The Editors' Opinions

Buildings And The Budget

For those keeping up on SIU building plans the recent announcement by President Delyne W. Morris of budget requests in the next several years came as no surprise. While the figure is high the cost of construction is also high.

Failure of the proposed bond issue is a blow to Southern and other schools in the state. Its passage would have done much to speed construction of buildings of an immediate nature.

Elimination of the bond issue as one means to provide funds for buildings doesn't eliminate the need for them.

Snow Fun

Students and faculty alike returned from Thanksgiving stuffing in find a campus covered with "white stuff."

"Pushing cars was the order of the day over the weekend as the surprise attack by old man winter caught everyone with their chains off. Clusters of students were much in evidence around bally cars.

The new campus covering is the first sight of snow for many students from warm states. Enthusiasm for the frozen rain ranged higher among this group than in the "veterans" class.

Smith Receives 2 Art Awards

Two prints by Moïse Smith, instructor in the art department, were winners of purchase prizes in art exhibitions at Oakland, Calif., and Boston.

"The Four Seasons: Autumn" won the R.M. Light Purchase prize at the Boston Printmakers Exhibition held Oct. 7-Nov. 4. Also at this exhibition he won the "Yankee Magazine" citation.

"The Four Seasons: Summer" was awarded the Bay Printmakers Society Purchase Award. This award was made in connection with Bay Printmakers Society Fourth Annual Exhibition at Oakland.

In receiving a purchase prize the creator sells his work, generally for the price he is asking, to the sponsor of the award. For "The Four Seasons: Autumn" Smith received $100, and $50 for "The Four Seasons: Summer."

Smith made "The Four Seasons" a series of intaglio prints based on southern Illinois landscape, as part of a research project. The prints represent each of the four seasons.

The research project is being sponsored by the graduate college. A third printing of the series, "The Four Seasons: Spring" received an honorable mention at the Second National Print Exhibition at New Canaan, Conn., last March.

At Joplin University, Smith earned two masters' degrees, one in fine arts and another in art education. For the past four years, he has been an instructor at SIU.

Art Exhibit-Sale Begins Today

An exhibit-sale of the work of various students and faculty of the art department is being held in the Museum of Aligned Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 2 and 3.

The exhibit, which is being sponsored by the weaving class of the department, will be open during the hours of 9-12 a.m. and 1-5 p.m. both days, according to Miss Corinne Purdon, faculty member of the department.

Articles to be displayed and sold will be the work of various students in art classes this year, faculty members, and some former SIU art students. Pottery, prints, paintings, weavings and jewelry will be shown.

Names of people entering the exhibit-sale were not available, as the department has not decided which works will be accepted, said Mrs. Purdon.

Kentucky Wesleyan sports one of the biggest small college teams in the country. The Panthers have now 6-10 centers on "their roster."

"Kim" Kelly, 6-3 guard, is also one of the finest shooters in small college ball.

Last season Southern's basketball team, under the direction of Lynn Holder, won 13 while losing 11.

Seymour Bryson and Don McGee are the only seniors on the 1958-59 SIU basketball roster.

behind the news

By JOE BLEWETT

I took a pre-Thanksgiving holiday last week to attend the Sigma Delta Chi journalism fraternity convention in California. With our recent weather I believe another week in the land of sunshine would be okay.

I had looked forward to the trip for sometime. The convention is the "World Series" for those in the newspaper game.

The central issue of the convention dealt with the Kilgor Report. The Report changes the present definition of journalism so that it excludes public relations men from the fraternity in the future.

All advance predictions declared the Report would cause some heated discussion. And no one was disappointed. Some of the arguments presented on both sides were as good as law, if only defending his best friend.

I was a little surprised at the number of undergraduate chapters (the fraternity is composed of both undergraduate and professional chapters) opposed to the Report. The chief one probably being that it was felt exclusion of public relations men would hurt the size of the chapter.

