Twenty-One Southern Students Chosen For 1948-49 Who's Who

Twenty-one students from Southern were recently chosen for their outstanding leadership and scholastic average to appear in the 1948-49 edition of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges, it was announced by the president's office this week.

In making nominations, students with scholastic average below 3.5 were dropped from the list of those submitted along with the name of any student who appeared in Who's Who last year.

Faculty Committee To Direct Legislative Program

Twelve member Faculty Legislative committee has been recently established to direct the legislative program of Southern, with Dr. Orville Alexander, director of Dr. Orville Alexander, director of Alumni services, as chairman.

This committee will not only assist in getting the present proposed budget accepted by the legislature, but will work also on the program of placing Southern under a separate governing board.

Other members of the faculty serving on this committee are: John Allen, acting director of the museum; Roy Bryant, executive assistant in education and administration; Raymond H. Day, director of placements service; Miss Lorend Drummond, director of information service; Dr. W. C. McDaniel, acting chairman of the mathematics department; Edward V. Miles, Jr., business manager.

Academic requirements for certification in some cases were extremely low, he found. These were instances where high school graduates or those with less training were accepted.

Dr. Randolph declared, increases in public school enrollment because of increases in the birth rate will place a new strain on the teaching profession. More teachers or larger classes will be necessary. Many things can be done to alleviate the

Miss Cleopatra Makes Her Debut. In This Issue

Cleopatra, allegedly having been the fairest lady of Egypt, is being recreated in the form of one of Southern's loveliest coeds.

Beginning with this issue, the Egyptian will feature each week one of Southern's fairest and call her "Miss Cleopatra" for that week. She will reign from the same upper-left corner of the front page each time.

Any person may submit a picture of the girl whom they think deserves recognition for her attractiveness and personality. Any girl on the campus is eligible for nomination if she has not been in the queen's court or any other beauty contest at Southern. Final selection of each weekly "Cleopatra" will be made by the editors.

Teacher Shortage Getting Worse Says Randolph

The teacher shortage problem is getting worse—not better, according to a Southern educator.

Dr. Victor Randolph, associate professor of education, has recently completed a report on the shortage and teaching certificates in the U. S. By means of a questionnaire he determined to learn the extent and quality of the certificates for the school years of 1947-48 and 1947-48.

Substandard Certificates For the school year of 1946-47, excluding Connecticut, Massachusetts, Montana, Ohio, and the city of Baltimore, approximately 120,000 teachers, 120,000 are holding substandard certificates. This indicates that among one in seven teachers now do not hold standard certificates, Dr. Randolph estimates.

In the next three or four years, Randolph declared, increases in public school enrollment because of increases in the birth rate will place a new strain on the teaching profession. More teachers or larger classes will be necessary. Many things can be done to alleviate the

Southern's Operating Budget Snags: Assembly Next to Meet on Building

Telegrams have been sent to all members of the State Budgetary Commission by members of the five state supported educational institutions requesting a $3,260,000 cut to which the commission has requested be given their combined operating budgets.

Southern's share of this cut would mean serious injury to the University's planned operations for 1949-51. All five institutions regard this as being so serious that they are asking for a second hearing on the budgets. Since Southern is now a University compared with the four other colleges recreated in the form of one of Southern's loveliest coeds.

Having the approval of its governing board, Southern is preparing to ask the General Assembly for appropriations to carry on a major building program totaling $36,855,170 during 1948-51.

Ernie Limpus and his orchestra spotlighted at the W.S.C. Christmas dance, are returning by popular demand with their "music sweet with a beat."

The lower floor of the building will be used for serving refreshments as the dancing commences on the second floor. The evening's entertainment will also include a floor show. Dean of Women Helen A. Shuman has announced that women students attending the winter term will have late leave until 12:30.

Sunday afternoon the committee will introduce its regular Sunday afternoon Old Science, which will be opened offering a wide variety of entertainment. In the gym either basketball or badminton will be under way. In the Little Theatre tables and sets will be provided for chess, checkers, cards and other table games.

The afternoon session will be closed with a supper in the Little Theatre, and possibly a short program.

Southern Takes Over Chautauqua Housing Project

Southern's first move was to lower and equalize rentals. E. R. Wolfe, veteran's housing supervisor, announced last week after acquiring the barracks comprising the 105-apartment Chautauqua Street Veterans Housing project.

