle man of this government was Diem."

By 1956 the United States had still formed no policy. In 1957 and 1958 the progress slowed. At this time the Communist began their activities.

Fishel said that the United States did not expect this type of war. The Vietnamese told us that this would "be different from Korea." But we did not act on their advice, he said.

In 1960 there was an attempted coup on the Diem regime.

Student Does a Good Deed, Returns Lost Wallet, Money

The Office of Student General Affairs reported that a student's wallet containing $46 was returned to the Security Office after being lost by a senior from Decatur.

According to Irving W. Adams, assistant dean of student general affairs, his office has to report so much news about students in trouble that it is a pleasure to be able to report something of this nature.

Sometimes, Adams noted, news accounts leave an impression that students must never do anything good. This is definitely not the case and the returned wallet is merely one example, he said.

The student returning the wallet did not leave his name so the owner could reward him. This was the second time that the Decatur Senior had lost his wallet. In the first instance, the wallet was also returned with the money still in it.

Reprimand Given Student Assessed Fines on Charges

Terry E. Thomas, a student from Urbana, has been reprimanded by University officials after being found guilty in Jackson County Circuit Court on charges of illegal transportation of liquor and resisting a police officer.

An additional charge of public intoxication was dismissed by Judge Robert Schwartz. Thomas was fined $10 on each of the other two charges.

The police report states that the Carbondale City Police Department received a request for assistance April 29 at a tavern.

When police arrived, the owner said Thomas was heading south on the Illinois Central tracks.

Thomas allegedly ran when police fired warning shots into the air.

Bracelet Migrates: Owner May Claim

A gold charm bracelet that was obviously lost by an SIU student has been found.

To claim the bracelet, the owner should write a note of description to Angela Bond, 706 East 39th St., Chicago.

'Depressed' Man Put on Probation

A student from Broadview has been placed on disciplinary probation after he was apprehended with a bottle of whiskey in his pocket. Authorities said it was taken without payment, from a Carbondale package liquor store.

The student said another student had slipped the bottle into his pocket. He said he was aware of the student's action but allegedly didn't care because he was depressed.

The student was not formally charged.

Rev. Robert C. Fuson Jr. Assumes Duties As Director of SIU's Baptist Student Center

The Rev. Robert C. Fuson Jr. has assumed duties as director and business administrator of the Baptist Student Center.

He was named to the post last week by the board of directors of the Illinois Baptist State Association.

The initial major responsibility of the new administrator will be to direct construction of a new $885,000 student center complex adjacent to the SIU campus. The construction work is scheduled to start on June 1 and is expected to be completed by the fall of 1967.

In addition he will serve as business manager of the dormitory and cafeteria operations of the center. He will succeed the Rev. Haral A. Hall in these later responsibilities upon the Rev. Mr. Hall's retirement in August.

The new student center director was graduated from SIU in 1950 with a bachelor's degree in liberal arts. He was educated in the public schools at Casey, Ill., and is a graduate of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky.

He served in World War II and in the Korean War as a captain in the field artillery and was on both war fronts.

His pastorates in Illinois include the Omstead Baptist Church, the Big Ridge Baptist Church, the Ellis Grove Baptist Church and since 1958 the Third Baptist Church in Marion. The Marion church has just completed a new $90,000 educational plant.

Beside his responsibilities as pastor, the Rev. Mr. Fuson has served two terms as a member of the board of directors of the Illinois Baptist State Association and was for several years secretary of the board and its executive committee.

Mr. Fuson is from a prominent Baptist family in Illinois. His grandfather, W.A. Fuson, was one of the founders of the state association in 1907. His father, R.C. Fuson and his brother, William B. Fuson, are pastors in Centralia. A nephew, Ted, is a student at Southern Seminary.

'Boozing' Permits For SIU Students?

A person at age 21 or over is recognized by the State of Illinois as being mature enough to purchase, store and consume alcoholic beverages.

However, the state law or the Bill of Rights doesn't apply to persons of legal age living in recognized University housing, either on campus or off.

The University extends a good deal of its regulatory power over the students through a court-recognized process known as "in loco parentis."

This basically gives the University the permission to act as the parent for its students while they are away from home.

But should this power restrict activities that a student exercises when he is at home with his parents?

Reapportionment

HONOLULU — Reapportionment of the state Senate is expected to cause a realignment of the political power structures of Hawaii after the November elections.

The reapportionment plan accepted by the U.S. Supreme Court will give the island of Oahu 19 senators out of 25 instead of the 10 it formerly had. This will mean that for the first time urban Oahu will have more representatives in both houses of Legislature than the rural Neighbor Islands.

Berkeley Headed Down 'Red' Trail

By Jenkin Lloyd Jones
(General Features Corp.)

When California's State Senate committee on un-American activities issued a report blasting University of California President Clark Kerr for the wild happenings on the Berkeley campus, Kerr and his supporters naturally replied with cries of outraged indignation.

In a general comment on the moral climate of U. of C. Berkeley, the senators charged "disgusting, debased spectacles" on the campus, that a theatrical performance banned in San Francisco was invited to Berkeley, and that a Viet Nam Day committee dance featured nude photos, marijuana and "blatant sexual misconduct."

To all this, President Kerr has charged "distortions, half-truths and inaccuracies." He challenged the committee to name the Communists on the faculty. Kerr said the university is "by its nature dedicated to freedom in a free society. It can become, consequently, an arena for dissent." He said he supports dissent as necessary for progress.

The best that can be said for Kerr is that he is a naive man. He is not dealing with Antivivisectionists or One Worlders or dedicated pacifists. He is dealing with a cynical international conspiracy that has a formula, tried successfully in many countries, for twisting a university out of shape and using the distorted remains for its own purposes.

