Board Hires New Faculty Members

Three interim appointments to the SIU faculty were approved by the board of trustees Friday.

Officer Paul Kodace, assistant professor at the University of Illinois, was named professor and chairman of the department of special education.

Dr. Jean H. Boehringer, a native of Illinois, was named as an associate professor and University Physician in the Health Service. He holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Southern and attended the University of Illinois Medical School.

Another associate professorship was given to Clifford M. Moeller, who will be in the department of industrial education. A civil engineer who has been on the staffs of Kansas State College, Montana State University of Maine, and Cornell, Moeller has also worked with the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District and with the Analytical Aerial Triangulation Project of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

James Jenkins, Jr., who has taught in Pennsylvania and is currently on the staff of the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, was assigned to the University School of an associate professor.

Dr. Robert C. Steck, superintendent of Anna State Hospital, accepted a position as adjunct professor and will serve without pay in connection with the University's graduate program in psychology.

Ivin George Hillery, who is to receive a doctor's degree from Michigan State University this month, was named assistant professor in agriculture and Frederick B. Lewis, Jr., currently an assistant professor at the University of Hawaii, will have the same rank in Southern's physical education department.

New instructors appointed to the faculty include Mark E. Klopp, Pennsylvania State University, industrial education; Charles E. Rosenberg, Ball State Teachers College, business administration; and William J. Vogt, a na-

Over 150 handicapped youngsters between the ages of 7 and 14 will attend this year's camp, which is a cooperative project of SIU, Southern Illinois Division of Services for Crippled Children. Besides the camp, the camp agenda includes hiking, swimming, archery, games, visits to county fairs, and attending a baseball game in St. Louis.

Three Added To Community Development

Three replacements in SIU's department of community development were approved Friday by the Board of Trustees.

Richard C. Franklin, an assistant professor of community services at Kansas State College, was appointed to a similar post at Southern. Robert E. Kinell, a D. James B. Aiken were named field representatives for the department.

Knittel is currently public relations consultant for the Department of Public Safety, St. Louis, and Aiken was superintendent of the Mounds Township High School.

Franklin, who holds a doctor of education degree from Columbia University, has served as supervisor of public schools at El Paso, Tex., and research associate for the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

He replaces Carl S. Harm, who has accepted a position with the Atlanta School of Social Work, Atlanta University.

Knittel, a graduate of the School of Journalism, University of Missouri, was formerly assistant manager and manager of Doubleday and Co. stores in St. Louis, Clayton, Mo., and New Orleans. Aiken, who received his master's degree from Southern, has also served as principal of the high school at Ellsworth, Ill.

Aiken will replace Alice Beaudette, who will become executive director of the Family Service Association, Fall River, Mass. Knittel will succeed Daniel Tanner, who has been working with the community development program at Carleisle since last fall. He will now be at Stanford University.

Testing Center Approved Again

The Counseling and Testing Center at SIU has been granted continued professional approval for a year.

First approved in 1954 by the Professional Practices Committee of the American Personnel and Guidance Association, the center's program has been reviewed and sanctioned again this year.

The center provides counseling service to SIU students on personal, vocational and educational matters and administers tests to individuals and groups, including tests of General Educational Development.

Other campus agencies which cooperate in the Testing Center program are Health Service, Psychological Services Center, Speech and Hearing Clinic, and the social and guidance and special education departments.

Final Exam Schedule

Thursday, August 9	7:30 classes	10:30 classes	1:10 classes
Friday, August 10	7:30 classes	11:45 classes	1:30 classes

Examinations will begin at the hours scheduled above and will run for two clock hours, except for classes that meet only one or two hours a week. Examinations for these will begin at the end of the two-hour examinations and will run for one clock hour. This arrangement is necessary to dovetail three, two, and one-hour classes that meet at the same period.

In case more than one class meets in a room, the one meeting three or four days a week should have priority on the room for the final examination. Any instructor without a room for a particular class is requested to check with the Registrar's Office for assignment.

A student who for some reason must miss the final examination must not take an examination before the one scheduled for the class. In this case, "W" followed by the tentative grade of an "8" indicating the number of weeks attended, should be recorded by the instructor. The final examination may be given at a later date within one year.

Native Of Spain To Teach Here

Dr. Jeronimo Mallo, professor of foreign languages at the University of Iowa for the past 12 years, will be a visiting professor at SIU.

Author of numerous books and articles in his field, Mallo will teach Spanish classes at Southern according to Dr. Vera L. Peacock, chairman of the foreign language department.

A native of Spain, Mallo received a law degree at the University of Santiago and doctorates of philosophy and laws at the University of Madrid.