After the debate had finished the voting was somewhat of an anti-climax. The Report was passed by a substantial margin.

It was an interesting experience to listen to some of the men I had heard about for some years speak during the convention. Whatever their views the weight of years of experience went behind them.

I had wondered how some of the "old pros" in the newspaper world felt about Sigma Delta Chi. I thought that perhaps many of them looked upon it as kid stuff. I soon found out to my conception was completely wrong. Those attending the convention are serious about the issue for which the fraternity stands.

There were many jokes and good times of course. A convention would hardly be a convention without them. But underneath the jokes I was impressed with the sincerity and dedication shown.

The staff demonstrated strong concern over whether it had everything cleared to make the California trip. In fact the concern was so strong as to make it of a suspicious nature. Similar concern wasn't voiced about the clearance of my return reservations.

As it turned out the return trip reservations weren't cleared. Along with others I spent a full day of "hedge-hopping."

We took one airline from one city to another and then searched around for another one to the next.

I returned to find my professors' looking rather surprised when I answered the roll call. And with exams a short two weeks away that isn't good. But this convention was well worth it.

Education Has 4 In Who's Who

Four of the new faculty members in the College of Education are named in "Who's Who in America."

Harold R. W. Benjamin, one of the architects of the Point-Four Program in South America, is one of the new instructors who is listed. The others are Phillip W. Cox, Hart Douglass and Leonard W. Koo.

Koo is noted as "The Father of the Junior College," according to Dean John E. Grinnell.

Other new faculty members include J. Murray Lee, James Stoffer, Kenneth B. Orton, Austin H. Turney, Andrew T. Vaughn, Richard Wigley and Roy M. Evans.

Grosvenor C. Rust, Harry Galatin, Jo Anne Thorpe, Dan S. Rainey, Jr., Mildred Fisher, Geraldine P. Fricks, Ruby Gremel, Carol D. Hampton, Toccoa McLean, James Olander, Charles L. Steinberg and Ruth B. Wood.

Navy Officers Counsel Here

A Navy Officer Information Team from St. Louis will be on campus Dec. 2, 3 and 4 to counsel students concerning opportunities for a commission in the U. S. Navy.

The Navy officers will have their headquarters in the Student Union between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. each of the three days.

Interested seniors should contact Dean I. Clark Davis prior to the arrival of the information team or see the information officer on the morning of Dec. 2.

Chief Petty Officer Ernest W. Bryant, who is in charge of the Recruiting Station at Murphysboro, said that college graduates could go direct to the Officer Candidate School at Newport, R. I., after they have passed the physical and mental tests.

School Of Fine Arts

The following statement is from the Board of Trustees report:

"The School of Fine Arts became effective July 1, 1955, to serve as the instrument of the University for the direction of training and the stimulation of creative and professional work in the Fine Arts, and to provide the service work for the other colleges, divisions, schools, and departments of the University. This School includes the Departments of Art and Music."

Very briefly, the School had first been known as the Division of Fine Arts, created in 1953, more or less as an experiment to see if the Departments of Music and Arts (under the direction of Burnett Shroyck as Acting Director) could in sympathy carry out its service to the University as indicated in the above paragraph. It was not long after the School of Fine Arts became effective that the Music Department readied itself and was eventually approved to offer graduate work. The Department of Art was already offering a Master of Arts and a Master of Fine Arts. In 1956 a Department of Design was created. Since its courses had been approved on a graduate level in the Department of Art, it was automatically approved for a Masters Degree.

The main objective is, of course, to turn out the best possible students in Art, Design, Music. To give the student the broadest possible training a student in his field, all three departments have been able to attract excellent staff, competent in their special fields and eager to participate in all kinds of scholarly and creative activities. The Music Department has a regular Sunday series of concerts and recitals. The Departments of Art and Design furnish a varied group of exhibitions throughout the year including student and faculty shows. Consulting services for the community and the area is also a feature of the School. All of these general instruction programs serve effectively the entire region, as well as the campus.

