Some Units Off Campus Hike Rent

The cost of some off-campus housing will rise for the coming year, but on-campus housing costs will remain the same, according to Anita Kuo, coordinator of off-campus housing.

Mrs. Kuo said that some of the off-campus dormitories and houses have raised their rents and others have not. Most of the raises were at the large dormitories and apartments which offer room and board, she said. Most of the small, older houses have maintained their rent at its old level.

The average raise in room rent is between 6 per cent and 8 per cent, according to Mrs. Kuo.

Off-campus housing includes facilities located near the campus and as far away as 30 miles.

Some of the dormitories that have raised their rents are University City on East College Street, where rents have gone from $300 to $325 per quarter for room and board.

A spokesman for Saluki Hall said that dormitory has raised its rent $25 a quarter for the coming year. Egyptian Dorm on South University Avenue has raised its rent per quarter $10 in one section and $30 in another section.

Joining in the rent hike is 600 Freeman which rents from $333 per quarter to $350. A spokesman for Bening Real Estate said that off-campus rents in dormitories and apartment buildings handled by the firm were up about $10 per term.

12-Week Course Exam Times Set

The examination schedule for the 12-week summer school courses has been released by the Registrar's Office. It appears on Page 11.

Examinations will start Aug. 21 and run through Sept. 2.

A makeup period has been set aside at 11:30 a.m., Sept. 1, for students who had more than three exams on one day and who receive permission from their academic dean to defer one of the tests.

When more than three exams are created as a result of a departmental examination, the one to be deferred will be the departmental examination, according to the exam schedule.

Water Sports Day Set Saturday

Saluquarama, a day of competitive water sports, will be held beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Lake-on-the-Campus. Activities are planned for four age groups—grade school children, high school students, college students, and faculty and staff members.

All students must be attending the University or they must be children of faculty or staff members.

There will be canoe and boat races for the high school, college and staff categories beginning at 1 p.m. at the boat docks.

Swimming competition will begin at 3 p.m. at the beach. The youngest age group will

Grade System Changes Made; Go Into Effect This Summer

'ANNIE' ARRIVES TONIGHT—The cast of the Irving Berlin musical "Annie Get Your Gun" goes through its paces in a final dress rehearsal preparing for tonight's opening in Shryock Auditorium. The cast is made up of high school music workshop students and members of the resident summer music theater company.

Music Campers in Cast

Sharpshootin' Country Gal Takes the Stage Tonight in 'Annie Get Your Gun' Offering

Annie Oakley, that root'n'-toot'n' sharpshooter on the pages of American history, will take to the stage tonight in the Summer Music Theater production of "Annie Get Your Gun."

The role of Annie was originally played by Ethel

Merman on the New York stage.

She recently recreated the role for a limited run in the Lincoln Center in New York.

The musical is the story of Annie, who changes from a backwoods girl into the sharpshooter of Wild West Show fame.

Some of the best known songs from the show are "Can't Get a Man With a Gun," "Anything You Can Do I Can Do Better" and "There's No Business Like Show Business."

Most of the cast of actors, dancers and musicians in the SIU production of "Annie Get Your Gun" are members of the Music and Youth at Southern music camp.

Leading roles are played by Rita Kueker (Annie), Ron Casey (Frank), Beverly McGuffin (Dolly), Ken Whitener (Tommy) and Cheryl Licher (Winnie).

The musical will be presented at 8 p.m. today and Saturday in Shryock Auditorium.

This is the 11th season for the Summer Music Theater, but the first year that there has been a full-time stock company.

Other Summer Music Theater productions are "Once Upon a Mattress," Aug. 5, 6 and 7; and "Brigadoon," Aug. 19, 20, 26 and 27.

'W,' 'Incomplete' Mostly Affected

Some changes in the grading system have been put into effect beginning with the summer quarter. Most of the changes concern "W" grades and incomplete grades.

The new grading system creates a few changes and clarifies certain matters in the old system, according to an explanation given by the Faculty Council.

The grading scale will still be the same, ranging from five points for every hour of "A" work to one point for every hour of "E" work turned in. As usual, any work below the "B" level will not be accepted for credit toward a graduate degree.

The new "W" grade classifications and the other grading symbols are:

W—Given for authorized withdrawal with no basis for evaluation established. Work may not be completed. This symbol is used only on the graduate level, except in unusual circumstances when an academic unit dean recommends a change in grade from "Ab" to "W" for a student.

