Ex-Vietnamese Envoy to U.S. to Speak Here

SOCIAL STUDIES LIBRARY

Tran Van Chuong, South Vietnamese Ambassador to the United States for eight years and former minister of foreign affairs of the Federation of French Indo-China, will speak here May 13.

Chuong will discuss the war in Viet Nam and the future outlook for his strife-torn country at both the 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. sessions of Freshman Convocation.

Because of political convictions and out of protest against the Diem regime, Chuong resigned from his position as ambassador in 1963, several months before the fall of the regime. He also broke with his daughter, Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu, a power in the Ngo Dinh Diem government.

Ambassador Chuong began speaking before college and community groups to call attention to the life in Viet Nam and to help Americans better understand the critical Indo-China situation. Chuong spent his youth studying in Algiers and France and received his doctorate in law from the University of Paris in 1922.

Chuong has served as vice president of the Grand Council for Economic and Financial Interests in Indo-China, a member of the Federal Council of Indo-China, and advisor to the Viet Nam delegation at the Geneva Conference.

National Dorm Meeting Here Next Spring

SIU will play host to the convention of the National Association of College and University Residence Halls next spring.

Some 300-500 students, representing more than 100 schools, are expected to attend, Marilyn Maibes, conference chairman, said.

Representatives are expected from schools as far north as Iowa, as far south as Houston, as far east as Rhode Island, and as far west as Hawaii.

SIU became eligible for the event's host when Miss Maibes, former executive secretary of the organization, was elected conference chairman.

The announcement was made at the national convention held last week in Spokane, Wash.

J. Albin Yokie, coordinator of housing at SIU, was re-elected national adviser of the association. He has served in this capacity for more than a decade.

The purpose of the association is to promote the exchange of ideas among residence halls members.

In an effort to help publicize the first annual Illinois Residence Halls Week, the Daily Egyptian begins today a series of features on the living areas on campus.

A story on the Thompson Point Residence Halls appears on Page 9.

WATCHING—A University policeman keeps a watchful eye on motorbike riders and other traffic near the Old Main gate.

Stop Signs Not for Cycles?

Reporter Stands at Crossing of Havoc and Zoom Streets

By Mike Harris (Last of a Series)
All in the SIU valley of cycle confusion ride the 800.

I stood on the cold corner of Grand and University Wednesday and wearily watched cycle laws being broken by SIU motorcyclist riders.

U-turns were ubiquitous. Noise was nerve-racking. Turn signals were seldom used. Stop signs were merely "slowed down for." And people seemed like private pylons to most cyclists.

Every 10 seconds, more or less, a cycle would appear in front of the Old Main gate. Students stopped in the middle of the street to shoot the breeze with friends. Verbal shots were undoubtedly being fired by the impatient motorists behind them.

Most of the cycle riders would take a quick—very quick—look in all directions, then zoomooom off.

Gliding into the traffic pattern, it amazed me that the pedestrians didn't panic when the cycles seem to swoop down on them. I suppose collegians (the two-foot and not the two-wheeled variety) think that cycles are like nice, albeit snarling, friendly dogs. A student might look askance at a cycle bearing down on him, but he more often than not realizes the "beast" won't bite.

But every six hours the beast does "bite."

How many other laws cyclists violated is difficult to say. I stood on the corner about half an hour. And watching the cycles was rather analogous to keeping an eye on a "hot" hockey puck.

As I walked away from the corner of Grand and University, I noticed a University policeman sitting in his car behind the gate. I couldn't blame him for not writing tickets for every, some would say, innocuous violation. Writer's cramp can bother anyone.

Merger Postponed In Business School

The suggested combination of the Departments of Marketing and Management has been temporarily dropped until a new dean of the School of Business is appointed.

The plan was introduced in December by Dean Henry J. Rehn because "The trend is for fewer rather than more departments in schools and colleges of business across the nation."

However, since that time Dean Rehn has announced his plans to retire, because of ill health.

Action on the plan has been

SIU Press Places In Chicago Exhibit Of Honored Books

The Southern Illinois University Press is represented by two books in the 16th annual "Top Honor Books" exhibit in the Chicago Public Library.

"Scotfield Thayer and the Dial: An Illustrated History" written by Nicholas T. Joost, professor in SIU's Humanities Division, scored more points than any book in the show. Out of a possible 30 points this book was given 29 points by the judges.

The other book is "Collected Poems 1935-1965" by Kenneth Hopkins, writer in residence at SIU 1963-64.

The exhibit is sponsored by the Chicago Book Clinic and is designed to call attention to book publishing and production in this area. Submitted books, which include trade books, textbooks, subscription and reference books, and sponsored books were judged against a set of standards for good bookmaking.

Of 362 books that were submitted, only 46 volumes were selected for top honors and display.

