VTI Student Burns To Death As House Burns To Ground

Clair Mark Ehrhardt, 24 year old student at VTI from Park Forest burned to death early Saturday morning in a five room bungalow in New Denison seven miles southeast of Marion.

Ehrhardt, a veteran of the Korean War, had been living in the home alone since he rented the house about two weeks ago from Mrs. Estie Byron of Marion. Both the home and Ehrhardt's car were destroyed in the fire.

The blaze was first noticed by an unidentified farmer in New Denison about 4 a. m. Saturday when his son was awakened by a fire in the area west of the scene and found the house was too far gone to save.

The blaze was reported to Williamson County Deputy Sheriff Rex Rowland about 6 a. m. Rowland called William County Coroner Adolph Fluck when Rowland said that James Campbell and Roy Henry who reported the fire said that there was a car burning next to the house.

When Rowland and Fluck arrived at the scene the house had burned to its foundation and collapsed into the basement where Fluck said Ehrhardt's body was seen under the area which covered the bedroom. Fluck called a rescue team from Marion who recovered the body about eight o'clock.

Ehrhardt had put an oil heater into the house about a week ago according to Mrs. Myron.

The Radio and Television Technology major was last seen about 12:45 Friday night by a friend Don McNail of R. R. 2, Marion, who had been out with Ehrhardt during the evening.

At an inquest held in the Marion City Hall at 9 p. m. Saturday night Coroner Fluck said Ehrhardt was burned to death but that the cause of the fire was unknown.

Ehrhardt's body was returned to Park Forest Saturday night but funeral arrangements were not available.

Ehrhardt was in his second year at VTI. He had graduated from Thornton Township High School in Harvey in 1950.

The victim was born September

Debate Team Duo Wins First At Northwestern Invitational Meet

Richard Rieke and Joseph Selement, stalwarts of the Debate team, gained the most impressive honor ever won by an SIU squad by talking their way to the championship of the Northwestern Invitational Tournament at Evanston last week.

Thirty-four colleges and universities were represented in the tournament, with each institution fielding two teams. In addition to Rieke and Selement, the other Southern team was the duo of Peter Morris and Ted Foster.

Southern's total record for the tournament was 13 victories and two defeats. Rieke and Selement lost to Nebraska Wesleyan in the six rounds of preliminary competition, but they remained in the running with triumph over Brooklyn College of New York, Kansas State College at Pittsburg, Illinois Normal, Northwestern and Drake.

In the quarterfinals, Selement and Rieke eliminated the University of Nebraska, and then surprised Mrs. H. R. Long, Charles C. Clayton, and Wayne Rowland.

Southern Press Club Accepted By Sigma Delta Chi At Louisville

The Southern Press Club has been accepted as an undergraduate chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

The journalism group was admitted to SDJC by a unanimous vote of the convention delegates at the 47th annual convention held in Louisville, Nov. 28-Dec. 1.

The SIU organization is now making plans for their formal initiation, which will be held some time in January. There are 16 active members and six pledges in the group now.

Students attending the convention were Gene Cray, Jack Thatcher, Charles Schlepfer, George Bliss, Henry Supwolski, Bob Hargan, Don Mecke, Don Harcus, Joe Meloni and Bill Markle.

Members of the SIU journalism faculty attending were Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Long, Charles C. Clayton, and Wayne Rowland.

Radio Majors Direct Public Service Shows

The SIU Broadcasting Service has started a new series of special events programs, being carried as a public service over Southern Illinois area radio and TV stations.

Radio students James McKinstry and Charles Upton are directing the radio workshop activity, under the supervision of Buren C. Robbins, assistant professor in Southern's radio-TV department.

The first show, a 15-minute interview with Mr. Stefan Posony, was aired over five area stations. Posony is a professor of International Politics at Georgetown University, and discussed "recent developments in the Middle East," during the interview.

Dr. Ernest Kalibala, outstanding African statesman, who has been in the United Nations for six years, was the second outstanding personality to be interviewed on the program.

A television show was also made this week. It used the radio show as a basis. The radio show was used by four stations in Southern Illinois.

McKinstry and Upton are presently putting together a show featuring an interview with Elliot Farrell, noted dramatic soprano who recently appeared in Shropshire Auditorium.

The show's co-directors are also working on a 15-minute show with the 21 representatives from 17 foreign countries who were on Southern's campus to study the methods and techniques of community economic development.