Wp—Given for withdrawal with a passing grade. Work in the course may not be completed. This applies to both graduate and undergraduate levels.

WE—Given for authorized withdrawal with a failing grade. The course work may not be completed. This applies to both graduate and undergraduate levels.

Inc.—Incomplete. The student has the instructor's permission to complete the course. This applies to both graduate and undergraduate levels.

Def.—Deferred. This symbol is used only for graduate courses of an individual, continuing nature such as thesis or research.

Ab—Given for unauthorized withdrawal. This symbol counts the same as E for academic. It applies to both graduate and undergraduate levels.

Gus says changes in the grading system certainly may make them clearer but they don't make them any easier to get.

65 Students Working In Industry

More than 65 SIU students are working in industry this summer as part of the cooperative-education program. They are at various firms in Illinois and in the St. Louis area.

Working at the Alton Box Board Co. in Alton are William A. Walker (order and planning dept.), Howard Reed and Thomas Timmerman (research and development), Karl Schroeder (accounting), and Craig Davidson (personnel). John E. Morris is doing general merchandising work for Montgomery Ward in Murphysboro.

William E. Mueller and Michael E. Carrigan are working in the product testing department of the Allis Chalmers Co. in Springfield.

Three students, Ray Hess, Michael R. Harris, and Lynn H. Ripper, are in the accounting and public relations department of the Falstaff Brewing Corp. in St. Louis.

Ten students are working for the Jewel Tea Co. in Mount Vernon. They are Jerry B. Harlow, Michael R. Knight, Candace R. Robb, Mary J. Otto, Paula L. Noble, Gary L. Clevenger, Jeffrey L. Balliett, James K. Irvin, Roy E. Adams and William E. Borah.

In addition, 40 students are gaining industrial experience with the California Packing Corp. and the Green Giant Corp. at plants in northern Illinois.

Five students are doing social work with the Illinois Department of Public Aid in Springfield.

Students interested in gaining experience in industry should contact Bruno W. Bierman at the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance.

EUGENE LAURENT

Actors From SIU Participate In Lincolnland Drama Festival

It won't take a time machine to project Eugene Laurent from the 1830s to 1858 and back again—he will have only to add a few more lines to his Abraham Lincoln facial make-up and change from Homespun to black broadcloth, and vice versa.

Laurent is playing the Civil War President in two plays presented this summer by SIU's Department of Theater in its first Lincolnland Drama Festival—one at New Salem State Park, the other in Springfield.

A company of collegiate actors has been sent by SIU to New Salem State Park, near Springfield, to stage 15 performances of E. P. Conkle's "Prologue to Glory," the dramatized version of Lincoln's youthful and romantic years (1831-37) at the very locale where the park now stands. An SIU Theater company also presented the play there last summer.

Alternate dates are given over to a production of "Our American Cousin," the hilarious comedy by Tom Taylor which was presented in Ford's Theater in Washington the night President Lincoln was assassinated.

The New Salem run will be interrupted to permit the Southern Players to stage a world premiere of a new Lincoln play in the state capital, giving three performances Aug. 16-18. This play, "Lincoln at Springfield: November, 1858," was written by Louis Catron of Springfield, a doctoral student in theater at SIU.

Laurent, a visiting faculty member on the SIU theater staff this summer, is the new head of the theater department of MacMurry College, Jacksonville.

The Lincolnland Drama festival is sponsored jointly by the SIU Department of Theater and the State Department of Conservation, which supervises Illinois' state parks.

Why Not Consider Student Discounts?

The Carbondale Chamber of Commerce should at least consider offering a discount to SIU students.

As reported in the Daily Egyptian, the plan is now being tried in Murfreesboro, Tenn., where students receive a 10 per cent discount in many stores. It is still too early to know if the discounts have helped or hurt local businessmen.

The director of the Carbondale Chamber of Commerce says he doesn't think the discount would be possible for many local merchants.

It's no secret that many students don't shop in Carbondale because they think they can get items cheaper elsewhere. A discount of even five per cent might stimulate enough buying to offset any immediate loss in profit.

The discount might raise problems with residents who don't get the discount, but it might keep more money in Carbondale and would surely help improve relations between students and merchants.

These factors will have to be weighed, but the idea of a discount is worth consideration by the Chamber of Commerce.

Off-Campus Fee Provides More Benefits for Less

To the editor:

This is in response to Ronald D. Koblitz's letter to the Daily Egyptian of July 26.

