INTRAMURAL BASEBALL

Under the management of John E. Harbach the KDA's will vie for the first victory of the 1943 Spring Intramural Baseball League against the Inter-Coops next Monday, April 5, at 4:15.

This will be the opening contest of league play. Four teams have entered the league, promising a close race to the last inning. The following day the KDA's will play the Sigma Beta Ets; on Thursday the Inter-Coops meet the Spirits of '76.

U. S. I. Senate Hearing Is Postponed

found to be a serious mistake that is disrupting the fund grant money between two schools. He felt that Illinois was wise to give its fund grant money entirely to the University.

He then went on to explain why the fund grant was a mistake. Gradually, he explained, there would be a duplication of effort and increased demands. There would be rivalry between the schools as in their respective responsibilities.

At this point Dr. Works interrupted his explanation to point out that he was "for as much education as is possible to give the people of Illinois that he felt he was going to do this would be to spend more money on the University of Illinois. An expenditure of 10 million dollars, he said, would give the University of Illinois the best medical center in the world.

He concluded his speech by saying that the best solution in his estimation would be to create a single institution with all state support institutions changed with the responsibility for providing for the needs of Southern Illinois. As an alternative to this he recommended that a commission be set up to study the situation and report to the Senate.

Griffiths Says Wait
Dr. Griffiths of the University of Illinois spoke next. He began by agreeing that there was a doubt as to the need of the southern area; but he went on to say that a U. S. I. was not the proper solution. His main points were: that it is not an educational institution; that it is not a source of an area; that to create a U. S. I. would cost 15 million dollars; that a system of junior colleges, combined with a research and teaching for talented students throughout the area, would solve the problem more effectively; that he should look to our elementary educational system before trying to

Thirty-Seven More Southern Men Report For Active Duty This Week

Asks, beware. Thirty-seven more of Southern's men are headed your way. They are men of the Army Enlistment Reserve and will report to duty at Scott Field on April 3.

They enlisted between June 1 and December 1 with the understanding of deferment for college work. When in college they were given no prescribed course other than that of their own choosing because the Army wanted variety in training and ability.

Twelve weeks of basic military training will be required, after which the men will have a choice of advancement. Eligibility for Officer Candidate School or for the Army College Training Program will depend on college and basic military records and ability.

Most of the men in the Army Enlistment Reserve were called up to report at Chicago last Friday. They probably will be sent south to pre-flight college training groups. Since they were advised not to register for the Spring term, the Egyptian editor by courtesy of a complete list.

and have several states joining to solve the problem of higher education; and that a commission of experts be set up to study the situation and report what an "intelligent" solution for the future should be.

Following Dr. Griffiths' speech the speaker was questioned by members from the floor. Senator Griffiths was in the room, he was quizzed first. Senator Parish from Central Missouri presented the fact that the union college in Central Missouri was a distinct entity, that it was little more than a glorified high school.

Senator Howell from West Florida asked Dr. Griffiths how long it should take a commission to study the situation. He discovered the interesting fact that a commission had been making a study of conditions for seven years, during which he had arrived at "some of the facts." He felt, however, that a commission could make a survey in "less than a year."

Dones cracked and muscles creaked, groaning resounded through the gymnasium as the athletes of the 6th completed their physical fitness tests.

The grueling two hours of testing proceeded the men to be in good physical condition. They indicated the need for a properly planned physical training program.

The program was planned to bring into use every important muscle in the human body, and particularly those that would be used by a pilot of a high speed pursuit plane or bomber.

The physical fitness test itself was composed of the following: backing vertical jump, right hand push ups, bench press, pull ups, back lift, leg lifts, and push ups.

By specific exercises and ratios, Mr. Dittavanna and his staff have planned an extensive program, including calisthenics, tumbling, and work on the hand bars and trampoline.

Track Meet Prospects Gloomy; Tentative Arrangements Made For Few Meets--U. of I. Offers Plan

AIR CADETS TO ENGAGE IN BOWLING TILT

This week-end the upper classes of the Cadet Detachment will engage in one of the big sports events of their athletic program. On Friday night two ten-man teams, one from each squadron, will compete in a bowling match.