In addition to teaching at Iowa, Mallo was assistant professor at the University of Madrid eight years and at Florida Southern College two years.

Board Shuffles Education Units

The SIU board of trustees has authorized a reshuffling of units which would give the College of Education a total of 13 departments.

Most of the departments are already in existence, either in function or in name, but the board action gives them formal recognition. The College will have until July 1, 1958 to complete its new organizational setup.

At the same time, the board approved the appointment of Oliver Paul Koester as chairman of the department of special education. University officials told the board several other department heads will have to be named in the College of Education.

In addition to special education, the College of Education will have the following departments: administration and supervision; elementary education; secondary education; guidance; instructional materials; teacher training; health education; recreation and outdoor education; men's intramurals, and three physical education departments—academic and monadic department for men's P. E., and P. E. for women.

Allen, Mikan Head Staff For SIU Coaching Clinic

Two of the greatest names in basketball, Dr. F. C. (Phog) Allen and Alvin Mikan, will head the SIU coaching clinic.

Allen has served as head basketball coach at the University of Kansas for the past 39 years, his team winning outright or sharing 24 national championships. He has been coach at West Kentucky and the University of Illinois prep teams out of the last 10 years.

Clayton Named Quill Editor

Charles C. Clayton, lecturer and visiting professor of journalism, has been named editor of the Quill, official monthly magazine of Sigma Delta Chi professional journalism fraternity.

National president of Sigma Delta Chi in 1951-1952, Clayton succeeded Carl R. Kesler, who served as editor from 1944 until his death last July 2.

Fall Enrollment Creeps Upward

Nearly 500 more students have registered in advance for the fall semester than in this time a year ago, according to Registrar Robert A. McGrath.

Despite the increase, SIU still offers a wide selection of courses and class periods to students planning to register later, McGrath said.

The registrar credited the establishment of a seating center through which all registering students are processed for this new service to late comers.

The center has arranged class assignments so that late registrants will be enrolling on nearly an equal basis with those already registered, he explained.

Summer Commencement, 329 Candidates For Degrees

Some 329 students are candidates for degrees at Southern Illinois University's summer commencement exercises Friday.

More than one-third of the candidates receive their degrees in arts. Eight of the 114 masters will be awarded to teachers and school administrators.

The summer graduating class is larger than the class of last summer by more than 100 students.

Dr. Douglas L. Lawson, a professor in the SIU College of Education since 1946, will be commencement speaker. He was dean of the college during most of his service at Southern.

Distinguished service awards will be given to Charles W. Clough, state legislator from Clampaign, and Mrs. Florence Miller Bohrer, Bloomington, first woman state senator in Illinois. Clough, a former school teacher and chairman of the Illinois School and Character Commission, has served nine terms in state legislatures. Miller Bohrer, whose father was governor of Illinois from 1889 to 1893, is a past president of the Illinois League of Women Voters and she had held numerous other civic and governmental offices.

Twenty-six of the summer graduates will receive associate degrees in technology for completing two-year programs in the Vocational-Technical Institute. There will be 167 bachelor's degrees conferred, and Lawrence W. Martin, Carbondale, will be given a Certificate of Specialist award for completing a year of academic work above the master's degree level.

Southern Players Get Ready To Leave Branson Theater

The Southern Players will pack their luggage and strike their stage sets Monday after 30 performances this summer in the Shepherd of the Hills Theater, Branson, Mo.

The six-week play season will end Sunday with more than 4,000 summer stock theatre goers from 33 states having seen the six plays produced by the university's acting company on the shores of Lake Taneycomo.

This season's payroll has included a wide variety of theatrical entertainment ranging from Shakespeare to an adaptation of the "Shepherd of the Hills" novel. Plays produced this summer were "Shepherd of the Hills," "The Tender Trap," "The Glass Menagerie," "The Taming of the Shrew," "Papa Is All!" and "Oh, Wilderness!"

Regardless of the type of play produced, theatre records for the season have shown a steady average attendance for each performance, which would tend to indicate that Ozark theatre goers were equal to abrupt adjustments in theatrical tastes.

"Ah, Wilderness!" August 8 through 10, and "The Shepherd of the Hills" August 11 and 12 will close out the second season of summer stock productions in Branson.

In 1956 Shepherd of the Hills summer stock theatre season has a provided educational experiences in theatre and publicizing to 25 Southern Illinois University students who will return to campus classrooms in September.

Speaks At Program

Dr. John E. Grinnell, dean of the College of Education at SIU, spoke at a scholarship program July 27 at Edwardsville High School. College scholarships were awarded to outstanding Madison County high school graduates.