I thank you most wholeheartedly for informing me about the many benefits which the on-campus fee provided. However, I still feel that the off-campus fee will provide more in comparison to yours.

There will be a small fee instead of the $13.50 "required" by Thompson Point. The results of the off-campus fee will be. The meet your professor program, the learning to study program, the maintenance of the off-campus center, the annual Sweetheart Dance (besides the many other dances throughout the year), and the Informer, an off-campus newspaper which is more than a local grapevine media.

I have been informed that there are approximately 4,500 students living on campus compared to 8,000 students living off campus. The proposed budget for off-campus is $15,950 compared to $8,117 for TP. I have also been informed that there is only a possible income of $15,000, since only 5,000 will pay, leaving a deficit of $950. This is the reason why I am questioning the optimism of the Off-Campus Executive Council.

It is my understanding that the administration turned down the Off-Campus Executive Council's request for a mandatory fee which is similar to the so-called voluntary fee on campus. It is also my understanding that Vice-President Ruffner said that President Morris has decided that all social fees shall be voluntary. This would include your resident hall fee, which the Off-Campus Executive Council has told me was always voluntary. Why wasn't I informed of this when I lived on campus?

It was stated in the old housing contract that I had to pay this fee. In the contracts, which state in Article VII, section III, that a student's contract may be involuntarily terminated if he doesn't pay this fee.

So you see Mr. Koblitz, I am not spoon fed and do more than sleep and eat!

Howdy to Democracy

Texan Elbie Jay Couldn't Find Prince for Daughter to Marry

By Arthur Hoppe (San Francisco Chronicle)

Howdy there, folks. How y'all? Time for another tee-vee visit with the rootin'-tootin' Jay Family, starring ol' Elbie Jay, who can rope, hogtie and brand 500 Congressmen quicker'n a wink. "Course, he's also got two young daughters.

As we join up with ol' Elbie today, he and his pretty wife, Birdie Bird, are in the parlor of the big white house. Birdie Bird keeps lookin' out the window and ol' Elbie appears a mite fidgety.

Elbie: Well, I suppose we got to talk to them about the marrying. Where they from? Waukegan, Illinois? Waukegan! It ain't even in Cook County.

Birdie Bird: Now, Elbie, you know Pat's a very nice boy. And I'm sure his parents are lovely people, too.

Elbie: Maybe so. But what's wrong with that daughter of ours? Why, she could've married a duke or a prince—some young fellow whose folks we could treat as equals.

Birdie Bird: Shhh! Here they come now. Now you be nice, you hear? (The parents of the intended groom, a pleasant-looking middle-class couple enter. Elbie rises and extends his hand with a professional smile.)

Elbie: Sure nice of you to come howdy and press the flesh. That's a fine boy you got. You must be mighty proud of him, serving in his country's uniform.

Groom's Mother: Yes, Of course, every time I think of how fortunate he was to be assigned to duty right here in Washington, I thank God.

Elbie (with a wave of his hand): Don't mention it. Glad to do it for the young man our daughter has democratically chosen as her intended. Like I said to Birdie Bird here, "Our country ain't got no room for class distinctions."

Groom's Father: How odd, That's virtually what I said to Mother here after Pat broke the news to us.

Groom's Mother: Yes, I will admit I was a little disappointed at first. I did have my heart set on Pat marrying a college girl.

Elbie (frowning): What do you mean? She goes to college.

Groom's Mother: Oh, yes, a nursing college, isn't it? I'd thought more of a real college. But then Father here said there was no disgrace in having a nurse in the family these days. Not if she's a registered nurse. And by the way, how are her grades?

Elbie (testily): She's had a lot on her mind lately. And her sister does real well in college.

Groom's Mother: Oh, the one that runs around with movie stars? I suppose girls in Texas do mature early, don't they? For Pat's sake, I hope so. Not that we have anything against Texans, mind you. In Waukegan we treat them as equals.

Groom's Father: Yes, as I said to Mother here, "At least it beats Pat's fighting in Viet Nam." And after all, I said, this is a democracy. So despite the obvious handicap of an immature wife with a penchant for notoriety who comes from the backwoods section of Texas and who is not—academically inclined, I'm sure that Pat will somehow still manage to go far.

Elbie (thundering): Yep, about 10,000 miles. Just as soon as I can sign his transfer orders.