The process is well under way at Berkeley. Until and unless President Kerr learns a few facts of life in Many students who are age 21 and over drink when they are at home, both in public bars and in the sanctuary of their homes, where they are observed by their parents.

If the students' parents let them drink at home, and they are of the legal age, the University should allow those individuals to drink in their rooms in University housing. "In loco parentis" shouldn't allow the University to draw up regulations for students that the students don't have from their real parents.

It would be a simple matter for a student over 21 to place a letter on file with the University, from his parents, giving the University permission to let the student drink.

The problem of student drinking would not be any greater than it is now.

Resident fellows, judicial boards and school administrators could punish those students drinking under age, those purchasing liquor for underage students, or generally rowdy students. This is part of their present function, and no new system would need to be established to cope with whatever problems would arise.

In fact, students drinking in their own quarters will probably be less inclined, or have less opportunity, to get into trouble like they can in public.

Frank Messersmith

the modern world the citizens of California can only withdraw their children from Berkeley, which they have been doing in large numbers. But it takes quite a bit of guts to demand that the taxpayers continue to support a university which, in its central plaza, is host to something called "The Sexual Freedom League" and signature-seekers for petitions to legalize marijuana.

Naivete and gullibility can be just as disastrous in a college president as in a bank president or a combat general.

There will always be gray areas in the puzzle of academic freedom over which there can be honest dispute. But when a college administration advocates its authority within its own grounds to beatniks, professional revolutionaries and pot-smokers, what is it protecting?

Hardly "freedom in a free society" unless by "freedom" you mean contrived chaos by the few.

Honorary List Should Show High Standard

Speaking of the absence of "big names" from this year's list of Oberlin College honorary degree candidates, the Oberlin Review said:

"If, as Aristotle wrote, man lives for honor, it does not have to be the front-page celebrity who is repeatedly honored by the nation's colleges, universities and professional organizations. It is indeed questionable what 'just another degree' means to someone like Rusk, King or President Johnson, and it is also questionable how much prestige the college can gain through the small burst of publicity which these people bring with them.

"The college has made the right decision this time in realizing that there are obviously many less publicized persons whose accomplishments and contributions deserve the kind of honor which Oberlin can confer with an honorary degree."

We share the Review's pleasure that the Oberlin honorary degree roster for this June contains no names instantly recognized by everyone, but we do not share the cynicism implied in the reference that the college might wish to gain prestige through the publicity that attends honoring a famous person.

We prefer to believe that Oberlin College, when it tags a King or a Rusk, does so in spite of the likelihood that cynics will question its motives. Steering away from the famous to appease cynics would be as silly as picking the famous for their publicity value.

Likewise, it would be nonsense to ignore people of achievement who have incidentally contributed substantial sums of money to the college just because some critic might contend that the size of the contribution was the sole determinant—in other words, that the degree was bought and paid for.

Selection of honorary degree candidates should be made solely on the basis of how consistent an individual's achievement is with the standards of Oberlin College. Such a criterion makes room for the famous and the less-well-known, the rich and the less-than-rich.

Oberlin College's reputation is such that it need not worry about standing or falling on its choice of honorary degree recipients. And it is, after all, the college which honors the recipient, rather than the reverse. We are confident the college recognizes this; we hope its detractors will recognize it too.

Situation Normal, Draft Goofs

When hundreds of Michigan students were told to report to such remote places as Massachusetts and Mississippi to take draft deferment tests, officials quickly offered a couple of possible explanations.

It could have been because some computer went awry, they said stiffly. Or it might have been because the students themselves submitted erroneous zip code numbers.

Well, computers have become popular in recent years and zip codes are new things, too, and the explanation of the officials may be correct. But who among the nation's many veterans will ever believe it?

There's another explanation, old as the nation's armed services and the only difference is it may apply to these students before they've even been sworn in.

Situation normal, all fouled up!

Southawner Drummin' Up White Rights Soo-pawt

By Rick Friedman

Watts and I were sitting in a Second Avenue bar the other day, discussing the President's new Civil Rights Bill when this beefy-faced guy on the other side of Watts spoke up.

"Am up heah drummin' up soo-pawt o' that tha bill," he told us. "In fac, ah'm tryin' my middle-daddist t' get moah teeth int' that l'il o' bill."

"Hey," Watts interrupted. "Don't we know you from somewhere?" Watts and I were both trying to think where we saw the man, his white Stetson hat, his beefy face, his scowl before. "Hey," Watts shouted again. "You're that Southern sheriff who back a couple of years ago..."

"Ah puts down mah pool cue and rowns up all th' other depatees 'n we go off t' arress th' Nigras. We gets 20 o' 'em prayin' from o' th' city hall. We picks 'em up n' th's 'em in jail fo' obstrictin th' work-in's o' th' city gummint."

"Den we fines 'em prayin' in fron' o' th' post office. Dat's a fed'ral o'-fense, boy, so we arress's thuty mo'. Den we gets mo' prayin' fron' o' th' Fust Bap's Church n' we gets 18 mo' foah obstrictin' freedom o' reeligion."

"Dat's th' way it goes all day, boy. Jes' keeps pickin' 'em up and tossin' 'em in jail. Been sheriff o' mah li'l ole peaceful town 22 yehs n' ah nevah saw nuthin' t' match it. Use t' be wee'd jes kinda pick 'em up e' string 'em up. Now, dat's against th' law. All we kin do is pick 'em up and lock 'em up. So don't you Noawthern boys go tellin' us day ain't gettin' equality under th' law!"

"Well, anyways, we mus'a lock up mo'n a hunnert o' dem Communis-inspiad' Nigras dat black day. We even had t' let some o' th' white prisonahs out. Them white prisonahs naterchly refuse t' inagrate with th' Nigra ones. Im-agin, boy, them Nigras fo'cin' us t' free a white murder—ah, two white bank robbah an' a white rapist juz so we'all kin arres' em!"

