"EVERYMAN" MAKES HIT WITH SMALL AUDIENCE—GWYN SCORES TRIUMPH

Bill Holder, Mary Heinzman, Arthur Smith and Jo Lipe Credited With Stellar Performances; Lighting and Technica Effects Contribute Much

Richard Gwyn, a newcomer to the S. I. N. U. Little Theatre, took top honors in the Red Cross benefit performance of Everyman last Friday evening. Playing the title role, probably the most difficult in the entire show, he handled his part with all the ability and versatility of a veteran actor.

Random comment from the audience, consisting mainly of townpeople with only a sprinkling of students, indicated that Jo Lipe and Arthur Smith, also new members of Little Theatre's acting staff, were very favorably received. Smith, who played Messenger and Doubt as Follow, promises to be valuable material in future Little Theatre shows, while Miss Lipe as Conscience drew enthusiastic comments with regard to her personal appearance.

Heinzman, Holder Outstanding Performers.

Among Little Theatre's veterans appearing in Everyman, Mary Heinzman and Bill Holder probably gave the most outstanding performances. Miss Heinzman, who played Conscience and Knowledge, doubtless has more roles to her credit than any other member of Little Theatre. Holder as Evil presented a performance perhaps even superior to his characterization of Hamlet in The Man Who Came to Dinner.

Just as outstanding a job, too, as most spectacular way, was done by Bob Dornbach and Ted Sanders, Little Theatre electricians, in creating the lighting effects which contributed so importantly to the atmosphere of this medieval morality play. They and their staff, Sandy Peet, Bob Mantle, and Russell Fairburn, manned the spots, floods and borders in the intricate lighting scheme.

One technical innovation which pleased the audience was the representation of the character of God. An intense beam of white light directed to the center of the stage from a spotlight in the dome of the auditorium, shining down through a microphone barstake and amplified through a loud-speaker also in the dome, turned the track. The audience found the result very effective.

Effective also was the atmospheric setting created by the organ music of Mrs. Hazel Mitchell, who provided the unusual background for the show. She also played a recitade, a motet, and intermission music. The organ used was a Baldwin Organ.

ELMORE RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP TO U. OF COLORADO

Makes Fifth Opportunity For Southern Graduates To Do Graduate Work

Charlotte Elmore of Murphysboro, a graduate student at Southern Illinois Normal University, has accepted a graduate scholarship in Home Economics at the University of Colorado. This scholarship will cover all tuition and fees for the 1942-43 school year. Elmore is the fifth student to receive one of the S. I. N. U. Extension Service's graduate seniors in scholarship or fellowship-teaching positions in the leading state universities of the nation. The high quality of work done by these students has added to the reputation of S. I. N. U. as a prominent scholarship-granting college.

Miss Elmore's scholarship is the fifth opportunity this year for Southern students to do graduate work. Miss Elmore, who is a minor in English, is also a member of the Student Homonomers' Club, the Sorority Literary Society, and the Rural Life Club.

RETURNS FROM SUCCESSFUL TOUR

JUNIOR PROM TO BE HELD SATURDAY, APRIL 11—PRINCESS TO REIGN AT DANCE

The annual Junior-Senior Prom to be held Saturday, April 11, went into its semi-final stage of preparation this week with the unification of four girls for "Prom Princesses."

The prom, sponsored by the Junior class, promises to be one of the most elaborate dances of the school year. "One of the outstanding added features of this year's prom will be the crowning of a Prom Princess. Nominations for this position were held this week with four girls nominated. Princess nominees are Mary Lou Hampton, Peggy Henry, Pat Hill, and Rosemary Oshel. On Tuesday, April 7, members of the Junior class will choose the one they desire to rule as Prom Princess.

NOMINEES FOR EDITORSHIP OF EGYPTIAN TO APPEAR BEFORE STUDENT COUNCIL

Monday evening in the regular session of the student council, nominations for the editor and business manager of the Egyptian will be received. At this time, the various nominees will present their reasons why they believe themselves capable of editing the school paper. At the present time, four people have signified their intention to run for the editorship. They are Dave Romney, Lee Phinburn, Norma Newton and Ken Medley.

Knights to Initiate Three Southern Illinoisian For Service To The College

The third annual formal spring initiation of the Southern Knights and the Girls' Rally committees will be held Monday, April 13, at 7:30 p. m. At this time three outstanding men from Southern Illinois will be made honorary Knights for having given meritorious service to Southern.

The Southern Knight initiation will be held as usual in the tower of Old Main. At this time the honorary candidates will be taken through three levels of the work. After the ceremony in the tower is completed, the members of the organization will retire to the Little Theatre.

In the Little Theatre the Queen of the College and her Court of Honor will receive the new Knights and members of the Girls' Rally committee. After all of the regular members have been received the honorary members will then be announced and received by the Court. A tea and reception will follow this ceremony.

Miss Patricia Mercer is the regent.

JOINT SESSION SO. ILL. WELFARE ASSOC. AND CHILD GUIDANCE BUR. HERE ON CAMPUS TODAY, TOMORROW

"Child and Social Welfare in Wartime" to Be Theme of Meetings; Will Also Feature Outstanding Authorities

The Southern Illinois Welfare Association and the S. I. N. U. Bureau of Child Guidance will sponsor a joint meeting on the campus of Southern Illinois Normal University today and tomorrow. Devoted to the theme "Child and Social Welfare in War Time," the meetings will feature outstanding authorities in the fields of social work and child guidance.

Need For Joint Assembly Arises From National Emergency.

The need for a meeting of Southern Illinois social workers, teachers, school administrators, parents, and college students and faculty to discuss the problems of children as they are arising in connection with the present national emergency is self-evident. The lives of many children as they will be affected by present-day problems, and it is important that special attention be given to the emotional and social problems which are developing and to learn of the new and more realistic dealing with these difficult problems.

Similar conferences are being held in other sections of the state, and all Southern Illinoisans who are interested in any phase of this work are urged to attend the meetings. Since the need for their leadership will continue to increase during the duration of the war, and during the post-war period.

Welfare Association Meets at 2:30 P. M.

The Welfare Association will meet at 2:30 p. m. in the Shryock Auditorium at 2:30 p. m. when Roscoe Weib, district supervisor of WPA in Harris, will address the assembly on "The Probable Changes in Relief and WPA During the War Period."

Child Guidance Bureau Meets at 7:30 P. M.