Well, tune in to our next episode, friends. And meantime as you mosey on down the long trail of life, remember what Elbie's ol' granddaddy used to say:

"Tain't no use for proud daddies to fret about their tads marrying beneath 'em. They ain't got no other choice."

Makers Might Yield to Legislation

Cycle Epidemic Creates Safety Problems

By Tim Metz
The Wall Street Journal

Compared with the motorcycle, the automobile is as safe as a hobby horse.

That's what that growing band of vociferous road-safety advocates claims; and they propose to do something about it. But the major makers of the motorcycles—aware of the hole auto makers put themselves into seemingly ignoring initial safety outcries—hope to fend off the attack by doing something about safety themselves.

"You betcha we're worried about safety," says James E. Jingu, director of advertising and public relations for Yamaha International Corp. "If there's anything that could slow this great motorcycle boom, it would be legislation that might weaken the industry's sales." As a result, he says, Yamaha, a major seller of the cycles in the U.S., has started working on several safety innovations and plans a nationwide safety-education campaign for motorcyclists.

"We don't want to get caught flat-footed by any governmental action," declares Matt I. Matsuoka, public relations director of American Honda Motor Corp., which has an estimated 65 per cent of the U.S. motorcycle market. The company is readying a motorcycle safety program for high schools, and is preparing to set up the "first motorcycle accident research program, ever undertaken in this country."

The program, is to be set up in conjunction with an arm of the University of California at Los Angeles, would be aimed at making the cycles safer. Says Matsuoka: "Our concern

The Department of Music will present the Summer University Choir and the Summer University Chamber Choir in a concert Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Davis Auditorium. The concert is free and the public is invited to attend. Music credit will be given.

with safety has to increase as the number of cycles does."

But it may be too late. Sen. Vance Hartke, the Indiana Democrat, gave a Senate speech calling attention to the "epidemic of motorcycle mishaps." He urged a full investigation of the causes of motorcycle accidents and recommended a seven-point program, including federal motorcycle design standards.

There's no question that safety is a problem. A National Safety Council study of motorcycles, completed but not yet issued, will show that 1,580 cyclists were killed last year, up from 1,118 in 1964 and 882 in 1963. Deaths have increased faster than the number of cycles recently, say officials of several states.

The council also found that in many states motorcycle deaths "range between 20 and 40" per 100 million miles of travel, compared with a 5.6 death rate for automobiles. Says Dr. Paul W. Gikas, associate professor of pathology at the University of Michigan who has made a study of traffic accidents: "As things are now I believe the motorcycle safety situation is just about hopeless."

The motorcycle death rate has been high for many years, but the actual number of deaths has never been as startling as at present because only recently have motorcycles become really popular. Sales of the machines last year nearly doubled to 650,000 from 350,000 in 1964 and this year's total could exceed 700,000.

The industry had been counting on volume of 800,000, but increased draft calls have cut into the list of potential buyers. The cycles now are used by commuters in some cities and by a growing number of high school and college students. It is estimated there are about two million motorcycles in use in the U.S.

It isn't known just exactly what standards, if any, the governments finally will enact. "We've felt a pressure from governments with regard to noise, the wearing of protective headgear, licensing and other safety items. How much farther these will go we just don't know," says William H. Davidson, president of Harley-Davidson Motorcycle Co., the biggest U.S. maker. (Honda and Yamaha are Japanese companies.)

Some states are considering making the wearing of safety helmets mandatory ("Don't call them crash helmets," pleads one motorcycle dealer) and this already has shown up in sales of the gear. American Safety Equipment Corp. says it sold almost as many helmets in the first half of this year as it sold in all 1965.

But making all cyclists wear them is controversial. "The motorcyclist uses his ears and his peripheral vision to a far greater extent than a car driver and some helmets would impede this," says an official of the American Motorcycle Association. Adds Thomas Johnson vice president of American Safety Equipment: "There's the problem of defining a safety helmet. Hundreds of companies make them and a lot of cheap ones are virtually useless." (His company's model costs $20.)

Nevertheless, there is some feeling that legislation eventually will come. Dot Robinson, co-owner of a Detroit Harley-Davidson dealership says: "With the terrific influx of new cyclists, it's impossible to adequately educate them about safety. So I guess the law will have to step in."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rejecting the course favored by President Johnson, the Senate Labor Committee on Thursday voted down a resolution calling for airline strike negotiations with congressional scrutiny but no back-to-work bill.

