ENROLLMENT DROPS BY SEVEN PER CENT

Registration Totals 2,517 Students

A total of 2,517 students have registered for the winter term at Southern Illinois University announced Thursday.

By the end of the second day of registration a total of 2,483 students had enrolled for classes here.

This figure compares with final registration of 2,718 for the fall term, but is not far below the 2,670 who had registered by the end of the third day last fall. Classes began Wednesday, December 11, but more students are expected to enroll until December 20, and these late registrants will probably raise the enrollment total to approximately 2,600.

In terms of times at colleges and universities throughout the country, a decline of some 10 to 15 per cent usually occurs from the fall term to the winter term. University officials pointed out. On the basis of present indications, the drop here this year will be much smaller than the usual trend.

SOUTHERN HOST TO SPEECH MEET HERE TOMORROW

The subject of the speech meet will convene here tomorrow, December 14, with approximately 75 high school speech activity representatives participating under the sponsorship of the University speech department, the Illinois Upsilon Chapter of Phi Kappa Delta, national honorific society, and Tau Delta Iota, Southern discussion club.

The chief speaker of the occasion will be Dr. Forrest H. Rose, dean at Southeast Missouri State Teachers' College and nationally known speech educator, who will address the group during a luncheon on the subject "What's the Pay-off of Speech?", a consideration of organizational opportunities for the speech-trained student.

Events in the meet will fall into the division of oratorical demonstrations, extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, poetry reading and group discussion.

High schools participating in the meet are McClainboro, Paducah, West Frankfort, Greenville, Sports, East St. Louis, Du Quoin, Newton, Granite City, Charleston, and Zeigler.

Museum Acquires Birds' Eggs of Late Benton Collector

A collection of birds' eggs gathered in Southern Illinois over a lifetime by the late George Halek Center of Du Quoin has been presented to the University museum by the collector's son, Virgil Center of Benton.

"This collection is a very fine one of eggs of birds native to this region," declared John Quin, Museum curator. "With the few eggs we already had, this gift will make our collection almost complete."

"We hope to obtain a permit to collect other eggs to fill in the few remaining gaps."

The Center collection represents eggs of hundreds of species of birds of this region, from the tiny hummingbird, whose egg is little larger than a may beetle, to the hawk, with turkey and owl. The largest egg in the collection is that of the wild turkey and measures 2 1/2 inches in length, and 1 1/2 inches at the widest point in diameter.

Mr. Center, collector of the bird eggs, and other fine superlatives at Du Quoin, who had a life-long interest in the outdoors, according to Mr. Allen. He became an authority on wildlife of this region, and was a taxidermist of note. His ordinary attachment to one of his notable catches was a Carolina parakeet, which he killed near Hallidayboro, and mounted with skill.

MARINE CORPS TO TRAIN RESERVE OFFICERS AT SINU

Southern has been selected by the U. S. Marine Corps as one of the accredited colleges and universities in which to re-open its officers training program for the Marine Corps under the University President's office has announced.

A letter from Gen. A. A. Vandeventer, commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps, to President Chester F. Lay, outlined the proposed program and invited the University's participation.

A group of Marine officers will visit the campus early in 1947 to hold interviews with Southern students who are interested in enrolling at reservists in the Marine program.

The program will be open to unmarried men students pursuing a course of instruction other than one leading to a Medical, Dental or Theological degree, who will not be more than 25 years of age by the time they are commissioned.

Summer military training—either six or twelve weeks, depending on whether or not the student has had prior military service—will be required. Students will receive $90 per month during the first six weeks of this summer training, $100 per month for the second six weeks.

On graduation and after completion of the military training, the students will be commissioned second lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve, although a limited number may be commissioned in the regular Marine Corps.

Lynn Holder Named Head Basketball Coach: Succeeds Glen n "Abe" Martin

A realignment of coaching power at Southern effective at the beginning of the basketball season placed Lynn C. Holder, instructor in physical education and assistant coach, in the position of head basketball coach. Athletic Director Glenn "Abe" Martin announced.

"Holder was brought here this summer with the idea of eventually replacing his head basketball coach," Martin explained.

"We had originally planned that I would continue to coach basketball this season, since we thought last year's championship squad would be in line. However, it now develops that only one of last year's first string players will be

Soloists For "The Messiah" Sunday Night

"The Messiah," oratorio by George Frederick Handel, will be presented in Shryock Auditorium Sunday at 7:30 p. m. under the direction of Dr. Mauris Kesar, professor of music and chairman of the music department.