SIU Irish Collection Adds Valued Painting by Russell

The Rare Book Room of Morris Library has added a painting by George William Russell to its collection of works by writers of the Irish Renaissance period.

Russell, a poet, artist, journalist, land reformer and agricultural expert, wrote and painted under the pseudonym "AE". He lived from 1867 to 1939.

The painting, a 21-by-27-inch oil, is titled "Looking Out at Hyabrazl," and was given to the library through the delayed until a new dean can be appointed.

Before the two departments can be combined the views of whoever is appointed the new dean will be heard and considered. It is possible that the new dean would not favor such a union.

If the two departments are combined, a chairman of the new department will have to be named. Presently there is a committee studying the problem. The group is made up of Robert G. Layer, chairman of the Department of Economics, Charles H. Hindersman, associate professor of marketing, and Fremont A. Shull Jr., professor of management.

Presently, Shull is acting as chairman of the Department of Management and Paul M. Hoffman is the continuing dean of the Department of Marketing.

Edwardsville Sets Buildings Parley

SIU officials will meet with members of the Madison County Board of Supervisors at a dinner session this evening in Edwardsville.

Pierpont Morgan Library in New York City.

Ralph V. Bushee, Rare Book Room librarian, said the item came after a New York book dealer mentioned to a Morgan Library staffer that SIU had a collection of Irish writings which included a number of works by Russell.

Bushee said the painting was donated through the New York library by a Mrs. George Nichols. He had no further information as to her identity.

The exhibit will open at 6 p.m. Saturday, and judging of the entries, which include applied art and design, photography, graphic arts, sculpture, creative writing, and engineering design and architecture will start at 7 p.m.

Members of the SIU Opera Workshop, under the direction of Marjorie Lawrence, will present a program of opera excerpts starting at 8 p.m. Sunday's program includes a performance by a student string quartet at 7 p.m. in the ballrooms. In addition, a new series, entitled "Last Lecture," will begin at 7 p.m. Sunday in Studio Theatre in University School.

The Unanswered Questions

Several seemingly controversial questions have arisen since President Delyte W. Morris spoke with student government leaders Wednesday about the proposed working paper for student government.

In an attempt to clear up some of the confusion, the Daily Egyptian has contacted various administrators for answers to the following questions:

1) Why did President Morris permit the student government committee to work since September before informing members that their concept of an executive branch was inconsistent with the University statutes?

2) Why didn't Ralph W. Ruffner, vice president for area and student services and the administrative representative on the committee, point out this inconsistency?

3) Did the Board of Trustees write the section of the statutes concerning student government with the intention of eliminating the possibility of having an executive branch of student government?

4) What was the status of the executive branch during the two-year period (1958-60), after the branch was established and before the interim period began?

The first reaction to Morris' announcement was phrased by one member of the student committee who said:

"Why did he let us play around for all these months before telling us it (the paper) was illegal?"

President Morris' reply: "I didn't see any of the documents until Friday." (Vice President Ruffner conferred with Morris about the proposals Friday, April 16.)

The question of why Ruffner hadn't pointed out the inconsistency became even more important when it was learned that he had received—prior to the Little Grassy Retreat—a letter from Richard C. Grun, University legal counsel, which said, in effect, that the executive branch of student government as it now operates is inconsistent with the statutes.

Ruffner explained his action as follows:

"First of all, being new at the University, I was misled because each campus now has an executive branch, and I wasn't aware of the interim period under which they are operating.

"Secondly, I wanted the group to come out with what it wanted. By putting restrictions on the committee, it would have been cramped."

Although the recent interpretation by the administration is that the existing executive branch is inconsistent with the statutes, whether or not the Board of Trustees originally intended to prohibit such an executive branch remains a question.

"Probably not," was the answer given by one high-ranking University official asked if he believed that was the Board's intention.

"In the first place," he said, "the Board didn't actually write the statutes. They evolved from various faculty procedures committees, were funneled through various channels, then were approved by the Board.

"I don't imagine there was any conscious thought, at all, about an executive branch."

In his opinion, the procedures committee probably didn't have knowledge of the student government constitution and therefore might not have been aware of the executive branch, he said.

"In fact, I didn't even know one existed in student government," the official admitted.

University officials were unable to answer one question which arose from President Morris' statement that the executive branch was allowed to exist in past years because student government had been granted an interim period by the Board.

However, upon investigation, it was learned that this interim period began two years after the executive branch had been established by student government.

What, then, was the status of the executive branch during that period?

The question remains unanswered.

WSIU's Program Schedule Must Serve Total Audience

Mr. Geskey's editorial of April 22 suggests to me that he might do well to listen a bit more to WSIU (FM) before he does any more "wondering."

We do boast about serving all of Southern Illinois, because we are proud of the fact that our station has a large following outside the University. Mr. Geskey also might examine the FCC rulings concerning the obligations of licensed AM and FM stations. The licensee is required by law to serve its entire potential audience, and to program for that audience, not just one specialized portion of it.