That opened the way for a decision on legislation to force an end to the three-week old strike that has shut down five major airlines.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said he has the backing in the committee and in the Senate to win enactment of that measure.

Reporting defeat of the administration's wait-and-see approach, Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., said simply: "It doesn't do anything."

Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., proposed the resolution, following the administration advice offered by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz. Wirtz said the strike has not yet created an emergency that warrants congressional intervention.

Hill said the vote against that plan was 10 to 5.

The action, at a three-hour closed committee session, put before the panel Morse's bill to order the strikers back to work for six months, with federal mediators seeking a contract settlement—and reporting to Congress if there is none within five months.

Underground Test Conducted by AEC

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission conducted an underground low-yield nuclear test at its Nevada test site Thursday as part of the Plowshare program to develop peaceful uses for nuclear explosives.

A low-yield explosion is the equivalent of up to 20,000 tons of TNT.

An AEC spokesman said the test was one of a series to develop devices for use in possible later excavation experiments. It was the third one announced this year.

Wilson and Johnson Meet in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson headed for Washington Thursday for a one-day conference with President Johnson focusing on Britain's financial plight and prospective retrenchment on her overseas military commitments.

Viet Nam and East-West relations also were on the prospective discussion list for Wilson's fourth visit to the U.S. capital since becoming prime minister 21 months ago.

Critics of U.S. Viet Nam policy demonstrated at London Airport as Wilson took off. "Tell Johnson quit Viet Nam" and "Speak for us, not U.S.," were among slogans directed at the British leader.

While the British chief has made a practice of underlining the close U.S.-British relationship with a call at Washington about every six months, Friday's talks carry added significance because of Britain's financial plight and the Viet Nam situation.

An island nation that has experienced continued difficulty since World War II but is regaining her once-strong financial position, Britain is now in a particularly severe crisis from a balance-of-payments drain. This in turn affects her ability to keep up her traditional defense roles in foreign lands.

The United States has an interest in a strong pound alongside a sound dollar in international finance—and in Britain's maintaining abroad a security role complementing America's.

Britain has more than 50,000 troops in West Germany and about 50,000 in Malaysia, though none directly in the fighting in nearby Viet

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Fowler and Undersecretary of State George W. Ball have been in Europe examining, among other things, how to help prop up the wobbling pound. At home, Wilson has ordered an emergency belt-tightening program.

Wilson also was expected to tell Johnson about his visit to Moscow last week. Prime Minister Alexei N. Kosygin rebuffed a Wilson bid to get peace talks going on Viet Nam.

Frenchman Beats Death Valley Heat

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dirty, bearded and nearly done to a turn, Jean Pierre Marquant staggered Thursday to the end of what you might call a cooked tour—a 102-mile hike through broiling Death Valley.

"I'm happy it's over," said the footsore and weary Frenchman.

He was taken to Death Valley National Monument headquarters at Furnace Creek, and left shortly thereafter for Los Angeles.

Friends who met him as he finished said he appeared in good physical condition, except for swollen, blistered feet on a mighty thirst.

The 28-year-old former paratrooper began his hike last Wednesday, suavely announcing he wanted "to show there is still adventure in the States."

JFK Coin Supply Still Is Sparse

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's undoubtedly been a long time since you've received a half-dollar in change. And a Treasury Department official said Thursday it will probably be early next year before the supply will be large enough to permit normal circulation of the coins.

Despite record and near-record production of halves, they have failed to find their way into commercial channels mainly because they are being saved as mementoes of the late President John F. Kennedy, Treasury officials believe.

Since 1964, all half-dollars placed in circulation have borne the likeness of the assassinated president. Many have been taken overseas, also as souvenirs and mementoes.

Robert A. Wallace, assistant secretary of the Treasury whose jurisdiction includes the U.S. Mint, said the overseas movement of the Kennedy halves has apparently stopped but they are still scarce.

He expects them to circulate more freely once Americans realize they will be the coin of the realm for the next 25 years and there's little need to collect them.

The Treasury, as always, is making fewer halves than any other coin because the 50-cent piece isn't as important to everyday commerce as the quarter, dime, nickel and penny, Wallace said.

He added the problem was aggravated during the basic coin shortage which faced the nation the past few years. The shortage is now officially over except for the half-dollar.

Right now the Treasury has a backlog of 31/2 billion coins and is increasing that inventory to guard against a future shortage. But the stockpile lacks half dollars.