Miss Woods has sung throughout the Middle West and South in oratorios. She is contralto soloist at the Kingshighway Presbyterian church, St. Louis, is a member of the KSD Mixed Quartet, and a member of the St. Louis Friday Morning Musical.

Churches' program over the radio. In 1939 she won the Young Artist Contest of the Society of American Musicians, and appeared last month in a recital in Kimball Hall, Chicago.

Mr. Nelson, says Dr. Kesar, has a voice of exceptional beauty and power to which years of study and coaching have brought artistry and maturity. He has studied with several leading singers and coaches of the United States, and has sung frequently throughout the Middle West. He has appeared often in "The Messiah."

"The Messiah" will be presented as a pre-Christmas oratorio by a 250-voice choir and a 60-piece orchestra. Singers from many Southern Illinois communities are participating in the chorus, including the Egyptian Choral Club of West Frankfort, directed by Dr. Frank E. Trolough.

The Community high school Chorus, Carbondale, the University Chorus directed by Floyd V. Wakeland, and the University Symphony Orchestra, directed by Dr. Kesar, will also combine their talents for the oratorio.

Piano accompanist will be Mrs. Helen Matthes, and organist, Mrs. Mary Jane Grizzell, both instructors in the University music department.

The Southern Parade

By DAVE KENNEY

Those charter members of the Corps club who are still here on the campus will be very glad to hear of a recent communique from J. J. Whiteside, who at the present is a director of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in St. Louis. His message concerns the activities of a much more recent organization called The Society for the Protection of the Mile or More. The "mile or more" is a very rare bird, whose species is near extinction. The Society's program consists of discussion groups which concern themselves with matters pertaining to the protection and propagation of the tiny covers of "mile or more" which can be found in out-of-the-way spots in Southern Illinois.

The weird cry of the "mile or more" has on occasion been heard near the campus at such places as Thompson's Lake and Cemetery Ridge. Whiteside urges midnight excursions to these lonely spots; so that the roosting place of this particular covey of "mile or more" may be discovered. As he put it, "... if that area is blessed with that beloved bird, one and all can rejoice."

The winter program of the SPMOM includes such activities as putting out birdseed and bread crumbs which snow covers the ground; and beer seminars at which colored sides of the "mile or more" in its native habitat are shown.

Whiteside is enthusiastic about the possibilities of an MOM chapter being formed here at Southern Illinois. He is already interested, as are Kenny Hedges and Dan Cox. Anyone who recognizes the importance of the organization's work should get in touch with one of those men. A suggested motto for the MOM is, "We'd walk a mile for a 'mile or more'."

According to rumor, Julius Swayne has the only genuine "mile or more" dog in this end of the state. This noble beast has been combing the fields and woods for weeks, accompanied by Swayne, in fruitless search for a MOM. Swayne feels that eventually his search will be rewarded, but a different note was sounded by Fred Armstrong, who in speaking of the dog, said briefly, "If he was mine I'd shoot him." Let us all hope and pray that at least one specimen of MOM may be found. Our musings all means should have an unidentified fowl at the reservoir last week which he believed to be a MOM. He came into town and hid the corpse safely away in his room at the Chi Del house, intending to mail it to Whiteside that very evening, for identification. Tragedy ensued. The bird ended up on the dinner table after being found, cleaned, and cooked by Larry Fienne, otherwise known as "the appetite," who later commented through a toothpick and a satisfied smile, "Mile or more for me from now on."

REVIEW OF THE NEWS

By FENTON HARRIS

Senator Taft is having trouble gaining the chairmanship of the Senate Labor Committee. Most of the trouble is being provided by Senator Aiken of Vermont. Senator Aiken has made a claim that he shall not give up without a fight. Under the merger of the Senate Pensions and Finance Committee, Senator Aiken has been named as the chairmanship of the Senate Finance Committee. Senator Taft makes the labor position. Since he doesn't think he can back Aiken from both positions, Taft must decide whether to let the Vermont liberal take the leading role in labor or tax-making.

The Veterans Administration may be asking for more money to finance the many G. I. students. Veterans are pouring into schools and on-the-job training in such numbers that before next June they will require more than $100 million for training. The grant is expected to double by spring and the number of veterans in college has gone several thousand above the figure that was estimated. Approximately 2,000,000 veterans are now out of school or in job training.

Question Box for Vets

This column is published each week in the Egyptian as part of a program to answer pertinent questions which servicemen veterans enrolled in Southern.