The representatives were sent here from Washington D. C., because SIU has one of the most outstanding community development departments in the nation.

SIU Students Discover And Fight Fire

Six SIU students used not only their heads but also their muscles in fighting a back-to-back fire to hold a raging fire in a two-story house east of Carbondale in check Wednesday evening.

The students kicked in a locked screen door, and the glass out of a back door to enter the burning home to warn its occupants.

They fought to fight the flames, while one of the students pumped water into the waiting buckets. One of the students called the fire department.

The students were identified as Gary Clark, president of Theta Psi, Point of view, Larry Thomas, Allen Rubin, Tony Thompson and Ray Kelley.

They had been traveling west on Route 13, near Engel's Restaurant, in the prelims.

SIU Students Discover And Fight Fire

The key of pearls and rubies was presented to Clayton at the SIU's awards and recognition banquet last Friday evening, Nov. 30.

Clayton served on the editorial staff of the "Quill," SDX magazine. He is also past National President of the Sigma Delta Chi.

Non-Credit Course

Dr. Walter J. Willis, professor in the agriculture department is going to hold a non-credit adult course in Cobden, starting Jan. 7.

When they spotted the flames licking out of the second story of the building.

Don Grabner, Carbondale assistant fire chief, stated that the boys held the fire down until he and his men arrived.

Clark was overcome from smoke while fighting the blaze but was revived in the fresh air.

It is believed the fire started in a couch on the second floor possibly from a cigarette.

Charles C. Clayton, visiting professor of Journalism at SIU, has received the Wells Memorial Key, the highest award given by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

Clayton received the honor at the annual SDX convention held in Louisville, Ky., last week. He received the award from Al Austin, chairman of the awards committee, for his high accomplishments in leadership, integrity, and service in the field of journalism.

The award came as a surprise to the faculty advisor of the Egyptian, as he was attending the convention with the Southern Press Club as they presented their petition for undergraduate acceptance.

"The key of pearls and rubies was presented to Clayton at the SIU's awards and recognition banquet last Friday evening, Nov. 30.

Clayton served on the editorial staff of the "Quill," SDX magazine. He is also past National President of the Sigma Delta Chi.

Is There A Woman In The Teks House

"IS Rita Canning there?" asks a voice over the telephone.

A nervous Teks clad in his B.V.D.s looks around warily for any sign of a female. Finally after ascertaining that no figure of the fairer sex can be found, he tells the party on the other end of the line, "A sigh of relief, that Rita isn't there."

This confusion - causing incident has been occurring regularly since the '56-'57 faculty directory came out. The "befuddled" bulletin had the pretty Miss Canning's telephone number as 1019, which is the Teks House.

Rita is a Graduate Fellow in Journalism working on a M.A. Master Degree.

Giant City Students Move Into New Dorm

The residents of Giant City moved into their new dorms Friday, Nov. 29, 1 p. m., one day before the end of the semester.

The second and third floors were furnished except for the lounge furniture.

Trucks drove up to the dorms loaded with the new beds and mattresses, and as the workmen carried the second floor lounge, the residents began assembling them. The wrapping paper was stripped from the black metal beds and hurriedly carried them into the rooms. Next came the mattress cover which was wrapped off as fast as the workmen carried them into the rooms.

For the residents who have extra long legs, there are beds that were 84 inches long or six inches longer than the normal bed. Desks for the residents arrived later and were quickly carried to the rooms. Because of the lack of space trunks were stacked in the halls until the basement is completely empty.

The boys who were to live on the first floor, are living in the second and third floor lounges, but only until the first floor is completed.

All through this activity of assembly mad confusion, the dorm's mascot, a greyhound dog with a national title, right hind paw, lay curled on one of the mattresses asleep.

After the beds were assembled and in place the residents began housekeeping in their new dorms.

Tenth Annual "Messiah" To Be December 9

The tenth annual performance of Handel's "Messiah" will be given by the Southern Illinois Oratorio Society on Sunday evening, Dec. 9, in Shropok Auditorium.

"The Messiah" has become one of the great American Christmas traditions, and for many Americans it wouldn't be Christmas without it. Dr. Henry Brunsma, chairman of the Music Department, is the conductor.

The chorus of 200 voices, accompanied by the Southern Illinois Symphonic Orchestra will be under the direction of Dr. Mauraz Koszar, professor of music.

The work will be performed in its entire form in the Sunday evening concert on Dec. 9. In addition, a one-hour version will be presented for SIU students on Monday, Dec. 10, at 10:00 a. m. according to Dr. Brunsma.