The School of Fine Arts also brings to the campus such internationally-known artists as Buckminster Fuller (Mr. Geodesic Dome, himself); Mlle. Nadia Boulanger (the famous French music teacher); Mr. Charles Eames (designer and architect) and Mr. Joseph Albers (former chairman of the Painting Department at Yale University).

Physically, the School of Fine Arts is located in Aligned Hall, Shroyck Auditorium, the Allyn Building, and temporarily, part of the second floor of Morris Library. Aligned has recently been remodeled, modernized, greater part of this building is now occupied by the Music Department. Part of the Music Department's facilities are to be found in Shroyck Auditorium—soon to be remodelled. The Department of Art occupies the greater part of Allyn Art Building, with the exception of several rooms on the third floor occupied by two other departments. This, too, is badly in need of remodeling and additional facilities. The Design Department will soon need to vacate its temporary quarters in Morris Library for the expanding library; and, rapid growing as it is, must be housed in other and, it is hoped, more permanent quarters.

MELLOW MOTORIST
Grotton, Conn. (AP) State Policemen George Beck with is still scratching his head on this one.

Beckwith arrested a speeder on the Connecticut Turnpike. The motorists complimented the officer for his fine handling of the case, saying, "his behavior was beyond reproach in the performance of his duty."

Southern's first home basketball game of the season is this coming Saturday night (December 6) against Drury College. This is the only game in December to be played on the home floor.

Juniors, seniors, or graduate students are eligible to drive motor vehicles in the campus area.

Begins With Election Today

Commuters Plan To Be Active

The Saluki Commuters Club will elect officers today as a first step in a plan for "improved representation in student government and social activities."

Although still relatively small, the group has begun to participate in campus activities, according to Tom Mabry, Commuter senator. The Student Council voted to recognize the organization Oct. 29. Mabry, junior from West Frankfort, said the club has a threefold purpose.

One, to provide a means through which commuting students, at which commuting students, can have a voice in student affairs, activities and government. By organizing, commuters can pool their ideas and problems supported by sound suggestions for improvement.

Second, the organizations provide a means through which commuters can unite socially as well as join other resident groups in social activities. It is believed that this will make commuters realize they are as much a part of the student body as any student who lives on campus, according to Mabry.

Another committee has been appointed to study the commuter parking situation, which is believed to be inadequate at the present.

Saluki Cagers Opened Season Last Night At Austin Peay State; Play Here Saturday

Southern's young and untried Salukis opened the 1958-59 basketball campaign last night at Austin Peay State College, Clarksville, Tenn.

The game will mark Harry Gallatin's first appearance as a basketball coach. The former "Iron Horse" of the National Basketball Association joined the SIU athletic staff last summer after 10 years in the pro ranks.

Also making his debut in the intercollegiate clash was Charlie Vaughn, fabled freshman from Tamm. Gallatin has announced that Vaughn will be at a starting forward position along with Don Hapler, Champaign. Other starters are Captain Seymour Ricks, Ruggles, Quincy, Mass., and Garrison Newsum, Shawneetown, at guards.

Indee Pin Action

Newmans Rolling For Title

By Bill Christini
First-half action in the SIU Independent Students Bowling League ends right along with Southern's fall term next week. Newman Club No. 2, the defending champion and the club which had grabbed all the marbles for two years running, was capable of wrapping up a third successive championship in the next-to-last round of firing last night at the Congress Lanes.

All the Newmans needed was an even split in their match on alleys 3 and 4 with Doyle Dorn No. 1. Going into the night's action, Newman No. 2 held a three-point lead in the standings over the Bird Dogs. The Newmans' season is over since the pacesetters have an open date on the final date next Monday, but two points last night would give them 22 tallies for the year, five more than the Bird Dogs, who also have only one match to go.