Q. How can I get a priority rating to buy government surplus property?
A. Go to the Illinois Ordnance Plant. Take with you your original discharge certificate. Contact the US Veterans' Administration there. He will certify you. (McLanahan)

Q. How much can I earn from working without it affecting my GI subsistence?
A. You can earn up to $110 per month before it affects your GI subsistence. Earnings above that point will bring about corresponding reductions in your subsistence. (Hickey)

Q. Can my subsistence allowance be apportioned in the event my wife and I decide to separate?
A. Yes. The subsistence allowance is subject to apportionment on the basis of 70 per cent to the veteran and 30 per cent for a wife. Further apportionment may be made in the case of children. (Wolfe)

Q. Has there been a change in the latest date that veteran can re-instate his insurance?
A. Yes. It has been changed from Dec. 31, 1945 to Feb. 1, 1947. (Winkelmeyer)

Q. If I want to leave school and take "on the job training," can I get a new Certificate of Eligibility?
A. No. You should go to the Veterans' Administration Guidance Office, 901 Lincoln Avenue, Carbondale, Ill. You'll be sent through advisement and when requirements have been met a Temporary Revised Certificate of Eligibility will be issued so that you may enter a new course of training at once. (Wolfe)

Q. Are the materials which are supplied to veterans the same from school to school throughout Illinois?
A. No. The materials and supplies furnished veterans in training under both P.L. 16 and 346 depend upon the contract between the Veterans Administration and the school. The standard form of contract used by the Veterans' Administration contains the following provisions:

"Books, tools, equipment, and supplies, except as otherwise set forth herein, will be furnished outright to the Veterans if and as needed, and will consist of those items required, but in no instance shall the variety, quality, or amount that are required by the institution to be provided personally by other students pursuing the same or similar courses."

In case of death or if the address has moved to another state, the checks must be returned. Students leaving the University should notify the disbursing officer of their change of address as well as notifying the local post office. Many students receive checks addressed in care of S. I. U. X. These checks cannot be delivered except at the General Delivery window of the post office. We are not permitted to notify them either by mail or telephone of the fact that they have mail addressed to them at the post office. Such students should also notify their disbursing officer of their street address.

It is our opinion that most of these matters can be cleared up if the students are informed of the necessity of keeping the local post office informed as to their correct address."

Serious Theme is Frosh Favorite

By Pod Williams

"Freshmen were most serious and sentimental themes in class than humorous or any other type," according to Emma L. Bowyer, chairman of the English department, and Edith Smith Krappie, assistant professor of English here at Southern. Miss Bowyer says, "I get an autobiography from my freshmen students in the series of themes." She went further to say that many of the themes are poor, but some are exceptionally good.

Miss Bowyer believes that the poor quality of the themes is due to the fact that there is not enough time for the student to do the theme. She admits that most high school English teachers are over-worked and that they just do not have time to grade themes.

According to Mrs. Krappie, veterans write mostly about their experiences while in service, while other freshmen write mostly about high school experiences. She believes that, even though humorous themes are harder to write, students would still prefer to put their serious thoughts on paper.

STUDENT EMPLOYEES

There will be no change in the tax rate for 1947, Edward W. Miles, Jr., business manager, announced. To receive an exemption certificate (form W-4) will be required unless there has been a change in the exemption status of the student employee since the last filed exemption certificate in the Business Manager's office.

If there has been any change in exemption status, new certificates should be completed and filed in the Business Manager's office not later than 4:30 p.m. Friday, December 20. Forms may be obtained in the Business Manager's office.

1909 Grad Resigns As Harvard Dean

Prof. A. Chester Hanford, 1909 graduate of Southern, has resigned as dean of Harvard College after 19 years' tenure—the longest period anyone has occupied the post in Harvard University, according to word received here.

A native of Makanda, Hanford attended Southern and the University of Illinois, and obtained the doctorate of philosophy degree from Harvard. He taught at Harvard both before and after his service in the Navy in World War II.

Pursuing his interest in state and local government, he served in 1915 as investigator for the Illinois Efficiency and Economy Commission in 1916 and 1917 he compiled information for the Massachusetts Constitutional Commission. In 1920 he served as secretary for a committee on new sources of revenue for Boston.

Post Office Informs President of Offence

This week the University administration informed the Egyptian of a letter received from Acting Postmaster Virgil Brown of the Carbondale Post Office, calling attention to the fact that some person on Friday, November 22, dropped a lighted match or cigarette in the mailbox located at Carter's Cafe across the street from the entrance to the University campus.