The Child Guidance Bureau will meet at 7:30 p. m. in the Shryock Auditorium at 7:30 p. m. when Harold C. Buchanan, director of the Illinois State Employment Service in Rockford, will address the assembly on "The Probable Changes in Relief and WPA During the War Period."

On Saturday morning at 9:30 the association will hold its business meeting. During this session Philip Neuberger will give the secretary's report and Dr. R. D. Bowden, president of the association, will present a summary of accomplishments of the organization during the past year. Election of officers for the coming year will terminate the meetings.

Bureau of Child Guidance to Meet in Little Theatre

The Bureau of Child Guidance will meet in the Little Theatre at 10:30 a. m. on Saturday, April 11, when Dr. C. H. Sprot, district supervisor of the Division for Delinquency Prevention, leading a panel discussion on "Civilian Morale for Children." Mrs. Mary Louise Barnes, assistant professor of Household Arts at S. I. N. U., will discuss the matter of discussing the development of good eating habits. Keeping in line with the general theme of the meeting, Dr. Marie Hinchey, professor of physiology and health education at S. I. N. U., will discuss the matter of health and physical education at the college. He will speak on recreation. Off-campus speakers will be Miss LaRue Spiker, case worker of the Saline County Child Welfare Association, discussing "The Problem of the Juvenile Delinquent," and Everett Lewis, county judge of Franklin county, speaking on "The Courts," and Mrs. Armetta Bigelow, district president of the Parent-Teacher Association, discussing the topic "Home and Family."

Persons successfully completing the work of the course will be given a certificate to that effect. No credit will be given at the University of Illinois, either at S. I. N. U., will be given.

Anyone desiring additional information concerning the course may contact Mrs. Alice O'Donnovan, 112 North Poplar Street, Carbondale, Illinois.

Nu Epsilon Alpha Admitted Into Inter-Frat Council

Nu Epsilon Alpha, Methodist social fraternity, was accepted in the Inter-Fraternity Council last night in a special meeting.

Previously the fraternity had been refused admittance into this group.

COLLEGE CHOIR SCORES HIT IN TOUR OF NORTH

The MacDowell Club of Southern Illinois Normal University returned to the campus last Tuesday morning after a tour that took them to Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Director Floyd V. Winkeland was highly satisfied with the accomplishments that he received about the various programs presented by the choir.

Leaving Southern's campus last Thursday morning at 7:00 o'clock, the choir, transported by two buses, journeyed to Champaign Field, where they presented their first concert. After the program, the club was invited to eat "meats" with the soldiers. The girls believed this to be the first time that they had eaten around, but the boys seemed to be very somber. The amusing part occurred after the choir had eaten. For those of you who have never visited an army camp, it is an unwritten rule that you must wash your own dishes. The girls greatly enjoyed putting their freshly laundered fingers into the boiling water. With mess finished, the MacDowell singers traveled on to Hoopston for an evening concert. Leaving Hoopston at 6:30 a. m. Friday, Mr. Wakefield's choir drove to Chicago for a concert before the student body at Kelley High school. Members of the choir were very much amused at the fact that several of the girls of the MacDowell Club were taken as high school students.

Combined Church Choirs to Present Seven Last Words

The combined church choir of Carbondale and the MacDowell Club of the college will present Seven Last Words tonight in Shryock Auditorium. The program will begin at 8:00 o'clock.

This Easter cantata, giving the death and resurrection of Christ is one of the most beautiful pieces of choral literature ever written. The cantata is directed by the direction of Floyd V. Winkeland will be accompanied by Mrs. Hazel Mitchell at the console of the organ.

Third Ceremony of Type to Be Presented

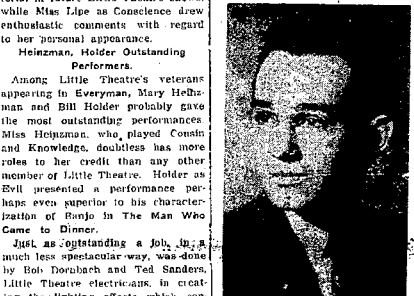

This is the third ceremony of this type to be held by these organizations and is the highlight of the season for their members. There are at present over eighty Knights, not including Squires and pledges, enrolled in South. It is expected that most of these will participate in the ceremonies. The Knights plan in the future to open the Court to the public.

No School Friday

For the benefit of those students who wonder why school will not be in session tomorrow, Governor Dwight Green, on Monday, proclaimed Good Friday a legal holiday.

Southern was not sure of the effect of this announcement until the Council of Administration decided to observe the holiday along with the other schools of the state.

Smith Maintains Scholastic Honor at Oklahoma U.

James Morton Smith, graduate student at Oklahoma University, Norman, Oklahoma, maintained the excellent scholastic record he established at Southern by making straight 'A's in his first semester's work toward his master's degree.

While a student at S. I. N. U., Smith was actively engaged in many outside activities. These included Kappa Delta, Phi Kappa Phi, Kappa Chi, Delta Chi, Mu Tau Pi president, Omega Chi and Epsilon. He served as a member of the Boy Scout staff for four years, during one of which he was sports editor.

TATE RECEIVES APPOINTMENT TO THE COUNCIL OF RESEARCH

Virginia Tate, a senior from Christopher, has recently been appointed as technical secretary and administrative secretary for the National Defense Research committee. In her new position, Miss Tate will be located at the University of Illinois and will be under the supervision of Dr. Marcel head of the Organic Division of the University of Illinois chemistry department.

Miss Tate's position will be an important one since the United States Army is taking advantage of all of the research staffs of the big universities during the national emergency. The National Defense Research committee which is a branch from the Washington, D. C. office will act as a coordinator of all academic research done in the nation.

Mu Tau Pi Initiates Four New Members

The National Defense Research committee which is a branch from the Washington, D. C. office will act as a coordinator of all academic research done in the nation.

However, Miss Tate, who has been secretary of S. I. N. U. Extension Service for the last few years, will not take over a new job until she receives her degree this May.

ESKIMO SUPERSTITION
HEAVY BOLTS

Killer whales, most savage of the killer family, hunt in packs like wolves, and superstitious Eskimos believe that the killers really are wolves changed into sea animals.

Some of the bolts used in the mechanism which controls the flow of water at Boulder Dam are so large that a man cannot lift one of them.

INDIA AND FREEDOM

For years a cry has come out of India, a cry for political and economic freedom. The chief spokesmen for the Indian people have been members of the all-India Congress. Few results were achieved until the beginning of World War II.