"Bus ah figuah th' problem solved an' next day ah'm shootin' some Kelly pool when mah fool of a depatee comes stormin' in again, shoutin', 'Sheriff, th' Nigras is comin', the Nigras is comin' agin!'"

"Boy, dat secon' day, them there Nigras is everywhar. In fron' o' th' all-white hospital, the all-white cemetree, the all-white amusement park, 'n all ova owa all-white sidewalk. We mus arress'd mo'n fo' hunnert o' them that day, boy."

"En seenin' as to how they was no mo' room in th' jail, we had t' lock 'em up in the heahtofoah all-white Li'l League ball pawk. Did you-all up heah in the Noawth know th' Nigras in mah town outnubah us good American white folks 'bout 20 or 30 t' l? Now, ah asks ya, boy, wot' n hell kina equality is that fo' us white folks?"

"Anyways, the thud day, mah fool depatee come in ag'in, shoutin' his foot cottin' pickin', 'The Nigras is comin', the Nigras is comin'!' Ah smash him with a pool cue but shaw 'nough thay they was, in fron' o' th' all-white junkyard, the all-white minacher gulf caws n' in fron' o' th' all-white pupil drivin' school. 'I arress mo' Nigras and they fill up th' all-white Li'l League ball park n' spill ova' int' th' all-white school audeetorium whar we had to clear out an all-white revival meetin'."

"But it seem as soon's we arress one batch o' Nigra demonstratahs, another batch of Nigra demonstratahs pops up n' stawts demonstratin' somewhere else t' get th' fust batch outa jail. We is rapidly runnin' outa room n' it's the severest tes' o' mah long, hon't'bul careeah as town sheriff."

"So ah has to cleah out th' all-white youth centah which is holdin' an all-white checkers tournament. An' in those Red-inspiad Nigras go. But they is still hunnerts mo' waitin' t' get arress'd. Ah has t' call int' service th' all-white emergency amboolance, then th' all-white funeral hearse jus t' haul them there Nigra agitators t' ouah improvised jails."

"It get so bad ah finally had t' cleah out the all-white school, the all-white First Bap's Church, th' all-white gen'ral stoah an' th' all-white pool halls. Still, they ain't enough room t' lock up all them Nigra agitators."

Tom Price, Michigan State News

"Ain't Demahcacy Wunnahful!"

Finally, we had t' e-vacuate owa own purty li'l ole all-white houses n' turn 'em inta jails!"

"When all the demonstratin' is ovah an' all the Nigras in town lock up safe 'n soun' the on'y place left foah us good American white folk t' live is in Nigra Town until they finish their sentences."

"Three weeks latah ah walks back to White Town and tells 'em Nigras us white folks done coemuted their sentences. An dey was free t' go on home. On'y them there crazy Nigras say they don't want to be unarress'd. They want t' finish th' long sentences we handed out t' them under th' law."

"N that's why ah'm heah today in the Noawth, boy. Everyone single of them thah Nigra sentences is been finished foah months. But not a one Nigra will leave White Town! They's discriminatin', boy!"

"Am heah in the Lib'ral Noawth, boy, to get support so ole Elbee Jay knows the Foawteenth A-mendment works both ways. That all us American, white and black, is created equal undah th' law, to let him know that we demand..."

Words Are Misused All Over on Papers

By E.A. Talley

"He wielded a derringier pistol."

A derringier is a pistol, named after its inventor, Henry Deringer, who spelled his name with one r. I suppose it may be enlightening in a newspaper story to say derringier pistol although to me it is something like writing "Sahara desert"—the Sahara is a desert. What I objected to was "wielded" in this sense. He wielded a cutlass or he wielded a broom, but to use this in connection with a pocket pistol is, to me, a misuse of the word.

From the Associated Press: "Ten civil rights demonstrators (at Cordele, Ga.) have been ordered held for grand jury action in connection with desegregation of the United States and Georgia flags during racial demonstrations." This news story was probably telephoned and resulted in a sound-alike error. The word the reporter was reaching for—and missed by the time the story got on the wire—was desecration, not desegregation, although the issue of desegregation was what caused the incident in the first place.

From London: "The theft was committed by thieves who apparently posed as workmen." This is the long way around the barn to say: "The thieves apparently posed as workmen." The terser version phrase "thief committed by thieves"—who else?

From the Little Rock AP: "Trial of the lawsuit which attacks one of the nation's three remaining state laws on teaching evolution..." This comes from the telescoped writing that journalism fosters. It is an example of the misuse of the possessive. The nation has no state laws but three states in the nation do have such laws. The phrase "the nation's" can be taken to mean "of the nation" instead of simply "in the nation."

From almost any press association wire on almost any day: "Sen. Flapdoodle fired a verbal broadside..." This figure of speech stems from the days of sailing vessels and short-range cannon when to bring full fire power to bear, warships came close to each other broadside so that all the cannons on that side could be almost all occasions when someone has more than a single criticism to make of anything he is against, be it as important as whether to admit Red China to the United Nations or as unimportant as federal funds for a bridge over Three-Mile Creek.

E. A. TALLEY

But beyond the extravagant and frequent use of the phrase, there is another objection. That is the use of "verbal" for "oral." Almost any communication contains verbs, some are written, some are oral. What the reporter was trying to communicate was that this was a broadside that Sen. Flapdoodle said rather than wrote, if indeed it was a broadside at all.

A headline in a daily paper conveyed the news that a rhinoceros lost most of his horn in "a fight with his wife." Wire stories refer to a giant panda meeting his bride. Animals mate, they don't marry.

It was such extravagant misuse of the language that probably prompted Dorothy Parker to remark: "Tonstant Weader frowed up."

And further, deponent saith not.

United States Customs Influence Vietnamese

SAIGON—When the Americans leave Viet Nam at some future date, they will leave much behind: airfields, buildings, public works.