Holdup Man Gets $1,400 at Ottawa

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP)—A holdup man took about $1,400 from the Ottawa Federal Savings and Loan Association shortly after noon today.

The firm's managing officer, M.C. Jorstad, said a man walked into the association, demanded the money from the one teller on duty then fled. Jorstad said no weapon was seen.

U.S. Combat Casualties Rose to 136 Last Week

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—B52 jet bombers hit at three suspected Communist troop concentrations Thursday in a flurry of air strikes that coincided with disclosure 136 Americans died in combat last week—more than double the toll of the previous week.

U.S. battle deaths in Viet Nam since 1961 rose to 4,440 exceeding those in four of the United States' eight previous wars. The roll of the others: Revolution 4,435; 1812, 2,260; Mexican, 1,733; Spanish-American 385.

A U.S. Navy A4 Skyhawk from the carrier Oriskany and its pilot were missing over North Viet Nam. Assigned to a raid on a missile site near Vinh, the Skyhawk was the 311th plane reported lost in attacks above the 17th Parallel.

A military spokesman announced American and Vietnamese fighter-bomber pilots flew a record 826 combat sorties against Communist positions in South Viet Nam in the 24-hour period up to dawn. U.S. Air Force, Marine and Navy fliers handled 542 and Vietnamese 284 of these single-plane strikes.

The eight-engine B52s from Guam staged one saturation raid just below the border in support of Operation Hastings, a sweep which Gen. William C. Westmoreland said appears to have demoralized North Viet Nam's 324B Division. Others ripped into Red-held areas of the Zone D jungle north of Saigon.

Operation Hastings is a 13-day-old drive by U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops against the Red division, estimated at 8,000 or more men, that contributed to higher losses on both sides last week. The allied task force has reported killing 786 of the Hanoi regulars.

U-2 Plane Missing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A high altitude U2 plane flying from the United States toward South America is missing, and the Pentagon said Thursday it assumes the pilot lost consciousness in flight.

A defense department spokesman said the craft, which is used for reconnaissance missions, was "under apparent control of the automatic pilot" maintaining a course south. The plane took off this morning from Barksdale Air Force Base, La., "on a routine mission."

Murder Suspect Shoots Himself When Cornered

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A man accused of murdering his bride of a month and her sister at a summer cottage in Indiana last week-end shot and killed himself Thursday when cornered by police.

Stephen Bruce Wolf, 30, of Marion, Ind., rammed a police car trying to stop him on a bridge, bounced off the railing, hit a passing car, then jammed his own car in reverse, striking a Florida highway patrol car that had been pursuing him, police said.

When Wolf couldn't get his own car started, he pulled a 22-caliber automatic and a two-shot derringer, placed them against the temples on both sides of his head and pulled the triggers at the same time, officers said. He apparently died instantly.

Wolf was charged in Indiana with strangling and stabbing his bride, Marilee, 22, and her sister, Gayle Gaunt, 17. Their bodies were found at the cottage at Lake Tippecanoe, about 50 miles northwest of Fort Wayne Monday morning.

The Indiana police placed wanted bulletins all over the country, with emphasis on Florida, California, New York and Ohio.

Wolf had held several jobs in Indiana, his latest with a well drilling company. His father once owned a dry cleaning store and other businesses.

She Choreographs Musical Show

Broadway Dancer Graces SIU's Summer Scene

By Dianne Anderson

In the sweltering Carbon-dale heat one petite little lady on campus has chosen not to work in air conditioning.

She is red-haired Dede Thomas, professional dance choreographer for the Summer Musical Theater's production of "Annie Get Your Gun."

She and her high school students practice during the heat of the day in Old Main room, 110—sans air conditioning, for Miss Thomas feels that working in the cool air tends to tighten the body muscles. Air conditioning would be dangerous for her students, she believes.

She ought to know; she is a professional.

She has danced in the Broadway productions of "What Make Sammy Run" and "Bye Bye, Birdie." She has also performed for the "Town Hall" dance concert, also in New York City.

Appearances on the "Today" and "Tonight" television shows came in connection with her role in "Sammy" in the evenings, and her daytime work as a substitute teacher in a New York junior high school.

When the "Birdie" cast was on the road, she taught all subjects to a sixth grader, three freshmen, two sophomores, two juniors and a senior in the cast. A company is required to carry a tutor if they have school age children in the group. Miss Thomas was the tutor in addition to playing the part of one of the teenagers in the show.