On Monday evening, the chorus, orchestra and soloists will move to Du Quoin for a performance at the Du Quoin High School.

The Southern Illinois University is composed of students, faculty and community singers. The Southern Illinois Oratorio Society will be joined by the Du Quoin Choral Society of 80 voices, directed by Mr. Melvin Sienier.

The Sunday performance will feature soloists from Chicago and the first of two Monday programs will use soloists chosen as honor students from the SIU student body, Brunsma said.

Student soloists include: Priscilla Metcalf, soprano; Mrs. Jean Walker, contralto; and Robert Walker, bass.

Local Government Appointed

President Unger appointed Mary Ann Edwards, Bobbie Harris, and Max Malone, to a committee to investigate the possibility of the SIU Student Council joining the United States National Student Council asking them if they would join the organization.

"There are some advantages in belonging to the group," said Miss Unger.

Some of the benefits are: Students free for traveling abroad, a hospital plan, and professional help on governing problems.

Miss Edwards is to recommend these qualified students to serve on the "University Day" committee. The "University Day" will be held during the spring of the next year.

Local Group Recognized
The Council also voted unanimously to recognize Delta Sigma as a local society. Delta Sigma is a national organization. The SIU chapter is the only one in the area.

Because it is the best thing for the SIU chapter, the national council is pleased to recognize the SIU chapter. The sorority house is located at 800 S. University.

Because of the basketball game with Ft. Leonard Wood, the Council will meet at 6:30 Thursday night at the Student and Hearing Clinic in South Thompson Point.

Let's Share

The Christmas season on the SIU campus is usually a very festive affair.

There is the "Deck the Halls" party in the Student Union. Most of the groups on campus have some sort of holiday celebration before classes adjourn for the vacation.

All in all, the SIU students have a fine Christmas when the family observances are added to the college celebrations.

When the bills from all the celebrations are added up, 'total is considerable.

Christmas is the time for celebration and good cheer and love of fellow man. But, what kind of Christmas season are the suppressed people of Hungary enjoying this year?

College students in the United States have shown very little sympathy for the cause of the ill-fated Hungarian rebels. College students in other nations demonstrated in sympathy of the Hungarian cause.

Many decorations accomplish very little in the way of assisting people in the situation of the Hungarians. But, there is another way of displaying sympathy with the cause of freedom, a better way.

If some of the money spent for decorations and other items at college holiday celebrations were set aside for the purchase of CARE packages for Hungary, the subjugated citizens of that country could share in the holiday with the students of SIU.

Five dollars buys 22 pounds of food in a CARE package—22 pounds of food sorely needed by the Hungarian patriots.

Enjoy Christmas, but help others to enjoy it, too. Have your group send a CARE package to Hungary.

UN Representative Addresses IRC Club

"It is the little things that will decide the future and only when you do your part will you earn the right to survive," said Aillard Lowenstein at an International Relations Club meeting on Nov. 29.

"Such silly little things as what the people of Carbonade know about the United Nations or how well the people of Burma know us, are important," said the Colleague Council representative of the United Nations.

The young dark-haired enthusiastic speaker is closely connected with the leaders of the U. N. movement in the U. S. During his under-graduate days at North Carolina University, he was president of the National Student Association.

After serving in the army and getting a law degree from Yale University, Lowenstein has been the field secretary of the C.C.U.N., traveling through most of the world.

His main office is in the American Association of the U. N. where he works with people like Mr. F. D. Roosevelt.

He pointed out activities designed to bring about better understanding between people.

"It seems important that you do your part in contacting people of other countries and becoming citizens of the 20th century," said Lowenstein. "In the past few months it would not have taken a great deal of imagination for the thinking person to know what specific tangible things could be done to help in instances of oppression."

"It is a pity that the universities do not collect clothes to send to these countries that are advancing our cause."

Two Obligations
Lowenstein said that there are two obligations that everyone has.

"First, to inform ourselves about the nature of world affairs and the responsibility of America in the U. N. so that when the U. N. is exposed to attack, we can answer back."

"Second, if we don't try to reach out and understand the peoples of our time, we will lose them."

"We think that we are in a very placid era and we are, but the rest of the world is in one of its most stirred times. Therefore, we must reach past our borders to explain what we mean."

Holiday Gone; So Is Car

Dr. William Lyle Stranded When Car Is Taken

By Gary Heape
Dr. Lyle went home for the "turkey holiday" and some one took his car.