Our program schedule is as well balanced as any commercial station, probably better than many. If you listen to our station to any extent at all, you will notice that we broadcast somewhere in the area of 30 hours per week of "popular" music, including jazz, folk, and standards, in addition to classical music and "cultural" programming.

As for stress on campus activities, we devote an entire two-hour program on Saturday exclusively to publicizing campus events, as well as two or three interviews daily on the "Morning Show" with students and faculty. Due to a lack of student-campus news for this program, we were forced to use area news as well.

We are also one of the few educational stations in the country to broadcast a full schedule of college football, basketball, and baseball, using only student announcers. If there are any better ways to serve the "deserving students" please let us know.

A point which was completely left out of the editorial was one of the primary reasons for a radio station on campus—to give students an opportunity to learn radio. This in itself justifies the use of University funds and facilities (you will please note that I said University funds—from the University operation budget—not student funds). The Daily Egyptian certainly has more of a purpose than giving student-oriented news service.

Before the Residence Halls Council, the Student Council, and the Off-Campus Council do any reorientation of WSIU, I suggest they get approval from the University administration and the Federal Communications Commission.

If you have any other questions or suggestions, Mr. Geskey, I urge you to visit our studios. Any of our staff will be more than willing to discuss them with you.

Students' Treatment Of Justice Douglas Described as Rude

Do the students of SIU consider themselves adults? I cannot believe that adult college students would behave in such a rude and discourteous manner as they did when Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas spoke to them a week ago.

The student body was very lucky to have a guest of Justice Douglas' stature speaking on a subject of such vital importance; but obviously it was a case of pearl casting, because not only were many of the students actually talking all through the speech, but some even indulged in throwing spitballs across the stage.

If this is the generation from which the future leaders of America will come, I doubt that they will reach maturity before the millennium.

What Price Culture?

A moderate reorientation of WSIU-FM radio to better meet students' communication needs seems to be in order. Although WSIU does not receive student funds, we do not believe that it is therefore exempt from a responsibility to students and faculty of the University. WSIU radio, however, denies any obligation to the University audience in terms of listener interest. Instead, the alleged obligation lies within a sizable radius of the University—"all of Southern Illinois."

There are several reasons why we believe that, however gallant the effort to raise the cultural level of the area may be, WSIU-FM has a definite communication responsibility to the University.

First, Southern Illinois is an area of below-average income and educational levels. Therefore, programming of the present nature would not appeal to many of these people. Perhaps varied programming would also stimulate area interest and, consequently, more "culture" would creep simultaneously into target homes. However, an area obligation does not seem justification for an admitted exclusion of the University audience.

Second, we believe that the use of University funds and equipment deserves some value (other than as training for students) in return. Is there any reason why it doesn't?

Third, WSIU radio could serve as a practical alternative to the proposed closed-circuit campus radio station. The proposed closed-circuit station would broadcast only to students living in dormitories. A radio station designed specifically to serve a minority of students seems impractical from the standpoint of "fairness," and also on a cost basis. It is doubtful whether such a venture could survive as a commercial station.

Fourth, we are attempting to recognize a need area, where many students have expressed that improvement is in order. We do not advocate "more jazz" or "more popular music" specifically, but offer them as examples of what students might like to hear more frequently. A study would naturally have to be undertaken to determine in just what areas students feel most deprived. Hence, programming should be modified to the Letter to the Editor

'Misconceptions About WSIU' Listed

In Ron Geskey's editorial of April 22 there were several misconceptions about WSIU.

1. It is not student supported as he said. It received its funds from the budget given to the Department of Radio-TV.

2. The purpose of WSIU is not competition, but education. This is achieved by playing classical music and by presenting public service programs.

3. The technical aspects of FM radio make it better suited to programming of fine music. FM is free from interference—no static, ignition noise from cars does not disturb it.

4. The range of WSIU (FM) is approximately 85 miles. There are people in this area who are better served by music, news and public service, than by campus gossip and news. WSIU has an Effective Radiated Power of extent that an acceptable compromise can be reached.

Since this would not be slanting the programming to any one interest group, we fail to see how there would be a conflict with the Federal Communications Commission's regulations.

In our April 22 editorial we suggested that WSIU be moderately reoriented to gain more student interest, and to better meet student needs. We do not expect WSIU to make itself the KXOK of Southern Illinois but only to diversify and compromise, and in so doing, make it a more worthwhile and interesting station for us all. We will have more to say later.

Ron Geskey

37.5 kilowatts and it is not a toy.

5. The reasons for the sponsorship of a closed circuit AM (carrier current) radio station are those that Mr. Geskey complained about: student-oriented programming, campus news, faculty discussions.