The team with the highest score will be designated the winner. The Squadron One team will be composed of A-C-C's Calamari, Shaker, Nixon, Meyers, Appiah, Shaker, Tondan, Appiah, Tondan, and Bendy, as yet the Squadron Two team is in doubt. It should be a spirited and close battle.

The basketball game, scheduled for this Saturday, has been postponed to a later date. A new system of intramurals is being instituted by Mr. Dittavanna and his staff. Aided by cadets who have taken part in this year's intramurals, the program of intramural contests, with weekly tryouts in High School and College will act as instructor.

The Physical Training Department's sports activities will cover all months. These results will compare with its column every week. The program will include all team sports, except those which are not so important to these potential pilots.

The setup at the Physical Training periods has finally been completed. Squadron One and Squadron Two will work on different days. There will still be six regular action however, three of upper classmen and three of lower classmen. As it stands now the light and dark uniforms are being worn by the members of Squadron One. The members of Squadron Two will be the leaders of Squadron One.

This World of Music

By BEEHOVEN

Sing's disks have been the most limited this year than in previous seasons. The reason is twofold: the ban on the making of new records in effect since August 1 and the restrictions on the use of vintage studio equipment by the government. As a result, the companies have been chary in their release of all records, and where dozens of new singles were placed on the market each month several years ago, now only several are issued at a time. Nevertheless, a stable representation is at hand, including the April releases as well as several belatedly to March not yet commented upon.

There are three twelve-inch singles devoted to contemporary music. The best of these works is William Whitton's "Sopino," a comely creature played brightly by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra under the late Frederick Stock (Columbia). The score is crisp, sparkling, snare in its arpeggio; the tenor in mannered it has snap and pace.

Another Weinberger's "Cecili Rhapsody," played smoothly by the National Symphony Orchestra under Hans Kindler (Victor), has folklike themes, but its staid qualities seem pale and warmed over.

AMERICAN MUSIC

Two sections from Charles Skilton's "Suite Primitiva - Sun-Dance and Indian War Dance" may be authentic but the conventional, they are written, however, with style and vigor. Howard Hanson conducts the Eastman Rochester Symphony Orchestra in able performances with Milton Mackawa as violin soloist in the first dance.

The young quartet of Arthur Whitehouse and Jack Lowman in the Navy, makes a record, how on a ten-inch Victor record with the "Waltz for a Reilly Suite, Dostoyevsky's "Gloria," and the "March from Schubert's "Life of Three Quarters." The pianist was made the soloist at the first dance.

Bowden To Serve On Social Committee

Dr. F. D. Bowden, head of the Sociology Department at Southern, has been appointed to membership on a committee to study the subject of pre-professional education for the young men. The committee is working under the Illinois Welfare Association. It will be representative of professional schools of social work, undergraduate schools, both private and public, the American Association of Social Workers, and public and private social agencies, as well as lay persons. The committee is to consider the social problems involved in setting up pre-professional curricula and standards for counseling services in undergraduate schools. It is also to gather information regarding social work courses now being offered at the undergraduate level and to formulate interest and offer similar courses in this area.

Southern Salute

By LIL GODDARD

Morris Polan writes home this week. There's a note of sadness in his pen, as he says "I'm just another soldier getting Army drill and calisthenics, but I'm brightened when he wrote that he is in Keosauqua Field, Mississippi and that that wasn't too far from Southern.

Edwene Wallace and Nabel Barker are "bank mums" in the Camp Grant Medical Corps. "The food's good and the drilling strenuous, but we like this Army life fine" seems to express their opinion. Need I say more, boys? We're mighty glad you're making it okay. Bob Brewer seals greetings from Camp Pendleton, California. The Marine Corps Raider Training Center. Already decorated with expert swimmers and crag, marksmanship medals, we believe that he's doing alright, too.

Next this week from Al Gene Shafter. He's stationed at Camp Wallace in heavy artillery, but as far as we can make out, he's all about the place.

Keep writing to us as much as you enjoy receiving the Egyptian, and hearing about the Egyptian, and through it. You write the letters, and we'll put the news in the paper. Fair enough? Any word is good from you, the former students of Southern.