Title to the buildings has been transferred to the Public Housing administration of the federal government to the State/Teachers College board for the use and benefit of the University, Wolfe explained.

A new equalized schedule of rental charges for the apartments will go into effect Jan. 1—$35 per month for all student tenants, $45 per month for all faculty members and $60 for all other tenants. Six of the 105 apartments may be used for non-tenant faculty members.

Formerly, students were charged rentals on the sliding scale equivalent to one-fourth of the monthly family income but with a ceiling of $40 and a floor of $22.50, plus a $6 per month charge for furniture rental. The average rental was between $41 and $42 per month under the old scale, the great majority paying in excess of $35.

There will be no charge for furniture after Jan. 1, although the present charge of $12.50 per month for electric current used by each electric refrigerator operated will be continued.

President's Office Announces New Staff Appointments

A number of recent faculty and staff appointments have been announced by the President's Office at Southern. They include: Miss Jane Crichton of Herrin as assistant personnel in the Business Manager's office; Miss Crichton is a graduate of Southern.

Mrs. Marjorie Enriette as alumni recorder in the Office of Alumni Services. Mrs. Enriette holds the bachelor's degree from Southern.

Robert Schwartz as part-time instructor in government, for the winter term. Schwartz holds the bachelor's degree from the University of Illinois, and the bachelor of law degree from the University of Alabama.

Norman Bitterman as part-time assistant professor of economics for the winter term. Mr. Bitterman is executive director of Southern Illinois, Inc., and is executive secretary of the Southern Illinois Survey which is being carried on jointly by the University of Illinois, Southern Illinois University, the State Water Survey, the State Geological Survey, and the State Natural History Survey.

Mrs. Edna Spires Travis, as instructor in English for the winter and spring terms. Mrs. Travis will also serve as assistant to the director of honorary high school dormitories. She holds both the bachelor's and master's degrees from Southern.

Charles W. Allen, Cornelius A. Jongodyk and Walter M. Troutman, all faculty assistants in industrial education, reappointed for the winter and spring terms.

Miss Jane Meco, faculty assistant in physiology and health education.

A number of other part-time faculty assistants appointed in the fall will continue to serve throughout the year, including: Charles A. Bielecki, master's student in physics; Mrs. Elizabeth Bischof, assistant registrar; Arlie W. Lodwie, director of high school dormitories; Dorothy Horton Prentiss, English; Robert Pulliam, English; Mrs. Josie M. Russell, education; and James C. Springs, mathematics.

Miss Louise Bach, assistant professor in University high school, who had obtained a sabbatical leave for 1948-49 to work on her doctor's degree at Columbia university, has returned to her teaching duties.

Southern To Survey Present Nursing Situation

Southern has been authorized by its governing board to conduct a careful survey of Southern Illinois to determine the need for a nursing education program and the most practical way to set up such a program at the University, President D. W. Morris has announced.

The survey will be started in the immediate future, President Morris said, and it is hoped that results will be available in time to be presented to the General Assembly and a resolution to develop consideration of Southern's proposed 1949-51 operating budget.

Duo-Pianists Will Appear January 7

Having their bluff called resulted in the teaming of Arthur Whittemore and Jack Lowe, duo-pianists to appear in Shroyck auditorium at 8 p.m. Jan. 7.

WHITTEMORE and LOWE

The two young musicians who met at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y., where they both majored in composition, Whittemore, who had started his musical career as a pianist, and Lowe, who began as a violinist, became friends. When Whittemore's aunt invited the pair for a holiday at her home in Puerto Rico, they told her jokingly that they were famous in the United States as a two-piano team, although they had never played together at that time.

On their arrival in Puerto Rico they discovered that their host, as patron of the local Pro Arte Music society, had arranged a concert for them. The two quickly assembled all available musicians and directed a strange ensemble and started practicing earnestly. The success of the concert made them decide to embark on a career together.

The duo pianist will appear here under the sponsorship of the Community Concerts association. Students will be admitted by activity tickets.

Band Concert Will Be Presented February 1

The first formal concert of the year will be presented by the 75-piece Southern band under the direction of Harvey Hines, in Shroyck auditorium at 8 p.m. Feb. 1. Immediately following the football season, the band started rehearsing numbers for the program, and Director Hines has said he believes it will be one of the best performances by the band in several years.