Few students possess an FM receiver, and, as such is the case, a station for students operating on a frequency that will reach them is the answer to the needs of the student.

The proposal that was put forth last spring involved a loan from the University, true, but the loan would be paid back by selling time to local merchants.

But so far stumbling blocks have appeared and the idea has been more or less pigeonholed.

Jean Gottmann Discusses Growth of U.S. Megalopolis

The dictionary defines megalopolis as simply a large city but the word means much more to Jean Gottmann, a noted geographer and visiting professor at SIU.

In fact the word means so much to him that he published a book entitled Megalopolis in 1961. The book is concerned with the high density of urbanization which is occurring throughout the world. Gottmann expressed his views on Megalopolis at the geography lecture Tuesday night in Mueckleroy Auditorium.

He pointed to the United States for good examples of the megalopolis.

"There are three areas in the country where there is a high density of population," said Gottmann, a graying gentleman with a heavy French accent.

"The three areas are the Eastern seaboard from Southern New Hampshire to northern Virginia, where Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Washington D.C. help form one great megalopolis."

"Others are located in the Chicago and Los Angeles areas." Gottmann wittily described Los Angeles as a group of suburbs in search of a city.

Gottmann pointed out that these three megalopolises will increase and predicted that by the end of the century 320 of the 400 million people will be living in these three areas.

"The tend to urbanize is increasing throughout the civilized world," said Gottmann. "England's population is increasing but only in the southeast region around London. France, too, is urbanizing as only 18 per cent of her people are now living in rural areas."

Gottmann pointed out that as these metropolises get bigger there will be a continuous fight between the sprawling suburbs and the resisting or defending cities which will be building up.

"Newly planned cities of 30,000 to 200,000 people will be built surrounding these large metropolitan areas," he said.

Gottmann stressed the importance of planning these cities as people search for a utopia, a city built for the good life where people have room to move about and perhaps have a little yard space.

Hopkins is a former editor of the London weekly, Everybody's. His volume, "Collected Poems, 1935-65," was published earlier this year by the University Press.

He has taught at the University of Texas and has lectured at Harvard, Boston College, St. Louis University and Colgate University.

Hopkins has been teaching courses in creative writing at SIU during the last two years. One of his students, Janet Hart, wrote a novel which is soon to be published in London.

Residents of Northeast Area Ask City for Improvements

A petition calling for substantial increases in spending for improvements in the northeast area of Carbondale has been presented to the City Council.

Mrs. Thomas Nesbitt, representing the citizens in that section, presented the 14-point petition to the Council at its meeting Tuesday night.

The petition acknowledges that the council has undertaken a special study of that section of the city but points out that there are numerous immediate needs which go far beyond a study.

The points listed were almost wholly concerned with street improvements such as paving of all streets in the northeast area; providing every street with a sidewalk; more streetlighting; more traffic signals; new street signs covering every street intersection; and the regular cleaning of the streets in this area.

Other points mentioned requested an improved storm sewage system; a need for more fire hydrants; and more inspections to locate uninhabitable buildings that are health and safety hazards.

Mrs. Nesbitt said these projects were decided upon in an open meeting of the northeast side residents and represents only the most urgent projects.

Mayor D. Blaney Miller said the council would need time to study the petition before it could act upon it.

Viet Nam Air Force Chief Urges Immediate Invasion of North

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The commander of South Viet Nam's Air Force, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, advocates an immediate invasion of Communist North Viet Nam by South Vietnamese land forces. He conditionally ruled out U.S. troops.

"With some secret bases of our own up there," he said, "the Viet Cong would quickly start wondering whether the war was worth it."

Ky questioned effectiveness of the air strikes against highways, railroads and bridges north of the 17th Parallel and proposed the complementary land operation. He gave his views in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press Wednesday.

His suggestions, the most outspoken by a South Vietnamese leader in recent weeks, were believed to reflect the over-all official views of Premier Phan Huy Quat's government and the Saigon high command. The jaunty, 34-year-old officer is probably the most powerful single member of the high command.

Ky's theme was that the air raids, launched Feb. 7 and under way daily since April 13, are not choking off aid from President Ho Chi Minh's Hanoi regime to the Viet Cong. The general, himself a native of Hanoi, has flown three of the missions and was once grazed by Communist anti-aircraft fire.

"If we are just going to bomb communication lines, the Viet Cong will be able to stand up for a long time, I'm afraid," Ky said. "So the next step must be — either a big escalation of the war, or negotiations.

"The raids against communications are not really effective. The Communists can always find ways of moving through the jungle."

"But if we were to set up a kind of 'national liberation front' in the north we could do the same things to the Communists that they've been doing to us here," Ky said.

"We have superiority in the air over North Viet Nam's central area from the 17th to the 20th Parallel and we could easily supply guerrillas of our own there.