William H. Lyle, assistant professor of psychology, with his family took the traditional leave from campus activities to visit his parents in Ashland, Kentucky for the Thanksgiving holiday.

On their way back to Carbonade the Lyle family stopped in Louisville, Kentucky to see the Dr.'s brother.

While enjoying the southern hospitality a thief, who apparently hadn't caught the spirit of Thanksgiving, "fished" Lyle's car.

First news of the incident came from the stranded Lyle last Sunday.

He called his Murphysboro neighbor and instructed her to call Dr. Noble Kelley, chairman of the psychology department, and explain that he would be unable to teach his classes Monday.

This is not Lyle's first incident with the modern auto.

About 8 months ago, according to Dr. Kelley, Lyle was the victim of a reckless driver which completely demolished his car.

The gentleman in the other car didn't carry collision insurance and as a result Lyle had quite a time collecting damages.

The SIU psychologist could probably add a new field to the world of psychology called "phobia la auto of the paranoid type."

DR. WADEY TO SPEAK
"Recent Developments in High Vacuum Techniques", will be the subject of a talk given by Dr. Walter G. Wadey.

The talk will be the fourth in a series of lectures, and will be given in Parkinson 308 at 10 a. m. on Thursday, Jan. 10.

All who are interested are invited to attend.

SIU Householders Have Christmas Party
The annual Christmas meeting of the SIU Householders was held Thursday night at the Student Christian Foundation.

Mrs. Mabel Pulliam, SIU supervisor of off-campus housing, was in charge. Members of the organization are Carbonade residents who rent rooms to students.

Proceeding the meeting the members had a "potluck" supper. Mrs. J. M. Marberry presented a reading of a Christmas story. Singing of carols was under the direction of Mrs. Elsie Bame.

Members brought gifts for elderly invalids and they decorated a Christmas tree for the Student Christmas Foundation. Hostesses at the meeting were Mrs. Nellie Rugland, Mrs. L. W. Clark, and Mrs. Frank Sylvania.

EGYPTIAN ROUNDTABLE
Most of the members of the staff in the Department of Industrial Education, attended a meeting of the Egyptian Roundtable, last Thursday at West Frankfort.

"The Roundtable is an association of teachers in the industrial arts field around Southern Illinois," said Shelby Shake, secretary-treasurer of the group.

"The purpose of the group is to meet and try to work out new ideas and old problems in our field. We feel that by doing this we can improve our teaching."

Participants: Suzanne Knox, Pat Cook, and Linda Adams will portray the three "older" women of 50, in the play.

FACULTY MEMBER GRANT LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Van A. Buboltz, assistant professor in the School of Business, has been granted a six-month sabbatical leave of absence.

He is to attend the University of Iowa to work on his Ph. D. in business. Buboltz received his M. A. degree from Northwestern University.

The leave will become effective at the end of this winter and Buboltz hopes to commence his studies as soon as the new semester starts at Iowa.

Students Seek Funds For New Building

"Give for the cause of Christian faith and stewardship." That is the thought in the minds of the 15 Methodist students who have organized to solicit funds for a new Wesley Foundation.

These students have taken the responsibility of raising $10,000 of the $260,500 total needed for the proposed Foundation building.

The balance of the money is being raised in a campaign carried on by the Southern Illinois Conference of the Methodist Church.

The 125 students leading the drive on campus will contact other Methodist students and members of Wesley Foundation, asking for pledges. They are organized under the general chairmanship of Ray Ryan.

The all-out student drive began Wednesday night, Nov. 14, with a banquet and instructions at Engel's Restaurant. The group was divided into four divisions; Marilyn Michaels, Jerry Long, Janis Leach, and Bill Moon were chosen as division leaders.

Fresh Hear Spokesman Of Audubon Society

"Did you ever see a sponge walk?" Allen Cruickshank, lecturer and photographer for the National Audubon Society asked the freshmen assembly Nov. 28.

"Well I was a bit surprised when I saw this sponge walking across the sand under water," he said. "But I found out that a hermit crab was lying in the sea sponge."

With a colored film, entitled "Greenland," Cruickshank took the freshmen assembly on a jungle boat trip down the Wakulla River in Florida to view the birds and animals in their habits.

The film began at the source of the Wakulla River, the Wakulla Spring which is the deepest in the state, and which puts forth enough water to form the Wakulla River.