When World War II began, Great Britain declared that India was at war on the side of the British Commonwealth of Nations and hence expected India to give full cooperation in the prosecution of the war. India, however, did not join wholeheartedly into the war effort at all, and gave only meager cooperation.

The advance of the Japanese in Burma, and the seizure by the Japs of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands make the defense of India difficult. The non-cooperative policy of the Indians hinders greatly the British efforts to defend that land.

Will India accept? There are a number of groups that will make a decision difficult. The largest group is the Hindus. They are led by Gandhi and Nehru and demand total freedom for India. Second to the Hindus are the Moslems. They are divided on whether to cooperate with the Hindus for the sake of unity.

It is hoped that India will accept and cooperate fully in the war effort. She can make a great contribution to the cause of the United Nations. If she refuses it might mean Japanese domination of India in the near future.

ORCHIDS TO THE TRAINING SCHOOL

Last Saturday saw the publication of an account of the work done by the Allyn Training School under the title of "Along the Pathway of Child Development." Compiled by the coordinated efforts of Mr. Cline and with photography done by Delmar Olson, Bill Horrell and James Harries, the book is indeed a sound advertisement for the work that the Allyn Training School is doing.

In view of the excellent planning and general professional tone of the whole publication, we might suggest publishing it in book form and thus insuring wider distribution of this bulletin. At any rate, if our other bulletins could be as attractively laid out in the future, Southern might also enjoy a comfortable jump in universal prestige.

HERE IT IS BY KEN MEDLEY and ALLAN WATSON

Editors Note: College Medley is out of town this week. In view of the fact that Watson Graduates (we hope) the boys have taken this opportunity to apprentice a prospect. Miss Elizabeth Fairbairn is pinch hitting for Medley.

Unfortunately we arrived late to the Council room this week. Mr. Goddard arrived just a few seconds ahead of us, surveyed the room with a man of the world look, spotted Graham Crichton, and beat us to the seat opposite her. Since the closest we could get to Graham was the table behind her, we sat on it. As we sat there towering over the other heads, a voice came from the depths to our left: "Now I see what you guys mean by standard chairs." Mystified, we peered over the side of the table. Just a few inches from the floor we discovered Jack Barrow. We never did learn why he was there. Apparently, that is a state secret.

At 4:19 the meeting was called for an announcement. There were only nine present, which was not a quorum, so the council took no official action. It did however, agree to have the chair declare the next four meetings closed. There is no provision in the constitution for an open or closed meeting, so that leaves the decision up to one.

Goddard was the first to go on record as desiring to have the meetings closed. He was followed closely by Pat Lill. Dorothy Lill did not favor the open meeting because the council members must discuss the candidates. She probably had a good point, for it is difficult to say anything if, as she pointed out, "what you say is liable to be published". All this time we sat demurely taking notes with an uninterested air, but we really enjoyed flustering ourselves that we were the center of the discussion.

It was finally Boatman who mentioned us by name and suggested that we be allowed to cover the nomination and the speeches of the candidates so that the student body might be informed of what was taking place. Dot Lill moved that the meetings be a closed affair. Boatman's gallant stand on behalf of the press came to naught as the chair declared future meetings closed to the public (that means us).

It is not our intentions to argue with the august solons of the student government. Apparently they believe that the student body has no right to know the opinions of its representatives, particularly if these representatives are due to stand for reelection. The Council also intends to protect itself from the danger of pressure groups influencing the members. The Student Council intends to uphold the principle of freedom of thought and speech for each member. Why consult any of the electorate? There are those on the campus that feel that outsiders sitting in the meeting will repress or generally force any freedom of speech that the individual member may wish to exercise.

It has been spring. Among the natural phenomena of the season, is the budding forth of the politician. Although the maneuvering has been going on all winter, the season officially opens with the nomination and election of the editor of the Egyptian. At one time last winter we could have discussed this problem without much trouble, but in the last few weeks it has turned into a four-way free-for-all.

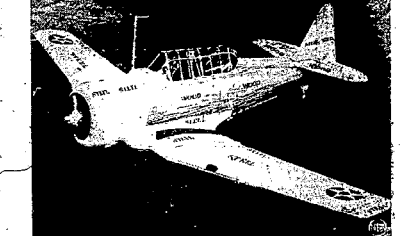

The first of the aspiring young journalists that is willing to take the reins of the Egyptian is the Freshman Orientation Booklet for last fall. The editor is the handsome David Kenny, sophomore from Carbondale. Mr. Kenny for the past two terms has been the Egyptian Sports Department. He was winner of a short story contest his freshman year, as well as a member of the committee that published the Freshman Orientation Booklet for last fall.

And now while modest Miss Fairbairn steps out to powder her nose, or whatever women do. I would like to say a few words to her behalf. Like a Cook County column, is the Freshman type and is probably better known in the Dean of Women's office than anywhere else on the campus. This year as News Editor, she is rounding out her second year of service on the staff of the Egyptian. A prolific writer, Miss Fairbairn has contributed something to each of the departments, including Mr. Kenny's. Just where she gets her backing from my men can't pin down. We do suspect however, that she is the darling of the "barbarians" and publishers of certain non-factional literature.

QUOTABLE QUOTES (By Associated Collegiate Press)

"The task of national defense is not the relatively simple one of accumulating arms, munitions, ships, soldiers, and other means of destruction. It is also one of supplying a steady flow of intelligent, well-educated, conscientious, skilled citizens into the population. The safety of the nation must not be neglected, but full safety even in time of war involves the promotion of the welfare of the civilian population, adequate instruction for our young people, and proper consideration of the problems of a post-war world. To weaken unnecessarily the educational system at this as at any time is to increase definitely and materially the vulnerability of the nation." President Alexander G. Ruthven of the University of Michigan urges his institution to maintain its teaching standards and keep together its teaching staff.

Student Council Shuts Doors

This week the Student Council took action to keep outsiders from attending their meetings. Reporters, it is assumed, are "outsiders". Therefore, reporters will not be allowed to attend the meetings of the Student Council to report to the public what the Council is doing.

There is no provision in the Constitution adopted by the SFNU Student Council for closing any meeting to outsiders. Even if there had been, any action taken by the Student Council this week would not have been legal because a quorum was not present to make any action legal. The inaction was handled as a motion which was made, discussed (briefly), and passed. Therefore, it is not a legal inaction—anyway.