In his letter to President Chester F. Lay, Mr. Brown pointed out that if this offense occurs again, "we will be forced to consider moving this box from the present location."

President Lay, in replying to Mr. Brown, assured the postal authorities the matter would be called to the attention of the student body, through the columns of the Egyptian and in student assembly.

"Of course such criminal vandalism is a disgrace to the community, and you can count on my fullest support," the president wrote.

Acting Postmaster Brown in his letter said that the November 22 incident was the second time a fire has been started in the box at Carter's Cafe. "We are sure that it was a deliberate act," he said. "We are advising the Postal Inspector of this act and inasmuch as this box is important to the school as well as to the student body, we are advising you of our actions."

The Egyptian realizes that such an act as this should be brought to the attention of the student body since not only does it disgrace the school, but may result in the removal of the mailbox. Location of this box is convenient for all students, and one person should not be allowed to deprive others of this convenience.

PLEASE, DECATURIAN of Millikin University, tell us that that announcement printed under the so alluring picture of Daisy Mae in your recent issue was all a joke. It couldn't be true that "Daisy Mae will not be permitted to attend the 'Beds' Dance tomorrow night because her costume does not meet the specifications of the administration,"—or could it?

We're also wondering if it was a serious or joking mood that prompted the same paper to print an account of a Panhellenic dance under the headline "Pan-Hell Dance in Armory Tonight." It's not that we favor profanity, exactly, but we do find Pan-Hell a rather harmless expression.

MAYBE IT WORKS better that way. A high school paper we know printed a list of all students who received a D or an E in any of their subjects in addition to the traditional honor roll. As effective as embarrassing, perhaps.

FROM TEXAS Christian University comes a tale of something that could happen only in a class of G.I. students. Miss Rippy, the instructor, wore on the board, "Jack is a captain," and went on to explain in her best Freshman Rhetoric manner that in this case the word "captain" was a predicate nominative. "Now if I said, 'Jack strack the captain,'" continued Miss Rippy, "what would that be?" Without hesitation the class in unison answered, "Court Martial!"

A STUDENT was refused admission to Western Michigan College, because all classroom seats were occupied. His ingenuity and determination caused the lan to be lifted by a very simple plan. He now carries his own folding chair.

THE OREGON DAILY Entrails tells us of an Eastern paper, which in reference to a veteran war veteran of the pleasant past, made the embarrassing error of calling him a battle-scarred veteran. With the indignant remarks of the old soldier's family ringing in his ears, the editor quickly ordered that a correction be made. This was done, and the item apologized for the error—stating that they really meant to call the man a "battle-scarred" veteran.

BE CAREFUL what you wish aloud. Billy Bob Griffiths, staff writer for the East Texas "Teachers' college," with something would happen to give us some news? He declared. His wish came true 48 hours later. A twister hit Griffiths' airport two miles west of the campus, blowing away two hangars and two planes.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

The President's Office wishes to call to the attention of the student body that the following excerpt from a letter from Virgil Brown, acting postmaster of the Carbondale Post Office, with reference to the difficulties postal authorities are having in delivering mail to University students: "The local post office is experiencing a great deal of difficulty in making proper and efficient delivery of student mail. We are sure you can and will want to assist both the student body and the local post office in effecting the best mail service possible. (1) Students move from one local address to another without leaving a change of address at the post office. This not only slows down the first delivery of mail of our time but very often this mail cannot be delivered because new addresses cannot be established by our clerks. (2) Students quit school and return home without leaving a change of address. (3) This one is very important. Most student veterans receive government checks at least once each month. Postal regulations require that these checks be delivered as addressed. Also they cannot be forwarded to another post-

ILLINOIS EDUCATION Publishes Article By Dr. Bosley

Dr. Howard E. Bosley, associate professor of education and director of Wheeler library here at Southern, has an article, entitled "Some Goals for Educational Reconstruction in Illinois," appearing in the November issue of "Illinois Education."

Dr. Bosley states that some of the following provisions: "Books, tools, equipment, and supplies, except as otherwise set forth herein, will be furnished outright to the Veterans if and as needed, and will consist of those items required, but in no instance shall the variety, quality, or amount that are required by the institution to be provided personally by other students pursuing the same or similar courses."