Open-Mindedness Is Valuable For Teachers, Specialist Says

Open-mindedness and social intelligence are two of the most important traits a teacher needs, Eurus J. Jackson, St. Louis curriculum specialist, told school teachers and administrators July 25 at a meeting at SIU.

As consultant in charge of probationary teachers in the St. Louis public school system, Jackson views classroom and rates teachers. Other traits he looks for are courage, friendliness, enthusiasm, optimism and "zest for life."

"These are the teachers who avoid discussing controversial problems in the classroom because they are charged with dynamics," he said. He challenged principals to spend more time visiting classrooms not just to find fault with teachers but to observe and evaluate their methods.

"I see too many principals tied down in paper work their secretaries can do a lot better," he commented. The speaker, who has been associated with the St. Louis school for 27 years, said the main problem of the current teacher shortage is lowering standards. Mentioning merit rating systems for teachers, Jackson said the difficulty is that "everyone enjoys a raise and the system means nothing or only some are upgraded and the others complain that they have been discriminated against."

Jackson's address at University Auditorium climaxed a three-day visit at SIU, where he lectured to classes in the College of Education. The talk was followed by a reception sponsored by the SIU chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, honor society in education.

Peach Field Day Shows Varieties

Mid-season varieties of peaches were on exhibit at a Peach Growers Field Day July 27 at the Illinois Horticulture Experiment Station at SIU.

Second in a series, the field day featured peach varieties in season approximately three weeks before Fairhaven and Nevada.

A third field day is scheduled for Friday, Aug. 10. The first session was held July 13.

PE Sports Questionnaire Answers Told

Mickey Mantle and "Needles" Mantle over four other Chicago choice sports quiz given recently to 636 SIU freshmen and sophomores, according to an analysis completed this week.

Eighty-one percent of the students taking the test picked Mickey Mantle over four other Chicago choice sports quiz given recently to 636 SIU freshmen and sophomores, according to an analysis completed this week.

Three of the six questions receiving the most correct answers concerned baseball, while one each was on boxing, racing and basketball.

Lowest percentage of correct marks came on two swimming questions and one each on baseball, tennis, and boxing.

The sports quiz, started last winter by Dr. Edward J. Shea, head of the SIU men's physical education department, is given each term to all male freshmen and sophomores taking required physical education. Test results apply toward grades.

Over 53 percent of those taking the test picked .093 as the world's 100-yard dash record, while only 56 percent knew that Dave Sims had tied world records in the 100 and 200 yard dashes.

More than 62 percent correctly assigned Sugar Ray Robinson to the middleweight division, but only 19.5 percent less than 38.7 percent picked the correct time of 3 minutes, 58 seconds as the record for the mile run.

Nearly 40 percent recognized Jack Burke, Jr., as the winner of the Master's golf tournament, but only 8.5 percent picked George Breun of Courland State College as one of the world's greatest freestyle swimmers.

Just under 60 percent correctly named Melbourne, Australia, as the site of the 1956 Olympics, while

Cosmetologists Finish School

More than 55 hairdressers and makeup artists from Illinois and five other states were enrolled in the second annual two weeks Advanced School of Cosmetology, which opened July 23 on the SIU campus.

Offered by the Illinois State Association of Hairdressers and Cosmetologists in cooperation with the SIU Division of Technical and Adult Education, the school is designed to update professionals in advanced techniques of the trade.

Included in the group were 21 second year students who received two-year certificates at the conclusion of this summer's session on Aug. 4. Twenty-eight of the students were newcomers who earned attendance certificates. At the end of the three year program graduates will receive diplomas as master cosmetologists.

The students' schedule embraced a comprehensive series of classroom lectures, laboratory sessions and salon exercises in converted classrooms. In addition to courses in hair styling, tinting, hair shaping, cosmetology and makeup, students are grounded in other business-related courses such as chemistry and physics as related to cosmetics, speech, art theory, record keeping, parliamentary procedure, psychology, merchandising and "self-evaluation."

Briggs' Review In Magazine

A book review by Dr. Harold E. Briggs, chairman of the SIU history department, appears in the summer issue of the Mississippi Valley Historical Review. The volume reviewed is "Men and Trade on the Northwest Frontier as Shown by the Fort Owen Ledger," edited by George P. Vreeland and published by the University of Montana Press.

Nothing takes to the road like a Chevy!

Once in a blue moon a car like this comes along—a design so advanced in performance, so beautifully balanced that it stands out above every other car on the highway.

It has a solid, sure-footed way of going that makes driving safer and more pleasant on any road. And you feel a very special sense of security in its rapid-fire responsiveness to your touch on the wheel, brakes and accelerator.

You can see that the '56 Chevy is a standout for style. But until you have driven one you're missing the best part of the news—the fact that Chevrolet is the smoothest, solidest, most wedded-to-the-road automobile you ever possessed. Try it and see.