She also danced in a production of "West Side Story" with Larry Kert, who originated the role of Tony. This was while she was a dancing instructor at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

"I prefer the college atmosphere to professional life," Miss Thomas said. "I don't have the temperament for a gypsy. I admire the gypsy life and can enjoy it for a short time but I like kids and teaching is more rewarding."

As a professional your main concern is yourself; in teaching you're working to help young people. I do like concert work, though."

Miss Thomas will be here for three weeks as a result of a call from SIU's William Taylor. She was anxious to come to SIU and had heard of the school through the name of R. Buckminster Fuller, SIU architectural designer.

She arrived here July 9 and has been busy ever since. "The people are so nice, I can't believe it," said Miss Thomas, herself very friendly. A man came up to her in a local cafeteria to say "hello" and say that he'd seen her dancing. She was very surprised because people just don't talk to each other in New York.

"I can't get over all the milk machines. I've never met so many people who drink milk," she said as she talked about the campus.

One of the things that Car-

bondale does lack is enclosed telephone booths. Miss Thomas lives on the "hotel floor" of Neely Hall, the 17th story, and thinks it's a wonderful building. She likes having a hair dryer, clothes washer and dryer, study lounge, TV room and kitchenette all within a few steps.

She was surprised when she found out that she had to cross a railroad track to get to school: "Do you know any other school with a train running through the middle of it?" Frankly, no.

The building boom and the motorcycle traffic are two other aspects of the campus that impressed her almost immediately.

She and her high school dancers rehearse daily from 1:30 to 4:30 and 7 to 10 p.m. in the non-conditioned Old Main room. She will also teach two classes in body movement and modern dance in the mornings.

The two leads in "Annie" according to Miss Thomas, will be filled by high schoolers but some of the SIU resident dancers will also be in the production.

The time is going quickly for Miss Thomas and she is impressed with the improvements her students have made in the few days of rehearsals.

"They really work hard and I already have four dances mapped out," she said. At times, it is confusing for her because some are on a two-week program, others on a three week program, and there are so many other activities going on at the same time.

Aspiring young dancers, according to Miss Thomas, should definitely have ballet and jazz in their backgrounds. Singing is the most important side study. She explains that a singer need not necessarily dance but dancers must be able to sing. Acting training comes later.

New York is the destination for many young dancers because of Broadway but Miss Thomas does not feel that this is necessary. There are excellent professional companies associated with large cities and universities, she said.

Amateur dancers may have to distinguish between an equity call and an open call while checking out auditions. Equity auditions require the dancer to have a union card. In order to get a union card one must have been in a production. Most casting first has an equity call and then an open call. Miss Thomas first got her equity card after her work in "Bye Bye Birdie."

In 1956 and 1959, Miss Thomas won scholarships to the Connecticut College for Women in New London for its summer program in dance. She worked with such famous modern dancers as Jose Limon and Martha Graham.

The afternoon she graduated from the Ohio State University Department of Dancing, she was on the train for New York.

She now considers herself a New Yorker. "I can't stand to be bothered with a car. When I want to go somewhere I know a subway will take me. It's delicious," she said, her green eyes twinkling.

This fall Miss Thomas will return to New York to teach dancing and sex education at Hunter College's high school. She is very enthusiastic about the position in the experimental school and says it has a well established dance department which, among other things, puts on a dance concert each year.

In New York she enjoys reading, visiting art museums and, of course, attending the theater in the evenings. Here she hasn't had much time for relaxation.

She doesn't know how to frug, jerk, or watusi but she says that her students are trying to teach her.

Dressed in slacks and a backless knit top with her medium-length hair tied back, Miss Thomas explained that she had on her bathing suit and was on her way to the sun deck because somebody told her that she must be from up north because she was so fair skinned. She said that one thing she was taking back to New York was a southern Illinois sultan.

given only for non-credit courses.

U—Unsatisfactory.—This is given only for non-credit courses.

Au—Given for courses which are audited. No credit hours or grade will be given.

All complete grades and "WE" and "Ab" grades are included in determining student grade point averages for academic retention.

Authorized withdrawals through program changes will receive no grade for the course. Otherwise, authorized withdrawals will receive "Wp," "WE" or "Ab" grades when students withdraw from a course, depending upon their standing in class at the time of withdrawal.