But they may be as long remembered for something else they brought here. It was the handshake.

Shaking hands is a custom missing in Vietnamese history. Traditionally, one is greeted by a polite bow and a smile. But no touching hands. In fact, years ago an extended hand was a gesture of disrespect. Today, a pair of clasped hands is as American as the cans of hair spray sold at the local PX. It marks vehicles and packages sent here in the form of foreign aid. And Vietnamese have put their history books away and adopted it as their own form of greeting.

There are other signs that times are changing in this land at war.

Patting a person on the head, for instance, was traditionally abhorred by the Vietnamese. When U.S. servicemen began coming here a few years ago they were startled to find a child draw back in astonishment when they patted him affectionately on the head.

Vietnamese are generally a quiet people. They finally have become accustomed to loud-talking Americans, but it took awhile. A few years ago, an American newspaper correspondent was politely asked to leave Viet Nam because he spoke almost in a shout and this, to the Vietnamese, was considered an insult.

A people who have lived under the influence of as many nations as has Viet Nam are bound to assume many foreign customs, and this is quite apparent here.

They drive by French traffic rules, for instance, and to newly arrived Americans, this can border on the deadly. The basic French rule "Always look to the right."

Therefore, to a motorist putting along a Saigon street, an intersection is considered safe to cross if there is no vehicle visible to the right. He doesn't look to his left, because to any vehicle approaching from that direction, HE is on the right.

The French a la carte has remained, too. In Saigon, a la carte is taken quite literally.

If you order steak, you get only steak. Everything else is extra, and charged additionally. This includes a pat of butter, a piece of bread, and in some restaurants, even dressing for the salad.

There is some social and cultural residue from the days of the World War II Japanese occupation, but it is slight.

The Chinese influence is very prominent, of course, but the Chinese also prefer the bow to the handshake.

But the American invasion here is changing all that.

Language Teachers to Study In Germany for 9 Weeks

Olga Orechwa, graduate assistant in the Department of Foreign Languages, is one of 50 participants in the nine-week National Defense Education Act Institute to be held in Germany this summer.

The purpose of the institute, SIU's first, is to provide proper context for study of German culture, linguistic analysis and for familiarization with modern instructional methods in German, according to Hellmut A. Hartwig, professor of German and director of SIU's NDEA program.

The program is set up for teachers of German in grades 7-12 or for those who intend to become secondary level teachers of German.

Mrs. Orechwa plans to teach German in Anna, Hartwig said.

Of the 50 participants, 16 are from Illinois. Besides Mrs. Orechwa, the only other representative of the Southern Illinois area, will be John Towle, teacher of German at Shawneetown High School and a graduate of SIU.

Barbara Harris, one of five participants from Pennsylvania, is the daughter of Stanley E. Harris Jr., chairman of the Department of Geology at SIU.

Howard P. French, associate professor of German, will take charge of courses involving linguistics, phonetics and tape recorder drill during the institute.

The overseas summer institute will climax seven-week domestic summer institutes held at SIU since 1961.

Participants will leave New York by jet on June 16. Their principal headquarters in Germany will be Wremen, Sprunge and Berlin, Hartwig said.

They will leave Amsterdam, the Netherlands, for New York, Aug. 17.

The NDEA provides $75 a week for each participant and $15 a week for each dependent. Participants must pay for their own travel, books, room and board on the trip.

Two other institutes will be sent to Germany from the United States for the summer. They are from Stanford (Calif.) University, and Lewis and Clark (Ore.) College.

2 on Faculty Named Heads Of Oxford Program in 1967

Two faculty members have been named to head SIU's Oxford Summer Seminar and Travel program in 1967.

They are Lon R. Shelby, assistant professor of history, and Robert P. Griffin, assistant professor of English.

The Oxford program is designed to give students an opportunity to study in Britain and then travel throughout that country and the continent for 10 weeks.

The group will reside at one of the Oxford colleges for four weeks of lectures and discussion which will be the core of the academic program. Six to nine quarter hours of graduate or undergraduate academic credit will be given.

British government, political parties, economy, Commonwealth affairs, foreign relations, social structure, education, literature, art and religion will be the topics of the lectures.

Tours to Stratford-on-Avon, Windsor, Stonehenge and Bath will be held during the four weeks. Most of the required reading may be completed in the months prior to departure.

Departure will be around June 20, 1967 from St. Louis by chartered plane and the group will return Aug. 26.

There will be pre-seminar travel through Scotland and England. The group will visit Edinburgh, the Lake Country, York, Lincoln, Cambridge, Canterbury and London. This will be before arriving in Oxford on July 2.

European guides will accompany the group for four weeks of postseminar travel on the continent. The continental tour will include France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany and Holland. Included in the places that will be visited in Paris are Versailles, Chartres, and the French Riviera.

In Germany the group will visit Freiburg, Heidelberg and the Rhine Valley. Rome, Florence, Venice and Milan will also be visited. The group will stop in Amsterdam, Lucerne and Basel before returning to St. Louis.

The all-inclusive cost is estimated at $1,250 for the Oxford Seminar and travel program. The amount includes air transportation to and from Europe and instruction at Oxford. This also includes admission fees, sightseeing and guide services, tips, room and most meals.

Interested persons should send their summer addresses to Shelby, Division of University Extension, for further information.

Group Picked For Mexican Study Tour

Several SIU students have been chosen to go on an eight week study tour of Mexico, spending most of the time studying at the University of Veracruz in Xalapa, Veracruz, Mexico.