Bob Thomas, freshman from Marion will hold the feature spot light as baritone soloist for the evening.

The concert will be open to the public.

Merwin Elected Vice-President At IEA Meeting

Dr. Bruce Mervin, professor of education, was elected vice-president of the Illinois Educational Association in a recent meeting. Dr. Merwin is currently on the Association's State governing committee for public relations during the Christmas holidays on the department of the Illinois Southern Divisional Educational Association.

Alumni Petition General Assembly For Change In Board Operations

Representative Ora Dillavon (Rep.) Champagne has stated that he would fight any attempt to create a special board to govern Southern Illinois University. He said that if such a measure were introduced he would throw a bill in the hopper to put all state colleges, including the University of Illinois, under a single governing board.

Telegrams have been sent by Southern's Alumni association to all members of the General Assembly urging creation of a "separate and independent board to direct and administer the affairs of Southern Illinois University," Dr. Leo Brown, alumni president, has stated.

This means the removal of the State Teachers College board from the control by the state Department of Registration and Education which now governs by the governor. As it is, the board cannot act without going through political channels, resulting in interference and red tape.

At a meeting here attended by 11 of the 16-member alumni board, a resolution was adopted urging this move. Dr. Brown said: "The alumni board invited University President D. W. Morris, Dr. Charles D. Tenney, administrative assistant to the president, and Gen. Robert W. Davis of Carbondale, a member of the Teachers College board which now governs Southern, to appear and explain to the alumni representatives the present system of operations under the Teachers College board."

Although the present operations seldom interfere with the selection of faculty members and college administrators, the imperfections appear in the replacement or addition of employees in the physical plant and in the library. It was stated: "The workings of the present plan require that all new employees be obtained through state political channels. Under the new proposed system of Southern would have its own civil service program, and would be able to hire employees directly on a merit basis, regardless of political beliefs."

KDA To Sponsor Variety Show

On Feb. 7, in Shroyck auditorium, the Kappa Delta Alpha fraternity will again sponsor an all-city variety show. The variety show was inaugurated last year by the fraternity, and planned as an annual event.

The acts for the variety show are determined by a committee of five faculty members. Any individual or group is eligible to try out before the committee. The date for this year's tryouts will be announced later. Any information concerning tryouts may be reached at the KDA house or by the fraternity house.

Another phase of the show is the presentation of the Service to Southern award to an upperclassman boy or girl. Any individual or group is eligible to try out before the committee. The date for this year's tryouts will be announced later. Any information concerning tryouts may be reached at the KDA house or by the fraternity house.

The KDA's sponsor the variety show on a non-profit basis. All proceeds are turned over to the student council to be used for the student body as a whole. This year's chairman of finances is William Alberts, of Granite City.

The publicity for the variety show will be managed by Lou Diamond, of Madison, and Louie Gaslin, of Harrisburg.

Ralph Lane, of Eldorado, and Louis Gaslin, of Harrisburg, are co-chairmen, of the entire event; Ralph Lane handling the direction of the show itself.

Smith Has New Book Published

The manuscript of Mae Trovillion Smith's new book, Famous Days of Famous People, has been accepted by Dodd, Mead Co. for publication.

This book, a companion book to her Famous Days of Famous People, was written for the purpose of furnishing the background of authors, artists, scientists, and musicians for the benefit of high school and college students. The price of these well-known people are only a minor phase of the entire book.

Mrs. Smith, instructor in English, was interviewed over KNOX during the Christmas holidays on the subject of her forthcoming publication.

Dr. Merwin said one of the primary objectives of the IEA this year will be federal aid education.

Southern Wins: Record 45 of 47 Home Tilts

Maroons Defeat Culver Tuesday Night by 63-49; Goss High Scorer With 22

With lightning-like action, Southern's Maroons jumped into an early lead and coasted to a 63-49 win over the Culver-Stockton, Me. Wildcats in a cage game held here Tuesday night.

It was the Maroons' 45th victory in the last 47 home games extending over a four-year period.

Charlie Goss went on scoring rampage as he raked up seven field goals and made eight of nine free throw attempts for 22 points—tops for both teams.

Bob Kussack hit the hoop with 9 points, Jack Long connected for 8 points, and Millikin, Glover, Bezarth, and Gladson had 4 each.