"For that matter, what's wrong with sending up regular troops now? Our intelligence proves that North Vietnamese regular units are already in our highlands, so there can be no bar to sending troops north.

"We have no shortage of skilled, trained volunteers. And we would be in a better position to supply them than the Hanoi regime is to supply the Viet Cong because we control the skies and sea."

Marines Landed to Protect Americans Caught in Revolt

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson announced Wednesday night that 400 U.S. Marines had been landed in the Dominican Republic to escort Americans there to safety.

Dominican officials said they could no longer guarantee the safety of the Americans, the President said.

Johnson said the Marines landed without encountering any resistance.

"Gen. Wheeler, the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has just reported to me there have been no incidents," Johnson said.

He announced the action on a quickly arranged radio-television broadcast.

The President said he wanted to repeat his "urgent appeal" for a cease-fire in the Dominican Republic in the interest of all persons there.

He said the Council of the Organization of American States had been advised of the situation by the ambassador of the Dominican Republic and will be kept informed.

Johnson said, after meeting with congressional leaders of both parties, that they had "expressed their support for these decisions."

He said Dominican authorities had informed the U.S.

government that "American lives are in danger" as a result of four days of internal fighting between rival Dominican Republic factions.

Johnson announced the landing of the Marines after an emergency White House conference with Democratic and Republican congressional leaders.

He said U.S. assistance will be available to nationals of other countries in the Dominican Republic.

Indians Score U.S. Weapons Of Pakistanis

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India fought an artillery engagement with Pakistan Wednesday and fired a major publicity salvo at the United States for its military aid to the Pakistanis.

An official spokesman said Pakistani tanks that have been fighting Indian troops in the Rann of Kutch were made in America, shipped to Pakistan to build defenses against communism and now are being used illegally against India.

An influential member of Parliament said this had "created a deep wedge between us and the United States."

Photographs of tanks, identified as M48 Pattons, were published and identified as part of a Pakistani column surprised in Indian territory Monday. India claims 10 of the tanks were destroyed.

Indian officials were not satisfied with a U.S. Embassy explanation that a protest has been lodged with Pakistan. A major irritation in U.S.-India relations was shaping up.

Against this backdrop, an India-Pakistan artillery exchange in the Rann of Kutch almost was overlooked in New Delhi.

Union Ratifies Pact Extending Steel Deadline

PITTSBURGH (AP)—United Steelworkers policy makers approved Wednesday a four-month strike postponement in exchange for an 11.5-cent-an-hour pay hike, overriding the opposition of some who wanted to reject the steel labor peace pact.

The union and steel companies signed the agreement a short time later.

The agreement, which assures there will be no strike in the basic steel industry until Sept. 1, was approved after strong debate.

Union opponents of the agreement, hashed out Monday by union President David J. McDonald and chief industry negotiator R. Conrad Cooper, called it a "tin cup" agreement.

The approval was shouted through after some members of the Wage Policy Committee had started to file out of the room in the belief that a recess had been called.

But, as most committee members remained, McDonald called for a voice vote.

Although there were reportedly a goodly number in opposition, one union official said "it wasn't close enough to be questioned."

Originally, the committee had been expected to ratify the agreement with the 10-major steel companies routinely.

As the hours wore on, opposition mounted and it had appeared at one point that the outcome might be in doubt.

McDonald said that after the Wage Policy Committee was given a full explanation of the extension, opposition dwindled.

Russians Renew Cambodian Offer

PARIS (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko has assured France of continuing Soviet support for an international conference on Cambodia, a French government spokesman said Wednesday.

Some diplomats believe such a meeting could develop into talks on ending the war in neighboring Viet Nam.

A Moscow radio broadcast heard in Tokyo seemed to cast doubt on whether the Soviet Union would be willing to discuss Viet Nam at a conference on Cambodia, which the Cambodians want to get a guarantee of their neutrality.

"It is one thing to hold the conference to guarantee Cambodia's neutrality," the Moscow broadcast said, "and quite another to get the United States to halt its aggression in Viet Nam."

Gromyko renewed Soviet support for the conference in meetings Monday and Tuesday.

The announcement appeared to dispel fears that the Soviet Union may have cooled to the idea of a Cambodian conference.

270,000 in Quad-Cities Hope Flood-Soaked Dikes Will Hold

By The Associated Press

The crest of the most disastrous Mississippi River flood in history pounded Wednesday at weakened levees protecting the Quad-Cities of Illinois and Iowa from further inundation.

Farther downstream, the surging river continued to rise to record heights, bursting dikes and spreading fresh havoc to farm, industrial and residential areas on both sides of the stream.

Behind the dikes in Rock Island, Moline and East Moline, Ill., and Davenport, Iowa, residents prayed that sodden emergency sandbag barriers would hold back the record high water threatening to engulf the Quad-City complex of more than 270,000 population.