According to Robert's "Rules of Order", a plan adopted almost unanimously by all bodies using parliamentary procedure, says a meeting can be declared closed by a proclamation to that effect—for a special purpose, for a special meeting. This was not done by our Student Council.

Why does the Student Council not want outsiders? The answer might be, as one member put it, that they are afraid to say anything for fear it will be published. Does the Council fear the Student Body? Why are they afraid someone will know what they say? During the next few weeks the Council will be concerned with electing editors for the Egyptian and Obelisk. The Council can be justified in not wanting a "mob" present when they discuss the qualifications of each applicant.

DARK MUSINGS By WALLACE WATER PRICE

Father Coody once remarked, "Education should be the civilization of human brains to solve human problems." Education should be a means whereby ends, justifiable to society, can be accomplished. Education is a part of a unit—it is one of the many things that individuals must rely upon. Education is an essential of democracy. It is a tool that we can employ to the advantage of society or to the disadvantage of society.

Democracy should work for the advantage of society although it is a concept. It is a concept that we have built from conversing with people, from reading, from listening, from group participation, from private participation—in short, democracy is a concept that we build up from everything or everyone we come into contact with. It is an ideal yet it is practical; it is very inclusive and yet it is specific; it is limited and yet it is not curtailed; it is a religion and yet it is a way of life; it means the opportunity to live, be, and act a man and yet a role is issued to individuals, it touches everything; Everything I do, everything I want to do, everything I ever hope to do—all are affected.

Democracy affects personalities also. No one can be a leader unless he or she realizes that the democratic ideal embodies within it the spirit of co-operation, of equality of unity. A leader who strives only for personal gains is not a true leader. A leader must remember that he is to lead his followers and that he must be a good follower as well as a good leader. This cooperation shows a mobilization not only of one individual brain but of other brains to help solve human problems.

Last year or sometimes in the past, several tennis courts were to be built for Southern. These courts were to be constructed between the now existing courts and the tracks. The construction was started and everything appeared to be going off "swell" but something has evidently happened.

If you will observe wherever you pass the courts, construction on the courts has been discontinued—at least in the day time. What has happened? Has the war occasioned the courts to be non-existent or has the courts been given the "economical ax" because of decrease in enrollment? I sure would like to see these courts completed. If whoever started the construction did not intend to complete them, well, why did they start? If construction was stopped for other reasons why not let the students know? Whatever was the cause for stopping construction, I hope it is only temporary. I am only a student that will graduate in May. I hope, but I, as well as many others, will like to see the new courts completed.

With the initiation of the practice of employing the school band for the purpose of entertaining the students of Southern, the Student Council has made worthy progress. But above all, credit should be extended Mr. Bone of the Music Department for his splendid work with the band. We have a right to be proud of our band and our director. At the athletic contests, the Alma Mater and other songs are supplied. The band does its part at the athletic contests, and yet, the spectators fail to do their part.

The spectators, students included, walk out at the close of an athletic contest, regardless of the appeal to stay until the completion of the Alma Mater. Let us all become more Southern or School minded! Let us attend these contests or whatnot and hear the Alma Mater played through if it is played! It only takes three minutes and if you do not respect your school and your school song, do you think strangers will?

Remember the Double V—victory at home and abroad.—Let's all cooperate!

"B" NATURAL By BEETHOVEN.

The New York Philharmonic-Symphony had to return $16,000 in checks to those who wrote too late for tickets for the Beethoven cycle that Arturo Toscanini will conduct this month. The box office did not open soon. The members to the society's eight regular series even up every ticket, and even they had difficulty. Eight large audiences have to be packed together pretty tightly when they all want tickets for a single series.

Unwittingly, Rudyard Kipling is appearing in a new guise—as an open book reviewer. Stanley Thompson found that when he started an opera based on "The Rutterly That Stampeded," one of the "Just So Stories," he could use the author's words as well as the story idea. He even found that Kipling's prose lent itself astonishingly to musical setting. And so, though the title has been changed to "Solomon and Balkis," the words are being taken wholesale from the story. The work received its world premiere last Sunday over the Columbia Broadcasting System. It was commissioned jointly with the League of Composers.

The Metropolitan Opera gave five seats to between 170 and 200 service men every week of its recently completed season. Some were allotted to the New York City Defense Recreation committee in advance. Others were given to men in uniform at the door if they were lucky enough to come when the house was not sold out. Earle R. Lewis, assistant general manager, has high praise for the boys. They are courteous, appreciative, and real music lovers, he says.

Two of the most cerebral were sailors who expected to be sent to Ireland. They arrived on an evening when the house was full and were regretfully told they could not be accommodated. They explained how far away they were going to be sent and how much their hearts had been set on it. An exception was made in their case. After an intensive search, seats were found for them in the back of a subscriber's box.

GRACE NOTES:

The Manhattan Trio, which recently played at Governors Island, found that the soldier listened more intently than to popular arrangements of Russian tunes. Sam Norengrat has composed music for the poem written at Bataan by Corporal Domo F. Wade, anti-aircraftman. It concludes:

Dive low, dive low, and give us a chance. Dive low, dive low, in your diving dance.

OFF THE PLATTER

The boys ought to call a moratorium on poor Tschalkowsky. Clearly there has been more attention than to popular arrangements of his melodies. This time the Fifth and Sixth symphonies have fallen prey to the arrangers. We will be charitable enough to leave out the names of the culprits—there are too many to list, anyhow. But honest boys, there is little you can do with the Sixth symphony that is not plain bad (quite or unbearable. What has come this way is certainly not good jazz).

However, Duke Ellington and his famous orchestra play good jazz when they offer two of the Duke's tunes: "I Got/Now What Kind of Blues I Got/And Are You Sticking? Bluey James and his crew are dealing with the right stuff in Crazy Rhythm and "Easter Parade. So are Benny Goodman and his orchestra in Goodbye, Bye Bye and A String of Pearls.

RURAL LIFE CLUB DISCUSSES HOBBIES

"Hobbies" was the theme of the Rural Life Club meeting held Monday night. Among those exhibited were collecting, stamp collecting, jewelry, journalism, collecting of zoological specimens, and needlework.

For recreation, stargazing games, in which the club specialists were pleased.

The theme for meetings for the rest of the term will center around "Rural Youth's Responsibilities Today and Tomorrow", which will be discussed at the next annual meeting of the Youth Section of the American Country Life Association, held on the campus of Southern.