Newman No. 2 was able to put the brakes to a losing streak which had reached two matches, during Ruggles and Newsum, both juniors, the short men at 5-10 and 5-11, will handle the ball in Gallatin's "cutting offense." Both are returning lettermen and are sure performers in the front court.

Hapler is a 6-4 sophomore who fought his way to a starting spot this season. Last year he appeared in 13 games as a freshman and scored 20 points.

The Governors, champions of the Volunteer State Conference, will field an experienced team. Coach Dave Aaron probably will use towering 6-9 Bob Patterson at center to give the Governors the height to go with the overall team speed.

Last year the Salukis dumped Austin Peay 89-71 here. The Governors went on to compile a 17-9 season mark and finish atop the league standings with an 11-3 record.

Southern completed a 13-11 season last year and tied for second in the Interstate Conference with Eastern Illinois and Illinois Normal at 7-5.

The Salukis first home game will be Dec. 6 against Drury College of Springfield, Mo.

IF I TAKE COURSES I DON'T NEED A FIGGER I'LL GRADUATE IN TIME TO WORK LONG ENOUGH TO GO ON SOCIAL SECURITY.

Willie Brown Named Captain

Southern's grid Salukis monopolized the IAC all-star football team as they landed five men in the starting lineup.

The Salukis, the only team to defeat conference champion Western Illinois, placed tackle Houston Antwine, guard Willie Brown, quarterback Bill Norwood, halfback Carver Shannon and fullback Cecil Hart.

The Leatherheads of Western Illinois, stopped in a 32-31 thriller by Southern, had two members on the squad. They were Jack Atherton and Jerry Auesteter, two linemen.

Because of a tie in the voting, which is done the coaches, another center, Alex Kluchak of Eastern Michigan was also honored.

Eastern Michigan placed end Charles Shonta and tackle Carl El-

Hart, Brown Top Gridders

Guard Willie Brown and next season's captain-elect, and fullback Cecil Hart have walked off with this season's "Line-man and Back of the Year" awards.

Brown, last season's "Lineman of the Year" captured this season's award again by receiving at least a share of six "Lineman of the Week" awards.

Hart, this year's captain and fullback of the successful Saluki football team, was the team's leading rusher as he gained 550 yards in 148 carries. Cecil was one of the most consistent and steady men on the Saluki squad as he saw action many times on a battered ankle.

Hart was picked as "Back of the Week" three times during the season. Last season's winner, Carver Shannon and quarterback Bill Norwood each tallied twice.

IAC Honors

Five Salukis On Star Team

Other selections were guard Howie Scheidt of Illinois normal and halfback Walter Beach of Central Michigan.

Shonta, Antwine, Elliott, Beach and Shannon were repeaters on the team.

By keeping pace with (Halfback Carver) Shannon, and by making tackles clear across the field from his line-backer position.

A brilliant student, Brown has maintained almost an "A" average and recently was awarded the Roscoe Pulliam Memorial Scholarship. He finished first among 504 in his high school graduating class.

I Might Get Hit But . . .

By Ron Jacober Sports Editor

GOOD WINTER SPORTS SHOW
As the varsity winter sports blow into the picture at Southern, many of the sports minded collegians may begin to wonder just what's on slate for them this year.

The overall picture looks reasonably good from this side of the fence. There is one thing about it that stands out . . . it is getting tougher.

The only weak spot on the schedule as far as the bench warmers go, is the basketball schedule. This will continue to be the way until the time Southern gets adequate facilities, or in other words until the time when Southern has a field house instead of a match box to play in. The only games on the cagers schedule, outside of the traditional and essential IAC football mentioning, are Kentucky Wesleyan and Fort Leonard Wood. The athletic department is not the one to throw rocks at. They just cannot get big teams to come to Carbondale to play when the largest crowd they can possibly draw is about 1700.