The Rock Island Army Corps of Engineers district said the swollen Mississippi crested early Wednesday at Rock Island at 22.4 feet, more than 7 feet above flood stage. This was one-tenth of a foot lower than the crest forecast earlier.

Flood officials said the crest in the Quad-City area would hold for several days at the 22.4 foot level. The Mississippi is expected to remain well above flood stage in the area for about two weeks, they said.

State Senate Bill Provides Illinois Bonus for Viet War

SPRINGFIELD, (AP) - The Illinois Senate approved bills Wednesday to reapportion the state's 24 congressional districts and pay bonuses to Illinois residents for service in the Viet Nam fighting.

Sen. Robert Coulson, R-Waukegan, said about 2,400 military personnel from Illinois have been in the Viet Nam combat zone and there have been 17 or 18 fatalities.

The bill, which moved to the House, provides a $100 bonus for military service and $1,000 to survivors of those killed.

A Republican version of congressional redistricting squeezed through the Senate over protests of Democrats that it wasn't needed at this time.

Two incumbent congressmen, William Dawson and Frank Annunzio of Chicago, would be placed in the same district by the bill.

Two bills dealing with teenage drivers also received Senate approval and went to the House.

One measure would allow suspension of the license of a driver under 19 who operated his car after the 11 p.m. state curfew unless accompanied by an adult.

The other bill would require revocation of a driver's license if a minor was convicted of car theft, stealing hub caps or breaking into an automobile.

Play Is Offbeat 'Party'

Ex-'Villager' Comes to SIU; Brings Own Coffee House

By Ed Rapetti

New York's Greenwich Village is a vibrant monument to the offbeat.

Its galleries, coffee houses and playhouses have spawned some of the best and worst examples of art, poetry and drama in contemporary America.

Its inhabitants represent an agglomeration of actors, artists, beats, bums, homeless has-beens, tourists, tramps and you-name-it.

Out of a young actor's experiences in "the Village" grew a play and a scheme.

The actor's name is Paul Roland, a graduate student now working with the Interpreter's Theater at SIU.

The play is titled "A Party at Madeline's Place," and the scheme is to present something new in entertainment at Southern.

The "interpreters" plan to transform Muckelroy Auditorium into a Village-type "espresso-house-theater-in-the-round."

Roland's three-act play plus poetry readings, folk singing, French pastry and espresso will be served up in three hours of continuous entertainment beginning at 7:30 p.m. May 13.

The first of three performances will be a preview, by invitation only, for department heads, faculty and members of the press. The following shows, May 14 and 15, will be open to all for a 50-cent cover charge.

Roland, actor turned play-

wright-director, has spent 30 of his 36 years in the entertainment world. A native of Moline, Ill., he began his career dancing in night clubs, worked in radio, television and legitimate theater.

His credits include roles in several Broadway and off-Broadway productions, TV's Alcoa Theater, Studio One and a CBS series of Shakespearean plays.

Thompson Point Residence Halls Dedicated To 'Fusion of Living and Learning' Policy

By Joe Cook
 "Dedicated to the Fusion of Living and Learning." This is the concept of 12 residence halls which jut out from the Lake-on-the-Campus and form the living area which is known as Thompson Point. Throughout fall's warm days and cool, crisp nights, winter's chilling breeze and snow, spring's warm balmy days and summer's heated afternoons, it is the home of about 1,350 students.

Thompson Point is a residence community where living and learning are combined.

The concept of Thompson Point is unique, for Southern was one of the first universities to experiment with this type of housing plan.

Located here are 11 residence halls, six of them housing women. A central dining hall serves all 11 halls.

The purpose of the area when it was the first designed was to put emphasis on the total individual, to meet the educational, recreational and social needs of the student and to help with her personal development.

It was the first area to utilize the concept of incorporating academic life into the residence halls by providing classrooms and resident counselors.

The resident counselors are faculty members who live in an apartment that adjoins each building. Some of them hold classes in the various buildings.

Coeducational living was also incorporated into the plan.

"Coeducation living has its advantages," said Harold M. Banks Jr., area head of Thompson Point. "It improves the behavior and dress of the Officers Elected For Steagall Hall

Steagall Hall has elected Martha Williams as president for the coming year.

Other officers are Susan Green, vice president; Judith Fuller, secretary; Corinne Cherra, treasurer; Sally Scott, judicial board chairman; Shirley Friederich, Thompson Point representative; Martha Griffo, social chairman; Mary Jensen, public relations chairman, and Sandra Giover, athletic chairmen," particularly the residents, particularly the men," he added.

Thompson Point is a $2 million a year operation. It was financed entirely by bonds from large corporations, and a certain percentage of the students' room and board money is used for paying off these bonds.

All maintenance, food service people and residence halls staff are under the area head. Food service is controlled fiscally by him.