Officers for the Spring term are: Ruth Jackson, president; Paul Lynn, vice president; Lorraine Dittler, secretary; and Marlyn Niebrugge, publicity chairman.

CARBONDALE DEFENSE COUNCIL SHAPES PLANS FOR LOCAL DEFENSE

By LORAINE DITZLER

Local civilian defense is taking shape under the direction of John I. Wright, Coordinator for Carbondale. The Carbondale Civilian Defense Council, headed by Mayor Charles Johnson, is divided into eight sub-committees with many volunteer workers. The local council is under the authority of the State Council for Civilian Defense, which is in turn subordinate to the national organization.

Major Divisions of Defense Work

Defense work falls into three divisions: Emergency protection, emergency medical care, and general welfare. Of these three, the mechanisms for protection have been stressed most up-to-now. Systems of air raid wardens, auxiliary police, and auxiliary firemen have been set up. First of all the city was divided according to wards, in which a Chief Air Raid Warden has charge. Each ward was split into sections under various schools of instruction in tactics are being held for the volunteer wardens and firemen, and for the general public. It will feel a need for training in first aid, fire fighting, and handling of incendiary bombs. Each ward will have a central station headquarters which will be connected by telephone with the control center at the City Hall, with the police and fire stations, and with the emergency hospitalization centers. Probably each sector will have a smaller central station. It will be the duty of each warden to know his sector thoroughly. Homes will be examined to find fire hazards in attics or faulty lighting, entrances and exits will be checked.

Emergency Protection to Be Available During Peace Time

The organization of emergency protection measures will be of great value to Carbondale during peacetime when fire occur and tornadoes strike. As yet, this area has not been designated as a blackout section by the United States, so lights will not be out due to war conditions, but Mr. Wright said, "It is highly essential to be ready because we are longer playing at blackouts."

Leonard J. Lincic, Southern track coach, will again attempt to uphold the enviable slender pillar honor that he has maintained while a mentor at Carbondale.

It is imperative that emergency medical care be organized next, for our hospitalization service may be found inadequate if a tornado such as the one which hit eastern Illinois recently blasts Carbondale, or if an accident occurs at the Illinois Ordnance Plant. Cots, stretchers, bandages and other supplies will be stored at the central ward stations and emergency hospitalization units set up, and lines of transportation planned. Crews for first aid, ambulance driving, and road repair will be trained.

Later on, activities of value to the general welfare to the citizens of Carbondale will be pushed forward. These include the less dreaded, and perhaps more romantic things such as camps, service, recreational facilities, food conservation and nutrition and care of refugees. Victory gardens are being started now.

According to Mr. Wright, the Civilian Defense Council has only a good start now and when perfectly set up will be able to take care of any and all emergency activities for the duration.

INTRAMURAL BASEBALL LEAGUE SEASON TO BEGIN ON APRIL 13

All Registration to Be Completed By April 9; Teams Signed Up So Far Are Sigma Betas, KDAs, Spirits and Inter-Coop

Spring not only turned a college man's fancy to romance, baseball took its toll. Every afternoon all over the campus groups of students are practicing for the coming season which gets under way here at Southern on April 13, providing the weather permits. Despite the fact that war, certification, and other factors will definitely cause a marked decline in participants, there is no reason to suspect that the campaign will not be a successful one. In past seasons the league has been somewhat over-crowded so that many enthusiasts did not get a chance at the sport. So from this standpoint the small decline in players will be decidedly advantageous.

There have been rumors to the effect that there will be no Outers' Aces this spring. However, brotherhood has given out with the information that this is definitely a false report. He admits that the loss of Dempster, Vaughn, Stuart, and others will be keenly felt. However, he promises to have one of the accepted teams in the league. The Aces' performances in the past years are enough indication that he is probably right.

At present the only teams signed up are: Sigma Beta Mu and Kappa Delta Alpha, both fraternity teams; the Spirits of '76, faculty outfit, and the Inter Co-Op. Of course other teams and individuals will be on the line before the deadline which is April 9. So come on all you fellows and join your friends in America's favorite pastime.

MITCHELL AND PECCHININO AMONG SOUTHERN'S ALL TIME RECORD HOLDERS

With the opening of the winter season just around the corner, a glance at the list of Southern's all-time records, the best performances that have ever been recorded by a Maroon athlete, is not amiss. All of these marks have been established during Coach "Doc" Lingle's tenure here, which was begun sixteen years ago, while the list of lists has been recorded since 1925, an indication that modern methods have produced an improvement in the track and field department.

These men who are listed as record holders will be remembered by Southern sport fans as outstanding performers of the years past. The list includes such athletes as Eugene Peyton, polished sprinter and hurdler, who graduated in the spring of 1933. Charles Struss, quarter miler who hit up his spikes in 1940, and Stella Mitchell, and Louis Pechinino, who are still in school.

The records are:

100 yard dash—time, 4:35—McLaughlin, Wright, Pierce, and Peyton.
220 yard dash—time, 2:14—Struss.

440 yard dash—time, 49.3—Peyton.
880 yard dash—time, 2:31—Sutton.
Mile run—time, 4:37—Pechinino.
Two mile run—time, 10:17—Mitchell.

Shot put—distance—44' 11 1/2"—Bauder.
Discus—distance—139' 10"—Bauder.
Javelin—distance—182' 7 1/2"—Brown.
Broad jump—distance, 27' 2 1/2"—Hill.
Pole vault—height, 12' 5 1/2"—Rains.
Relay—1 mile—time, 3:27 1/2"—Parrsons, Sutton, Struss, Morgan.

MONROE HAEGGE A vital role in Coach Charles Tunney's championship tennis team of last spring.

'T' CLUB HOLDS INITIATION FOR LETTER WINNERS

Those reasonable exact facilities of women that are gracing the campus today are members of the 'T' club. These boys, however get a break because they only have to dress in this fashion one day instead of the usual two.

Although all letter winners are automatic members of the 'T' club, they must submit to this initiation for two days. Fortunately for Friday is a holiday. These men must attend their classes regularly and there will be members of the club in the classes to see that they do attend.

IN THE SPORT - SPOTLIGHT

Practice sessions in track, tennis, and spring football came to an abrupt end last week with the fall of about two inches of cold wet snow and the setting in of a north wind that operated in full force until Wednesday, when the cry lifted and the sun came out again. At that spring sports have been jumpy in getting as much suitable weather as they have so far.