Those selected to go on the trip are Polly Ramsey, Carbondale; Mary Alice Vogel, LaSalle; Carol A. Pollock, East St. Louis; Christine Carpenter, Northbrook; Pat Phillips, Belleville; Virginia Sinkewitz, Belleville; Kathleen M. Kammeler, New Athens; Philip D. Tedrick, Vandalia; R. Kurt Shafer, Chatsworth; Sharon J. Grabert, Mt. Vernon, Indiana; Sally J. Fox, Bloomington; Corinne Lipa, Chicago; Charles L. Gibbs, Canton; Connie Luechtfeld, Marissa; and Herbert A. Crosby, Carbondale.

After spending six weeks studying at Xalapa, the students will take a study tour of Mexico for the remainder of their stay. Places to be visited include Veracruz, Coatzacoalcas, Tehuantepec, Oaxaca, Puebla, Mexico City and Zacatecas.

They will leave by car for Mexico on June 18 and return Aug. 19.

There are still three openings and interested students should contact Reynaldo Ayala at the Latin American Institute, no later than June 1.

Fraternity Marks 61st Anniversary

SIU's Epsilon Kappa chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, national professional business fraternity, held a party Friday night at the University Center to celebrate the 61st anniversary of the fraternity's founding.

Members of the fraternity's pledge class entertained the School of Business faculty, alumni and actives.

SIU's chapter was formed in 1959 and now has more than 50 members. For the past three years it has been rated the outstanding chapter in the Midwest and it was rated No. 1 in the nation in 1964. This rating is done annually by the national headquarters for the fraternity.

Alpha Kappa Psi was chartered in 1905 and now has more than 52,000 members.

Language Classes Open for Children

This summer's foreign language classes for children aged 9 to 12, are still open according to the Department of Foreign Language.

There are a few places available in French and Spanish, and several in German. The classes are scheduled for a half hour each day from June 21 to July 15 without a tuition charge.

Parents wishing to enroll children or wanting further information may call Vera L. Peacock, 3-2811.

Rabies-in-Wildlife Warning Issued by SIU Physician

Dr. Walter H. Clarke, acting director of the Health Service, has warned students to "leave the wild animals on campus alone."

He said a student recently caught a chipmunk and was bitten by the animal. Because the animal died before the end of the normal 10-day observation period, the student had to begin taking the painful anti-rabies vaccine.

Tests of the chipmunk's head indicated that it didn't have rabies so the treatment of the student was discontinued.

Dr. Clarke pointed out that a great many wild animals are carriers of rabies. He added that they may be cute and even friendly but unless they are to be used in some scientific project and the person catching them knows how to handle animals, they should be left alone.

Dates Announced For Deer Hunting

The 1966 deer hunting season will be Nov. 18, 19 and 20 and Dec. 9, 10 and 11.

Eight new counties will be open for deer hunting with shotguns. They are Grundy, Kendall, Christian, Montgomery, Bond, Madison, St. Clair and Wayne.

Dates for the bow season are Oct. 1 to Nov. 15 and Nov. 21 to Dec. 31. Bow hunting will not be permitted from Dec. 6 through Dec. 12.

Applications for bow hunting permits will be accepted after June 1.

New Taxi Fare Zone System Is Explained by Commissioner

Here's how the new zone system for taxi fares in Carbondale works:

The charges for the zones are: One, 50 cents; two, 60 cents; three, 80 cents; four, $1.30; and five, $1.55.

Final Convocation Schedules Choirs, Organist Today

Two University choirs and an organ solo will highlight the year's final Convocation program at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. today in Shryock Auditorium.

The University Choir and the Chamber Choir will sing under the direction of Robert W. Kingsbury, assistant professor of music and director of choirs.

The University Choir will sing "Didn't My Lord Deliver Daniel?", "Witness" and "Ora Pro Nobis."

The Chamber Choir will perform Brahms' "Liebeslieder Waltzes."

Mrs. Agnes L. Barnhart, a music major from DuQuoin, will present the organ solo, Mozart's Fantasia in F Major.

The fare is determined by highest number of the zone to which the cab travels, according to Ron Centanni, city relations commissioner for the Campus Senate.

For example, if a passenger travels from zone one to zone three or from zone three to zone one, the fare will be 80 cents.

If the traveling is done within one zone then the fare will be determined by the fare assigned to that zone. Example, for a trip made in zone five to anywhere else in that zone, the charge will be $1.55.

When traveling in a group each additional passenger will be charged 20 cents.

For instance, if a group leaves the railroad station and goes to the same address, one will be charged the full price and each additional passenger will be charged 20 cents.

The taxicab companies are required to post the new rates and a map of the zones in each cab.

Centanni said that maps have been given to the Campus Senate for distribution.

Ky Is Firmly in Control, U.S. Officials Believe

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. officials expressed belief Wednesday night that, even though dissidence persists at Hue, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military government is again firmly in control.

Security forces scattered hundreds of demonstrators in Saigon and the Buddhist hierarchy bowed to an official ban on a proposed antigovernment "march of peace" in this 11th week of political turbulence.

A U.S. diplomat remarked that "a lot depends on how the government handles liquidation of the revolt." He suggested a military assault, such as that which crushed the Da Nang uprising Monday, would be a mistake at Hue, a Buddhist center 400 miles north of Saigon.

That seemed to be Ky's idea too. The government has announced it will try to end the opposition without bloodshed. As part of an economic freeze, all Air Viet Nam flights to Hue have been stopped. There were reports of a fuel shortage that could affect the Hue electric power plant.

Among events of the day: —About 2,000 Vietnamese marines and paratroops backed Saigon police in breaking up groups of rioters, many led by Buddhist monks. Loosing tear gas and firing shots in the air, they methodically cleared street after street. Officers said some of the men they arrested were agitators disguised as monks. The Viet Cong has sought from the start to exploit the unrest.

—Moscow, Peking and Hanoi radios beamed words of encouragement to the antigovernment factions. Communist North Viet Nam's station accused Ky's government of "brutal suppression of labor and student groups."