Bill Gair of East St. Louis was high for Culver-Stockton with 18 points followed by Harold Flug with 8, Vernie Altizer with 7, and Harold Hillman, Bob Logan, and Jim Jacobs with 6 each.

Southern's sudden scoring spree struck sharply in the Wildcat victory hopes in the opening minutes as the Maroons drove in for fast setups while Culver-Stockton had bad luck with its shots. After eight minutes of play, Southern had accumulated a 15-1 lead.

Southern paced the Wildcats, 22-6, after 14 minutes of play. Coach Lynn Holder then inserted several scorers during the final nine points in the last six minutes. At half-time, however, the Maroons possessed a comfortable 23-15 lead.

The Wildcats hit more of their shots in the second half and outscored the Maroons, 34-32, but Southern's large half-time lead was too much to overcome. In fact, the nearest the Wildcat came to Southern during the second half was the final score.

Southern's "B" squad defeated an independent team, the Herrin Trappers in the preliminary.

MILLIKIN JINX TOO MUCH FOR SIU MAROONS

James Millikin of Decatur snapped the Maroons winning streak 64-58, in a fireman's benefit game played at Flora on Dec. 23.

The Big Blue of James Millikin struck with all its fury in the first half, took a 26-27 lead, and went on to win in the last period.

Eight lettermen, including last year's first five, was returning to Millikin's lineup this year. During 1946 the Millikin squad did what no other team did during the past four years—they defeated Southern on the Maroons' home court.

Highlight of the Millikin scoring was Scott Steagwell with 21 points. Orman and E. Murray had 10 points apiece while Ecker had 12, Root, G., and A. Murray 5.

Flora fans turned out to see its two home town boys—Bob Colborn and Jack Long perform. Colborn, still recovering from a broken leg received in football, was unable to play, but Long turned in a noble performance at the center slot as he scored 16 points.

Bob Kussack of Hopkinton scored 16 points in the last period for Southern high-point honors. Charlie Goss hit for 11 points, Jack Eddie had 8, Bryan 4, and Gladson 3.

Southern turned in a remarkable performance at the three line by hitting 16 of 20 free throws. The Maroons also were hurt in the closing minutes as Gladson and Goss, good defensive players, fouled out.

SIU PLACES THIRD IN VINNENNES HOLIDAY TOURNEY

The Southern Maroons came out third in the Vincennes Holiday Tourney held in the Hoosier city, Dec. 29 and 30. The four entries in the tournament were Evansville College, Eastern Illinois State, Georgetown College of Kentucky, and Southern.

Southern met the eventual tournament winners the first night, and were defeated by the Eastern Illinois team 73-55. The Panthers sparked by 6 foot 7 inch Miller, who made 22 points, took an early lead and were never headed. Wilson dropped in 17 points

Maroon Notes

By Norm Nilsson

Southern has not lost a conference game at home since February of 1944 when they lost to Old Normal. . . . John Sebastian and Ollie Shoaff are now both performing for Hammond in the new professional league. The franchise at Detroit was sold to Hammond. . . . Bill O'Brien's "B" team has racked up three straight wins without a loss. . . . Going into the third year of coaching the Maroons, Lynn Holder's current record is 46 wins against 17 losses. Pretty good in anybody's book. . . . Only two of the 17 losses were conference games. . . . Western Illinois overcame a half time deficit to edge Northern Illinois by nine points in a holiday tourney. . . . Eastern scored 20 points in the last four minutes of the Vincennes championship game with Evansville. The score was tied at 64 all when the onslaught started that netted the Panthers an 88 to 87 victory. . . . Going into the tourney the power of Eastern, Bob Olson, last year's top scorer for the Panthers, has been unable to break into the starting lineup. . . . Bob Olson, captain and leading scorer of the Illinois Normal Red Birds, has been ordered to drop the sport temporarily by his physician. . . . Jack Long is currently leading the Maroon scores with 58 points in the first 8 games. . . . Charlie Penington, center for Georgetown in the Vincennes Tourney, scored 22 points in the opening round but was held to 11 in the final. . . . George Sawyer has fully recovered from his recent operation. . . . We're glad to hear that Joe Hughes will finally be able to discard his crutches.