The central dining hall located in Lentz Hall makes its own ice cream and butchers its own meat. It also does these services for Woody Hall and Little Grassy.

Also located in Lentz Hall are a snack bar, library, recreation room and mail room. The residence halls have 40 men to a floor and 120 to a building. Each floor has its own resident fellow.

The buildings are equipped with a washroom, television lounge and a recreation room.

The individual rooms are equipped with sinks, and two rooms share a bath.

Educational programming is encouraged. Every week Thompson Point sponsors a forum which entitles freshmen to convocation credit.

Thompson Point also supports an orphan girl in India. The money earned from sponsoring a stage show is used for her support.

Banks summed up the value of Thompson Point by saying "Thompson Point is designed to bring together the area and the individual, and I think we accomplish the purpose."

Residence Halls Council Lists Its Purpose, Accomplishments

"The purpose of the Residence Halls Council shall be to provide an agency for the unification of the members of the Residence Halls Association in matters concerning finance and policy and to promote coordination and communication among the students in the various member areas. "Furthermore, it shall be the purpose of the Residence Halls Council to represent and reflect the views and opinions of the Residence Halls Association."

The above paragraphs state the purpose of the Residence Halls Council, a campus organization which is observing Illinois Residence Halls Week this week.

Among the council's accomplishments this year, according to James H. Behrmann, president, are the following:

—Formulation of recommendations to the Housing Office on over-assignment policies.

—Formulation of recommendations for a student government structure at University Park, which will open next year.

—Formulation of recommendations for a student government structure at University Park, which will open next year.

—Formulation of recommendations concerning the financial matters of the organization.

—Sponsorship of a Christmas party for orphans.

—Initiation of Project VIP, a program of inviting leaders of various fields to visit the campus.

—Success in getting a student representative on the Petitions and Review Committee of the Housing Office.

—Providing a bus service for students to and from the train station at vacation periods.

—Holding a recognition banquet for student government leaders in university residence halls.

—Revision and approval of a new constitution.

Behrmann said the constitution which was voted on last week in the various member areas was passed by a vote of 502-121.

Officers of the council during the past year, in addition to Behrmann, were George M. Hockenyoos, vice president; and Maria T. Grana, secretary.

Spares Edge Past Chemistry For Top Spot in Staff Bowling

The Spares moved into undisputed first place in the Faculty-Staff Bowling League when they split four games with the Housing team Monday night at University Center lanes.

Chemistry, who had previously been in a deadlock with the Spares for the top spot, suffered a demoralizing setback when they lost 3-1 to Counseling and Testing. Counseling and Testing was on the bottom of the heap last week.

In other games, Technology 2 hung on to third place and boosted their hopes of catching the leaders by taking three games from Rehabilitation.

Members Sought For Coed Softball

The Women's Recreation Association is sponsoring softball games beginning Monday. Practice will be daily from 4 to 5 p.m. at the Wall Street field.

There will be intersquad and intercollegiate games. The team will travel to the University of Illinois for a sectional May 15, and Cape Girardeau on May 22.

Any women who are interested should report to the Women's Gymnasium at 4 p.m. Monday.

The Alley Cats took a 3-1 decision from the University Center team, Industrial Education did the same to Agriculture, and VTI turned the trick against Data Processing. Data Processing fell into sole ownership of the cellar.

The Alley Cats bowled the team-high three games with 2,850 pins, and the Spares had the high single game with 1,018.

Demetrius Karathanos bowled down 526 pins for the individual high series and Harold Lerch had a 216 for the high game.

Saluki Tennis Players Face Big Weekend At Annual Buccaneer Tournament in Texas

This will be a big weekend in Corpus Christi, Tex., and seven of Coach Carl Sexton's tennis players are hoping it will be a big weekend for them.

The city will be celebrating Buccaneer Days and, in conjunction with the celebration, will sponsor the annual Buccaneer Tennis Tournament.

The tournament, which begins Friday, is expected to draw some of the top amateur tennis players in the country.

No team championship will be at stake and only one individual championship award will be given.

Antonio Palafox, who Sexton considers to be one of the top 15 tennis players in the world, will be top-seeded in the tournament.

Sexton is taking his four top singles men, Lance Lumsden, Thad Ferguson, Vic Seper and Larry Oblin, and three of his highly touted freshmen, Mike Sprengelmeier, Jose Villarete, and Johnny Yang, to the tournament.

Lumsden is the only one of the seven who has met Palafox before. In two previous matches Palafox has won both in two sets.

Only two of the varsity players will be taking winning records into tournament play. Lumsden, Southern's No. 1 tennis player, has the best record of 5-2. Seper, the No.

3 man has the second best record of 4-3.

Thad Ferguson and Larry Oblin, the No. 2 and 4 singles players, both have 3-4 records.