The gymnastic team is faced with their toughest schedule in history. On their schedule are names like Indiana University, University of Michigan, Michigan State University, University of Wisconsin, Northwestern, Indiana University, University of Illinois along with the usual foes. The biggest attractions on the matmen's home slate will probably be the University of Illinois and IAC championships.

SIU's swimmers go against a relatively tough schedule. The Jayhawks of the University of Kansas are probably the biggest "name" team on the slate. The tankmen will have only three home dual meets this season which is nothing to brag about. The IAC championships, however, will be held at the University pool during the first part of the March. The tankmen also have another big meet coming up—final exams. Last winter 11 men were ineligible after the fall term finals.

Prediction!—How will the Winter sports fare? They should do very good. Not carrying any torches I won't say that they are going to win four!

ACRES ORGANIZE PIN LEAGUE

Ten bowling teams have been organized at Southern Acres for competitive league bowling. The teams are not being sponsored this year by the intra-mural program, so the individual members are paying for it themselves. One of the teams is from the girls co-ops while the other nine are from the men's residence halls. They will bowl in Marion.

IAC titles but they should finish on top or close to it in all four. The gymnastic team shouldn't have too much to worry about at the IAC although there could be some surprises. Basketball and swimming have to be rated as dark horses while wrestling, on a good day, could come home with the bacon. The best way is to just wait and see.

It takes a lot of spade work to build America's second largest telephone system.

Past, present, future—Gen Tel has an exciting story to relate! The past? In just 24 years, Gen Tel has grown from a new company into the nation's second largest telephone system—a corporation that ranks among America's top 35 in gross income.

The present? Gen Tel operates over 3 1/2 million telephones in 30 states—and is installing 3,750 new phones each week.

The future? Gen Tel is "at home" in those suburban and rural areas where America is expanding at a record clip. To meet this ever-increasing need for more and better telephone communication, Gen Tel is investing in new facilities at the rate of almost $200 million a year.

It took a lot of hard work and imaginative planning to put Gen Tel where it is today. And there is no stopping now! From here on out, as America grows and prospers, so will Gen Tel.

PHI SIGMA HOLD DEVILISH PARTY
Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity held an "inferno" date party at the chapter house recently. Those attending the party came dressed appropriately in red, and the decorations carried out the theme. Miniature mugs were given as favors.

The traditional pledge - active football game was held last Sunday. The actives won, 31-6. Rush parties were held last week and this week at the chapter house. Jim McClintock and Steve Wheelock were jointly pledged to Phi Sigma Kappa.

An exchange party was held with the pledgees of Sigma Kappa sorority recently. A successful pledge skip-out was held last Saturday. Ed Beasley and Bill Mead are on the Christmas Week Steering Committee.

LADIES FIRST
Lafayette, Ind. (AP) - It seems roosters are a bit too gallant when it comes to feeding, often failing to gain weight because they stand back and let the hens have first crack at medicine. So Purdue University is urging farmers to hang a feed hopper just out of reach of the smaller hen so only the males can eat from it.

Off-Campus Serves Pudding
For the second consecutive year, the Off-Campus Presidents' Council will sell flaming pudding at the annual Deck the Halls Party. The decision was reached by unanimous vote at a recent meeting of the council.

Pudding will be sold from 7 to 11 p. m. in the student Union on Dec. 12, the night of the party. Price for the old English treat will be 35 cents a serving.

WOMEN INVESTORS
Chicago (AP) - Members of an all-girl investment club known as the Gold Coast Clippers have learned to read the stock tables as well as the stock pages.

Mrs. Louza Rhind, president of the 12-woman club, says members invest $10 a month each, and each original $10 share is now worth $14.

HOUSES JOIN FORCES TO HOLD HAYRIDE
The Bungalow, located at 800 W. Mill, got together with Mason-Dixon, 306 College, for a hayride Nov. 21. The party, beginning at 7:30, featured hot cocoa, marshmallows, and doughnuts for refreshments. These were served at the city reservoir.