IIAC Flag Race Opens For Maroons Here Sat. Nite

Defending champion Southern Maroons open the 1947 IIAC-race against Northern State of DeKalb Saturday, Jan. 8 in the Men's gym.

This year's season will mark the third consecutive year that the Maroons have defended the conference crown. The local cagers have won the coveted title for the past three years.

There didn't seem to be much doubt in the outcome of the contest a few weeks ago, but with the recent withdrawal of Jack Eddie, outstanding scorer for the Southern team the last couple of years, have put the Maroons in a precarious position in the flag race.

In the 32 times the two teams have met, the Maroons have been outstanding with 22 wins. They collected two straight wins last season, 52-51 and 51-39; however that was when the Southern team had Willie Bob Colborn, Joe Hughes, Ollie Shoaff and Quentin Simson.

Southern already has lost to a conference member, even though it was not a conference ball game. Evansville, probably a conference winner this year, defeated Southern 72-55 in the Vincennes tournament. Western State defeated Northern in a holiday tournament for the championship by nine points.

Game time is 8:15.

For the opposition, Ernie Bozarth led the Maroons with 17 markers. The Holdermen started slow, and at the end of the eleven minute mark of the first half were trailing 21-5. They then put on steam, and led the floor trailing at the half 33-22. After ten minutes of play in the second half with the score 47-40, the Maroons missed three straight set-ups, and they never were the same after that. The Evansville squad shot 72 times and hit 32 field goals, while Southern hit 25 baskets in 86 attempts.

The Maroons won third, the next night, by downing Georgetown College 80-83. Charley Goss of Marion, led the scoring with 18 points, and meanwhile held the Kentucky squad's ace, Penington, to four points, for one of the best games of Goss' career.

Maroon Cagers Hit Hard As Eddie Withdraws From University Competition

Jack Eddie, basketball's sixth highest scorer in the nation during 1945 and a regular member of the Southern contingent for the past two seasons, has decided to withdraw from the sport. It was disclosed to day by Lynn Holder, basketball coach of the Maroons.

The West Frankfort lad, a member of the 1946 Service All-American squad, related that he was forced to drop basketball and go to work if he was to remain at the University. He plans to work at a coal mine near West Frankfort on week-ends, going to school during the week.

A married veteran and a junior in school, he was the only available returning regular from last year's IAC championship team as Joe Hughes of West Frankfort was to compete in the annual Holiday tourney.

Eddie had tallied 87 points in the six games played to date but was used sparingly due to a leg injury.

EGYPTIAN Sports

The Morning After

By JOHN DE LEONARDO

With the unsuccessfulness of gathering facts good enough to stand up in a court of law, I made a mistake in a signed column of mine several weeks ago. I'm referring to the statement that Eastern approached three Southern players to play for them. I went off half-cocked without getting my facts straight, but I'll never happen that way again. I talked to Bob Colborn before vacation time, but he flatly denied any knowledge of the situation until he read what was written in the EGYPTIAN.

A few days after Christmas, I talked to Chuck Hines via telephone and learned that he was offered only what if any other school is authorized to give, a scholarship and a possible job if so desired.

The above statement explains only the part, which I feel needs explaining. For all the other bits I said in my column, about allowing for athlete substitution, I still feel as strongly if not more so.

Ever since that happened about a month ago, I have talked to numerous athletes of past and present and they seem to feel as I do: maybe not so loudly, but still in agreement. They know as I know that some of the rumored inducements offered over the country are basically wrong, but what can be done about it? The idealist would say to abolish it completely, but you won't find too many idealists in the ranks of sports today. Besides, where would it start, and who would start it?

—common knowledge—

Everyone and his brother who knows anything about modern sports knows it goes on, but he can't put his finger on it and come out with adequate proof. It's a cinch the schools won't stop it. Why should they? Not when it means added prestige with a winning team. Especially not when it means the all-night dollar from the people coming to see the victorious ball club.

—birth of the blues—

I started my first column with rather a bang instead of easing into it like some would have done. But I did it that way in an endeavor to wake up some people. Consequently, I received some loud comment on such, but I was wholeheartedly pleased with the comment, such as it was. I didn't expect anyone to agree with me, at least not openly. And I did not care one particle if the average reader agreed or disagreed with me. What I was more concerned with was the reaction of the athlete; not the one who reads the city papers sees an occasional ball game, and armchair's all the important sports events. He's just a little fellow with utopian ideas.