One man to watch when the South-eyers open the track season next Saturday against Macomb is Bowen, who runs the high hurdles, the low hurdles, and broad jumps, and does a very good job in each. He managed to take out wins in both the high and low stick races last year over Marooner Bill Townes, who was pretty good himself in individual Townes is now in Texas working for a navigator's rating in the air corps.

When Bill Wilkinson (better known simply as Wilkie) read the mention of "Crusher" Whitesides being out for spring football, he immediately clamored for some recognition for himself, whether he needed it or not. Well Bill has been doing a pretty good job in practice this far so here's his mention and more power to him!

W.A.A. Picnic Thursday, April 9

A W.A.A. picnic will be held Thursday, April 9, for all club members and for any girls who might be interested in becoming a member of the organization. Tickets may be purchased from any W.A.A. member for 25c. All girls who are planning to go on the picnic should meet at the gym at 8 p.m. will be names, songs, initiation of new members, and tradition of picnic supper during the course of the evening. Any girl who is interested in becoming a member of W.A.A. should see Gladys Westwood before Thursday.

Women's Tennis Practice Begins

Tennis practice began last Wednesday afternoon under the leadership of Miss Virginia Congress of the Women's P.E. Department. Because of the cool weather tennis practice has been postponed for some time. Any girl who is interested in after school tennis should report every Monday and Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, ready for action.

Don't forget badminton practice every Monday and Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Everybody welcome!

BOOKS IN REVIEW

By DELBERT HAMILTON

THE KEYS OF THE KINGDOM, by Catherine O'Ball, is Rachel A. J. Cronin, Little, Brown, 1941. The Keys of the Kingdom of Heaven are many, and few are alike...

Religious novels. It written in the Lloyd C. Douglas manner, usually dropping into boring trivial stories with the Horatio Alger type of plot...

Cronin's religious theme is by no means mediocre. His message is so many, by tolerance and humility to stand alone...

And despite all the worldly tragedy Cronin keeps one aware of the fact that Chisholm is a priest. Through the lives of Father Francis and his brethren Cronin achieves his chief objective—to show realistically the life, the way, the thoughts, and the actions of the priest...

The story is a long sequence of melodramatic crises—from the tragic death of Cronin's parents to his sad return home. There are Chisholms, his unhappy stay at the Spanish seminary; the struggle against his strict superiors in his first curacy...

The Keys of the Kingdom has a universal human appeal in that it simplifies religion. It has a unified plot that urges the reader to continue eagerly to its finish...

GENESSEE FEVER by Carl Carmer, Farrar & Rinehart, 1942. $2.50. Carl Carmer, distinguished authority of American folk lore and author of "Stars Fell on Alabama"...

YOUNG AMES by Walter D. Edmonds, Little, Brown, 1942. $2.50. As a Walter D. Edmonds fan we were interested in reading the latest offering of the historical novelist...

Several episodes from "Young Ames" appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, and though we didn't read any of them we can see what they would make good short stories...

Edmonds doesn't do so bad in picturing "New York life in the '30s." His description of the Irish volunteer fire department and the great New York fire is especially vivid...

Another highlight is young Ames' interview with Andrew Jackson. But our idea of Old Hickory doesn't jibe with Edmonds' picture of him...

"Young Ames" is easy reading. Factory life is gripping in an amusing sort of way. But Edmonds does not assist his work in "Drums Along the Mohawk"...

SCIENCE FIELD DAY TO BE HELD ON CAMPUS NEXT SATURDAY, APR. 11. The annual Southern Illinois Junior Academy of Science Field Day, sponsored by the S.I.U. Science Department...

The field day will consist of a general meeting held in the morning and two sectional meetings concerning the chemistry, biological and general science departments which will be held in the afternoon...

Historically speaking, the first meeting of the Illinois Junior Academy of Science was inaugurated in 1929. At that time only students attended. Since then the academy has so grown that a division was necessary to better serve the students of Illinois...

A program for the entire contents of the field day will appear elsewhere in this issue. A professor says married men are the best class. Maybe because there is no reason for a bachelor to lie.

Defense Pamphlet Published by SINU

A pamphlet, "High School Graduates and the Nation's Service," will be sent to principals of Southern Illinois high schools later in April. The purpose of the issuance of the pamphlet is to make all the information concerning S.I.U.'s program for defense available to high school seniors...

The first section of the pamphlet explains the Navy V-1 program. Another part lists the courses offered by S.I.U. that will train men for the fighting front. The third section explains how the commission and industrial education department will train people for the home front...

Contributions to the pamphlet were made by the departments of chemistry, geography, commerce, art, health, industrial education, and foreign languages. The Victory Committee then organized the material. Mrs. Julia Neely is the editor of the pamphlet and John Harris and Miss Mildred Hampton are the associate editors.

SOUTHERNAIRES' BIG SUCCESS SATURDAY AT STUDENT COUNCIL DANCE

Dewitt Mickell and his Southernaires scored a definite success last Saturday night at the Student Council dance which was held in the Old Science gymnasium. A sum total of more than 300 persons were present who enjoyed the dance and the music.

Each couple at the dance was given an Easter favor, with a number which might have corresponded with two lucky numbers for which a prize was to be given. Ralph Boatman, junior member of the Student Council, took charge of the drawing of the lucky numbers at the beginning of the intermission and he presented a large pink Easter rabbit to Frances Douglas, and a huge decorated chocolate egg to John Macnevelch.

Everyone was agreed that the new dance chestnut, organized on this campus and including Southern's best musicians, is a worthwhile organization that equals any of the large dance bands we have had formerly for school dances.

Saturday night dance was the last large dance that the Council will sponsor this year; however, they may give another afternoon dance in the Little Theater if the social committee decides that the students would like one. Members of the Council have planned all dances this year are: Freshman, Sandy Pent; sophomore, Bob Campbell; and Patricia Mercer, a senior member of the Council.

ALLAN BONE ATTENDS MUSIC CONVENTION IN MILWAUKEE THIS WEEK

Allan Bone of the music department left last Wednesday to attend the National Music Educators' Convention in Milwaukee.

The convention is held annually in order to discuss current problems and to view new material and aids in the teaching of public school music. This year one of the aims of the convention will be to organize a fraternity for public school music teachers since there is none in existence. The idea originated with Charles Dvorak, the head of the music department at Eastern State Teachers' College, and it has been spread through various teachers' colleges throughout the United States.