In charge of the event were Bungalow president Allan House, social chairman Tom Shoups, and secretary Allan Janonis. Faculty sponsors were Dr. Musulin and Mr. and Mrs. Thomassen.

Snyder Addresses Geology Seminar
Dr. Frank G. Snyder, geologist for St. Joseph Lead Co., owner of some 20 mines in southeast Missouri, will speak at the second geology department seminar this Friday, according to F. Donohue, Bloss associate professor of geology. The seminar will be held at 8 p. m. in the seminar room of the Agriculture Building.

Snyder has made a study of lead and zinc deposits in the United States and Mexico, and last spring spent two months studying the deposits on The Moroccan-Algerian border.

Main feature of the seminar, which is open to all interested persons, will be an illustrated lecture on the more spectacular types of geological structures which form our traps. Speakers at future seminars will include Dr. W. C. Krumbein, Northwestern University professor of geology; Dr. W. David Evans, chairman of the department of geology at Nottingham University, England; and Dr. J. Harlen Bretz, emeritus professor of geology at the University of Chicago.

Thanksgiving Week Active For Groups

ANTHROPOLOGY CLUB HEARS DAVIS TONIGHT
"How Languages Change" will be the topic for a speech by Dr. J. Cary Davis of the foreign languages department when he appears at the Anthropology Club meeting tonight. Davis will draw his examples primarily from English, but also from other languages as well. The meeting will be held at 7:30 in the Museum Lounge in Altgeld Hall. Refreshments will be served. Several members met informally on Nov. 18 to talk over projects for the school year and the future of the club. Jim Metz and Henry Sauerbrunn, as co-editors, are organizing the first edition of a Club Newsletter.

COMMERCE CLUB MEETS THURSDAY
A movie dealing with operational features of the Chicago Board of Trade will be featured at a meeting of the Commerce Club Thursday evening.

The meeting will be held in the seminar room of the Agriculture Building and will begin at 7:30 p. m. After the movie there will be an election of officers.

PRO BUSINESS CLUB WORKS ON CHARTER
Members of the Professional Business Club will continue work on their petition to become a chapter of Alpha Phi at their meeting Thursday night.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m. in the University School Studio Theater. The club hopes to have the petition completed and sent in before the end of this term. If the charter is approved, initiation of the new chapter will probably occur in January or February.

IRC TO PRESENT
The International Relations Club will present a Christmas program of Alpha Phi at their meeting on Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Morris Library Auditorium.

Students from various lands will present musical numbers or brief talks related to Christmas, and there will be group card singing and refreshments. All interested students and faculty members are invited.

GAMMA DELTA TO MEET TOMORROW
Gamma Delta, national student organization, will meet tomorrow night in the church basement. Program will consist of square dancing and the showing of slides, and plans will be made for Religion-in-Life Week.

The group held a cost supper Sunday evening, Nov. 23. The committee in charge consisted of Delbert Wolf, Jean Burns, Ada May Yardley, and Erna Rothe.

New members were initiated at this meeting, and the group heard a speech by the chaplain of the Anna State Hospital.

SPEECH FRATERNITY PLANS FOR PARTY
Zeta Phi Eta, national professional women's fraternity, in speech, held a meeting recently to complete plans for the annual Speech Department Christmas Party. All faculty and speech students of the speech correction, radio-TV, theater, and general speech are invited to attend.

The party will be held on Monday, Dec. 8, from 8 p. m. to 10 p. m. at the Eaves. A Christmas Dinner will be served.

BUSINESS ED GROUP MEETS TOMORROW
Installation and initiation of new members will take place at the next meeting of Phi Omega Psi, business education fraternity.

This meeting will be held in the seminar room of the Agriculture Building tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Immediately preceding the business session, a group picture for the Obelisk will be taken.