The reaction of the athletes was most gratifying. Nearly every one I talked to was in agreement with me; not those who are now connected with the competition, and those who have long since finished their productive playing days. Some of the younger lads who recently graduated from high school still have the Purdy Code memorized, but with continued association with older team mates, a lot will change.

—in another light—

Now I'll take up a point closer to some who haven't grasped what I mean. Take a music student on this campus. Quote a talented personage. In fact, this person is offered $26 to give a recital in some surrounding community. The person accepts, the recital is a success, the $26 pocketed, and everyone is happy, especially because the person is $26. richer and doesn't have to worry about the new spring outfit. Everything is okay because the person was lucky enough to know how to do the only thing he knew—play an instrument. But just let a rumor go around that an athlete is getting money for the only thing he knows how to do, and every official in the country is on his neck.

It certainly is too bad about Jack Eddie.

GINGER SNAPS

By Dolan GINGER

With football completely out of the picture and a good portion of the football season over, we can fully appreciate a rip-roaring season in college and high school circles. In our own loop, Western recently downed Northern in a game that was the season's only Maroons into camp in the Vincennes Invitational. It looks like it will be a toss up for the remainder of the young age season to who has the IAC crown bearer will be Lynn Holder's completely veteranless (returning first 5) crew undoubtedly will run into some trouble with the stiff schedule facing them. Colborn has not officially returned to the squad and probably will not in the fashion in which Southern fans are accustomed to should he play any at all. The supporters of the Maroons and the Edsieties, the final decision of quitting to work was indeed an unwelcome one, however no one is a more ardent fan of Floyd Robert than we, and we understand his situation entirely. This was the ninth year that we had watched his basketball talents, on high school, independent and college floors. To us, last year was the most brilliant of them all. We did miss his service ball in which for 1944 and '45 he was named on the national all service team and fourth and fifth highest scorer in the armed forces these two years.

In high school; Mt. Vernon's rangy and classy Rams, for the third consecutive year, took the only tournament and stepped into third among Hoopsters' top 15 teams. With Max Moor making 66 points in the first two encounters, the Changnon-coached five toured through four good games to another crown. Before the year is through, that will be a mere trifle.

In true Wildcat form, the Maroon five took the Central Invitational easily from the cream of Trout-picked teams over the state. It would have taken an adding machine to keep score there. Anderson seemed to be the Wilson key. Of course, Trout's "not so highly touted but dangerous Orphan" dumped a very good Campaigner quieted that was rated to take the tourney. Marion is now twelfth after going to Central with a 3-5 record.

For the first time since Andy Phillip and Fred Campbell, Herrin is rolling along. This ball bunch is going to make plenty of trouble before the playoff comes. Duncan is the big gun and he gets lots of help from four other excellent ball handlers. Three players from Tony Indiana gave them a fight but the Tigers were too hot and took the Coal Cities finale going away. Herrin is rated 15th.

We won't mention a certain game in which the final score was 14 to 6 and the halftime margin 1 to 0 . . . we lost, incidentally.

Home Stand Record Still Intact: Southern Wins Two

Southern's cagers celebrated their pre-Christmas home stand with a walloping, 20-60 victory over Mississippi Delta, and a 62-50 win over Ottawa, Kan. The two wins extended Southern's home record to 44 wins in the last 46 games.

Jack Long's 20 points paced the Maroons in the scoring department, but Charlie Goss came along with 18 points, Frank (Pud) Gladson had 16, and Ernie Bozarth had 18 in the high-scoring tilt.

Southern held a scant 40-35 lead at half-time, but the Maroons came back strong in the second half to drop the hapless Mississippians. Goss scored but 8 points in the initial half, but came back with 15 to lead his team during the second half.

Cockram of Mississippi was high with 16 followed by Rakerstran with 15, and Boggs with 14.

Against Ottawa, the Maroons looked engaged in the first half and at the midway point trailed 21-15. With Jack Eddie leading the way with 15 points in the second period, the Holdermen decimated Jack strong in the second half-to take the victory.

Eddie's 15 pts. were high while Kussack had 13, and Long had 11.

Tiggret was the top Ottawa scorer with 19 points, Turner had 16 while Martin had 7.