Southern Homemakers to Hold Meeting Wed. Night

The Southern Homemakers will meet Wednesday night, April 8. At the meeting, Mrs. Cora B. Rolfe, Jackson county farm and field woman with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, spoke to the members. She told of her work with farm families who have long made up one of the low income groups of the United States.

Mrs. Rolfe also gave in the group of prospective home-making teachers of prospective home-making teachers, saying that it is the work of the instructor to help adjust the individuals in her charge to changing conditions, she must keep herself informed on many subjects, and she must keep the respect of her students as she respects them at the same time.

Members of the Southern Homemakers are planning a social event to be announced in the near future. All girls who are studying or studying in Household Arts, and who have been or are enrolled in classes, are urged to attend the meetings of the club.

Tough Fight

Famous Drummer Gene Krupp, above, takes his ease after a terrific bout with the tympani, in preparation for his appearance on the "Spotlight Bands" show, November 25. Doctors say Krupp says up as much energy in a one-night appearance as the average baseball pitcher does in two games on the mound. He loses weight after each performance, sometimes as much as three pounds. He has to eat like a farm hand to maintain his weight of 182 pounds. He has refused so many suits with perspiration that he has lost count. Now he has a wardrobe of 50 suits, all specially waterproofed.

WIT'S END. I think that the time has come for somebody to defend the word cohort, because it has taken a powerful lot of abuse lately. To begin with, I blinked a little when Harry Patrick tagged an Eastern sports writer as an "imitation cohort" of the fourth estate, but it's been a long time since I read "The Gallic Wars" and I decided that Pat knew what he was writing.

When Ken Medley's humorous escapade yarn appeared last week under the headline Medley and Cohort Discover Fire Escape Not Practical, I took one look at it and GAVE UP for the nearest Webster.

I found that a cohort is (1) a body of about five or six hundred soldiers; the tenth part of a legion (2) any band of warriors, or (3) a mutual group of orders of monks. Now I knew Liz Parkman and Morris Folan and S. Allan Watson; I know that each of these characters is forceful (and articulate) to an extraordinary degree, but I can't see how any one of them is in any sense a cohort.

Patrick and Medley must think that a cohort is a colleague. The head of a sperm whale is about one-third the length of its body.

SO. ILL. INC. TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING HERE ON CAMPUS MONDAY, APRIL 6

Southern Illinois, Incorporated, will hold its annual meeting in Sbrock Auditorium on the campus Monday, April 6. The meetings in the Auditorium are open to everyone, and civic leaders, members of various social, civic, and service clubs in Southern Illinois are urged to attend.

Applying on the program will be several prominent speakers, discussing items of interest to every civic-minded person in Southern Illinois. Following a welcome address by President Roscoe Pulliam of S.I.U., at 4:30 Monday afternoon, O. W. Lyric, president of Southern Illinois, Incorporated, will report on the activities of the organization during the past year. At 5:00, President M. J. Dorsey, head of the department of horticulture at the University of Illinois, will speak on the subject of "The Future of the Orchard Industry in Southern Illinois."

After the dinner hour, the board of directors of S.I.I. will meet in executive session at the Roberts Hotel to elect officers for the coming year. At 7:15, the meeting will reconvene in the Auditorium. Beginning the evening discussion, Robert Kinberg, chairman of the Illinois Planning Commission, will talk on "The Value of Regional Planning in Southern Illinois." Following his address, Arlie W. Toole, forest supervisor of the Shawnee National Forest, will present a discussion of forest resources and their potential value. Concluding the evening session, Dr. A. G. Anderson, industrial consultant of the National Resources Planning Board, will give suggestions for Working Together for Industrial Development of Southern Illinois.

Organized three years ago for the purpose of developing Southern Illinois to the level of prosperity it once enjoyed, Southern Illinois Incorporated, has accomplished a great deal since that time. The cooperation of all the citizens in this area has proved to be one of the most successful ventures undertaken in Southern Illinois in many years.

I have no clues to suggest how their corrupt ways developed, except from other discussions which I have covered by accident. In January, 1941, an Egyptian writer by the name of Steve Kraslawsky referred to "Colonists Lippmann, D. Thompson and cohorts. He apparently meant "other colonists." Kraslawsky may or may not have been the first local journalist to use the word in that sense. His usage may or may not have been responsible for the present one.

Somebody with a talent for academic facilities might write a dissertation called "Origin and Growth of the Word Cohort as a Synonym for Colleague Among Undergraduates at Southern Illinois Normal University" degree, but I can't see how any one of them is in any sense a cohort.

Patrick and Medley must think that a cohort is a colleague. The head of a sperm whale is about one-third the length of its body.

Some forty-five Southern pros are now paying one dollar each month for membership in the Faculty Gift Club, which is sending gifts to their former students, who have donated the $500.00 for Uncle Sam's fight. The small weekly gifts have been bringing back to the club the sincere thanks of the fellows as well as the written reminiscences of days here at Southern.

This week the postman brought letters from men in Missouri, Michigan, Texas, Colorado, and California. All of which is good testament that our mesh are seeing the country as well as learning "military" from morning till night.

Bob Baldwin, Southern grad of '10, who is remembered for his vast contributions as a competent journalist as a most outstanding fraternity man and as a keen scholar, tells us that he is now at Fort Logan, Colorado, attending the air corps clerical school.

Quoting Henry, "The accompanying reminder that you are missed" that came with the gift boosted the Bald win ego which the army has largely defeated. After being out of and away from Southern for a year and a half, I felt far removed from things "Egyptian" so I feel like less of an outcast than I did before I heard

The Sixth Column

The grinch is on the war path. The other night I found myself with four "high" library assignments in addition to the regular work. Feeling overburdened, overtaxed, hurt, and generally worked up, I decided to appeal. My kindly roommate gently but firmly reminded me to think it over since it is an established fact that two hours of study per night is expected for each course.

So, I continued to "think Four subjects—two hours each, equals eight hours plus eight hours of the school day equals sixteen plus eight hours of sleep (which is highly recommended in the best Health Education classes) equals the 24 hour day. Then I really became alarmed. The 24 hour day is arranged for with no provision for eating, coming to and from school, or spring fever.

Ab, the American way of life! 'Tis truly wonderful! It's a funny thing though, I don't understand it. But 'Tis typical of American students. They do it on all campuses. And when it's neither school nor recreation, they do it. What do you think about it?