Sexton will be paying close attention to his three freshmen at their first tournament play.

The competition will be nothing new to the two Philippine boys, Villarete and Yang. Both competed in the Orange Bowl and Sunshine Cup matches in Miami over the Christmas holidays.

Villarete was the No. 1-ranked tennis player in the Philippines last year and Yang was fourth.

Sprengelmeier is the third and youngest of the Sprengelmeier brothers. Roy and Bob both competed for Southern last year.

Free Movie, Dance Top TP Weekend

"The Diary of Anne Frank" will be shown at 3 p.m. Friday and Saturday in Lentz Hall.

No admission will be charged. All students are invited.

A street dance will also be staged in the circle drive area of Thompson Point from 8 to 11 p.m. Sunday.

Doubleheader With Paducah Is Set Today

SIU's freshman baseball team will be out to repeat history when it takes on Paducah Junior College in a doubleheader here at 1 p.m. today.

The Saluki freshmen crushed Paducah in a doubleheader April 17 at Paducah, winning 11-2 in the opener and 12-0 in the nightcap. The Kentuckians had a 5-1 record before they were dealt the double loss.

Coach Frank Sovich will go with the same two pitchers that be used in the first two games with Paducah.

Don Kirklund of Boonville, Ind., will be on the mound in the first game. He put 18 batters down on strikes in his first encounter with the Paducah nine and allowed only four hits in beating them 11-2.

George Poe, a former prep ace at Pinckneyville, is scheduled to pitch in the second game. Poe pitched five innings at Paducah before leaving the game because of a blister on his pitching hand, but he struck out 10 batters in his shortened appearance.

Don Karr will be behind the plate in the first game and Jack Finney will handle the catching chores in the second contest.

Rounding out the infield will be Bill Homan at first base, Gene Hansen at second, Bill Bandor at third, and Steve Krelle at shortstop. Bandor clubbed Paducah pitchers for five hits and drove in seven runs in the first meeting of the two clubs. Krelle drove in three and also had five hits.

Tumbling Exhibit Scheduled at TP

Included in the program will be movies of this year's World Tumbling and Trampoline Championships in London and a live tumbling exhibition.

Saluki Track Team Meets Kansas, Lost to Jayhawkers in Last Try

SIU's track team goes back into dual meet competition for the first time in three weeks Saturday when it travels to the University of Kansas for a dual with the Big Eight Jayhawkers.

The meeting will be the second of the year between the two schools. Kansas won the first encounter during the indoor season swamping Southern 99 1/2 to 26.

SIU's chances appear a little better this time as the Salukis don't have the depth to match Kansas.

The meet, however, could produce some interesting races. Salukis' two-time All-American Bill Cornell will be facing stiff competition in his first open mile and half-mile of the season outdoors.

The Jayhawkers probably will send Harold Hadley and John Lawson, a pair of 4:06 milers, against the Saluki ace in the mile with Lowell Paul, a 1:51 half-miler, going it in that event.

Another interesting race should be the 440, if SIU's Garry Carr can get back into shape. The junior from Mt. Vernon, Ind., has been working out only lightly this week due to a leg injury.

In the indoor meet in January, Carr was edged at the wire in a fair 50.4, but since then he has come on quickly.

About a week and a half ago the little junior blazed off a 46.0 second quarter on a relay, although his best outdoors in an open event remains 47.6, which he set way back in December.

Carr should have plenty of competition Saturday, though, with Bob Hanson of Kansas—a 47-second man himself—running along with Carr's mile relay teammate Jerry Fendrich.

The meet's last event, the mile relay, could be the best of all, though, as both the Salukis and the Jayhawkers have one of nation's top ten squads in the event.

At the Drake Relays last week, the Salukis finished a close third to winning Baylor in 3:11.4 while the Kansas quartet was fifth.

Hot-Hitting Salukis

Rich Collins Edges Into Lead, Kent Is 2nd in Batting Race

Rich Collins has edged ahead of brother Kent in the individual batting race as the Saluki baseball team continues its hot-hitting. Collins, who didn't officially bat in SIU's 7-4 victory over Washington University Tuesday, moved .003 points ahead of older Kent, although the latter continued his hitting rampage with 3 for 5, including a double and two runs batted in. Kent has batted 50 more times that reserve Rich, however. Reserve second baseman Larry Schaake held onto third place with a .381 although Gene Vincent upped his fourth place mark to .364. Third baseman Bob Bernstein and centerfielder John Siebel continued their upswing with two for four days. Bernstein is in fifth place with .328, while Siebel moved above the .300 level for the first time to .321. Shortstop Dennis Walter also moved up to the .300 level with two triples in five at-bats. The Salukis, now 8-1, will try to extend their winning streak to six Friday when they play host to Southeast Missouri State College's undefeated Indians. The Cape Girardeau, Mo., team is 5-0.