—The U.S. Command announced another search-and-destroy operation against the Viet Cong. This is a sweep launched by the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade and an Australian infantry battalion May 16 near Vung Tau, 40 miles southeast of Saigon. The Americans and Aussies were reported to have killed 20 Communists. The announced toll on the enemy from two previously announced American drives mounted to 389. Fliers carried on the air war both north and south of the border despite monsoon storms.

—Two military leaders of the Da Nang uprising—Lt. Col. Dam Quang Yeu and Ma. Ton That Tuong—were flown to Saigon for interrogation.

Inmates' Trial Given Recess

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The Circuit Court murder trial of four Menard Prison inmates was recessed Wednesday to give one of the defendants time to decide whether he wants to retain his present attorney.

Judge Creel Douglass told John Stamps of Granite City he must decide by May 31 whether he wants to hire another attorney, ask for a public defender or retain his present counsel.

Stamps and the other three inmates are accused of slaying three guards during a prison riot Nov. 23. They are William Bassett, Fairfield; Princess Ray Griffin, Chicago; and Alonzo Jones, Manchester, Tenn.

Douglass recessed the trial, now in its fourth week, after Stamps told the court he did not want to be represented by Richard Shaikewitz of Alton.

Shaikewitz replaced his law partner, Irving Wiseman of Alton, after Wiseman became ill and was hospitalized during the second week of the trial. Wiseman may be hospitalized at least six more weeks, Shaikewitz said.

Explains Behavior

Fulbright Committee Hears Psychologists

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two academic psychologists tried to explain to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Wednesday why men—and ultimately nations—act the way they do.

Conceding it was a "rather unusual kind of hearing," chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., led them through a highly philosophical discussion. But the talk was firmly based on American foreign policy in Viet Nam, with which Fulbright disagrees.

"Do you really think a human being is a rational being?" Fulbright asked at one point.

"That's hard to answer in a hurry," said Dr. Jerome Frank, professor of psychiatry at Johns Hopkins University.

"We are rational only by fits and starts. I think we operate under a great deal of fear and emotional tension,

Romney Sprint May Lead to Washington

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Republican Gov. George Romney began a third-term Michigan sprint Wednesday that could be a workout for a distance race to the White House.

Even as Romney was fending aside 1968 speculation, his presidential support from New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was reported even more solid than Rockefeller publicly indicated two nights ago.

Romney surprised no one with announcement Wednesday he would seek the state's first four-year gubernatorial term. Prior to this election, terms had been two years.

But when asked if he expected to serve the full four years if elected, he said: "No person can foresee what will happen two or four months from now, let alone two or four years. The only office for which I am a candidate is governor of Michigan."

He insisted all 1968 speculation was premature in light of a comeback task facing the GOP in 1966 congressional and gubernatorial races.

Parrying newsmen's questions about his presidential thoughts, the 58-year-old governor finally broke up in laughter when asked if he would accept a 1968 nomination.

And then, for the third time, he repeated the "no person can foresee" statement.

What some Republican leaders are foreseeing, however, is that Romney, a former president of American Motors Corp., is the most likely candidate of the moderate wing of the GOP.

Romney stood somewhat apart from the moderates, however, as they floundered in the face of the Barry Goldwater conservative tide in 1964. Romney at the same time refused to endorse Goldwater.

Explosion Causes

$175,000 Damage

FRANKFORT, Ill. (AP)—An estimated $175,000 damage was caused Wednesday by explosions and fire at the S & S Sinktop Co. plant south of Frankfort.

Eight employees were injured, Duane Browell, 26, of Wilmington the most seriously. He suffered severe burns on his leg, hands and back.

The explosions occurred as employees were reporting for work. Approximately 20 persons were either in the plant or the nearby parking area when the fire started.

Ten cars in the parking lot were damaged by debris scattered by the explosions.

One factory employee said the first explosion occurred near the compressor used to heat and roll plastic.

Lynn Kohlhausen, Frankfort fire chief, said his men arrived at the plant within minutes of the initial explosion.

GOP Governor Challenged by Congressman

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Robert Duncan, 45, second-term Oregon congressman, rode a smashing Democratic primary election victory into the November U.S. Senate race and Wednesday challenged the Republican winner, Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, 43, to debate the issues.

Hatfield who won the GOP nomination with ease Tuesday, said the question of formal debates would have to wait but added he has always been willing "to engage in public discussion."

The sole issue getting attention in the Democratic primary campaign was the Viet Nam war. Duncan was a staunch supporter of the administration's handling of it. His opponent, Howard Morgan, was a sharp critic. But Duncan also had a record as a vote-getter, Morgan did not.

Hatfield, too, was critical of this country's role in Southeast Asia, but said recently, "I will not permit myself to be boxed in on one issue. In a campaign there are many issues." He cited inflation, regional problems such as diversion of Columbia River water to the Southwest, and "the type of representation the people want."

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., took the stump for Morgan. He has been an outspoken foe of the administration Viet Nam policy, and said if Morgan lost he would vote for Hatfield.

Wednesday, Morse said the election returns-taking the Morgan and Hatfield figures together—suggested that in November the Oregon voters would repudiate the administration by electing Hatfield.

The nominations for governor to succeed Hatfield, who is completing the allowable two terms, went to State Treasurer Robert Straub, 46, Democrat, and Secretary of State Tom McCall, 53, Republican.

The Oregon tally, with 2,937 of 2,946 precincts reported: Duncan 159,097. Morgan 88,437.

Soviet Writers Told To Abide by Doctrine

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet military establishment has thrown its considerable weight against liberals on the Soviet cultural scene.

Literature must show "the greatness of our time" instead of questioning heroic legends of World War II, a military spokesman says. And, he adds, Joseph V. Stalin's reasons for sending people to their death or concentration camps should be appreciated.

After earlier sniping by Red army spokesman at liberal writers who failed to follow the officially endorsed canons of "Socialist realism," a summary of the military attitude on culture was published Wednesday with these points.