You get more car when you buy it... more dollars when you sell it! Chevy has the highest resale value of the leading low-priced models!

The Downstate Fisherman's Guide

By Pete Brown

This season, Crappie fishing, which has been good for the past three weeks, continues to be productive. For the first time in nearly a month, bass are starting to show up on the stringers of Crab Orchard fishermen. The water is clear and medium sized bignouth are taking the traditional deep running hard water.

Crappie fishing is picking up at Horseshoe Lake (the one in Alexander, not Madison county). Minnow anglers are making good catches in the eight to 12 inch category.

Lake Murphysboro's hordes of bluegill are still on the chase, but if you're looking for anything else, try another spot. Accidental surprises for the minnow and roach fishermen include occasional channel cat and warmouth. The most recent full-day census showed no crappie taken at all.

Further corroborating the successes of boat fishermen at Lake Murphysboro have been a series of shocker and netting surveys conducted by an SIU researcher. Literally bushels of bluegill and redear sunfish have been turned up, and many of the redear were termed "quite large."

Poppers are accounting for two and three pounders at Little Grassy, although in no numbers comparable to the boom there earlier

'Doc' Bencini Named Coach At U. School

E. L. (Doc) Bencini, former Murphysboro High School grid and cage coach, will be head football coach at the SIU University High School this fall.

Present University School football coach John W. (Bud) Stotlar will continue as head track coach and will be assistant coach in football and Junior High basketball coach. Charles (Chuck) Thate will remain head basketball coach, while Dwain Samll will be head baseball coach.

Bencini, who will continue as an area representative for the SIU athletic department, also will coach tennis at University High when facilities are available. This past year he was assistant football and assistant basketball coach at SIU. No replacement has been named for his college coaching duties.

University School principal John D. Mees said that he is looking forward to having Bencini as a full-time faculty member, pointing out that Bencini's teaching ability is as outstanding as his coaching record.

While head football coach at Murphysboro High School, his grid teams shared or won nine Southwest Egyptian Conference titles and posted an overall record of 76 wins, 10 losses, and 7 ties. His poorest season was 1955 when his squad had a 6-3-1 mark to tie for the conference crown. In only one other season did his teams lose more than two games.

Former Pro Basketballer Hired As Assistant Coach

A former professional basketball and baseball player, Fred B. Lewis, has been hired as assistant professor of physical education and assistant basketball coach at Southern Illinois University.

Lewis, who for the past two years has been on the physical education staff of the University of Hawaii, is a former All-American basketball player for Eastern Kentucky. For two years he was named on the College All-Star team, being selected as the most valuable player in 1946.

During the 1944-45 season he was second in national scoring, while in 1945-46, he was third. He was picked as the most valuable player of the NAIB in 1945.

Lewis played professional basketball with the Sheboygan (Wisc.) Redskins, earning the Rookie of the Year award in 1947. He was first team all pro guard and was second in league scoring.

In 1948 he played with the Indianapolis Jets and in 1949-50 with the Baltimore Colts. He taught in the Amityville (N.Y.) public schools before joining the University of Hawaii staff in 1953.

Lewis, who attended Long Island University prior to transferring to Eastern Kentucky, received his bachelor's degree from Eastern Kentucky in 1947 and his master's from New York University in 1952.

In 1946 he played Class AA baseball with the Louisville Colonels.

University officials, who earlier this summer hired William T. Meade, formerly head gymnastics coach at the University of North Carolina, said Lewis' appointment was part of an overall program to get the best possible physical education

WESTERN?

Over two months of hard work, for about 60 area grade, high school and college students came to an end last week with the three-day run of "Finian's Rainbow."

Produced by the SIU Opera Workshop, the show was given Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights in Shrivock Auditorium.

The cast, many of whom commuted as far as 40 miles for the nightly practice sessions, was under the direction of William Taylor, of the SIU music faculty. Floyd Walsland directed the chorus.

A former Broadway hit, "Finian's Rainbow" is set in the male-believe valley in Mississippi where Finian has brought a pot of gold he found in Ireland with the help of some friendly leprechauns. Such popular song hits as "How Are Things in Glocca Morra?" and "That Old Devil Moon" brightened up the musical score.

The female singing lead was shared by Peggy Vallet and Jo Ann Henson. Miss Vallet sang the role of Sharon McLonigan in the Friday and Sunday shows, with Miss Henson leading the cast for the Saturday performance. Bob Walker sang the male lead.

Other featured performances were Bill Turner, Burke Fry, Richard Hunsaker, Carol Mitchell, Danny Songer, David Davidson and Diane Kitz.