In case of death or if the address has moved to another state, the checks must be returned. Students leaving the University should notify the disbursing officer of their change of address as well as notifying the local post office. Many students receive checks addressed in care of S. I. U. X. These checks cannot be delivered except at the General Delivery window of the post office. We are not permitted to notify them either by mail or telephone of the fact that they have mail addressed to them at the post office. Such students should also notify their disbursing officer of their street address.

It is our opinion that most of these matters can be cleared up if the students are informed of the necessity of keeping the local post office informed as to their correct address."

The games Wednesday night started off a schedule of over 200 games that will continue throughout most of the winter term.

Asked about individual teams, Freeburg stated that the "Aces" appeared to be "terrifically strong." Other teams which look like dangerous contenders are the "Knights" and "Knights."

Coach Martin Awards Letters To 28 Maroon Gridders

By John Redman Ringing down the curtain on the 1942 Southern football season, Coach Glenn "Abe" Martin awarded football letters this past week to 28 Maroon and White gridders.

Coach Martin stated that he felt that the contact with the Evansville team immediately before the game with DeKalb for the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championship cost Southern the coveted crown.

Only two men, Lawrence Calfe and Sam Milosevich, are left to next season's squad through graduation, which leaves 26 men for the 1947 Southern gridiron squad.

HAMILTON, KEENE NAMED CAPTAINS

Glenn Hamilton, sophomore of Pinckevillville, has been named honorary captain of the Southern cross-country squad for this year.

Letters in cross-country were awarded to seven harriers by Linette. They are Buddy Miller of Carbondale, Marion Ellett of Thompsonville, Bill Dorris of Benton, Bob Lunneman of Pinckevillville, Leonard Burden of Herbin, Keene, and Hamilton.

CAGERS OPEN SEASON WITH TWIN WIN

In a doubleheader with the Chefford Manufacturing Company and the Alton United Club, the Southern Maroons came away twice victorious on the home hardwood on November 11.

Many Maroon cagers took the boards as Coach Lynn Holder substituted freely, trying various combinations, all of which seemed to work pretty well against the tired industrial boys.

The evening's entertainment started with the game against the Chefford Manufacturing Co., and while the Maroons jumped into a quick lead on three fast-break baskets, the tilt was close throughout.

A new five foot the floor for Southern at the start of the second half. Oliver Shoaff, Ed Moody, Gene Hall, Bob Colborn, and Ledio Cabutti were the five, and the last named started the game.

The second game, that against the Alton United Club, was much less a contest all the way. Southern was never behind in this game, as Paul Enrietta dumped in seven points in the first 12 minutes to pace the Maroons.

Alton Second

The second half was pretty much an exaggerated repetition of the first as the Maroons' fast break ran Alton ragged. Two Alton fouls fouled out, and that was the end of the visitors' reserves.

The Maroons' shooting was excellent, their passing alternately wild and brilliant, and their rebounding generally strong on offense and weak on defense.

A word of warning, and perhaps a bit of explanation to the followers of Southern's basketball team. Many unfavorable comments and questions have been directed towards this column, and we would like to attempt to clear up a few things.

One of the reasons for the happenings of the team to date. It was expected last year that only one man, Don Sheffer, would be lost from the squad that won the National Intercollegiate crown.

HOLDER-MEN WIN TWO, DROP ONE ON LONG ROAD TRIP

The Maroons emerged with a record of one win and two losses in a series of three games with St. Louis University, Washington University and Western Kentucky.

The game with the Billikins was played in the St. Louis U. gym last Friday, and the Maroons won the score 65-57 in favor of St. Louis. Last Saturday night the Maroons were victorious over Washington by a count of 47-43.

Last Monday night, Southern traveled to Paducah to engage Western Kentucky in a game which ended in a 62-48 score in favor of the quintet from Western.

The game with Washington was played with the Maroons grab a commanding lead, and hold it until the latter part of the game when a Washington rally brought them within three points of the lead with four minutes remaining.

At Paducah, the Western grabbed a big lead in the first. Southern rallied, however, and were within four points of the lead at the end of the first half.

STOLAR LEAVES CAGERS FOR PRE-MED STUDIES

Rolling the lowest average ever rolled in league competition at the Congress Bowling Lanes, the Southern Vets went down in a three-game defeat at the hands of Beauty Boys Tuesday evening. The score recorded was 236-228.

The Southern will meet the Eddie Miller's Stars next Tuesday. Star of grid season was well as basketball, Stolar was named as all-Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference quarterback last year, but was shifted to halfback this year to utilize his ability to run broken field.