The summary was made by Gen. Alexei A. Yepishev, head of the central political department of the Soviet army and navy, in a speech reported by the military paper Red Star.

Yepishev, the Soviet Communist party's watchdog for the armed services, spoke at a meeting on "military patriotic education of Soviet youth" through literature and art.

Yepishev's praise of writers and artists who were favored during the Stalin era indicated a craving for the simple old days of party-line culture that existed only to support the regime. But in the past decade some writers have deviated from the simple approach of depicting heroic builders of communism.

Conference Asks Sukarno Ouster

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—A conference of political action fronts in the west Java city of Bandung has demanded that President Sukarno be replaced, the official news agency Antara reported.

The conference called on the country's highest legislative body, the Provisional People's Consultative Congress, to elect a new president and vice president when it convenes next month.

New Explorer Satellite Goes Into Wrong Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A new Explorer satellite blazed into the wrong orbit Wednesday and the first version of a Saturn 5 moon rocket rolled to the launch pad as the space agency marked the fifth anniversary of the day President John F. Kennedy committed this nation to race Russia to the moon.

Five years after the lunar goal was set in 1961, America's man-to-the-moon program is "only schedule," declared Dr. George E. Mueller, NASA associate administrator for manned space flight.

Speaking at ceremonies marking Wednesday's event, Mueller said, "We are well on our way to keeping that commitment made five years ago today. The Apollo program is on schedule. We've been meeting milestone after milestone toward our goal of a manned lunar landing," in this decade.

Minutes after he spoke, a towering 365-foot-tall Saturn 5 moon rocket—standing upright on the back of a huge turtle-like crawler transporter—lumbered out a yawning 456-foot-tall door of the cavernous Saturn Vehicle Assembly Building and began a slow three-mile journey to the launch pad.

Explorer 32, America's newest orbiting scientific laboratory, rocketed into space at 10 a.m. EDT to begin mapping uncharted regions around the earth where communications to future spaceships will have to penetrate.

The 492-pound satellite, looking much like a shiny beach ball, rode a 90-foot-tall Delta rocket into too high of an orbit, however.

Project officials said the rocket—which was aiming for an egg-shaped orbit ranging from 170 to 750 miles above the earth—did not get an engine cutoff signal at the right time and burnt too long, showing the $1.5-million Explorer 32 into an orbit about 900 miles too high.

Officials were trying to determine how much of a problem this might cause with the experiment.

Explorer 32 was built to study short-term disturbances in the upper atmosphere caused by solar storms. It is also to send back information on the concentration and distribution of charged chemical elements in its orbital path.

Pre-Nuptial Party Planned in Honor Of Luci Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Luci Johnson, the President's teen-age daughter, takes her last examination at nursing school Friday and then heads for Milwaukee for a pre-nuptial dinner dance in her honor Saturday night.

Luci and her fiancé, Pat Nugent of Waukegan, Ill., will be married Aug. 6, and the White House has asked most of the Johnson friends to refrain from giving pre-nuptial parties.

The one Saturday, long-scheduled, is a black tie party for about 125 persons, to be given at the Milwaukee Athletic Club by Mr. and Mrs. William J. Feldstein, friends of President and Mrs. Johnson.

The White House said there was no information on exactly when the young couple would leave Washington.

But Luci's last exam, a history test, ending her freshman year at the Georgetown University School of Nursing, is on Friday morning.

Champagne will be served at the dinner dance for the President's daughter, but Luci won't be able to have any, the Milwaukee Sentinel said.

25 SIU ROTC Cadets Receive Annual Awards

Awards were given to 25 Air Force ROTC cadets at their annual Dining-In.

Guest speaker at the banquet was Maj. Gen. Glen R. Berchard, vice commander of the Military Airlift Command at Scott Air Force Base near Belleville.

Lt. Col. James F. Van Ausdal, professor of aerospace studies at SIU, was presented a special award from the cadets, honoring his service here. He will be leaving at the end of this term for a tour of duty in Korea.

Also given special recognition was Lt. Col. William O'Brien, U.S. Marine Reserve, who was cited by the Arnold Air Society for his service to that group. He is an honorary member of the AAS and has taken part in many of its functions.

Presenting awards to the cadets were Martin Van Brown, member of the SIU Board of Trustees; Alexander MacMillan, director of the Transportation Institute; I. Clark Davis, vice president for student and area services; William Schwegman; Julian Lauchner, dean of the School of Technology.

Irving W. Adams, assistant dean of student affairs; Lt. Col. Theodore Buechler, director of education in AFOTC; Charles C. Taylor, associate professor at University School; and O'Brien.

Students receiving awards were Philip W. Weber, SIU Trustee Medal to outstanding senior; Ronald W. Buckley, SIU Trustee Medal to outstanding junior; Raymond E. Franks Jr., SIU Trustee Medal to outstanding junior; Dennis O. Douglas, SIU Trustee Medal to outstanding freshman.

William B. Giolitto, SIU Honor Guard Medal for proficiency in precision drill; Charles F. Milewski, Air Force Association Medal to outstanding senior; Joseph R. Janezic, Reserve Officers' Association Medal to outstanding junior; Lonnie J. Breland, Chicago Tribune Gold Medal for outstanding scholastic and military achievement by a senior.

James L. Mazander, Chicago Tribune Gold Medal for outstanding scholastic and military achievement by a junior; William W. Perkins, Chicago Tribune Silver Medal for outstanding scholastic and military achievement by a sophomore; James T. Teague, Chicago Tribune Silver Medal for outstanding scholastic and military achievement by a freshman.

Donald L. Krump, McDonnell Aviation Award to an outstanding senior; Howard F. Benson, Air Force Times Award to a senior contributing most in bringing constructive attention to the cadet corps; Lindell W. Mabius, General Dynamics Award to the outstanding sophomore selected to enter the cadet flight instruction program.