A student registered for a course for audit or credit may change to a credit status or vice versa through the regular program change procedure during the first four weeks of a quarter. Thereafter, the change cannot be made.

The change in the system was recommended to the president at a meeting of the Faculty Council last Jan. 11.

Final Exam Schedule

Aug. 29 - Sept. 2, 1966

A class meeting at the hours listed below will have its 50-minute final examination on the first day listed provided that day is one on which the class has regularly scheduled lecture session.

If not, the examination will be scheduled for the second day listed provided that day is one on which the class has a regularly scheduled lecture session.

If a class does not meet on either of those two days it will have its examination on the day of the week on which the last regularly scheduled lecture session is held.

If a class is of a type in which no lecture sessions are employed, it will have its examination on one of the regular meeting days which will cause the fewest number of students in the class to have more than three examinations on that day. Otherwise, it may be scheduled on the most convenient regular meeting day by the instructor.

A makeup period on Thursday, Sept 1, at 11:30 a.m. is to be used for examinations for students who have more than three examinations on one day and who receive approval from their academic deans to defer one until the makeup period. When more than three are created by a departmental examination, the one to be deferred will be the departmental one.

Classes meeting at 3:30 p.m. will schedule their examinations on the first lecture day during the first examination week.

An SIU study group spending part of the summer in Germany has come in for high praise by the German press.

Reporting a visit of the group to Cuxhaven, the Cuxhavener Zeitung said, "In Cuxhaven they were the best friends one could imagine; and we realized that we have more friends in the world than we sometimes believe."

The study group, directed by Hellmut A. Hartwig, SIU foreign languages professor, includes 50 secondary school teachers of German. It is supported by a grant from the U.S. Office of Education.

Three SIU Students Complete Work With Methodist Parish

Three SIU students, Sue Dickey, Linda O'Neil, and John Sims, are completing seven weeks of work for the East St. Louis Inner City Methodist Parish.

The students were members of a group of 30 summer missionaries who are high school and college students.

The three did street ministry in an interracial situation. This ministry consisted of games, Bible story telling and singing. Some of the students coached ball teams. There were two two-week periods of day camping.

The students also rented, decorated and conducted a

The summer project has attracted college men and women from as far away as Maryland, Florida, Louisiana and Texas. Eight states and 15 universities were represented.

Warm-Up for Weekend Action

Salukis to Play Murphysboro

The baseball Salukis warm up for weekend league action today as they travel to Murphysboro for an 8 p.m. contest.

After the Murphysboro game, to be played on the Riverside Park diamond, SIU will play host to St. Louis University.

Doubleheaders are set for 2 p.m on Saturday and Sunday at the SIU diamond.

Displaying a 16-10 overall record, the Salukis have a Miswest Summer League mark of 7-8, putting them in the middle of the three team league.

Parsons is far in front of the field, and the Bills of St. Louis are deep in the cellar.

Joe Lutz will go with Rick Iverson in the Murphysboro game. Iverson has yet to win and decision and has lost one.

Righthander Don Kirkland will start on the mound in the St. Louis opener. Kirkland is 4-2, and Mike Weber, who will go the second game, has a mark of 4-1.

Sunday's starters have been announced as Bob Ash (2-3) and Skip Pitlock, whose mark stands at 3-2.

Hawks Sign Pact

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks announced Thursday they had signed the first complete working agreement with a minor league team in the history of the National Basketball Association.

The Hawks said they had signed a farm agreement that calls for them to provide the complete roster for the Battle Creek, Mich., Braves of the North American League.

Villarete Advances In Tourney Play

SIU's Jose Villarete, in his first year on the summer amateur tennis circuit, has advanced to the third round in the Eastern Grass Court Championships being held at South Orange, N.J.

Villarete, the No. 2 man on Coach Dick LeFevre's 1966 spring squad, whipped Lamar Roemer of Rice, 16-14, 6-4 for his first-round victory.

In the second round, UCLA's Steve Tidball was dropped by Villarete, 6-3, 6-4. Owen Davidson, a high-ranking Australian, was slated as the third round foe for Villarete. Going into the third round, only 16 of the field remained, representing many of the greatest amateur players in the world.

Villarete was to begin doubles competition Wednesday, teaming with Jasjit Singh, a native of India and a varsity member of the University of Notre Dame tennis team.

Their opponents were to be Tidball and Roy Barth, both of UCLA, a perennial power on the courts.