I'm sure you know what I mean. Why you went into exotic spandex Wednesday when you were informed there would be no school Friday. First you pay for education and then you rejoice in every day you can be released from it? Ask ask, this American way.

Oh yes, this is the yuletide..... I mourn the Easter season. Contrary to the popular belief, we don't celebrate the hatching of the robbys' first hatch of hen eggs.

Seriously speaking, the rabbit does not come down the chimney like Santa Claus, he's down the chimney, and he doesn't put presents in stockings, he hides half-broken, partially dyed, cold storage eggs on the lawn. I wonder what the British tell their children now about the Easter rabbit..... Hitler shot him in Germany.

SOUTHERN MEN IN SERVICE

Savanna Ordnance Depot Proving Grounds, Illinois.

Dear Friends: Thank you very much for the fine gift you sent me last Monday. I certainly enjoyed the gift and hearing from you. It's good to know that Southern is doing its bit in the lives of those in the military service. Happier than they are to be so far from home, they are to be back home from time to time.

I have been in the Medical Corps here at the Proving Grounds for the last thirteen months. It looks as if a number of us will be sent out of here at any time now. One of our sergeants left for California last week and will be leaving there soon for no one knows where. We all will not be surprised at anything that happens since we have seen so many come in the post and get transferred after a short stay here. It seems that the experienced men will be sent out of the station hospitals and green ones sent in to be trained.

It will be a pleasure to hear from you again. You will write as often as you can.

Thank you again for the fine box you sent. Sincerely yours,

CPI. A. C. HUNTER.

Southern Illinois Normal University, Carbondale, Illinois.

Personally, I find army life not to be nearly as interesting as I had anticipated. Prior to the declaration of war, I did my share of growing—the army has another word for it—but since December 7th I've unit my "griping" and I think you will find very few soldiers violating their discipline these days.

Thank you again for remembering me and you may be assured that the Faculty Gift Club is doing a worthwhile job—take it from one who knows! Respectfully yours,

EVT IKE SCHAFER

Several Southern men have been processed here in the last month. Kenneth Whitesley went to Fort Sil, Okla.; Alonso "Dutch" Woods to Camp Crowder, Mo.; Benjamine Baldwin and Herdia Moye to Wichita Falls; Fred and Paul Emerson, Maxton Davis, and Arley Landwehr are still in the Reception Center waiting to be assigned. There isn't hardly any others that I missed.

INFORMATION ON V-1 PROGRAM RELEASED BY NAVY DEPARTMENT

With a view to further expansion of procurement and training of prospective Navy Reserve officers, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox has approved the enlistment in the Naval Reserve of young men enrolled in accredited colleges, who after enlistment in the Navy may continue in their college at their own expense and in addition be given naval training on an inactive naval status. Approximately 50,000 college men in this country between the ages of 17 and 19 inclusive may voluntarily enlist in class V-1 of the United States Naval Reserve.

These college men must be unmarried citizens of the United States, and be able to meet the physical requirements of the navy. The applicant must furnish a certificate from the registrar of the school attended, stating that he is a duly registered full time student of good standing. Applications for enlistment must also be accompanied by a parent's or guardian's consent. College Juniors and Seniors are not eligible for this program.

From those V-1 applicants who successfully complete 1½ years of college work, and who during the equivalent of the second semester of sophomore year pass a navy comprehensive examination above a certain level, and have improved their physical fitness to meet the standards of aviation cadets, approximately 20,000 per year will be selected for flight training, and at the completion of two academic years, work will be ordered to fleet training at a rate determined by the service needs.

man was a very popular man with me. I do thank you for remembering me and I assure you that the letter and the package were appreciated.

You will note that I'm stationed at Scott Field, contrary to general opinion, I'm not in the Air Corps. Without divulging any military secrets, I believe that I can explain how I'm assigned. I came here as a "Demil, man-detached enlisted men's list—a non-combatant branch of the service composed almost entirely of clerical workers. I am assigned to the Scott Field Reception Center—one of four Reception Centers in the South States area.

The function of a Reception Center is to receive men from civilian life (both enlisted and drafted personnel) of the army and more or less, give them a brief army orientation course. The men are issued army clothing. Most records are indicated, they are shot (with serum), and after three or four days they are sent on to a Replacement Training Center.

We have the newest Reception Center in the Sixth Corps Area, with less than two months of actual processing behind us. Being very "fresh," Field Reception Centers aren't nearly as attractive as other R. C. and our recreational facilities are limited. Those are circumstances which a little more time will alleviate.

Personally, I find army life not to be nearly as interesting as I had anticipated. Prior to the declaration of war, I did my share of growing—the army has another word for it—but since December 7th I've unit my "griping" and I think you will find very few soldiers violating their discipline these days.

Thank you again for remembering me and you may be assured that the Faculty Gift Club is doing a worthwhile job—take it from one who knows! Respectfully yours,

EVT IKE SCHAFER

Several Southern men have been processed here in the last month. Kenneth Whitesley went to Fort Sil, Okla.; Alonso "Dutch" Woods to Camp Crowder, Mo.; Benjamine Baldwin and Herdia Moye to Wichita Falls; Fred and Paul Emerson, Maxton Davis, and Arley Landwehr are still in the Reception Center waiting to be assigned. There isn't hardly any others that I missed.

With a view to further expansion of procurement and training of prospective Navy Reserve officers, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox has approved the enlistment in the Naval Reserve of young men enrolled in accredited colleges, who after enlistment in the Navy may continue in their college at their own expense and in addition be given naval training on an inactive naval status. Approximately 50,000 college men in this country between the ages of 17 and 19 inclusive may voluntarily enlist in class V-1 of the United States Naval Reserve.

The balance of approximately 45,000 men per year will be permitted to finish the equivalent of two academic years, then will be ordered to active duty for training at Naval Training Stations and upon completion to duty with the fleet.

Students desiring to enlist in the V-1 (accredited college program) should apply at the nearest United States navy recruiting station, or write to the officer in charge, United States Navy Recruiting Station, New Federal Building, St. Louis, Missouri. Students who enlist in this program and then for any reason are separated from college will be ordered for active duty at the nearest navy training station. No uniform or equipment will be issued to men enlisted in this program until such time as they are called to active duty.

SIGNAL TO WHALEERS,

Each species of whale has its own characteristic spout. Whalers thus can identify the various species of the animal at great distances.

BOTHERS BIRDS

Homing pigeons become confused by radio waves when near transmitting towers of powerful stations, experiments indicate.