"The people just cannot understand what the 'gate' is good for," said Cruickshank, "but if you could see the alligators eat the small animals that would destroy the eggs of the birds, and they how protect the breeding grounds of the birds on the islands in the swamps by catching the animals that swim out to these islands, you would understand."

They also catch the weaker of the ducks and other birds and this way only the strongest birds survive, and that the way it should be. The film showed pictures of the brown Pelican, the sea Gull, the Blue Heron, and White Egrets, and many others.

Clinic Helps Poor Readers

Dr. Thalman Tells of Corrective Methods

"Poor reading can be caused by poor teaching methods, but it is usually caused by emotional disturbances, or both of these," according to Dr. W. A. Thalman, director of the Child Guidance Clinic.

In an interview, Thalman explained some of the reasons why many students read poorly and told what is being done to correct this handicap.

"One main purpose of the Child Guidance Clinic is to help correct the students' academic difficulties. About the emotional aspect, Thalman said that pressure exerted on a student by his parents can cause him to do poorly in his school work.

"Parents frequently criticize too severely the grades made by their children," he said. "That pressure itself may cause the child to lose interest and even try to get revenge on his parents by intentionally making poor grades."

"We find that both adults and children respond better to praise than criticism. Child Read to Parents

"Conflicts between the child and his parents will give the youngster a feeling of insecurity. This causes him to become a day-dreamer and he can't concentrate because he is worried and disturbed."

"After the child has started to school, it is better for him to read to his parents," said Thalman, "and they should show interest in his ability."

If a child has difficulty with his studies, a check should be made on the teaching method, his interest, family relationship, and a d Thalman.

Two Systems Are Used The mechanical side of good reading—the teaching—is done mostly by two systems, the phonetic system and the flash-card system. He said that it is better to emphasize both systems.

"It is highly important that too much emphasis not be placed on one system," said Thalman.

"If too much interest is placed on phonetics," Thalman said, "the student tends to look at portions of a word rather than the word as a whole."

Johanna Harris Shows Piano Skill At Recital

By Ruth Ann Reeves

Three centuries of music echoed from the piano in Shroyck auditorium Thursday night, under the skillful touch of Mrs. Johanna Harris, internationally known pianist.

Mrs. Harris, appearing with her husband Roy Harris, well-known American composer, performed five pieces representing 18th, 19th and 20th century composers, including Bach, Beethoven, Chopin, Debussy and Harris.

Harris augmented his wife's performance with program notes on the pieces to be performed and the artists who composed them.

Impossible to write the analysis, the noted American composer, now a visiting artist in residence at SIU, gave his comments from a lectern at the side of the stage. While his wife held the center of the stage, clad in a peacock blue evening gown patterned on an Indian Sari, Harris sat quietly, covering his eyes with one hand, listening intently. At the close of her performance, when she had been presented with a bouquet of American roses, she held out her hand for her husband to share her honors and he kissed it, awkwardly.

Harris Calls Bach Greatest "Claccione," a piece first written by Bach for violin and later transcribed for the piano by Liszt, opened the program.

"Bach is probably the greatest composer who ever lived," Harris said. He is a crazy old gentleman who had 20 children and wrote a voluminous amount of music. The people of his time thought so little of it, however, that they used it for wrapping paper."

Mrs. Harris played with eyes closed, feeling the music in the tempo of the music were marked by emphatic nods of her head. One member of the audience remarked that her small hands, flying over the keys, probably had enough power to shovel coal.

Beethoven's "Sonata in E Major, Opus 109," was chosen to represent 19th century music. Harris called Beethoven one of the greatest writers for piano.

Harris Explains Dynamics. Beethoven is the father of the use of dynamics—loud and soft dynamics," Harris said. "His 'Vivace

Men Students Must Apply For Deferments

Male students holding a I-S or II-S deferment and whose academic year ends in the Fall quarter should report to the Registrar's Office, according to Registrar Robert McGrath.

In order to further the deferment the student will be required to make application for a 109 form to be completed and sent to their local draft board.

If their deferment is favorably considered by the local board the student will be in the II-S deferment class.

Selective Service regulations state that the Registrar's Office cannot send the 109 form unless the board or a student request it.

There are certain qualifications that the student must have in order to be eligible for the 109 form. Freshmen must rank in the upper one-half of their class or have made a score of 70 or more on the Selective Service test.

Juniors must rank in the upper three-fourths of their class or have made a score of 70 or better on the test.