Definite plans have been made to send three SIU delegates to the national convention of Phi Omega Psi chapters in Chicago, Dec. 29-31. They are Bernadine Hamilton, Joyce Coe, and Sharon Lawder. Other delegates may be chosen at a later date. The convention will close on Dec. 31.

MARKETING CLUB SELLS MAGAZINES
A magazines sales campaign by the Marketing Club is now underway, according to president John Murphy.

Members of the club will market "Time," "Life," "Sports Illustrated," and "Newsweek."

Wandering Around

Ghost Walks At Midnight

By Doris Greenlee
What would be your reaction if you woke up one night to see a ghostly shape flitting through the house? The normal reaction to such a nightmare is a good, healthy scream.

Things, however, are not normal at our little bungalow. We have our own built-in ghost that prowls every so often. When we see it these days, we just groan. "Oh, go back to bed," and close the other eye. The ghost usually obeys.

Our specter, although bearing all the marks of a supernatural being, is one of us. In fact, she's very much one of us; she's crazy. It seems that instead of having nightmares, her subconscious prompts her to creep from her cozy bed in the middle of a cold winter's night—or a warm summer one, for that matter—and haunt her suffering little cellmates.

The things this poor child does in her sleeping hours would horrify her when she's awake. She may make a journey all through the house hunting a quite non-existent gem suit—and that can be quite a hunt. Or she may simply decide it is time to go to school and rise eagerly from her couch and start sleeping on makeup.

She got herself convinced that the house was being invaded by Martians or something and started tearing up the closets looking for the little beasties.

The scolding blow though, came when her roommates, having enough of this night-time wandering, placed her on the top bunk, hid the ladder, and informed her that she could dance on the ceiling all night if she wished, but not on the floor. She promptly—midnight, of course—fell out of bed, bounced off one soundly snoring cellmate, and proceeded on her merry way. That plan was speedily abandoned.

So far, we haven't found a cure that week. We're waiting until we find her hanging out of the chandelier some night, and then we're going to call in the local circus.

Back around Homecoming time, this column made some comments about the zany effects of the event on the students. It seems that students may now relax; it hits the faculty, too.

Approximately two days after the great weekend, I came wandering by the office of the College of Education thinking good thoughts like how to get off a holiday when all of a sudden my eyes fell upon a startling sight.

Lined up along a crack in the sidewalk were three very tall and very dignified professors—the type that make lovely freshmen quiver in their boots. What were these mighty ones doing? They were excitedly pitching pennies at the next crack in the walk. It looked like a very interesting game, too.

Do You Think for Yourself? THESE QUESTIONS WILL TELL YOU!

- Do you find going "off the beaten track" on a trip (A) interesting and constructive, or (B) merely inconvenient? A B
- In a heated discussion would you rather (A) be the "moderator," or (B) jump in on a side using any argument to win? A B
- Before making a complex decision, is your first move (A) to marshal the facts, or (B) to ask the advice of a respected friend? A B
- Do you (A) try to figure out ahead what each day will bring, or (B) face problems as they come along? A B
- When writing a letter applying for a job, would you try to make it (A) original and off-beat, or (B) factual and concise? A B
- If you were getting furniture for a room, would you look first for (A) something comfortable, or (B) something colorful and unusual? A B
- Would you prefer a job (A) in an old established firm offering security, or (B) a small company which could expand rapidly? A B
- Would you rather be known as a person who (A) works well with others, or (B) accepts responsibility on his own? A B
- When you step up to a cigarette counter, are you (A) confused by all the conflicting filter claims you've seen, or (B) sure of what you want because you've thought things through? A B

You will notice that men and women who think for themselves usually choose VICEROY. Why? Because they've thought it through—they know what they want in a filter cigarette. And VICEROY gives it to them: a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.

*If you have checked (A) on 3 out of the first 4 questions, and (B) on 4 out of the last 5... you think for yourself!

ONLY VICEROY HAS A THINKING MAN'S FILTER... A SMOKING MAN'S TASTE!