Harwood Hall Plants Victory Garden-Crops As Yet Remain known

With point rationing and vegetable shortages come Victory gardens. It is almost a necessity to say at least that you have your own little Victory garden to improve your neighbors with your patriotism. But Harwood Hall decided a few weeks ago to do something really constructive along the home front. The garden is that almost half of the back yard which has been outlined by the boys in order to have a few vitamins left in their diet when summer arrived.

The house's Agriculture major, Carl Gasaway, after running a course of soil tests, advised the men that the soil was good enough to raise almost anything, although up to this year the only thing it has raised has been baked bread-bake. In the actual sponging of the ground there were many hazards to overcome. The greatest of which was probably Dave Harwood's attempt to call a home meeting and voice to go fishing the first time he found a good one.

James Wilson has been acting in the capacity of foreman. This is a job of the greatest importance. As soon as "garden" is mentioned Harwood Hall is empty in the garden.

At present lettuce, radishes, and onions are the chief products of the garden. It is very likely possible that more complex agricultural crops will be introduced later.

His arrival, he will assist in the supervision, by giving criticism and suggestions.

The increased activity in the Art Department within the last term for two has been notable. The Art Studio-Residence party is undoubtedly responsible for part of this activity in observing the work of some great artists and in seeing just how they work, students have been stimulated into the same type activity almost on a minor scale.

COLLEGE RADIO NEWS

JACK SMITH, WAR WORKER

Jack Smith, popular tenor of Columbia University's Sunday afternoon "Family Hour" program, is now assisting his manager to combine his radio career with important war work.

Giving up all his radio shows except the "Family Hour" last September, Smith enrolled at the New York School of Aircraft Instruments where he set about learning the installation and repair of everything that goes into a plane.

His school hours are nine in the morning to four in the afternoon five days a week, which prevents a time problem when he has rehearsals. This he solves, however, by attending rehearsals during his lunch hour and cutting lunch prepared by his wife in the studio or control room.

COL. STOOPLANGE, GLAMOUR BOY

Colonel Leonard G. Stooplange, that old "mad dog" boy, is convinced that Madeline Carroll is following him. Last fall, the charming star of CBS "Madeline Carroll Heads" moved next door to the Stooplange home in North Waukegan, Ill. Recently, under dual pressure from a full broadcasting schedule and an empty fuel oil tank, the "Stooplanger" quitman moved to New York. He has been in his offices only a week when a new tenant took quarters next door. The name of course was Madeline Carroll. The Colonel is convinced that his fat charm was the reason.

IMPORTANT NOTICE FROM SOCIAL SECURITY BOARD

The Social Security Board asks those of you who are about to enter upon your first job to realize the importance of the social security account number card which you will soon be making an application at the nearest field office of the Social Security Board.

This card represents your insurance policy with the Federal government. It is the key to the wage credits you will earn in jobs coming under the terms of the Social Security Act. These wage credits, in turn, may at a later date entitle you to certain monthly benefits under that act.

Once you have your card, do not lose it. Every time an American worker loses, destroys, or mutilates his social security account card, he is wasting as much money as it costs to provide 12 bullets to an American soldier. The Social Security Board issued 1,861,000 duplicate account cards during the last 12 months at a total cost of $60,000. This sum of money would purchase 823 machine guns or 655 jeeps. As a patriotic duty, as well as for your own protection, safeguard your account card.

"LET'S PRETEND" IS OFF TO THE WAR

The "Let's Pretend" boys have gone to war. Along with the awards she has received for her decorated CBS children's program, Nita Mack, its director, is now taking up pictures of her talented youngsters who are now in khaki.

The roster of screen-ites include the handsome Maub (with Bobby and Billy, who delighted movie audiences a few years ago) "The Prince and the Pauper" and are still together in the Signal Corps, Reswell, N. M.

Billy Halob and one of the "Dead End" kids, and Don Hughes, Nita's original leading man thirteen years ago, are stationed at Camp Dix, N. J. Other well known youngsters, now serving their country are Sydney Lumet, Lester Jay, Jimmy McCallion, Arthur Anderson and Arthur Ross.

Patricia Ryan, the girl who was rescued regularly by these look-alikes, now spends all her spare time as a nurse's aide.

Australia has 32,000 miles of coastline.