A senior wishing to continue his graduate study must rank in the upper one-fourth of his class and have made a score of 80 or better on the Selective Service test.

The High-Living Redbird has a new record, 1,439 points in three years. Fred was 33rd in the nation's scores, during the 1955-56 season, and although he stands only 6-1, the senior from Peoria, Ill., can go six and one-half inches above the basket rim from a standing jump.

Players Hold Tryouts For 'Romeo, Juliet'

From Shaws to Shakespeare is the entertainment path of the Southern Players for campus theater-goers.

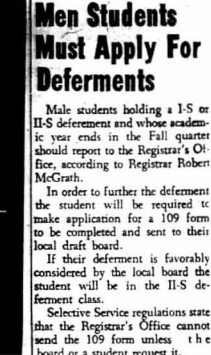

Even as George Bernard Shaw's comedy "Arms and the Man," enters the second night in its six-day run, tryouts for the next Southern Players' production are under way.

"Romeo and Juliet" will be the next presentation by the SIU Players.

"It's a touch piece which shows destiny of the keyboard."

There are only four female parts in the play, but they will be double cast, including the lead role of Juliet.

The play will be presented Feb. 11-16, and cast rehearsals will begin Jan. 2.

TO THE PERFORMERS

Mrs. Johanna Harris' center was presented with a bouquet of roses last Thursday night in Shroyck Auditorium after her performance at the piano. The internationally-known pianist was accompanied by her husband, Roy, the noted American composer who is now a visiting artist in residence at Southern.

Tryouts are being held in the SIU radio studios at 7:30 p. m. There will be 20 roles open for students, in the Shakespearean favorite, 12 male and eight female.

Valparaiso Hands SIU 77-66 Loss; Ft. Wood Here Thurs.

The Salukis basketball team is pointing toward its first home game, with Ft. Leonard Wood this Thursday night, after absorbing an opening game loss at Valparaiso Saturday, 77-66.

The taller Crusaders of Valparaiso fell behind SIU in rebounds, 32-24, and field goals, 21-22, but outshot the Salukis at the free throw line, 35-22, and therein lay the margin of victory. Southern sank 22 of 32 free throw attempts while the Crusaders made 35 of 42.

Three Salukis scored in the double figures. Center Larry Whitlock led the scorers with 14 points, Guard Gordon Lambert had 13 and Robert Welch picked up 11. Warren Talley, Seymour Bryson, and Marvin Jones each had eight points for SIU. Eckert led the Crusaders with 13.

In field goal shooting percentage SIU led, .350 to .310, but Valparaiso outshot Southern at the free throw line, .830 to .687. Capt. Gordon Lambert led the Salukis rebounders with eight, while freshman Marvin Jones, who played the second half at center, had seven.

Valparaiso led the Salukis throughout the game, although SIU pulled to within three points several times the second half. Each time, the Crusaders forged ahead on free throws. They led at the half, 36-30, and 51-44 at the third period.

Southern lost a possible 21 points on missed free throws.

In Ft. Leonard Wood, Southern will be facing a tall, expertly coached team, the most of the national college stars. Among the players listed on the roster are Billy Ridley and the Judson brothers from the U. of I., and Jerry Bird, former

After meeting Leonard Wood Thursday night, the Salukis travel to Bloomington, Ind. to meet the Indiana University Hoosiers Saturday night. Coach Branch McCracken calls this team "the Big I've had since we won the Big Ten championship in 1951."

Southern's intramural basketball program, and after two rounds of play there are 20 contestants who can still boast undefeated records.

These clubs—the Lamp Lighters, Kappa Alpha Psi and Alpha Phi Alpha—all have displayed winning basketball in three stars, while the 17 other fives are unscathed in only one or two outings. Alpha Phi Alpha will put its 3-0 mark on the line tonight in the Army against Sigma Phi Epsilon in a Fraternity League "A" Division game, while the Lamp Lighters and Kappa Alpha Psi are idle this week.

The Manos, which handed the Bowlers its first setback, 44-35, last week, is setting the pace in the Iowa Division of the Organized House League, with a 2-0 mark. The Bangalow has 1-0 in the Ohio Division of the circuit, and U. D.'s Gunners (2-0) rank behind the Lamp Lighters.

Kappa Alpha Psi and Alpha Phi Alpha of course, have comfortable one-game pulls over the rest of the opposition of the Fraternity "A" Division, while Phi Kappa Tau's 1-0 slate is good enough for the undisputed No. 1 position in the "B" Division.