Robert L. Hays, Sons of the American Revolution Medal to outstanding basic student achieving overall excellence in academic standing and military aptitude; Cleon J. Blankenbaker, American Legion Auxiliary National Security Award to a senior for outstanding service; Rayburn K. Dudenbostel, American Legion Auxiliary National Security Award to a junior for outstanding service.

Charles F. Milewski, Paul D. Johnson, E. McKenna and Michael P. Blackburn (of Edwardsville campus), commander's awards to outstanding professional officers corps cadets who served as group commanders.

Scholarship grants were awarded to Lindell W. Mabius and James L. Mazander.

Alumni Club Sets Camping Program

The SIU Alumni Association, in cooperation with the staff of Little Grassy facilities, will hold its ninth annual alumni family vacation camping program Aug. 7 through Sept. 3. Alumni and faculty who are members of the association are eligible to vacation at Little Grassy in this program.

Three plans are available, "We'll do it for you" (cabin and food furnished), "We'll help you do it" (meals furnished), or "Do it yourself all the way."

Little Grassy Lake is about 10 miles or 15 minutes south-east of Carbondale. SIU operates the facilities, providing professional staff members, trained counselors and a registered nurse.

Varsity, Freshmen Tennis Players Will Travel To Evansville for Memorial Day Tournament

The varsity tennis team and majority of the freshman team will travel to Evansville, Ind., Saturday for the Evansville Memorial Day Tournament.

The tournament, open to both collegiate and noncollegiate entries, will run for three days.

The tennis squad has been practicing every day in anticipation of the NCAA championships, coming up June 13-18.

Only four members of the squad will be eligible to travel to Miami, Fla., for the five-day meet, and they will have to practice a few hours every day, even in finals week, to prepare for it.

Al Pena, who last played in the No. 3 position for the SIU netmen, will not be eligible for the NCAA, because of a complicated foreign student age rule that disqualifies him.

Bob Sprengelmeyer will be in the Salukis' ace position at Miami, followed by Jose Villarete, Thad Ferguson and Johnny Yang.

The absence of Joe Brandi, who dropped out of school a month ago and left for his Puerto Rican home, will probably have an adverse affect on the Salukis' outcome in the NCAA championships.

The SIU tennis team now has a record of 17 wins and 4 losses.

Sprengelmeyer, Villarete, and Yang plan to compete in the tournament circuit this summer, and Ferguson will be teaching at a tennis club in the Chicago area.

Salukis Drop 4-3 Game to Illini; 3 Gift Runs

The skidding Salukis, riding a four-game losing streak, allowed the University of Illinois to come back from a three-run deficit and win 4-3 at Champaign.

After losing a three-game series with Parsons, Southern dropped to 24-17 after Tuesday's loss at Champaign. Howard Nickason lost another close game. He appeared in relief of starter Don Kirkland, who worked 5 1/3 innings.

Taking a three-run lead into the sixth, SIU gave the host Illini three gift runs on two hits combined with two costly errors.

SIU scored in the first on two consecutive doubles, Rich Collins led off with a two-base blow to center, and Bob Bernstein followed with a run-scoring double to left.

Illini starter Berny Leonard didn't last long—1/3 of an inning to be exact—as Mike Rodgerson appeared in relief. Rodgerson went the rest of the game.

Southern touched Rodgerson for two runs in the fourth, as the Illini gave the Salukis unearned runs on two errors and a wild pitch.

With the score knotted in the seventh, both teams managed to get the leadoff man on base, but neither could score.

In the top of the eighth, the Salukis threatened to take the lead, but Rodgerson pitched his way out of the jam.

Jerry Evans ran out an infield grounder to start off the inning. Russ Keene forced Evans out at second on a grounder to short, Nickason then sacrificed Keene to second, Tex Sandstead walked to put two runners on, but Larry Schaake popped out to end the inning.

The winning run for the Illini came in their half of the eighth.

Nickason then had Terry Kasper hit a bouncer back to the mound. Nickason fired to second for a force play, but before Schaake could tag the runner after missing the bag, Szukala came home to beat Schaake's throw.

Illinois closed its season with a 14-13 record.

Speaker Gives Policy Outline

several promises of reform to the people. On the advice of his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, these promises were never kept and the elder Diem lost face with the people.

Fishel then explained that in the East it is "not the laws that matter but the man who administers the laws... The man must be morally right and have a mandate from heaven."

After the overthrow of the government in 1963 South Viet Nam began a game of governmental "musical chairs" Fishel said.

Fishel said that his talk was not a logical explanation of the Viet Nam situation because there is no logical explanation. It was something that evolved.

Fishel said that we have learned five things from our involvement. First that there is tremendous flow of refugees away from the Communist dominated areas.

Second is the Communist dependent on terror to maintain their power. He said that the real target of the Viet Cong is the population.

Third that North Viet Nam is infiltrating into South Viet Nam. The estimates are that 50,000 to 60,000 will enter South Viet Nam this year, Fishel said.

Fourth, the morale of the South Vietnamese is higher than we would expect of a country that has been at war 25 years.

The fifth point was the political status of South Viet Nam. There have been no mass moves to end the war.

Fishel spoke before a packed house at Muckelroy Auditorium. Following his speech he answered questions from the audience.

Several of these referred to articles in Ramparts Magazine, Viet Report and a Students for a Democratic Society publication which accused Fishel of being the organizer behind the Viet Nam lobby.

Fishel denied that he was the organizer or even that there was such a lobby.

He was referred to as an obscure professor that found Diem in Japan. One article went on to state that Fishel was an official of the CIA and that he groomed Diem for the post of Prime Minister.

Fishel denied this and said that he has been unsuccessful so far in his attempts to bring the case into court.
